King as Conciliator.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Mr. L. M. King, Deputy Minister of Labor, left last night for St. Hyacinthe to act as conciliator in a dispute between the management of the woolen mills in that city and their employes. The management have reduced the wages ten per cent., and the factory hands now threaten to go out on strike. Mr. King hopes to avert the threatened strike.

No Settlement of Steel Strike.

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—President T. J. Shaffer, and his advisers in the general office of the Amalgamated Association, held power by authority from the general executive board of the organization to settle the steel strike. Mr. Shaffer and his advisers apparently allowed yesterday to lapse after the authority was vested in them without closing any settlement.

Final Contest at Sea Girt.

New York, Sept. 11.—After 11 days of actual work on the state camp ranges at Sea Girt, N. J., the International riflemen wound up the annual meeting of the National Rifle Association of America yesterday. The final contest was an all-comers' match at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. Thirty-three men entered for the contest. The Irishmen and some of the Americans used match rifles and were allowed seven points each, while the Canadians and all others using the military rifle were allowed 15 points each. Frank Hyde of New York, who used a Lee-Remington match rifle, won out, with an actual score of 275 points, and this, supplemented by an allowance of seven, made his gross score 282.

Pattullo Succeeds Bell.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Dufferin Pattullo, formerly of Woodstock, but who has been in the Klondike since the establishment of a mining camp there, has been appointed acting assistant gold commissioner in the Yukon in the place of Mr. Bell, who has been suspended on account of irregularities in his office. Mr. Pattullo went to the Yukon as private secretary to Major Walsh. After the Major resigned he was appointed to a clerkship in the Mining Record Office. He has now been selected to act as assistant gold commissioner. Mr. Pattullo is a son of Registrar Pattullo of Woodstock.

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain, as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase-s Ointment. You may be sceptical but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of people that have been cured by this famous preparation.

H. P. KENNEDY'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

As the season is approaching when people buy fresh beef, lamb and mutton by the quarter, a few words to our customers will explain our position as compared with other competitors, for supplying the best meat at wholesale prices. Being the largest wholesale buyers of live stock in the Midland District, we have the opportunity each week of placing the best stock that can be secured before our customers at lowest prices.

We are in a position to sell our beef, (quality considered), also mutton and lamb by the quarter, as low, or lower, than you can purchase it for on the public market, and a visit to our store at any time will convince you of the fact.

As we are handling in the beef line nothing but the CHOICEST STEERS AND HEIFERS, and the quarters will likely be too large for customers to buy, we will sell anything OVER 50 LBS. WEIGHT AT WHOLESALE PRICES.

REMEMBER THESE FACTS:

We have one of the best equipped Meat Markets in Canada, and handle a better quality of beef than you can buy in any other meat market in town.

We are in a position to buy our lambs cheaper than our competitors, and are willing to give the public the benefit. This week we are selling lamb by the quarter AT 7 CENTS FOR FRONTS and 9 CENTS FOR HINDS, and our mutton at 6 CENTS FOR FRONTS and 8 CENTS FOR HINDS.

We also carry a full line of cured meats, such as Long Clear Bacon, Hams, Breakfast Bacon, Cooked Hams, Sausage, etc.; also Fowl in season.

Watch the daily papers for changes in prices. We guarantee satisfaction. Remember the stand, 340 George street. Phone 275. Kennedy's Meat Market. 1dlw through its chairman, Ald. Best, reported as subjoined:

1. We instructed the clerk to give notice of the intention of council to close part of the street known as Mill street, and to open another in lieu thereof, in accordance with the applications of the American Cereal Co., and the Peterborough Hyraulic Power Co., the date for the meeting of the council to consider the matter to be Sept. 30, 1901.

2. We recommend that the request of the American Cereal Co. for hydrants, be granted, and that the Peterborough Water Co. be requested to place two hydrants on the proposed new street, one between Brock and Murray streets, and one between Brock and Hunter streets, and to place the hydrant on Hunter street at the end of the bridge, in commission, the rent for the hydrants to count and be paid from Jan. 1st, 1901, and the location of the hydrants to be fixed by the Town Engineer.

3. We recommend that the agreement submitted by the Grand Trunk Railway Co., in regard to the diversion of the stream which crosses McDonel street, be signed by the Mayor, after being amended in accordance with the Town Solicitor's opinion.

4. We recommend that the Town Engineer be authorized to pay the corporation foremen 25c a day more than labourers.

5. We recommend that the Treasurer be authorized to pay the amounts on the street pay lists on the certificate of the Town Engineer alone.

6. We recommend that the sidewalk on the south side of Edinburgh street, east of George street, be repaired.

7. We recommend that no action be taken on the petition of John Murray and others for a drain on Parnell street to connect with the Park street drain, as the Engineer reported that Parnell street could not be drained in that way, and also because the petition is not in accordance with the Drainage Act.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE JOINT COMMITTEE,

reported through Ald. Shortly, its chairman, as follows:

A meeting was held at the Pigeon Creek bridge on September 6, 1901, by representatives of the Joint Committee of the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, and the Town of Peterborough, the following decisions were arrived at:

1. The committee, having examined the bridge from end to end, found it necessary, after having heard the explanations of the County Engineer, Mr. Belcher, to continue the longitudinal flooring to a like amount as laid on the bridge last year, and in the same manner, namely, to lay five hundred lineal feet of the bridge with three inch plank to a width of seven feet eight inches.

2. That five new floats be immediately provided and fixed to strengthen the bridge where at present weak and that all the work shall be done by the caretaker, Mr. Thomas Flood, under the supervision and instruction of Mr. John E.

Captain Ronald A. Cockburn will leave in the course of a few days to join the Headquarters Staff that will accompany the Duke and Duchess of York on their way through Canada. Capt. The latest move in military circles is that the Third Dragoons will be represented by one squadron, which will be made up from the four squadrons that constitute the regiment.

The weekly parade of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, was held last night. The turn out was fair and after a little preliminary work inside the drill shed, the Regiment paraded up and down George street, between McDonel and Murray streets, going through the march past, etc. Much disappointment was expressed that the band was not in attendance. However, the men got in some first class work, and they all appear to be enthusiastic over the proposed Toronto trip.

The following orders were read:

NEW ASPECT OF POWER MATTER

Existing Power Companies Show Their Move

OR IS IT ONLY A BLUFF?

Letter From the Presidents of the Two Power Companies—Do Their Statements fit in With the Facts?

The following letter from the Auburn and the Peterborough Light and Power Companies, was handed in to the Examiner too late for yesterday's issue:

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—We noticed in the course of the Examiner editorial last night that the statement was made that no power was for sale in the town of Peterborough, a statement which we think should not pass uncontradicted.

We have no desire to enter into any controversey on the subject of the disposal of the dams beyond expressing the view that the Government would be wrong in practically bonusing an opposition company with public funds under the assumption that there was no power available at fair prices in Peterborough. The fact is that there is ample power already developed for all our manufacturing needs for many years at a price reasonable in all conscience, viz.—$15.00 per horse-power in units of 50 horse-power and more.

The above may seem incredible in view of the editorials in which the public are asked to rally to the support of $15.00 power; but it is nevertheless a fact, as can be ascertained by application to the Canadian General Electric Company, that they are not now paying, nor have they paid, more than $15.00 per each horse-power used.

We again repeat that there is plenty of power developed and available at $15.00 per horse-power, and that that price is cheaper than can be obtained at the Falls of Niagara, the City of Montreal, the City of Ottawa, and even the boasted City of Hamilton; and finally that the above price was offered to the Cordage Company through their Mr. R. R. Hall in the presence of the Minister Railways and Canals himself.

THE AUBURN POWER CO.,
J. Carnegie, President.
PETERBOROUGH LIGHT & POWER COMPANY,
T. E. Bradburn, President.

The above letter, which from the formal character of the signatures, may be regarded as official, deserves a little attention, if for no other reason, for ascertaining how the statements made parallel or do not parallel the facts.

At an early stage of the inception of the Cordage Company enterprise, one of the first considerations was obtaining power, and before the Otonabee Power Company was thought of, application was made on behalf of the Cordage Company to the Peterborough Light and Power Company for power, and the reply received was to the effect that the power developed was all taken, and, consequently, the Peterborough Light and Power Company had none to sell. The letter from the company to the effect mentioned, is not available for present publication, the member of the Cordage Company who received it being out of town. The Auburn Power Company, before the Otonabee Power Company was thought of, was also applied to for power, and the reply of the president, Mr. Carnegie, was that all the power developed by the company was locked up, inasmuch as the company was under obligation to supply power to the Canadian General Electric Company till Jan. 1st, 1902, and if the latter company had not their power developed at Nassau at that date the Auburn Company would have to supply power till the Electric Company's power house at Nassau was ready for operations. Even if the Auburn Power Company were in a position to supply the Cordage Company, the lowest price would be, the president said, $23 per horse power for the quantity — some 250 horse power—required. There is no probability that the Electric Company's power house will be in operation on Jan. 1st, or perhaps for some time afterwards, and if the power they are now using were left free for the Cordage Company, the latter could not use it, the price — $23 per horse power — being prohibitory. Under these circumstances — neither company being able to supply power, or if able, the price being above what could be thought of — the Otonabee Power Company was organized to supply power to the Cordage Company, and other companies, at $15 per horse power. It is a suspiciously significant fact that the moment a competing company promises to develop and furnish power for $15, that the power developed by other companies suddenly increases tremendously in volume and the price drops 40 per cent. How then explain the fact that neither company had any power to offer the Cordage Company and that the lowest price was $23 per horse power?

Another evidence that the Auburn Power Company has no surplus power is the fact that when users of power complain of lack of power, the answer from the power house invariably is that the generator is loaded to its full capacity and therefore not enough power can be developed to supply the wants of manufacturers—not to speak of supplying "power," as the letter states, "for all our manufacturing needs for years to come"—a statement that is self evident twaddle unless these companies spoke thus in view of their monopoly remaining undisturbed by competition, and unless the dog in the manger shall be permitted to keep out all other comers. In this event the town would need very little power to supply manufacturers, for there would be mighty few to supply if such a policy were allowed to be applied.

As to the price of power furnished by these companies, it might be pertinent to inquire what the Peterobrough Light and Power Company is getting for light. Is it or is it not nearer $80 per h.p., than $15? Is it or is it not evident to every citizen (in his tax bill) that the company is getting $65 per h.p. for street lighting? Is it or is it not a fact that the Auburn Power Company is charging all the way from $20 to $50 per horse-power? These are questions to which any interested ratepayer can, by a little inquiry, get an answer. And, moreover, is it not a fact that the two companies, the Peterborough Light and Power Company and the Auburn Power Company, entered into a formal agreement to the effect of assuring to one a monopoly of supplying light and to the other a monopoly of supplying power? And is it not a fact that the signers of this agreement are identical with the signers of the above letter? The companies might answer these questions by furnishing proof of the correctness of their answers.

In spite of the assertions in the foregoing letter, is it not clear that neither of the companies concerned has sufficient spare power to shock anybody as much as statements that do not fit with facts as presented?

Experts say that when a gamester has a poor hand and wishes to "stay in the game" he "puts up a bluff," and when two concerns with no locus standi in the matter of supplying needed power at a reasonable rate, wish to "stay in the game" of monopoly, they put up a big bluff to frighten competition into throwing up its hand, and try to make competitors and the public believe that they have ship loads of surplus power for manufactures at a reasonable price in the face of evidence to the contrary.

AFTER THE QUARREL.

A single smile from her rosy mouth,
A sudden glance from her soft eyes sent,
And he turned, as the wind veers north or south,
And followed whither her light feet went.
Did she linger and look for a moment then?
Did she lift her face and smile again?
Nay, not so!
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

With every pace of his swift pursuit
Her step she quickened nor looked behind.
Eyes were speechless, and lips were mute;
Never a glance or cold or kind,
As if she cherished nor thought nor care
For the eager footfalls hurrying there!
Was it so?
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

Did she love him more when look and smile
Silently bade him to follow her?
Did she love him less when she wove her wile
His heart to trouble, his hope defer?
Nay, read you this riddle, strange, but true—
She loved him most when she most withdrew!
Even so!
The heart of a girl, ah, who may know?

For Twenty-Five Years Crippled With Backache—Finally Advised to Take Dodd's Kidney Pills—What He Says About His Cure.

Economy Point, N. S., Sept. 8. — Mr. G. S. McLaughlin lives in this quiet little Nova Scotia village. His brother keeps the grocery store here. But for this seemingly unimportant fact, unless death had mercifully relieved him of his sufferings, Mr. McLaughlin would in all probability have been a helpless cripple to-day. For it was through his brother keeping store that he came to try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Economy Point is thirty-seven miles from Truro. The only connection is by waggon road, and in the spring when the roads are impassable, the hamlet is isolated completely. But nevertheless the fame of Dodd's Kidney Pills found its way to Economy Point, and Mr. McLaughlin's brother in response to frequent requests began to retail them at his store. There is no druggist in the place and McLaughlin's grocery is looked to for medicines as well as groceries. Hearing the terms of unqualified praise with which his customers spoke of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the brother recommended them to Mr. McLaughlin. "They might help your back," said he.

That is the story of Mr. McLaughlin's cure — or all of it that varies to any extent from that of thousands of others. He followed his brother's advice. "I will try them, anyway," he said. That's all Dodd's Kidney Pills want — a trial. After the first trial there is no more hesitation. Mr. McLaughlin says it was wonderful the way his pain left him and his back strengthened. He was a free man ever since.

"I was troubled with lame back for twenty-five years or more. I could not turn myself in bed. Wonderful to say I have had no return of the trouble since using the Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons with Kidney Trouble. All without exception have been benefitted or cured. I can never be too thankful for the benefit I received from those wonderful pills.

What Followed.

"She winked at you, eh? Well, what followed?"
"I did."

A Summer Tragedy.

He wrote the girl—it seemed a novel plan—
His heart's proposal on a palm leaf fan.
That cruel girl—oh, what a crime indeed—
Handed it round the porch for all to read.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Rural Pastime.

Without a nozzle for the hose
He tried to wet the verdant lawn;
He placed his thumb upon the end,
And then he turned the water on.
A quart or two went up his sleeve;
A mighty stream went in his face;
Some water reached the grass, but he
Was the wettest thing about the place.

Short Lesson.

Little Nephew—Is it true, uncle, that the bark grows thickest on one side of a tree?

Old Uncle Grout—Yuss!

Nephew—Which side, uncle?

Uncle Grout—The outside.—Judge.

Knowledge.

First M. D.—Was the operation a success?

Second M. D.—Oh, yes. The patient died, but we learned how he might have been saved if we had to do it over again.

Pleasantries.

I'm very glad I'm not a moth
These summer days, good sirs,
And have to eat, despite the heat,
Flannels and winter furs.

Live and Learn.

"Don' be ashame o' yoh ign'unce, sonny," said Uncle Eben, "as long as yoh is doin' yoh bes' to git over it. Ef dar wasn' some fings yoh didn' know, dar wouldn' be no mo' use in libbin."

Needed the Money.

Dibbles—That was a beautiful poem you had in Gusher's Magazine this month. Where did you get the inspiration?

Scribbles—From my creditors.

Raising the Wind.

When the game is close and dark visions
Of defeat rise before rooters' clans,
Then an umpire's off color decisions
Will stir up a hot breeze from the "fans."

She Was Armed.

"What a fearless girl Miss Travel is. She goes everywhere without an escort."

"Yes. She uses a stiletto for a hatpin."

Taken In.

First Politician—Do you think we'd better take the public into our confidence?

Second Politician—Oh, we'll take 'em in, all right!

It Would Seem So.

Some men work all night long
And some from sun to sun,
But the bill collector has a snap;
His work is always dun.

Finds It Quickly.

"Does your wife ever lose her temper?"

"Yes; but she finds it so mighty quick she never misses it."

At the Seashore.

He—How's the water this morning? Cold?

She (in bathing suit)—Now, how in the world should I know?

An Angel Now.

The sunshine warm, the leafy trees,
Made Johnny feel quite gay.
He went to swim. The obsequies
Are being held today.

Cupid His Example.

"I notice that a man has just put out the eyes of the only woman he loved."

"Well love is blind."

The Reason Why.

Landlady—The strong should help the weak.

Boarder—How is the butter going to help this tea?

How, Indeed?

Don't blame the barber if he talks
While razoring your skin.
Just think! How could he shave a man
Without a little chin?

A Guess.

"How did the adage, 'Actions speak louder than words,' originate?"

"Oh, in some deaf and dumb institution, I suppose."

Another Question.

"We're very proud of our ancestry, you know."

"Yes, I know. But how would your ancestry feel about you?"

"Who is the belle of the ball?" said she
As they danced around the floor,
But he made a mistake and looked around,
And she speaks to him no more

The Coatless Man.

"What makes you wear suspenders?"

"I don't want anybody to take me for a shirt waist dude."

A Necessity.

"How do you clean your diamond so beautifully?"

"I soak it."

Going.

"I've got him going!" Mabel thought
As he knelt upon the floor,
And still the fellow staid and staid
For several hours more.

Mild Curiosity.

Farmer—Wake up, you lazy loafer.

Weary (yawning)—What month is this?

WHEN THE EARTH QUIVERED.

Scene at a Camp Meeting During the Charleston Earthquake.

"There is something uncanny about an earthquake shock," said a gentleman who had experienced seismic disturbances and the terror caused by them.

"The sensation," he continued, "caused by the quivering and rocking of the earth thrills every fiber of a person with awe. I saw this forcibly illustrated at the time Charleston was wrecked. That earthquake shock was perceptible throughout Georgia, being especially noticeable in the middle part of the state.

"The night of the earthquake there was a Methodist camp meeting in progress at Bluff Springs, near Zebulon. There was a great crowd at the meeting, and the people didn't seem to be in a very religious frame of mind to me. The preacher delivered an eloquent sermon on death and the judgment, and at its close converts were invited to the altar. But the people didn't take kindly to the invitation, and only three or four went up to be prayed for. The minister begged the people to come forward, but his appeals fell on deaf ears. Back some distance from the stand the young people were chatting as unconcernedly as if the issues of time and eternity had not been presented to them.

"The minister seemed to be discouraged by the coldness of his hearers and was on the point of closing the service. But just as he was about to say 'Let us pray' the first slight shock was felt. In an instant everybody under that stand became as still as death itself. Faces blanched and eyes were opened wide in terror. No one at first seemed to realize what had caused the earth to rock as if in a spasm. With the coming of the next shock, however, some realized what it meant, and the cry of 'earthquake' was heard.

"Hardly had the dread word been uttered when there was a rush for the mourners' bench. I never saw such a stampede in my life. In less time than it takes to write the altar was surrounded by hundreds who were dazed with terror and crying on the Lord for mercy. A third shock came while those frightened people were at the altar, and it came near throwing some of them into convulsions.

"The minister was the only one who seemed not to be frightened, and he began praying in tones that had a quieting effect on the people. But it was hours before calm was restored and fear banished. The quivering of the earth had something so uncanny about it that the people were ready to believe that the end of time was at hand.

"I shall never forget that scene of 1,000 persons, who had been deaf to the appeals of the preacher, fleeing in terror to the altar when they felt the earth begin to rock."

is Uric Acid in the blood. Unhealthy kidneys are the cause of the acid being there. If the kidneys acted as they should they would strain the Uric Acid out of the system and rheumatism wouldn't occur. Rheumatism is a Kidney Disease. SHOE TIPS.

Never wear a shoe that pinches in the heel.

Never go from high heels to low heels at one jump.

Never wear a shoe that presses up into the hollow of the foot.

Never wear a shoe that will not allow the great toe to lie in a straight line.

Never wear a shoe or boot so large in the heel that the foot is not kept in place.

Never wear a shoe with a sole narrower than the outline of the foot traced with a pencil close under the rounding edge.

Never wear a shoe or boot that has depressions in any part of the sole to drop any joint or bearing below the level plane.

Never wear a shoe with the sole turning up very much at the toes, as this causes the cords in the upper part of the foot to contract.

Never wear one pair of shoes all the time unless obliged to do so. Two pairs of boots worn a day at a time alternately give more service and are much more healthful.

People would find less difficulty with ready made shoes, an experienced salesman is quoted in McCall's Magazine as saying, if they would stand up to fit them on, instead of sitting down.

Behaving Like a Lady.

A little girl from the east end slum was invited with others to a charity dinner given at a great house in the west end of London. In the course of the meal the little maiden startled her hostess by propounding the query:

"Does your husband drink?"

"Why, no," replied the astonished lady of the house.

After a moment's pause the miniature querist proceeded with the equally bewildering questions:

"How much coal do you burn? What is your husband's salary? Has he any bad habits?"

By this time the presiding genius of the table felt called upon to ask her humble guest what made her ask such strange questions.

"Well," was the innocent reply, "mother told me to behave like a lady, and when ladies call at our house they always ask mother those questions."

Fun Found In a Book Catalogue.

The Academy prints the following list of titles from an alleged book catalogue: "The Double Thread," uncut; "The History of China," quaint plates; "The Mantle of Elijah," cloth, hardly soiled; "Mr. Sponge's Sporting Tour," badly foxed; "Le Jardinier Francais," Plantin press; "The Compleat Angler," front missing; "History of the Sword," many cuts; "Don Quixote," original old calf; "Portrait of a Lady," name on title page; "Frederick the Great," wants two pages; "Beyond the Dreams of Avarice," 2s. 6d.; "Success In Journalism," splendid copy.

THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon the man she is to marry than upon her own health. The woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."

Weak woman are made strong and sick women are made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one reliable regulator. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It nourishes the nerves and invigorates the entire womanly organism. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives strength to nursing mothers.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. Milton Grimes, of Adair, Adair Co., Iowa, "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's Disease, nervousness, and at times would be nearly paralyzed. Had neuralgia of stomach. I can freely say your medicines (nine bottles in all, five of 'Favorite Prescription,' four of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets), have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can sleep and do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How They Met.

Bennet Burleigh, the English war correspondent, is authority for the following strange story: One day last autumn two officers, newly arrived from different parts of upcountry, met at Cape Town. Rather lonely and a good deal bored, they scraped acquaintance and found one another agreeable. When the dinner hour came they agreed to dine together. The keen edge of appetites having been taken off by a good dinner, the senior officer became a trifle more expansive. "Do you know," said he, "I rather like you, and there's something about you that seems familiar, as if we had met before. I am Maj. S——, of the —" "Hello, are you?" said the other. "I'm Lieutenant S——; just joined—your youngest brother!" There was an unrehearsed scene as the two khaki-clad warriors sprang to their feet and pounded each other on the back—which is the Briton's way of falling on the neck and weeping. They had not met for years, and the baby brother had meantime, sprouted into a tall youth with an incipient mustache.

About Chandler's Size.

Discussing international relations recently, Admiral of the Fleet Sir John Edmund Commerell said:

"I will tell you of a thing that occurred to me in America. There was a member of the Senate, Mr. Chandler of Michigan, whose abuse of England was of the coarsest possible description. Each session he started the same motion, which meant fire and sword for England. To my surprise, when I went over to America and dined at the Embassy, whom should I see there but friend Chandler. I said, 'Good heavens! have you got Mr. Chandler here?'

"'Lord bless you,' said they, 'he is the tamest man possible.'

"He told me the other day when I spoke to him about it:

"My dear sir, it is all talk. It does not hurt you, but it is a very good thing for my constituents, because they believe I am in earnest."

Novel English Lightship.

A novel sort of lightship is to be moored off the Otter Rock, Islay. It will have no crew, and will be worked by the compound gas system. Two large gas holders will contain as much gas as will light the lantern for several months. The gas escaping from the holders of the lantern will operate the clapper of a bell placed on a deck belfry, and the rocking of the vessel will set a tongue going as well.

The Asthmatic's Agony.

Wakeful nights, suffocating sensations, difficult breathing. Who can describe it? This disease, partly nervous, partly congestive, partly the result of microbic irritation, is no longer treated by nauseous stomach destroying drugs, but by Catarrhozone, that destroys the microbe, relieves congestion and relaxes the nervous irritability that renders breathing so difficult. The medication is carried by the air you breath to the very seat of the disease, and removes at once the cause. The great discovery is known as Catarrhozone. Its influence upon Asthma is simply marvellous. Catarrhozone prevents as well as cures, and is the only remedy guaranteed to cure. Your money back if it fails. Two sizes at all dealers, 25c. and $1.00.

Liked the Samples.

An anecdote which is said to be characteristic of Yorkshire stories is that of a farmer who halted at a wayside inn and called for a quart of ale. He drank it off and called for a second quart. Drinking this, he called for a third quart, having drunk when he said: "T' aal's vairy fairish. I'll get down an ha' some."

How Anyone May Obtain It.

Thousands of people who bathe themselves with soap and water, and clothe themselves with fine hats and garments, in order to appear well, neglect the spring of beauty. 2. That half of the cost of printing the special town cheques be accepted from the Ontario Bank.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. M. ROGER, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

TRADING STAMPS.

Ald. Clinkscale and Best, admidst applause, introduced the by-law prohibiting the giving, selling or receiving of trading stamps in the town. On motion of Ald. Best and Shortly the deputations were invited to address the council on the matter.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who was present in the interests of the Trading Stamp Co., inquired as to which side of the discussion would be heard first, which gave Ald. Best an opportunity to work in a neat bit of repartee in remarking that he didn't know there were two sides to the question.

Mr. Dennistoun was asked to present the views of his clients first. In beginning his remarks he spoke of the petition which had been received by the council asking for the abolition of the trading stamp system and represented that one equally as largely signed had been presented asking that the system be not discontinued. Therefore, he urged, there were, most assuredly, two sides to the question. The Ontario Legislature had, he said, found this out last year, when it was asked to prohibit the company doing business in the Province. So much had been said in favour of the system that the Legislature had declined to abolish it and had remodelled the bill into a statute of such a nature as to put the responsibility of dealing with the question on the municipalities effected, with the provision that any by-law passed in connection therewith could not come into force until 1902. As any action which the council might take would not be operative until next year, he urged that there was no occasion for the members to interfere at present, and asked that the matter be left over for the next council to deal with. By the first of the year the citizens would know better what action to take. The operations of the Company were not confined to Peterborough alone but exhated in every large merchantile centre in Canada. The Company had been advised that the Legislature had no power to pass the enactment under which the council was now asked to act and the Company had appealed to the Courts to ascertain their rights. This case was now before the Courts and judgment would be given before the end of the year. Next year's council would therefore be in a position to know whether their action was legal or not. After speaking of the great advantages of the adoption of the cash system in merchantile circles, Mr. Dennistoun claimed that the trading stamps were one of the several mediums through which the people had been induced to adopt the cash system. The passage of the by-law, he represented, would not do away with the trading stamp system, but only with the Trading Stamp Co., as there was nothing to prevent a merchant giving stamps if he wished to redeem them himself. The purchaser benefitted more by doing business with the Company in existence as the merchant could not procure his prizes as cheap as the Company could, on account of not buying them in such large quantities. Another point to which he wished to draw attention was the length of time it would take to fill a book, if the stamps could only be procured from one merchant. This favoured the heavy purchasers at the expense of those who could not afford to buy so much.

The deputation present to urge the passage of the by-law was composed of Messrs. R C Braund, A W Cressman, C N Brown, R A Dutton, Savigny Bros., Aaron Cox, Bert Sutcliffe, R Kerr, H Clarke, T C Elliott, H LeBrun, F Might, Jas Gibson, Robert McWhinnie, Charles McClelland, D W Dumble, J D Craig, Robt. Fair, Alex Gibson, Wm Wrighton, R J Waller, W H Meredith, R Newton, J D Connal, James Dawson, Minicolo Bros., Jas Stenson, Jos Picard, J B McWilliams, W H Hamilton, Bert Bryant and others.

It was stated that Mr. Towern secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, was present to address the council as was Mr. D. W. Dumble, president of the Peterborough Board of Trade. The latter gentleman was called upon first.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE.

Mr. Dumble mentioned the fact that the Board of Trade had taken up the question of the abolition of trading Stamps in 1899, and read a strongly condemnatory resolution, which had been passed by that body at the time, and which had been forwarded to the other Boards of Trade in the Dominion, asking them to take similar action and unite in memorializing the Government to do away with the system. He thought Mr. Dennistoun's plea to the council to leave the question over until next year was the plea of a man with the axe over his neck, who wished to delay the evil day as long as possible. Mr. Dumble thought the present council was as capable of dealing with the question as any council which would ever sit. The matter of whether the legislation which was passed in connection with Trading Stamps was or was not ultra vires, should have no weight. If the Ontario Legislature had usurped the functions of the Dominion Government in dealing with the iniquity, then it was all the more reason why the Peterborough Council should pass the bylaw, thus forcing the Dominion Government to take cognizance of the fact that the people wished prompt action taken. Mr. Dennistoun eulogized the cash system, and rightly so, but he went too far in attributing its adoption to the Trading Stamp Co. The cash system was coming into vogue long before Trading Stamps were thought of. It was true that the Legislature did not attempt to interfere with the freedom of a citizen in the way of prohibiting a merchant giving prizes, if he saw fit. That was an entirely different question, and concerned individual rights. If there were so many citizens who were in favour of Trading Stamps, why were they not present? The system of Trading Stamps was a scheme concocted by a foreign corporation, which had fastened like an octopus on our merchantile enterprise, and was squeezing the life out of it. It was organised to take out of the country something for which nothing was given, and the profits of the bloated monopoly were enormous. Such a system could not be conducted in connection with legitimate mercantile business. The merchant could not afford to lose the discount off his goods, and it only came out of the purchaser in the end, the flimsy prizes not being worth a tithe of their price.

MR. TROWERN SPEAKS.

Mr. Trowern was the next speaker who addressed the council. He spoke of having followed up the various moves of the Trading Stamp Companies and of the legislation which had been enacted in respect to them. He flatly contradicted Mr. Dennistoun's statement in reference to the cutting down of the Trading Stamp Bill by the Legislature. Those interested in the abolition of the system had got just exactly what they asked for from the Legislature, and moreover 80 per cent. of the members of the Legislature had voted in favour of the Bill. The same legislation had been put through in Nova Scotia and had gone into effect in Halifax. The Trading Stamp people had fought the matter out in every court in the province, and had been beaten. There was no case before the Ontario courts now, notwithstanding Mr. Dennistoun's statement to the contrary. He challenged Mr. Dennistoun to give him the particulars of the case. The reason for urging the passage of the bylaw at the present time was that the citizens who had books partially filled would be put to no inconvenience. There was plenty of time to fill them before the end of the year. The Toronto Council had passed the bylaw unanimously.

The bylaw then received its first two readings, but before it was passed, Alderman Corkery moved in amendment that it be given a six months hoist in order that the question could be more fully considered. He received no seconder to his amendment, and the bylaw was passed, signed and sealed, amidst cheers.

OTHER BYLAWS.

On motion of Ald. Shortly, a by-law was passed naming the third Thursday in August of each year as a Civic Holiday.

The bylaw authorizing the issue of debentures to the amount of $1600 to defray the cost of building a new bridge over the creek on Smith street and that giving aid to the Canadian Cordage Company, received their 3rd readings and were passed.

THE POWER QUESTION.

The matter of the town acquiring a dam on the river, was revived by Ald. Best rising and moving, without preamble, to the effect that the town renew its application to the Government for the lease of dam No. 5, on the river, and if that was unobtainable, to apply for dam No. 4. Ald. Best claimed as the town had applied for dam No. 5 both to the former and the present Government, that the municipality had a prior right to the Otonabee Power Company. If, however, it was found that the latter corporation had secured the dam, he thought the Government should give the town a lease of dam No. 4.

Acting-Mayor Roger thought that while the town had secured some legislation enabling them to develop power, yet it had to be done inside the town limits.

Town Clerk Armstrong stated that the special legislation procured provided for the town acquiring power below the Nassau dam.

Ald. Clinkscale expressed his willingness to co-operate in endeavouring to arrange for the securing of a dam and offered to second Ald. Best's motion, if the latter would leave dam No. 5 out of the question and apply directly for dam No. 4. He did not believe in interefering with the arrangements which the Otonabee Power Company were making to bring cheap power into the town from dam No. 5, when dam No. 4 would do the town just as well.

Ald. Corkery didn't like to see a local corporation like the Otonabee Power Company interefered with. If the town wanted to develop power, dam No. 4 would do just as well as dam No. 5.

Ald. Best refused to change his motion and ask for No. 4 dam alone. He stated that while he didn't want to interfere with the Otonabee Power Company, yet if they had not already secured dam No. 5, he thought the town should get it.

Ald. Edgcumbe spoke about the danger of interfering with matters concerning which the council knew so little. By taking action at short notice without discussion, important interests might be imperilled. He knew the Cordage Company relied on getting cheap power from the Otonabee Power Company when they made arrangements to locate in Peterborough.

Ald. Roger advised considering the matter at greater length, pointing out that even if the Government turned the dam over to the town, the municipality might not be prepared to expend the enormous amount of money required to develop the power. Until this was settled the question should lay in abeyance as the town would be placed in a very foolish position if the dam was asked for and then could not be taken over. Personally, he was in favour of the town controlling its own power, but the question was whether the majority of the ratepayers would sanction the necessary outlay. There was a contest going on now at Ottawa in reference to the power and he questioned whether it was wise to step in between two corporations.

Ald. Shortly advised making haste slowly, pointing out that any step taken by the council might have an important bearing in the contest now going on at Ottawa in reference to the development of power at dam No. 5. When the merits of the question had not been discussed by the members it was unwise to step into the breach.

Ald. Best finally got a seconder for his motion in Ald. Batten, but they were the only two aldermen who voted for it and the motion was lost.

The council then adjourned.

THE BIG WINONA ASSEMBLY.

Rev. J. G. Potter of Town was in Attendance.

An Assembly That Proved Most Successful—Presbyterian Review's Able Report.

The Presbyterian Review contains the following report of the Bible Conference at Winona, Indiania, at which Rev. J. G. Potter was in attendance:

Two weeks ago we referred to the proposed Bible Conference to be held at Winona Lake, Indiana, from August 17th to August 27th. The Conference has proved the most successful in every way since the beginning of the work at Winona. A word or two about the organization and place will not be amiss. Winona Assembly was organized about six years ago. The first meeting, we are told, numbered thirty-five ministers and laymen. This year the lowest estimate puts the number at 900 ministers together with their wives and children, and a large number of laymen.

From the beginning it has been the aim of the directors to combine the plans of Chatauqa and Northfield. For six weeks, beginning July 1st, a summer school is held, embracing a large variety of subjects, with able teachers in charge. In addition to this a daily programme is arranged and pleasing and profitable entertainments and lectures are also arranged. This year 333 pupils were enrolled besides 700 students in the Biological Department of the State University which has established a station at Winona for summer work.

Winona Park, situated on Winona Lake, recedes from the water in a series of hills, upon which have been built very pretty and cosy cottages, and several large boarding houses. Among other buildings are the Winona Hotel, The Inn, The Double Cafe, Administration Building, the Hayes Memorial, the Moody Memorial and the Marshall Home for Home Missionaries. Both the Winona Hotel and the Inn are capable of accommodating from 300 to 400 guests, but have during this Conference been compelled to make room for almost as many more by the use of the camp cot. The Moody Memorial Building was erected by Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, with the proceeds of his work, "The Life of Moody." This building is open free of charge for two weeks to ministers obtaining salaries less than $1,000. This year 115 ministers have enjoyed its comforts.

It has been decided to erect a large school which will give permanence to a work among boys, somewhat similar to that of Mount Herman. It is expected to be ready to open about Sept. 1st, 1902, and will in all probability be built by the county in which Winona Lake is situated. It is generally conceded that the great success of the institution is due to the enthusiastic and practical interest of Rev. Drs. S. C. Dickey, of Indianapolis, and Wilbur Chapman, of New York.

The property of the Directors covers 419 acres and is an ideal spot for rest, recreation and refreshment. At a number of places throughout the park there are fountains of flowing spring water ever cool and pure, while at the entrance there has been discovered and developed, an unceasing well of lithia water which has been already placed upon the market, and has become a valuable asset. The lake gives bathing and boating facilities which are constantly taken advantage of. Across the track of the Pittsburg and Pennsylvania Railway are located the Assembly's golf links, and this spot, it is needless to say, is the daily arena of such sportsmen as are gathered together at this time. At the extreme end of the golf grounds stands the beautiful summer home of Dr. Chapman.

To your correspondent the most interesting thing of all has been the exceedingly profitable and inspiring addresses given by leaders in the Biblical, pastoral, evangelistic and missionary world. The list of names given in a former issue have all fulfilled their promise. It has been a rare treat to sit under the lectures of such men as Rev. Drs. Moorhead, Purves, Woelfkin, Geo. L. Robinson, Jas. M. Buckley, and J. Wilbur Chapman, and to have listened to the stirring addresses of men like S. D. Gordon, Dr. L. W. Munhall, John Willis Baer and Drs. Fulken and Fenn, of China. But the most striking and potent factor in the year's conference was Rev. John McNeill, of Scotland. With an audience of 3,000 souls in the spacious auditorium, the Spirit of God wrought mightily through the Scottish preacher, as he, with wonderful vigor, gave witness to the efficacy of the old Gospel.

Winona is destined to be the centre of marvellous spiritual issues, and when one thinks of the gathering together of representatives of all denominations, one in spirit and purpose, receiving as at this time a renewed baptism of power, there is no limit to be put upon the work of the Spirit through the thousands conscious of the blessing of this Pentecost.

An important committee meeting was held last week at Winona. It was that of the Evangelistic Committee, appointed at the Presbyterian General Assembly in Philadelphia last May, the object being to formulate plans for the holding of evangelistic meetings all over the United States. This committee held meeting in the Winona Hotel, and the result is as follows:—

A sub-committee was appointed, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D., of New York, chairman, to prepare a list of available evangelists for churches. Rev. Dr. Balcom Shaw was appointed chairman of a sub-committee to suggest conferences for ministers; arrange special meetings of Presbyterians; and to send our leaflets, outlining such meetings for ministers as was inaugurated by the New York Presbytery at Riverdale. Rev. George E. Stewart, D.D., President of Auburn Seminary, was invited to especially represent the committee in visiting cities and to look after this work at meetings of Presbyteries and Synods.

The committee will send a communication to each Presbytery, urging the appointment of a special committee on evangelistic methods and work. Rev. George T. Purves, of New York, was appointed a special sub-committee to prepare a call to the whole church, and arrangements were made to send this appeal to all churches and also to the Press.

The next meeting of the committee will be held in Philadelphia, December 10th. Pastors are to be urged to make especial preparation for evangelistic preaching, and to make special effort to reach the unchurched by special outdoor meetings, whenever such can be arranged. The chairman of this committee is John H. Converse, manufacturer of Baldwin Locomotives, Philadelphia, and one of the members who has taken much interest in evangelistic work this summer in the East. The other members who were present are Rev. Dr. Purves, New York; Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, New York; W. J. Chichester, Chicago; Dr. S.S. Palmer, Columbus; J. Balcom Shaw, New York; George P. Wilson, D.D., Washington; James I. Buchanan, Pittsburgh; E. A. K. Hackett, Fort Wayne; Charles S. Holt, Chicago; John Willis Baer, Boston.

A STARTLING STORY

London Police Credit Story of Plot to Kill Chamberlain.

TOLD IN THE POLICE COURT.

Michael Faugeron. Charged With Murder, Says Jung, a Noted Socialist, Tried to Bribe Him to Kill the Colonial Secretary—Prisoner Then Killed Jung in Self-Defence.

London, Sept. 12.—Martial Faugeron, a Frenchman, who was charged yesterday at Clerkenwell Police Court with the murder of Herman Jung, an old jeweler of Clerkenwell, about ten days ago, told a remarkable story of a plot to kill Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary.

Faugeron said he had been the recipient of small loans from Jung. The day of the murder Jung summoned him to his shop, where they discussed the misery caused by the South African war, which Jung declared Mr. Chamberlain was responsible for, and told Faugeron that if he could kill Mr. Chamberlain he, Jung, though intermediates, would guarantee him a fortune, tendering him a ten-pound note to buy good clothes to enable him to approach his victim. Faugeron says when he refused Jung declared he should not leave his shop alive, and that the latter picked up a heavy iron, rushed on Faugeron and felled him to the ground. Faugeron thereupon drew a knife and stabbed his assailant in the neck.

The prisoner, who signed the foregoing statement, was committed for trial.

Jung was a noted Socialist, the last survivor of a group of which Carl Marx was the leader. They formed the Red Internationale in London in 1864. In spite of Jung's reputation of earlier years of being a violent and desperate red, personally he was a quiet and skilful organizer, and was never specially connected with any of the acts of violence in which his reputed disciples were involved.

JOINT ACTION SUGGESTED.

United States May Co-operate With Canada to Prevent Fish Dynamiting.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has communicated with United States Senator Hale relative to action being taken to prevent the dynamiting of fish in Canadian and American waters.

The Canadian proposition is to make it a criminal offence either to land at a Canadian port fish killed by dynamite or for Canadian fishing vessels to carry dynamite or other explosives. Senator Hale writes to the department from Ellsworth, Maine, as follows:

"I cannot tell you just what will be included in the proposed legislation to prevent the killing of fish in Atlantic waters bordering on Canada until I learn the feeling of the Committee of the Senate having the matter in charge. It will cover, of course, the two points which you name, and I shall be glad to co-operate as to the form and extent of legislation with anything which shall be done by your Parliament."

The destruction of fish in Canadian waters is carried on in the Bay of Fundy.

OTTAWA EXHIBITION.

A decision by the directors of the Central Canada Fair that will give general satisfaction to the exhibition's many patrons in this locality as well as elsewhere is that not to grant permits for vaudeville attractions at the grounds during the exhibition. For every genuine vaudeville show at the previous fairs there were half a dozen fakes, and people were just swindled out of ten or fifteen cents admission. Objectionable features frequently characterized these shows despite the vigilance of the directors, and it was certainly the proper move to do away with all even though a large revenue will be lost.

PHYSICIANS' BULLETINS.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 12.—The following bulletins were issued by the President's physicians during the day yesterday:

9 a. m.—The President rested comfortably during the night. Decided benefit has followed the dressing of the wound made last night. His stomach tolerates the beef juice well and it is taken with great satisfaction. His condition this morning is excellent. Pulse 116, temperature 100.2.

3.30 p. m.—The President continues to gain and the wound is more healthy. The nourishment taken into the stomach is being gradually increased. Pulse 120, temperature 100.2.

10 p. m.—The President's condition continues favorable. Blood count corroborates clinical evidence of absence of any blood poisoning. He is able to take more nourishment and relish it. Pulse 120, temperature 100.4.

All Quiet at 1.30 a.m.

Buffalo, Sept. 12.—(1.30 a. m.)—Everything is qdiet at the Milburn house. The lights are burning very low and no one is stirring.

NOTHING BUT GOOD NEWS.

Most Unmistakable Evidences of Improvement and Recovery.

Buffalo, Sept. 12.—The condition of the President continued favorable throughout the day yesterday, and nothing occurred to shake the faith the attending surgeons and physicians have expressed that he will recover. Yesterday two more doors were locked against the arch-enemy of mankind. The danger from the two sources was pronounced practically over. The holes in the stomach proper, caused by the perforation of the bullet, are now considered healed by Dr. McBurney, and his associates, and the eminent surgeon pointed to the fact that the beef juice, fed to the patient, last night through the mouth, was readily digested, as proof of this. Sufficient time has also elapsed to warrant to the doctors in asserting that the danger of inflammation where the bullet lodged had disappeared. It is believed that the ball has now become incased in the muscles of the back, and unless its location should prove troublesome later on, there will never be any necessity for removing it.

The attention of the physicians is now, therefore, mainly directed to the care and treatment of the wound caused by the incision made in the abdomen above the navel, when the operation was performed. This is progressing satisfactorily. "Decided benefit followed the dressing of the wound last night," is the way the doctors put it officially. The slight scare which followed the announcement at midnight Tuesday night of the opening of the wound did not have a leg to stand on yesterday, when further details of its significance, character and importance were obtained.

The President now breathes deeply and normally, and the addition of the respiration record to the bulletin was considered valueless. The President's pulse was slightly accelerated in the afternoon, but the change was not deemed material, and his temperature remained practically stationary at 100.2 from daylight until dark.

The evidence of improvement was

CAPITAL COUNSEL,

If there is any chance to boom business, boom it. Don't pull a long face and look as though you had a sour stomach. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things. Hide your hammer and speak well of others, no matter how small you may really know yourself to be. When a stranger drops in, jolly him. Tell him this is the greatest town on earth, and it is. Don't discourage him by speaking ill of your neighbours. Lead him to believe he has at last struck a town where white people live. Don't knock. Help yourself along by becoming popular and push your friends along with you. Be a good fellow, and soon you will have a procession following you. No man ever helped himself by knocking other people down in business or character. No man ever got rich by trying to make others believe he was the only man in town, or the only man in town who knew anything. You can't climb the ladder of success by treading on other people's corns. Keep off the corns, and don't knock. You're not the only one. There are others, and they have brains as well as you. There's no end of fun in minding your own business. It makes people like you. No person ever gets stuck on a knocker. Don't be one.—Comber Herald.

BRIDGENORTH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Smythe Kelly is spending a week visiting friends in Perth.

Mr. Percy Udy and wife have returned from the Pan-American. Mr. Udy had the pleasure of meeting the President, Mr. McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kelly, who have been spending a few days in Toronto and Buffalo, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Tulford have returned home from the Toronto exhibition.

Mrs. R. Milburn, of Smith, accompanied by her son Wesley, left on Wednesday for a week's visit with friends in Belleville.

Mrs. P. Geraghty left on Monday for Boston, U.S., where she will spend a month visiting her son and two daughters, who reside in that city.

Mr. James A. Mann, accompanied by his sister, Miss Eva, have returned home from Buffalo, where they have been spending the last week.

Mr. Harry McEwen spent a few days viewing the sights of Niagara Falls and Buffalo recently.

Mr. Charlie Hill went up to the Exhibition at Toronto for a few days, and also took in the Pan-American.

Mr. Aaron Nicholls, an employee of Mr. W. B. Kelly, has beaten all previous records in cutting shingles down at the mill, as one day last week he succeeded in cutting 28,000 shingles. Mr. Wm. Mann, who has charge of the filing department, certainly has an eye to business.

Fire was discovered in Kelly's mell on Sunday evening, about 5 o'clock, by some young men who were passing by at that time, and although it had gained considerable headway, it was soon extinguished. The fire is supposed to have originated from a boxing in the main shaft, which was worn out, and the friction against the wood caused a spark to ignite the inflamable material near by. The saw-dust being damp, it is supposed the fire had been smouldering since Saturday evening. Mr. Kelly's loss is, however, somewhat light.

A case which will be threshed out in the courts at some early date is causing considerable anxiety amongst some of the neighbors at present.

Vigorous Womanhood

Made Perfect by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—A Common Sense Treatment Which Does Exactly What is Claimed of It.

The happiness of every home depends very largely on the health of the wife and mother. If she is nervous, peevish and irritable, worried by the little cares of every day life, and tormented by pains and irregularities that are sure to accompany a rundown system, there can be no happiness in the home for husband and children.

Too many women are victims of nervous exhaustion, and do not know it. They suffer from indigestion dyspepsia, nervous headache and sleeplessness, and drag themselves about the house feeling languid and tired out. The slightest mishap causes them to worry, and they feel gloomy and despondent.

Some women seem to think this a part of women's existence. Not at all. You can be healthy and and vigorous if you follow the advice of Dr. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author. He would not deceive you, and his treatment never disappoints. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is intended for just such cases as are here described.

It is above all a common sense treatment, which is approved of by physicians and laymen alike. By supplying to the thin, watery blood and weak, exhausted nerves the very materials of which nature constructs new nerve cells and new bodily tissue it gradually and certainly reconstructs and revitalizes the weakened and debilitated nervous system, cures nervous headaches and dyspepsia, and permanently overcomes the weaknesses and irregularities from which women suffer so much.

Mrs. Chas. H. Jones, Pierceton, Que., writes:—

"For years I have been a great sufferer with my heart and nerves. I would take shaking spells and a dizzy, swimming feeling would come over me. Night after night I would never close my eyes, and my head would ache as though it would burst. At last I had to keep my bed, and though my doctor attended me from fall until spring, his medicine did not help me.

"I have now taken five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has done me more good than I ever believed a medicine could do. Words fail to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure brought about by this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is immensely popular among women, because it restores them to perfect, vigorous womanhood, and does so by naturally and gradually toning up and invigorating the system, gently regulating the bowels, and strengthening the action of the heart. Fifty cents a box; six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanton, Bates & Company, Toronto.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

The total value of goods imported was $190,415,525, as against $189,622,513 in the previous year, or an increase of $793,012. The total value of goods entered for consumption was $181,237,988, an advance of $433,672, as compared with the preceding twelve months, when the figures were $180,804,316. Of the total imports $105,969,756 were dutiable and $75,268,232 were free, as against $104,346,795 dutiable and $76,457,521 free in 1900. The total duty collected amounted to $29,166,079, or $217,869 ahead of the previous fiscal year. The imports from Great Britain for consumption amounted to $43,164,297, as against $44,789,730 for the year previous, a reduction of about one million and three-quarters. The reduction, however, was in free goods, to which of course the preferential tariff does not apply. The value of free goods was $11,316,510, as against $13,227,974 in 1900. The dutiable goods from Great Britain show a slight increase over the figures for last year—$31,701,654, compared with $31,561,756. The value of goods imported from the United States for consumption was $110,485,008, while in the preceding year it was $109,844,578. The dutiable goods totalled $58,600,278 in value, as against $53,897,561, whilst the free goods were $56,884,000, compared with $55,946,817. The imports for consumption from France show an increase of $1,029,519, the figures being, 1901, $5,398,021; 1900, $4,368,502. The increase was altogether in dutiable goods, which amounted to $4,569,060, as against $3,503,609. The free goods from France amounted to $828,961, while for the previous year they were $864,893. Canada took $7,021,405 worth of goods for consumption from Germany last year, a falling off, as compared with the year previous, when they amounted to $8,383,498. The value of dutiable goods was $6,121,190, as against $7,465,447, and that of free goods $900,215, compared with $918,051.

The Exports.

The grand total of exports was $196,487,632. In making up these figures no amount was included for exports "short returned" to the United States, as in previous years. If the practice of making an estimate of "short returned" had been followed this year the estimate would be $6,108,789. It has been deemed advisable by the department to discontinue the practice this year, in view of the fact that a new system of recording export entries was inaugurated at the commencement of the last fiscal year, under which it is hoped that greater accuracy will be secured. It is not considered possible to devise a system regarding export entries which will insure a complete record of all merchandise exported from the country being obtained, inasmuch as a great deal of merchandise goes by road in districts remote from custom houses, and for other reasons. Notwithstanding this, it has been considered wise to base the statistics of exports for the present year and for the future on the actual figures recorded by the entries made at the ports of exit. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Great Britain last year amounted to $92,857,525, as against $96,562,875 for the year previous, a reduction of $3,705,350. The value of foreign exports sent from this country to Great Britain was $12,471,481, as against $11,173,093. The exports of Canadian merchandise to the United States (not including estimate short) were $67,988,673, while for the year previous they were $59,666,556, including "short returned," an increase of $8,317,117. The increase of exports to the United States is accounted for largely by the bullion shipped from the Yukon. The foreign merchandise sent from Canada to the United States was $2,423,168, an increase of $456,751 over the previous twelve months. The exports of Canadian merchandise to France were $64,369 ahead of 1900, amounting to $1,436,628. In 1900 the exports of foreign merchandise to France were $2,411; last year they reached a total of $144,703. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Germany increased by over a quarter of a million, the figures being $1,374,716, compared with $1,108,168. Of foreign merchandise Canada sent $756,836, or $159,096 more than in 1900.

Borne to the Grave.

London, Sept. 12.—At the funeral yesterday afternoon of the late Richard Beecher Hungerford, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Canada, were gathered very many prominent people. Grand Lodge officers were here from different parts of the province, and leading citizens showed their respect for the memory of the dead by their presence. The pall-bearers were: M. W. Bros. Wm. Gibson of Beamsville; Hugh Murray of Hamilton and E. T. Malone K. C., of Toronto, all Past Grand Masters; R. W. Bros. DeWitt, H. Martin, M.D., Kincardine; J. G. Hegler, K. C., Ingersoll; Benjamin Allen of Toronto; A. W. Porte, Toronto, and J. W. St. John, Parkdale.

Only a Little Backache.

That is the first unmistakable symptom of diseased kidneys, an ailment which no one can neglect without inviting Bright's Disease, diabetes, rheumatism, and the most painful and fatal maladies. At the first sign of backache and urinary disorders, use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you can be certain of prompt relief and cure. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.

THE STEEL STRIKE.

The National Tube Company Unsuccessful in Raising Their Mills Above Necessity for Union Labor.

Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—No attempt whatever was made yesterday morning to start the big tube mill at McKeesport, although there was a large crowd of strikers around the mill to keep out any men who might try to get back. After the lively scenes of Tuesday none of the employes showed the least inclination to return. Total suspension of the National Tube Mill and other plants of the National Tube Company will likely follow the two unsuccessful attempts to resume operations, those of Tuesday and Monday.

Fires have been drawn at all the McKeesport plants of the National Tube Company and the firemen and a few others who have been doing odd jobs about the mill have been notified not to return to work until further notice. The only people about the mill yesterday morning were the watchmen.

Fires also have been drawn at the National Rolling Mill and at the Monongahela Steel Works in this city.

The strikers are growing ugly and numerous assaults have been reported within the last 48 hours.

Rumors that the steel strike had been settled or was about to be were again in circulation yesterday, but the Amalgamated officials were positive in their denials that a settlement had been effected. No new proposition had been made by the association or the steel people, President Shaffer said, and the situation was unchanged. He also said there was no truth in the story that he was willing to resign or that the matter had been touched upon during the meeting of the committee. Strikers talked to yesterday heard that the Executive Committee had taken action to end the strike but they did not know it positively. Those seen said they believed firmly that an order for them to return to work would come in a few days, and that by Monday of next week at the latest they would be permitted to go in the mills as union men.

I.C.R. Strike Settled.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 12.—The I. C. R. strike was settled yesterday, the section foreman, White, to whom the men objected, being sent back to Sussex. The men have resumed work.

Dr. Pitcher's BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS.

(Formula of Zina Pitcher, M.D., Late Professor of Materia Medica and Genito Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Michigan, U. S. A.)

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are the quickest and surest relief for Backache and Kidney troubles, and can show more evidence to that effect than all other advertised medicines combined. Dr. Pitcher stakes his reputation on these Tablets for Backache and Kidney troubles, and will not allow them to be advertised as a "jack of all trades" medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Bevan, of Port Hope says: "Thirteen years ago I fell and injured my back, and since then have known very little comfort with Backache or Kidney troubles. I have tried all kinds of medicines and seen many physicians, but got no help until I began the bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that I got from R. Deyell, druggist. They have done me a world of good. I feel stronger; the dizziness and pain are gone, and I cannot tell you how pleased I am, and everyone else says the same of them. They are just what everyone wanted. I hope others will use them and get well."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are put up in wooden bottles, with green wrapper, bearing the portrait and signature of Z. Pitcher, M.D. Each bottle contains fifty tablets; price 50c per bottle. Manufactured by the Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Ophir Nearing Canada.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 11.—The Ophir, with the Royal party on board, is supposed to be off the coast, as the Warships Indefatigable and Tribune and the Destroyer Quail left last evening to escort her to Quebec, where she is due on Sunday.

Regulars in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The detachment of 40 Royal Canadians, 45 Royal Dragoons and 40 Infantry from Stanley Barracks, under Col. Buchanan, Major Williams and Capts. Carpenter and Jay, arrived here from Toronto yesterday morning. These troops will do escort duty and mount guard here during the royal visit.

The sixteen trained horses for the use of the Governor-General and staff at the Quebec review, left Ottawa yesterday for the ancient capital.

The Opera Last Night.

A large audience greeted "A Breezy Time" in the opera house last night. This is certainly one of the best musical farce comedies that has come to town in some time, and for several hours they kept the audience in spells of laughter. Miss Dorothy Williams, as Daisy Lightfoot, was as big a mischief as ever, while Jack Dauber, the artist in trouble, was equal to the occasion. The specialties were excellent, the songs up-to-date and well rendered, and altogether a "Breezy Time" pleased everyone.

A FLOWER THIEF.

Destroyed a Fine Rubber Plant Belonging to Mr. Robt. Walton

Another case of vandalism is reported from the north end, as the result of which a fine rubber plant, belonging to Mr. Robert Walton, of Water street, was badly mutilated last evening.

As is well known, Mr. Walton is the owner of the finest collection of rubber plants in Canada, and hitherto he has enjoyed his hobby without molestation. This morning, however, when he went out into the yard he discovered that a very fine specimen, which he had carefully watched and nurtured for over ten years, had been ruthlessly hacked by some vandal, who was endeavouring evidently to procure a pruning for propagation purposes. In doing this two very fine heads were sacrificed.

The police will make every effort to locate the marauder.

ROYAL TRAIN WAS HERE.

Came up From Montreal Yesterday Afternoon.

Not Many Were Aware of Its Coming—The Coaches are Models of Elegance.

Those who happened to be at the C.P.R. station yesteday afternoon between five and six o'clock were privileged to get a glimpse at the Royal train of coaches that will be used by the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York while travelling through Canada. It was of course a great surprise to those who saw the cars here, for not even the local officials of the road had any intimation of what was coming until about half an hour before the Royal train arrived. It was merely a trial trip. The train came up from Montreal as far as Peterborough and back again. It was in charge of Master Car Builder, W. Apps, who, of course, wanted to have everything thoroughly tested before it was given over to the service of the Duke. The train consisted of nine coaches, and they were beautiful specimens of the car builder's workmanship. Amongst the names to be seen on the sides of the coaches were, "Sandringham," "York," "Canadian," etc. The rear end car, was the observation coach, and it was particularly attractive in its finish and style in general. Besides the commodious and appropriately fitted up platform to the rear, the car contained inside a handsome piano and other articles of household luxury. The elegant carpets, the beautiful silk trimmings and other furnishings make it a model of elegance. The dining room, finished throughout in walnut, contains several thousand dollars worth of plate. The sleeping coach too was simply gorgeous, whilst the other cars for the suite of the Royal party were in keeping with the rest of the train. The coaches are all lighted by electricity, have bath rooms, etc., and for comfort and style are superior to anything that will likely pass through Peterborough in some time.

There is no C.P.R. turn table here and the engine had to back down to Havelock before returning.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald of Ashburnham Weds Catherine Heffernan.

The marriage took place at St. Peter's Cathedral on Tuesday morning of Miss Catherine Heffernan, daughter of Mr. Thomas Heffernan, of Otonabee, to Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, Ashburnham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archdeacon Casey. The bride was attended by Miss Mary McMahon, whilst the groom was supported by Mr. T. Hanrahan, of town. The newly married couple left on their wedding tour to Toronto and the Pan-American, and will, on their return, take up their residence in Ashburnham.

A STONE BEAR.

Mr. Spencely's Contribution to the Historical Society.

Mr. William Spencely of Burleigh Falls, this morning came to town with a valuable contribution to the Victoria Museum. It is in the form of a stone bear which he found some time ago on the road between Burleigh and Young's Point. It is a curious looking sight indeed, weighing about 200 pounds. It is solid stone and shaped very much like the ordinary black bear. The features are quite noticeable.

Mr. Spencely brought in his bear this morning, and formally presented it to the Historical Society.

A NEW FLAG

For the Y. M. C. A. Building—Kindness of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons.

The management of the Young Men's Christian Association wish to publicly thank Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons for the gift of a handsome flag for the building. This has been needed for some time, as the flags used have not been in keeping with so magnificent a structure. The firm who were good enough to manufacture and present the new pennant, send the following letter accompanying it:

"We take pleasure in donating to the Y.M.C.A. building a burgee for flag staff. We trust as it floats above, so may your institution float below through all the difficulties connected with a work such as yours, relying on public support. Wishing you every support and our heartiest sympathy and appreciation."

Mr. E. Courtney yesterday presented a nice desk for the new library in the building, for which the association is grateful. A bookcase is required too for this room, also a number of pictures, preferably of historical subjects, and pertaining to Canada or the British Empire. Engravings of famous Canadians will also add to the purpose of this room, as it is the desire to have the patriotic and historical features prominent. Any one having contributions to make to this will please confer with the secretary.

A hearty invitation is extended to all citizens to call and inspect the new flats that have recently been finished.

—Don't you feel well? Have a hot towel at LeGros' barber shop. Gives you nerve and appetite.

The Port Hope Knitting Works is showing this week a very fine line of gentlemen's light weight fall underwear in union and ribbed and plain natural wool at 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, etc. Be sure and ask to see them—the qualities are very tempting.

DIED IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Archibald Haggart a Former Resident of Peterborough.

The following obituary notice appears in the Meadville, Pa., Tribune-Republican of August 27th:—

"Archibald Haggart, whose death was briefly noted in our morning edition, died at 3 o'clock a.m. Saturday at his residence,. No. 979 Liberty street. Deceased was born at Perthshire, Scotland, Feb. 13, 1829. Many years ago he left his native land and emigrated to Canada. He came to Corry in 1864 and became an employe of the A. & G. W. (now Erie) railroad company. One year later he came to Meadville and for a period of over 35 years was employed as a carpenter in the railroad shops. Mr. Haggart was a resident of Vallonia several years, and although a Republican, was elected burgess of that boro without opposition, and was re-elected for a second term. He had been a resident of Meadville since 1883, and was regarded as one of our best citizens. Mr. Haggart had a record for health such as few men can boast of. Up till the age of 70 years he was never ill a day of his life and was never compelled to call a physician or take medicine of any description. He was a man of great industry and thrift, a good neighbour and a valued citizen. Since an attack of grip two years ago his health had been failing and during the last three weeks of his life his decline was rapid. Death came peacefully. Mr. Haggart was a member of the Central Presbyterian church. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity, Lodge 234 and Solomon chapter, No. 91, and Crawford lodge No. 164, K. of P. Deceased is survived by his wife and three children—Alex. S., Oil City; James W., resident at home, and Mrs. Charles Yonts, of this city.

The funeral was held at the residence on Liberty street on Monday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the Greendale cemetery. Dr. Ken. C. Hayes, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated, in the presence of a large attendance of relatives and friends. The hymns were sung by the Misses Rossiter and Leffingwell and Messrs. Wilson and Rossiter, and the following friends acted as bearers: A. J. Strachan, James Maxwell and John Lindsay, of the Masons, and J. W. Curry, William Rapson and John Gurnsey, of the Knights of Pythias."

The deceased was a resident of Peterborough between 1850 and 1863, and was identified with some of the principal building contractors of that period. He was one of the contractors when St. Paul's church was erected in 1859, and left Peterborough during the excitment over the Pennsylvania oil wells. He has a number of relatives in Peterborough, whom he visited five years ago, among these being Mrs. John Moffatt, mother of Mrs. Alex. Gibson, and Mr. John Haggart, auctioneer. His wife, who still survives him, is a daughter of the late Alexander Stewart, and a sister of Mrs. James Patterson, 374 Hunter street.

THE COUPLING PARTED.

Mishap on the Down Trip of the Port Hope Mixed Train, Monday.

Conductor J. W. Britton and those on board the Port Hope mixed train on Monday morning, figured in a somewhat exciting episode just as Omemee was reached. The coupling of the rear coach parted, and when the front end was halted the detached car bore down upon it at a good rate of speed.

Mr. M. Mulvihill, G. T. R. carpenter, was one of those in the coach, and realizing the nature of the mishap, he ran out and applied the brake with a promptitude that resulted in materially lessening the force of the collision. However, the bump was a severe one, and everyone on board felt it more or less. Conductor Britton, who was making his way to the rear to see what was the matter, was thrown against a door and had his head cut and bruised, while Mr. Adam Switzer, who was sitting in the baggage car, was thrown from his seat and sustained some painful contusions.

The coupling mechanism having been knocked out of gear in the collision the coach was made fast by means of chains, which answered the purpose very well.

Mr. F. W. Walden has resumed lessons in Piano, Harmony and Singing, at his residence, 595 George St. Mr. Walden has still lessen periods between the hours of 9 and 12 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m., and will be pleased to meet intending pupils.

ODDFELLOW'S FUNERAL.

Interment of the Late John Hagerman in Port Hope Yesterday.

The funeral of the late John Hagerman, engine driver on the Midland Division of the G.T.R. between Blackwater and Midland City, who was drowned at the latter place on Sunday last, took place yesterday from the residence of his brother, Alderman Hagerman, in Port Hope, and was under the auspices of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, Independent Order of Oddfellows, of which deceased was a member.

The late Mr. Hagerman in his youth lived near Little Britain. After entering the employ of the G.T.R. he resided in Port Hope for a number of years and later on was engineer on the Peterborough-Lakefield and Toronto-Peterborough runs for a time, after which he was transferred to Lindsay. About two years ago he was sent to Midland to take charge of the engine hauling the Midland-Blackwater passenger train, which necessitated the removal of his family to the Georgian Bay town. He had many warm friends in Peterborough and at other places on the division where he had been stationed for a time.

The following brethren from Peterborough went to Port Hope to pay their last respects to the departed:—B. Wallace, N. G.; W. Barrie, V. G.; Wm. Hill, Secretary; J. Kidd, R. Mulligan, Jos. Mitchell, A. McIntosh, G. Garlick, T. Hooper, W. Adamson, L. McIntosh, W. Battisby; from Lindsay—J. McMahon, S. B. Laidlaw; from Midland—Wm. Dudley, F. Preston, Wm. McWalters, J. Hurst. A large number of the Port Hope brethren were also in attendance. Services at the residence and cemetery was conducted by Rev. E. G. Dymond, rector of St. Mark's church. The officers of Peterborough Lodge conducted the burial services of the Order at the grave.

In addition to his sorrowing widow, the deceased leaves one daughter, (married) and three brothers, Messrs Thomas R., Christopher, and Robert, all residents of Port Hope. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers,—S. Laidlaw, L. McIntosh, Lindsay; Fred Preston, Wm. Dudley, Midland; A. McIntosh, J. Kidd, Peterborough.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF TEA.

Owing to the bad weather the Golf tea, which was to have taken place this afternoon, has been postponed until Thursday next, Sept. 19th.

GOLF.

The Lindsay team, which is to play the Colts to-morrow, will arrive on the noon train. After being dined at the Oriental, they will be accompanied to the golf links by the members of the Colts' team. Mr. W. T. C. Boyd and Mr. Comber of Bobcaygeon, are coming down to see the game and to make arrangements to bring a team to town to play the Colts next week.

The members of the Bobcaygeon club are very active at present on the links, and some are becoming good players. There are over 25 members in the club, and the officers are:—Mr. M. M. Boyd, President; Mr. W. T. C. Boyd, Captain; and Mr. Walter T. Comber, Sec.-Treas.

THE KENNEL.

Dr. D. C. King's Great Dane "Fordham Cyrano" cleaned out everything at the St. Thomas Bench Show, carrying off first money in the Novice, Open, Limit and Winner's classes. The Globe says the dog was greatly admired.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

At a meeting of the Executive of the O.R.F.U. in Toronto, last night, it was decided that the London Hockey players who were professionalized by the O.H.A., should be ruled out of football circles as well. The following intermediate schedule of games was drawn up:—

Intermediate—First Round.

A—Oct. 5, Deseronto at Ottawa II.; Oct. 12, Ottawa at Deseronto.

B—Oct. 5, Sarnia at London; Oct. 12, London at Sarnia.

C—Oct. 5, Argonaut II. at Toronto; Oct. 12, Toronto at Argonaut.

D—Oct. 5, Peterborough at St. Marys; Oct. 12, St. Marys at Peterborough.

E—Hamilton II. a bye.

Second Round.

F—Oct. 19, winner of A at winner of D.

G—Oct. 19, Hamilton II. at winner of B.

H—Winner of C a bye.

Third Round.

I—Oct. 26, winner of H at winner of F.

J—Winner of G a bye.

Final game to be arranged by Executive.

If Peterborough wins from St. Marys in home and home games, then the winner of Ottawa vs. Deseronto game will have to come here to play, when if Peterborough is again successful the winner of Argonaut II. vs. Toronto will play here. This will give the Peterboroughs all their games at home as long as they stay in the running, with the exception of the first. The Peterborough public should see three good games here anyway. The time and place of the final match will be arranged by the Executive.

The Rugby boys had another very good practice yesterday afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds. Amongst those who were out were President McWilliams, Revell, Brundrett, Scott, Armstrong, Paterson and Claude Rogers. The next practice will be to-morrow afternoon.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETICS.

As the hot spell of weather has passed, a fall tennis tournament will be held at the cinder courts, and all those desiring to be drawn, will leave their names at the office. The draw will be made Saturday evening, and the first round will be played next week.

On Saturday evenings of September all senior members of the Y.M.C.A., and all intending members, are asked to be present for an evening run. Each member bring one along. A team race will be held the last Saturday of September, and all members are asked to turn out for light training on these nights.

LACROSSE.

Owen Sound is protesting a victory won over them by Wiarton. One of the grounds of protest is that Myles McDonough, of Peterborough, who played with Galt earlier in the season, figured on the Wiarton twelve.

At the present writing the intermediate C.L.A. teams still in the running for the championship are Stratford, Port Hope, Beaverton and Wiarton. These are now pitted, Beaverton vs. Port Hope, and Stratford vs. Wiarton, and the winners will in all probability meet at the Island to settle the matter finally. There are still a number of semi-finals to play in the junior series.—Toronto Telegram.

AQUATIC.

The Toronto Telegram tells the following jokes on Peterborough's Mr. J. W. Smith, who was interested in the Gaudaur-Towns race:—"They tell a funny squib on J. W. Smith up where the big race took place. There is a ferry which runs to Keewatin, and often, to avoid the heat, Mr. Smith and a friend of his used to take a jaunt over to the above place. One afternoon J. W. remarked, "Do you see that boathouse over yonder? Well, how far do you think that would be from the finishing line? What's that! About a quarter of a mile? Yes. Well that's the distance Jake will beat Towns." As a guesser Mr. Smith did not prove himself what might be termed a howling success. In England five years ago, when the Stansbury-Gaudaur race was in progress, and as the men approached Hammersmith Bridge, Mr. Smith, leaning over to Tom Sullivan (Stansbury's trainer), remarked, "Why, he's quit, Thomas, hasn't he?" It proved to be only too true, for Jim Stansbury threw up the proverbial sponge, hopelessly beaten. But every dog has his day, as you shall hear. Last Saturday, while watching the Towns-Gaudaur race from the referee's boat, a friend of Sullivan's, pointing to Towns, remarked, "Say, Tom, you haven't got a Stansbury there, have you?" "No fear," replied the genial Thomas. "He (Towns) doesn't stop at Hammersmith, does he, Cockey?" and he gave J. W. Smith a dig in the ribs. "Every dog has his day, you know."

OF MEN AND WOMEN

Could we read the hearts of every man we meet, what a load of sorrow and despair would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental wrecks than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vital forces; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disrupt the family circle, but they may even extend their poisonous fangs into the next generation. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you and you need never fear any return of the disease. We will give you a guarantee bond to that effect. We would warn you emphatically against the promiscuous use of mercury, which does not cure blood poison but simply suppresses the symptoms.

WE CURE OR NO PAY.

Don't Let your Life be Drained Away, which weakens the intellect as well as the body. There is no room in this world for mental, physical or sexual dwarfs. A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

QUEERLY PRONOUNCED NAMES.

Speech Idiosyncrasies Which It Is Hard For Americans to Acquire.

The American who believes, as thousands do, that to betray one's nationality is to invite overcharging and extortion in the west end shops of London is not only hard pressed to choose the peculiar words the English employ, but he has quite as many and as deep pitfalls to avoid in the methods of pronunciation. I will not refer to the false or ignorant methods of illiterate persons, but will confine attention to some eccentricities of pronunciation of gentlemen and ladies of education, rank and breeding. They say immejitly, injin for engine, militry, figger and figgers, clark for clerk, paytent, naytional, and so on through the list.

The peculiarities of their mode of pronouncing their own names of families, places and things are not open to criticism, because if they may not do as they please with their own it is hard indeed. They pronounce Berkeley barclay, Cowper is cooper, Cadogan is kerduggan, Ralph is rafe in some shires, Craven is sometimes crawveen, Derby is darby, Leveson-Gower becomes loosun-gore, Hertford is hartford, and Albany is spoken so that the first syllable shall rhyme with shall, instead of with hall, as with us.

I hesitate to say that Cholmondeley is called chumly and that Beauchamp is beechamp, as every one knows these eccentricities, yet they are the most remarkable of all the liberties the English take with their language. You must say Balmo-ral and Trafal-gar, and you must chop the following names very short: Ludget, Ho-b'n, South-uk and Merrybun whenever you wish to say Ludgate, Holborn, Southwark and Marylebone. I have heard the prince call his own house Mobrer House, though we call it Marlborough House.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

SWALLOWED A HOT STONE

J. P. Rex of the C. P. R. Offices Describes His Feelings.

A thankful man is J. F. Rex, of the C. P. R. Audit Office, Montreal. Any man would be grateful who has come through what he has done so successfully.

At one time, not so very long since, as his friends in the railway office know, Mr. Rex was in the close grip of dyspepsia. He has broken that grip, however, and with the aid of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets has shaken it off altogether.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are coming into high fame in Montreal. Mr. Rex's case is one of hundreds. In all parts of the city, from Westmount to Point St. Charles, people may be found who will tell you of the good work Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for them.

Mr. Rex writes a strong letter in praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. But it is no stronger than the words of many another sufferer released from the miseries of indigestion by the same wonderful medicine.

"I can highly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," writes Mr. Rex. "For years I suffered all the horrors of Indigestion — choking sensation, Heartburn, Wind on the Stomach, an indisposition to eat and all the rest. After the first two boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was finally induced to try, I found I could sleep all night without awakening with the feeling of somebody clutching at my throat like I used to do. I can now eat meat also without feeling that I have swallowed a hot stone. I am thankful that I ever heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

No Case Against Beer.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—The Crown's case against Ernest Beer, charged with the murder of Michael Hartnett, collapsed in the Police Court yesterday. The Magistrate expressed the opinion that there was absolutely no evidence against the lad, and ordered him to be set at liberty.

Election Petition at Whitby.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—The election petition of William Smith, the defeated candidate in South Ontario, against the return of William Ross, will be heard at Whitby on the 21st inst., before Chief Justice Falconbridge and Justice Street. No particulars have yet been filed.

If you take a Laxa-Liver Pill at night before retiring, it will work while you sleep without a gripe or pain, curing biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia and sick headache.

THE WEALTH OF AUSTRALIA

INTERESTING FACTS AND FIGURES ABOUT OUR SISTER COLONY.

ONE-FOURTH OF WORLD'S WOOL

Enormous Output of Canned Mutton for Sale Abroad—The Products of the Mines—Gold and Silver Output—Other Mineral Possibilities—Some Confirmation About Her Natural Resources.

A writer in Ainslee's Magazine furnishes some interesting facts concerning the newly-established Commonwealth of Australia:

Forty years ago the output of wool in Australia amounted to 8,000,000 pounds. Now, with a record of 700,000,000 pounds, Australia furnishes one-fourth of the world's wool, and of such a quality as to make it one-third of the total value. It is recorded that the early colonist used to kill their sheep for the fleece and tallow, leaving the meat for the dogs. Later they began to export canned mutton to the home country, but when cold storage was introduced Australia began her shipments of frozen mutton, which have grown amazingly, until in 1900 these exports amounted to 225,000,000 pounds. Meanwhile, her shipments of tinned meats steadily advanced, reaching last year 45,000,000 pounds. Because of the war in the Transvaal and an immense mining development in West Australia, the new federation in 1899, with $60,000,000 output, led the world in product of gold. By constant gains her silver product has come to equal one-ninth of the world's supply. For the past year her total mineral output amounted to nearly $100,000,000, or $25 to every inhabitant. Her mineral possibilities in copper, tin, lead, antimony, iron, quicksilver and coal cannot be overestimated. As a result of her astonishing fertility Australia shipping has reached the total of 20,000,000 tons. Her first railway—that from Sydney to Parramatta—was opened in 1855. It was only fourteen miles in length. To-day she owns 13,000 miles of railways. A curious light on her prosperity is the fact that she has a million items in her daily mail, in proportion to her population the highest average in the world. What is more remarkable is that this colossal national wealth has been built up by only 4,000,000 people. As a consequence, average individual wealth in Australia is the highest in the world. Turn to the picture of Australia as she is to-day. The land in size is nearly five-sixths the area of Canada, containing 2,978,000 square miles. Of her 4,000,000 inhabitants, only 200,000 are aborigines. Two-thirds of the Australian continent is a desert, and yet her productiveness is enormous. This land contains over 100,000,000 sheep, between 30,000,000 and 35,000,000 head of cattle and horses. It has given to the commerce of the world over £400,000,000 in gold, copper, coal and tin. The two Provinces of Ballarat and Bendigo alone have produced £100,000,000 of gold, and as much more has come from the great Tambaroora and Lambing Flat in New South Wales. It sends to England annually over £40,000,000 worth of metals, grains, wool, beef, tallow, hides and mutton.

"PUT OUT THE FIRE"

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will relieve and cure any skin disease just as surely as it cured this soldier's Erysipelas—the first application kills the "sting."

Lieut. Bucknam, National Soldiers' Home, in Grant County, Indiana, had a very acute attack of Erysipelas. His face and head were in torment with burning and itching sensations. A druggist recommended Dr. Agnew's Ointment as the quickest relief and cure. He bought a box and found it as good as it promised, and a few applications, to use his own words, "put out the fire and less than a box entirely cured me." Price 35 cts.

CORUNDUM AND MICA

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAYS FROM CANADIAN MINES AT PAN-AMERICAN.

Some Information Concerning the Companies Which Are Doing So Much to Make Canada's Name Known Abroad—Profits of Mica Mining Under Proper Management—Edison Pleased With Ontario's Exhibit.

(Special by Martha Craig.)

The Canadian Corundum Co. have a very attractive display of characteristic corundum bearing rocks occuring on their property. These specimens are well displayed in a suitable case. The quality of the crystal compares favorably with the best Georgia corundum now in use and promises to be one of the most important sources of this necessary material on this continent. The Crown Corundum and Mica Company own a large block of important mining property known to be rich in corundum, mica and feldspar, aggregating in all about 700 acres located in the Townships of Methuen and Burleigh, in the County of Peterborough, the Province of Ontario. The company has also secured control of four lots, or parts of lots in Burleigh Township, having the fine water power of Jack's Creek at a number of available points, thereby enabling the company to control one of the most valuable water powers in the Dominion. The company has also in addition under their control quite a number of surrounding properties aggregating 1,000 acres or over, which they intend to thoroughly prospect, and will then be in a position to sell out these additional properties at a handsome profit after some development work has been done, or keep the same and operate them as may be in the best interests of the company. The company has also purchased a valuable mica mine in the Township of Harrington in the Province of Quebec, on which considerable work has been done and which promises to be one of the richest amber mica mines in the Province.

A great deal of valuable mica and corundum has been taken out of the first mentioned property, and a considerable amount of ore is at present on the dump. First-class buildings have been erected for offices, boarding houses, shops, etc. The veins are uncovered and opened for mining. Roads are made and are in good repair. In short, the property is ready for active and extensive operations.

It is the intention of the directors to promptly begin and continually carry on the mining of corundum and mica. To proceed with the erection of suitable dams on "Jack's Creek" to provide power for the industry. To erect buildings and equip the property with suitable machinery as required from time to time for clipping, sorting and packing plate mica, suitable for electrical purposes and every other trade. For mining, sorting, sizing, concentrating and packing corundum, and later on likely taking up the manufactures of abrasive production, and to provide for the economical conveyance for the material from the mines to the mills.

This company has abundance of mica in sight on their property of the very finest quality. Any person versed in the mica market knows the immense profits to be derived from the mining and marketing of good mica, and the price is steadily advancing. Even inferior mica which could not be sold on the market one or two years ago, is bringing a high price to-day. This company will be in a position to supply a great deal of the American and European trade, besides the Canadian trade, but at the present price in Ontario the profits are good enough for any company if properly managed.

The fact that even comparatively small sizes of cut mica sell from $1,000 to $2,000 per ton or medium sized cut plate mica worth in Ontario market from $1.25 to $1.75 per pound, or $2,500 to $3,500 per ton, and the price increases according to size.

The immense quantities of both first-class mica and high grade corundum indicate in the company's holdings the high class of their intrinsic character. The convenient location of the property, the excellent manufacturing facilities, the simple and mechanical products all justify the directors in expecting prompt and profitable returns from the capital invested, as a great deal of development work is already done and the properties thoroughly tested and in a position to carry on the shipping of the ore almost from the start. It may be noted that the Rock Lake Mining Company have a finer exhibit than any other company of the same class, and considerable increase in the value of their stock has occurred since the opening of the Exposition. The same might be said about a property at Grace Gold Mines in the Eagle Lake district. This property has been lately developed and the samples and results appear to be very promising; so much so that a company has been formed during the last few days in Buffalo to work this property with modern appliances. The company has a capital of $1,000,000.

The manufacturers of white arsenic may be congratulated on the successful results attained. An arsenic buyer from Boston visited the Ontario Mineral Exhibit the other day and stated that he had been buying Canadian arsenic and did not know it. He thought it was from the old country. Large quantities of Canadian arsenic are now being sold in this country and no complaint has been made about the quality. Edison, who has just made a thorough examination of the mineral exhibits in the mineral building, expresses himself as being surprised and exceptionally pleased with the Ontario exhibit.

Topsy-turvy.

That's a favorite attitude of the small boy. And in this again "the child is the father of the man." The man does not essay to walk through life on his hands, but he creates for himself a kingdom of topsy-turvydom. He turns night into day. He eats regardless of time and physical necessities. He makes a pleasure of his business and a business of his pleasure. In fact, he effectually reverses the order of natural living. The result is physical disability generally introduced by "weak" stomach. The food he eats does not nourish him because the stomach and its associated organs are not able to extract the nourishment from the food. Hence, the body is under nourished and disease develops in one form or another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases which originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs. Hence, it cures "weak" lungs, "weak" heart, "weak" nerves and other forms of so-called weakness.

"I had been troubled with catarrh of the stomach and heart trouble," writes Mr. W. D. Merchant, of Tylersburg, Clarion Co., Penn'a. "Had doctored for some time without relief, then I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took seven bottles. Before I began to take it I weighed 119 pounds, and now I weigh 176. I am working steadily and feel like a well man. I send you many thanks."

ON WIFE BEATING.

What Statistics Showed in the Case of a Certain Young Man.

There was a grim looking middle aged woman sitting by herself in the railroad depot the other day when a man with a pencil and notebook in hand sat down beside her and quietly observed:

"Madam, I am gathering statistics, and I trust you will cheerfully answer a few questions."

The woman looked up at him doubtfully and somewhat indignantly and closed her lips firmly.

"It is asserted," continued the man as he touched the pencil to his tongue, "that the crime of wife beating is on the increase in America. You are a woman."

"Yes, sir," she snapped.

"And probably a wife?"

"Yes, sir."

"Very good! I'll not detain you long. Of course I shall not use your name in any information you may give me. My statistics will go to Washington and there be compiled under a general head. Each state will be taken by itself, and in this state I hope to show that wife beating as a crime is scarcely known to the law."

"And what do you want of me?" she demanded.

"You are a wife, madam. You have a husband. Now, then, it is a delicate question to ask, but does that husband—does he"—

"Does he do what, sir?"

"He may come home out of sorts with the world at large, madam."

"Yes."

"He may not have any family cat or dog to kick."

"No."

"And, therefore, madam, he may vent his spite on you. He may, in brief, haul off and"—

"And box my ears, do you mean?"

"That's it, madam—that's it. What I am after is statistics, you know. If he does this"—

"I'll just give you a few statistics," said the woman as she rose up. "I've been married three times. The first two husbands never thought of laying their hands on me, but the last one boxed my ears three weeks ago."

"Ah, he did?"

"He did, sir, and statistics show that he went out of a window head first, over a fence feet first and that he didn't stop turning handsprings and cart wheels and somersaults for a week."

"My dear madam, I—I"—

"Look at that, sir," she continued as she touched the end of his nose with her fist. "And I wear a No. 7 shoe, and if it's statistics you are after I'll give you"—

But he was gone, and she sat down and breathed hard and looked red in the face and said to the passengers around her:

"If he'd waited about ten seconds longer, I'd have given him statistics on how many men are annually crippled for life by trying to be smart."—Brooklyn Citizen.

One of Brown's Young Men.

Some years ago there was a man who was a figure in the upper social life of New York. He was the sexton of Grace church, and his name was Brown. He was a sort of grand chamberlain to New York society of that day and was employed in every social function from the christening of the babe of aristocracy to the marriage of the damsel. Dancing men then, as now, were scarce, but Brown was equal to the occasion. He organized a band of presentable young fellows who knew how to dress, how to dance and how to behave themselves, whom he marshaled at houses where they were needed. These were known as "Brown's young men," and not a few of them danced themselves into good positions. One of these young men was Hubert O. Thompson, who in later life became so prominent a politician as leader of the County Democracy. He used to say that when he was young he led the germans when he grew old he led the Irish.

A Chronic Grumbler.

Charles Lamb tells of a chronic grumbler who always complained at whist because he had so few trumps. By some artifice his companions managed to deal him the whole 13, hoping to extort some expression of satisfaction, but he only looked more wretched than ever as he examined his hand.

"Well, Tom," said Lamb, "haven't you trumps enough this time?"

"Yes," grunted Tom, "but I've no other cards."

Famines.

The worst famines of modern times were the famine in Ireland in 1846-7, in which 1,000,000 people perished; the Indian famine in 1866, which claimed 1,450,000 victims; the Indian famine in 1877, in which 500,000 people perished, and the great famine in China in 1878, in which 9,500,000 died.

Deserved Promotion.

It was a sultry afternoon, and the teacher of a geography class was endeavoring to get a few good answers before the closing of the lesson. "Now, boys, the word 'stan' at the end of a word means 'place of.' Thus we have Afghanistan, the place of the Afghans; also Hindustan, the place of the Hindoos. Now, can any one give another example?"

"Yes, sir," said the smallest boy proudly; I can—Umbrellastan, the place for umbrellas."

The P. S.

"Them women make me tired," said the first telegraph operator as he opened his switch.

"What's the matter now?" asked the second telegraph operator.

"One of 'em was just in here and wanted to know why we wouldn't let her put a postscript to a ten word message without charging her extra. Said it wasn't part of the message, anyway."

HEADACHES AND HAPPINESS

are like oil and water—they won't mix. The pleasure of many a day's outing has been spoiled by a bad headache. Headache is not a disease but only a symptom. The aching nerves serve as nature's signal to direct you to look inside for the trouble. Perhaps its the stomach, perhaps the liver, perhaps the kidneys and more likely than either from a general weakness of the system. It is this vague uncertainty that directs you to Merrill's System Tonic as the one remedy that is absolutely sure of permanently curing any kind of a headache from any cause. System tonic cures headache because it is an alterative or blood purifying medicine rendering the glands of the body sufficiently strong to eliminate through the bowels, kidneys, lungs, and pores of the skin, all accumulated poisons and to absorb into the circulation all the nourishment from the food eaten. System Tonic is also a valuable tonic for the stomach, nerves and bowels and from it's combined alterative and tonic properties cures dyspepsia, constipation and liver troubles. After you have taken Merrill's System Tonic awhile each organ in the body, namely, the stomach, bowels, liver, heart and kidneys become strong, healthy and active and nature is then able to throw off all diseases that are ravishing or annoying the body on account of a deranged condition of any of these important organs. As ninety nine per cent. of all diseases hinge on a lack of these conditions you are sure to find a cure in Merrill's System Tonic.

DEFENCE OF "CHRISTIAN SCIENCE."

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Your issue of the 6th inst. contained a report of a public address by the Rev. Geo. W. Conners, Bobcaygeon, on "Christian Science." From the Scriptural text chosen by the speaker, it appears that he intended to apply the term "falsely so-called" to Christian Science. But St. Paul evidently recognised that there is a true Science of Christianity; hence he pointed out the counterfeit for Timothy's benefit. Christian Science is this true Science of Christianity; though the reverend gentleman and his Hindoo friend (whom he quotes approvingly) may think otherwise by reason of their lack of understanding the truth. Christian Science is as far beyond comparison with Hindooism, or Pantheism, as the character of President McKinley is above that of the would-be-assassin.

Quotations from the Christian Science text-book comprised, it appears, a large portion of the address. Such references should always be studied in connection with their context, just as the Scriptures should, in order to gain a true and beneficial sense of their meaning. Otherwise, as in this case, many entirely erroneous assumptions may be entertained, and false conclusions deduced. I beg to point out and correct a few of such mistakes, quoting from the address as reported by you:—"When Christ died, it was his annihilation." Christian Science teaches that the Christ is living yet, for Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you always." "No future." Christian Science shows that life never dies; "and this is life eternal," said Jesus, "that they might know Thee, the only true God, etc." "No reward for the faithful. No punishment for the sinner." Science and Health says (p. 341) "The good man's Heaven would be a hell to the sinner if his punishment here has been insufficient to reform him." "It is useless to suppose that the wicked can gloat over their offences up to the last moment, and then be suddenly pardoned and pushed into Heaven, or that the hand of Love is satisfied with giving us only toil, sacrifice, cross-bearing, multiplied trials, and mockery of our motives, in return for our efforts at well-doing."

Are these some of the "damnable utterances" which the speaker desired "to turn the search-light of Scripture upon?" Truly, sin, death, and hell are "damnable," for we read in Revelation, "death and hell were cast into the lake of fire" (Rev. 20. 14.) Christian Science condemns sin unsparingly, and upholds all that is good and leads to Heaven.

I hope our critic will not only continue his prayerful investigation of Christian Science, but will put its rules of right into practice, and learn to demonstrate the truth by healing the sick and casting out devils, as the Master promised that they who believe shall have the power to do.

Yours, respectfully,
WESLEY SPAULDING.

TRADING STAMPS.

Enter gentleman from New York.

Good morning, Mr. Smith, (hands card)—"Mr. Soakem Wells, Agent New York Trading Stamp Co., New York."

Mr. Wells — Mr. Smith, my company has placed before the merchants of the great American Union a system of trade which has added millions to the wealth of the country, and given great prosperity to the merchant, and added much happiness to the women of America, and I am sent over to offer this boon to our Canuck neighbours.

Mr. Smith—Yes; and pray what is it?

Mr. Wells — It is simply this: a system of trading stamps — stamps which the seller gives to the purchaser, and which our company redeems in beautiful goods. It is splendid; it will add 25 per cent. to your cash business.

Mr. Smith—Very good, I like that; we just need something to increase our business, for profits are so small nowadays. But tell me sir, what we have to give your company for this boom?

Mr. Soakem Wells — Oh, a mere bagatelle — just 5 per cent on the cash sales.

Mr. Smith—Five per cent. on increased business?

Mr. Soakem Wells — Oh, no; five per cent. on your entire cash business.

Mr. Smith — God bless you! Why our business is all a cash business. It now amounts to four-fourths, if we add one-fourth it would be five-fourths. Five per cent. on five-fourths is 25 per cent on one-quarter. So that I would have to pay you 25 per cent. or one-fourth, of all the new business, the Trading Stamp business would bring me. Oh, no, Mr. Soakem Wells, good-day.

HIS BLOOD IS NORMAL

the President's keen relish of the beef juice given him during the night, and the increase in his allowance from 1 to 3 teaspoonfuls, and the fact that the wound is becoming "more healthy." These two words of the afternoon bulletin furnished the only vague note in the official record of the day. But even the possibility that there was anything serious behind this disturbing hint, faded away when Dr. McBurney subsequently explained that the slight irritation of the wound still remaining should pass away within the next 24 hours.

The President continues in excellent spirits, but he confessed to one of the attendants yesterday that he was getting lonesome. He requested that he be placed in another bed. A depression had formed in the mattress in which he has lain since he was taken to the Milburn house, and had caused some discomfort. Another bed was provided, and he was carefully removed to it without difficulty.

THE FAITHFUL WIFE.

Mrs. McKinley Visited Her Husband Briefly—Other Visitors Admitted.

Buffalo, Sept. 12.—Mrs. McKinley saw the President yesterday morning. When the doctors arrived at the house for the consultation they passed her sitting in the upper corridor knitting. She was in good spirits, and, after a visit of the doctors, they gave their assent to her entering the sick room again. She remained only a minute, as the physicians are avoiding any sapping of the President's strength by prolonged visits, even by those nearest to him.

Secretary of State Hay, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock arrived at the residence at 10.40, and 20 minutes later General Charles H. Grosvenor, Judge A. S. Thompson, an old personal friend of the President, and Frank Baird of this city, were ushered in. At 11 o'clock Gen. Smith entered the house.

Gen. Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles, who left his home for Buffalo the morning after the President was shot, arrived here yesterday afternoon and came at once to Milburn residence.

Gov. Yates of Illinois and State Senator Templeton called at 10.30 to pay their respects and also to advise with Secretary Cortelyou as to the propriety of proceeding with the arrangements for Illinois Day at the Exposition, which had been set for next Monday. Secretary Cortelyou advised them not to disturb the original program.

The members of the Cabinet who had remained at the house during the afternoon consulting with the doctors, came away after the bulletin had been issued. Mrs. McKinley took her usual afternoon drive, returning shortly after the doctors had concluded their consultation.

The Crime Is Treason.

New York, Sept. 12.—An interesting interview with W. W. Erwin, a criminal lawyer who defended the Homestead strikers, comes from Minneapolis. Mr. Erwin said:

"Under the common law in force in that State, which has not, with reference to treason, been modified by statute, it will adjudicate the crime as an act of treason, the punishment of which is death. The State of New York can prosecute Czolgosz for treason in attempting the life of the sovereign executive recognized by New York, for he has committed common law treason against the higher allegiance owed by all citizens of New York to the chief executive of the United States."

EMMA GOLDMAN REMANDED.

Endeavored to Get Freedom on Bonds, But Did Not Succeed.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Magistrate Prindiville yesterday granted a continuance until Sept. 19 in the case of the Anarchist lecturer, Emma Goldman, who was arrested here Tuesday. Chief Prosecutor Owens stated that the prisoner was charged with conspiracy to murder the President, and, therefore, he desired that she be held without bail.

No lawyer appeared to represent her, but, with a determined snap of her teeth, she said she was ready to proceed without counsel. When the court granted the continuance, she said she wanted to be allowed her freedom under bond. The magistrate said that as the latest bulletin indicated that the distinguished patient in Buffalo was on the high road to recovery he would consider the matter of bail further on and would announce his decision at noon.

After Miss Goldman left the court Lawyer Browne called on the prisoner and informed her that he would ask for a writ of habeas corpus in her behalf during the afternoon. Justice Prindiville, therefore, consented to a further postponement of the bail matter until 5 p.m.

Captain Colleran has received a message from Chief Bull of Buffalo, stating that requisition papers for Miss Goldman will be forwarded as soon as possible.

Later the magistrate decided that Emma Goldman should be held without bail, pending the decision of similar cases in the Superior Court.

The Chicago police have the following telegram from the Buffalo Chief of Police:

"Czolgosz was in Chicago Aug. 18 in company with Emma Goldman and Abraham Isaak at Isaak's office."

The Case Against Goldman.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The police have taken the preliminary steps necessary to secure the extradition of Emma Goldman, the Anarchist leader, under arrest at Chicago for alleged complicity in the plot to kill President McKinley, and it is understood an application for her will go forward to the Illinois authorities just as quickly as the formalities can be complied with.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

PRESIDENT IS WORSE

His Condition Causes Serious Apprehension.

LATE BULLETINS UNFAVORABLE

His Food Not Digesting, and Nourishment Is No Longer Given—Mr. McKinley Complained of Fatigue During the Afternoon—Pulse Higher, But Temperature the Same—News Serious.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—(4.50 a. m.)—Secretary Wilson re-entered the house. It is understood that Dr. Park and Dr. Rixey are now with the President.

Secretary Wilson Has Hopes.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. (4.37 a. m.)—Secretary Wilson stepped out of the house at 4.35. "The President is a little better now," he said, "his heart action and his circulation are both better. I have not given up hope."

"Is the President conscious?"

"Perfectly so."

"Does he realize his condition?"

"I do not know as to that."

At 4 o'clock no word of encouragement had come from the Milburn house.

4.02.—Dr. Mann says the President has rallied somewhat.

4.03.—Drs. Mann and Mynter left the house at 4 o'clock. The latter said: "The President is in better condition than he was an hour ago. We have not given up hope. He has rallied somewhat, and we are going home."

Dr. Mann also said that the President had rallied, but both physicians declined to go into details concerning the character of the heart stimulants administered or the cause of the collapse.

4.15 a. m.—Telegrams have been forwarded to Vice-President Roosevelt, notifying him of the sudden change for the worse in the President's conditions and the fears entertained.

3.40 a. m.—The physicians have come down stairs, except Drs. Rixey, Mann and Stockton, and carriages are arriving at the residence at a gallop.

3.42.—Secretary Cortelyou says he does not consider the President in extremis, but that the worst is feared from weakness of the heart.

At 3.55 the physicians were still assembled at the bedside of the President. They were administering digitalis and strychnine. They looked for a rally, but up to that time no word of hope came from them to those who were in waiting.

3.55 a. m.—None of the President's relatives or members of the Cabinet have been admitted to the bedside.

3.50 a. m.—Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock, Abner McKinley, Dr. Baer and Private Secretary Cortelyou were all assembled in the main drawing-room, and it was understood that none of them had up to that time been called to the sick room. The gravest anxiety was pictured on their faces.

Mrs. McWilliams drove to the Milburn house at 3.25. As she alighted from her carriage, she said:

"I was told the President was much worse and asked to come to the house at once."

The President is so weak that he does not apparently suffer much. Strychnine, digitalis and other powerful heart stimulants do not produce effects, and the woest is feared. His death might occur at any time from heart exhaustion. Mrs. McKinley has not yet been informed of the change for the worse.

HEART GIVING OUT.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physicians at 2.51 a. m.: The President's condition is very serious, and gives rise to the gravest apprehensions. His bowels have moved well, but his heart does not respond properly to stimulation. He is conscious. The skin is warm, and the pulse small, regular, easily compressible and 126; respiration, 30; temperature, 100.

Had a Sinking Spell.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—(2.58 a. m.)—President McKinley experienced a sinking spell shortly after 2 o'clock. The physicians are administering restoratives to him with the hope of reviving him. A general call has gone out to the physicians and the members of the Cabinet now in the city. Dr. Park reached the house at 2.30, and shortly after him came Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson.

The Associated Press has been authorized to say that President McKinley is critically ill.

At 3 o'clock all of the physicians were gathered at the bedside of the President. It was stated that digitalis was being administered to the President.

3.10 a. m.—Several messengers were hurried from the house, and it was understood that they carried despatches to the absent members of the Cabinet and the kin of the President. Additional lights burn forth in the Milburn home, and the household is astir.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—(2.48 a. m.)—Abner McKinley, brother of the President, was called to the house at 2.40. He came by carriage and pressed into the house at once. A messenger was despatched at the same time to summon two absent nurses. The impression is created that the President has taken a serious turn for the worse, but an expression from those within the house was unobtainable.

AN ALARMING BULLETIN.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 13.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physician at 8.30 p. m. yesterday: The President's condition is not quite so good. His food has not agreed with him and has been stopped. Excretion has not yet been properly established. His kidneys are acting well. His pulse is not satisfactory, but has improved in the last two hours. The wound is doing well. He is resting quietly. Temperature 100.2, pulse 128.

The following bulletin was issued at 12 o'clock, midnight:

All unfavorable symptoms in the President's condition have improved since the last bulletin. Pulse 120, temperature, 100.2.

The President Slept Well.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The news from the bedside of the sick President yesterday morning was all that could be desired. He had slept well during the night, and was so much improved that he was given a meal of coffee, toast and chicken broth. His appetite was good, and after his breakfast he appealed to Dr. McBurney to be allowed to smoke a cigar.

UNFAVORABLE SYMPTOMS.

President Was Worse Yesterday, But This Morning Responded to Treatment.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The slight alarm which was felt when the afternoon bulletin appeared yesterday, was increased when the physicians assembled for their evening consultation about an hour earlier than usual. The cheeriness of the morning was succeeded by apprehension and a dreary rain, which began to fall, added to the gloomy feeling which prevailed. The bulletin was personally delivered to the members of the press by Secretary Cortelyou, and the frankness with which the physicians announced that the President's condition was not so good, disquieting as it was, was a relief. It was felt to be additional proof that nothing was being concealed. It was explained that the trouble existed was due to the fact that the food taken in the morning had not agreed with the President. It had not been disposed of, and the rise in his pulse was attributed to that fact. It was stated quite positively that the consulting physicians did not believe that the failure to digest the food was due to the condition of the wounds in the sides of the stomach, which were believed to be practically healed, and so pronounced by Dr. McBurney and his associates. The fact that the food would not agree with the patient could not have been anticipated, so it was stated, but as soon as it was found that it had not the administration of food by the mouth was discontinued. The problem, which now confronts the physicians, is to dispose of this undigested food in the stomach. Dr. Mann, who is considered the chief surgeon in the absence of Dr. McBurney, is confident that the undigested food will pass away during the night, and that the President will be better in the morning. The fatigue of the patient noted in the afternoon bulletin continued during the evening, and several times the President murmured: "I am so tired. I am so tired."

GEO. BRUCE CORTELYOU.
Secretary to the President and with him when shot.

Dr. Charles G. Stockton, who has a fine reputation as a general practitioner here, was called in at the evening conference.

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock reached the Milburn house at 9.35. They seemed anxious for personal reassurances as to the condition of the President, and when they left their carriage they hurried into the house.

Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock left the Milburn home at 10.50 o'clock.

There Was Genuine Apprehension.

Possibly the alarm caused was ex-

CANADA MOVING ON.

The Philadelphia Record takes a view of the Canadian census returns which should commend itself to all who really wish to know whether their country is making progress or not. Too much stress is laid upon the returns of census enumerators, because those are statistics that the general public look for and think they understand. The statement of population as given by the census is too often taken by those who do not especially study such matters, as the sole measure of a country's progress, whereas it is but one, and that the least infallible.

The Record says: "The Canadians are getting a kind of dolorous comfort out of the showing that seven of the United States are increasing in population at an even slower rate than the Canadian Provinces. The fact is that too much stress has been laid upon the forward or backward movement of population. Men and women go and come with lawless freedom and indirection; but the rapid increase in the wealth and in the industrial development of Canada remains an indisputable fact. The per capita distribution of resources and prosperity is most satisfying."

Let it be remembered that Canada during her short history as a united Dominion has annexed no already populous nations or colonies which had held other allegiance, as the United States has; that population is such a movable quantity that it is difficult to obtain a very accurate count at the best of times. The indications have been after every census that the population was larger than the official figures gave. This is not only true of Canada, but of the United States. The census of 1890 in the adjoining Republic was assailed as being a ridiculous understatement of the population. In cases where the figures were tested the charge was found apparently well founded. The later census, owing to the attacks of 1890, was probably far more carefully taken, and doubtless much of the great increase shown was in names which were not previously counted. However, this may be, the other returns, which are recognized as invariably accurate, show such great gains in the industrial and commercial progress of the country that no one in the United States cares very much how the census figures were arrived at.

In Canada, when we see the revenue of the country in twenty years increase from $29,000,000 to $51,000,000; the imports increase in the same time from $105,300,000 to $189,600,000, and the exports increase from $98,200,000 to $191,800,000; when we see that during the twenty years over fifteen million acres of Government land has been taken up by settlers; that the tonnage of vessels entering and clearing at Canadian ports has risen from 8,000,000 to 14,000,000, the railway mileage increased from 7,000 to 17,000, the railway earnings from 27,000,000 to 70,000,000; when it is seen that the assets of the chartered banks have risen from $198,000,000 to $440,000,000, and the savings of the people in the Post Office Savings banks have increased from $6,000,000 to $37,000,000; when all these evidences of substantial movement towards national prosperity are to be found, it seems hardly necessary to set the figures of the census upon a funereal altar and wail before it.

MANITOBA GRAIN CROP.

The Manitoba grain crop this year, if not the best advertisement the country ever had, is certainly one of the best, and already American land speculators and farmers are reported to be purchasing land, some of the speculators in a wholesale manner. Olds in the Alberta country is attracting a good deal of attention just at present too and land there is being taken up very rapidly on account of the richness of the soil and the exceptionally good crops. At Edmonton a Kansas farmer got one stalk of oats which measured six feet ten inches and from which he took 133 grains, and he visited a field of wheat which the owner had just started to cut and the yield of which they together estimated at from fifty to sixty bushels to the acre. Wheat cutting is practically over throughout the North-West and threshing is going on actively in all the wheat belt, while most of the other grains are also down. The ruling price for No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat during the past week has been sixty-nine and a half cents in store at Fort William, compared with eighty-one cents a year ago. According to the latest Manitoba official returns, there will be a grain crop for the year of nearly eighty-six million bushels, of which 48,857,255 will be wheat, 30,205,775 oats, amd 6,433,919 barley. The activity in North-West land is shown by the sales of the C.P.R., which last month were 50,747.82 acres for $165,871.16, compared with 32,178.50 acres for $103,480.78 for August last year. It seems to be certain now that the Canadian Northern Railway will not be able to get its line through from Winnipeg to Pont Arthur this year and consequently it will have to ship its share of the crop via Duluth. This is unfortunate, because it means the loss to Canada of a certain amount of business, but the railway will be in swing long before this time next year. In the meantime, the Canadian Pacific has made extensive preparations to handle promptly all the grain offered, so that the farmer will not suffer from lack of shipping facilities. General business is rushing and promises to be the best in the history of the country, and the Winnipeg bank clearings last week were nearly half a million dollars more than for the corresponding week last year. A year ago cancellation of orders was the rule, while this year there has been none at all.

SUMMER.

I see her not; is she, as all on earth,
The prey of death? Perchance she makes her way
Where, ling'ring 'till she comes, sweet, flower-crowned May Lays down the sceptre, then—as when June's birth
We hailed with gladsome hearts — will prove her worth
To the new subjects, even though her sway
Beneficent, if harsh, turns green to grey,
And mellows, too, the ringing tones of mirth.
A summer, other than the one we knew,
Comes when the half of a long life is gone,
Stands at the parting of the ways—youth flown,
While age, in the dim distance, creeps in view,
But whence we may not, for the shadows, see,
O strange, strange, world, replete with mystery!

GOOD FISHING.

(Fenelon Falls Gazette.)

Fishing, especially for maskinonge, is unusually good this year, and quite a number over 15 pounds in weight have been taken above and below the falls. But the sportsmen who captured these big fellows, as they are called in these degenerate days, will have some of the conceit taken out of them when they hear of the monsters that are still to be caught in the rivers on the north shore of the Georgian Bay. Mr. Findley Robson, who left about three weeks ago to visit his brother Joseph at French River and got home last Friday, says that he saw the dried head of a maskinonge, fifty-one and a half pounds in weight, that his brother caught a short time ago in French River, and that he saw in a refrigerator at Byng Inlet a lunge that weighed thirty-one and a half pounds, and that had been hooked and landed by a boy only ten years old. The last mentioned fish beat by four pounds the one caught last month near Bobcaygeon by Mr. and Mrs. Bunch, of Arkansas, but the big one is beaten by a maskinonge that a member of our staff saw last Saturday at the Pan-American Exposition; that is if it weighed as much as was stated on the placard appended to it—fifty-seven pounds, which we are very much inclined to doubt. Fish stories are always in order, and you can believe them or not, just as you like. Here is one too good not to be true, from the Hamilton Times:

"Mr. Fred Walter, license inspector, has returned from Georgian Bay fishing grounds, where he spent his vacation. The last day he was fishing he came near losing his right hand. He hooked a sunfish and had pulled it to the edge of the boat. Just as he reached for it an immense pickerel, or pike, about four feet long, made a spring at the little fish. The fins of the cannibal cut Mr. Walter's hand. Mr. Walter's companions believe that if the fish had got hold of his hand that member would have been a goner, if, indeed, the fish would not have swallowed him entire."

SWALLOWED A HOT STONE

J. F. Rex of the C. P. R. Offices Describes His Feelings.

A thankful man is J. F. Rex, of the C. P. R. Audit Office, Montreal. Any man would be grateful who has come through what he has done so successfully.

At one time, not so very long since, as his friends in the railway office know, Mr. Rex was in the close grip of dyspepsia. He has broken that grip, however, and with the aid of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets has shaken it off altogether.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are coming into high fame in Montreal. Mr. Rex's case is one of hundreds. In all parts of the city, from Westmount to Point St. Charles, people may be found who will tell you of the good work Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for them.

Mr. Rex writes a strong letter in praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. But it is no stronger than the words of many another sufferer released from the miseries of indigestion by the same wonderful medicine.

"I can highly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," writes Mr. Rex, "For years I suffered all the horrors of Indigestion — choking sensation, Heartburn, Wind on the Stomach, an indisposition to eat and all the rest. After the first two boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was finally induced to try, I found I could sleep all night without awakening with the feeling of somebody clutching at my throat like I used to do. I can now eat meat also without feeling that I have swallowed a hot stone. I am thankful that I ever heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. TWO DAYS' FIGHTING

British Loss Was 25 Killed and 30 Wounded.

CAPTAIN CROFT WAS WOUNDED

Gen. Methuen Drove Delarey From His Strong Position by His Work on Friday and Saturday Last—C. Kruger, Son of Former Transvaal President and Capt. Ferreira Surrender.

Mafeking, Cape Colony, Sept 12.—The British casualities in the great Maries valley, Sept. 6 and 8, when General Methuen was engaged with Vantander and De Larey, driving the Boers from a strong position, were 25 killed and 30 wounded, including Capt. Croft.

Kruger's Son Surrenders.

London, Sept. 13.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria yesterday, announces that C. Kruger, a son of the former President of the Transvaal, and Capt. Ferriera have surrendered.

STRIKERS HAVE TO GET OUT.

Steel Combine Orders Them to Move Out of Company's Houses.

Pittsburg, Sept. 13.—Preliminary steps in the first evictions in the steel workers' strike were taken yesterday by the American Steel Hoop Company. Through Ald. Walsh it served notice on three families to vacate houses owned by the company off West Carson street. The persons notified are John Shuttle of 102 Paintor's Row, Jerry O'Brien of 77 Painter's Row and Mrs. Jeremiah Welsh of 82 Painter's Row.

Constable James Trimble ordered them to vacate their houses by Tuesday next or their goods will be thrown into the street. There was no charge against any of the tenants. All offered to pay their rent several months in advance, but it was refused, the officer saying the houses were wanted for new workmen.

There are in the row over fifty houses, rented at from $6 to $8 a month. They are occupied by strikers at Painter's hoop plant. Shuttle and O'Brien are strike leaders. Mrs. Welsh also has been active in the demonstrations against the non-unionists. Three families will be notified each day until all are served with a notice.

The Monongahela tin plate plant was started yesterday, and this plant is now lost to the Amalgamated Association.

President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association again denied yesterday that the strike had been settled.

You Feel all Used up

You're discouraged and disgusted—not enough energy to think, less to go to work upon. The reason? You are run down, your blood is poor, your nerves are like India Rubber not like steel as they ought to be. Use Ferrozone and the tired feeling will go, for it makes plenty of rich, red blood that feeds the brain and nerves. The desire to labour comes back and you enjoy it. You don't get tired, because you have used Ferrozone. Neglect not a day longer. Ferrozone will cure you. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

His Other One.

A Philadelphia captain of detectives tells of one of the malaprops of his force who, despite his deficiency in education, is a clever operator. Responding to an inquiry, he explained to a friend the possession of two names by a prisoner by saying: "Jim Henry is his real name. Percy D. Klyne is his ananias."

"HURONIC" LAUNCHED

Inauguration of Steam Shipbuilding in Collingwood.

BUILD SHIPS, SAYS MR. TARTE.

Statement Regarding the Coasting Trade by the Minister of Public Works—He Is Inclined Towards Aid to Shipbuilding—Miss Long Christens the Huronic—A Successful Launch.

Collingwood, Sept. 13.—The "Huronic," the big steel liner launched here yesterday, is not actually the first vessel constructed at this port, for the City of Collingwood, Majestic and other small craft have been put together here in former years, but she is the first product of the modern steel ship yards, established at this point last autumn by the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, Limited, a corporation capitalized at $200,000.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte, representing the Dominion Government, was the chief personage present on the christening stage, and the act of naming the vessel was gracefully performed by Miss Long, a daughter of President Long.

Immediately after the launching ceremony, the keel was laid for a 7,000-ton ship to be built by the company for Mr. F. H. Clergue of Sault Ste. Marie.

The boat launched yesterday is being built for the Northwest Transportation Company of Sarnia.

Mr. Tarte's Speech.

Hon. Mr. Tarte was cheered and cheered again when he rose to speak. After expressing his pleasure at being present on such an auspicious occasion he said in part: Canada is making splendid progress. I altogether decline to agree with those who find cause for disappointment in the last census. We are doing remarkably well. We cannot forget we are a young country. Confederation is only thirty years old, just long enough to have laid the foundations of this country. The launching of that noble ship is the best evidence that we are doing well. At Confederation Canada consisted of small and scattered communities. We are understanding each other better and better, and Canada stands to-day a united nation. We invite foreign capital to Canada, provided it comes to us to stay. A few days ago I had to refuse the offer of Captain Wolvin. I would have been unworthy the confidence of the Canadian Parliament had I done anything else.

We are short of Canadian bottoms to carry Canadian trade. The present Canadian bottoms cannot carry more than 5,000,000 bushels of grain. We are short of Canadian bottoms, but we are not short of courage, and we have the spirit and enterprise and the skilled labor to make good the deficiency. Let us keep cool; let us not give way our national property because we are not immediately ready to handle all of our trade. Let us be for this country before anything else, and we will come out all right.

The transportation question is to be solved. We are solving it by improvements. The railways will have to help us, I am glad to see here my friend, Mr. Reeve, General Manager of the Grand Trunk. The Grand Trunk Railway Company are powerful, but not as powerful as the Canadian people. We are their bosses. They have their terminal now at Portland, but the time will come when the Grand Trunk will be glad to come back to Canada, because we have the shortest route to the English market. We look to them to make it the best, and the Grand Trunk will realize that as soon as the facilities of the St. Lawrence River are sufficient. We will have to spend money. Great as I am, I cannot do it without money. (Laughter and applause.) Master of the Administration as I am, I cannot do it without money. The question is, will the Canadian people fully make up their minds to stand by their own country? You have heard of the possibility of the Government bonusing shipbuilding. Well, for a free trade Government it is a pretty hard thing to do. The Americans have closed their door to us. We should keep our trade for ourselves. Shipbuilding might be bonused for two or three years if enough Canadian bottoms could be built in that time to carry Canadian trade in Canadian channels. In the meantime the ports of Quebec and Montreal and St. John will be made right. Do you appreciate the magnitude of the possibilities we have in hand? Let us have a sufficient Canadian lake marine; we will be a great nation quicker than most people believe. We will make greater progress in the next ten years than in the last forty years.

This is a proud day for me. I am very nearly a citizen of Collingwood. (Applause.) I took a fancy to this little town the first time I came here.

I congratulate you on the great success of the grand enterprise you have carried to such a successful issue. We have laid, too, the keel of a greater ship. That is the picture of Canada. We are going on from great to greater. Let us love each other, and we will build up a ship of State that will be the pride of the Empire. We have greater liberties than any other nation I know. Let our creed be, "Canada first, Canada always, Canada forever." (Prolonged applause.)

Later in proposing the toast of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, Mr. Tarte referred to a published interview with Hon. Mr. Fielding relating to Government aid to shipbuilding. It looked as if some little thing would result if the Government were supported by the public opinion and feeling of Canada. He had got from Mr. Reeve just what he had wanted him to say.

Capt. Crangle stated that if Mr. Tarte would guarantee that the Government would not vacillate on this question, his company would at once give an order for a large canal boat.

Mr. Tarte, in reply, asserted there was not sufficient Canadian tonnage, and asked Captain Crangle what he would do if he got the promise he asked for. The Captain said, "Order a first-class canal vessel at once."

"I will tell you right here, you may give an order, not for one, but for ten." replied Mr. Tarte. This was received with tremendous cheering and concluded the luncheon.

MAY PROVE INTERESTING.

A "Junk" Case in Which a Number of Arrests Have Been Made.

There will likely be an interesting time on at the police court next week when Mr. Stevenson, the young man who for several months past has been looking after Mr, T. G. Holmes' interests here, will stand his trial on a charge of receiving a quantity of copper wire, knowing the same to be stolen.

Stevenson was arrested a few few days ago, and was admitted to bail. Since, then, however, there have been developments of a rather startling nature, and the theft may yet prove one of the largest that has been attempted in Peterborough for some time.

The wire in question is alleged to have been stolen from the Canadian General Electric Company, and is of the very best quality. The police have been working on the matter for some days, and several other arrests followed that of Stevenson. A young man named Smith was taken into custody on Wednesday, and yesterday Mr. David Doig was taken in hand by the police, it being alleged that he knew something concerning the steal.

Mr. T. G. Holmes yesterday evening was also arrested, but was immediately released on bail.

AN OTONABEE WEDDING.

Mr. Edwin J Fife Married to Miss Eva Manley, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Manley.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Manley, "Stony Bank," on the 5th concession of Otonabee, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening last, when Miss Eva, their daughter, became the bride of Mr. Edwin J. Fife.

The ceremony took place in the parlour, the bridal party taking their position under an arch of white asters and ferns, and was performed by Rev. W. B. Seccombe.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Manley, in white organdie, carrying a bouquet of asters and smilax, and little Miss Viola Hendren, as maid of honour, gowned in white muslin, trimmed with lilies of the valley, preceded the bride into the parlour.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of white silk, the skirt being made with train. The bridal veil was of tulle, while her bouquet was of white asters and smilax.

Mr. Andrew Evans was best man, and Miss Mabel Nelson played the wedding march.

A large number of guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The presents to the bride were numerous and costly, including a gold watch, the gift of the groom.

Mr and Mrs. Fife will make their home in Havelock, where they go followed by the best wishes of all who know them.

THE POWER QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir, — We beg to append a copy of our letter of May 11th to the Cordage Company, in order that you may judge in how far it is a justification for your statement that we had written the Cordage Company "to the effect that the power developed was all taken up."

(Copy.)

Peterborough, May 11, 1901.

The Canadian Cordage Co., Peterborough,—

Gentlemen, — In reply to your letter of May 10th, we are sorry that we are not at the present time in a position to make you a quotation. We are endeavouring to make an arrangement with the Hydraulic Power Company for the supply of an amount of power which will probably exhaust nearly all our surplus. Whether this contract will be made or not, we expect to know in the course of a few weeks.

Yours truly,

(Signed)

PETERBOROUGH LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.

A. Stevenson.

As the amount of power which we offered the Hydraulic Company was 900 H.P., we think our claim to have, with the Auburn Co., sufficient power for many years to come, is not "self evident twaddle," and especially so since all the factories, both existent and expectant in Peterborough who are in the market for electric power do not utilise that amount.

Referring to your remarks about the price received by us for our power when sold as light, this question is as pertinent to the subject as would be a question about the price obtained by the Examiner for its power when delivered in type.

Yours truly,

Peterborough Light and Power Co.,

T. E. Bradburn, Pres.

MR. CARNEGIE'S LETTER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—My attention has been called to an article in your issue of the 11th inst. in which my name is made use of as set forth in the following extract, viz:—

"The Auburn Power Company, before the Otonabee Power Company was thought of, was also applied to for power, and the reply of the president, Mr. Carnegie, was that all the power developed by the Company was locked up, inasmuch as the Company was under obligation to supply power to the Canadian General Electric Company till Jan. 1st, 1902, and if the latter Company had not then power developed at Nassau at that date the Auburn Company would have to supply power till the Electrical Company's power house at Nassau was ready for operations. Even if the Auburn Power Company were in a position to supply the Cordage Company, the lowest price would be, the president said, $23 per horse power for the quantity—some 250 horse power—required."

And with regard to which I have briefly to say, first, that I never told any one that the Auburn Company have to supply power till the Electric Company's power house at Nassau was ready for operations. Nor could I have done so simply because the contrary is the fact. We have no obligations of any kind to supply the C. G. E. with a single horse power after the clock tolls out the present year. Moreover, as is fairly well known, I have intimated that the Auburn Company is prepared to make contracts for lighting to come into force on and after the 1st of January, next. Why? Simply because our contract with the C. G. E. Company expires at that date, and we will have 200 horse power additional thrown on our hands, and this was explained to Mr. Adam Hall by myself.

I may also add that only last April the present Managing Director of the Cordage Company tried to induce me to let him have WATER power for a grist mill by assuring us that we had plenty of water for all our other requirements, as well as those of his proposed grist mills.

And, lastly, I would like some of those who are now depreciating the supply of power at the Auburn dam, to explain how it is that the same stream which gives 2,000 h.p. at dam No. 5, does not AND CAN ONLY BE MADE to give the power they state when it gets down to the Auburn or Dickson dams?

The second statement of fact(?) to which I wish to refer, is that I stated that "the lowest price would be $23 per horse power for the quantity—some 250 horse power—required."

All I can say is that such a statement is a pure and adulterated falsehood, so far as I am concerned.

I gave the Cordage people no "lowest price" at any time. I declined to do so until they were ready to make a contract, but I did tell them that they could count upon a bottom price of UNDER $20 per horse power.

And finally, you ask, "is it not a fact that the two companies, the P. L. & P. Co., and the Auburn Co., entered into a formal agreement to the effect of assuring to one a monopoly of supplying light and to the other a monopoly of supplying power?"

Yes; such an agreement was entered into, and expires on the first of January next.

But it is not a "fact that the signers of this agreement are identical with the signers of the above letter." As a matter of fact neither Mr. Bradburn or myself signed the agreement referred to, while the present Managing Director of the Otonabee Power Company did so.

Yours,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

The wife of Mr. Patrick Fitzpatrick, a well-to-do farmer residing in the western part of the township of Asphodel, about six miles west of Norwood, committed suicide about noon on Wednesday by taking a dose of carbolic acid. Deceased was in ill health and committed the rash act while in a dejected state of mind from brooding over her trouble. She was about 40 years of age and was a daughter of the late William Fife, of Otonabee, and was married to her now sorrowing husband about a year ago.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.

Inspector Crowe is Determined to Punish the Offenders.

A good deal of illegal liquor selling has lately been quietly going on in the northern and eastern parts of East Peterborough, and Inspector Crowe has been hot after the lawbreakers. Last week William Peters and James Bryan of Chandos, were up before Justices Booth and Monogue at Apsley, charged with selling liquor without a license. Bryan was found guilty, and fined $50 and the costs. The charge against Peters failed, and he was acquitted.

On Tuesday James Moloney and P. Metcalfe, of the Cordova Mines, were before the County Police Magistrate, at Havelock, on the same charge. The charge against Moloney was proven and he was fined $50 and costs. The case against Metcalfe was dismissed.

This is the sixth fine collected during the past three months in East Peterborough, for selling liquor without a license. The Inspector intends to keep vigilant watch and prosecute every infringement of the liquor law that comes under his notice.

THE HISTORIANS ELECT OFFICERS.

Annual Meeting of the Historical Society.

SOME INTERESTING REPORTS.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers Again Elected President—Recent Contributions to the Museum.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough town and county Historical Society, was held in Victoria Museum last night. Owing to the inclement state of the weather the attendance was rather small.

The chair was occupied by Lieut.-Colonel H. C. Rogers, the president of the society, who presented the following report:

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Peterborough, Sept. 11th, 1901.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—As our worthy Secretary has given you a detailed account of the proceedings during the current year, it would be superflous for me to enter into particulars of the Society's transactions. I will therefore confine myself to the outside visits I have paid to the Provincial Society Meetings as your representative.

Agreeable with your instructions at the last meeting here on May 29th, I, in company with your other representatives, Messrs. Hall and Collins, wended our way to Belleville on the 30th. We there found some thirty delegates assembled, representating various Historical Socities throughout the Province, namely, Toronto, Hamilton, Woodstock, St. Thomas, Niagara, Prince Edward, Bay of Quinte, and Victoria, together with the Officers of the Provincial Board. The afternoon was spent by a business meeting at the Armouries, and a drive to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, where an interesting exhibit of the work going on there was given by the teachers and pupils.

I must hear express my appreciation of the open hospitality and attentions the delegates experienced at the hands of the Belleville people. Many of the delegates were provided with private quarters, hotel rates were reduced, and the Town Council voted $50.00 for entertainment. A public meeting was held in the Town Hall in the evening with the Mayor as Chairman, at which the President delivered his annual report, and several papers were read of historic interest. On the following morning a steamer was provided for a trip through the Bay of Quinte, and the day was spent sailing through that lovely scenery—resplendent with beautiful reaches of landscape, whose shores were the first homes of the Pioneers of this fair Province. Points of interest in the Bay were pointed out by those familiar with the locality, and, a dinner was provided by our hosts at one of their many pleasant summer resorts, and some hours spent on what is sacred ground to the descendants of the Empire Loyalists—Adolphurtoun—settled by the U.E.L. in 1784, where the first church was built and where the bones of many a Pioneer, are deposited. The graveyard, I regret to say, is in a shameful state of neglect, which I trust our visit may help to remedy, but the Memorial Church erected by those descendants through the exertions of the late Rector, the Rev. Ferfiri, is a gem, in which tablets to the memory of any Pioneer may be placed by their friends, of which many have taken advantage. Views of the church internal and external have been presented to our Society by Mr. Roy, who accompanied us on our trip.

On the return trip a meeting was held, at which reports from the different affiliated Societies were read and a discussion entered into as to where the next meeting should be held. Several localities were proposed, among others Judge Dean urged the desirability of holding it at Lindsay, with the inducement of a trip over the Kawartha Lakes. I also took the liberty of saying that should Peterborough be selected, our Society would give them a welcome, and I had no doubt our Town Council would tender them a reception. The choice of location was left to the Executive to settle.

I also attended a meeting of the O.H.S. on the 16th of August, held in the Exhibition Grounds, Toronto, at the Pioneer's shanty, at which papers were read and a report received from the treasurer of the Laura Secord Monument Fund, in which it was shown that though the monument had been completed, there was a defficiency in the amount required, owing to the neglect of some of the Societies in forwarding their assessment, which had been fixed on the membership of the affiliated Societies at 10c a member. I regret to have to state that among the list of defaulters the P.H.S. name appeared, which owing to want of funds your Executive were unable thus far to meet. I must here express my disappointment that the Treasurer has been so unsuccessful in collecting the fees due from members now in abeyance in most cases for the past three years, the collection of which would enable us to meet such calls as the above, and to prosecute the intention and aim for which this Society was formed, namely, the procuring of material for history through the stories of the Pioneers and their descendants.

In conclusion I must congratulate the Society in having acquired the Museum and this fine room for holding their meetings, thanks to Messrs. Hall and McGill, Executors to the estate of the late Mrs. Nicholls, to whose munificence our good town owes so much, and I hope that the good beginning made in collecting (not funds) but relics and curios will incite us to greater exertion in the future, so that the Victoria Museum may yet contain an Exhibit worthy of our town and country.

H. C. ROGERS,
President.

The report of the secretary, Mr. T. A. S. Hay, was as follows:

To the Officers and Members Peterborough Historical Society:

I beg to present my annual report for the year 1900-01 as follows:

The Society has been rather dormant during the past year, and if it were not for the marked success and steady growth of Victoria Museum the Society might be in danger of total extinction.

On the evening of Dec. 18th, 1900, a lecture was given by Sir J. G. Bourinot, on the subject, "Early settlement of the U.E. Loyalists in Canada," under the auspices of the Historical Society and the Fortnightly Club, which was very well attended and much enjoyed.

On June 3rd the Veterans of 1866 Association met at their hall and marched in a body to Victoria Museum, where they were received by the officers and members of the Historical Society. After addresses had been given by the officers of both societies, the President and Secretary of the Veterans Association presented a handsome group of photographs of the Veterans to the Historical Society, to be hung on the wall of the lecture room. A very pleasant hour was spent in congratulatory speeches, after which the Veterans were conducted through the Museum by members of the Historical Society, and were, by resolution, made honourary members.

On June 6th and 7th this Society was represented at the annual meeting of the Ontario Historical Society at Belleville by the President, Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, J. D. Collins, and Dr. Dunlop, an account of which the President will give you in his report.

The Museum, originally intended only as an auxiliary to the Society, has become the most vital feature in its existance. It is important, however, that the organization of the Society should be maintained by at least a well-attended annual meeting.

On behalf of the Museum Committee, I am happy to report that the Museum has progressed very favourably.

Many citizens have generously contributed exhibits of value and interest, among which may be mentioned another large collection of curios and natural products of Florida, sent by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nesbitt. We have also had the pleasure of a visit from the donors. They kindly undertook, assisted by Mrs. Birdsall, the entire re-adjustment of the Florida collection, spending considerable time of their short visit to Peterborough in the services of the Society. The entire collection, newly arranged and classified, is very much improved. The cordial thanks of the Society are due to Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt for this splendid addition to the Museum, and also for theirs and Mrs. Birdsall's kindness and trouble in arranging.

We are also indebted to Mrs. Thomas Bradburn for the gift of a large number of valuable books, formerly the library of the late Wm. Helm. This collection will form a very valuable addition to our growing library, and Mrs. Bradburn's kindness will be much appreciated by the members and the public generally.

Many other articles have been added during the year, for which the Museum Committee wish to express their thanks.

During the spring months Mr. Richard Hall had the building thoroughly renovated, both inside and out. This work has very much improved the appearance and ability of the building. All the principal rooms and halls were calsomined, the wood-work painted, ceilings whitened, and windows re-glazed. On the outside, the roof and eave troughs were repaired, walls tinted, buff brick work painted, and wood-work painted.

The building was wired and installed with electric light, thus enabling us to hold meetings in the evening, and greatly lessening the danger from fire. Altogether, the rooms are now light, clean, and cheerful, and the Committee wish to record their sincere thanks to Mr. Hall for his kindness and consideration.

Grants of $50.00 each were received from the Town and County Councils, for furnishing additional rooms. As this sum would only go a short way towards the object, it was deemed advisable to procure as many second-hand cases as were required for the present.

A canvas was made among the store keepers of town, and eight additional cases were purchased at a low figure, for which cheap tables were made, and thus the committee were enabled to exhibit a large number of articles recently deposited. An effort was made to obtain a grant from the amount voted by the Ontario Government for the benefit of Historical Societies, and for which correspondence has been carried on between the Secretary of this Socity and the Hon. the Minister of Education and the Provincial Secretary. It is to be hoped that our efforts will ultimately result in procuring a moderate grant.

As we have still several rooms, and exhibits and public interest are still increasing, it is imperative that provision should be made to accommodate newly arriving material, and give it as prominent a position as possible.

The Visitor's Book shows that a large number of persons have inspected our collections during the season, and it is noticable that a large proportion were from distant places. Many of these expressed surprise at the extent of the Museum.

Through the kindness of a visitor whose home is in the United States, we have been placed in association with Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D.C., and are now in receipt of the reports of the Ethusiological Bureau of that Institute, a most valuable addition to our library.

The Committee wish to place on record their entire satisfaction and appreciation of the services of Mr. and Mrs. Howland, the caretakers of the building. By their faithful service and kind attention to visitors, and the good order and cleanliness of the rooms, the Committee as well as the public have been well served.

In conclusion I would urge upon the officers and members the importance of keeping up the interest in the welfare of the Society. The annual subscription is only 25c, and if this is paid promptly it will enable the work of the Society to be carried on successfully.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. McF. Wilson, showed that there was a balance of $17.25 to the credit of the society.

The election of the officers resulted as follows:

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers spoke in appreciation of the great improvements that have been made in the museum, which was due to the kind consideration of Mr. Richard Hall. He hoped that there would be some means of heating the building provided and that meetings would be held regularly throughout the winter.

Miss Watt, of town, presented to the society a silver tea pot, 103 years old, a horn spoon and a book named "Footstep," a Bible study for children, also 103 years old.

Mr. John Parnell presented to the society a picture of the late Rev. Mr. Gilmour.

MOST LIKELY A HOAX.

Italians From Paterson Alleged to Be in Montreal to Kill the Duke.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Mayor Prefontaine received a letter yesterday morning in his mail postmarked Montreal and signed by "Giovani Cabani," informing him that twelve Italians have reached this city from Paterson, N. J., for the purpose of murdering the Duke of York. Cabani claims to be a loyal Italian and gives out the information as he does not want the fair name of his country smirched any more. It is not know yet whether the letter is a hoax or not.

MASSACRE MAY FOLLOW.

Armenian Revolutionists Set Fire to Mussulman Quarters.

Constantinople, Sept. 12.—Fifty Armenian revolutionists, according to Turkish reports, recently set fire to the Mussulman quarters at Mush, Turkish Armenia, where fighting afterwards occurred, the Armenians retiring towards Sassoun. It is also reported that Armenians and Turks blew up the barracks at Sassoun, Sept. 3, where 3,000 troops were stationed, and that a state of panic prevailed there in consequence.

Such Turkish reports have previously been forerunners of massacres of Armenians, and it is generally apprehended by non-Mussulmans here that massacres have already taken place.

THE ROYAL RECEPTION.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier Will Go to Quebec.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, accompanied by the Premier's private secretary, Mr. Boudreault, leave this evening for Quebec, where they will await the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. The Premier will accompany His Royal Highness to the coast and back, but it is said that his Excellency the Governor-General will not go any farther than Ottawa.

Shipbuilding in Canada.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 12.—The Chronicle prints a two-column interview with Hon. W. S. Fielding on the steel shipbuilding project in Canada, in which the Minister of Finance discusses the question of Government aid. He also makes a reference to the fast Atlantic line, which is regarded as foreshadowing an important announcement on the part of the Government. Touching the former, Mr. Fielding referred to the shipyards now in operation at New Glasgow, N. S., Sorel, Que., Toronto and Collingwood.

Funeral of Robert Ferguson.

Thamesville, Sept. 12.—The funeral of the late Robert Ferguson, M.P.P., was held from his late residence, Ann street here yesterday. All places of business were closed from 1 to 4 p.m. by request of the Mayor. The funeral was the largest ever witnessed here, there being over 2,000 people present. The Hon. David Mills and several M.P.P.'s were present, and large numbers from all the surrounding towns. The town aldermen were in attendance in a body.

Barnardo Boy Suicides.

Muxwell, Sept. 12.—Samuel Cumming, aged 13, a Barnardo Home boy, committed suicide in Luther by taking Paris green. Cumming, who lived with Mr. Ritchie, went to a neighbor's and borrowed some poison, saying Mrs. Ritchie had sent him for it. He swallowed two or three table-spoonfuls and died before a doctor could be brought.

Ophir Expected To-Day.

North Sydney, C. B., Sept. 12.—L. E. Morin and J. V. Gordeaux, who have been selected to pilot the Ophir to Quebec, left yesterday afternoon on H. M. S. Indefatigable, which, with the Intrepid and the torpedo destroyer Quail, is to meet the Ophir at an appointed rendezvous between Cape North and the Magdalen Islands. Mr. Morin will pilot the Ophir and Mr. Gordeaux the Niobe. They expect to meet the Royal fleet about noon to-day.

Killed at Port Burwell.

Port Burwell, Sept. 12. — John Ball, whose home is at Kink Lake, was killed on the harbor works Tuesday morning by being struck on the head by a block of stone. He was standing on the deck of a scow, when one of the workmen, thinking that all was clear below, let the block drop. Mr. Ball's skull was fractured.

Unpardonable Villainy.

"Pardon the question," said the visitor who had been permitted to go behind the scenes, "but when a man has acted the part of the principal villain as many times and in as many kinds of plays as you have, doesn't it make him feel sometimes as if he were a real villain?"

"It does make him a real villain," replied the actor, with a scowl. "It obliterates his moral sense and makes him equal to anything. For example, at the end of the next act, after I have just died a horrible death, you'll see me come before the curtain and acknowledge the applause of the audience, darn me!"

Which he did shamelessly half an hour later.—Chicago Tribune.

A Common Form of Indigestion

Which cannot be cured by ordinary stomach medicine—The kidneys, liver and bowels become deranged — Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pill.

By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines, as has been repeatedly shown in cases where the stomach has been removed and the patient has lived and digested food without the aid of the stomach.

It frequently happens that people who continually dose the stomach for indigestion and use pepsin and various kinds of digestive tablets and powders can obtain no relief from such treatment, because the real trouble is in the intestines, the liver and the kidneys.

There is fullness and pains after meals, coated tongue, headache, loss of appetite, pains in the limbs and in the back and shoulders, flatulency and constipation, frequently alternating with diarrhoea.

In cases of intestinal indigestion the liver and kidneys usually become clogged and sluggish in action, and poisonous impurities are left in the blood, which should be removed by these filtering organs.

There has yet to be a remedy discovered that is so prompt and thorough in curing intestinal indigestion as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. And as this is the most common and severe form of indigestion it can well be claimed that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most successful treatment extant for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Mrs. T. Woodley, Tyrone, Ont., writes:—"I was a great sufferer for a long time with indigestion and very distressing pains in my stomach. I was persuaded to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Their mild yet powerful action worked wonders in me."

It is not unusual for persons who have long been suffering from chronic indigestion, biliousness and constipation to be thoroughly cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have by far the largest sale of any similar remedy. You may be skeptical, as others have been before you, but a single trial of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will convince you of their unusual medicinal value. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Franklin Slept In Salt Water.

The sleeping girl now and then comes to the front with one of her prolonged slumbers of several days' duration, and one is reminded of the feat of Franklin, as he himself tells it. The philosopher in this case is entitled to public confidence, but an unknown witness would not be credited. "Monday, July 25, at Southampton, I went at noon to bathe in Martin's salt water bath and, floating on my back, fell asleep and slept for over an hour, by the watch, without sinking or turning over, a thing I never did before nor should hardly have thought it possible."—National Magazine.

SLAPS AT MOSQUITOES.

A Bunch of Them Gathered From the Various Exchanges.

"Do you think it is possible to kill mosquitoes with kerosene?" asked the man who doubts what he reads.

"Oh, yes," answered the friend. "I have performed the experiment with entire success. I poured some kerosene around the house when it was full of mosquitoes. Then some one inadvertently dropped a lighted match. It was a trifle expensive, but I have every reason to believe a great many mosquitoes were killed."—Washington Star.

"As to this here plan to kill mosketeers with coal oil," said Mr. Meddergrass while the grocer was filling his can, "I don't know that it is fatal to them insects, but if they are anything like about a dozen hired girls that has started the breakfast fire in this town and subsequently gone out through the roof, it will be hard times for them Jersey biters when the coal oil campaign sets in in dead earnest."—Baltimore American.

"Oh, ma!" cried the little mosquito. "Brother's just too mean for anything!"

"What's the matter?" inquired the mamma mosquito.

"Why, he's found a hole in the mosquito netting over that baby, and he won't tell me where it is."—Philadelphia Press.

"Mosquitoes give us malaria, and malaria robs us of energy."

"Oh, I don't know. When a mosquito bites me, I at once feel great increase of energy and hop around like mad until I get a slap at him."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Mosquitoes are accused of propagating disease," said Spykes.

"Well, I know that they propagate profanity," said Spokes.—Detroit Free Press.

The Asthmatic's Agony.

Wakeful nights, suffocating sensations, difficult breathing. Who can describe it? This disease, partly nervous, partly congestive, partly the result of microbic irritation, is no longer treated by nauseous stomach destroying drugs, but by Catarrhozone, that destroys the microbe, relieves congestion and relaxes the nervous irritability that renders breathing so difficult. The medication is carried by the air you breath to the very seat of the disease, and removes at once the cause. The great discovery is known as Catarrhozone. Its influence upon Asthma is simply marvellous. Catarrhozone prevents as well as cures, and is the only remedy guaranteed to cure. Your money back if it fails. Two sizes at all dealers, 25c. and $1.00.

A Cornet Performance.

In the early part of Queen Victoria's reign a very talented family of the name of Distin earned considerable fame both in this country and on the continent by their singing and admirable performance upon a quintet of saxhorns. Subsequently the party broke up, and one of the members essayed to start a musical instrument shop in Cranbourn street, Leicester square. He was, however, in very indifferent pecuniary circumstances, and his "store" had hardly advanced beyond its four bare walls, which Distin himself was engaged in whitewashing, when a customer arrived and demanded a cornet.

Hastily explaining that his goods were not yet unpacked, but that if his customer would wait a few minutes he would procure him what he wanted, Distin slipped out of the back door and took a cab to a wholesale house in the city, where he obtained on approval a cornet, value 25 shillings. Returning with this, he expatiated upon its beauties and to prove them performed upon it himself so superbly that his customer, convinced that he had here a really exceptional instrument, very readily paid the 10 guineas demanded.

This sum, it is said, enabled Distin to start a business which was rapidly successful and eventually sold for a considerable amount.—Good Words.

GOOD OPINIONS FROM EVERYWHERE

South American Nervine cures that hackneyed speech. "A trial will convince you." Carries with it no deception when applied to this greatest of Nerve treatment.

An influential gentlemen recently wrote:—"I join with the thousands who have been benefited by South American Nervine in their good opinions of it. It was recommended to me by one who had been cured by it. I tried it and am cured, and I heartily pass the good word along—it's a wonder-worker to shattered nerves, and an excellent tonic. 20

A Very Curious Plant.

There is a curious plant, said to be a native of Palestine, but which grows freely in England, which is called Calvary clover and which in appearance is like ordinary clover. It is said that to thrive it must be sown on Good Friday. The leaves as they appear above the ground have a blood red spot on each division of the leaf, which will remain for some weeks, eventually dying away. The three leaflets during the day stand in the form of a cross, with the head erect and arms extended, but with the setting sun the arms are brought together, and the upper leaflet bows over them as if in the act of prayer.

Calvary clover has a yellow flower which in time becomes a little spiral pod covered with sharp thorns and which when ripened distinctly resembles a "crown of thorns." It is thus by its blood stained leaves, its extended arms and bowed head and by the day when the seed is sown to await its resurrection that it has gained for itself the name of Calvary clover.

MY MAIDEN BEAUTIFUL.

O red rose in the garden!
O red rose on the spray!
Saw you my maiden beautiful
Pass hither on her way?
Perchance she kissed your petals
And turned from white to red
The rose that blushed to find itself
With fairer sweets o'erspread.

O blackbird in the thicket!
And you, sad nightingale!
Heard you my maiden beautiful
Go singing down the vale?
For, syne you dulcet measure
Dame Echo hither bore,
Methinks your plaintive notes have caught
A lilt they lacked before.

A PROFESSIONAL CALL.

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

It was the public press that first gave me a lift as a young physician and surgeon, and it was the same power that almost wrought my death in the same fortnight. I had been very fortunate in a surgical operation in a charity hospital in which many people of social standing were interested, and the newspapers caught up the talk and gave me a fine send off. Not a week had passed before I received a caller who came to consult me about a case of cancer of the tongue. It was a sister of his, he said, who was the victim, and his call was to learn how I would operate and whether I would be free after 9 o'clock of an evening.

It was the fourth night after his call that the summons came. A man whom I at once took for a valet came in a cab to tell me that Mr. Gray's sister had consented to the operation and I was to go with him at once. Everything necessary except the surgical instruments had been provided, and in ten minutes I was riding through the streets of London with him. When we finally stopped after a two mile ride, the street, so far as I could make out, was a fairly respectable one, and the house we entered was detached and built of brick and stone. I took no heed of name plate or number, but followed at the young man's heels and was conducted to a room on the second floor. As I entered a sitting room near the head of the stairs I found it well lighted and Mr. Gray awaiting my arrival.

"The patient is in the next room," he said after greeting me, "but I should like to have a few words with you before going in. I wish you to understand that I am able and willing to pay you a very liberal fee."

"Yes?" I said as he looked hard at me.

"You are a young practitioner, and I have no doubt that a thousand pounds just now, with the good words spoken by the newspapers, will help you to fame and wealth. I trust you will think of this."

"But I can think of no surgical operation to bring me such a fee," I protested. "You spoke of cancer of the tongue, I believe, and the patient is a woman?"

"Exactly. Cancer of the tongue and a woman. You will doubtless find it necessary to remove at least half the tongue. You may not think such an operation worth more than £50, but I have settled your fee at a thousand."

"Has the patient been told that it may be necessary to remove a portion of the tongue?"

"Well, no, but that is a matter for us to decide on. She must submit to our decision. Remember, at least half the tongue and a fee of a thousand pounds."

I was trying to make him out when he led the way into a bedroom farther down the hall, and the instant the door was opened I got a whiff of chloroform. On the bed, partly disrobed and covered by a sheet, was a woman of about 35. A single glance was enough to prove that she was classed as a lady, although she was unconscious and breathing heavily.

"You have had another surgeon here?" I said as I opened the door to set the room clear itself.

"Oh, no," he replied. "I simply thought it better to have her under the influence of an anæsthetic when you arrived. Good looking woman, isn't she? Too bad a portion of her tongue must come off."

He said these words in such a sarcastic tone that I looked him full in the eyes and began to doubt him, but as he motioned for me to approach the bed I did so and soon had the woman's jaws open and was looking for the cancer. There was nothing of the sort to be found. The tongue was without blemish of any sort.

"There seems to be some mistake here," I said as I turned from the bed. "You told me this was a case of cancer, but I find nothing of the sort."

"Y-e-s," he slowly replied, looking from me to the unconscious woman—"yes, there is a mistake. Instead of a cancerous tongue it is a lying tongue. Instead of being my sister she is my wife. For two years she has been playing me false. You cannot remove the face, which has worn a loving smile all through my disgrace, but you can prevent the tongue from speaking more lies."

"Man, you must be crazy!" I exclaimed in indignation. "Is this what you brought me here for—to mutilate?"

"That is it," he replied as he rubbed his hands together. "You will cut away such portion of her tongue as will prevent her from ever speaking another sentence. I trusted her and believed in her, but she lied to me and dishonored me. To your work, and your fee is ready. It is a thousand pounds in hand."

"Good night, sir—I am going," I said as I started for the door, but I had not taken three steps when I was seized from behind and held as in a vise. Unheard by me, a second man had entered the room.

"But you see you are not going," laughed the husband as he rubbed his hands again, "at least not until after the operation. It is no use being foolish over it. You will either do as I order you to or—or"—

"Or what?" I asked.

"I will take revenge on you as well" he quietly replied.

"Then take your revenge, for I'll have nothing to do with your case!"

I think he was satisfied that I meant what I said, for after a long look at me he picked up a bottle of chloroform and a sponge and after filling the sponge applied it to my nose. Do not imagine I took the situation serenely. On the contrary, I shouted and struggled, and it was only after I had been thrown to the floor by the combined efforts of the two men that they succeeded in depriving me of my senses. I knew when I was going and wondered in what part of London I was and what sort of fate would be meted out to me. The next thing I knew I was in a hospital, with a doctor seeking to revive me. I had been picked up on the street by two policemen and carried into the place. I was supposed to have taken too much wine and then been run over by a passing carriage. The hospital was a mile and a half from my office, and I had no doubt been carried to the spot where I was found by the two men and a carriage. If the husband had meant to have revenge on me, he had thought better of it.

You may be sure I put the case in the hands of the police, but nothing came of it. They found a score of streets and a score of houses which answered to the faint description I could give, but were sure of none. What the fate of the woman was I could only conjecture. Perhaps the husband relented toward her as well and was satisfied with casting her off.

The doctor sometimes passes a harder sentence than the judge. But the sentence of the doctor is more often set aside or overruled than is that of the judge. In the case of Mrs. Reycraft given below, the doctor sentenced her to about eighteen years of physical punishment and misery. But she rebelled against the sentence, and commenced the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In a few weeks she was a well woman.

It's a peculiarity of the cures effected by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they are generally cures of chronic diseases. A woman suffers with diseases peculiar to her sex, she takes medical treatment, gets no better, and has no hope held out to her of improvement. Then in her discouragement she turns to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and finds a prompt and lasting cure. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Four years ago my health began to fail," writes Mrs. Nellie M. Reycraft, of Glenwood, Washington Co., Oregon. "I had a very heavy dragging and weight in the region of the uterus, pain in back and loins, could not lift anything heavy, rest at night very poor; stomach deranged. One physician said I was overworked, another said I had congestion and falling of uterus. He treated me nine months and said I would not be well until I had passed the change of life. I was only twenty-seven years old then. I became discouraged, and began using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Took a teaspoonful three times a day; began feeling better right away. Am using my third bottle now, and feel I am in good health. I believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has restored me to health. If suffering women would give it a fair trial they would give it praise."

System Tonic cures because it is not only a blood purifier eliminating all poisons through the bowels and kidneys, but a blood builder and tonic as well. Thus after a course of this medicine the blood is pure, rich and healthy. This is the scientific and correct way of curing these diseases. Salves, ointments and washes have only a passing effect but the cures made by Merrill's System Tonic are lasting and permanent. PRESIDENT IS WORSE aggerated, but that genuine apprehension existed there can be no question. The food given to the President yesterday morning had not been properly assimilated and passed, and the administration of food by the mouth has been discontinued. The President continues to complain of the fatigue noted by the official bulletin in the afternoon. His pulse increased to 128. This is considered entirely too high for his temperature. One of the consulting physicians said that, judged by medical records, his pulse should be 96. The acceleration of the pulse was attributed partly to the revulsion of the stomach against the food, and Dr. Mann privately assured Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson, the President's brother, Abner McKinley, and others assembled below stairs in the Milburn house last night that the undigested food would probably pass away during the night, and that the President would be better in the morning. The doctors held their evening consultation earlier than usual, and they frankly announced in their official bulletin at 8.30 p. m. that the President's condition was not so good.

Drs. Wasdin, Rixey and Stockton remained at the Milburn house during the night and were constantly in the room of the President. For hours the President failed to respond to the treatment to which he was submitted to relieve him of the difficulty occasioned by the failure of the organs of digestion and assimilation. The non-success of the treatment added to the depression that existed, but just at midnight the relief so much desired came. He had two operations of the bowels within a few minutes. This gave great encouragement, and changed the character of the bulletin which the physicians were even then preparing.

Still the pulse remained much higher than it should be, with the temperature at 100.2. The normal pulse for that temperature is about 96.

Responded to Treatment.

Buffalo, Sept. 13, 2 a. m.—This morning Secretary Cortelyou came out of the house and distributed to the pressmen this bulletin:

"The President has responded to medical treatment and is better," he said. "The doctors administered calomel and oil, and they proved effective. He is resting nicely now and the feeling is better."

The cheerful news broke the tension of a half night's anxious vigil. After distributing the bulletins, Secretary Cortelyou and Mr. Milburn walked out into the night to get a breath of air and relief from the intense strain of the evening. They returned to the house in half an hour. Mr. Cortelyou came out for a moment shortly before 2 o'clock and said that so far as he knew there was no change in the President's condition since the last bulletin.

Another Canadian Nurse.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—Miss Grace MacKenzie, who has been summoned to Buffalo by Dr. Rixey to attend the President, is a graduate of the Kensington Hospital Training School for Women in that city.

She is a Canadian by birth and came here from Toronto in 1892. She was graduated with honors in 1894, and her first appointment was at the Kelly Sanitarium in Baltimore.

One of her distinguished patients was the wife of Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury, who died last May. It was while she was in attendance upon Mrs. Gage that Miss MacKenzie came under the observation of Dr. Rixey, and he recognized her admirable qualities as a nurse. In the terrible emergency which arose in Buffalo, Dr. Rixey at once thought of Miss MacKenzie and requested her to take charge of the case.

THE ASSASSIN'S CONFESSION.

Czolgosz at First Would Tell Nothing, But Succumbed to Torture.

New York, Sept. 13.—The Herald gives the following special from Buffalo:

It is not denied by the police of Buffalo, except in a prefunctory manner, that Czolgosz has been tortured since his arrest.

The confession, which is now in the hands of District Attorney Penney, was forced from Czolgosz by torture.

When the would-be assassin of the President was first taken before Superintendent Bull he was asked to tell how he had come to make the attack upon President McKinley.

"I will not talk!" said Czolgosz. "I will not say a word!"

Superintendent Bull looked at the prisoner; then, turning to the two stalwart guards who had brought him in, said: "Take him away." It is not known that any sign was given; it is not known that the policemen had any authority for their strenuous actions; but when Czolgosz was again brought before Superintendent Bull he was glad to confess.

"Did we give him the 'third degree?'" One of the policemen who had handled Czolgosz repeated the question.

"I cannot tell you what was done to him, but sufficient was done to persuade him to talk. He thought he was lucky to get away alive, and he was right. Yes, Czolgosz was tortured. He was given a rigorous treatment, and it is probable that he will be tortured again. He has not told all that he knows. This is a peculiar case, and it demands peculiar treatment. I believe that the public will uphold us in using force to bring the enemies of society to justice."

The good results following the forced confession are apparent in the numerous arrests in Chicago and elsewhere.

No Evidence to Hold Her.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The District Attorney here announced publicly yesterday afternoon that he had no evidence against Emma Goldman and that unless something turned up no requisition upon the State of Illinois would be made for her. If she is released she will be kept under the closest surveillance.

Johann Most Arrested.

New York, Sept. 13. — Johann Most, the Anarchist, was arrested yesterday afternoon and locked up at police headquarters. The arrest was made by Central Office Detective Ferneisen.

A "Common Murderer."

London, Sept. 13.—Prince Krapotkin, the Russian revolutionist, in an interview today characterized Czolgosz as a "common murderer" and said he should be dealt with as such. Krapotkin refused to express an opinion on the political significance of the Anarchist's act.

"NOT GUILTY."

This famous original painting, the result of five years study of the subject, by Stuart Taggart, a Canadian artist, emphasizes as the danger of conviction upon purely circumstantial evidence when a human life is at stake.

The artist has protrayed on a canvas 10 x 6 feet the parting scene in a prison cell of a falsely condemned son and his sorrowing, trusting mother, the only one who believes in his innocence.

This picture has been viewed by thousands, and has received a very enthusiastic welcome wherever exhibited.

It will be brought from the Toronto Exhibition to Ottawa's Great Fair September 13th to 21st, and will be one of its many attractions.

CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES.

The Canadian Conference of Charities will meet in Toronto, September 25-26, and a splendid programme is being arranged for the two days session. The band of the Victoria Industrial School will take part in the opening proceedings and addresses will be delivered by Dr. Herriman, of Lindsay, chairman; A. Johnston, of Fort Wayne, Ind., ex-president of the American Conference of Charities; Hon. J. H. Gibson; Hon. J. R. Stratton, and others.

Among the subjects to be considered will be child-saving, Prison Reform, probation system, indeterminate sentence, a parole of prisoners, epilepsy, inebriety, charity organisation, etc. A large attendance of those engaged in charitable work is hoped for, as no special credentials are necessary. Dr. Rosebrugh, Confederation Building, is Secretary.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

CORONATION PRICES.

Edward I. Could be Seen on His way to the Throne for Half a Farthing.

(From the London Mail.)

"I wish to hire a window overlooking the route of the coronation procession," wrote a provincial man to a London agent a few days ago, and he said, "I am prepared to give £10 for the day."

"I cannot get a window in a good position for less than £30," was the agent's reply. "That figure will be increased fifty per cent. by Christmas."

The demand for vantage points whence to view next year's great pageant has indeed set in in grim earnest. A colonial millionaire has signed a contract for three windows in the West End at £500 a window.

These figures contrast strangely with the sums paid to view coronation processions in the past. Half a farthing was the price of a seat to see the first Edward wend his triumphal way to the throne. A wave of prosperity seems to have swept through the land at the time of the accession of Edward II., for as much as a whole farthing was cheerfully paid to view that monarch's progress through the streets. Edward III. must have felt a thrill of pride when he learned that his subjects valued him at double the amount of his predecessor—that is, one half penny.

But this record was in turn, hopelessly beaten by Richard II: People paid a penny to see him, though some grumblers declared that "the show was not worth the money."

When Henry V. came to the throne people paid as much as twopence to cheer him on his way. People were extravagant with their money at Henry VIII.'s coronation, when fourpence was demanded for a seat.

When the great Elizabeth came to the throne, however, her subjects, in the exuberance of their loyalty and joy, paid another twopence. The historians of James I. dilate at great length on the growing wealth of the country, of which there could be no more striking evidence than the fact that thousands of people on the line paid a shilling for seats.

Charles II. found his subjects in the best of temper, so much so, indeed that they paid half a crown to look at him as he passed — a generosity attributed to the relief felt at the riddance of the Roundheads. William and Queen Anne doubled this price, while the country quite lost its head over George II., and disbursed half a guinea.

It was not until the accession of George IV., that anything like modern coronation prices were reached. Enormous sums were paid to witness the late Queen Victoria's progress to Westminster; but it is anticipated that those sums will be quite moderate compared with the prices that seats will fetch in June next.

CANADIAN PLAY GROUNDS.

The passenger department of the Grand Trunk Railway System is in receipt of a letter from a lady at Chicago, who, with her husband, spent a few weeks in the Muskoka Lakes district, of the Highlands of Ontario, from which the following abstract is taken:—

"I wish to express the pleasure and profit we derived from our trip to the Muskoka Lakes region during the past season. We were a little late getting off, but we were fully repaid for the delay by catching the heights of Ontario in all their blaze of October's glory. It is a wonderful region that the Grand Trunk opens up and one that will be appreciated more and more. The only pity is that people do not know or realize more fully what undreamed of wealths of beauty and bottles of tonic and glad refreshment are to be found in the marvellous Muskoka District."

Though the Grand Trunk Railway is expending thousands of dollars in illustrated and descriptive pamphlets, putting forth the attractions and beauties of the popular resorts in the Highlands of Ontario, as health and recreation grounds during the summer months, there are, of course, many who do not realize that there is such a magnificent play ground within easy reach. The districts which this region embodies are without doubt the most beautiful on the North American continent.

THE ROYAL CHORUS.

The Toronto Telegram in reporting a meeting of the city council says: "There is just a possibility that the Royal reception chorus will be one of the "cut-out" items on the programme. The news was broken to the Reception Committee that Prof. Torrington's fee as conductor would be $1,000; $150 would be required for assistants; $250 would go for bands, and $50 for a pianist. The city paid $320 for 4,000 copies of music for the occasion. These are being retailed to the members of the chorus at 25 cts. apiece, or at three times their actual cost; so at least it is currently reported.

Ald. Louden, Urquhart and Ward all said they understood Mr. Torrington's services were to be gratis.

"How did you expect the $1,500 set aside for the chorus would be spent?" asked Ald. Cox.

The other aldermen thought it was to go for stands, music and musicians.

The City Solicitor was asked to furnish an opinion upon the legality of Mr. Torrington's claim."

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottleful wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 20 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant, and speedy cure. Large bottles 25c.

THE LAST SOLEMN SCENES.

GRADUAL SINKING ENDS IN COLLAPSE AND UNCONSCIOUSNESS.

President McKinley's Wife and Relatives With Him to the Last—Resigned to the Inevitable He Went Sustained and Soothed by Unfaltering Trust to End of Earthly Career—Life's Peaceful Close.

"Good-bye all; good-bye. It is God's way. His will be done."—President McKinley's last conscious audible words.

THE PRESIDENT IS DEAD.

Buffalo, Sept. 14, 2.15 a. m.—President McKinley died at 2.15 a. m.

THE LAST SOLEMN HOURS.

President McKinley Was Magnificent in His Heroic Death.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 14.—Before 6 o'clock last evening it was clear to those at the President's bedside that he was dying, and preparations were made for the last sad offices of farewell from those who were nearest and dearest to him. Oxygen had been administered steadily, but with little effect, in keeping back the approach of death. The President came out of one period of unconsciousness only to relapse into another. But in this period, when his mind was partially clear, a series of events of a profoundly touching character ensued down stairs. With tear-stained faces, members of the Cabinet were grouped in anxious waiting. They knew the end was near and that the time when they must see him for the last time on earth. This was about 6 o'clock. It was an awful moment for them. One by one they ascended the stairway — Secretary Root, Secretary Hitchcock and Attorney-General Knox. Secretary Wilson also was there, but he held back, not wishing to see the President in his last agony. There was only a momentary stay of the Cabinet officers at the threshold of the death chamber. Then they withdrew, the tears streaming down their faces, and the words of intense grief choking in their throats.

A Devoted Couple.

After they left the sick room the physicians rallied him to consciousness, and the President asked almost immediately that his wife be brought to him. The doctors fell back into the shadows of the room as Mrs. McKinley came through the doorway. The strong face of the dying man lighted up with a faint smile as their hands were clasped. She sat beside him and held his hand. Despite her physical weakness, she bore up bravely under the ordeal.

The President in his last period of consciousness, which ended about 7.40 o'clock, chanted the words of the beautiful hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," and his last audible conscious words, as taken down by Dr. Mann at the bedside were:

"Good bye, all, good bye. It is God's way. His will be done."

Then his mind began to wander, and soon after he completely lost consciousness. His life was prolonged for hours by the administration of oxygen, and the President finally expressed a desire to be allowed to die.

About 8.30 the administration of oxygen ceased and the pulse grew faint, very faint. He was sinking gradually, like a child into slumber. By 10 o'clock the pulse could no longer be felt in his extremities and they grew cold.

AN HEROIC DEATHBED.

President McKinley Proved to Have Magnificent Courage and Patience During His Last Hours Here Below.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—4 p.m.—The President's physicians report that he is only slightly improved since the last bulletin. The pulse and temperature remain the same as at that hour.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—5.30 p.m.—Col. Brown just hastened to the telegraph office and despatched a telegram. He said there was a change for the worse. The President's condition is very, very bad.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The President is dying. The physicians have sent for those nearest him. They have so announced to those nearest him.

"There Is No Hope."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—5.48 p. m.—The President's family have been summoned to the bedside. Col. Brown says: "There is no hope. He is dying."

Official Bulletin. Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—5.15 p. m.— The President's physicians say his condition is grave at this hour. He is suffering from extreme prostration. Oxygen is being given him. He responds to stimulation but poorly. Pulse 125, respiration 40.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Cortelyou has just come to door at 6.21 and announced the President is still alive.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—6.30 p.m.—The President's physicians report that his condition is most serious in spite of vigorous stimulation. The depression continues and is profound. Unless it can be relieved the end is only a question of time.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 6.30 it was announced that the President does not respond to the oxygen and his physicians have announced that unless he does respond to stimulation it is only a matter of a short time.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—A messenger from the house at 6.57 announced that the President is still alive and there is hope. The entire staff of physicians is at the bedside.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—7.06 p.m.—The President is unquestionably dying.

Cabinet Takes Leave of Him.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The relatives of the dying President, the members of his Cabinet and those personal friends who are in the house, taking their final leave of him. The party has assembled in the main drawing room and one by one they are ascending to the sick room. The scene is a painful one and the silence is broken only by sobs. In the street an awe-stricken crowd awaits the coming of death.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The situation has developed into one of mere waiting for the announcement of the President's death.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Among those gathered at the Milburn House, awaiting the final awe-inspiring word from the chamber where the life of the President quickly ebbs are Secretaries Root, Hitchcock and Wilson; Senators Fairbanks and Burrows; Mrs. Barber, Mrs. McWilliams, Miss Barber, Miss Duncan, Abner McKinley and Mrs. Baer, Judge W. R. Day, Colonel Myron Herrick, Col. Brown, J. G. Milburn, Harry Hanna, John Scatcherd, Lieutenant McKinley, George P. Sawyer and Senator Hanna.

7.35 p.m.—The President is unconscious. The end is but a short time away.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The President became unconscious at 6.40 and now at 7.40 is barely alive.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Dr. McBurney arrived at 7.48 p. m. His carriage came at a gallop.

Called for Mrs. McKinley.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Under the effects of stimulants the President has revived at 7.50 and called for Mrs. McKinley. She is with him now.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—"Not twenty minutes more to live," was the announcement from the Milburn House at 8 p.m.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Rev. Dr. C. V. Wilson of Tonawanda, formerly pastor of the President's church at Canton, reached Milburn House shortly after 8 and demanded admission.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Hon. Charles G. Dawes, the comptroller of the currency, who enjoys an intimate acquaintance with President McKinley, arrived in Buffalo early this evening and reached the Milburn House shortly after 8 o'clock.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Sec. Cortelyou and Mrs. McKinley have been with the President for some time. An announcement from the house at 8.50 stated that the President is in extremis.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—A message at 9.20 announced that the President is being kept alive with great difficulty by the use of oxygen. It is added that the case is now more desperate.

Comforted His Wife.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9.27 p.m.—The pulse has left the President's extremities and he may live until midnight. Consciousness seems to have finally left. In his most recent lucid moment the President comforted Mrs. McKinley.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9.30 p.m.—Attorney-General Knox and Chauncey M. Depew have just been admitted to the Milburn House.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9.32 p.m.—Secretary Cortelyou has just sent a message out to the newspapermen stating that he cannot now leave the house as the President is in his last moments.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9.35 p.m.—Dr. Mynter, who has just left the house, says the President is slowly dying. The approach of death is already evident as the body is getting cold. Dr. Mynter says, however, the President may last until 2 o'clock in the morning, although the end may come at any time. There is hardly any pulse to be felt.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9.48 p.m.—Some of the members of the Cabinet and other distinguished callers have began to leave the house, indicate that the end is all but here. Sec. Root and Senator Depew were among those just departing.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee."

9.53 p. m.—The administration of oxygen has been suspended for some time. The President before he finally lost consciousness bade his wife a tender farewell. He was then heard to murmur words of the hymn: "Nearer My God to Thee," probably his last farewell words.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—10 p. m.—The last period of consciousness spent with Mrs. McKinley at the bedside of her dying husband. She bore her affliction with superb fortitude.

God's Will.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The President's last words were addressed to his wife: "God's will, not our's be done."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The 65th and 74th Regiments of the National Guards have been assembled in their barracks to be in readiness should the large crowd assembled at police headquarters make any hostile demonstration. There has been no indication of a disposition on the part of the crowd to riot, and the assembling of the National Guard is simply a procautionary measure.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 10.40 Dr. Mann said the President was still alive and might linger for an hour longer.

Crowds Waiting the End.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—10.45 p. m.—The crowds on Delaware avenue near the mansion grows larger, and the police and military sentries have their hands full in preserving the lines.

Buffalo, Sept. 13, 10.50 p. m. — The rooms in the rear of the Milburn House, hitherto darkened, have just been brilliantly lighted. There is much activity in that part of the mansion.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The portion of the house which has just been brilliantly illuminated is the part occupied by President McKinley.

10.55 p. m.—The awful suspense continues. The relatives and distinguished visitors are still gathered in the main drawing-room awaiting the announcement of the end.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.

THE WELCOME TO THE DUKE.

We notice the statement in Le Soleil that "feus de joie" are to be lighted on the heights, opposite Quebec, at 50 different places, as a welcome to the Duke of Cornwall and York. Coming as he does to Quebec a few days from now, the son of King Edward VII. will receive his first welcome to Canada from a part of the country where most of the people are of French race and language, and from what we read in their journals, the welcome will be both cordial and demonstrative. It was stated in the papers that in South Africa the Duke and Duchess received presents from Boers, but these particular Boers were prisoners of war. One cannot help contrasting the condition of the two countries in South Africa; two different and yet nearly allied races have been in a death grapple to decide the question of supremacy; in Canada two different races have solved the problem of living peaceably side by side. This royal visit is another symbol of the fact that has been so much insisted on of late, that peoples of different languages and religions throughout the world can be bound into one commonwealth through loyalty to the same ideals of liberty, justice and humanity. We feel sure that the Duke and Duchess are noble people, worthy of being honoured for their own sakes, but their tour is more than a personal matter; it is part of the "imperial programme," and is meant to give another sign of the unity of the British Empire. The imperialism that we all desire is that which will give stability to the throne by securing peace and prosperity for the empire.

VANDERBILT ENTERPRISES IN QUEBEC.

The story that the Vanderbilts are looking for an opening in the Province of Quebec is revived in connection with the Quebec Chronicle's statement that Mr. Veilleux, of Levis, has sold 3,000,000 feet of land in that town to an American syndicate of capitalists. The New York Central has purchased a controlling interest in the South Shore Railway, a short line running from St. Lambert, opposite Montreal, to Sorel, fifty miles east along the south shore of the St. Lawrence, and carrying with it the right to continue the road to Levis, and thence to the Atlantic seaboard. Fifty-one per cent. of the South Shore Railroad stock was secured a short time ago by Robert J. Campbell of New York, President of the Cape Breton Construction Company, who is identified with the Vanderbilts, and of which Dr. Seward Webb is the Vice-President, whose company is building the Cape Breton Railway from Canso to Louisburg. The New York Central Railway, which already possesses absolute control of the St. Lawrence and Adirondack, intends running from New York to Caughnawaga, near Montreal, where it obtains an entrance to the latter city over the Lachine bridge of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and some ten miles of the latter company's road. But in order to be independent of the Canadian road it now proposes to run its line into Longueuil, and there to bridge the St. Lawrence under an existing charter. The bridge at this part of the river will be from two to three miles in length.

Some explanation is required of the motives which could induce the Vanderbilts to construct and operate railways in Canada. According to the Chronicle they have an eye on the mineral resources of the province of Quebec, and realize that in the near future a mammoth steel and iron industry is about to manifest itself not only at Cape Breton but in and around the port of Quebec. They have information of the vast discovery of iron ore on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, and especially the great stores of magnetic and bog iron ores on the coast of Labrador, and their move along the south shore is only the forerunner of reaching those deposits. They have also come to recognize that the great shipment of pulp wood has already taxed the resources of the United States product. They are bound to have a share in Canada's wealth in this particular. The plans so far projected in relation to Levis are the erection of saw mills and pulp mills, building of wharves, etc., and also the building of cold storage, which they realize will be required in the near future for the shipment of provisions, in connection with wood, to Europe, over the St. Lawrence route. They also have come to realize that the ports of New York and Boston have become so cramped for want of sufficient shipping facilities which is on the increase from year to year, and the expense of landing goods from these ports proportionately advancing, that they must, in their own interest, seek some other seaboard outlet. Last summer they sent representatives to investigate the port of Quebec, who have reported favourably, with the result that the Vanderbilts are about to put into practice a project that is bound to enhance the trade of the St. Lawrence and as well boom the Levis side of the river. The matter has been carried on very quietly, and it was only when their representatives approached Mr. VelHeux that the scheme leaked out.

BABY IN THE HOME.

A Joy and Treasure When Good Natured and Healthy.

All children in every home in the country need at some time or other a medicine such as Baby's Own Tablets, and this famous remedy has cured many a serious illness and saved many a little life. Mothers insist upon having it because it contains no opiate or harmful drugs. It is purely vegetable, sweet and pleasant to take and prompt in its effect.

For simple fevers, colic constipation, disordered stomach, diarrhoea, irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth and indigestion, Baby's Own Tablets are a certain cure. In fact in almost any disorder common to children these tablets should be given at once and relief may be promptly looked for.

Never give the babies so-called soothing medicines which simply put them into an unnatural sleep. These tablets are small, sweet, pleasant to take and prompt in acting. Dissolved in water, they will be taken readily by the smallest infant.

Mrs. John McEwan, Bathurst Village, N. B., writes: "My baby was almost constantly troubled with colic before I gave him Baby's Own Tablets, but since giving them to him he has not since suffered. Every mother should keep these tablets always at hand."

They cost 25 cents a box. You can find them at your druggist's or, if you do not, forward the money direct to us and we will send the tablets prepaid. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. T., Brockville, Ont.

PEARY AND HIS PARTY SAFE.

Mrs. Peary and Daughter Arrive at Halifax—Peary Stays North.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 14.—The steamer Erik arrived at North Sydney yesterday morning, after a most successful expedition. Explorer Peary was found and all his party are safe. Peary still remains north to continue his work. Mrs. Peary and her little daughter Marie, together with Mrs. Pierce, stewardess of the Windward, arrived here on the Erik.

Peary succeeded in penetrating as far as 83.50 north. The Erik found the Windward at Eath. Peary was left at Cape Sabien.

The only mishap the Erik met with was the loss of an anchor at Alexandria.

The relief expedition brought back some 350 walrus heads and a number of kayaks and other curiosities. All the members of the expedition are well.

Commander Peary started north in 1898 with the intention of planting the United States flag at the north pole. He has not yet succeeded in getting as far north as Nansen who in 1896 reached 86 deg. 13.6 mins., the highest latitude ever attained by any white man.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT

Notified Early Friday of the Critical State of Affairs.

WILL REACH BUFFALO TO-DAY.

Will Take Oath Immediately, When Old Administration Will Tender Resignations—President Roosevelt Will Then Be Free to Choose His Own Cabinet and Initiate His Own Policy.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—(1 a. m.)—Secretary of the Navy Long arrived at the Milburn house at 12.06 o'clock. This was his first visit to the city, and he had the extreme satisfaction of seeing the President alive, even though he was not conscious of his visitor's presence. Secretary Long was visibly affected.

Vice-President Roosevelt had been notified early in the day of the critical state of affairs, and word had come from him that he was on his way in a special train.

There was no longer a doubt that in the approaching death of the President a complete change in the executive administration of the government would ensue. When Mr. Roosevelt would take the oath of office was wholly a matter of conjecture. President Arthur took the oath at 2 a.m. after the death of Garfield, and in that case Justice Brady of New York administered the oath. There is no requirement that the oath shall be administered by a justice of the United States Supreme Court, although that procedure is adopted when circumstances permit.

Without unseemly haste the members of the Cabinet will tender their resignations, and the new President will then be free to initiate his own policy, and choose his own cabinet.

There was little possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would get here last night. Mr. Ansley Wilcox, who entertained the Vice-President when he was here last, urges that the best information he had was that Mr. Roosevelt would be here this morning, and that not until late in the morning would the President be able to reach a railroad station much before 4 o'clock this morning, and that would bring him here about 4 o'clock.

PLOT TO KILL "TEDDY."

Police Have Description of Another Would-Be Assassin.

Berlin, N. H., Sept. 14.—Learning that a man, who had left here yesterday morning for New York, had declared that he was on his way to Washington to kill Vice-President Roosevelt, Chief of Police Youngelisa has telegraphed the chief of police of New York to look out for him. The man was a foreigner. He tried to buy a ticket to Washington, but could not do so, and bought one for New York.

Sleuths Are Watching for Him.

New York, Sept. 14.—Captain Titus, chief of detectives of this city, said he had received a despatch from the chief of police at Berlin, N. H., giving the same information as that contained in the foregoing despatch from Berlin. The despatch described the man as being 5 feet 6 inches tall, smooth face, wearing a black sacque coat and black derby hat. Captain Titus said he had detailed men at all the railroad stations to watch for the man.

One in Four Has Piles.

The Most Torturing Disease That Man has Ever Known—The Safest and Most Certain Cure is Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Of the grown-up persons you meet from day to day on in four suffers more or less from itching, bleeding or protruding piles. Mock modesty leads many to suffer in silence, others dread the surgeon's knife, and, believing an operation to be the only cure, neglect to be treated. Some have found out by actual trial that piles can be promptly relieved and thoroughly cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

If you are a sufferer from this exasperating ailment and will once make a test of Dr. Chase's Ointment you will be greatful to the end of your life for having read this advertisement. It will certainly cure you, no matter what forms of piles you have, so long as you give it an honest trial.

It has been frequently remarked by persons who have used this preparation that it has probably relieved more suffering from itching skin disease than any remedy that the world has known. While remarkably effective as a cure for eczema and salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment is unique as the only actual and proven cure for each and every form of piles.

Mr. W. D. Ketchison, Bailiff, 9th Division Court, Frankford, Hastings County, states:—

"I was troubled for thirty years with Itching Piles and Eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees—perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and less than this one box effected a complete cure."

If you have not met with some one who has been cured of piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, ask your neighbours about it. It is impossible to publish testimonials of persons that all readers know, but by asking your friends you are sure to hear good words for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is standard the world over and is guaranteed to cure any case of piles, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Recruits are in demand for the 3rd Battalion, R.C.R.I., at Halifax, and 150 men are needed at once. Recruiting is going on in Toronto.

MR. HUNTER ON ANNUAL CAMPS.

How the Volunteer Troops Should be Drilled.

AN INTERESTING ARTICLE

That Appeared in the Canadian Magazine, Concerning Camps of Instruction.

The Canadian Magazine contains the appended interesting article on camp training, by Mr. A. T. Hunter, of Toronto. The article will be of more interest to the military men who attend the annual camps of instruction than to the ordinary city regiment man although it may prove interesting to anyone who pays any attention to military matters at all. Mr. Hunter's ideas are expressed as follows:—

We have reached the season of the year when the moneys appropriated by the Parliament of Canada for the ostensible purpose of training the active militia are, according to the immemorial usage, expended on things which to the civilian have a military semblance, but which studied with the naked eye and near at hand look like very queer foolishness. The matters which I shall state are not at all of original observation, are very well-known to every militia-man and would have been remedied long ago were it not that our public men are not much in contact with the volunteer whose ardour is for shooting and marching; but are influenced rather by political and social colonels who abound and flourish exceedingly. I must be understood, however, to speak not in any military capacity, which would no doubt be impertinent and insubordinate on my part—and possibly insecure—but as a civilian who does not like to see the public money wasted or the public mind deluded into the belief that its citizens are really being trained for the defence of our country.

To be more specific, I wish to direct public notice to the fact that the Militia Training Camp, which is now an annual function, is simply an elaborate piece of tomfoolery. While my personal evidence is restricted to Niagara Camp, I have ascertained by comparing notes with enthusiastic militia-men from other parts of Canada, that the defects of one camp are those of the Canadian Camps generally and that Military District No. 2 is not more absurd and belated than all the other districts in our curiously defended country.

A SAMPLE CAMP.

Speaking then only of what I have actually seen I can give this testimony, which can be corroborated by a summer trip to the historic precincts of the ancient capital of Upper Canada, or by five minutes' talk with any officer, non-com. or private in a rural battalion.

There, at Niagara-on-the-Lake, the great mobilizing intellects of our militia concentrate some thousands of uniformed men with the presumable object of teaching them how to fight. Immediately they arrive on the spot, the great men yawn, rub their fierce eyes and discover that the Niagara rifle range is totally inadequate, and that it is impossible to teach rifle shooting this year. The same thing happens and has happened year in and year out—the same concentration at Niagara (which town seems as inevitable as Sedan) and the same discovery about the absurd little rifle-range. The result is that the lads who go out to learn the arts of the citizen-soldier are made to blaze off twenty rounds of actual ammunition in half-company volleys (!!). That is the training. But I forgot; there is a sort of emergency-ration in rifle training called the Morris Tube Practice. In this practice the volunteer is supplied with a toy bullet like that of a boy's pea-rifle, which bullet he is told to place on the bull's-eye by aiming at another spot. Such practice is extremely valuable because it teaches the green shot not to aim at what he wants to hit.

If then the Camps do not teach shooting, how are the twelve days taken up? Mainly by squad drill.

THE FORMALITIES OF BATTALION DRILL.

However, outside of squad drill there are other things taught, such as battalion drill. Here, for the benefit of the curious, let me tell you—from actual experience on Niagara Commons—what a Canadian infantry battalion would do if caught in fours like the Black Watch was at Magersfontein:—

1st. It would form column of companies.

2nd. It would close to quarter column.

3rd. It would deploy into line with markers.

4th. After a preliminary lecture, the odd numbered companies would be called the firing line.

5th. The captains of odd companies would then order their two centre sections to advance, the two outer sections to be supports.

6th. The centre sections would advance with great gallantry.

THE FORMALITIES OF GUARD MOUNTING.

Yes. There are other things besides squad drill. There is guard mounting — not outpost duty or scouting, but real formal dressed-for-dinner guard mounting—"Old Guard, Shoulder Humph," etc. The value of this ceremonial is that it teaches a sentry not to pay any attention to the insignificant person who slides in behind the sentry's back, but to carefully hold up and give the correct salutation to officers or armed parties who approach with the intention of being properly discovered by the sentry or knowing the reason why. The extreme usefulness of this elegant and intricate game is well shown in Chapter XLI of General Grant's Memoirs, where it is related how the General came upon the Confederate picket guard and instead of getting a bullet in his undershirt, heard the sentinal call, "Turn out the guard for the commanding general, General Grant," and received a salute. Those Confederates were well trained in guard mounting as taught on Niagara Common.

THE MORTALITY CAUSED BY SQUAD DRILL.

But chiefly at camp there will be squad drill. It is marvellous to behold the reckless daring of our soldiers in the sham battle. How they stand erect in the withering fire of the old Snider blank ammunition and bunch together shoulder to shoulder as did their ancestors at Waterloo or Derry Walls! The officers rush here and there and try to make them fan out, calling, "Extend," and "Get down!" "D— you, get down." "Why the — do you stick together like a lot of wet hens?" But it is useless. They cannot separate and they will stand erect. Why?

For the reason that during the previous seven or eight days we have been busy teaching them squad drill—"Look up there," "By the left," "Feel in to the left," "Ease off to the right," "Don't leave that gap there," "Keep closed up," Swing your arms," "By the left now," "Look to it," "Look to it." After seven days it has become an instinct to the dazed recruit to look to a flank, to hold himself erect (with his manly breast away out in front and his rump away out behind), to keep touch "at half arm interval" with the man on his left or right. All this has been scolded into him till he knows it better than he knows the Lord's Prayer—till he knows it fairly well. This is our chosen time to take him out into the field of action where standing erect is like standing on Radcliffe's drop and close touch with your comrade is as the touch of death.

Some day we may put the right thing first—begin by teaching men how to fight in the field and not how to march to their death... begin by teaching "extended order," which is to war what sparring is to fist fighting. But that happy day is afar off. Why? Because "Sergeant What's-his-name," the pride of the Egyptian Army and the pontiff of ours, and all the commissioned pupils who have learned everything they know from "Sergeant What's-his-name," — because these men need squad drill. Squad drill is more to a drill instructor than spelling and grammar are to a school teacher. Abolish squad drill and your drill instructor becomes Sergeant Ichabod. If the great man couldn't extend his victims from single rank to a squad-at-intervals and then say "Right turn," "As you were," "D— you, don't you know that in a squad-at-intervals the turnings are always done by numbers?" — if he couldn't do this and other equally arbitrary but senseless things, wherein would he be superior to common flesh and blood?

Squad drill is to the British drill instructor what bleeding and calomel were to the old-time doctor. When in doubt prescribe squad drill. Young subalterns sometimes look forward and wonder what will be taught next camp, but the old militia-man who has gone year after year is in no uncertainty. It will be squad drill; there will be an amusing farce of tactics, a sickening farce of rifle shooting and any quantity of squad drill.

THE VALUE OF DISCIPLINE.

But you will say the discipline is good. Though our boys are not taught to shoot or to march any distance or to take advantage of cover in attack and defence, or to do scouting or out-post work, still they are taught to obey, to yield implicit obedience, to go forward unflinchingly at the word of command, etc., etc. So also were the Dervishes taught, and lots of other heroic but not extant people who had the misfortune to have learned implicit obedience to commands that were no longer wise or sensible commands. Other things being at all equal a disciplined force will beat an undisciplined. But Gen. Braddock's disciplined regulars did not beat the Indians, and Col. Ferguson's disciplined regulars did not beat Gen. Sevier's mountaineers. Why? Because when one force understands shooting and uses what now is called "extended formation" (and which over a hundred years ago was practised as "Indian tactics") and the other side only understands parade-ground movements, then hardly any amount of discipline will suffice to make the contest a fair one.

THE REMEDY.

Now as it is not probable that the annual training of our militia will be abolished, let me propose one plan by which it could be redeemed from some of its most startling absurdities. In the first place would it not be wise to quit bottling up all the troops of No. 2 District for 12 days at Niagara, a town whose tactical advantages resulted in Brock's repulse and death, and whose climate is such that the privates shiver all night and in the day-time feel as if they were dancing on the stove-lid of Sheol? If it is inevitable that the troops should arrive at Niagara, why not march them there? For instance, instead of taking the York Rangers in the Chicora across the Lake, why not march them to Long Branch? They might camp a couple of days there and be taught some real shooting. Then march them to another rifle range, repeat the dose of target practice and so on to Niagara. By the time they arrived on the Commons a rural battalion would have learned shooting and marching, with such elements of camp life, outpost duties, and general drill as their Colonel would consider it possible to teach without harassing them with fatigue. Each regiment would have a life and individuality of its own. At present the training of every man at camp is regulated by an absurd little pink schedule of drills, and the colonels, majors and adjutants that about have as much real say in the training of their battalions as the familiar cows that we chase out of the line of tents.

I am aware that this proposed plan would present excellent opportunities for those bungles which are cheap in peace time and costly in war, and would throw considerable hard work upon some of the officers connected with the Militia Department. But it would prove their capacity and they would rise to the occasion. They would recognize that the machinery by which they could provision separate units starting from various headquarters, and marching on different roads would be the same machinery that would keep the "Canadian Army" in the field.

At any rate, of our present system we may affirm this. Every Canadian volunteer has for more than 15 months been reading every day of the ludicrous shortcomings of the English Tommy Atkins; how he cannot shoot, cannot skirmish and is ruined by an absurd adherence to barrack-square evolutions. What opinion must these volunteers have of the military geniuses that direct our militia when they find themselves on Niagara Common (or wherever the camp is held) getting a boil-down of Tommy Atkins' training (with the good features omitted) and being carefully instructed in exactly the very things which for months every correspondent, critic and returned soldier has been denouncing as deadly imbecilities?

Serious Bush Fires.

White River, Sept. 12.—Bush fires have been raging in this vicinity lately, and on several occasions the fate of this village has been in jeopardy.

James Sinclair, Hamilton, shot himself with a revolver at his home Thursday afternoon. He was removed to the City Hospital, where he died about an hour and a half later.

Margaret Plante, aged 32, a trained nurse at Montreal, shot herself Thursday evening in the region of the heart, and the hospital authorities, being unable to extract the ball, believe she will die.

That is the first unmistakable symptom of diseased kidneys, an ailment which no one can neglect without inviting Bright's Disease, diabetes, rheumatism, and the most painful and fatal maladies. At the first sign of backache and urinary disorders, use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you can be certain of prompt relief and cure. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box.

BLACKSMITH'S BACKACHE.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Cure This Serious Trouble.

There is hardly a blacksmith in Canada who does not know what backache means—the stabbing pain, the sore, lame, stiff back that makes work misery.

Mr. Thos. Leonard, the well-known blacksmith of Port Hope, was troubled as thousands are, and gladly tells of his cure in the following words:—"My life work as a blacksmith has been a hard one, and my back and kidneys bothered me for a long time. I have tried many medicines without relief, until I got a box of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from R. Deyell, the druggist. Since then I have had comfort, and am able to work with ease. I am sure those who use your medicine for backache, kidney, bladder or liver troubles, will never regret it. They are so easy to take, and yet work so well."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets cure so well that you'd be wasting money to experiment with anything else. Price 50 cents a box, at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

THE LATE MISS WEIR.

Her Demise Occurred at 10 O'clock Last Night.

After an illness of many weeks, Miss Maggie Weir entered into her eternal rest at about 10 o'clock last night, at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weir, No. 309 McDonel street. The ultimate cause of her demise was pleurisy.

The deceased Miss Weir was 41 years of age, and has been a resident of Peterborough all her life. She was highly esteemed amongst a wide circle of friends, all of whom will regret exceedingly to learn of her demise. She was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Tuesday at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery.

DIED AT MOUNTAIN GROVE.

Demise of George Ivory, Formerly of Peterborough.

The death occurred at Mountain Grove, Ont., on Wednesday night, of George Ivory, at one time a resident of Peterborough. The late Mr. Ivory was 36 years of age, and some years ago held the position of operator at the Grand Trunk station here. Of late he has resided in New York, acting as telegraph operator in one of the railway stations. Mr. Ivory fell a victim to consumption. He endeavoured to go to Manitoba, where his mother resided, thinking that a change of air might benefit him, but he was unable to finish his journey, and stopped off at Mountain Grove with his brother, Mr. William Ivory, late telegraph operator at the C.P.R. station here. The deceased remained at his brother's until the end came. The remains were taken to Omemee for interment, which took place yesterday. Mr. William Ivory accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

That Deceptive Statement. "Something Just as Good"

The use of Diamond Dyes in the colouring of the finest fabrics or the heaviest materials means success, true economy and happiness. The use of inferior dyes such as are sold by some dealers, means loss of your money and complete ruin of your goods.

When you ask your merchant for Diamond Dyes, never allow him to substitute another kind, the "something just as good" that he recommends for the sake of larger profits. No other dyes in the world can equal the Diamond Dyes in strength, fastness, beauty and brilliancy of colours.

Would you like to make up a pretty mat or rug? If so, ask your dealer to show you the artistic Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns made of the best Scotch Hessian and in all the best sizes. If he does not keep them in stock, write to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, and they will send you free of cost, sheets of designs to select from.

PRETTY SEPTEMBER WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss M. R. Boucher and Mr. J. H. Hudson.

St. John's Church was Decorated Most Beautifuly for the Occasion— Many Guests Present.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ruttan Boucher, daughter of R. P. Boucher, Esq., M.D., to Mr. J. Hudson Hudson, son of James Hudson, Esq., of Halifax, late General Manager of the Nova Scotia Mining Association, was celebrated at St. John's church, Peterborough, by Rev. J. C. Davidson, M.A., Rector of the parish, at two o'clock this afternoon. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride was gowned in white silk poplin, handsomely trimmed with mousselin de soie. She wore veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

There were four bridesmaids, Miss Helen Boucher and Miss Hamilton wearing white silk, with mousselin de soie, and Miss Belcher and Miss Marie Macdonnell, of Toronto, pink silk, with mousselin de soie. All wore black velvet Gainsborough hats.

The mother of the bride wore black pointe d'esprit over canary-coloured silk and black and white toque.

Mr. O'Hara of Ottawa, was the groomsman.

The interior of the edifice never presented a more beautiful appearance. Fully one-half of the body of the church was reserved for invited guests, being enclosed in white silk ribbons. Each pew was gaily decorated with a garniture of magnificent hydrangea blossoms, and the chancel was banked with palms and ferns. The window sills were decorated with feathery sprays of asparagus, relieved by brilliant nasturtium bloom. A giant floral arch was erected over the centre aisle, the flowers used being chiefly phlox and vari-coloured asters. The reading desk and pulpit, as well as the gasaliers were smothered in smilax and magnificent crimson salvia.

Amongst the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Greening, of Hamilton; Dr. and Mrs. Buller, of Montreal; Mr. Mrs., and Miss Dorothy Colville, of Campbellford; Mrs. Dunsford and Mr. H. B. Dunsford, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Smith, of Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. David Starr, of Montreal; Miss Spalding, of Bowmanville; Mr. Ritchie, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer, of Orillia; Miss Kyte Fisher, of Toronto; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Symonds, of Port Hope; Dr. Mrs. and Miss Burnham, of Toronto; Rev. J. L. Gilmour and Mrs. Gilmour, of Montreal; Mr. Arthur Colville, of Toronto; Mr. Morris, of Port Hope.

The bride's going-away gown was dark blue cloth with strappings of tucked silk of the same colour, with Eton coat, white transparent silk blouse, with applique trimmings, toque of dark blue velvet with touches of grey.

The ushers were Mr. Arthur Colville, Mr. Hazen Ritchie, Mr. Hartley Dunsford, Mr. Arthur Hammond and Mr. Archie Morrow.

The bride's many friends had decorated the church most beautifully.

A reception was held after the ceremony at No. 196 Brock street, the residence of the bride's parents, which was beautifully decorated with large urns of foliage plants, palms, ferns and great sprays of roses. The balusters were wound with smilax, relieved with salvia.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT

Of the Young Women's Christian Association—Important Announcement.

Last Tuesday afternoon about thirty bright, interested little women, from 8 to 10 years of age, met in the new Y. W. C. A. rooms on George street and were duly organized into a self-government club, with a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

A similar gathering of girls, from 11 to 18 years of age, on Thursday afternoon, resulted in the formation of a second self-government club, in which 46 members are already enrolled.

A short business meeting, presided over by the president of the club, followed the election of officers each afternoon, and the rapidity with which the officers and members learned how such a meeting should be conducted, would have astonished many of their elders. The dues were fixed at one cent weekly, the junior club meetings to be held on Tuesday and the senior on Thursday afternoon. The matter of club names is to be decided upon at the next regular meeting.

With the opening of the educational work of the Association in October, gymnasium and other classes will be opened for the junior department. Their definite lines of club work will be announced latter.

An Accident at Buckley's Lake.

An accident that might have resulted fatally, but luckily was not attended with very serious results, happened at Buckley's Lake last week. A gang of men were engaged in unloading a part of the hydraulic elevator from one of the cars by means of a block and tackle, when in some unaccountable manner the hook became unhitched, causing the chain to fly back. Mr. J. Alcombrack, received a tremendous blow on the arm, and Mr. John Casey on the forehead. Both men received injuries of a somewhat severe character, and were incapacitated from work for a few days.—Lakefield News.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

THE GOLF COLTS WON.

Yesterday was an ideal day for golfing and the Lindsay visitors, who came over to give the Peterborough Golf Colts a match, were more than delighted with the afternoon's sport, although the Colts proved too frisky for them to the extent of being 25 holes up at the finish. The visitors, who were ten strong, were dined at the Oriental and then driven out to the golf links, when, after enjoying a cigar, the match began, being finished in time to allow of refreshments being served before the visitors left to catch the 5.40 train for home. The score was as follows:—

Athletics at the Collegiate Institute—Other Matters of Interest.

What has become of the annual games in connection with the local Collegiate Institute? There was a time when the annual fall games constituted a leading feature in connection with local sporting circles, and some of the best athletes that Peterborough possessed in years gone by were attendants at the Collegiate. Now, however, things are changed. The Institute cuts no figure in the athletic life of the town, and the boys are growing up without any of that training to which so many men in years afterwards look back with pride upon. Is this as it should be, and is it in accordance with the old saying that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy?" Are the cross country runs, the bicycle races, and the various other events to sink into oblivion, and are the various cups, trophies, etc., to pass into the custody of the Historical Society at this early stage? Something should be done to infuse a spirit of enthusiasm into those whose duty it should be to oversee such athletics in connection with the Collegiate Institute. Other Collegiate Institutes and High Schools throughout the Province have their football teams, their hockey teams and their athletic associations, but Peterborough — poor Peterborough — is dead to the world in this respect.

The special attractions that are advertised by the Peterborough Central Agricultural Society, for their annual exhibition, which takes place on September 24th, 25th and 26th, promise to attract a great many town people. It has been always said by the directors from the country that the people from the town did not patronize the annual show. There may have been some truth in this assertion, but there was nothing much, until last year, to attract the town people to the grounds. This season promises to be especially attractive in this regard. Amongst the special artists are Lily Bletzo, the famous lady cornetist; Harry Ritch, the matchless comedian; Areno, the marvellous contortionist; Gourlay and Lamoth, comedy artists, Varin and Turenne, the famous axe jugglers; and Franklyn and Hyatt, the English concert hall transformation, singing and comedy artists. These artists will perform on the platform in front of the grand stand and should prove well worth seeing.

General satisfaction is felt over the scheudle of the O.R.F.U. Intermediate series as far as Peterborough is concerned. The probabilities are that the Peterborough club's expenses will not be as heavy this year as last. The boys should get right into the game now and prepare for their first match which takes place in Toronto on Oct. 5th, against their old rivals, St. Mary's. It is to-day reported that Albert Brundrette, of the local scrimmage, has received notice of his transfer to Newmarket and his absence from the Peterborough team will be very keenly felt.

When the news was spread around town this morning that President McKinley had passed away, many and sincere were the expressions of sympathy. The bulletin boards were eagerly read and the telephones of the local newspaper offices were kept busy by people anxious to learn if the sad intelligence was authentic. The flags on the Custom House, Civic and other public buildings were placed at half mast.

The turn out of the 57th Regiment on Tuesday evening last was not up to what it should be, and unless there is a decided pick-up as to numbers the out-look is not any too encouraging for going to Toronto. Why should Peterborough have any difficulty in recruiting a regiment with an establishment of two hundred and fifty odd officers, non-coms., and men, up to full strength? Still on Tuesday night last there were only enough men on parade to form about three good companies. At the same time there were a number of those who belong to the Regiment, to say nothing of those who should belong to it, who took up their positions on the streets and watched the other fellows drill. There must be a decided change. Of course one thing can be said with every degree of certainty, and that is, that what men were out on Tuesday night were enthusiastic, and whilst the band was not there (a circumstance to be regretted), and it was difficult to give the step, the boys, nevertheless, did fairly well. But the task of keeping up a regiment should not devolve on a few of the officers and their able non-coms., the backbone of every regiment. Every young man in town should feel it his duty to enter the ranks, for what could a town feel prouder of than a crack city regiment? No young man ought to be ashamed to put on a red coat. Such a man is no man at all, in fact. And how many young men does Peterborough possess? Enough to make up two or three regiments. Let every citizen feel that the honour of the town is at stake. If a full-strength, smart-looking regiment from Peterborough responded to "Eyes front!" when passing the "Dook" in Toronto, it would be something for each citizen of the town to feel proud of. Tuesday night next should see a full turn out with many recruits.

To-day the North Star, Captain Wilbert Harris' popular steamer, made her last daily trip of the season to Rice Lake and return. From this time forward the Star will be brought into service for special work, which she has ahead of her. Those who have taken in the trip down to Rice Lake this summer expressed themselves as delighted with the outing. However, a feature in connection with this has been the reliability of the Star's service. Rain or shine, passengers or no passengers, every day in the week, excepting Sunday, the Star left the Wolfe street wharf at her scheduled time. Capt. Harris waited not a minute for any person, and disappointed no person. One could always rely on getting back from Rice Lake any day and every day, excepting Sunday, and the public indeed owe a great deal to the Star for the splendid service she gave.

TWENTIETH CENTURY TRAGEDY.

—10.59 p. m.—The President is alone with his physicians and nurses. His extremities have long been cold and for over two hours he has been unconscious.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. —11.05 p. m.—A messenger from the house announces that the President's vitality is marvelous. Conditions remain unchanged and death may come in one minute or not over an hour or more.

Might Live Several Hours.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. —At 11.07 p. m. Dr. McBurney said it was possible the President might live several hours. He is scarcely breathing, the circulation has ceased in his extremities and they are cold.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. 11.12 p. m.—Dr. Mann has just added: "The President is pulseless and is dying. He may live an hour."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. The personal colored attendant of the President at 11.25 announced that the President was still alive.

At 11.47 p. m. Dr. Janeway of New York, the heart specialist, arrived and was admitted to the Milburn House.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13. —Secretary of the Navy, John D. Long, arrived at 12.06 a. m., in time to see the President alive though unconscious.

12.30. — Frank Baer announced from Secretary Cortelyou that the President is still alive and his condition practically as it had been for an hour.

Arrival of the Coroner.

12.30 p. m.—Coroner Wilson reached the house a few minutes ago. This led to startling reports.

The arrival on the scene of Coroner Wilson is explained by the statement that he was ordered by the District Attorney to go to Milburn House.

The District Attorney ordered the coroner to proceed to Milburn House because he had heard a report that the President was dead. Coroner Wilson's arrival was followed immediately by his departure, his presence not being necessary, as the President still lived.

Only a Slight Heart Beat.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—At 1.30 a. m. an attendant came from the house and said the President's pulse had shown practically no activity in four hours. There was only a slight heart beat. All of the doctors were still upstairs, near at hand to the patient.

A Farewell Hand Clasp.

1.43 a. m.—Secretary Long has just left Milburn House. He said: "There seems to be no particular change. The President is just alive."

Dr. Janeway was hurried away in an automobile shortly before the secretary left.

Secretary Long was deeply affected as he came from the house at 1.45 o'clock. He had seen the President, and had given his hand a farewell grasp. He said there was no hope, but when some of the President's watchers asked him as to a rumor that the President was dead he said decisively: "That is not true: the President is now alive."

Buffalo, Sept. 14, 2.15 a. m.—President McKinley died at 2.15 a. m.

"LET'S FIND THE ASSASSIN."

A Crowd in Buffalo Streets Whose Motives Did Not Materialize in Action—Awed by Police.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—The city, not only in those parts near the Milburn House, but all over, and even out in the Exposition grounds, went into a state of ferment when the news of the sudden collapse of the President was announced. The news of the early day had been somewhat softened by the later afternoon announcement that there was a slight improvement and the sudden announcement of this approaching dissolution came as a great surprise.

At the Pan-American grounds it was announced that he was dead, and the immense crowd as a majority turned towards the city. In the city itself the papers refrained from any anticipation, but made it understood that there was no hope.

It seemed but an instant when crowds formed at every corner, swarmed towards the newspaper bulletins, and when they found that the rumors were confirmed somebody shouted: "Let's find the assassin." With one impulse the crowd started for the station house where Czolgosz is confined. Telephones were utilized and the police notified, and when the crowd arrived they found the police out in force.

Superintendent Bull, anticipating trouble, called out the city's force, and, in addition, asked the 4th Brigade headquarters to be in readiness to assist. Col. Welch in charge answered by ordering up two companies each from the 65th and 74th Regiments to the Armouries to await immediate call. Around the station at 8 o'clock it was estimated that at least 6,000 people were gathered. They were not particularly ugly, and were quiet, and when the police proceeded to drive them back there was little resistance. At 9 o'clock they had been sent back two blocks on each side of the police station, and before 10 o'clock, weary with waiting for definite news, they had dispersed or gone to the newspaper bulletins.

Up about the corners near the Milburn house was a picturesque but rather gruesome sight, when it is remembered that the crowds gathered there were awaiting the President's death.

The hall dozen tents and the two big election booths made it look like the Midway of the Fair, but the ropes stretched from corner to corner, the solemn-looking police guard, the pacing soldiers, and above all the quietness of the assembled multitude, bore evidence of the solemnity of the occasion. At intervals a carriage would drive up, and then the newspaper men would move towards it. The Milburn house was hardly discernible among the trees, the lights in the house having been dimmed but at a few minutes intervals there would come out some person who had information to bear, and then the eager crowd would surround him.

But from the time that Secretary Cortelyou told that the President was very weak there was nothing to encourage any belief that there could be recovery.

HEART "STARTS"

Does the slightest effort excite the Heart, quicken the breathing, induce suffocation, fluttering, palpitation or excruciating pain-spasms? You need no surer symptom of disease, for when the heart "starts" the heart is sick.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY'S CAREER.

William McKinley, President of the United States since March 4, 1897, was born at Niles, Trumbull County, Ohio, Jan. 29, 1843. He was educated at Poland Academy College, taught in the Public Schools at Niles, and when the Civil War broke out enlisted as a private in the 2nd Ohio Volunteer Infantry, June 11, 1861. He was made commissary sergeant April 15, 1862, of the same year, and gradually rose to be a captain July 25, 1864. He served on the staffs of Generals R. B. Hayes, George Crook and Winfield

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Hancock, was breveted major in U. S. volunteers by President Lincoln for gallantry in battle March 13, 1865. He was acting assistant adjutant-general of the 1st division of the 1st Army Corps on the staff of General S. S. Carroll, was mustered out of the service July 26, 1865. He took up the study of law in Mahoning County, entered Albany Law School 1867, was made a barrister and settled at Canton, Ohio, same year. That has since been his home. He was elected prosecuting attorney of Stark County in 1869 and a member of the House of Representatives 1876, and for 14 years represented the district of which his county was a part. As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, he reported the tariff law of 1890. In the following November he was defeated for Congress in a gerrymandered district. Mr. McKinley was elected Governor of Ohio in 1891 by a plurality of over 21,500, and was re-elected in 1893 by a plurality of 80,995. He was a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention in 1884 and supported James G. Blaine for President; was a member of the Committee on Resolutions and read the platform to the convention; was chosen as delegate-at-large from Ohio in supporting John Sherman in 1888 and again was chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. In 1892 he was again a delegate-at-large from Ohio, and supported the re-nomination of Benjamin Harrison. He was also chairman of that convention, and 182 votes were cast for him for President, although he had persistently refused to have his name considered. At the St. Louis convention, June 18, 1896, he was nominated for President, receiving 661 out of a total of 905 votes. He was elected President in the ensuing November by a popular plurality of 600,000, and received 271 electoral votes, as against 176 for William J. Bryan of Nebraska. He was re-elected to the Presidency in 1900 by a sweeping majority over the same opponent.

THE RESOLUTION WAS DROPPED.

Labor Men of Winnipeg Declined to Express Sympathy for President.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—At a labor meeting last night a delegate suggested a resolution of sympathy with President McKinley.

President Scott said: "In common with the general public, we deplore the crime, but there can be no doubt that the present conditions breed Anarchists, and lead to crime and violence. The way to remedy that state of things is not to tighten the Legislative screws, but to improve several conditions. At the same time, though I deplore the attempt upon the President's life, I am not in favor of passing a formal resolution."

The resolution was dropped. Mr. Puttee, M. P., was present.

SWALLOWED A HOT STONE

J. F. Rex of the C. P. R. Offices Describes His Feelings.

A thankful man is J. F. Rex, of the C. P. R. Audit Office, Montreal. Any man would be grateful who has come through what he has done so successfully.

At one time, not so very long since, as his friends in the railway office know, Mr. Rex was in the close grip of dyspepsia. He has broken that grip, however, and with the aid of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets has shaken it off altogether.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are coming into high fame in Montreal. Mr. Rex's case is one of hundreds. In all parts of the city, from Westmount to Point St. Charles, people may be found who will tell you of the good work Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for them.

Mr. Rex writes a strong letter in praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. But it is no stronger than the words of many another sufferer released from the miseries of indigestion by the same wonderful medicine.

"I can highly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," writes Mr. Rex, "For years I suffered all the horrors of Indigestion — choking sensation, Heartburn, Wind on the Stomach, an indisposition to eat and all the rest. After the first two boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was finally induced to try, I found I could sleep all night without awakening with the feeling of somebody clutching at my throat like I used to do. I can now eat ment also without feeling that I have swallowed a hot stone. I am thankful that I ever heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

THE ROYAL PARTY IN CANADA.

Royal Yacht Ophir Passed Up the Gulf at 6 p.m. Friday.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 14.—The swift destroyer Quail of the British North American squadron ran into Aspy Bay, a small telegraph and signal station on the north shore of Cape Breton, at 6.45 last evening, and reported that the Royal yacht Ophir had passed up the gulf at 6 p. m. All were reported well on board the Royal ship. The passing of the Royal fleet was known on shore, for the report of the Royal salute fired by the cruisers Intrepid and Indefatigable as they met the Ophir was distinctly heard at the telegraph station. The Quail immediately left to rejoin the conveying fleet, which is composed of the armored first-class cruisers, Niobe and Diadem, the second-class cruisers Intrepid and Indefatigable. The Ophir is due at Quebec on Sunday.

Incident of Real Life.

The man was indignant.

"Why," he asked the leader of the street band, "do you always stop in front of my house? Have I ever encouraged you?"

The leader shook his head.

"I've never given you any money, have I?" persisted the man.

"Never," replied the leader. "That's why we always stop here."—Chicago Post.

The Asthmatic's Agony.

Wakeful nights, suffocating sensations, difficult breathing. Who can describe it? This disease, partly nervous, partly congestive, partly the result of microbic irritation, is no longer treated by nauseous stomach destroying drugs, but by Catarrhozone, that destroys the microbe, relieves congestion and relaxes the nervous irritability that renders breathing so difficult. The medication is carried by the air you breath to the very seat of the disease, and removes at once the cause. The great discovery is known as Catarrhozone. Its influence upon Asthma is simply marvellous. Catarrhozone prevents as well as cures, and is the only remedy guaranteed to cure. Your money back if it fails. Two sizes at all dealers, 25c. and $1.00.

THE DERELICT.

Oh, I am the sovereign of the seas,
The despot of the deep;
From pole to pole, where the breakers roll,
My tossing realm doth sweep.

My creaking hulk lies logged, and low
I wallow in the wave.
When the tempest rails, my tattered sails
Flap forth a requiem stave.

Yet the clipper, fleet on snowy wing,
The liner, swift and strong,
The war dog grey on its sullen way
Yield place when I lurch along.

The captain and his cringing crew
Go white beneath the red
As I roll near; they know the fear
Of Davy Jones' bed.

The flagship I of the graveyard fleet
That haunts the salt highway.
I ask no fee; right merrily
I bring death and dismay.

Delia and the Scotchman.

A STORY OF MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

Before breakfast that morning Delia's voice summoned me into the kitchen. I make a point of always obeying Delia, and I went.

Delia pushed me in front of the dresser, stretched out both hands and said ecstatically, "Look!"

I looked, but I did not know what on earth to look for. There was no speck of dust on the dresser, and it was wonderfully tidy. So I thought that Delia had been scrubbing it herself in a fit of repentance. Our servant has an artistic nature and is an enemy of all tidiness and order.

"Well, it does look nice and clean," said I, with enthusiasm.

"How very dense you are!" said Delia. I had said the wrong thing, as usual. She clambered on to a chair and took down an enormous plate from the top shelf of the dresser. The plate was in gorgeous colors and represented a yellow dragon playing on a red field. Delia held it up for my admiration.

"Now that is pretty," I said, nodding my head wisely.

"I'm so glad you like it," said Delia. "Isn't it sweet? I bought it for a shilling in the Lanes. At Jackson's sale they've got some at four and eleven that are not half so big."

I turned the thing over in my hands. "But it's cracked all down the back," I said.

"I'm sure it isn't." Delia snatched it from me. "It's only just a little tiny split in the surface." And she replaced it on the shelf.

I mention all this because it was the beginning of Delia's bad temper. She had not intended that I should observe the crack in her bargain.

We went in to breakfast. One of the letters on the table was an invitation for Delia and myself from an uncle of mine—an influential and enormously rich uncle, of course. They always are.

"Of course we'll go," said Delia. "You don't know how much he may be able to help you."

I should mention that I am engaged in making a career, but I was pained by Delia's insinuation.

"My dear Delia," said I, "I regret that you should make any observation of that kind. If we go, we go for the enjoyment of his company and nothing else."

"How good we're getting!" said Delia.

Then Delia announced her intention of taking her jewels with her. She has rather a valuable collection, what with wedding presents and one thing and another.

"Of course I shall take them," she said, with her head in the air when I tried to dissuade her. "Do you think I'm not going to look nice when we stay with your uncle?"

"My dear Delia," I said again, "you would look nice under any circumstances."

I rather flattered myself at the policy of that speech, but Delia was not appeased and would not be dissuaded.

"Very well," said I resignedly. "Have your own way."

Delia had her own way. She generally does.

We traveled first for the sake of appearance. It would never do to let my uncle think that we generally went second class. Besides my own luggage, I took a good sized bag in the carriage with us, and at the bottom of that was a small hand bag with Delia's jewels. Delia thought that way was safer.

The train was just starting when an old gentleman climbed painfully into our carriage. He was peculiarly dressed in a very loud check ulster, and he wore a Tam O'Shanter cap with two ribbons hanging down at the back. He had white hair and a white beard and fierce eyes. I was almost afraid of him, but Delia whispered, "What a nice old gentleman!" as he sat down in the opposite corner.

The three of us sat in strained silence for a long time. Suddenly the old gentleman grunted "Stuffy!" and looked round at us.

"Stuffy!" he grunted again, and then he asked Delia very politely if she would mind him pulling the window down.

Delia didn't mind, and we got into conversation with the old gentleman. He was a Scotchman going back to his home in the north. His name was McColin—Colin McColin of Seigel's Brae. Then he began talking about the storms we had experienced lately. The fishing people of his district had suffered severely. Their boats had gone out and not returned, and the families were destitute. When he grew more confiding, he told us that as a matter of fact he was just returning from business in connection with these accidents, for which he had been organising subscriptions. Immediately afterward he seemed very sorry that he had let the secret out.

Delia had tears in her eyes, and I blew my nose. Delia kept on nudging my arm. I could not understand why at first, but presently I did.

"If you would permit me," said I (Delia was nudging my arm all the time), "to offer—if you would accept a trifle from us toward helping—these"—

"My dear sir," interrupted Colin McColin, "I could not possibly allow you to do such a thing."

"But the poor people must be so unhappy," said Delia, "and we would be only too glad."

"I am delighted to meet with such sympathy," said the old gentleman. "But it is really quite impossible."

He began to talk of something else. But Delia asked him again, and in the end he said that he had never been able to refuse a lady. That is just what I think about Delia. So in the end we wrote our names on a piece of paper, and he accepted something for the fishermen, and just as he thanked us and put the slip of paper back into his pocket the train drew up for its first wait.

"We stop here ten minutes," said the old gentleman. Delia said that she should like a cup of coffee. She glanced up at the bag on the rack as she left the carriage.

"Oh, I'll look after your luggage," said Colin McColin. "I shan't get out."

"Thank you so much," said Delia very sweetly.

The buffet was at the other end of the platform. The coffee was not nice, and it was very hot, but it is not wise to drink out of the saucer under the withering eyes of a railway refreshment maid.

"Besides," said Delia, reading my thoughts—"besides, there's heaps of time."

"You say so," I retorted.

"And, again," said Delia, "drinking coffee is an art."

"Losing trains is also an art," I observed.

"What an old silly you are!" said Delia. "Didn't Mr.—Mr. Mac—what was it, Jack?"

"McColin," said I. "It's not a name you could easily forget."

"He said there was a wait of ten minutes."

"Let's hope he told the truth."

"Jack," said Delia, "I'm sure there never was such a nice old man. Men are always so dreadfully suspicious."

I swallowed my coffee desperately. It was unpleasant and very hot, and it burned my throat.

"Do hurry up," I said to Delia rather irritably, "or leave your coffee! We shall certainly miss the train."

"I'm not going to be wasteful," said Delia. She grasped the handle of the cup courageously. She was lifting it to her lips when a shout startled me, and I sprang through the swing doors just in time to see our end of the train moving rapidly by me. The old gentleman was leaning out of the window and waving his arms. He shouted as he saw me standing at the doors.

"I'll put your bag down at the next station!" he cried. "The next station!" he shouted from the distance.

Delia came leisurely on to the platform.

"What horrid coffee that was!" said she and waved her handkerchief in farewell to McColin, still leaning out of the carriage window. "How very fortunate that he should be there to look after the bag—my jewels and all!" she finished in a kind of gasp.

"Very lucky," I said.

But somehow I began to feel dubious.

There was 35 minutes before the next train stopped at the station and we could continue our journey. At the next station I inquired after the bag, but the officials at the cloakroom knew nothing whatever of the old gentleman or the bag. When I explained this to Delia, I am afraid that she lost her temper for the second time that week.

"Men are so stupid!" said she after some time. "To be taken in like that!"

I reminded her gently but emphatically that if I had had my way she would not have taken her jewels. It was the last we ever saw of them or of that very nice old gentleman, Colin McColin of Seigel's Brae.

When Delia tells this story, she says it was £3 that I gave to Colin McColin for his distressed fishermen. I am quite sure it was not half as much as that. Though I was rather cross over the occurrence at the time, I think it was a lesson for Delia.—Penny Pictorial Magazine.

The doctor sometimes passes a harder sentence than the judge. But the sentence of the doctor is more often set aside or overruled than is that of the judge. In the case of Mrs. Reycraft given below, the doctor sentenced her to about eighteen years of physical punishment and misery. But she rebelled against the sentence, and commenced the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In a few weeks she was a well woman.

It's a peculiarity of the cures effected by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescriptions, that they are generally cures of chronic diseases. A woman suffers with diseases peculiar to her sex, she takes medical treatment, gets no better, and has no hope held out to her of improvement. Then in her discouragement she turns to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and finds a prompt and lasting cure. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Four years ago my health began to fail," writes Mrs. Nellie M. Reycraft, of Glenwood, Washington Co., Oregon. "I had a very heavy dragging and weight in the region of the uterus, pain in back and loins, could not lift anything heavy, rest at night very poor; stomach deranged. One physician said I was overworked, another said I had congestion and falling of uterus. He treated me nine months and said I would not be well until I had passed the change of life. I was only twenty-seven years old then. I became discouraged, and began using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Took a teaspoonful three times a day; began feeling better right away. Am using my third bottle now, and feel I am in good health. I believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has restored me to health. If suffering women would give it a fair trial they would give it praise."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How Painter Lawrence Got His Start.

Sir Thomas Lawrence was one of the great portrait painters in England. His parents were poor, his father being a country innkeeper. One day Lord Shaftesbury's father and mother stopped at the inn, having their young son, the future lord, with them. In conversation the innkeeper spoke of the genius of his boy in drawing and wished them to test it by a picture of their son. They assented, thinking to gratify a father's pride, but not looking for any evidence of superior talent.

The boy came in modestly with chalk and paper and in a few minutes had drawn a picture of their son, on which the parents looked with wonder. They recognized the genius and promise of future greatness and befriended the young artist, giving him the help needed to develop his wonderful gift.

The mermaids stammered and hesitated.

The mermaids knew that Neptune was no barber and lost no time in warning the stranger of the danger which threatened his air pipe.—New York Marine Journal.

The Nervous System

Each organ of the body is of great importance, otherwise a wise Creator would have omitted it. Of no less importance is the great network of nerves running all through the body. They all connect with the brain, which is a central office or bureau of information. Is there inflamation in some part of the body? The nerves convey the news to the brain and the pain caused by irritation of the nerves is located. If there is a weakness in any part of the body or some organ is being overtaxed, the nerves convey the news. Symptoms manifested by the nerves are sleeplessness, headache irritability, nervousness, dizziness, forgetfulness, dispondency, lack of muscular control, and general loss of tone and debility. What's the cure? Not stimulants, for they only intensify the exhausted condition and result in harmful after-effects. Not opiates which only stupify and hide the danger signal, but Merrill's System Tonic which soothes the irritated condition of the nerves, feed and reconstruct the fast decaying sensibility and then by its general curative action on the different organs of the body, bring the general health back to its normal condition. System Tonic is an honest medicine, doing good in nearly every instance and doing harm in none. Its chief aim is to build up and strengthen each organ in the body and nature can and will then restore perfect health.

An Interesting Account of a Local Volunteer's Experience on the 2nd. Canadian Contingent—The Impressions he Gained.

The Examiner has very much pleasure in presenting to its readers the first chapter of Lieut. Robt. Johnston's experiences on the Canadian Contingent, from the time he left Peterborough until the time he returned to Canada. The remainder of the story will appear in chapters from time to time until the conclusion of the same. Lieut. Johnston is a clever amateur writer, and his account of his own personal experiences should prove interesting.

CHAPTER 1.

A soldier's life in time of peace is vastly different to that in time of war. There is a slight analogy, but to portray it without exaggeration or diminution, a person must have both active and inactive experience. It is not my intention in this chapter to give you a graphic description of the one nor yet paint you a glowing picture of the other; but I shall endeavor to present plain facts in as simple and impartial a manner as possible. Just here I desire to impress upon my readers that this narrative does not assume to be an exhaustive treatise on the subject. There were others who saw infinitely more real fighting than I did, so it would be unfair and unjust for me to make the mean assumption that my own experience was in detail analagous or identical with that of the Royal Canadian Dragoons. The Royal Canadian Dragoons were formally the 1st Battalion Canadian Mounted Rifles, but to avoid confusion and for convenience sake, Lord Roberts saw best to name it as above mentioned, and let the 2nd Battalion still be known as the C.M.R. Some of the boys who have witnessed considerable fighting, speak disparagingly about their comrades who have not been so fortunate. This is to be deplored, and is, may I say, a mean disposition, worthy of the highest condemnation. Some may have been the heroes of a hundred fights, while others, who might possess more sterling soldierly qualities, may never have had an opportunity of being in one. We believe all have done their duty, as far as the circumstances would permit, and, unless sheer cowardice has kept a man from being under fire, all are alike entitled to the laurels of war.

In the following paragraphs, therefore, will be told in simple style, the story of a two hundred and forty day trip by land and sea, covering a distance of nearly twenty-three thousand miles, and embracing a portion of three continents. That you may more easily comprehend the context, I will treat it systematically, and describe everything in successive steps, from beginning to end.

Those of you who read the newspapers after war was formally declared, between Great Britain and the Boer Republic, were kept in close touch with the movements of the two armies in the field. The despatches from the front were always teeming with interest, but it was not until our First Contingent sailed from Quebec that Canadians manifested the keenest interest in the issue of the war. Nor did the Royal Canadians sail with the good will of all, although the great majority professed fidelity to the cause and the Empire they went forth to defend. Not a few severely censured the Government; some because they believed it was too slow in perceiving the need of immediate action; and also the long exasperating delay experienced in dissecting the Militia Act, and constructing it to suit the present urgent demands. Others stubbornly maintained that the Government had no authority to interfere in the matter at all; that the Canadian Militia was organized for National defence alone, and was neither compelled nor expected to become implicated in the broils of the Empire, nor assist in fighting her battles, only in so far as they affected our commercial or other national interest. Who was right I am not prepared to say, for I presume the question was of a more perplexing nature than most of us were aware, but one thing is plainly evident, the majority of Canadians had a deep sympathy with the Motherland, that could not be assuaged, and whether the Militia Act would or would not sanction the equipment and despatch of the Contingent, public sentiment not only warranted such an act, but forcibly demanded it. Many of our more sober-minded citizens laughed at the idea of sending a regiment to South Africa, thus unnecessarily heaping expense upon the country, for they firmly believed the war would be over before the boys would land, indeed, not a few of the boys themselves, I may reasonably venture to say, cherished the same idea. How vain and deceptive were our speculations! The grave realities of war were only beginning to dawn upon us, for hardly had the old Sardinian steamed into Table Bay, with her munificent gift to the Empire, than steps were being taken to organize a second Contingent, to be composed of Artillery and Mounted Rifles. No sooner had the Government decided in doing so than hundreds of applications were daily pouring into the Militia Department at Ottawa. The clerks were up to their eyes in mail as well as business. The loyalty and prowess of the Militia were at once apparent, and could be no longer doubted, for the Militia Department experienced no difficulty in recruiting the corps, unless it were in selecting the few individuals who should compose it from the many thousand applicants who signified their willingness to enlist. Such a deluge of mail at headquarters was unparalleled in its history. The hardy men of the north so promptly responded to the "call to arms" that the authorities were astonished and amazed, and in a very short time they had enough applicants to make three or four contingents of the strength and status of the one they proposed sending. It is needless to say when a wave of excitement like this sweeps over a country, a great many will become so aroused that they will be unable to restrain their loyalty and devotion to their native land, and entirely forgetting that they were physically unfit to endure the many trying hardships of a campaign which severely test the most robust constitution, they volunteer in good faith to defend the nation's honour and integrity; to fight like heroes till victory crowns their arms or die martyrs to the cause of liberty and justice. Such individuals while good soldiers as far as courage and determination are concerned, too easily fall a victim of pestilence or disease, so the Department very wisely inaugerated a most stringent medical examination, which rejected those with any serious physical defects. The South African volunteer had to attain a certain standard in physique, health and military efficience before being accepted, and many a good man was left home through physical imperfection, of his ancestors. The Medical Officer would ask scores of questions, some of which were apparently irrevelant and unnecessary about yourself and your illustrious ancestors for generations back, and if any of them had the misfortune to have croup, whooping cough, or an ulcerated tooth, you were at once pronounced ilegible for service in the Orient. In view of such a searching examination, don't you think those who successfully passed it were justifiable in feeling just a little elated?? When I was summoned into the presence of this medical practitioner, I was just a little apprehensive as to the probability of being accepted. He first requested me to hop along the floor, barefooted, on one foot and then the other; then he closely examined my eyes and tested both them and my ears; he thumped me here, rapped my there, and punched me in somewhere else in a vain endeavor to find some flaw in my general composition; and finally he listened to the beating of my heart. I presume he thought if the heart retained its normal action under such exciting conditions, there wouldn't be the slightest possibility of a fellow falling a victim to nervous prostration, or succumbing to heart failure when in the midst of the awful din of battle. I believe he was right. When the ordeal was over, you may imagine my surprise when the surgeon not only passed me as fit, but complimented me. I was much amused when the Medical Officer, who was either innocent or believed me to be, requested me to show him any marks or scars whereby I could be identified were I to fall a victim of a Boer bullet. How ridiculously silly was such a statement; just as though they were going to consult a book as large as Webster's Dictionary or the Ency. Britt. to find out the scars that corresponded with those on my person. Oh no! This was not the reason, but rather if Johnny Canuck became right down sorry he ever joined the army, and took French leave, the authorities could inform all the police officers in the United Kingdom to be on the lookout for a man with such and such scars.

Only a short time elapsed from when we were examined and accepted till a message came from Headquarters, ordering us to mobilize in Montreal. In the meantime everything was hurry and bustle. On Tuesday, the 2nd day of January, we entrained for that city, having received a most enthusiastic "send-off" which was quite common at the time, having characterized every ovation of a similar nature all over Canada. The citizens turned out en masse, and were unable to restrain their enthusiasm. It was utterly impossible for us to parade in order to the depot. The ranks were torn asunder, the boys scattered like chaff before a tempest, and disorder rampant reigned supreme. The train was an hour late, and such an hour was never spent in Peterborough before. Everything was lawful or there was no law for anything. The night was bitterly cold, and the keen frosty wind seemed to play a doleful dirge, as it mournfully whistled among the numerous wires, and swept along the icy streets. The very stars fairly shivered as they peered through the frigid atmosphere. Jack Frost, like the inevitable small boy, was there, but the crowd so jostled the boys about, he was kept well in bounds and unceremoniously denied the privilege, or as some would say, honour, of paying his last tribute of respect to the departing soldier boys. I think the arrival of the snow-clad "Iron Horse" was hailed with delight, by the boys, although they were the recipients of every attention and hospitality entertained. A few cheers, a few tears, and a long, firm, handshaking farewell, and we slowly steamed out for Montreal, leaving many sorrowful friends behind, whose days and nights were to be full of anxiety and unrest, until our welcome return, if such should ever come. When liberated from the turmoil and confusion of the seething multitude, and leisurely reposing in a comfortable railway coach, our minds rapidly traversed land and sea, and filled with interesting and gruesome visions of tropical lands and bloody fields, and in an instant returned to our own town and homes. Thus in a moment's time we had mentally pictured the whole trip and cheered our sorrowing friends by our happy return. But alas! Fate seemed to have ordained it otherwise, for some were apparently destined to remain in Africa to sleep Death's sleep profound in a British soldier's grave.

But where could man die better than on the field of fray,
'Mid cannon's roar, and clash of arms and battle's grand army?
"He nobly dared to do or die!" Canadians will say,
As we were marching to Victory.

Would Have All Sufferers Know How He Banished Terrible Neuralgia and Dyspepsia.

Paine's Celery Compound

WAS THE GREAT DELIVERER AFTER FAILURES OF PHYSICIANS.

The Wells and Richardson Co., Limited:

Gentlemen, — Having suffered with neuralgia in the head for the last two years, I tested the skill of doctors and made use of many kinds of medicines as well as the electric battery, but got no relief from any of these sources. I decided to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial, as I noticed by the press that it was highly recommended for my troubles. I used several bottles and it cured the neuralgia as well as the dyspepsia from which I suffered. Now I am able to work all winter. In the past I had to lay off several months in the cold weather. I am happy to state that the neuralgia has not troubled me for over a year. I recommend Paine's Celery Compound to any one suffering as I did with terrible neuralgia and dyspepsia. I trust you will insert this letter in the press so that others may be benefitted.

Faithfully yours,
R. G. Morris.

Another Big Fish.

The Campbellford Herald says: — "On Friday last Mr. Archie Wood and Mr. Irvine Frederick were successful in capturing a larger maskinonge than the one they brought from Percy Boom two day's before. It measured 3 feet 7 inches in length, 16 1-2 inches round the body behind the gills, 18 1-2 inches its greatest measurement, and weighed 29 pounds. Mr. Wood took it to Peterborough to show it to some of his friends. One of our citizens who was at Bradley Bay the same day, says he saw one sunning itself on the surface of the water that would weigh one hundred pounds."

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

PRAISEWORTHY OBJECT

To Which the Funds Realised at Friday's Lawn Social Will be Donated.

There are many reasons why the entertainment in the beautiful grounds surrounding St. John's church should be well patronized by the citizens on Tuesday evening next, and chief among these is the fact that funds are sadly needed just at present by the Y.W.C.A. in carrying on the great and good work which has been undertaken. Month by month, as the members have laboured in carrying out the objects of the Association, they have become more fully aroused to the needs of the work, and are now endeavouring with a mighty effort to cope with the great evil which they are fighting against, by establishing a branch on George street, which is to be fitted up in a manner so attractive as to induce young girls to prefer to spend their evenings in the pretty rooms rather than strolling around the streets. There are many, many girls in town, who reside in boarding houses and there are many more, who are so situated as to make their homes an undesirable place in which to spend their evenings. To these then, the parlours, reading rooms and gymnasium of the George street branch of the Y.W.C.A. will be a boon indeed.

Then various clubs are being formed for reading, gymnasium work, etc., and the young women and girls of the town will have the benefit of systematic organization to assist them in their work.

The funds raised at Tuesday evening's lawn social are to be devoted to defraying the expense in part of fitting these rooms up and there are few in town who, under the circumstances, should begrudge a small donation to assist in so praiseworthy a work. The admission fee to the grounds is placed at the nominal sum of ten cents and arrangements have been made for the presence of the 57th band. All the members of the King's Daughters will assist in dispensing refreshments and many of the young ladies of other congregations have volunteered their services. Tea will be served from four o'clock in the afternoon.

Miller's Worm Powders correct all such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness, drowsiness, sallow complexion, etc.; nice to take. Sold by W. Madill.

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottleful wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant, and speedy cure. Large bottles 25c.

A CITY OF MOURNERS.

Last Sad Rites for President McKinley Begun at Buffalo.

THE FINAL FAREWELLS TAKEN.

Funeral Services at the House of Pan American President Milburn—Buffalo Citizens Gaze for the Last Time on the Face of the Honored Dead—To Washington, Then Canton, Ohio.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Buffalo yesterday became a city of mourners. The gay and flaming decorations of the Pan-American Exposition gave way to the symbol of sorrow. The black drapery of the city's streets muffled the tolling bell of the churches. Bits of crepe appeared on every sleeve. The sorrow was indescribable. In the morning a single service took place at the residence on Delaware avenue, where the martyred President died. A hymn was sung and prayer was offered over the dead body. That was all. Only the immediate family and friends and political associates of the late President were present. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the brawny shoulders of eight sailors and soldiers of the republic. The cortege passed through solid walls of living humanity, bareheaded and grief-stricken to the City Hall, where the body lay in state yesterday afternoon. There a remarkable demonstration occurred, which proved how close the President was to the hearts of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1.30 o'clock until about 5 o'clock, but when the body arrived the people were wedged into the streets for blocks as far as the eye could reach. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. When 5 o'clock came 40,000 people had already passed, and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed undiminished. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the streets were dense with people, and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and passed the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains, but thousands of disappointed ones were still in the streets.

Assembled in Silence.

At 9 o'clock long platoons of police officers, mounted and on foot, arrived on the ground and were posted in strong details along the streets approaching the Milburn house.

Even amid the stir of the assembling a solemn and awe-like silence prevailed, and the divisions of the escort came to their posts with silent bands. At 10.30 o'clock the military and naval detachment took temporary stations on West Ferry street immediately around the corner from the Milburn house.

Prominent Men.

Meantime the members of the Cabinet, officials high in the Government service and near friends of the martyred President began to fill the walks leading up to the entrance of the Milburn residence. They came separately and in groups, some walking while those in carriages were admitted within the roped enclosure up to the curb.

President Looked Grave.

It was just eight minutes before the opening of the service, when a covered barouche drove up to the house, bringing President Roosevelt, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, at whose home he is a guest. The President looked very grave. Word was passed up the well filled walk that the President had arrived, and those waiting to gain entrance fell back, making a narrow lane through which Mr. Roosevelt passed along to the house.

As the President passed within the house, and the services were about to begin, the long line of soldiers and sailors swung in column of fours into Delaware-avenue, and formed in battalion front along the beautiful thoroughfare opposite the house and immediately facing it.

Within the house of death was woe unspeakable. In the drawing room to the right of the hall, as President Roosevelt entered the dead President was stretched upon his bier. His head was to the rising sun. On the noble face, upturned to the creator, was written the story of the Christian forbearance with which he had met his martyrdom. "His will, not ours, be done," he had murmured when the dread messonger of death touched and summoned him. A calm and peaceful resignation, not of earth, was on the marble features. Death had emphansized the nobleness of his countenance. Only thinness of his face bore mute testimony to the patient suffering he had endured. He was dressed as he always did in life. The body lay in a black casket on a black bearskin rug. Over the lower limbs was flung the starry banner he had loved so well. The flowers were few, as befitted the simple nature of the man.

Two sentries, one from the sea and one from the land, guarded the remains. They stood in the window embrasures behind the head of the casket.

The family had taken leave of their loved one before the others arrived. Mrs. McKinley, the poor, grief-crushed widow, had been led into the chamber by her physician, Dr. Rixey, and had sat a while alone with him, who had supported and comforted her through all those sweet years of wedded life. But, though her support was gone, she had not broken down. Dry-eyed she had gazed upon him and fondled his face. She did not seem to realise that he was dead. Then she was led away by Dr. Rixey and took up her position at the head of the stairs, where she could hear the services.

Lead, Kindly Light.

Rev. Charles Edward Locke of the Delaware M. E. Church, who was to conduct the service, gave the signal, and there welled out from the hall the beautiful words of the "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by a quartette. It was President McKinley's favorite hymn. Half of those in the room put their faces in their hands to hide their scalding tears. President Roosevelt seemed to be swaying to and fro as if his footing was insecure.

When the singing ended the holy man lifted up his voice. He read from the word of God the 15th chapter of the first Corinthians. All had risen as he began and remained standing throughout the remainder of the service. "Oh, death where is thy sting; oh, grave, where is thy victory?" repeated the minister.

Again the voices rose with the words of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the very words President McKinley had repeated at intervals of consciousness during the day of agony before he died.

As the music died away the pastor spoke again. "Let us pray," he said, and every head fell upon its breast.

All present joined in the Lord's prayer as the minister repeated it, President Roosevelt's voice being audible at the back of the room. The service concluded with a simple benediction.

The casket was then removed to the City Hall, rain falling as the procession moved along. Just as the hall was reached the rain came down in torrents, but the spectators reverently stood with heads uncovered.

30,000 Grief-Stricken People.

The public reviewing of the remains began at 1.30 o'clock, and was continued until midnight, by which hour 30,000 people had gazed for the last time upon the face of him who was known in life as President William McKinley.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

Remains of the Late President Will Rest in Canton Wednesday Night.

Buffalo, Sept. 16.—The funeral procession will form early this morning and the body will be taken to the New York Central Station, where a special train will be in waiting to carry it to Washington, over the Pennsylvania Railroad through Harrisburg and Philadelphia. On the same train that bears the coffin will go the members of the Cabinet and of the President's family, as well as the committees to be appointed for the journey.

The funeral train will reach Washington this evening, and the President's body will be conveyed to the rotunda of the National Capitol.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The following official statement was given to the press last night:

In compliance with the earnest wishes of Mrs. McKinley that the body of her husband shall rest in her home at Canton, Wednesday night, the following changes in the obsequies of the late President will be made:

Funeral services in the rotunda of the Capitol will be held Tuesday morning, on the arrival of the escort, which will accompany the remains from the White House. The body of the late President will lie in state in the rotunda for the remainder of Tuesday and will be remainder of Tuesday and will be escorted to the railroad station Tuesday evening. The funeral train will leave Washington at or about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and thus will arrive at Canton during the day Wednesday.

English Court to Go Into Mourning.

London, Sept. 16.—King Edward has commanded the court to go into mourning for a week on account of the death of President McKinley.

The King a Mourner.

Copenhagen, Sept. 16.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra and other royal personages attended a memorial service for President McKinley held yesterday in the English Church.

Pope Wept at the News.

Rome, Sept. 16.—The Pope yesterday prayed for an hour for the soul of President McKinley. On receiving the news of the President's death His Holiness wept in uncontrollable emotion. All audiences at the Vatican have been suspended. The Pope has telegraphed his condolences to Buffalo.

Who Will Go for Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 16.—The question: Who will represent Canada at the funeral of President McKinley? is being asked pretty generally here. But in the absence of anybody qualified to speak on the subject it meets with no satisfactory answer, even in the way of conjecture. There is not a cabinet minister in town. All are in Quebec with the exception of Sir Richard Cartwright, who remains in Kingston. The most likely suggestion ventured is that the solemn mission will be entrusted to Hon. R. W. Scott, the Secretary of State, who is with his colleagues in Quebec.

Warren Richards Abrey of Gore Bay, has been appointed Registrar of Deeds and Local Master of Titles for Manitoulin District.

Trying to Place Him.

"Sir," cried the aggrieved stranger, "you have grossly insulted my chosen profession! I am an ornament of the stage, sir."

"Eh? Might I ask what your special line of entertainment is?"

"I hold the glass to nature, sir."

"Oh, I see, you are a blower."

"A blower, sir!"

"Yes; a glass blower."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What He Would Do.

"My poor, hungry man, if I were to give you a nickel what would you do with it?" inquired the lady with the angular smeller and the uncertain spectacles.

"I'll tell yer, mum," replied the gentleman with the straggling whiskers and yearning bread pouch. "I'll git a Turkish bath an buy a ottymubbile wid the change. Where's the ten, mum?"—Denver Times.

In Mistake

On Saturday we advertised Shetland Floss as sixteen ounces to the pound, whereas this wool varies from twelve ounces upward.

This unintentional mistake will be rectified now at the earliest possible moment; and those who purchased this wool after the advertisement was inserted Saturday night will, we hope, be good enough to call before Thursday night, present their bill and receive one skein in addition for every four purchased, and still a further skein will be given to every one of those purchasers, in slight remuneration for their trouble.

Or,

return the wool and we will cheerfully refund the money.

We will continue, however, to sell this best quality Three Bee Floss, so long as the stock lasts, at

THE PRICE OF COAL.

The price of coal continues to advance says the Weekly Sun, and an increase in price is predicted before the cold season begins. The price to the wholesale dealers has been advanced during the past year one dollar per ton, so that the increase in their price to the public cannot be called unreasonable. The responsibility for the increase rests upon the mine-owner and the railroads which carry their output. Both mines and railroads are now almost entirely under the control of a single corporation or trust, which fixes prices at its pleasure. To it an increase in price to the extent of one dollar a ton means enormous profits. One railroad, which lately sold out to the trust, paid its shareholders an amount equal to nearly 600 per cent. upon their stock, while a New York bank which had invested in coal properties paid its shareholders a dividend equal to nineteen times the amount of its capital. These profits are now being made up by the consumers of coal.

In New Zealand the Government has acquired control of a block of coal lands in order to protect the public against extortion. It is little wonder that proposals for similar action in the United States are now being made across the line.

A very unusual case was recently tried in the King's Bench, London. Suit was brought by the Incorporated Law Society against one of its members, Mr. Casson Perrot Smith, of Lincoln Inn Fields, solicitor, to show cause why he should not be suspended for professional misconduct. The London Review reports the case. The accused was legal adviser to a syndicate of money lenders. A young man named Isaacs borrowed money from them. At the interviews between the borrower and the lenders the accused was present, and was fully aware of the unconscionable rates of interest they charged. It was held by the Court that it was inconsistent with his duty as a member of a trusted and honourable profession to be a party to fleecing the young man.

Memorial to Mrs. Rogers.

Southampton has a new monument, a fine drinking fountain recently unveiled as a memorial to Mrs. Mary Ann Rogers, the heroic stewardess of the Stella, whose wreck on the Casquets on March 30, 1899, will be remembered. After the Stella struck, Mrs. Rogers quietly helped all the ladies in her charge to fasten on their life-belts, and finally, finding a young girl without a life-belt, Mrs. Rogers took off her own belt and tied it round the girl. When the last boat was leaving the sinking vessel the sailors shouted to her to jump in, but she refused because she thought there was no room, and went down with the ship. Subscriptions were taken up, this enduring monument was erected and some provision was made for the heroine's family.

Dolly Varden and Kate Nickleby.

Mr. Frith, the Royal Academician, once painted two pictures for Chas. Dickens. The subjects were selected by the novelist, and were Dolly Varden and Kate Nickleby. Dickens paid him $200 for the two, and after the novelist's death the former was sold for $5,000.

A WARM WELCOME IN STORE.

A Military Parade—Sunday Service for the Troops Assembled—Governor-General and Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Welcome Their Royal Highnesses on Board the Ophir.

Quebec, Sept. 16.—The troops from outside the city kept arriving all yesterday morning.

In the morning the 65th, most of the 9th Regiment and detachments from the other corps attended a grand mass at the Seminary Chapel, at which the Rev. Father O'Leary, chaplain of the 1st contingent, officiated. Detachments from the different regiments also attended the Methodist and Presbyterian services.

At 2 o'clock a parade service was held for the Protestant troops upon the Plains of Abraham. The men were formed up on three sides of a hollow square, facing inwards. On the right flank were the Army Medical Staff corps and the 2nd Canadian Artillery. On the Centre the Prince of Wales' Fusiliers, the 5th Royal Scots, the 53rd (Sherbrooke) and the 85th (St. Hyacinthe); on the left flank the Vics., and the 8th Royal Rifles.

To do fitting honor to the Duke and Duchess Quebec has made great preparations. The decorations throughout the city are of a most elaborate nature. Flags and banners float from every house.

The next day practically the same program will be carried out at the Capital of the Territories.

The foothills of the Rockies will be reached on Sept. 28. At Calgary the Duke will inspect the Northwest Mounted Police at 8.45; at 10 there will be a great assembly of Indian tribes and at 3 a typical Northwestern exhibition will be held.

Vancouver will be reached Sept. 30. Among the duties outlined are the opening of the new drill hall by the Duke, a visit to the Hastings sawmill and a drive through the park where there will be a large gathering of school children.

October 1 the Royal party will reach Victoria and drive through the city to the Oak Bay Hotel. At 1.30 the Duke will lunch with the admiral and at 4 open the Agricultural Exhibition. In the evening there will be an official dinner at Government House and a reception at the Legislative Buildings. THE STEEL STRIKE OVER.

Men Return to Work on Monday—Agreement Was Not Made Public, But Is Signed.

New York, Sept. 16.—The great steel strike, which began on June 30, was brought to an end in a conference held Saturday between the leaders of the Amalgamated Association and officers of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation.

An agreement was signed under which the men will return to work in the mills that have been idle on Monday morning. This announcement was made at the offices in this city of the American Tin Plate Company, where the conference was held, the representatives of the workingmen and the officers of the companies having been in conference from 9 a. m., excepting for an hour taken for luncheon.

Men Will Not Go Back.

Pittsburg, Sept. 16.—Matters pertaining to the settlement of the steel strike were in a very unsatisfactory state last night. When the telegraphic notice was sent out Saturday night by Secretary Williams to all vice-presidents declaring the strike at an end, it cannot be learned definitely that the official order has been issued by President Shaffer. Some of the local strikers declare that they have had no such notice, and many of them say they will not return to work, order or no order, unless they are recognized as union men.

AFTER A LAPSE OF MANY YEARS

A Letter Comes to Light Which Shows the Undoubted Permanency of Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Edward Patterson of Conboyville the Writer—Her High Opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills—Her Advice to Others.

Conboyville, Ont., September 15th, (Special.)—Mrs. Edward Patterson, of this town, is one of those who can testify to the lasting nature of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills, the great Canadian remedy for all affections of the Kidneys.

Mrs. Edward Patterson, according to her own statement, is to-day in splendid health. Her rheumatism has left her and although it is ten years since then, it has never returned beyond a slight touch in cold weather, which a Dodd's Kidney Pill or two immediately drives away. This proves what has always been claimed—that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure permanently. Their effects are lasting—in fact they do not merely relieve—they cure. Here is Mrs. Patterson's letter:—

"It is many years, perhaps ten or twelve, since I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and then it was not for Rheumatism that I took them. I was feeling miserable, did not know what ailed me, and while reading a paper I saw the testimony of some one who had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, who had been feeling just as I was. I got a box and found they helped me. I found also that my Rheumatism was not nearly so bad, for I had suffered for many years especially in cold weather. I have used dozens of bottles of medicines and liniments, but it always returned until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I seldom have a touch of it. I occasionally get a box, perhaps two a year. I never hear anyone complain of Rheumatism but I advise them to try Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Socialists Arrested in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Sept. 16.—Some De Leon Socialists publicly approved of the shooting of President McKinley in Hamilton, and on Saturday night Lockhart M. Gordon, Hamilton; Fred Appleton, London; Isaac Shappiro, Alex. McKenzie, George McNeal and Isaac Sherwood, street speakers of Hamilton, were arrested. All the prisoners except McNeal were bailed out on Sunday and they will appear before the magistrate today.

When you feel weak, run down, nervous, unable to work, or think, as you ought, take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll build your health up and give you strength and energy.

Woman's Priceless Pearl

The greatest menace to happiness is her health. The gravest menace to her health is Kidney Disease. Mrs. Young says South American Kidney Cure is a "priceless pearl." So it is.

Mrs. A. E. Young, Barnston, Que., says: "It is seven months since I took my last dose of South American Kidney Cure and I have not had the slightest symptom of the aggravating Kidney trouble from which I suffered so many years. I paid doctors a small fortune without any permanent results. This great remedy is a "priceless pearl" for women suffering as I did."

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

Boarders.

"Those boarders are continually boasting about their boarding houses, but I think they are on the queerest competition now."

"What is it?"

"They are trying to convince each other that their particular boarding place eats up the shortest shortcake."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Loss of Flesh.

If you find yourself falling below normal weight there is danger. The use of fish oils can temporarily add fat, but will never build up healthy tissues. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts through the blood and nervous system and carries new life and energy to every nook and corner of the body. It regulates the various organs of the body, makes the appetite good, adds healthy flesh, and replaces the tissues wasted by disease. Naturally and gradually this food cure restores colour to the cheeks, increases the weight of the body and thoroughly overcomes disease.

M'KINLEY YET LIVES.

President Roosevelt Will Continue His Policy Absolutely.

INVITES OLD CABINET TO STAY.

Theodore Roosevelt Sworn in as Constitutional President of the United States—Secretary Root in Asking Him to Assume the Duties of the Office Was Very Much Moved.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—President Theodore Roosevelt, in taking the oath of office Saturday afternoon, announced that his energies were all to be directed to continuing the policies to which President McKinley was committed, and to continue them as nearly as possible in the way in which he believed President McKinley would have done.

There was a Cabinet meeting immediately after the ceremony of the taking of the oath, after which it was authoritatively announced that President Roosevelt had asked the members of President McKinley's Cabinet to aid him in carrying on President McKinley's work by retaining their present places even at some personal sacrifice to themselves. President Roosevelt will go to Washington with the body of President McKinley.

The ceremony took place in a front room of the home of Mr. Ansley Wilcox, at 641 Delaware-avenue.

A few minutes after 2 o'clock Col. Roosevelt reached the Wilcox house in a carriage, accompanied by Mr. Wilcox and Judge John R. Hazel of the United States District Court. The members of President McKinley's cabinet arrived soon afterward, and then came a number of the new President's friends.

The members of the cabinet had preceded the other guests. All of them were present except Secretary Gage and Secretary Hay. Secretary Root advanced to Col. Roosevelt and led him to one side for a moment, speaking with him in a low tone. Their arms were affectionately linked during the conversation.

A minute or two after 3.30 o'clock Secretary Root released the President's arm and stepped back toward the middle of the room. The President turned around and stood before the high window.

"Mr. Vice-President," Secretary Root began, "I—" Here the Secretary of War choked, he dropped his head and was silent for almost two minutes. No one stirred. Mr. Roosevelt's eyes filled with tears and his face was set in a stern effort at self-control. Mr. Root raised his head, and in a voice that was tremulous with feeling, but speaking with the utmost deliberation and clearness, continued:

"I have been requested on behalf of the Cabinet of the late President, at least on behalf of those who are present in Buffalo all except two, to request that for reasons of weight affecting the Administration and the Government you take the constitutional office of President of the United States."

Judge Hazel stepped forward and stood beside Secretary Root, facing Mr. Roosevelt. The new President reached up and took hold of the lapel of the frock coat which he wore, and after one or two quick efforts to control himself began speaking. He, too, had difficulty in governing his voice and in keeping down his emotion. He spoke very slowly. He said:

"I shall take the oath at once in response to your request; and in this hour of deep and terrible national bereavement I wish to state that it shall be my aim to continue absolutely unbroken the policy of President McKinley for the peace and prosperity of our beloved country."

Mr. Roosevelt stepped back into the recess of the window, and Judge Hazel advanced toward him. In the Judge's hand was an engrossed copy of the oath.

"Please raise your right hand and repeat after me," said Judge Hazel. Mr. Roosevelt raised his hand. Judge Hazel read the oath clause by clause and phrase by phrase, and at each pause, President Roosevelt, with an intense earnestness which has always characterized him when speaking, repeated the words:

"I, Theodore Roosevelt, do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute," said the new President, and then the oath continued, "the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

"And thus I swear," added the new President after a pause before he dropped his hand to his side. There were sounds which told that he was not the only one who had not been able to maintain his composure. It was fully three minutes before he raised his head and spoke.

"Now," he said questioningly to Judge Hazel:

"Mr. President," said Judge Hazel, handing the engrossed oath to him, "please attach your signature."

The President turned to a table near the window and wrote near the bottom of the document in the homely characters which have always distinguished his handwriting, "Theodore Roosevelt."

President Roosevelt's first cabinet meeting was held in the same room in which he had been sworn in. It lasted for nearly an hour. When it was over it was announced with authority that the deliberations had all tended toward ascertaining the best way in which the sentiment which the President had expressed in accepting office might be carried into action. It was agreed in the consultation that the first and most important step was the retention in office of all the members of President McKinley's cabinet.

The members of the cabinet are urged to retain their portfolios, even at the expense to themselves of some personal sacrifice. It was announced that the President had received assurances from Secretary Hay and Secretary Gage that they would follow the same course.

First Proclamation.

President Roosevelt's first proclamation reads:

By the President of the United States of America:

—A PROCLAMATION.—

A terrible bereavement has befallen our people. The President of the United States has been struck down; a crime committed not only against the Chief Magistrate, but against every law-abiding and liberty-loving citizen.

President McKinley crowned a life of largest love for his fellow men, of most earnest endeavor for their welfare, by a death of Christian fortitude; and both the way in which he lived his life and the way in which the supreme hour of trial he met his death will remain forever a precious heritage of our people. It is meet that we, as a nation, express our abiding love and reverence for his life, our deep sorrow for his untimely death.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do appoint Thursday next, Sept. 19, the day on which the body of the dead President will be laid in its last earthly resting place, as a day of mourning and prayer throout the United States. I earnestly recommend all the people to reassemble on that day in their respective places of divine worship, there to bow down in submission to the will of Almighty God, and to pay out of full hearts their homage of love and reverence to the great and good President, whose death has smitten the nation with bitter grief.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, the fourteenth day of September A.D. one thousand nine hundred and one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

[Seal] Theodore Roosevelt.

By the President, John Hay, Secretary of State.

Will Be Indicted To-Day.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The assassin Czolgosz does not know yet that President McKinley is dead and probably will not know until he is arraigned for trial for murder. He will be indicted by the grand jury probably to-day and the case will then be immediately removed to the Supreme Court. The arraignment will take place in that court.

As to Emma Goldman, the situation stands unchanged, the police holding there is not sufficient evidence on which to ask for her extradition.

One Anarchist Lynched

Washington, Sept. 16.—Chief Wilkie of the Secret Service last night received a despatch from United States Marshall Foraker, at Albuquerque, N. M., stating that Antonio Maggio, the cornettist, who was alleged to have predicted that the President would be killed before October, and to have expressed regret that he was not the man who was to do the killing, has been lynched.

Arrests That Saved the Czar.

Paris, Sept. 16.—The Patrie publishes a despatch from Marseilles asserting that sensational arrests made there by the police yesterday frustrated a plot to assassinate the Czar.

Alcoholism Can Be Cured

REV. FATHER QUINLIVAN'S ADVICE.

To whom it may concern: The good points of Mr. Dixon's new discovery for the cure of the liquor habit in my opinion, are the following: First, if taken according to directions it completely removes all craving for liquor in the short space of three days; its use for a longer time is intended only to build up the system. Second, it leaves no bad after effects, but on the contrary aids in every way the health of the patient, whilst freeing him from the desire for drink. Third, the patient may use it without interfering with his business, or leaving his home. All other liquor cures I have yet heard of are very costly, operate slowly, are doubtful as to effects and often impair the health and constitution of the patient. I therefore look upon the remedy as a real boon, recommend it heartily to all concerned, and bespeak for it here in Montreal and elsewhere every success. J. Quinlivan, S. S., Pastor of St. Patrick's, Montreal.

Full particulars of this new medicine mailed free to all applicants. Address, Mr. Dixon, 81 Willcocks st., Toronto, Ont.

ALMOST A DROWNING.

Two Spillsbury Boys who got Into Little Lake on Saturday.

What would certainly have proved to be a double drowning accident, and which was only prevented by the timely arrival of Mr. T. Laplante, occurred at about 4 o'clock in Little Lake, on Saturday afternoon.

It appears that a number of young boys, including Masters Vernon and Ormond Spillsbury, the 7 and 9 year old sons, respectively, of Mr. Geo. Spillsbury, Perry street, were playing on the logs belonging to Mr. A. McDonald, in Little Lake. The two Spillsbury boys in some manner fell into the water and Vernon, the younger, went underneath the logs. The cries of the remainder of the contingent attracted the attention of young Mr. Laplante who was at his own home not far away, and he immediately dashed to the rescue. He at once plunged into the water and rescued the elder of the two. Some little difficulty was experienced, however, in getting the other lad out, and it was not until he dived under the logs that he found him. The boy had, of course, by this time taken in considerable water and was in an unconscious state. However, means of resuscitation were employed and the boy was soon brought back to his natural condition.

The bravery Mr. Laplante displayed and the prompt manner in which he came to the rescue is highly praised, and his pluck should be recognized by those whose duty it is to reward such deeds.

PASSED THEIR EXAMS.

Successful Pupils at the Nicholls Hospital Training School.

In the Examiner's report of the examinations, in connection with the Nicholls Hospital training school for nurses, which was published on Saturday, the names of those who were successful in passing their examinations were not given in order of merit. The following young ladies have passed in the order named:—Miss Staples, Miss Finley, Miss Reid, Miss Moloney, Miss Carney, Miss Wilkinson.

The examining physicians were, Dr. Pigeon, Dr. Caldwell, Dr. Greer and Dr. Carmichael.

The Examiner regrets that the names were inadvertantly inserted in their wrong order in Saturday's issue.

The young ladies are to be congratulated on the excellent showing they made which speaks volumes for the institution in which they have received their training, and which has during its existence turned out so many trained nurses most of whom are now holding prominent and responsible positions throughout Canada and the United States.

CHURCH CHIMES.

During the offertory in the George street church on Sunday morning Mr. Mulligan sang a solo, "Pilot Me."

At all the church services yesterday feeling reference was made to the assassination of President McKinley.

The morning anthem in the George street church was "Lamb of God," by Sheppard. The obligato solo was sung in good voice by Miss Metheral.

The evening anthem in the George street church was "God is Love," the solo by Mr. Mulligan. During the offertory "Hope in Heaven," was sung, the duet being taken by Miss M. Metheral and Miss Nina Grey.

The anthem, "Heaven is my Home," was nicely rendered by All Saints' choir last evening, Mr. Albert Brundrette taking the bass solo. This was Mr. Brundrette's first attempt at solo work, and he certainly won golden opinions of all by his ability as a soloist.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The anthem at Charlotte street church yesterday morning was "I will praise Him," with obligato solo by Mr. A. L. Davis, and duet by Miss Hendren and Mr. Davis. During the ofertory Miss Hendren sang "Just for to-day." In the evening the anthem "Lead kindly light" was sung, Miss Hendren taking the solo. During the offertory the quartette "Angels sleep" was rendered by Misses Stephens and Hendren and Messrs. Davis and Skitch.

MARK STREET CHURCH.

On Sunday morning the pulpit was ably filled by Rev. J. Kilgour, and in the evening the pastor delivered a stirring and interesting temperance, or rather prohibition sermon. The startling evils of the liquor traffic were plainly presented, and each one was urged to do his duty in striving to drive out the traffic.

Sunday, September 29th, will be rally day in the Sabbath School. In the morning at eleven o'clock, the pastor will preach a special sermon. The members of the school will occupy the centre seats. In the afternoon, the review of the quarter's lessons will be conducted by the teachers, each taking one lesson. There will be a roll-call, and it is hoped there will be a large response.

The W. M. S. will hold a Fruit Social at Mrs. Wand's, next Thursday evening, Sept. 19th, at 7.30. Fruit will be served, and a choice musical and literary programme given. A good time is expected.

RAN OUT OF WATER.

An Engine had to Leave a Train on the Track.

The Belleville train was an hour late in reaching Peterborough this morning, through the fact that the engine of a preceding freight train ran out of water and had to leave the track blockaded with cars between Hoard's and Campbellford until it ran into Hastings and renewed its supply at the tank.

An effort was made to push the freight train ahead of the express up the grade to Campbellford, but the locomotive was not equal to the double task, and so had to run back to Hoard's with both trains, leaving the freight there and then coming on through to Peterborough with the express.

CHARGED WITH TRESPASS.

Wm. Stevenson's Wife Thinks She Can Get Along Herself.

Wm. Stevenson, whose occupation until recently was that of an ash buyer, appeared in the Police Court this morning, charged with trespassing on the premises of his wife and mother-in-law. It appears that some time ago Stevenson and his wife dissolved domestic partnership. The husband went away and the wife moved her belongings to another house, and thought that she was going to live a life of peace, for she alleges that the intemperance of her husband caused her much trouble. However, Stevenson came back to town, regretted the bargain he had made, and attempted to force his company upon his wife and mother-in-law, who are living on Harvey street north. Saturday night the climax was reached, and Stevenson was summoned to appear on a charge of trespass.

At the Police Court this morning he appeared to give an account of his doings.

The case was enlarged until Thursday.

PETERBOROUGH'S MODERN STORE.

FALL WEATHER AND FALL GOODS

Are everywhere in evidence now, and the Fall Trade is on. Many particular ladies are buying already—they know stocks are more complete now than they will be at any time this season, and first choice is worth looking after. The Fall Season is right on. We are going to have our Millinery Openings on Tuesday, September 24th—that's Tuesday of next week—so come and see our assortments now. We have many novelties that you won't be able to see later, so buy now.

DRESS GOODS.

Our Dress Goods Section is a busy place these days. Such an array of pretty things we are showing for fall. There's the Homespun Tweeds for Tailor-made Suits and separate Skirts. Friezes, Hopsacks, and then for the more dressy suits we have the fine satin-finished Broadcloths, beautiful goods that we guarantee not to lose the bright, glossy sheen, and will not spot with either snow or rain. This particular line is a good wide width, and the price is $1.25 per yard. We have also lots of the lower priced ones. We make a specialty of Dress Goods at 20c per yard. Come and see our assortment—we won't press you to buy.

REAL LACE OR PLAIN.

In our line of Handkerchiefs we made as broad a selection as possible. Our care was especially given to real Linen Handkerchiefs, both plain and with lace trimmings. We have a beautiful Hemstitched Handkerchief, good linen too, which we are selling at 15½c each, and plenty of other equal bargains.

FALL JACKETS.

This is going to be a jacket season. Everybody will want a new Jacket this season. The styles are so different to what have been worn. We find ourselves in a particularly good shape to do the Jacket Trade of this city again this season. Our Jackets are the very newest models for 1901—2. We went all the way to Berlin to get them. We got them at a time when we knew what the proper styles for this season would be, not six or nine months before the styles are settled for the season. We have the assortment to give you an immense choice. Our prices are decidedly lower than others, quality considered.

FLUFFY LINGERIE.

Here's a line that we make a specialty of—Ladies' Muslin Underwear and Corsets. Our Underwear is made with pretty trimmings to suit the most fastidious. Rev. Jonathan Bastow's Interesting Discourse.

THE RE-OPENING SERVICES.

Special Music by the Choir—The Church has Been Considerably Enlarged.

Yesterday marked an important epoch in the history of the Murray street Baptist church, it being the occasion of the re-opening of the church, which doing the past summer has been undergoing extensive enlargements and improvements.

To-day the Murray street edifice presents a more commodious appearance than heretofore, and in the rather extensive contract that has been undertaken, pastor, church officials and church members entered into the work with great enthusiasm. An addition of twenty feet has been built to the front of the church, which now gives a beautiful large entrance to the body of the church, or the basement below. Two handsome stairways, one to the right and one to the left, enables one to ascend to the entrance of the church up-stairs. The woodwork is finished in the natural colour, and is very attractive looking, to say the least. Then to the rear end of the church has been added about 25 feet, the entire width of the original structure. Down-stairs to the west is a large class room capable of accommodating four Sunday school classes. In the centre are the furnace and the closets, whilst to the east is a very commodious kitchen. Up-stairs the new addition affords an excellent ladies' parlour, the pastor's study and two dressing rooms. These apartments are finished in a superb manner. The entire work was under the superintendence of Mr. James Montgomery, who sub-let the work to the following contractors: Brickwork, John J. Hartley; stonework, Messrs. Sherwood & Dobson; plastering, William Henry; painting, Ralph Carton.

One of the greatest improvements, however, is the addition of an elegant new pipe organ, an extended description of which appeared in the Examiner some weeks ago.

THE RE-OPENING.

The re-opening services were marked by special sermons by Rev. Jonathan Bastow, pastor of the church, who preached eloquent and appropriate discourses both morning and evening. The music, too, was of a very special nature, and was much appreciated by the large congregations that were present on both occasions.

The morning sermon was on the advantages of public worship. The pastor took his text from Nehemiah x, 39: "We will not forsake the house of our God."

He said in substance: These are the words of Nehemiah and his fellow-countrymen in the year B.C., 45. They had reconstructed the temple at Jerusalem in the face of great obstacles. They had also built the walls of their beloved city in the face of great opposition, in the marvellously short time of 52 days. They knew very well that their beautiful temple had been destroyed, their capital city, and their beloved land laid waste, and their countrymen carried away in captivity to Babylon, through the neglect of the true worship of God and the general prevalence of idolatry amongst them. They knew, too, that the only way to regain industrial or national prosperity was to return heartily and unitedly to the pure worship of Jehovah. On this account they now entered into a new and very solemn covenant with one another, and with God. Part of this covenant is expressed in our text, "We will not forsake the house of our God."

"Every reader of the Bible knows that in the history of the Jewish people their prosperity was increased by their fidelity to God and His worship. When they were faithful, God richly blessed them; when they left God, then He sent leanness into their souls and desolation into their land. The resolution, therefore, expressed in the text was indispensable to their future prosperity, but remember it is as essential for our well being as individuals, as a community, and as a nation, as it ever was for them. I wish, therefore, on this occasion, at the re-opening of our sanctuary, to point out what I believe to be several excellent reasons why we should adopt this text as a life long motto."

Mr. Bastow then pointed out that attendance upon public worship was essential for the preservation of the Christian Sabbath, and for the improvement of the social nature, and the preservation of the health of the body, and intellectual culture, and the highest form of morality. But, he said, the crowning reason why we should not forsake the house of God is that the supreme aim of public worship is the salvation of men; it is to bring the prodigal sinner back to his Heavenly Father's heart and home. It is to secure the forgiveness of sin, and to take away the love of sin; it is to destroy the power of evil habit, and to give men the power to live righteous lives. It is to plant in the heart love for God, and love for all his creatures—a love that will prompt man to give a helping hand to us, as he can to all those who need it; it is to fit man finally to go home to Heaven and be with the Lord. The religion we preach in this pulpit goes to man's fountain head—the heart. It plants divine life there; it brings the will of man into subjection of the will of God. It cleanses the conscience. It sweetens the temper and disposition. It gives the right direction to all man's plans, purposes and activities. It transfigures him into the likeness of Christ and finally puts him by the side of Christ in Heaven.

To accomplish these objects will be the supreme aim of all the services in this church. To do it more extensively and efficiently we have made these enlargements and improvements. The means we employ are of divine appointment and are best suited to the end we have in view. We know that as long as we wisely use them in humble dependence on God and cherish a desire for His glory, for the salvation of men, we may confidently expect His help. We believe, also, that our aim is sufficiently good and beneficient to entitle us to your sympathy and co-operation. We want your presence and assistance. Those of you who have no established religious home we cordially invite to make your home with us. Here there will always be a hearty welcome for strangers. God is the Father of us all. This is His house, we dedicate it now to Him. We want every man, woman and child in Peterborough, who comes here, to feel thoroughly at home in the Father's house. We hold ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. Our seats are all free, courteous ushers will always show you to a seat—of course, you know that no such enterprise as this can be carried on without money. You are reasonable men and women, and therefore we shall expect you cheerfully and voluntarily to assist us with your means as far as you are able—we trust that the blessing will be far richer to you than anything that the services can cost you.

To you, members of the church, let me say that this re-opening services makes us happy to-day. This is a dear spot to us. We are in the old Sanctuary, still only enlarged and beautified. This place has been the gate of Heaven to many of you repeatedly. A goodly number of you found Christ here. Here many a burden has been lifted from your souls and many perplexing questions have been settled. Here you have found strength to meet the temptations and trials of life cheerfully and victoriously. Now, when we dedicate the Sanctuary afresh let us re-consecrate ourselves anew to God and to His service. Let us pray that God may reveal His glory, and His saving power as we have never seen it before and let us do all we can to save the lost and prepare them for Heaven.

THE MUSIC.

The music at the services was of an exceptionally high order, and reflected much credit upon the members of the choir, as well as those who have been instructing them of late. Miss Agar very ably presided at the organ throughout the day.

At the morning service Miss Florence Carolyn Hall and Mr. Sidney Mitchell rendered admirably the duet by Fearis, entitled, "Need Thee." The anthem in the morning was "Son of my Soul," in which Miss Hall, with her usual richness of voice, took the solo.

The solo in the evening was Hearis' "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and was taken by Miss Hall. The anthem, "Let Thy Merciful Ears, O Lord," was rendered, Miss Hall once more taking the solo.

The choir has been under the directorship of Prof. Glidden for some time past.

This evening an organ recital and sacred concert will be given in the church by Mr. A. S. Vogt, of the Conservatory of Music, Toronto, assisted by local talent.

Kingston is not a whit behind. 'Bowling' goes on every night throughout the year till 11 o'clock, and often all night, for some bars never close."

—A subscriber to the Dan Spence Memorial Fund asked the Examiner the other day what his chances were for getting back the amount he subscribed towards the erection of a suitable memorial to the gallant young man who fell in South Africa. Of course the question was most perplexing and no satisfactory answer was forthcoming. However, most of those who subscribed will very shortly be forgetting that there ever was such a fund unless some move is made in the matter before long.

The Rugby Men had a Good Practice.

Interesting News for the Lovers of Sport—Bowling, Lacrosse etc.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The local team had an excellent practice on the Nicholls oval on Saturday afternoon. There were twenty men out including every member of the Peterborough team excepting Crowley who could not possibly get out. The boys chose up sides and went into the game with great spirit. The sides were as follows:—Half backs—Hal. Burnham, Harold Armstrong, Claude Rogers. Quarter—Patterson. Forwards—Bill Dainard, Geo. Revell, Frank Burnham, Wally Parnell, Herb. Wood, "Mac" Morden and Dunford.

Half backs — Andy Scott, Chris. Graham, Ben Simpson. Quarter — Norman Bell. Forwards — Rolly McWilliams, Hurtuboise, "Bill" Meagher, Bruce Rickey, Bert. Cameron Lee and Walkey.

The officials were, referee, Vic. McWilliams; umpire, H. R. H. Kenner; touch line judges, S. G. Cowan and A. E. Brundrette.

The boys will practice on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week from five o'clock until sundown, with a special practice on Saturday afternoon.

BOWLING.

Bowlers will regret to learn that the Belleville Club find it impossible to get their players together for a trip out to Peterborough. Negotiations are being entered into with some of the Toronto Clubs and a "bonspeil" will probably take place next week, if half a dozen rinks can be persuaded to come down from the city.

Lawyers vs. Bankers. His Honour Judge Weller will skip a picked rink from the legal profession against W. D. Parker's team. The Judge's players will be Messrs. Hatton, Edmison and Johnston. Mr. Parker has Messrs. Armstrong, Complin and McHarrie. The game should be a good one.

LACROSSE.

In the eleven games played by the Port Hope Ontarios this season, ten have been victories and the total number of goals scored are 91 against 18. Not a bad record.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"Jim McCabe, of the old Peterborough team, came in to see the game yesterday. He thinks the Ontarios are capable of winning out in Beaverton if they play as fast as they did in the last period. He claims Port Hope to be the best team of the two, and attributes their small score to not having those spiked shoes. He is about right too."

The Beaverton and Port Hope teams will come together on Tuesday at Beaverton. The Port Hope team has a lead of only one goal. Messrs. R. M. Glover and Jack McCabe, of town, will play with Port Hope.

Here's what "Cully" Robertson says: "In a recent lacrosse match at Chesley between Owen Sound and Wiarton, supporters of the former team clubbed the Wiartons whenever they got them near the fence, and generally maltreated them. This sounds uncommonly like the tale of the Orillia-Peterborough match at Peterborough, which was a red-letter day in the life and times of Boulton R. Kean."

HOCKEY.

The Toronto Telegram says: "Walter Phelan, the erstwhile Peterborough hockey player, after an absence of two years, passed through the city this morning on his way east to visit the home of his childhood, where he spent so many happy, happy days. Mr. Phelan is now engaged in the steel business, and 'tis an open secret that Pierpont Morgan never made a move without first consulting Canada's greatest forward player.

"When asked regarding the story that Canadian Hockey players did not go to Pittsburg for their health alone Walter drew himself up and emphatically declared that no one was getting the coin down there, and he ought to know. It is said that his first act after reaching Peterborough was to enquire kindly about the Colonel's horse and he heaved a sigh as he thought of the many joyous days he spent at Camp Niagara feeding it with new mown hay and four-leaf clover."

Y.M.C.A. GYMNASTICS.

All those who intend taking in the Gymnasium classes at the Y.M.C.A. the coming season, are asked to register in their class at rooms between now and October 1st. Enrolment is rapidly proceeding in all classes of the department. Have you registered?

RUNNING.

The only entry so far received for the Schneider Cup Competition is that of George Taylor, of town. The race, or rather series of races is open to the County, and entries may be made with Mr. W. Sailsbury, of town.

SCULLING.

An exchange says: George Towns, has defeated Gaudaur and will most likely defeat Eddie Durnan; but let him beware lest he run foul of "Father" Complin, the boy champion of the Otonabee, who has taken a solemn vow that sooner or later — probably later — he will bring the coveted championship to the Electric Town.

HE WANTED TO CATCH FISH

But Was Disappointed Through the Mistake of a Small Boy.

"No, I didn't catch a blessed fish," laughed the truthful man who had just returned from his vacation. "I will admit that I started out with the idea of breaking all known records, but I got discouraged right at the start, and all the fish that I expected to catch are still enjoying life. When I arrived at my destination, I was told that if I needed angleworms I could get them of a small boy who made a business of furnishing them to ambitious anglers. I looked him up at once and asked him if he could get me some.

"'Do you want the 10 cent kind or the 25 cent kind?' he asked.

"'What kind would you advise?' said I, vastly amused at the serious way he put the question.

"'Well,' said he, 'if you want worms to drown, the 10 cent kind will do, but if you want worms to catch fish you'd better take the 25 cent kind.'

"I gravely assured him that I needed the 25 cent kind, got them and spent the rest of a boiling hot day drowning the worms that he had furnished me. On my way to my boarding place, with nothing in my hands but my fishing rod, I met the small boy, who, after solemnly surveying me for a moment, fished out from a pair of ragged trousers three dirty nickels and handed them to me, saying:

"'I don't want to cheat you, mister.'

"The very fear of once more meeting that small boy empty handed kept me from trying my luck again."—Detroit Free Press.

New Vital Force for Cells and Tissues.

Chronic Disease Overthrown and the Whole System Revitalised and Reconstructed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away, and destroying of the tissues of the body, and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. This wasting process may attack the lungs, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, or, as is most frequently the case, result in collapse of the nervous system, prostration, paralysis, or insanity.

You may rest assured that disease will search out your weak spot and gradually gain the upper hand. Nature alone cannot end this wasting process. External assistance is absolutely necessary, as you know too well, if you have been observant of what is going on around you. As a result of centuries of investigation and research, science now offers certain restoratives and revitalisers which have a wonderfully beneficial effect on a weakened and run-down system. These are combined in the most successful proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is by far the most thoroughly effective tissue builder and nerve restorative that is known to the medical profession today.

Mr. Joseph Geroux, 22 Metcalf street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:—

"I was nervous, had headache and brain fag. I was restless at night and could not sleep. My appetite was poor, and I suffered from nervous dyspepsia. Little business cares worried and irritated me. After having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two months, I can frankly say that I feel like a new man. My appetite is good, I rest and sleep well, and this treatment has strengthened me wonderfully. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine I ever used, and I say so because I want to give full credit where it is due."

At least nine-tenths of the ailments from which people are suffering and dying to-day are the result of thin, watery blood, exhausted nerve force, and general debility of the body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stops this wasting process, puts new life and energy into the wasted nerve cells, fills the shrivelled arteries with rich life-sustaining blood, and overcomes disease. It will be interesting to note the gradual increase in weight while using the famous food cure.

Had the Proof With Him.

A man came into the waterworks office the other day and said he wanted to make a complaint. He was an excited man who breathed hard and seemed anxious to have his case attended to at once.

"Say," he remarked as he passed a large colored handkerchief around his generous expanse of neck, "I want to complain of a woman who wastes the city water, and I want you to go right up there and shut it off."

The clerk at once scented a neighborhood quarrel, with an incidental desire for a petty revenge.

"How do you know she wastes the water?" he asked.

The complainant's face grew dark.

"How do I know it?" he cried. "Why, she threw a bucket of it on me!"

The clerk kept a straight face.

"Have you any proof of the charge?" he asked, with a serious air.

"Proof!" echoed the complainant. "You bet I've got proof! I ran all the way down here so's you could see how wet I am!"

Then he departed, highly satisfied with the promise that the case would be investigated.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rigidly Conforming.

"Ginevra," pleaded the young man, trying to take her hand, "I can no longer stifle the emotions of my heart! Dearest, I"—

"Ernest," coldly interrupted the heroine of the modern novel, folding her arms and skillfully side stepping, "you seem to have forgotten that the new mission of fiction is to portray the abnormal and to deal with problems. Love has no place in it. Kindly oblige me by giving me your theory concerning the strange attraction which the climbing of icy mountain peaks has for so many persons who appear to be otherwise sane."—Chicago Tribune.

Her Chicago Fins.

"Yeaum."

"Because if you were not you would never have got through the canals."—New York Marine Journal.

The Asthmatic's Agony.

Wakeful nights, suffocating sensations, difficult breathing. Who can describe it? This disease, partly nervous, partly congestive, partly the result of microbic irritation, is no longer treated by nauseous stomach destroying drugs, but by Catarrhozone, that destroys the microbe, relieves congestion and relaxes the nervous irritability that renders breathing so difficult. The medication is carried by the air you breath to the very seat of the disease, and removes at once the cause. The great discovery is known as Catarrhozone. Its influence upon Asthma is simply marvellous. Catarrhozone prevents as well as cures, and is the only remedy guaranteed to cure. Your money back if it fails. Two sizes at all dealers, 25c. and $1.00.

Suppressing Cruelty.

Many a man who would be ashamed to strike a brute beast with a bludgeon has no shame in making a bludgeon of his tongue to strike human beings in the tender places of their being—their social sensibilities and their self esteem. Cruelty in its gross and outward forms we have in good measure suppressed, but the refined cruelty of the bitter word, the unloving censure, the abusive harangue, is not yet extinct. Let us be as careful of men's inner skin as of their outer.—Exchange.

PICKING THE NOSE is a common symptom of worms. Mothers who suspect their child is troubled with worms should administer Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. It is pleasant, safe and effectual. m

THE NEW EVE TO THE OLD ADAM.

I charge thee, love, set not my sin too low.
If through the cycling ages I have been
A partner in thy ignorance and sin,
So through the centuries that ebb and flow
I must, with thee, God's secrets seek to know.
Whate'er the conflict I will help to win
Our conquest over foes without—within—
And where thou goest, beloved, I will go.

Set no dividing line between the twain
Whose aim and end are manifestly one.
Whate'er my loss it cannot be thy gain.
Wedded the light and heat that makes life's sum;
Not thine the glory and not mine the shame.
We build the world together in one name.

The Street Car To Topo Chico

WHY PATRICIA ROBBED THE DRIVER.

BY JOHN H. RAFFERTY.

Four miles above Monterey toward Topo Chico, uplifted from the dust and dead heat of the plain, lies the hacienda of Jose del Casa, the alcalde. His white home sits enshrined in a wilderness of green, encinctured by 5,000 acres of vines and corn lands and billowing meadows that reach from edge to edge of the steep walled table fountain of which his estate is the crown and glory.

Patricia, his only child, 18, with sloe black eyes, hair like a stormcloud and the oval, luminous face of a Botticelli Madonna, had spent three years with the Ladies of the Sacred Heart in Paris. She had seen the boulevards and sniffed from afar the gallantry and gayety of the French capital. Therefore she yearned and moped amid the desolate splendor of her Mexican home.

Have you ever seen the queer little street car line with its tandem of small brown mules that runs, or, rather, creeps, between the Hotel Hidalgo, on the plaza in Monterey, down through the narrow streets, away across the dusty fields, where sage and cactus, dry and gray, cover the rising plateaus with desolate monotony; out past the bestling buttes of Casas Hacienda, which tower red and hot in the sun, to the uprising canyon that leads to Topo Chico, the boiling spring, the health giving waters in whose fountain pool Aztec and Indian, peon and patrician, have sought and found health for a thousand years? This Topo Chico is the terminus of the little narrow gauge street car line that starts in Monterey. Its single car, with open seats running across the width of it, are seldom crowded. In the morning a few tourists bound for the baths smoke and idle through the tedious trip, but in the evening, when the summer sun sinks behind the green, cool shoulders of Del Casas, the lone car is always empty except for the driver or an errant shepherd returning from market in Monterey.

It was at this time in the evening that Patricia chose for a little jaunt on that queer little street car. With ancient Madre Anselma, her nurse when she was a romping child, her governess, maid and duenna by turns as the girl grew to womanhood, Patricia would ramble down the long stone stairway and in the purple shadow of the roadside thicket wait for that empty car to come droning out of the haze. Anselma neither spoke nor understood English, and so it was her wont to sit in the rear seat while the beautiful Patricia, her mantilla now fallen from before her radiant face, would sit on the front seat near the driver and urge or bribe him to send the little mules galloping.

The driver was a great, yellow haired giant, with blue eyes and a laughing mouth. For Patricia he would speed his queer little team till the car swayed like a boat on running billows and her delighted laughter fell upon his willing ears like the music of tinkling mandolins. As for Anselma, so long as the car was empty but for themselves she was content to sit in the rear seat, black, motionless, but alert, smoking her cigarettes, as Mexican women must and wondering what Patricia could have said to the big, fair Gringo to make him drive his mules so fast, to make him smile so benignantly.

Every summer evening till the chaparral lost its luster and the willows in the river bed began to scatter crackling leaves across the sands Patricia and her chaperon stole away to this clandestine frolic on the street car till it became the event of the gay child's days and a habit even with the withered woman who watched the harmless frolic.

One night as the blond American car driver was laughing and thrashing over the road with the laughing senorita at his elbow a horseman with his rifle presented loomed across the narrow road. The mules hesitated, stopped, backed up in their trace chains. The driver put down brake and ceased to smile. He seized the switch bar, bade Patricia lie down, faced the enemy.

"Money or your life!" commanded the outlaw in good English.

"You can have the box," roared the driver, "but if you rob the woman you must fight."

The robber dismounted, boarded the car, and while Patricia and the old woman looked on so smashed in the money box with the butt of his rifle and pocketed the few pitiful centavos that jingled in the bottom. If Patricia had left the car, or drawn up her lace mantilla, or even turned her face away, the robber might not have seen the diamond brooch glistening at her throat. But the sight was too much for him. The big American saw the flash of his eyes as he leveled his rifle, and at the same moment the switch bar swung above his head. The rifle cracked, the driver lurched over and fell in the dust by the road and the robber held out his hand to the woman.

"Give me the diamonds!" he bellowed.

She gave them without a word, then her watch and her ring, while the old woman, screaming like a harpy, clung to his rifle and cursed and prayed in incoherent Spanish. But the robber had no notion of harming them. He kicked the fallen driver as he ran toward his horse, and in another moment the clatter of hoof beats across the bowlder strewn valley told them that he was gone.

It was nearly dusk now, and from the stairway a hundred yards off the voice of Jose del Casa could be heard calling Patricia. She paused a moment as she heard it, then leaped to the ground and bent over the insensible driver. With her small, brown hand she pushed away the yellow curls and bent her face low above his. For a moment old Anselma could have sworn that the girl was kissing his white face, but no, after all, she was only examining with tear wet eyes the facial signs of returning life. Then she unbuttoned the collar of his shirt, fumbled beneath its folds and, snatching away a cluster of trinkets that hung about his neck, thrust them hastily into her corsage.

Then old Del Casa and two of his rancheros came up. The wounded man was placed on a bench in his car. The mules were hitched to the other end and one of the rancheros drove them back to Monterey.

"Senorita, mio muchacha, what did you take from the Gringo? What was that you snatched from his neck? Tell me, pretty one, you did not rob him?"

Patricia's smile came struggling through her tears.

"No, no, Mother Anselma," she murmured; "not so bad as that, but bad enough, too. You won't scold me, will you, mother?"

And she pulled from her bosom the poor car driver's cluster of trinkets. There were a little medal of the Virgin, a tiny amulet—the relic of Our Lady of Guadaloupe—a silken scapular and a golden locket.

"Look, mother, and forgive me," said Patricia as she opened the locket and displayed a miniature portrait of herself. "I gave it to him myself. I was afraid they might find it, and so—and so I robbed him of it."

"But you will not give it back, Patricia?" asked the scared and staring old woman.

"Yes, mother, I'll give it back to him, and more, too, mother. I'll give him that and more—everything—when he's well."

And old Anselma could only pray.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Chinese Mourning.

If a son, on receiving information of the death of his father or mother, or a wife, suppresses such intelligence and omits to go into lawful mourning for the deceased, such neglect shall be punished with 60 blows and one year's banishment. If a son or wife enters into mourning in a lawful manner, but previous to the expiration of the term discards the mourning habit and, forgetful of the loss sustained, plays upon musical instruments or participates in festivities, the punishment shall amount for such offense to 80 blows.

Whoever on receiving information of the death of any other relative in the first degree than the above mentioned suppresses the notice of it and omits to mourn shall be punished with 80 blows; if previous to the expiration of the legal period of mourning for such relative any person casts away the mourning habit and resumes his wonted amusements, he shall be punished with 60 blows.

When any officer or other person in the employ of the government has received intelligence of the death of his father or mother, in consequence of which intelligence he is bound to retire from the office during the period of mourning, if, in order to avoid such retirement he falsely represents the deceased to have been his grandfather, grandmother, uncle, aunt or cousin, he shall suffer punishment of 100 blows, be deposed from office and rendered incapable of again entering into the public service.—American Law Review.

How He Found Out.

He had been in town several days, had taken in pretty much all the places of interest and concluded that he would take a trip out on a Woodward avenue car. On the car which he boarded were several students from a stammering school. Two of them were sitting in front of him and were very much absorbed in an animated conversation, talking in that long drawn out, monotonous voice and beating time at every syllable with the hand. One was saying: "I—was—down—town—the—other—day—and—met—an—old friend!"

"Did—you?" his friend answered in the same way.

Turning to a young man sitting next to him, the stranger inquired, "What sort of dum fools are those fellows?" when, much to his surprise, the young man straightened up and, getting his arm in action, only beating about 75 strokes a minute more than his friends were doing, said, "I—am—one—of—those—dum—fools—myself."

The stranger nearly fell off his seat, and every one in the car was on in a moment. He pushed the button, got off at the first corner and waited for the next car, wondering what sort of people he had bumped up against.—Detroit Free Press.

Building

Requires a foundation. That is just as true of the building up of the body as of the building of a house. The foundation of a strong body is a strong stomach. No man can be stronger than his stomach. A weak stomach means a weak man.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food which is eaten. Thus it builds up the body and restores strength in the only way known to Nature or to science—by digested and assimilated food.

"While living in Charlotte, N. C., your medicine cured me of asthma and nasal catarrh of ten years' standing," writes J. L. Lamsden, Esq., of 32 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga. "At that time life was a burden to me, and after spending hundreds of dollars under numerous doctors I was dying by inches. I weighed only 131 pounds. In twenty days after I commenced your treatment I was well of both troubles, and in six months I weighed 170 pounds, and was in perfect health. I have never felt the slightest symptom of either since. Am sixty-five years old and in perfect health, and weigh 200 pounds. No money could repay you for what you did for me. I would not return to the condition I was in, in October, 1872, for Rockefeller's wealth."

It is a thorough blood purifier, acting on all the glands of the body and enabling them to perform their natural work of eliminating all poisons from the system, and absorbing the valuable nourishment in the food. Hence, it cures skin diseases such as pimples, itching sores, eczema, salt rheum, etc. Besides this, it is a muscular and nerve tonic, and this effect, combined with its alterative action, makes it a specific for constipation, which it cures on account of the combined action of its alterative and tonic properties. The cure it makes is permanent, and differs from the temporary effect of irritant drugs, of which most cathartic pills are composed. This alterative and tonic effect reaches every organ in the body, and cures the diseases attending them, such as dyspepsia, kidney diseases, pain in the back, urinary troubles, nervousness, sleeplessness, liver complaint and all female disease. An organization meeting of the Canadaian Order of the Woodmen of the World was held last Thursday evening in Mr. T. A. McPherson's Hall, when a good Camp was formed. Deputy Con. Com. J. A. Ramplin was present and put on the work in his own inimitable style and with good effect. After the initiations, the following officers were installed:—

Past Con. Com., Sov. E. McPherson.
Con. Com., Sov. Rev. W. M. Kannawin, B. D.
Adv. Lieut., Sov. Walter Hall.
Clerk, Sov. C. W. Richards.
Banker, Sov. S. P. Mills.
Escort, Sov. J. D. Thornton.
Watchman, Sov. Owen Johnson.
Sentry, Sov. R. H. Williamson.

Physician, Sov. J. S. Cameron, M. D.
Delegate to Head Camp, Sov. Rev. W. M. Kannawin, B. D.
Alternate Delegate to Head Camp, Sov. C. W. Richards.

After the installation, speeches were in order, and each member spoke in glowing terms of the ritual work of the Woodmen of the World, and expressed great pleasure upon having present Deputy Ramplin, Dominion Organizer, who has won for himself many warm friends during his visit to Omemee. Excellent addresses were given by Deputy Ramplin and Sovs. W. M. Moore and W. J. Carlyle, of Lindsay Camp. A delightful time was spent, and after the general business was transacted, the Camp dispersed to meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock sharp, when several new initiations will take place. A number of Sovs. from Lindsay and Peterborough are expected. Camp Omemee is destined to become one of the strongest and best Societies in town. We join in wishing Camp Omemee success.

IN LOCAL MILITARY CIRCLES.

The Weekly Parade of the 57th Regiment.

Retirement of Major Hagerman of the 3rd Dragoons—Military Matters of Interest.

To-morrow night the weekly parade of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, will be held. It is important, in view of the fact that the Regiment will take part in the reception to the Duke and Duchess of York in Toronto, that there should be a full turn out at every parade from this time forward.

Mr. A. P. McLean, of town, has taken out a commission in the 57th and has been made a lieutenant. Mr. McLean is a very enthusiastic soldier and has served faithfully in the ranks.

The militia general orders published on Saturday announced the retirement of Paymaster Hagerman, of the 3rd Prince of Wales' Canadian Dragoons, he being allowed to retain his rank of major. By the retirement of Major Hagerman from the Canadaian Militia, the 3rd Dragoons loose their oldest and certainly one of the most genial officers that ever held a commission in the 3rd. The major's genteel physique, and his affable manner will be missed by many when the Regiment goes into camp next year. Not by the older officers alone, who have for many years been in camp with the veteran paymaster, but by the young men of all ranks who enjoyed a chat with the major after the day's work was over, or in the quiet of the day when the men, all save a few, were out on parade. Yes, the major was a conspicuous figure around the camp and could tell many anecdotes of camp life of years ago. He has seen the 3rd Dragoons come into existence as a regiment and has taken a very deep interest in its progress ever since. He has seen 36 years of service, having first enlisted in "B" Squadron, or rather "B" troop, as it was then called. It was an independent corps with headquarters at Port Hope, under the command of the late Lieut.-Col. Smart. In this troop Major Hagerman served as Private, Corporal adn Sargeant. Upon the formation of the 3rd Dragoons he accepted the commission of Paymaster, which he has since continued to hold. He has therefore seen many camps, having been under canvas at Cobourg, Kingston, Gananoque, Belleville, Niagara and other places.

The regimental establishments of the militia for 1901-02, not having provided for paymasters for cavalry and mounted rifle units, officers holding such appointments on July 1, 1901, who may be recommended by the district officer commanding, may be borne as supernumeraries to their corps until either they have attained the limit of age of their rank, or have completed twenty years' commission-service; provided, however, they have already at time of such recommendation completed at least ten years' commissioned service. No pay or allowances will be drawn for such supernumeraries.

Cobourg Company of Garrison Artillery came out first in the test at Isle of Orleans a few weeks ago. In the 40 pounder competition they made 71 points, and with the 5 inch howitzer, 59 points, or a total of 130.

The commanding officers of the corps have assured the men that despite the small sum allowed for meals in Toronto the commissariat department will be well looked after, the assurance has been well received, but there is still a doubt in the minds of the men as to the possibility of giving three meals for 25c., and have more than dried apples for breakfast, water for dinner, and a swell up for supper. The matter is a serious one, and the men will certainly raise objections if the meals are not sufficient.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:—"We learn that 36 men of the Cobourg Battery are to go to Toronto, to fire a salute at the reception of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. Also Major Floyd has been offered command of a Company of the 46th Regiment. If he accepts he will take forty-two men with him."

This is certainly one way of bolstering up a regiment.

FROM ST. PETER'S.

Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan Given a Farewell Address at Grafton.

At the conclusion of the morning service at St. Mary's church, Grafton, yesterday, Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan, who has been transferred to St. Peter's Cathedral, was presented with an address and a purse of money by the congregation. The address was read by Mr. John McCabe, and Rev. Father O'Sullivan made a brief but appropriate reply.

During Rev. Father O'Sullivan's short pastorate in Grafton he has endeared himself to the hearts of his people, and has taken a deep interest in the affairs of the community in general. Amongst the most important pieces of work in which he was identified was the establishment of a free library, and his efforts in connection with the progress of the schools of the vicinity.

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, Ven. Archdeacon Casey in the course of his sermon on the duties of parents towards their children, made a feeling reference to the assassination of President McKinley. He stated that crimes of such a nature were the outcome of Godless education, as well as lack of education of the youth of the country.

FEDERATION OF LABOUR.

The following resolution was passed at a meeting Friday evening of the local branch of the American Federation of Labour:

"That this meeting of the workingmen of the town of Peterborough, having learned that the Dominion Government is being urged to grant to the Otonabee Power Co. a lease of the water power at No. 5 dam on the Trent Valley Canal at a rental of $1,250.00, which, if the Company's representations are true, is equivalent to only 50c per horse power, and knowing that a rental of $4.00 per horse power was demanded when the town was desirous of obtaining the power for the purpose of supplying manufactories locating here,

"That we wish to express our strong disapproval of the proposed lease.

"That we believe that the opportunity should be given to the town to rent this power in preferences to any private company, and at the same price, so that the advantage thereof should be retained by the people.

"That if the said power is to be sold to any private company, that it should be sold by public tender and upon such conditions as will prevent its being used for the benefit of any monopoly or combination.

"That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Hon. the Minister of Railways and Canals, and to the Peterborough Town Council.

SEALED IN BLOOD.

A local English gentleman has handed the Examiner the following clipping from a London paper of the report of Mr. Chamberlain's speech on Labour Day:—

Mr. Chamberlain was the principal guest at a dinner held last night at the Hotel Cecil, to commemorate Dominion Day.

Mr. Choate, the United States Ambassador, wrote that Canada and the United States must remain as they were—close neighbors.

The Colonial Secretary, in proposing "The Dominion of Canada," alluded to the splendid and unbroken progress that Canada has made in so short a span—to which the world could hardly show a parallel. Canadians had transformed a tractless waste into one of the great granaries of the world.

Referring to the way in which the Colonies had sprung to our assistance during the war, Mr. Chamberlain declared that the union of the Empire had been sealed in blood. He looked back upon the last two years with satisfaction, because it had shown with what spontaneous eagerness their children, their brothers across the sea, moved to the impulse of a common unity. No one could forecast the future, but those who new helped them might need their help, and if that were the case, that help would be given in no ungrudging spirit.

After an allusion to the uninstructed prejudices of foreign nations, who greedily swallowed every lie that was foisted upon them by enemies abroad or traitors at home—(loud applause)—Mr. Chamberlain concluded by remarking that if the time should come when the sceptre of dominion was too heavy for our hands, we would look to the young nations to enable us to meet the taunts of our enemies with the cheers of our children.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

AN AUSTRALIAN HAS PATENTED HIS NEW MACHINE EVERYWHERE.

If the Claims of Its Inventor Are Realized It Will Supercede Steam as a Motive Power—If Successful the New Machine Will Reduce Working Expenses 95 Per Cent.

An improved automatic or self-acting gravity wheel is the modest title of an invention by Herbert Rose of Australia, which has recently been patented all over the world, and which, if the claims of its inventor are realized, promises to supersede steam as a motive power.

The invention relates to the construction of a gravity wheel, with concentric rings, secured to arms radiating from the centre. These arms or weights act as balance and driving levers and are so nicely arranged—those on the downward grade being two-thirds heavier than those on the upward grade in action—that a natural falling of the weights on the former grade insures perpetual motion.

A cessation of the driving force can only be effected by preventing the weights from falling, and this is done by a very simple contrivance in the form of a spring which acts on all the weights simultaneously. Taking a wheel forty feet in diameter and three feet wide, it is estimated that it will carry 1,050 weights and that the driving power will be equal to 1,443¾ tons from the centre of the wheel. The cost of construction is about one-sixth the cost of machinery for steam power, and it is also claimed that the new motive power will reduce the working expenses 95 per cent.

The working model has been subjected to continuous tests, as it is apparently capable, like the brooks, of "going on forever," which, of course, is what is expected of an invention claiming to constitute a solution of the secret of perpetual motion.

Santos-Dumont's Rivals.

M. Santos-Dumont is confronted by no less than seven rivals for the Deutsch prize, most of them having balloons prepared by Lachambre, who is making the bag for the Santos-Dumont VI., says a Paris cable to The New York Herald. The rivals are headed by M. Renard with a military airship. M. Ader with an aviator, M. Roze's twin balloon, the Marquis de Dion's and M. Deutsch's, both on the lines of that of Santos-Dumont, and Don Simoni with an aviator now being tried at Suresnes. Baron Bradsky, an Austrian inventor, is the latest recruit. His airship is very much like M. Santos-Dumont's.

M. Roze expects to try his double decker in a few days. He modestly announces that there is no danger of his airship capsizing. He expresses admiration for M. Santos-Dumont as a man, but not as a savant. The Figaro has revived the agitation for conferring the Legion of Honor on the young Brazilian. M. Santos-Dumont's friend, M. Aime, says he will wait till he wins the Deutsch prize.

Some Household Superstitions.

The gift of a knife cuts friendship; in handling a needle the eye and not the point must be extended. The dropping of a dishcloth betokens a visitor, and he or she will be an entire stranger should a cock crow in the doorway. It is unlucky to cut the nails on Friday, although the Arabians, on the contrary, religiously observe that day for the purpose. If you sing before breakfast, you will cry before supper, and if you stumble upstairs you will not be married during the year. Putting on the left shoe first is regarded as an omen of ill. Augustus Caesar put his left sandal on before his right one, and nearly lost his life the same day in a mutiny. That had nothing to do with it of course, and Butler in his "Hudibras" scores him for the silly notion.

How to Treat Mosquitoes.

A woman of New Britain, Conn., who is a Christian Scientist, maintains that mosquitoes have brains and reasoning powers; that it is "outrageous" to kill the "little harmless insects," and that all that is necessary is to reason with them. She says:

"If a mosquito is troubling you, just speak to him kindly and say, 'Look here, my friend, you leave me alone and I'll leave you alone.' Then believe that he won't bite you. Even if he does, his sting won't hurt. I have done this for years and now enjoy having the pretty little things around and listening to their musical buzz."

Advice to Mothers.

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerviline. Don't be afraid to use Nerviline freely—a whole bottleful wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerviline has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant, and speedy cure. Large bottles 25c.

THE GUEST OF CANADA

Britain's Heir-Apparent Arrives at the City of Quebec.

DUKE AND DUCHESS WELCOMED

Royal Yacht Ophir, Escorted by British Warships, Lands Its Royal Passengers Safely at Quebec—The Scene at the Landing—The Royal Salute —The Subsequent Functions— The People Enthusiastic.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Just 41 years ago, in 1860, the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII., received a loyal welcome in this ancient City of Quebec. Yesterday, his son, the Duke of Cornwall and York, landed at exactly the same spot where his father first stepped on Canadian soil, and to the son, as to the father, a patriotic people extended a warm and spontaneous welcome. It is the third visit of the Duke to Canada. This time he comes as the heir-apparent to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland, and is, moreover, accompanied by his charming and accomplished wife, and the reception tendered the royal pair was such as must have impressed them.

It was well past 9.30 before the Ophir and her escort were seen slowly turning Point Levis. Already the Dufferin terrace was lined with people standing three or four deep along the railing or clambering on the chairs and the glacis, the grand battery and every other point of vantage were occupied by throngs of eager spectators. On the north shore a fleet of nearly a dozen tugs had put out to meet her, and they fell into line behind the squadron as it turned Point Levis.

ROYAL YACHT OPHIR.

On each side of the Ophir and a little away astern came H.M.S. Diadem and Niobe, first-class cruisers, and behind them again H.M.S. Indefatigable and Tribune, second-class cruisers. The course steered was a wide circle well over to the Beauport shore, and as they slowly and majestically proceeded up the river, a wonderful idea of strength and determination was given.

As the ships got abreast of the Custom House, the British squadron and the French cruiser ran up flags in rainbow fashion. The marines aft and the blue jackets forward, manned their decks, and salutes of 21 guns thundered out from them and the Citadel. The Ophir also had her decks manned and carried the Royal Standard on her mainmast, with the American ensign at half-mast just below. The great rake of her funnels and spars gave her an appearance of great speed, while the four-funneled Niobe and Diadem have a most formidable appearance. As the Ophir reached her moorings, a boat from the fleet made her fast, and the Diadem anchored alongside towards the Levis shore, and the Niobe a little lower down, while the Indefatigable and Tribune took station in line with the Prosperine.

As soon as they were made fast His Excellency the Governor-General and Sir Wilfrid Laurier left the Citadel, escorted by the Duke of York's Hussars, and paid a favored visit to Their Royal Highnesses. As they left they were saluted with nineteen guns from the Citadel, and on returning they proceeded to the King's Wharf to be present at the official landing.

Here the most excellent preparations had been made for the reception, and yet the most excellent view of all that happened could be obtained by thousands.

The marine guard was in charge of Major Oxford, R.M.A., and Lieut. Horne, R.M.L.I., and the blue jackets were commanded by Lieut. Hon. C. F. Veale of H.M.S. Crescent, the Crescent band also attended. Major-General O'Grady-Haly and staff were the first to arrive, and soon the Ministers began to arrive. They were Hon. Senator Scott, Paterson, Borden, Mills, Sutherland, Tarte, Fisher, Sir Louis Davies, Dobell, Martin, Bernier, Blair and Fielding. Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived with Lord Minto, who was attended by Capt. Graham, A.D.C., and Capt. Bell, A.D.C., and was saluted with the National Anthem. As Vice-Admiral Fanford landed from the fleet the guards again came to attention, and every man saluted as the band and bugle played the Admiral's salute.

The first of the royal party to arrive were the ladies-in-waiting and the aides.

The Cabinet ministers moved down to the landing stage, and, in a few minutes, the strains of "God Save the King," from over the water, and the striking of the Royal Standard upon the Ophir proclaimed that their Royal Highnesses had left the ship. As they crossed the intervening strip of water in a steam launch, once more a salute of 21 guns boomed out from the ships and the citadel. As they reached the wharf, the troops came to the royal salute, and everyone stood at attention as the National Anthem was played.

His Royal Highness was wearing the full uniform of an admiral of the navy, and the blue ribbon of the Garter and the stars of his other orders.

The Duchess was clad entirely in black.

After the guard of honor had been inspected, and the Cabinet ministers and officers had been introduced, a move was made up the wharf to where the carriages and escort were in waiting.

The regiment to which the honorable duty of guarding Their Royal Highnesses has been allotted is the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars of Quebec, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Turner, V. C., D. S. O. They are well mounted, and, with their smart uniforms and well-set-up men, present an appearance that would do credit to regulars.

The royal procession was formed as follows:

First, three mounted police and the advance guard of three troopers and a sergeant, then a staff officer and No. 1 troop.

Fifty yards behind, came the carriages of the royal suite, occupied by Capt. H. S. H. Prince Alexander of H. R. H. THE DUKE OF CORNWALL.

Teck, K. C. V. O., 7th Hussars, brother of the Duchess of Cornwall and York; Lady Mary Lygon, lady-in-waiting; Lady Catherine Cole, lady-in-waiting; the Hon. Mrs. Derek Keppel, lady-in-waiting; Lieut.-Col. Sir Arthur Bigge, G. C. V. O., K. C. B., C. M. G., private secretary; Commander Sir Charles Cust, Bart., R. T. M. V. O., equerry.

Another troop of cavalry followed, and then came Major-General O'Grady-Haly and the Militia Headquarters staff.

Fifty yards behind, followed the royal carriage.

Lord Wellock, G. C. S. I., G. C. I. E., lord-in-waiting, and head of the household attended Their Royal Highnesses in their carriage.

No. 4 and the troops followed, and the procession was closed by the rear guard and three mounted policemen.

The route followed was along Champlain street, up Mountain Hill, along Fort and St. Louis streets, out with St. Louis gate to the Parliament buildings. The whole route was decorated with bunting and devices of every kind, and lined with thousands of spectators from far and near.

At the Parliament Buildings a most striking scene was presented. In front was erected a semi-circular stand, from which 3,000 school children sang the National Anthem. The 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec formed the guard of honor at the door of the Parliament Buildings, and received the royal couple with a salute and "God Save the King."

The Governor-General and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had preceded the royal party from the wharf, escorted by the Duke of York's Hussars, and, after meeting them at the Parliament Buildings, His Excellency went on to receive them at the Citadel.

The royal procession entered the Council Chamber, headed by Black Rod (Mr. Hatt) and the Lieutenant-Governor and Mayor Parent. Then followed the royal suite, and, last of all, the Duke and Duchess. Their Royal Highnesses ascended the steps of the dais, slightly bowed to the gathering, and took up their station

UNITED STATES INTERVENTION

Events in Central America are becoming more interesting every day. It is now said the Columbian Government will invite, if it has not already done so, the United States to land troops at Panama for the preservation of order on the Isthmus. It is believed at Washington that, if such an invitation should be given, it would be quickly accepted. Besides the railway company there are a number of concerns and individuals in the United States whose interests in the Isthmus are considerable, and who desire nothing so much as the establishment there of the authority of their own government. Once troops are landed, these people will exert their great political influence to keep them there and Columbia's invitation may result in the permanent occupation of Panama by the United States. The Government of Columbia cannot be unaware of this possibility, nor of the many historical precedents, which go to show that when one faction in a country invites foreign interference and obtains it, the result is loss of territory or of independence. It is also stated at Washington that the government of Colombia has appealed to the United States for protection against the attacks made upon it by Venezuela, Ecuador and Nicaragua. This has been offset by the publication of an explanation of its attitude by the Government of Venezuela. The document sets forth the cause of existing complications as having been the invasion of Venezuelan territory by the regular troops of Colombia, commanded by their own officers. When the government of Venezuela addressed a note to the Government of Colombia calling attention to this breach of the elementary principles of international law, no answer was vouchsafed, and a rupture of friendly relations followed. The object of the invasion was to assist the Conservative revolutionists of Venezuela in overthrowing the Liberal Government. The invaders have been met and defeated, the victorious Venezuelas drove them back across the frontier, followed them, and are paying back Columbia by helping the Liberal revolutionists there in the efforts they are making to overthrow the Government. Similar attacks on Ecuador and Nicaragua have resulted in like defeats, the Conservative Government of Colombia finds itself in a tight place, and calls upon the United States to save it from the consequences of its own breach of faith, insolence and overt acts of hostility against its neighbours. United States troops may land and preserve order on the Isthmus, but it is hardly within the rules that they should be employed to prevent the reactionaries of Colombia from suffering the chastisement they have brought upon themselves.—Witness.

The directors of the Royal Agricultural Society, at a meeting in New Westminster last week, declined an offer of $1500 for the privilege of selling beer on the grounds during the show. They are said to have expressed the view that the amount they would gain by granting the concession would be wiped out by the lowering of the tone of the present and future exhibitions.

The Burlington Free Press voices what is no doubt a very general feeling in the United States, when it says: "The hearts of Americans have been warmed toward England by the recent expressions of sorrow over the assault upon our President, as well as by the attitude of the British Government during our conflict with Spain, and our people will join in the hope that the Royal visit may be without any untoward incident to mar its success and enjoyment."

A MODERN CHINA.

Reformative edicts of the most revolutionary character are pouring thick and fast from the chancellery of the Chinese Imperial Government. The enforcement of these edicts or any of them would make China a modern country. The substitution of western science for the Chinese classics in the examinations on which in China all prospect of a career depends would of itself turn that old and changeless world upside down. Now comes one forbidding the sale of official positions. This no doubt means well, but it will prove as impossible for the Emperor to abolish corruption by a mandate as it was for Canute to order the sea back from his shores. Another edict, which is perhaps the most likely to be carried out, requiring the establishment of modern military schools throughout the empire, would develop the yellow peril on a scientific basis and bring China into line with Japan as a modern military power. It has been called the yellow peril by western writers and philosophers, of whom the Emperor of Germany is the leader; but we do not see very well where the peril comes in. Unless inspired by Japan, China is not likely to become aggressive merely because she becomes organized, and a good solid organism might possibly be easier to deal with than the flabby, boneless thing the empire now is on which any attack is wasted as shots are wasted on a haystack. At all events any development of national life is better than none. The first thing the military schools would teach would be the need of railways and telegraphs to all parts of the country, and these would let in the light in spite of any opposition. Those who know China best, however, place no faith in the genuineness of these edicts until they see them carried out. They have got so accustomed to reeverything the emperor does as meant to deceive that their first impulse is to believe that, in permitting them, she is merely acting a diplomatic part. It cannot be denied, however, that there is a very strong reform party in China, one which actually had the ear and control for a time of the present emperor, who is everywhere believed to be personally in the ful'est sympathy with it and to have a revolution like that accomplished by the present Mikado of Japan in his mind. It was the empress who laid violent hands on him and crushed the movement. There is no saying, however, what forces may have been at work away back there in Shansi, and it is quite possible that the reformers may have again got the upper hand.

IT SAVES OUR WOMEN!

Paine's Celery Compound
BANISHES ALL THEIR PHYSICAL TROUBLES AND SUFFERINGS.

To tens of thousands of women of of all ages, life is one long and dreary road of suffering, without an escape or turn. Few outside of their own sex have any idea of the agonies which some women endure. The troubles from which the majority of women suffer arise from functional irregularities, liver and kidney troubles, nervousness, impure blood and sluggish circulation.

For the complete establishment of physical strength, nerve force, and a vigorous, happy life, there is no medicine known to the medical profession equal to Paine's Celery Compound. This marvellous medical discovery of Dr. Phelps goes directly to the root and seat of the disease. It does its grand work without lessening the strength of the sufferer. From the first dose, Paine's Celery Compound infuses new life and strength. Mrs. B. Vincent, Adelaide street, St. John, N. B., says:

"I am happy to let you know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I suffered for many years from nervousness, femak troubles, and my constitution was all run down. I tried many medicines, but received no benefit from anything until I used your Paine's Celery Compound. It is a medicine that has given me grand results. I can recommend it to all who are sick and suffering."

FIREWORKS EXPLODE

Several Persons on Mr. Tarte's Steamer Were Injured.

THE MINISTER INJURED ALSO.

Hon. Messrs. Tarte, Borden and Sutherland, Mrs. Greenshields, Mrs. Turcotte and Miss Fielding Suffer Burns or Bruises—How the Accident occurred—The Extent of Injuries Through Burns.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—An explosion of fireworks on the Government steamer Frontenac last night resulted in injuries to Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Hon. James Sutherland, Hon. Dr. Borden, Mrs. J. N. Greenshields of Montreal, Mrs. Turcotte of Ottawa, and Miss Fielding.

Hon. Mr. Tarte had invited a party of friends to go out on the Frontenac and witness the illumination and display of fireworks, and a supply of fireworks was taken on board the Frontenac. In the party were: Mr. Clergue of Sault Ste. Marie and two sisters; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Greenshields of Montreal, Senator Robert Mackay of Montreal, Hon. A. G. Blair and daughter, Hon. Clifford Sifton and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Borden, Mr. James Sutherland, Miss Fielding, Mrs. Turcotte of Ottawa, a secretary to Mr. Tarte, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Clement of Montreal, and a number of other guests. On the bridge of the steamer a dozen bombs had been placed, and one of these was set on fire by the fireworks that were being exploded. This exploded the other bombs, nd the fire communicated itself to the steamer. A number of ladies were standing nearby and their clothing caught fire. Mrs. J. N. Greenshields was quite severely burned about the legs. Mrs. Borden's clothing caught fire, but it was extinguished without injury. Two of the ladies tried to escape by taking refuge in the wheelhouse, but there were two bombs in there also and they exploded. In a moment the wheelhouse was on fire. Mrs. Turcotte was burned, though not seriously, in the arms. Hon. Mr. Tarte was burned on the right hand, and was also knocked over, cutting his face. Mr. James Sutherland received severe burns on the hands, and had also some injury to his face. His injuries were the result of his endeavors to extinguish the fire and save the ladies. The steamer Eureka came alongside to the assistance of the Frontenac, and endeavoring to get from one boat to the other Dr. Borden sprained his ankle. He was assisted into the Chateau Frontenac by Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. Miss Fielding, daughter of Hon. W. S. Fielding, had her hair singed. Admiral Sir Frederick Bedford, when he saw the fire on the Frontenac, immediately sent a launch from the Crescent to her assistance, but the help was not needed, as the fire was extinguished with the steamer's own hose. Mr. Tarte last night was around with bandages on, but said his injuries were not serious, and that he proposed to take another party out to-night.

ASSASSIN IN COUNTY COURT.

Czolgosz Indicted for the Murder of the President.

Buffalo, Sept. 17.—Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Fred Nieman, was indicted yesterday afternoon by the County Court Grand Jury for the crime of murder in the first degree, in fatally shooting President William McKinley at the Temple of Music, in the Pan-American Exposition grounds at 5.15 o'clock, on the afternoon of Sept. 6.

When arraigned before Judge Edward K. Emery in the County Court at 5.36 o'clock the prisoner stubbornly refused to answer questions repeatedly asked of him by District Attorney Penney as to whether he had counsel or wanted counsel. The District Attorney then suggested that, inasmuch as the defendant refused to answer, counsel should be assigned. Judge Emery assigned Hon. L. Lewis and Hon. Robert Titus, former Supreme Court Justices, of this city, whose names had been suggested by the Erie County bar.

Czolgosz will probably be arraigned again this morning to plead to the indictment.

Judge Emery directed the officers to notify the attorneys and remove the prisoner.

Czolgosz was handcuffed to the detectives, who started out of the court room with him. The crowds surged after them, but found the exit barred by four strong policemen. Outside the court room door the prisoner was surrounded by 12 policemen with clubs drawn, and under command of Captain Michael Regan, Jailor George N. Mitchell and several deputy sheriffs. The prisoner was hurried down stairs and into the basement, whence he was taken through the tunnel to the jail, across Delaware avenue. Whether he was left there for the night or taken elsewhere, the police refused to say.

District Attorney Penney stated as he left the court room that Justices Lewis and Titus would be notified and given an opportunity to talk with the prisoner, and that he hoped to arraign Czolgosz this morning to take his plea to the indictment. The District Attorney will also notice the trial of the prisoner for next Monday morning at 10 o'clock in Part III. of the Supreme Court, that being the opening day of the September term.

Pleasant Work For the Long Autumn Evenings

Now that the long evenings have come, shortening the hours of outdoor labour (more especially in the country), our young girls and women will apply themselves to a great variety of work for the beautifying of the home.

The work of making new creations out of old and faded garments and materials by the magic powers of Diamond Dyes, and the making of stylish and artistic mats and rugs for the various home rooms, will claim a large portion of time.

Now that the pretty and low priced Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns can be so easily procured, mat and rug making will prove one of the most popular of home occupations.

In dyeing material for the hooking of rugs; when you desire to restore a faded dress, skirt, jacket or suit of clothes to fresh beauty and usefulness, it is of the greatest importance that the fast Diamond Dyes be used. Poor dyes bring failure and disappointment. If your merchant does not handle the Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns, we will send free to any address sheets of the newest designs. THE FUNERAL TRAIN

A Sad Journey From Buffalo to Washington.

MRS. M'KINLEY'S BRAVE HEART.

The President's Remains Now in the White House—Thousands Assemble Along the Railway Line to Get a Glimpse and Pay Their Silent Homage to the Illustrious Dead.

Buffalo, Sept. 17.—At 8.34 yesterday morning the funeral train bearing the remains of the martyred President steamed slowly out of the station on the journey to Washington, preceded 15 minutes by an engine, to clear the track. The funeral procession left the City Hall at 7.45, and the body was escorted to the depot by 40 sailors from the U. S. warship Michigan and a detachment of soldiers. The casket, wrapped in the Stars and Stripes, and bearing a sheaf of wheat, was carried to the hearse by four sailors and four soldiers, and, as the procession moved off, the band took up Chopin's "Funeral March," accompanied by the tolling of the church bells.

In the observation car Pacific the casket was placed so that it could be seen by the people as the train sped by. Crape was draped from the rear of the observation car, and the railings were shrouded in crape. The only relief was in two tiny pilot slugs of white on the locomotive.

Through a Living Lane.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Through a living lane of bareheaded people stretching from Buffalo up through the Alleghenies down on to the broad valley of the Susquehanna and on to the Marble City on the banks of the shining Potomac, the nation's martyred President yesterday made his last journey to the seat of the government over which he presided for four and one-half years. The whole country seemed to have drained its population at the sides of the track over which the funeral train passed. Work was suspended in field and mine and city. The schools were dismissed, and everywhere appeared the trappings and tokens of woe. A million flags at half-mast dotted hillside and valley, and formed a thicket of color over the cities. And from almost every banner streamed a bit of crepe. The stations were heavy with the black symbols of mourning.

The silence with which the countless thousands viewed the remains of their hero and martyr was oppressive and profound. Only the rumbling of the train wheels, the sobs from men and women with tear-stained faces, and the doleful tolling of the church and other bells broke on the ear. At several places, Williamsport, Harrisburg and Baltimore, the chimes played Cardinal Newman's grand hymn.

Mrs. McKinley stood the trip bravely. In the morning soon after leaving Buffalo she pleaded so earnestly to be allowed to go into the car where her dear one lay that reluctant assent was given, and she spent half an hour beside the coffin.

The train left Buffalo at 8.30 yesterday morning and arrived at Washington at 8.38 last night, in 12 hours. It is estimated over half a million people saw the coffin which held all that was mortal of President McKinley.

The remains of President McKinley lie in the east room of the White House, where for more than four years he had made his home as the Chief Magistrate of the great American Republic. Upstairs his widow mourns for her dead in the family apartments that now bring back but the saddest of memories.

There was no music. Amid the hush of the great crowds only the clatter of the horses' hoofs ringing sharply upon the pavement was heard. It was about 9.30 when the head of the procession reached the White House grounds.

CANADA'S SYMPATHY WELCOME.

Secretary of State Replies to Lord Minto's Telegram of Condolence.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Lord Minto has received the following telegram from Secretary of State Hay:

Washington, D.C., Sept. 16.

In the name of the Government and people of this country I beg to make earnest acknowledgement of your message. The sympathy shown by Canada in our great bereavement has been most gratefully welcome.

(Signed) John Hay.

NO EVIDENCE OF A PLOT.

Chicago Anarchists Will Probably Be Released To-Day.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Efforts to connect the Chicago Anarchists with a plot to assassinate President McKinley will be abandoned and the prisoners will probably be released to-day. This decision was reached by local authorities yesterday. Chief O'Neill received a telegram from Chief of Police Bull of Buffalo, saying that while the police there were still working to establish the connection of the assassin with Anarchists in Chicago, Toledo and Cleveland, they had secured no tangible evidence.

It is free from starchy substances, easily digested and assimilated, is richer in flesh and bone producing elements than other foods, and has a deliciousness that captivates the taste of every child. If you would like to see your child grow strong, try Malt Breakfast Food for one week, and note well the results. Your Grocer can supply you.

New Tailor Shop.

Mr. Miles Froats, who was head cutter for H. LeBrun & Co., for a number of years, has returned to town, and opened a tailor shop in the convenient rooms over Ormond & Walsh's drug store. He has made arrangements by which he is able to show the new and popular designs in gentlemen's suitings and overcoatings as they come out. Orders from his old friends and the public generally will receive his best attention. 3d

A Big Hawk.

One day last week Mr. Judson DeCew, while up Burnt River, shot a fish-hawk, which he brought to the Falls and gave to Mr. Joseph Heard, who sent it to Bobcaygeon to be stuffed and mounted. The bird was so big, measuring nearly four feet from tip to tip of its extended wings, that Mr. DeCew and Mr. John Jones, who was with him, thought it was an eagle until they got it out of the water and examined it. — Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Mrs. Morrow's Classes.

"She has done some excellent work in our city among the young as well as the advanced musicians. It is not surprising to learn that Mrs. Morrow gathered together a number of the most talented ladies and gentlemen of our city, and inside of two years had them trained to such a degree of proficiency that she was able to challenge surprise and admiration with her quarterly concerts."

Mrs. Morrow intends to take up this work in Peterborough and will arrange a chorus of some 20 or 40 voices. She prepares pupils for church and concert singing. She will have a teachers course for those wishing to adopt music as a profession. She will give quarterly concerts with her pupils, thus encouraging the pupils as well as the parents. MURRAY STREET RECITAL.

Mr. Vogt of Toronto Delighted a Large Audience.

The Local Talent too was Appreciated by Those Who Were There—High-class Programme.

A musical treat that was highly appreciated by those who were present, was given in the Murray street Baptist church last night, in the form of an organ recital and sacred concert.

The affair was attended by a large representation of the music-loving people of the town, and more particularly by the amateur musical critics, as they might be termed.

The Murray street church, as most everyone knows, has just placed in position a new Karn-Warren organ, built by the D. W. Karn Company, Limited, and the church management took the opportunity of allowing the public to hear what it was capable of doing, particularly when presided over by Mr. A. S. Vogt, whose reputation as an organist is well known throughout Canada. Mr. Vogt is of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, Director of the Mendelssohn Choir, and organist of Jarvis street Baptist church. His selections were interspersed with vocal solos by Miss Etta Montgomery, contralto, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Miss Florence Carolyn Hall, soprano, Murray street Baptist church, and Mr. Fred W. Skitch, basso, of Charlotte street Methodist church.

The combination proved to be a strong one, and on more than one occasion the audience gave vent to their feelings of appreciation by bursting forth into hearty applause.

Mr. Vogt's marvellous work on the organ, was of course the feature of the evening, and such as one seldom has the pleasure of hearing.

Miss Montgomery rendered "Hosannah in Excelsis," by St. Quentin; and Miss Hall rendered "I Will Extol Thee, O Lord," by Costa, and "Fear Ye Not, O Israel," by Dudley Buck. Mr. Skitch's number, which was excellently rendered, was entitled "My God and Father, While I Stray," by Marston.

Miss Hall showed marked ability as a soloist in her two selections, her sweetness of voice being particularly noticeable and her further improvement of late being quite marked.

The Social in aid of the Y. W. C.A will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Building this evening instead of on the grounds of St. John's Church.

"THE SKY PILOT."

An Interesting Literary Meeting of George Street League.

A very enjoyable literary programme was given at the George street Epworth League last evening on the subject of Ralph Connor's book, "The Sky Pilot." Miss Lena Frise, in a concise paper entitled "Who is Ralph Connor?" introduced the author, Rev. C. N. Gordon, which was followed by a synopsis of the book under discussion by Miss M. Detcher.

The character of the "Sky Pilot" was treated skilfully by Mr. Thewlis, while a delightful sketch of "Gwen" was presented by Miss Bertha Might.

The programme concluded with a well prepared paper on another of the characters of the book, "Bronco Bill," and a reading entitled "How Bill Hit the Trail," by Mr. E. H. Doidge.

The Literary Committee is arranging for a number of similar programmes to be given through the winter to which a cordial invitation to attend is given to all.

MR. MOON WAS BANQUETTED

By the "Bunch" at McCallum's Restaurant.

He is About to Join the List of Benedicts—A Jolly Little Gathering.

McCallum's Restaurant was last night the scene of one of those happy little gatherings which have been taken part in by what is known as "The Bunch," an occasion on which a certain fraternity of young men bid farewell to certain of their members before he joins the list of benedicts. The last time the "Bunch" assembled was for the purpose of extending their hearty congratulations to Mr. F. M. Vanderwater, who the following day entered into matrimonial life. This was just three months ago. On that occasion the question "Who will be the next?" was humourously asked by the boys, but no one could foretell. The happy individual, however, has turned out to be Mr. Lyman Moon, of the National Hotel, and as the "Bunch" sat around the festive board last night, again the question was asked, "Who will be the next?" Several prophecies were made, but time alone will reveal the secret.

Mr. Moon has during his residence in Peterborough become exceedingly popular amongst a wide circle of friends, more particularly, however, among the young men who constitute the "Bunch," and they could not let the occasion of his marriage pass by without previously extending to him in some manner their hearty good wishes. He was invited over to McCallum's last night, where a sumptuous spread awaited him, and a suitable presentation was made.

The chair was occupied by Mr. W. Bunton, and amongst those also present were Messrs. F. M. Vanderwater, W. J. English, Fred Clark, C. G. Graham, E. E. Shortell, C. D. King, M.D., O. LaBelle, Jack Comstock, M. Comstock, Joe Halpany, Angus McPherson, Daniel Devine, and J. L. Robinson.

After the boys had done ample justice to a delicious spread, the following address was read to Mr. Lyman Moon, the guest of the evening :

Dear Lyman—

Your friends, consisting of kindred spirits — the "Bunch" — have learned of a pleasant event which soon is to bring about a most happy union. They have learned, moreover, that you are largely involved and they cannot but express approval and congratulations. They would have you cherish the opinion, Lyman, that there are those who also having gone forth from the ranks of the "Bunch," have become united to the fair ones of their choice, as you will do, and are now happier and, perchance, wiser men. It is not for us here to discuss the comparative merits of that life of oneness, which you have hitherto known, and identified so largely with the existence of the "Bunch," and the happy unity upon which you are now about to enter. That would be another story. We have on the other hand sufficient confidence in your good judgment and with your acquaintance with the little god to know that a path of happiness stretches before you. May it never be marred, or over-shadowed by sorrow, but ever shine forth as the effulgence of a delightful domestic felicity. This is the wish of your friends, and may you realize it to the full. We moreover are not desirous that you should follow the example of those who have gone before you without accompanying our approval of your intentions with some token of our friendship towards you. We therefore ask you to accept this, our gift, and our wishes that richest blessings may fall thickly upon you and yours, that your troubles may be few, and your joys many.

Signed, F S Laverdure, J M Hammel, W J English, F M Vanderwater, M Comstock, J Comstock, C S Graham, D C King, David Knox, A Laidlaw, Alex Elliott, C C Monroe, F J Bradd, M D., E E Shortell, Ernie Wasson, Harry Bradley, W Bunton, J Goselin, Angus McPherson, M S Kennedy, F Tully, K Houston, W O LaBelle, Joe Gibson.

At the same time Mr. Moon was made the recipient of a very handsome sofa. He replied in feeling terms to the surprise that had been sprung on him, and thanked the boys for the kind manner in which they had remembered him and the good wishes they had expressed for his future happiness.

Songs and short speeches from the boys wiled away a very pleasant hour or so, in which many kind words were said concerning the guest of the evening. All the boys assured him that he and his intended bride had their best wishes, and the little affair closed at midnight by three rousing cheers for Mr. Moon and the singing of the National Anthem.

IS A SURE THING.

The Royal Chorus Will not be Dropped out of the Programme.

Some apprehension has been expressed of late that the Royal chorous might be dropped out of the programme for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of York at Toronto. Concerning this Mr. Mulligan writes the Examiner thus:—

"Dear Sir.—I am authorised to say that there is not the slightest chance of the Royal chorus reception being dropped out of Toronto's reception to the Duke and Duchess. There will be a full chorus practice to-night (Tuesday), every member of the Peterborough contingent should be present at 7.45, sharp, at the I.O.O.F. hall." G. W. MULLIGAN.

WIRE PULLING AT POLICE COURT.

Very Interesting Case That was on This Morning.

YOUNG SMITH'S CONFESSION

How About 4 Tons of Brass Wire Were Stolen From the Canadian General Electric Company This Summer.

There was considerable wire pulling done at the Police Court this morning. Not the wire pulling that the ordinarily used term "wire pulling" implies, but wire pulling of a vastly different nature. For some days past it was known that an important case was coming up at the Police Court, which would bring to light the particulars of one of the biggest steals that has been committed in Peterborough for some years. Consequently there was an unusally large attendance. There was also a good representation of legal talent, for as the charges against the accused are of a very grave nature they were going to run no chances.

Charles Stevenson, a young man who has been employed for the past several months as local representative for Mr. T. G. Holmes, junk dealer, is charged with receiving a quantity of copper wire, knowing the same to be stolen.

Robert Smith, a young lad of apparently about 18 years of age, was charged with having stolen a quantity of copper wire from the Canadian General Electric Company. He pleaded guilty.

County Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution, Mr. E. B. Stone appeared on behalf of Stevenson, F. D. Kerr appeared on behalf of Mr. T. G. Holmes, Stevenson's employer, and R. R. Hall represented Mr. David Doig, who it is understood is implicated in the matter.

The evidence so far has been of a very startling nature, and shows if the evidence of young Smith can be relied upon, and of course it is borne out by facts in a great many points, that during the past six months about four tons of copper wire, new material at that, has been stolen from the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Company, and sold to local junk dealers at from 7 to 9 cents a lb. The wire in some cases was mulitated to avoid suspicion, this being done by burning it and cutting it into short pieces. Several large sacks of this were produced in court this morning. The case against Stevenson was taken up immediately after Smith had pleaded guilty.

The first witness was Smith, the young man who had just pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of copper wire from the Canadian General Electric Company. He said that he lived a short distance out of Peterborough. He had at one time been in the employ of the Canadian General Electric Company, and left their employ about six months ago. He admitted having stolen a quantity of copper wire from the Company, and continuing said that he knew Charles Stevenson, who was now charged with receiving some of the said stolen wire. Stevenson was a junk dealer, and he (witness) had a conversation with him regarding selling him some copper wire. This was early in the present month, when witness sold Stevenson about two tons of the wire. Stevenson agreed to take the wire at 9 cents. It was new wire. Witness brought it in coils in one of Leary's livery rigs. This was about two weeks ago. The conveyance used was a buggy. He made only one trip on that particular occasion bringing about 700 lbs. of wire.

Witness became kind of confused as to dates but he said that the first delivery was made about eight weeks ago, and the last delivery about two weeks ago. Returning to the matter of the conversation between Stevenson and himself he said that he received his money for the first batch of wire which was in new coils. The second lot was also brand new wire. He realised about $80. The wire was not all the one size. Some of it was fine and some of it was larger. The second lot was delivered in the same manner as the first viz.—in a buggy. Stevenson told him to be careful not to be caught. Witness told Stevenson where the wire was coming from after he had made his second delivery. All the deliveries were made in daylight and there were only three of them. The last delivery weighed 1,000 lbs. Stevenson and witness agreed to burn the wire before they shipped it, so the junk dealer came with him across the river on the Tuesday night after Labour Day. They went in a livery outfit owned by Mr. Leary. They took the wire down to the foot of Park street, got a boat there and took the wire across the river. They took a boat without asking. The wire was put in a big fire. After they had burned it they left it on the bank of the river until next morning at about 10 o'clock, when they went for it. The bargain with Stevenson on this consignment was that anything Stevenson could get over ten cents per pound he could have. When down the river they cut up most of the wire with the aid of an axe and a hammar that he got at home. (The same was produced in court and identified by the witness). The cut wire was put into large salt bags such as the ones produced in court. The wire was to be sold to Antitizkey, of Toronto. Some of the wire was also cut up at the store house in the presence of witness, Stevenson and Alex. Oliver, who was in the prisoner's box. The instruments used in cutting up the wire were produced in court and identified by witness. Oliver was cutting the wire near some large bins in the north end of the store house.

CROSS-EXAMINATIONS.

Mr. Stone — How long have you lived in Peterborough?
About 5 years.
This is a sort of pic-nic for you? Not altogether.
You acknowledge yourself to be a thief? Yes.
And a liar? No.
You are telling this in order to save your own dirty skin? No.
You were told that if you told this yarn you would go scott free? No.
That it would go light with you? No. They said that it was better for me to tell the truth.
So far as you know there was no one knew that you were going to plead guilty when you got into the box? Not that I know of.
Did you tell Leary the truth when you kept the horse out all night? I did not.
Have you certain seasons of the year when you tell the truth or tell what is not true? No.
Were you doing anything outside of stealing for a living when you stole the wire? Yes. I was working for a man named Richardson.

Witness said further that he stole the wire at about 2 a.m.

Mr. Stone — Who was with you? They were strangers to this town.
What town did they belong to? I don't think to any particular town. The names of those who assisted me were Durvan and Jeffries. I met them in front of the Court House, but did not know their first names. I met Durvan the first time across the river about a mile below the locks. He was having a chicken roast; he had been stealing chickens. This was one night about ten o'clock, but I did not know where the chickens came from. Durban was with a tramp. Witness did not know where he came from. Young Kerrigan, who worked at Oriental, asked him to come down to the chicken feed.

You said you did not know a man there? Well, Kerrigan is a boy," replied witness. They had not any liquor, just chicken and bread. The next time he met Durvan was in front of the court house, when the conversation turned on the matter of stealing wire. He told Jeffries and Durvan that he knew where they could get the wire. Durvan was about 30 years of age and Jeffries about 20. They got into the works with the aid of a key which witness had made.

Then you are a thief, burglar, liar and chicken thief?" "Perhaps," said witness.

Continuing, witness said that he opened the door and let the other fellows in. He could not remember how many coils they took. This was the occasion of the first lot they took to Stevenson's. He knew that he could sell it to Stevenson, as he had had a conversation with that gentleman about it. They got underneath the high fence to the front and brought the wire out in the same way. They waited then until morning at various places, amongst which was the Fair grounds. He gave Durvan, $25 and Jeffries only $5.

"That was dirty mean towards Jeffries," said Mr. Stone.

Smith admitted that he had boarded at the Oriental at $2 a day, but he could not say how long he was there. He treated at the bar several times, but never took anything strong himself.

"I suppose you wanted to keep your head clear for stealing at night?" "Yes, I guess so."

I stole wire on three other occasions before I commenced to sell to Stevenson. Twice I was alone, and once I had someone with me. Kerrigan was the person who was with me at the time. He was a bell boy at the Oriental at this time. He is 18 or 19 years of age. Kerrigan saw the tags off the wire in my room, and surmised that they were stolen. He asked me if I was going again, and I said that I was. He wanted to know if there was anything in it, and I told him that there was a pretty good thing in it. He then came down with me. I stole the wire and with Kerrigan's help put it in the rig and took it to David Doig.

How much did you have? Much more than he allowed us for. He allowed us 300 lbs.

But you think that you had more? Am certain of it. He gave us about $30, and I gave Kerrigan about $5, but I treated him after we got to the Oriental.

How did you get rid of the night-watchman? I watched him until he went his rounds.

Witness then went on to tell how he went on one occasion himself and stole 600 or 700 lbs. of wire. He left his horse at the French Hotel while he was over at the works. He sold this wire to Davy Doig also.

Did Davy beat you on the weight of this too? He did; he beat me out of about 300 pounds. I got about $30.

Returning to the matter of the first steal, the witness said that he got his first horse and rig from Gibbs. He got the horse at about 11.30 and kept it away for 3 or 4 hours. On this occasion he stole the wire before he went to the livery stable for the horse. He got about 400 pounds, which he sold to Davy Doig. He got 7c a pound. This was all new wire. Doig knew that he stole this wire. He made the key about a week before the first stealing. He went down to get an imprint from which to make the key. He used coal tar, slightly warmed, and made the key at home from a piece of sheet steel. Witness could not tell what prompted him to do all this. The key of the wire building is kept in a glass case which is screwed to the building near the door. He unscrewed the case off the building and after getting the impression he fastened it on again.

To Mr. Stone — Witness repeated his former statement that Stevenson was with him across the river and assisted him in cutting up the wire. He had a conversation with Scotty Duncan about wire. He told Duncan that he could get wire from the Canadian General Electric works, and that Doig had cheated him.

To Mr. Wood—Smith stated that he had hired rigs during the summer from Kennedy, Gibbs, Leary, and Fitzgerald. He said in conclusion that he was sorry now that he stole the wire.

MISS SMITH'S EVIDENCE.

Miss Maude Smith, sister of the prisoner, Robert Smith, identified Charles Stevenson as a visitor at her father's residence on September 3rd. He had accompanied her brother on the river in the boat during the afternoon.

To Mr. Stone — Witness said that her brother had given her 25c on two occasions.

Alex. Oliver stated that he had worked for Stevenson. Holmes owned the place, he understood. He had seen wire in the place. Two bundles were packed in rags. A red-haired, red-faced fellow had told Stevenson to put the wire in the rag bundles so that the chief would not get it. The rag bales would weigh about a ton. There was a cross-eyed fellow who had something to say about it. Stevenson advised against doing it. He told of having cut up the wire according to the instructions of his employer. He may have known that he was destroying good wire, still he always did as his boss ordered him.

To Mr. Stone — Witness said that it was after Stevenson had been arrested that he had cut up the wire.

William Sidey was sworn. His evidence went to show that on the afternoon of the 6th of September Stevenson offered him $1 for the afternoon to cut up some burnt copper wire. He used a hammer and cold chisel. The following Saturday he was sent by Stevenson to Port Hope with some samples of wire which he was asked to show a Jew there and see what price he could get for it. The Jew however would have nothing whatever to do with the matter.

To Mr. Stone — Witness admitted that it was he who proposed to send the wire to Port Hope.

Mr. Robert Leary gave evidence as to the horse hiring by young Smith.

W. H. Waram, a clerk in the G. T. R. freight sheds, gave evidence as to the shipments made by Stevenson during August and September. On Aug. 17th he shipped three bundles of wire weighing 500 pounds; on the 26th, 8 bundles, weighing 800 pounds; on the 27th, 9 bundles, 950 pounds, and on September 7th, 3 bundles, 600 pounds.

At this juncture an adjournment took place until 1.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Upon resuming, Mr. E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Works, Chief Rossel and a junk dealer from Toronto, gave evidence.

This closed the case for the crown as against Stevenson, and Mr. Stone said that he did not propose to call any witnesses.

County Crown Attorney Wood asked that the case as against T. G. Holmes be gone on with before sentence was passed in the Stevenson case. The Holmes case is therefore in progress this afternoon.

COUNTERFEIT GOLD.

GILDING POWDERS ARE MADE OF COPPER AND SPELTER.

How the Material That Gives the Shining, Metallic Finish to Mirror and Picture Frames Is Produced. Gold Leaf Without Gold.

How many persons who see the shining gold in colored printing and on mirror and picture frames know that gold does not enter at all into the composition of the stuff that produces these golden effects?

The shining metallic effect is produced by a fine powder made from a mixture of bronze and spelter. This offers the cheapest and best means of giving the rich surface demanded in wall papers, printing, lithography, frescoing and in a vast range of manufactured articles of wood, paper and iron.

The material used is so called Dutch metal, an alloy of copper and spelter. The relative proportions are varied to produce different colors. The larger the percentage of spelter the lighter or more yellowish will be the tint of the alloy.

The copper and spelter are smelted in graphite crucibles containing about 400 pounds of metal, which, when completely fused, is run off into molds, forming half round ingots two feet long by half an inch in thickness. After cooling these are bound into bundles and sent to the rolling mill, where they are passed cold nine times through a double set of steel rolls under enormous pressure. This flattens them and draws them out into thin ribbons from 50 to 60 feet long and something more than one inch wide. Cold rolling under such extreme pressure makes the metal brittle, so it passes to the annealing furnace, which is heated by wood fire, as the sulphur in coal or coke would be injurious to the ribbons.

Having been softened and rendered ductile by annealing, they are cleansed in an acid bath, cut into lengths of about three feet and collected in bundles of 40 or 50 strips each. They are laid between sheets of zinc and passed under hammers which beat the metal strips to the thinness of tissue paper. This requires six successive beatings, and great skill must be exercised to produce a uniform and unbroken foil. After the third beating the metal strips are taken from between the sheets of zinc, loosened from each other and cleansed by immersion in a bath of tartrate of potassium. The cleaning is repeated after the last beating, and the sheets are hung on lines to dry. In the beginning the rolled strips are a dull gray metallic color, at the fourth beating the yellowish color begins to show, and after the sixth they are clear and bright as gold.

The defective leaves are then thrown out and the perfect ones cut into small squares, which are laid together by hand in packets of several hundred each and inclosed within an envelope of sheet brass. The packets return to the annealing furnace, where they are softened by heating and slow cooling, and then go to the beaters, where they are reduced under flattening hammers to the thinness of real gold leaf, so thin that it can be blown away by the breath.

The manufacture of bronze powder consists in grading, clipping and pulverising the various bronze foils to an even, impalpable powder and is an industry of comparatively recent date. It began as a means of using up and utilizing the imperfect leaves which came as waste from the beaters of gold, silver and bronze. These were cut by hand into fine clippings and then ground to powder in hand mills of simple construction. With the lapse of time and the spread of artistic industries the uses of bronze powder increased until the demand far outran the supply of waste, and the leaf metal is now made on a large scale.

The beating process flattens out a pound of copper and spelter alloy to an area of about 500 square feet, and in this condition the square sheets as they come from the brass envelopes are sheared into small fragments and rubbed with olive oil through a steel sieve having ten meshes to the inch and then passed to the stamping and grinding machines, where they are pulverised by steam or water power to the bronze powder of commerce. The grinding occupies from one to four hours, according to the grade or quality of the powder to be produced, which is of four grades, from coarse to superfine. The superfluous oil is removed by heating under pressure, and the powder is then carried into centrifugal clarifiers, or grading machines, which, turning at a high speed, expel the powder through fine orifices in the form of dust, which settles on inclosed shelves, according to weight and fineness, the finer particles at the top, the coarser below, and in this way the powder is divided into its various grades.

THE OLD FASHIONED BOY.

Oh, for a glimpse of a natural boy—
A boy with freckled face,
With forehead white 'neath tangled hair
And limbs devoid of grace;

Whose feet too in, while his elbows flare;
Whose knees are patched all ways;
Who turns as red as a lobster when
You give him a word of praise;

A boy who's born with an appetite,
Who seeks the pantry shelf
To eat his "piece" with resounding smack,
Who isn't gone on himself;

A "Robinson Crusoe" reading boy,
Whose pockets bulge with trash,
Who knows the use of rod and gun
And where the brook trout splash.

It's true he'll sit in the easiest chair
With his hat on his tousled head;
That his hands and feet are everywhere,
For youth must have room to spread.

But he doesn't dub his father "old man"
Nor deny his mother's call
Nor ridicule what his elders say
Or think that he knows it all.

A rough and wholesome natural boy
Of a good old fashioned clay—
God bless him, if he's still on earth,
For he'll make a man some day!

BILE POISON IN THE SYSTEM

The Result of Deranged Liver—How the Other Organs are Affected—Dr. Chase's Treatment for the Liver.

No organ in the human body has a greater influence on the general health than the liver.

A torpid, sluggish liver leaves poisonous, morbid bile in the blood, which upsets the action of the whole sytem.

There is indigestion, fullness, fermentation, flatulency and oppression in the stomach.

The tongue is coated, the headaches and there is loss of sleep, depression of spirits, and spells of dizziness and weakness.

The bowels are constipated and loose by turns, and griping pains are frequent.

The skin tells of the poisonous state of the blood, by pimples, blotches and liver spots.

In sympathy with the liver the kidneys become clogged and inactive, the urine highly coloured, and there are pains in the back and under the left shoulder blade.

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart and derangements of the menstrual functions are among the symptoms of liver complaint.

You should not expect to find all these symptoms in any one case, but if any of them are present, it is time to take prompt action to relieve the system of these morbid poisons.

The liver must have assistance.

The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened.

Both these filtering systems are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is deranged.

Many a suffering man, many a despondent woman, has been cured of the above distressing ailments by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only remedy that has a combined action on both liver and kidneys.

The wisdom of Dr. Chase in preparing this wonderful remedy has been proven in scores of thousands of cases of complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys, which could be reached by no other remedy.

You do not require faith to be cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose will help you, and a few boxes at most will positively cure the most severe case of liver complaint or kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or postpaid by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The oldest statue in the world is of the sheik of an Egyptian village. It is believed to be not less than 6,000 years old.

It is stated on the authority of a Chicago tea merchant that the glaze on the paper covering of tea chests is due to a preparation composed principally of the refuse of sharks' fins, tails and skins.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

HAPPIEST ROYAL GIRL.

"Miss Johnson" and Her Comparatively Free Life—Known at a Certain Swiss Resort as "The Tramway Girl."

The happiest royal girl in England is 33 years old, lives where she pleases, goes where she pleases, under what name she pleases, usually choosing that of "Miss Johnson," and stays unmarried as she pleases.

All her life Princess Victoria Alexandra Olga Mary, second daughter of King Edward, has plucked the roses of royalty without touching its thorns. Her girlhood was singularly free from the restrictions of court etiquette, while she was, of course, spared the ofttimes tearful struggle to be first which falls to the lot of ordinary children with plenty of self assertive playmates. Probably no one ever snatched her doll. Think of it!

That wise woman the Princess of Wales is said to have allowed her daughters to grow up nearly into womanhood without wearing corsets. At all events, she allowed them a free out of door, rough and tumble life among the dogs and horses and in the fields and gardens of Sandringham. Princess Victoria is now noted for her repose of demeanor and "statuesque" expression, a word with which non-royal girls would probably be replaced by another one, also beginning with an S. But as a long-legged little tomboy of 10 she could "skin" up trees or dart under fences with the best of them.

When she grew up, she threw herself with enthusiasm into athletics of all sorts—fencing, bicycling and so forth—and not long ago had the surprising experience of being stopped by a sergeant in the grounds of Windsor Castle for wheeling on a forbidden path. Cooking, wood carving, repousse work—there is nothing which the white fingers of this most energetic and independent of princesses cannot do.

At a certain Swiss summer resort she was known as "the tramway girl," owing to the intense childlike delight which she exhibited in riding around on the trolley cars. Her fellow guests at the hotel did not, however, know they were thus designating the daughter of a King, as "Mrs. and Miss Johnson of England" were the names by which she and her ex-governess companion, whose name really is Johnson, were put down on the hotel register.

That name of Johnson is evidently dear to the princess, for up to date she has not changed it for any other.

HATS OF THE MIGHTY

LARGE SIZES USED BY SOME OF THE MOST NOTABLE MEN.

How and When the Silk Hat, the Hat of the Mighty Ever Since 1797, Came Into Vogue—Size of Head, Other Things Being Equal, Measured the Greatness of Men From That Period Down.

Ever since a certain John Hetherington, on January 15, 1797, appeared in the Strand wearing—to quote a newspaper report of the period—upon his head "what he called a silk hat, a tall structure, having a shiny lustre and calculated to frighten timid people," the top hat, which, to quote "The Thunderer" of the same date, was "destined to work a revolution in headgear," has been the headgear of the mighty; and in the case of Joseph Hume, the political reformer and financier, a mighty headgear. Joseph Hume, who, when member of Parliament for Middlesex, proposed in 1834 a fixed duty on imported corn, apparently had the largest head of any man famous in the English history, judging from some interesting statistics respecting the headpieces of celebrities, which were forwarded, together with a traveling cap, by an admirer of Mr. Gladstone in 1897. His size in hats, indeed, was 8½, or half a size larger than that of Dr. Thompson, who succeeded Archbishop Longley at York, and of Daniel O'Connell, whose head covering, which was on view a few years ago at a meeting of the County Kildare Archaeological Society at Naas, measured 8½ inches in width and 10 inches in its longest diameter, and was of sufficient dimensions completely to extinguish the chairman of the meeting as far as the chin when he elected to try it on. Following "Dan" O'Connell in the size of headgear comes Dr. Thomas Chalmers, the eminent theologian, and one of the few Britains who have been elected members of the French Institute; and following him W. M. Thackeray, who was a short head, in sporting parlance, in front of Mr. Gladstone, Charles Dickens and Robert Burns, whose head was never graced by a tall silk hat, for the poet died exactly six months before the happening of the stirring events that marked the occasion of the birth of the tall hat.

The painstaking correspondent of the Grand Old Man did not conclude his statistical record of headpieces with Burns, but extended it so far as to record the fact that our King Edward VII. requires a No. 7 head covering, his nephew of Germany a hat bearing the mystic figure of 6¾, the late Dean Stanley a 6¾ "tile," and the Duke of Cornwall and York a "topper" of the proportions represented by the size 6¾ — information that the original recipient found, as he mentioned when acknowledging the gift, "full of interest." Large as some of these mighty head coverings appear, they would, if placed side by side with a couple of straw hats made in 1899 and last year at Luton, appear almost insignificant. In the one case the crown of the straw erection measured about twelve inches high, and across the brim the measurement was 6½ feet; the hat, which required the services of three experienced men to block and iron it, contained no fewer than two hundred yards of jumbo pleat one inch wide, and the hat box in which it traveled to Newcastle (Australia) measured seven feet square and was two feet deep. The second "straw" was even larger, for it measured over seven feet across the brim, twenty-one feet around the brim and three feet round the crown. Moreover, it contained 250 yards of dark blue and white jumbo pleat, and no fewer than four men, of vast experience, were occupied in its manufacture.

Granting the indestructibility of tall silk hats if placed in the hands of experienced renovators and duly steamed and reshellacked, it may be asked what becomes of all those hats that are not transported to Australia or Africa, to be proudly donned by the artless savage? The answer to this question could be supplied perhaps in bated breath by many — they are collected. It seems perhaps incredible that any man should care to turn his house into a museum of "shocking bad hats," but it is done none the less, as is evidenced by the startling prices that some famous hats attain; such, for instance, as the sum, £300 in gold, paid for the Mexican sombrero presented to General Grant while he was in that country in 1882. This now rests in the National Museum at Washington, where, if we remember rightly, reposes the headgear worn by President Lincoln on the night of his assassination in Ford's theatre, and is considered the finest specimen of its kind extant. It does not matter in what state of disrepair the hat may be, or the material out of which it was fashioned; the collector is influenced in his regard only by the degree of celebrity attained by the original wearer and the uniqueness of his head covering. A hat made out of an old pair of trousers worn by George Buchanan, the poet, historian, and tutor to the Earl of Murray, son of James V. of Scotland such as the cap used in the graduation ceremonials at the University of Edinburgh, or even a cap fashioned out of a similar garment once donned by John Knox, such as the cap at St. Andrew's University, would not be appreciated by the ordinary individual, but to the collector they would be almost priceless. This is shown by the fact that when Baron Christiani damaged the headgear of President Loubet at the Auteuil racecourse a few years ago, an enterprising American collector promptly offered a bid for $400 (£80) for the ruined hat, but only received from the President a smile and an evasive reply. — From The London Globe.

MOTHERHOOD

Is a natural instinct which shows itself in the girl as soon as she is big enough to play the mother to her doll. Unfortunately the womanly health does not always keep pace with the motherly instinct, and when real motherhood comes it often comes to mothers who suffer intolerably during maternity and who are unable to nurse the weakling child which frets and moans in their arms.

Motherhood is prepared for and provided for by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, gives a healthy appetite and promotes restful sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother abundant strength to nurse her child.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"Two years ago I was very sick and began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Ed. Hackett, of Chardon, Geauga Co., Ohio. "When my baby boy came he weighed twelve pounds and a half. Have had good health ever since, until about three weeks ago, when weaning my baby. I contracted a heavy cold. Am taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am thankful that poor sufferers have such a grand chance to regain their health by using Dr. Pierce's medicines. A Midsummer Bargain.

"And this room," said the landlady of the seashore cottage to the Brooklynite in search of quarters for a fortnight—"this room you can have at a reduction."

"Y-e-s," he replied. "Is that because it isn't big enough to get my trunk into?"

"Oh, no."

"On account of the bed then?"

"Not at all."

"Then it's what they call a midsummer bargain perhaps?"

"Yes, sir, it is. I've been asking $12 per week for this room right along, but in order to fill my house I'll let it go now for $11.98."—Brooklyn Citizen.

He Couldn't.

"Oh, Mr. Spooneigh, pray rise. It is not right that you should kneel at my feet. Rise, I beg of you!" implored the fair lady.

But he didn't rise. His Irish did, though, and he replied solemnly:

"I'm afraid—er—Miss Grace—I'm afraid I'm kneeling on your—er—that is, you dropped your chewing gum, and, oh, Miss Grace, I'm stuck on you!"—Denver Times.

Sweet Sympathy.

Weary Walker (wiping away a tear)—Ah, lady, I once had a sweet, blue eyed, golden haired boy like that.

Young Mother (sympathetically)—Poor, poor man! Here is some change. Did he die?

Weary Walker (pocketing the change)—No; his parents put detectives on my track and got him back, and I served 15 years fer kidnaping.—New York World.

Catching a Feminine Fish.

"Do you really think there are mermaids in the sea?"

"Certainly," said the dime museum man.

"Then why hasn't anybody besides you succeeded in catching one?"

"Because nobody else was smart enough to bait a hook with the latest style of Paris hat," was the answer.—Washington Star.

Getting His Money's Worth.

"You seem to lie out in the sun a good deal. Why is it?"

The man who was on his vacation turned and looked at the inquirer in surprise.

"I've got to have something to show for my money when I go back to town," he said, "and a good tan is about the easiest thing acquired."—Chicago Post.

Traveling Experiences.

Mother—Sir, I hope my little boy doesn't worry you by his fretting and crying. He isn't well, or he wouldn't act so.

Mr. Man—Oh, no. All children act that way. I'm used to it—in fact, I haven't seen a well child for 20 years.

A man should not be blamed for the mistakes he makes. He should be credited as he profits by them.—Atchison Globe.

SCOTCH HUMOR.

The Farmer and the Minister—Praying for Favorable Weather.

The continued drought has seriously affected our harvest prospects, and if it had continued many might find themselves in the position of the Forfarshire farmer, who was reproached by the minister of Arbroath. "Mr. Johnstone," said he, "I was very much astonish-ed you were na present at the harvest thanksgiving." "O weel, ministher," was the ready retort, "seeing the condition of ma crops, div ye think it woudd be sair reverential on ma part to approach my Maker in a spirit of sarcasm?"

The minister of the Kirk of Shotts in Linlithgowshire, on one occasion made an appeal for a favoraole west wind. "Oh, Laird," said he, "gie us a guid wind, not a ranting, roaring, tearing wind, but a soughing, mowing, winflowing wind." His appeal was followed by a thunderstorm, upon which he broke most irreverently into the exclamation: "Oh, Laird, this is very ridiculous." On another occasion he was officiating at a harvest thanksgiving, and prayed as follows: "Oh, Laird, we thank Thee for Thy bountiful harvest but I would hae Thee call to mind, O Laird, that the kail in the Kirk o' Shotts is as green as leeks yet."

The practice of charitably praying for one's enemies is sometimes carried to excess in Scotland. Two old ladies were heard discussing their respective ministers, and one said to the other, "Div yer ministher iver preach agin Mr. Gladstone?" "Na," was the reply, "but Lordsakes! ye should hear him walk into him in the prayers." Some idea of the extent to which this was done may be gauged from the prayer of an Edinburgh minister: "O Lord, have mercy on our distracted realm. Guide and direct Her Majesty's Ministhers, and especially the old man at the head of them, for he sairly needs it."—London Onlooker.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

SOME FACTS ABOUT YOUR HEART.

The human heart is composed entirely of muscles and weighs about nine ounces. It is the toughest organ in the body. It beats 70 times a minute, or 36 million times a year, and pumps 2½ ounces of blood each time. The most common ailment of the heart is weakness. This is caused by over exertion, the result of work, bicycle riding, breathing impure air or the excessive use of either tobacco or stimulants. The symptoms of this weakness are palpitation and irregular beating of the heart, smothering sensation, flushed face, burning feet, and pains in the breast. The best method of treatment for this weakness is to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the muscles, and build up the system generally.

This is just what you do when you take Merrill's System Tonic, a remedy manufactured by Merrill, the Druggist of Brantford, from a formula suggested by three of the most able physicians on the American continent, and dispensed with the same care given any of the thousands of prescriptions dispensed annually by this druggist. During the year 1900 more than 20,000 bottles of this valuable remedy were sold, and so gratifying and convincing are the results that you need no hesitancy in giving it a trial.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

ANTI-CIGARETTE CRUSADE.

A Rather Novel Club Organizèd in Town.

Girls as Well as Boys are Asked to Sign the Card—How it Will Work.

"The King Edward Seventh Anti-Cigarette Club," is the name of a new organization that has sprung into existence. It is launched under the chaperonage of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and includes in its membership not only men and boys, but girls as well.

The idea is entirely of local origin, and the system of organization is rather novel. A stiff piece of cardboard, about 20 inches in length, and about 12 inches wide, is ruled off in several columns, in which the members of the club are asked to write their names. At the top the following pledge is printed:

"We, the undersigned boys and girls, pledge ourselves not to use cigarettes or tobacco of any kind, and to do all we can to help others to do the same."

One of these cards will be placed in every school room of the town and village of Ashburnham, as well as every Sunday school room, and the scholars are asked to sign them.

One of the promoters when asked how it was that the girls were invited to sign it, and if the tobacco habit was becoming locally prevalent amongst the gentler sex, replied that the idea was mainly to have the girls help the boys along, by showing their sympathy with the movement.

Then, the name appeared rather funny, viz., "King Edward VII." When asked if King Edward himself did not enjoy a cigarette, the ladies replied that he may, but that they wanted something novel to attract the attention of the public.

The movement is certainly is a good one, and should receive the hearty sympathy of the parents of the town, for there is plenty of cigarette smoking done amongst the boys of the town.

THE PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT.

A Neat Little Pamphlet That has Been Issued by the Y. M. C. A— What it Says.

The physical department of the Y.M.C.A. has just issued a neat little pamphlet setting forth the advantages to be gained by taking a course in this department. It extends an invitation to all young men of Peterborough, who desire to better equip themselves for life's work, to join the number who take the course of physical education at our building from year to year. The work given appeals to the boy as well as the man. The aim is to build sound, healthy bodies. The exercises as taught in the gymnasium, consists of marching, calisthenics and apparatus work. Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

THE ROYAL VISIT.

Lord of the earth and air!
Thy wondrous love display,
And bless the Royal Pair,
Who reach our shores this day.

On ocean tempest swept,
And in each distant land
They have been safely kept
By Thy Almighty hand.

For them our banners wave
And love its treasure pours,
While they their names engrave
On these Canadian shores.

"Welcome," the cities say;
"Welcome," each town replies;
A welcome bright as day
Shines from Canadian skies.

Pleasing to all must prove
The greetings which they bring;
For all Canadians love
Their country and their King.

To Thee ascends the prayer
From city, town and farm,
God bless the Royal Pair
And shield them from all harm.

Amid our loyal cheers
May they still onward press,
And through the coming years
The Empire's love possess.

SHOT A BEAR.

Face to Face With Bruin—Neighbors Called in.

On Monday night last, about 8.30 o'clock, Ira M. Smith, of Long Lake, when reading at home, was disturbed by his dog barking furiously. He and a farm assistant went out and the dog excitedly led them to a wood near by. They were brought directly to what they supposed was a coon. It scrambled up a tree. Mr. Smith undertook to climb the tree and knock him out, but when he had made the climb, he could see by the assistance of a lantern they carried that he was face to face with a bear. He slid down with celerity, and sent the man for their neighbours, while he stood guard on the bear. Four men came with guns, axes and lanterns; they gathered around the trunk of the tree, waiting for the bear to come down, or to stay till morning, so that they could see to shoot him. About one o'clock bruin took it into his head to come down; and when within 25 feet of the ground three shots rang out as one, and something came down with a thud to the ground dead. Only one ball had struck the bear, but it was fatal. He was a full-grown male.

BIBLE STUDY.

An Interesting Address by Rev. Mr. Kilgour.

The Rev. Kilgour's outline of the history of Israel was delivered to a fairly large but deeply interested gathering in the Charlotte street Lecture Hall last evening.

It was shown that God, through Abraham, the best man then in the world, called into existence a people designed to thwart the prince of this world, and enlighten the surrounding nations and the coming ages. They became slaves of the Egyptians, and in their dire extremity, God took them and became their national head. He gave them a distinct code of laws, and placed them in the Promised Land, between the two greatest world powers, entirely dependent upon Himself for their national existence.

But this people soon demanded a form of government similiar to that of surrounding tribes, and their wishes were gratified. But their kings did evil in the sight of God, and as a punishment the nation was divided into two kingdoms, Judah and Israel. The kings of Israel, Jeroboam, Omri, Ahab, and the rest, plunged the nation into the foulest excesses and idolatry, until God sent Nineveh as a scourge to check their terrible wickedness.

The Rev. Kilgour spoke with more than usual vigor, and was followed with the closest attention. Next Monday evening Dr. M. A. Morrison will address the League, on the subject, "Singleness of Aim."

WORK FOR BOYS.

Interest in the Work is on the Rise at the "Y."

The interest in the work for boys at the Y.M.C.A. is on the rise, and new members are coming in every day. The ladies will meet this week to arrange for the furnishings of the new rooms.

The Boys' Committee at a recent meeting decided that from this on no boys be admitted to membership who have not reached their twelfth year. This change will be most beneficial all round, and all the associations are taking a similiar step. It has been found that where boys are received too young they drop out of the work after a very short time. The aim of the department is to interest the boys and pass them into the senior department.

Another change to be made this year is that no school boys will be allowed back to the building after tea. Last year several exceptions were made to this at the request of parents, but this year all will be used alike.

Boys over fourteen who are employed in shops or factories during the entire day will, of course, be admitted to intermediate privileges. Parents are asked to note the changes made, and to co-operate with the work in every possible way, as all rules are made with only one thing in view—the good of each boy and the department as a whole.

TAKE HEED OF THIS.

People whose daily habits are constantly active soon wear out Nature's delicate machinery. Nervous exhaustion, general debility, sleeplessness, etc., invariably follow. An invigorating tonic such as "Climax" Iron Tonic Pills will restore wasting vitality and tone up the system. Each box contains ten days' treatment. Price 25 cents, at all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price. Address: Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE GUEST OF CANADA

standing before the thrones. The ladies-in-waiting took their places in the background, one on each side of the dais, and almost the only color in the whole scene was afforded by the officers in uniform, who stood in a semi-circle round the thrones.

Hon. S. N. Parent, in the black robes, and carrying the quaint, three-cornered hat of the Mayor of the city, then stood forward and read the civic address in French and English. As he finished, Miss Jette, daughter of the Lieutenant-Governor, stepped forward and presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Her Royal Highness.

His Royal Highness the Duke then read his reply. He spoke in a clear, pleasant voice, which could be easily heard all over the House. His manner was easy and natural, and he gave a most pleasant impression of sincerity and straightforwardness.

With His Royal Highness' reply, the formal part of the proceedings came to a close. Sir Wilfrid Laurier presented the four bishops, Hon. R. Turner, Mayor Guay of Chicoutimi, Lady Laurier, Miss Jette and a few others to the Duke.

Addresses were also accepted from the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mayor of Chicoutimi and the Lorette Indians, but were not read or replied to.

The Indian address was brought by two chiefs and a squaw. The chiefs wore great plumes of feathers on their heads, blanket coats, with wampum ornaments, and silvery armlets, and the squaw was also dressed in a blanket costume. They were all three presented to Their Royal Highnesses.

The procession was then re-formed, and made its way, amidst the cheers of the people and the singing of the choir, to the Citadel. Here lunch was served to Their Royal Highnesses, Their Excellencies and their suites.

At 4 o'clock a visit was paid to Laval University, and Their Royal Highnesses drove there under the escort of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars.

Archbishop Begin and the rector of the University advanced in turn and read the addresses of the clergy and of Laval respectively in French and English. The diploma of a doctor of Laval University was then handed by the rector to the Duke, who was graciously pleased to accept it, and a splendid bouquet of York roses was presented to Her Royal Highness by one of the pupils of the Seminary. His Royal Highness then read with great clearness of enunciation and much expression a suitable reply.

Rector Matthieu then presented to the Duke A. Marchand of the Three Rivers Seminary, who had won the Prince of Wales' prize for philosophy and by T. Nadeau of College of Levis, who had gained the like prize for rhetoric. His Royal Highness shook hands with them and gave them their awards. After the faculty had been presented to His Royal Highness by the rector the royal party withdrew. They were escorted back to the Citadel by the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars, and met with a most enthusiastic reception en route.

In the evening the state dinner was held at the Citadel. The band of H. M. S. Crescent played during the evening. The toast of the King, the only one proposed, was enthusiastically honored. Those present were:

His Excellency Lord Minto, Her Excellency Lady Minto, Household Staff, Miss Alice Grenfell, Major Maude, Military Secretary; Capt. H. Graham, A.D.C., Capt. A. C. Bell, A.D.C., Mr. Arthur Guise, Comptroller, His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall and York, Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York, Capt. H. S. H. Militia and Major Forester, R.C.D.

During the evening a really fine illumination of the city took place. The postoffice, Parliament Buildings, gates, Basilica and Custom House were all picked out with hundreds of electric lights. Perhaps the finest display of all were on the Chateau Frontenac and the postoffice corner. The Chateau, besides being outlined in fire, carried upon its walls the names and dates of the great historical events of Canadian history, such as Laval, Champlain, Wolfe, Montcalm. At the postoffice there was a perfect blaze of light, the office itself, the Venetian masts, The Chronicle and C. P. R. offices were all brilliantly illuminated and flooded the corner with light.

The program consisted of old familiar English, Scotch, Irish and French airs, and was very effectively rendered. Far above the terrace shone a small light, which yet spoke of the raison d'etre of the whole display. At the King's Bastian had been erected a stand, and here Their Royal Highnesses and the guests at the state dinner watched the crowds, who covered the terrace and the glacis and listened to the faint strains of the music. There they stood and must have been moved by the wonderful scene of life and beauty beneath.

MEDALS AND THE V. C.

Presented by the Duke on the Plains of Abraham.

NEARLY 5,000 TROOPS REVIEWED

Lt.-Col. Turner Receives the Victoria Cross From His Royal Highness—Program Carried Out Without a Hitch, Although a Heavy Rainfall Marred the Military Review—Unique Illuminations.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—To-day His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall and York starts on his tour across the continent, the royal train leaving Quebec at 9.45 this morning, and arriving at Montreal, the next stopping place, at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. The last evening of his visit to Quebec was characterized by a brilliant illumination of the warships and steamships in the harbor.

The second day here was unfortunately wet, the rain beginning before the review was well under way, and made proceedings far less bright than they otherwise would have been. But, though the spectacle was badly interferred with, the 4,000 troops who defiled before Their Royal Highnesses presented an appearance that was most creditable to their commanding officers. The sailors, of course, made a magnificent show, and it says much for the militia that they could march in the same line and not be outclassed.

The presentation of medals, too, was very interesting, the pinning of the V. C. upon the breast of Lt.-Col. R. E. W. Turner, the first Canadian to win that most jealously-guarded of all distinctions, being a noteworthy incident. Nearly all the recipients of medals were personally known to the onlookers, and it was most fitting that their loyalty and courage should receive its recognition from the hand of their future King in the presence of their comrades and their friends.

After the review Their Royal Highnesses drove to Spencerwood, the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, when an official lunch was held.

In the evening the city was again illuminated, and the naval parade took place, which, as the day had cleared up, was more successful.

The streets were alive early with the march of regiments to the Plains of Abraham. They were watched all along their route with great interest, and the martial music of their bands called all the people to their doors. When they reached the plains they were formed up by brigades and regiments, in review order, right across the plains, from the jail to the Marchmont property, facing the St. Louis-road.

THE ROYAL CARRIAGE.

The royal box was carpeted and draped with red cloth, with gold trimmings, and in a corner was placed a table bearing the medals for distribution. On the other side were the Governor-General's and the staff officers' stands.

The public were accommodated on the Turf Club stand, and another erected specially for the occasion.

At about 11 o'clock a signaller stationed on the roof of the jail received a message by flags that the royal party had left the Citadel. They met with a most respectful greeting from the people on Grande Allee. The sidewalks were lined all the way up.

A couple of carriages with some of the royal suite were the first to arrive, but in a few minutes Her Royal Highness drove up in a carriage and four, with an outrider, in the royal livery. Her Excellency, Lady Minto, accompanied her, and they were escorted by a squadron of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars. The troops came to attention as they were shown to their seats, and the National Anthem was played.

A few minutes more and the escort of the Duke was seen passing through the gates of the Plains. His Royal Highness was mounted on a fine white charger, and was wearing the uniform of a colonel of the Royal Foot Guards. He was attended by His Excellency Lord Minto, in the uniform of a general, and a most brilliant staff.

The bright scarlet of the infantry officers was an excellent foil to the darker hues of the artillerymen as they trotted towards the saluting point, but the bright cuirasses and shining helmets of the aides of the Royal Horse Guards made them the most picturesque figures of the whole group.

As the distinguished party arrived once more the troops came to the royal salute, and once more the strains of God Save the King rang out across the Plains.

Then began the formal inspection of the troops as they stood, formed in review order. Along the front and then along the rear of the line passed the royal party, escorted by the general commanding and his staff. As each corps was reached its band struck up its regimental march, and the officers of the staff saluted the colors as they neared them.

His Royal Highness then took up his position at the saluting point in front of the royal box, and his staff officers grouped themselves around him.

The march past was then executed in a manner that was worthy. The corps were formed in column of squadrons, batteries and companies.

The bands of the different regiments advanced as their own corps approached, and, taking position exactly opposite the saluting point, played their comrades by giving place to the musicians of the next regiment when their own men had defiled by.

First came Major-General O'Grady-Haly and his aides, who reined up and joined the royal staff as soon as they had passed the saluting point. Each brigade was led by its brigadier, attended by his brigade major.

The first was the cavalry. Then came the field artillery and garrison artillery brigades. Then followed the pick of the whole parade, 500 sailors and 250 marines from the fleet.

Now came the infantry's turn, and they were led by 60 of the R. M. C. Cadets, who were distinguishable from the other corps by each of them of every rank wearing a crepe band upon his arm. Then came the divisional commander, Lt.-Col. I. B. Ibbotson, R. O., and the brigadier or the first, or redcoat, brigade, Lt.-Col. J. P. Cooke, 1st P. W. F. The Royal Scots, under Lt.-Col. G. W. Cameron, and the 53rd of Shefbrooke, with the two St. Hyacinthe companies, under Lt.-Col. Fraser, followed. The 85th, with their seven companies, brought up the rear of the brigade.

The rifle regiments from the second brigade, under Lt.-Col. O. C. C. Pellotier, D. O. C. The Vics., under Major G. A. S. Hamilton, were followed by the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec, under Lt.-Col. G. I. A. Jones.

After them followed a gallant little company of Quebec High School Cadets and the 65th, under Lt.-Col. A. L. D. Labelle. An excellent show was made by the Medical Corps.

The State Band of the R. C. A. struck up a lively march, and the cavalry and artillery passed the saluting point over again at the trot. As soon as the cavalry and artillery had trotted round to their positions at the right of the line a general advance in review order was ordered. The colors of each corps were brought to the front of the regiment, and the whole force advanced till the general gave the signal for the halt. Then the bands struck up "God Save the King," the colors were dropped to the ground, and the troops came to the salute. This brought the regular review to an end.

But not the least interesting part of the ceremony remained yet to be gone through, the presentation of medals for the South African campaign. His Royal Highness, who had in the pouring rain put on his great-coat, dismounted and took up his stand at the table in front of the royal box. A line of the recipients was formed, which, with the varied uniforms and occasional mufti, was an interesting spectacle. No one wore khaki, and the men in plain clothes certainly seemed in no way out of place.

There were some 90 altogether, and among them were Lt.-Col. R. E. W. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., Q.O.C.H., Lt.-Col. Pelletier, R.C.R., Capt. J. A. Benyon, R.C.A., Major H. A. Panet, R.C.A., Capt. H. C. Thacker, R.C.A., Capt. Lafferty, R.C.A., Major Boulanger, Que. F.B., Surgeon Fiset, Rev. Father O'Leary, Rev. J. Almond.

The R.C.A. had a very strong representation, and the 8th Royal Rifles had no small quota of the recipients.

At the head of the line stood Lt.-Col. Turner, and to him fell the chief honors of the day. He was called forward and one of the staff officers read out the official record of his services, and especially his heroic deed at Kanati River on Nov. 7, 1900.

His Royal Highness spoke a few kindly words of his appreciation, told him that he had also been awarded the distinguished service order for his conduct at the Vet River, and then, amidst loud applause, pinned the little piece of bronze upon his breast. The Duke then shook the colonel, the first Canadian V.C., by the hand, and also presented him with the sword of honor subscribed for by the citizens of Quebec. As the colonel was leaving he was greeted most warmly by several members of the royal staff, and His Royal Highness himself called him back to present him to the Duchess, who graciously asked him a few questions about his services.

CANADIAN STEEL VESSELS.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway Company created its steamship fleet on the upper lakes, less than 20 years ago, it had to import its vessels from Britain. When one of these was wrecked its place was taken by a larger one built at Owen Sound. Some years later the Toronto and Niagara Navigation Company built three large vessels, one at Deseronto, one at Hamilton, and one at Toronto. Quite recently the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company had two or three fine steamers built at Toronto, and only a few days ago an exceptionally powerful dredge was launched for the Dominion Government at the same place. This has been followed up by the launching at Collingwood of the largest steel steamer ever built in Canada, and the laying of the keel of a very much larger one, the former for the Northwest Transportation Company, the latter for Mr. Clergue of Sault Ste. Marie.

All this goes to show that we are on the eve of an important industrial evolution. Many vessels are needed yet to do the work of transporting the produce of the Northwest from the head of Lake Superior to tide water, and there is ample evidence to prove that we can build them for ourselves. There is no bonus or subsidy granted to shipbuilders, the only assistance given them being the duty on imported ships. Mr. Tarte at Collingwood hinted at the possibility of a bonus on shipbuilding but the inauguration of such a policy should take place only after the most careful consideration and inquiry. It is doubtful whether we have not gone too far in the matter of bounties on iron, and the shipbuilding subsidy proposed is a good one to meditate upon before we commit ourselves to it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Oswego Times. — President Milburn's introduction of President McKinley to his Pan-American audience, when he made his speech there that all the world listened to, was a model of five words: "Ladies and gentlemen, the President."

The Edmonton Post (North West Territories) is responsible for the statement that the Galicians in that place and the adjacent country are starting a library and reading room. This is evidence of the advancement of this industrious people. They have already numerous members and they expect many more. A meeting has been held for the purpose of perfecting the organization. At present the library and reading room will be at a private house where Galician literature and newspapers will be kept, and also English papers for those who read in that language which they are all anxious to learn. The comments on this announcement of the Tory papers which indulge in hostile criticism of these people as "filthy," "degraded," etc., will be awaited with interest.

The demand for agricultural implements in Egypt is increasing with the progress made in cultivating land. Farmers are rapidly finding out the value of improved machinery and have in use already a number of threshing machines. Here is a useful hint from a British paper which ought to be of interest to our agricultural implement makers who turn out goods of the kind second to none. Canada has already gained a great name as a producer of this class of goods and should endeavour to widen her field of influence. An example of what we can do can be gathered from the following significant statement from a well known manufacturer on Canadian exports—"We sent over a thousand harvesters to Germany this year, and they have given great satisfaction. We can send three thousand next year if we can supply the demand. We sold three mowers to Cecil Rhodes for his own farms in South Africa last month." What can be done in Germany and South Africa can be done in Egypt.

AFTER A LAPSE OF MANY YEARS

A Letter Comes to Light Which Shows the Undoubted Permanency of Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Edward Patterson of Conboyville the Writer—Her High Opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills—Her Advice to Others.

Conboyville, Ont., September 15th, (Special.)—Mrs. Edward Patterson, of this town, is one of those who can testify to the lasting nature of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills, the great Canadian remedy for all affections of the Kidneys.

Mrs. Edward Patterson, according to her own statement, is to-day in splendid health. Her rheumatism has left her and although it is ten years since then, it has never returned beyond a slight touch in cold weather, which a Dodd's Kidney Pill or two immediately drives away. This proves what has always been claimed—that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure permanently. Their effects are lasting—in fact they do not merely relieve—they cure. Here is Mrs. Patterson's letter:—

"It is many years, perhaps ten or twelve, since I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and then it was not for Rheumatism that I took them. I was feeling miserable, did not know what ailed me, and while reading a paper I saw the testimony of some one who had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, who had been feeling just as I was. I got a box and found they helped me. I found also that my Rheumatism was not nearly as bad, for I had suffered for many years especially in cold weather. I have used dozens of bottles of medicines and liniments, but it always returned until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I seldom have a touch of it. I occasionally get a box, perhaps two a year. I never hear anyone complain of Rheumatism but I advise them to try Dodd's Kidney Pills."

TO KILL ROOSEVELT

New President's Life Threatened by an Anarchist.

MEETING OF THE OLD CABINET

Its Members Have Been Asked by President Roosevelt to Retain Their Portfolios During His Term—He Will Carry Out Policy Announced by Mr. McKinly in His Buffalo Speech.

New York, Sept. 18.—The Herald says: President Roosevelt's life has been threatened by an Anarchist, and the entire Washington police force is on the outlook for the would-be assassin.

MEETING OF OLD CABINET.

President Roosevelt Asks Them to Retain Their Portfolios.

Washington, Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt at three o'clock yesterday convened his first Cabinet meeting held in Washington. At this meeting the President asked the members of Mr. McKinley's Cabinet to retain their respective portfolios throughout his term, and announced that his administration would follow the policy outlined by President McKinley in his Buffalo speech.

The discussion turned on the policy of the administration, and Mr. Roosevelt announced that he regarded the speech of the late President at the Buffalo Pan-American Exposition the day previous to the tragic shooting as outlining the policy to be followed by the administration.

It cannot be learned at this time whether or not all the members will be willing to serve the full term. Cabinet members, with the exception of Secretaries Hay and Long, will accompany the remains of the dead President to Canton, to participate in the funeral ceremonies on Thursday.

EMMA GOLDMAN HAS FEARS.

The Anarchist Firebrand Receives a Couple of Threatening Letters

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Emma Goldman yesterday received two unsigned letters, the writers of which threaten to take her life at the first opportunity. One of them, postmarked Washington, D. C., says:

"If ever you are a free woman, a bullet shall strike you just where it struck the President. Your devilish tongue shall incite no more the murder of good and honorable men."

Miss Goldman said of the letters: "They may do it; you can't tell." She affected a laugh, but anxiety and a tinge of fear were plainly visible in it.

Adjourned Till Monday.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Another recess in the Anarchist hebeas corpus proceedings was taken yesterday, the hearing being postponed till Monday at the request of counsel for the prisoners. Fear of mob violence, should the Anarchists appear on the streets, was the chief influence with the prisoners in allowing their attorneys to make the motion, which will keep them behind the bars another week.

Branded Values.

A nugget may be worth twenty dollars, but you don't know it until it is tested and weighed.

A piece of gold stamped by the mint is worth exactly what it is branded.

A common shoe may be worth what is asked for it, but you don't know till you wear it and find out. It may be Goodyear welted and it may not be.

A "Slater Shoe" branded with makers' name and price in a slate frame is worth exactly what the makers say it is.

They know its value. They put a coupon on it telling the leather it is made of, the wear it will give and how to care for it.

Every shoe branded with price and name, $3.50 and $5.00 per pair. "The Slater Shoe."

PUBLIC'S LAST VIEW

At the Capitol Crowds Poured Past the Casket.

VIEWED PRESIDENT'S REMAINS.

Solemn Stateliness Marked the Ceremonial of Conveying the Remains of the Martyred President From the White House to the Capitol—A Simple Service—Women and Children Injured.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Amid solemn scenes the body of the martyred President was borne from the White House yesterday to the Capitol, and was there viewed by many thousands. The day opened as sombre as the occasion. The sky was overcast with dark, slow-moving grey clouds; occasional spasms of rain fell, giving way for momentary intervals, to gleams of dull sunshine, and a soft wind barely stirred into relief the signs of mourning on building fronts, that told as well as the subdued air of the public that this was a day of sorrow.

Ex-President Cleveland was here to take part in the ceremonies, and like President Roosevelt paid his tribute first in private at the White House, and later at the public services in the Rotunda of the Capitol. The King of Great Britain was present in the person of Mr. Gerard Lowther, Charge of the British Embassy, whom Edward VII. had specially commissioned to participate in the services as his personal representative. Captain Louis Bailey of the Royal Navy represented the Embassy. The other Embassies and Legations likewise had sent on their representatives.

The second stage of the late President's journey toward his waiting grave at Canton was begun at 9.20 o'clock. As early as an hour before that time the chief officers of the Government—civil, military and judicial—began to arrive, and many others whose names are familiar the world over, came singly and in groups to pay their tribute at his official home to the nation's illustrious dead.

President Roosevelt arrived at 8.50 o'clock, accompanied by his wife and his sister, and went immediately to the blue parlor, where they were joined by the members of the Cabinet. The President wore a frock coat with a band of crepe on the left arm.

Mrs. McKinley arose earlier than usual to prepare for the ordeal. She had rested quite well during the night, but her pale face told plainly of her sufferings. She gave no sign of collapse, however, and her physicians confidently believe that she will keep up her strength and courage to the end.

At 9 o'clock a silent command was given, and the body bearers reverently raised the casket to their shoulders. They walked with slow step, and, as they appeared at the main door of the White House, the Marine Band, stationed opposite the mansion, struck up the President's favorite hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." There was perfect silence throughout the big mansion, and as the last sad strain of the music died away, the throng in the building lifted their bowed heads and raised their wet eyes.

As the hearse moved away the mourners from the White House entered carriages and followed the body on its journey to the Capitol, where the funeral services were to be held.

Slowly down the White House driveway, through a fine, drizzling rain, the solemn cortege wound its way. At the gate leading to the Avenue it halted. Then, with a grand solemn swing, the artillery band began the "Dead March From Saul;" a blast from a bugle sounded "March," and the head of the procession was moving on its way to the Capitol. The casket, in a black carved hearse, drawn by six coal black horses, caparisoned in black net, with trailing tassels and a stalwart groom at the head of each, moved down through the gateway, and came to a stand alongside the moving procession.

Solemnly the funeral party wound down past the Treasury Building and into the broad sweep of Pennsylvania avenue amid a profound silence. The procession occupied one hour and a half in passing a given point.

The entrances to the Senate and House wings of the Capitol and the great marble staircases ascending from the plaza to the respective entrances of the House and Senate were jammed with people. A good rain was falling, but the vast crowds clung to their places. Scarcely the murmur of whispered conversation was audible. As soon as they had been formed at rest, the Artillery Band on the left and the Marine Band on the right of the entrance, the funeral cortege, with its guard of honor, entered the plaza from the north. As the hearse halted in front of the main staircase, the troops responding to almost whispered commands, presented arms. As the eight sturdy body-bearers, four from the army and four from the navy, tenderly drew the flag-draped casket from the hearse, the bands softly played the pleasing notes of "Nearer My God to Thee," and every head in the vast throng was bared. Tear-bedimmed, the eyes were raised to Heaven, with careful and solemn tread, the body-bearers began the ascent of the staircase with their precious burden, and tenderly bore it to the catafalque in the rotunda.

The funeral services at the Capitol were simple and beautiful. They were of the form prescribed in the Methodist Church—two hymns, a prayer, an address and a benediction.

After the funeral service almost 20 minutes were required to clear the rotunda sufficiently to permit the opening of the doors for the admission of the general public. Most of the flowers were removed from the casket. The lid was lifted from over the face, and at 11.53 the people began to file by, coming into the building at the east door and passing out through the west door. The people passed on both sides of the casket. No one was allowed time for more than a hurried glance.

When the doors of the rotunda of the Capitol were opened the crowd brushed by the police cordon and a terrible congestion on the Capitol steps and at the entrance door followed. At the latter point there was such extreme pressure that numbers of women fainted. Many who thus became helpless were lifted up bodily and carried out over the heads of the crowd, while others less fortunate were trampled under foot. Of the latter, twelve or fifteen were taken into the Capitol. The room immediately under the rotunda, where the President's body lay in calm and peaceful repose, was a temporary hospital filled with screaming women, lying prone upon impoverished couches. One of them had a broken arm and another had suffered internal injuries, which caused excruciating pain. The office of the Captain of Police was also used to accommodate the injured, as well as were several other places about the building. It is estimated that no fewer than fifty women and children were injured to some extent. Most of them were able to go to their homes, and a few were taken to the Emergency Hospital.

All that is mortal of William McKinley was placed on a train last night and is now speeding to its last earthly resting place at his beloved home in Canton.

"TASTY TABLET DOSES"

An eminent physician, whose schooling has always been along the line of "strong tonics and bitters" for stomach troubles, now prescribes what he calls tasty tablet doses—Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets.

And he is only one of thousands of the medical profession who are "getting out of the rut" and taking the common-sense view of things, and instead of strong doses are prescribing for stomach troubles and the ills that are akin, this pleasant and never failing treatment. Every day sees the walls of prejudice crumbling, and nature getting the recognition she merits—for nature's cures are surest. Sixty tablets, 35 cents. 16

Receipts of live stock at the Cattle Market were 69 carloads, composed of 1212 cattle, 500 hogs, 1417 sheep and lambs and 40 calves.

Trade was fairly brisk in the morning, up to about 10 o'clock. Afterwards there was no rush, as dealers who had a little space to fill had got their supplies. Several lots of export cattle were left unsold at the close of the market. Prices for export cattle were easier, and the best lots in this class sold at $4.80 to $4.90, and very few reached the latter price, the bulk selling at $4.40 to $4.60 per cwt.

A ONE-SIDED BATTLE.

If attacked by a wild beast a man would try and defend himself. If afflicted with rheumatism fight the disease. With Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure the battle is all one-sided. Thomas Todd, Lockmaster at Brewer's Mills, Ont., suffered for twelve years with rheumatism in his shoulder and at times could not work or dress himself. Eight bottles of Dr. Hall's with Climax Iron Tonic Pills, effected a permanent cure. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Alcohol for Automobiles.

Builders of motor cars in France are strongly convinced that the future of the country lies in the utilization of alcohol. Owners have little hope of petrol being cheapened to any considerable extent. They are looking for further economy to alcohol, the utilization of which, it is supposed, will not only save them money, but will revive a languishing national industry at the expense of imported petroleum.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

It is not surprising to learn that Mrs. Morrow gathered together a number of the most talented ladies and gentlemen of our city, and inside of two years had them trained to such a degree of proficiency that she was able to challenge surprise and admiration with her quarterly concerts."

Mrs. Morrow intends to take up this work in Peterborough and will arrange a chorus of some 20 or 40 voices. She prepares pupils for church and concert singing. She will have a teachers course for those wishing to adopt music as a profession. She will give quarterly concerts with her pupils, thus encouraging the pupils as well as the parents. THE Y. W. C. A. SOCIAL.

It was Held in the Y. M. C. A. Building Last Evening—The Band was Present.

On account of the chilliness of the evenings it was decided, yesterday, to hold the Y.W.C.A. social in the Y.M.C.A. hall, last evening, instead of in the open air on the lawn of St. John's church.

The attendance was quite large, although, the determination at the last moment to make the change, no doubt effected the receipts at the door considerably.

Mrs. Hunter, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Lundy were very active in promoting the success of the affair, as was Miss Halliday, of the King's Daughters, who entered into the work most heartily.

Amongst those noticed at the different tables were:—

Peaches and cream, Mrs. Kendry, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Miss Archer, Miss English, Miss Bertha Moore, Miss A. Hall, Miss Sarah Robinson Miss Ada McBain and Miss Gertie Kendry.

Ice Cream, Mrs. R. R. Hall, assisted by Miss Pratt, Miss Edmison, Miss Alice Fife, Miss Meharry, Miss Mabel Routley and Miss Aggie Hall.

Candy and Flowers, Mrs. Peter Campbell, assisted by Miss Laura Davidson, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, Miss Margaret Cox, Miss Aileen Rogers, Miss Annie Burnham, Miss Isabel Hay, Miss Georgie Dennistoun and Miss Helen Hall.

Cake and Sandwiches, Mrs. T. A. S. Hay, assisted by Miss Whiten, Miss Mabel Collins, Miss Brown, Mrs. Alex Spence, Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. D. J. Lundy, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Jory and Mrs. Albert Lech.

During the evening the band was present for some time and played a number of pleasing selections. An impromptu programme of great excellence was contributed by Miss McCarthy, Miss Gertie Kendry, Miss Alberta White, Miss Georgie Dennistoun, Miss Ada McBain and Mr. Jas. Dawson.

THE LATE THOS. HENRY.

His Demise Took Place Yesterday at an Advanced Age.

The death occurred, yesterday, of one of the town's oldest and most highly respected citizens in the person of Mr. Thomas Henry. The deceased was 89 years of age and has been slowly succumbing to the weight of advancing years for the past year or more.

He was born in County Sligo, Ireland, and came out to Canada in 1830, residing in Toronto for a year and then moving to Otonabee Township, where he took up farming successfully for about 25 years, afterwards moving to Peterborough. In 1875 the deceased retired from active business.

A widow and seven children survive, the latter being Messrs. Peter, of Seattle; Myles L. of town; Redmond, of New York; Thomas, of town; Ernest, of South Africa, and Lambert, of Vancouver. Miss Annie of town, and Mrs. Dr. Draine, of Dunkirk, N. Y.

The family will have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in their trouble.

The funeral will leave the family residence, No. 204 Sherbrooke street, at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning and proceed to St. Peter's cathedral.

THE WIRE STEALING CASE.

Mr. David Doig's Case now in Progress.

What Young Smith has to say—Holmes' Case not Established.

The wire stealing case which was commenced at the police court yesterday morning, and in which some very startling evidence was adduced, has created considerable talk around town and everyone is surprised at the "nerve" of young Smith, the star of the entire affair.

The hearing of the charge against T. G. Holmes, who was charged with receiving a quantity of copper wire, knowing the same to have been stolen, was then proceeded with. The accused is a well known business man, and has been in the junk business for some years. The headquarters of the firm is in Port Hope, and the Peterborough agency is on Simcoe street, near the G.T.R. track. Mr. Holmes was represented by Mr. F. D. Kerr.

After hearing the evidence, a portion of which was the same as adduced in the case against Stevenson, Police Magistrate Dumble held that the charge against the accused had not been proven. He was accordingly discharged.

Stevenson, Mr. Holmes' agent, was committed for trial. He comes from Port Hope, and has been in charge of the Holmes agency for about three months. He is apparently about 28 years of age and has only one arm. Stevenson comes of good family.

The court did not sit this morning, but at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon Mr. David Doig was ushered into the prisoner's box. He was charged with a like offence to that on which Stevenson was tried yesterday. Through his counsel, Mr. R. R. Hall, he declined to elect, and Police Magistrate Dumble proceeded with the taking of the evidence. The first witness was Robert Smith, the young man who figured so prominently in yesterday's proceedings. He is this afternoon giving to the court a similiar story to that related in the box yesterday.

WHO SMITH IS.

Robert Smith, the young man who in yesterday's police court confessed to having made a number of daring thefts of copper wire from the wire department of the Canadian General Electric Company, is the 18-year-old son of Robert Smith, Sr., who resides just outside the southern limits of the town. The lad is what might be termed a smart boy. In a talk with an Examiner reporter to-day, he said that he could pick any lock in town. He admitted that it required a lot of nerve to do what he had done, but there was big money in it.

"Had you any trouble in making a key to fit, Smith?" enquired the reporter. "Not at all," was the reply, "it opened the lock the first time that I tried it." Then Smith became very conversant. He told how he caught on to the night watchman's movements. He had everything down pretty fine, he said.

"You see I helped to place in the new alarm system through the building this summer, and I knew what time the night watchman was due at the various parts of the building. One night they had two or three special men on watch, but I was not too easy. They were smoking French tobacco and I smelt it at once. I was pretty nearly on to them though. They didn't hear me as I wore soft boots most of the time. But," said Smith in conclusion, "when I get out I intend to make it warm for some of the boys that threw me down."

At the conclusion of the taking of the evidence this afternoon, Doig was committed for trial.

Smith has been remanded for sentence.

THE STABLER CASE.

It was Enlarged Until Next Week—A Rather Peculiar Case.

In the County Police Court this morning Mr. James K. Stabler of Smith, was charged with the crime of having by menaces and threats obtained five dollars from Mr. A. J. Kempt, with intent to steal.

A few days ago Mr. Stabler had been arrested under a warrant, and had been brought before the Police Magistrate and allowed out on bail.

Mr. Stabler was represented by Mr. W. A. Stratton, K.C., Mr. R. E. Wood acting for the Crown.

The evidence of Kempt showed that he was fishing in Chemong Lake on Sunday, August 25th, that Mr. Stabler was a fishery guardian, and caught him in the act, and fined him $5, which he paid in cash.

Mr. Kempt having paid the money, talked over the matter with some of his friends, and he returned to Stabler and asked for a return of the money on the ground that he had no authority to proceed so summarily.

The two parties argued the matter, and they agreed that Stabler should keep the money and should find out if he were wrong, and if this should appear then he should return the money to Kempt on the following Saturday.

Mr. Stabler found out that he was wrong, and returned the money.

Police Magistrate Edmison adjourned the case for a week.

LAST NIGHT'S MARCH OUT.

The Weekly Parade of the 57th Regiment.

The Men did Excellent Work—What the Commanding Officer Said.

The weekly parade of the 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers which was held last night was quite encouraging not only as regards the strength of the Regiment, but as to drill as well. It was about eight o'clock when the men marched out headed by the band. There was great interest displayed by the town people, and the corner of Murray and George streets contained many citizens, who were anxious to pay their respects to Tommy Atkins, whilst all along George street and in fact the route of march, there was a splendid representation of citizens. As the band struck up, the regiment wheeled around on George street. Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards was in command and Majors Miller and Stevenson were also present. The route of march was down George street to Simcoe, west on Simcoe to Aylmer, north to Hunter, east to George street again. On arriving in front of Central Park the regiment was halted and the commanding officer intimated to the men that they were going to be put through the march past. The band took up its position in front of the Brown memorial while a large crowd of spectators enjoyed seeing the men do the grand. The regiment was then marched to the parade grounds on Central Park, which has been fitted out with arc lights. Here, under Sgt.-Major Brittain some excellent work was gone through.

Upon returning to the drill shed, the commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, addressed his men. He congratulated them upon the excellent showing they had made, although, of course, there was always room for improvement. Their work had been very encouraging nevertheless. He urged upon the men the necessity of being faithful in their attendance at drill in order that the best possible showing might be made at the Toronto review.

The following orders were then read:—

Headquarters, Peterborough.
Sept. 17, 1901.

Orders by Lieut.-Colonel E. B. Edwards, Commandant 57th Regiment, P.R.

No. 1. The following extract from General Orders is promulgated for the information of the Regiment: "57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers. —To be 2nd Lieutenant, provisionally, A P McLean, vice R F McWilliams, promoted."

No. 2. Detail of duty for the week ending September 24th: Captain for the week, Capt. Mills; next for duty, Capt. Cluxton; Subaltern for the week, 2nd Lieut. Hamilton; next for duty, 2nd Lt. Complin.

No. 3. The following are added to the strength of the Regt.—E Co, Pte H Haynes.

No. 4. The following are struck off the strength of the Regiment.— D Co, Ptes Power and Boyd.

No. 5. Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Capt Hayes, Lts Mathews, Layfield and Complin.

No. 6. 2nd Lieut. A P McLean is hereby posted to E Co.

No. 7. The Commanding Officer has been pleased to make the following promotion: E Co, to be corporal, Pte F Allison.

By order,
D. WALKER, Lieut.,
Adjutant.

There is great enthusiasm being displayed amongst all ranks and next Tuesday night will likely witness an exceptionally large parade.

The new tunics are now in the stores, and some of them were issued to the men last night. They are going to look pretty grand.

There were quite a few recruits on parade last night. Recruits are asked to bear in mind the recruit class for Friday night—of course anyone who thinks he needs a brushing up should attend.

No. 6 Company was quite strong last night and in doing splendid work.

The men are asked to bear in mind the fact that Thursday is the first day for shooting in the competition which is about to be commenced.

ORDINATION OF MR. J. H. HANNA

At Park Street Baptist Church Last Night.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY

Rev. O. C. Elliott, a Former Pastor Assists—Other Ministers Present.

Last night, with all due ceremony, the ordination of Mr. J.H. Hanna took place at the Park street Baptist church. The service was conducted by Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Belleville, assisted by Revs. C. M. Carew, E. J. Bridgeman, F. Watson, J. H. Kelly, C. E. Pines, W. A. Gunton and J. H. Farmer.

After opening the service with song, the lesson was read by Rev. C. M. Carew, of Omemee, followed by a short prayer by Rev. E. J. Bridgeman, of Lakefield. Then Rev. Mr. Elliott, after a second hymn, by a few neat words introduced Dr. Farmer, of McMaster University, whose duty it was to preach the ordination sermon.

Before choosing his text the Doctor made a few remarks concerning an ideal man, and said that a man, who was, as he believed Mr. Hannah to be, truly committed to the Christian ministry, must have a noble ideal and that no man ever attained to anything worthy of admiration without one. He then chose as his text, 20th Chapter St. John, 21st Verse.

"Then said Jesus unto them again, Peace be unto you; as My Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

These words were so often misunderstood. They apply not only to priest, but to both minister and layman alike. This is readily seen from the close of St. Luke's gospel when Luke says that on this occasion many besides the eleven were gathered together.

The Doctor first called attention to the fact that Christ regarded Himself as being sent from the Father on a great mission. When we note the absolute submission of Christ as He laid aside all glory and power to come and live in this dark world, we are simply astounded at his obedience and the steadfastness with which He pursued this mission.

But He performed this mission well for we have many instances when God manifested His pleasure with Him. From the first, when the angels told of the holiness of His mission at His birth; through childhood and the toil of the workshop till God gave His full approbation after the baptism at the hands of John. From this point Christ rises from obscurity and comes into publicity and in preaching to the multitude becomes the One towards Whom the eyes of the world turn. Through the many months that followed when His whole being was so tortured by sin, He held steadily on the great mission, and marched to the unspeakable agony of the cross.

Continuing, the Doctor said, that as the Father sent Christ so are we sent by Him. We must believe in Christ and that He sends us on this mission into the world to do the same work as the apostles, and that this work is dealing with sin. Our mission is the evangelization of the world, and this must be all important. We must not look on business as the great object in life. It is simply incidental and no matter what our business, our mission is to bring the sinner to the cross.

Some time, was given by the Doctors, to the equipment we receive from God for this mission. He says at the first, "Peace be unto you," neither does He leave us alone, but says, "Lo, I am with you always." Jesus Christ is not a historical figure but a King to-day, living in us and guiding us, so that we may overcome all obstacles. Now there is no mission or task so great as that of winning souls and no power so great to help as Christ.

In conclusion he said that if we remember that as God was to Christ on His mission, so will He be to us, and will help us to hold steadily to our task, then we will be able to succeed. Let us then believe that if we live aright, and set ourselves earnestly to His great mission, God will help and prosper us on our way.

After the sermon a short prayer was offered and then the ordination prayer was given. This latter was offered by Rev. F. Watson, of Colborne, and during the prayer the candidate was fully ordained by the laying on of hands. After this the ordination charge was given to Rev. J. H. Hanna by Rev. J. H. Kelly, and then the former was given the hand of fellowship by E. F. Pines, of Stirling. The ordination charge was then given the congregation by W. A. Gunton, and the whole service dismissed by the newly ordained minister.

MURRAY STREET BAPTISTS.

A Pleasant Evening—Interesting Programme Prepared.

The Congregation met Last Night for an Evening of Sociability.

As a part of the re-opening services, of the Murray street Baptist church, the membership of the church and congregation met last evening in the vestry for some short speeches and sociability. After the devotional exercises led by the pastor, addresses were delivered by several leading members of the church. One of the deacons, who perhaps has been a member of the church longer than any other man now in active service, gave the following brief but very interesting history of the church during its 57 years of existence:

The Peterborough Baptist church was organized in the year 1844, when a few Christian people met together in a small frame building for worship. God in His providence called Rev. John Gilmour from Scotland to Montreal, and from there to Peterborough, which was at that time a very small town in the backwoods. Mr. Gilmour was a Christian minister, whom to know was to love and respect. He was the pioneer Baptist minister of this district, preaching wherever opportunity offered, in farm houses or school houses, in the townships.

In this year, 1844, a subscription list was opened towards building a new church. Payments were made in cash and kind, according to the ability of the givers. The first name on the list is that of the late James Mann, of Smith, who contributed £1 5s. The new building, erected on Aylmer street, was formally dedicated to the service of the Lord on the first Sunday of January, 1846, by Rev. Mr. Horne, pastor of the Bloomfield (now Baillieboro) Baptist church, preached the opening sermon.

The independent church then formed consisted of 11 members who had come from the Smith Line church. This organization dates from May 10th, 1846. The charter members were Pastor John Gilmour, Mrs. Gilmour, their son, Mr. J. W. Gilmour, Miss Margaret Lamb, Mr. Thomas Graham, Miss Grace McDonald, Mr. Jas. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Gibson, Mr. Daniel McIntyre and Mrs. McIntyre. These have all gone to the eternal reward but their influence remains with us still.

Associated with Mr. Gilmour in the work of the churches here were Rev. Mr. Horne, Mr. John Edwards, Mr. Samuel Tapscott. The following lay brethren nobly bore their share of the burdens and responsibilities of the pioneer work of the churches: Mr. Thomas Graham, Mr. John W. Gilmour, Mr. Isaac Garbutt, Mr. James Stratton, Mr. Jas. Mann, Mr. Duncan McDonald, Mr. Wm. C. Nicholls, Mr. John Walton, Mr. Jas. Edwards and Mr. William Graham. Besides these there are many other brethren and sisters whose names recall faithful service, and lives devoted to God and His church in our town.

In 1848 Rev. E. Roberts, of Smith, became associated with Mr. Gilmour in ministering to the churches at Peterborough, Smith Line, and Selwyn. Services were held in the different churches once each Sunday, and sometimes once in two weeks.

In 1853 Rev. Hoyes Lloyd spent his vacation here, and afterwards accepted the pastorate in 1854, which terminated in 1855, after which the work was continued by Mr. Gilmour and others.

About this time Rev. John Cameron was pastor of the church for four years.

In 1867 Rev. Thomas Stock came from England by invitation to take charge of the churches. He resigned in 1869 and returned to England. Mr. Gilmour continued to preach until May 9th, and on May 23nd, 1869, the Lord called him home.

Rev. Thos. Dyall assumed the pastorate the same year, and resigned in 1871.

Rev. Robert Cameron and others visited us for a time, so that we had one service each Sunday.

In 1872 Evangelists Carroll and Russell came to our town and at the end of the services Rev. Chas. Carroll became pastor of the church, which he served until the year 1876. It was during this period that the church held two services on Sunday, and many precious souls were added to it.

From 1877 to 1880 Rev. Daniel Mulhern served the church with good acceptance.

Rev. E. J. Stobo, now Bible Society agent in Quebec, was our pastor from 1880 until 1883.

In the summer of 1882 Rev. W. M. Walker, of London, preached for us.

Rev. J. H. Best was with us for a short time. After this he removed on account of his wife's sudden death.

During Mr. Carroll's pastorate the Aylmer street church was enlarged and adjoining property bought.

On January 3rd, 1884, the late Rev. A. H. Munro commenced work amongst us.

On July 28th of that year it was decided to buy the church building belonging to the Bible Christian body. It was accordingly bought and has since been improved, renovated and enlarged several times.

Mr. Munro resigned in 1886, and was succeeded by Rev. P. C. Parker, of Toronto, Rev. John E. Trotter, of St. Catharines, Rev. A. T. Dykeman, of New Brunswick, and of our present pastor, Rev. Mr. Bastow, late of New York, I need not speak. He himself has so faithfully served his Master in our midst that words of mine are unnecessary.

The former church chorister gave a most excellent paper on "The Relation of Music to Church Services." The president of the Young People's Union spoke upon the work of the young people in connection with church life. The church treasurer gave a statement of the cost of the improvements to the church, and also the pledges and actual payments, with some excellent remarks upon the importance of exercising the best business talent, in the management of the church business.

Refreshments and a sociable followed, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

AGE OF GLASS AT HAND.

Predictions Made by Jules Henrivaus, a French Manufacturer—Advantages of Glass Very Clearly Outlined.

Jules Henrivaus, until lately director of the great glass manufactory at St. Gobain, predicts that the new age is to be the age of glass. He says that glass is the best substance known for every kind of structure and especially for dwelling houses. The point of the idea is found in the inexhaustible supply of the materials from which glass is made, and its adaptibility to all forms and shapes, its uniformity and its cleanliness. With regard to the second point it is obvious that glass can be shaped, colored, and decorated to an extent of which no other material is capable, and it is upon this aspect of the idea that Henrivaus lavishes his imagination. There are six ways in which glass can be manipulated. It can be cast into window panes, paving stones, panels, and so forth. It can be molded into cornices, slates, wall decorations, and even statues. It can be blown into bottles, tumblers, vases and all the utensils comprised under the name of glasswere. It can be blown and ground into crystals, lenses, prisms, and other objects of art and utility. It can be drawn into the finest threads and made into pipes, baskets, and dress materials. It can be turned into mosaics and enamels, and could be brought into the closest imitation of most of the precious stones.

These are Henrivaux's plans for the construction of a glass house. The foundations and the walls would be constructed of a variety of glass, recently invented, called stone glass, which has already successfully withstood the severest tests. When crushed it gives a resistance three times as great as granite. When subjected to heat or cold it is found less sensitive than steel. When submitted to friction it shows less wear than prophyry. Shock such as of hammer blows it resists to a degree twenty times as severe as that which would fracture marble. The test of tension has practically no effect on it whatever.

The walls then would be built of glass held together by angle-iron, so as to permit of a hollow space through which pipes could pass (the pipes themselves being glass work), conveying hot air, hot and cold water, gas, electric wires, drains and everything needed for the health and comfort of the inhabitants. Stairs and balustrades, ceilings and wall decorations, mantel pieces and fireplaces would all be constructed of glass. Chairs and tables, in the new glass age, will be made of vitrified material toughened to the strength of oak and mahogany. Cooking utensils, plates, cups and saucers, will be made of the same substance. Even knives and forks will have glass handles, if not glass blades.

The new glass house will be absolutely clean and practically indestructible. The whole of its surface can be washed from the top storey to the basement, without a trace of humidity being left. Dust cannot collect on its polished face, and the spider will find no place on which to hang its cobwebs. Such, at least, is Henrivaux's fancy.

A Remarkable Bridge.

An aerial ferry in place of a bridge, has been constructed and opened across the Seine at Rouen. To avoid interfering with the shipping, no structure was built in the stream or near its surface. A horizontal flooring, sustained by steel towers, and suspension cables, was stretched across the river at an elevation of 167 feet, and on this flooring run rollers driven by electricity. From the rollers is suspended by steel ropes a car, which moves at the level of the wharves on the river banks. The car is 36 feet in width, and 42 feet in length, and is furnished like a ferry boat, with accommodations for carriages and foot passengers. The ropes that carry the car are interlaced diagonally in such a way that all swinging motion is avoided.

The Pain of Sore Feet.

Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief bathe the feat in warm water and then rub them with Polson's Nerviline. It penetrates the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nerviline is a protection and safeguard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, etc. 25c.

Chafing and Itching Skin

Annoying Rashes, Inflammations and Irritations Are Soothed, Healed and Cured by the Great Skin Food.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

There is always mystery and doubt about the action of internal remedies. Time is required for the medicine to take effect. It is different with Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it is applied externally and you are sure to be surprised at the remarkable change it brings about in a few hours. Its cleansing, soothing, healing action allays inflammation and irritation, removes redness and roughness of the skin, and leaves the skin delightfully smooth, soft and velvety.

Notwithstanding its powerful action in the severest cases of skin disease, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with perfect safety on the most tender skin, and is especially suited for the chafings, itchings and irritations which are so troublesome during the hot summer weather. Ladies keep it constantly in their toilet, and mothers who have used it in place of powders for their babies, would not think of changing. It does not clog the pores of the skin, as do powders, does not stain the linen, and is pleasant to use.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when it was scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left. My little girl two years old has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard ointment the world over. It promptly and thoroughly relieves and cures eczema, salt rheum, and the most turturing forms of itching skin disease. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 9

The life of Robert Burns is dealt with in over 250 books, and there are no fewer than 40 distinct "lives."

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

GOT THE POSITION.

She Successfully Played on the Weakness of the Statesman.

The New York Herald tells how a diplomatic young lady who understood the weakness of politicians secured some years ago a place in the state service.

The day before the opening of the session a shy girl knocked at the door of the attorney general's office.

"Is the attorney general in?" she asked timidly.

"Yes," said the clerk. "He will see you when he gets through with this long line of job hunters. Just have a seat."

In the numerous chairs, on the office lounge and standing were 20 more waiting for a turn to press some claim for a position.

The attorney general was rather a gruff looking man, and he dismissed each with the remark: "I can't do anything for you. Sorry, you know, but there are hundreds of applicants, and each officer, every legislator, has a dozen begging for each position."

When the timid girl's turn came, she handed the impatient looking officer a letter. She said nothing. She hardly looked into his face.

"I'm sorry, Miss C., that I can do nothing for you. It was foolish for you to come here expecting to get work. I'd be glad to help you if I could; but, you see, it's this way: I have no influence to get you a position. I am very"—

"We were speaking of that at home, but I thought it would do no harm to see you," she interrupted. "And we were saying what a pity it was that you had lost your influence."

The state official winced. He looked as if something hurt him.

"Brown," he said, turning to his deputy with unnecessary abruptness, "this young lady is to have a position in the enrolling department. See that there is a place for her if you have to muzzle every legislator in the building."

Devastating Power of Locusts.

A swarm of these insects stopped the advance of a Russian army. They filled the air and blinded both officers and men, so that the former could give no orders, and even if they had done so the men could not have obeyed them. The horses would not face them, and they lay on the ground many inches thick. Every man and horse in the army was incrusted with the insects, and their clothing was literally eaten off the men as they stood helpless and blinded. The railways were useless, as the locusts covered the rails, and the oil which exuded from their bodies when crushed prevented the driving wheels from "biting." After they had settled whole regiments were detached for the purpose of trampling them to death. Trenches were dug across their path and filled with burning coals, but the crowding swarms actually smothered the fire, so vast were their numbers.

Even in a little island like Cyprus in one year one-fifth of the entire revenue was spent in destroying the locusts, and especially their eggs. When these eggs are laid, they are inclosed in a horny envelope called a "pod," each pod containing 35 eggs. In seven months 1,330 tons of pods were destroyed. Now, a single ton of pods contains 00,000,000 eggs, and yet, in spite of this almost incredible destruction, the locusts are still a dreadful plague and show little if any symptoms of diminution in numbers.

Stomach Catarrh

Thos. Howarde, of Montreal, cured of a severe case of fifteen years' standing.

Thos. Howarde, of Montreal, suffered from stomach catarrh and dyspepsia for fifteen years. He had tried so many remedies without being benefited that he believed he would never be well. Below we give the result after taking Powley's Liquified Ozone. His way of telling it is best:

THE OZONE CO., LIMITED.
Gentlemen,—Having suffered from catarrh of the stomach and acute dyspepsia for fifteen years and tried many remedies with very little benefit, I decided to try Ozone, and for three days after using it I found little or no benefit, but the fourth day I felt decidedly better, and after using one bottle can honestly say that I feel more comfortable than I have felt for many years. I am satisfied from the benefit already received that it will cure me entirely.
(Signed) THOS. HOWARDE, 706 Dorchester St., Montreal, P.Q.

We believe, and we know that you would too, if you had the evidence every day as we do, that there is no other preparation extant that can approach Ozone in curing stomach and summer disorder. It rectifies the membraneous lining of the stomach, makes digestion complete and heals the inflammation of the intestinal tract. In bowel disorders Ozone stops the weakening drains quickly; absolutely essential in such ailments.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

HARD ON THE NERVES

RUNNING TRAINS OVER MOUNTAIN ROADS IS RISKY WORK.

It Takes Youth and Strength and Courage to Hold an Engineer's Job on One of These Brain Whirling, Nerve Rocking Runs.

"One of the greatest difficulties of the real mountain roads, like the Colorado Midland, the Rio Grande Western and the Denver and Rio Grande, is in getting engineers," said the city passenger agent of the Rio Grande Western road. This gentleman is familiar with all the intermountain roads, where the trains have to all but fly to reach some of their destinations.

"One might suppose that all roads would look alike to the experienced engineer, but they don't. Along some of the prairie roads an engineer can take a run on any new track almost as well as on one he has traveled for years and knows with his eyes shut. But here in the west it is different. Down in Colorado, where are some of the greatest monuments to the railroad builder that have ever been erected, an engineer has to travel over the roads sometimes for weeks with old, experienced engineers who know the track before he will be trusted with a train. It isn't a question of engineering ability; merely one of experience.

"It is enough to take a fellow's nerve to sweep around some of those mountain curves and passes for the first time. Some good men never take more than their first ride. I have seen engineers come from the east, men of gilt edge character and ability, who lost their nerve with the first trip and took the first train for a flatter country. Dizzy reverse curves, trestles that seem to totter in the wind, precipices that seem to yawn for a fellow's life and grades that are a revelation of horror to the newcomer crowd in bewildering confusion on the view, and unless a fellow is as stolid as an ox or nervy as the mischief he is apt to lose his head.

"You would be surprised at the number of young engineers who are on the mountain roads. For one thing, a man does not last there as he does on a less picturesque, more prosaic run. It takes youth and strength and courage of a rare order to stand it all. The companies are the most appreciative in the world, for they realize how hard it is to get a good man, and they treat a good man right royally. But even this does not attract a surplus of the right sort.

"The principal dangers are in the heavy grades and in the sharp curves, though landslides are far from unknown. One must know his train and his road like a book to get through with his life on the Marshall pass, for instance, where you seem to plunge headlong down the mighty hill. A rock on the track, a broken wheel, a runaway car or a failure of the brakes to work would end in a smash up that would startle the whole country. The hill might be a glare of ice or frost, it might be wet or snowy, and if you set the airbrake too hard so as to start the wheels to sliding down the hill you go like a gigantic toboggan, with death and destruction at the end of the ride. The management of the airbrake and knowing where the curves and dangerous places are is the greatest part of an engineer's education in the mountains.

"For my own part, knowing the dangers as I do, I feel nervous after riding 100 miles over the wildest parts of the roads even as a passenger. I rode through the Royal gorge on the engine a few weeks ago and was glad when the ride was over. It makes a fellow feel trembly like to think what might be, though the worst rarely happens. Such is the care taken in equipment and in getting the best men that the mountain roads have as small a proportion of losses as the dead level roads of the plains. But it takes a man of nerve to pilot a train through some of the wilder regions.

"A freight train is the worst, in that it is much heavier than a passenger and is expected to make almost the same time. All the heavy stock trains going east, 25 to 30 cars, make passenger schedule. A freight is so loosely coupled as to be very unmanageable at critical points. The stock trains are the terror of the engine drivers and all the trainmen.

"A fellow isn't necessarily a coward when he throws up his job as engineer over the mountain roads, after seeing what the dangers are. Not one passenger in 10,000 would assume the same danger. The position calls for absolutely steady nerve, and one who feels that he is likely to get rattled is dangerous to himself, to the company and to all who ride behind him. A man must think and act like lightning in the face of so many dangers that he must be sure of his ability to stand the strain. No one stays any great number of years. It is beyond one's power to do so and be safe. A man may be brave and willing and all that, but these are not enough. He must be sure and proof against stampede. Such a man is worth everything to the companies, and they treat him like a prince."

Neuralgia

His Wife's Weak Heart.

It is a singular thing that in the popular view of disease the interdependence of the several organs of the body is lost sight of. The heart, for example, is diseased and it is treated as if it were entirely separated from, and independent of, every other organ.

The fallacy of this opinion is shown by the cures of heart "trouble," liver "trouble," kidney "trouble" and other so-called "troubles," effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Primarily the "Discovery" is a medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and blood. But it cures diseases of organs seemingly remote from the stomach, because these diseases have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I doctored with three different doctors for weak heart, but they did me no good," writes Mrs. Julia A. Wilcox, of Cygnet, Wood Co., Ohio, Box 23. "I was so tired and discouraged if I had had my choice to live or die I would have preferred to die. My husband heard of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and he bought a bottle. I took that and the first half seemed to help me. I took six bottles before I stopped. I am perfectly well, and am cooking for six boarders. It has been a God-send to me."

"Sir," said the expectant writer, "I have here a little joke on a brand new subject which I would like to sell. I know the public tires of the old, stale jokes, and I have made a new one, entirely original, I assure"—

"What'sthjoke?"

"Why, a man has insomnia, you know, and he goes to church and hears the preacher and sleep comes over—ha, ha! Isn't that"—

Of course the city usually takes care of such cases, and the authorities made no demur when the editor rang for the ambulance and sent the poor fellow to the hospital at the public expense.—Denver Times.

"Why, she had on that lovely new bathing suit that she has specially laundered, you know, and was walking on the pier when she made a misstep and fell in."

"Was the water deep?"

"Deep enough."

"Deep enough for what?"

"Why, to ruin her suit forever."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BIG FOOT MIKE.

THE ORIGINAL SOONER.

Far to the west in the long ago,
Keeping close to Missouri's flow,
Then over the plains where the coyotes grow
Going his best—
But his best was slow—
Headed west in his prairie schooner,
West Big Foot Mike,
The original sooner.

For Mike had heard
Of the peak of Pike;
He'd been told exactly
What "she" was like,
An the more of Pike's he studied about
The more he wanted to "stake her out,"
An' that's the reason why Mike one day
Hitched up his schooner an started away
With an ax, a spade an some shootin tools
An a couple of good Missouri mules.
I ain't quite certain that he did,
But I think Mike carried a wife an kid.
Anyhow I know there was tied behind
A-followin Mike both night an day,
A family dog of the yellow kind,
An since Mike's time you'll always find
A yellow dog tied on behind
A prairie schooner on its way.

Mike certainly had a queer outfit,
An the natives almost took a fit
Of laughter when they gazed on it.
For on the outside Mike had writ:
"Bound for the west.
In God we trust.
Big Foot Mike,
Pike's peak or bust!"

Some told Mike the peak was a long way out,
But Mike knew exactly what he was about,
An he kep' a-goin, an a-goin, an goin
(For Mike was from Missouri and had to be shown),
An away out yonder was the peak of Pike,
An makin right for her was Big Foot Mike!
I don't exactly know his route,
But a lot of Missourians followed him out,
An it's easy money—if you want to bet—
That a lot of them Pikers are out there yet.
But Mike was away ahead of them all,
For he kep' a-goin spring, summer and fall—
Kep' a-goin west in his prairie schooner,
Big Foot Mike,
The original sooner.

As I said, in the Lord Mike put his trust,
In the hope to get to Pike's or bust.
But if Mike did bust in spite of his trust
I trust an hope, hope he went up right
An kep' a-goin till out of sight,
An I also hope some of his kin
Reached out a hand an pulled him in.
But maybe Mike didn't bust at all,
But reached the peak an saw it all,
For nerve like Mike's
Would carry 6 dozen men to Pike's.
But I've got trouble enough myself
Without a-stirrin up Big Foot Mike's.

But far to the west in the long ago,
Keeping close to Missouri's flow,
Then over the plains where the coyotes grow,
Headed west in his prairie schooner,
West Big Foot Mike,
The original sooner.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

Expenses of a Yacht Owner.

There is no question that modern luxury has reached its most extravagant pinnacle in yachting, which, in the elaborate profusion of its expense, brings us very close to the latter days of the Roman empire. Take a single case. A boat like Colonel Payne's 650 ton yacht Aphrodite carries a company of 60 men—captain, first and second mates, carpenter, chief steward, assistant steward, 2 bedroom stewards, pantryman, chief cook, 2 assistant cooks, chief engineer, 3 assistant engineers, 3 oilers, 15 firemen and 19 men before the mast.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS ARE.

The Kidneys, two in number, are composed of a network of blood vessels and delicate tissues surrounded by a muscular coating. They are about four inches long and two inches wide. Their peculiar function is to abstract from the blood, fluid impurities. They act very much like a filter, the heavy portion of blood passing on through the veins and the watery portion draining out and down through the uretha into the bladder. Diseases of the kidneys consist of a lack of tone of the muscles surrounding the arteries and a lack of sensitiveness to the delicate nerves found in these organs, caused either by inflamation or general debility. Kidney diseases manifest themselves in the urine and also by a pain in the small of the back. Merrill's System Tonic exhibits the best form of treatment for any disease of the kidneys. It contains the healing and soothing properties of Bucha combined with the muscle and nerve toning properties of the hypophosphites. Besides it is a blood purifier and will remove from the system uric acid poisoning caused by kidney weakness and resulting in various forms of rheumatism. We don't weary you with testimonials, but we have more of them than most medicines. The use of one bottle will convince you that Merrill's System Tonic is an extremely valuable medicine of extra ordinary merit.

THE W. C. T. U. ANNUAL MEETING

Held in the Y. M. C. A. on Monday Afternoon.

MRS. KENDRY IS PRESIDENT.

Interesting Reports From the Head Officers—What the Union is Doing.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Auxiliary Rooms of the Y.M.C.A. on Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the president, Mrs. McPherson, presiding.

After singing a hymn, Mrs. Stewart led in prayer. Mrs. (Rev.)Campbell gave a Bible reading in the 14th chapter of St. John—"Our Lord's farewell talk to His disciples." and those comforting words of His to Christians, "Where I am there ye may be also.".

After singing a hymn, the president gave her address, which was as follows:

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Dear Sisters, — A year has passed since our reorganization and you conferred upon me the honour of electing me president. In accepting the office I asked you to bear with me, not having had any experience in the work. You have borne with me in my mistakes and shortcomings, but I have left these with Him who knoweth our weakness and frailty, and Who pitieth us. "Like as a father pitieth his children so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him."

It has been a year of progress. We have had our discouragements, but I think we have reason to be thankful for what we have accomplished, but I will say little about the work. The secretary's and treasurer's report will show what has been done, but in work like this there is much that cannot be counted by numbers or given in reports, but is known to Him who searcheth the heart and seeth all our actions and who taketh notice of and commendeth even a cup of cold water given in His name. Our hope and prayer is that what has been done, be it little or much, may be accepted by Him, and that it may be as the bread cast upon the waters, found after many days.

In the beginning of the year we made a strong effort to try and stop the growing evil of cigarette smoking among the young boys. Our hearts yearn for the children; they are young, and know so little of the evil and temptations of the world.

"They are but little hands,
Be kind; things are so new,
And life but stands
A step beyond the doorway.
All around new day has found
Such tempting things to shine upon,
And so the little hands are tempted oft,
You know."

We have had large cards prepared. They are called the Anti-Cigarette Club, for the boys and girls to sign. We intend having them placed in the different Sunday schools and public schools of the town. Mrs. Garvin has kindly undertaken this work. I would ask the parents, teachers and friends to use their influence to get as many of the boys and girls to sign them as possible. We hope this may help to stop the growing evil. Each child who signs will have an influence over others.

Our membership kept increasing until the holidays, although many of our members have not attended our meetings as regularly as we would have wished to see them; others have been very faithful, taking an active part in the meetings and the other work of the Union. I would like to thank the friends who assisted us in our meetings by giving addresses, talks, and solos; also the trustees of the Y. M. C. A. building for the use of this room to hold our meetings in, and Mr. Williamson and his staff for their courtesy towards us.

Death has not entered our ranks during the year to take any of our members from us, but some have passed through deep waters. Two members have lost their partners in life, and others have had family ties severed, but we know He doeth all things well, and although we cannot understand these things now, we shall know hereafter. "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God." The scene that St. John witnessed on the Isle of Patmos shows us that many came through trials and sufferings, but it yielded the peaceable fruits of righteousness. He says, "I beheld, and lo, a great multitude that no man could number, stood before the throne and before the lamb, clothed in white robes, and palms in their hands. One of the elders said unto me, 'What are these arrayed in white robes, and whence come they' I said; 'Sir, thou knoweth,' he said, 'These are they which came out of great tribulation,and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.'"

My term of office has now expired. I thank you all for your kindness and the sympathy you have shown me, and bespeak the same for my successor, and hoping the coming year may be one of greater prosperity than the past.

S. D. McPHERSON.

The report of the Secretary was very complete and was as appended:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

During the year there have been held 19 meetings. The average attendance at 10 of these was 14, the attendance at the other meetings not being recorded. The meetings were opened with singing and prayer, followed by a Bible reading.

On March 9th a bale was sent to Mrs. Gould, Apsley, in response to her request for clothing, and other articles for needy families. This bale also contained 9 Bibles and New Testaments papers and tracts. There have been 250 papers and magazines sent to lumber camps.

In May a deputation, consisting of representatives from the various temperance societies in town, waited on Hon. J. R. Stratton, regarding the better enforcement of the liquor laws. Mr. Stratton promised to do all he could to meet the wishes of the the deputation.

Towards the end of October, 1900, the President, Mrs. McPherson, represented our Union at the Provincial Convention held at Smith's Falls, and brought home a very interesting report.

In December a public meeting was held in the Baptist school room, when addresses were given by Rev. J. Bastow and others, after which $10 was divided into three prizes and given to the pupils who had obtained the highest standing at the entrance examination in physiology and hygiene.

The last meeting of the year, and the last of the 19th century, was one of praise and thanksgiving, conducted by Miss Roberts, the evangelistic superintendent.

Our regular meeting in June, before the holidays, was held in the home of our President, at the close of which refreshments were served, and we had a pleasant and social time together. Members, 27, two being honourary ones.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. J. CHALMERS.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

Hon. Members — Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. J. Stratton.
Pres. — Mrs. Kendry.
Vice-Pres. — Mrs. (Rev.) Campbell, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. (Rev.) Kilgour, Mrs. Warne.
Cor. Secretary — Miss Roberts.
Rec. Secretary — Mrs. Chalmers.
Treasurer — Mrs. Whiten.

Mrs. Garvin gave an interesting account of her visits to some of the Sunday schools, public schools and grocery stores on behalf of the Anti-Cigarette Club.

Mrs. McColl rendered a solo in splendid voice.

Mrs. Stewart spoke a few closing words, and Mrs. Kilgour brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

McKINLEY.

Imperial President! Majestic Star!
Who spake like Christ, when summoned to the bar!
By right divine of mind and moral worth,
A King among the rulers of the earth!

While envious Death a Judas greeting gave
And smote with fatal aim ere friend could save,
No thought of self thy visage writ with care,
Thy loved wife and thy slayer wouldst thou spare.

A Prince of God, another Israel thou,
With noblest diadem upon thy brow,
Who wrestled not in vain the crown to win,—
Enduring victory o'er self and sin.

Thy great, strong, tender soul has passed beyond,
To bind the nations' hearts in firmer bond;
Humanity is weeping at thy bier
And feels no shame at touch of falling tear.

Immortal Dead! Illustrious deed was thine;
Thy large heart beat with sympathy divine;
Thy words and wisdom e'er shall fitly grace,
In brain and page, the brotherhood of race.

SOLD HIS BIRDS.

Mr. John Jayes Sold His Buff Rocks to Mr. Benson.

Mr. John Jayes has decided to go out of the poultry business and has sold his complete roost of Buff Plymouth Rocks to Mr. T. H. Benson, of Lakefield. Mr. Jayes has for some time been one of Peterborough's most prominent poultry fanciers, and has carried off many red tickets in his day at various shows. His Buff Rocks were his pride and Mr. Benson can congratulate himself upon being the owner of such a fine line of birds. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Jayes will still maintain the deep interest in the affairs of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Stock Association which he has in the past shown. He has still quite a few young birds out in the country which he will dispose of at a bargain.

MEDALS AND THE V.C.

The medals for the other soldiers were handed to them in turn, the Rev. Father O'Leary in particular cheered by the 8th as he joined them for the march back. The royal party then left in the same order as before, and proceeded to the Citadel, escorted by the Q.O.C.H., meeting with a great reception en route. Here His Royal Highness changed into morning dress and set off with the Duchess for Spencerwood, where His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor entertained him at lunch.

The troops from Montreal and other outside points returned home during the afternoon.

In the evening the general illiminations of the city were repeated, and the naval display took place. It is no exaggeration to say that a finer sight of its kind could hardly be seen anywhere. The general scheme was that the nine warships and H. M. S. Ophir should be lighted up in the same way as Monday night. Set pieces should be set off from the wharves, and a number of small boats should pass along the harbor, letting off fireworks as they went. The program was carried out to the letter, and the result was really magnificent as viewed from the terrace by thousands of spectators.

A dinner was held last evening on board H. M. S. Ophir. Those commanded to attend were Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Minto, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and Madame Jette, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. S. N. Parent as Mayor of Quebec, Hon. Mr. Archambault, and the personal suite of Their Royal Highnesses.

ANARCHISTS IN HAMILTON.

Four Men Heard Discussing the Killing of the Duke of York.

Hamilton, Sept. 18.—The heads of the Police Department are satisfied that there are plotting Anarchists in this city. This belief has been strengthened within the past few days by reports made by detectives and uniformed men. The other night four strangers were in a wine room in the Flamboro Hotel, Merrick street, and were seen talking very earnestly by the bartender, who notified the proprietor, John Robinson. Attention was paid to their conversation, and it was learned that they were discussing the killing of the Duke of Cornwall, who is to visit Hamilton next month. Their talk made it clear to the listeners that there is a plot to assassinate the Duke. Robinson ordered the men out of his house. The detectives are now trying to locate the quartette. It is known that one of them is a Russian.

LACROSSE.

The Port Hope team is keeping up its winning streak. Yesterday at Beaverton in the return game of the semi-finals in the C.L.A. Intermediate Series, the Port Hope team turned down the celebrated Checkers by a score of 4—3. The game is said to have been a pretty fierce one. The Port Hope boys passed through town last night on their way home. Messrs Rolly Glover and Jack McCabe of town, played with Port Hope as usual.

This is the first meeting of the executive this season and as the work for the next month or so will be mapped out it is important that there should be a full turn out of those constituting the committee.

ROYAL MOUNT ROYAL

Splendid Welcome of Metropolis to Her Royal Guests.

GAILY DECORATED STREETS.

Countless Thousands Throng Them on the Arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall From Quebec—The Duke's Happy Reply—Presentation of Medals—The Illuminations.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Perhaps nothing could have been more striking than the reception tendered the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York by the citizens of Montreal yesterday, or more effective than the illuminations given in their honor last night. Montreal, it is said here, has never before seen such a celebration, and anyone who has seen a display such as was given in this city last night can well credit the statement. Probably one hundred thousand spectators witnessed the royal cavalcade as it proceeded yesterday afternoon along the two most fashionable French and English residential streets, St. Denis and Sherbrooke, on to Dorchester to the residence of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, whose guests Their Royal Highnesses will be during all their too-short stay in Montreal. Last night the illuminations in the city were brilliant beyond description, and such as Montreal has never seen before. It is to be remarked, too, apart from the decorations of public bodies, the private citizens of Montreal have most elaborately and lavishly decorated their residences to show their appreciation of the honor paid the City of Montreal by the visit of the future King and Queen of Great Britain. That the civic reception, which was to have been held last night, was cancelled was no doubt a disappointment to a great many people, but the citizens of Montreal are in accord with the feeling which prompted the cancellation out of respect to the memory of the late President McKinley.

LORD STRATHCONA.

The Governor-General's train reached Viger Station at 2.39 p. m., while the special carrying the Dominion's royal guests steamed in half an hour later. The royal party alighted, and, passing through the station and over Craig street, the Duke escorting Lady Minto, and His Excellency, the Duchess, were received in a magnificently-decorated platform by one of the most notable assemblages of people ever gathered in Montreal. There were the Mayor, the Prime Minister of Canada, Sir Louis Davies, Hon. W. S. Fielding, the judges of the Court of Appeal and Superior Courts, the Archbishops of the Anglican and Catholic diocese of Montreal and the clergy of all denominations.

There were fully one hundred thousand people massed around Viger Station when Mayor Prefontaine read a loyal address on behalf of the city.

Ladies of the Empire and other organizations also presented addresses.

The Duke's Reply.

His Royal Highness replied as follows:

Gentlemen: The kind, affectionate and, in one instance, sacred, words of your addresses have indeed touched our hearts, and the Duchess joins with me in offering to you and the people of Montreal our sincere gratitude for the warmth and loyalty of your greeting.

I feel that I do not come amongst you to-day entirely as a stranger, for I have the pleasantest recollection of the two previous visits to your fair city, and it is an additional pleasure that, on this occasion, the Duchess is with me.

I deeply appreciate your expressions of loyalty and devotion to the Throne and to the person of my dear father, the King.

Your kindly reference to his visit here in 1860 recalls to my mind significant words, spoken by my revered grandfather, which seem specially interesting at this time, as they allude to visits to this country and to the shores of South Africa, which I have just left.

Speaking, in 1860, of the almost simultaneous presence of the Prince of Wales in Canada—where he was about to open your celebrated Victoria Bridge—and of Prince Alfred at Cape Town, to lay the foundation stone of the breakwater in Table Bay, the Prince-Consort said:

"What vast considerations, as regards our own country, are brought to our minds in this simple fact—what present greatness, what past history, what future hopes—and how important and beneficent is the part given to the Royal Family of England, to act in the development of those distant and rising countries, who recognise in the British Crown and their allegiance to it their supreme bond of union with the Mother Country and with each other."

It is gratifying to hear that, in this commercial metropolis of Canada, two great races form one happy and united community, and that you joyously accept the obligations of your proud membership of the British Empire.

Notable proof of this spirit of patriotism is to be found, both in your past history and in the gallant deeds and noble sacrifices which have given to Canada so honorable a place in the roll of fame, which is contained in the record of the British army in South Africa.

Your sympathetic allusions to our late beloved Queen are in harmony with the sounds of genuine mourning which we have heard in the course of our journey throughout the Empire. Her heart was always closely drawn towards Canada, which was associated with the lives of several of her family, and with her father's memory. One of the addresses, I note with pleasure, emanates from a body in whose custody is the historic building where, more than 100 years ago, the Duke of Kent received from the citizens of Montreal similar assurances of loyalty to the Crown of Great Britain to those which you have given me to-day. We regret that time does not permit of a further extended stay in your city. We shall leave it with an earnest trust that, under Divine Providence, peace, prosperity and concord may be the lasting heritage of the Dominion and its people.

The next function was the presentation by His Royal Highness of South African war medals to two hundred soldiers, some of whom were the Strathconas.

This over, the royal party entered their carriage and preceded by the usual escort, the procession began. Their Royal Highnesses were driven up St. Denis street to Sherbrooke street, along that street to Peel and down to the corner of Peel and Dorchester, proceeding next to the residence of Lord Strathcona, where they were received by His Lordship.

One of the most satisfactory features of yesterday's demonstration was the magnificent showing of the French-Canadian quarters of the city. Miles and miles of French streets were splendidly bedecked, while St. Denis, the French residential street, through which the royal couple passed, presented one of the finest spectacles of the whole parade. In fact, the French-Canadians of the metropolis have reason to be proud of the day's work, for it must be said that without them the functions would have been short of many of its most brilliant features.

Before the Windsor Hotel was reached rain began to fall, although the early part of the afternoon was everything that could be desired, and the distance from Dominion Square to Lord Strathcona's home was gone over at the double quick.

At 9 last evening Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal gave 125 of Montreal's leading citizens an opportunity of meeting the Duke and Duchess at a dinner, while 125 more will be entertained this evening.

The torchlight procession was one of the grandest affairs ever seen in Canada, over 7,000 men being in line. This, together with the decorations, rendered the city up to midnight one blaze of glorious light.

The warship Indefatigable, which was to have reached port yesterday, ran aground eight miles above Quebec, but was got off uninjured. The Psyche took her place, and arrived here last evening.

Lady Laurier Will Do It.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Owing to the inability, through the illness of Mrs. Morris, wife of His Worship the Mayor, to present the fur cape to Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York, the ladies of the Women's Committee have communicated with Lady Laurier, asking her to make the presentation.

Quebec to Montreal.

Quebec, Sept. 19.—The departure of the royal party for the West was witnessed by thousands of people at the station. The 8th Royal Rifles kept a passageway through the crowd, and the royal carriage, which advanced at a quick pace, was received with a volume of cheering. The cheers lasted until the train faded away from view.

ROYAL HONORS ANNOUNCED.

Canadians Upon Whom They Have Been Bestowed by the King.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The honors on the occasion of the royal visit were announced here at a late hour last evening. Lieutenant-Governor Jette of Quebec and Sir John Boyd, Chancellor of Ontario, are made Knight Commanders of St. Michael and St. George; T. G. Shaughnessy, President of the C.P.R., is made a Knight Bachelor; Principal Peterson of McGill University, Principal Grant of Queen's, Rector Mathieu of Laval, Mayor Howland of Toronto, Major Maude, Governor-General's Secretary, and Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, are made Companions of St. Michael and St. George. These are all the honors to be bestowed.

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD.

The Regular Meeting was Held Yesterday.

9 5-8 THE HIGHEST FIGURE.

Mr. Cook Thinks That Business Methods Could be Improved—There Were 4558 Boxes Boarded.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held in the town council chamber yesterday. The president, Mr. Drummond, in the chair.

The following buyers were in attendance: — Messrs. Fitzgerald, Cluxton, Kerr, Cook, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Bailey and Sauve.

There was no complaint from salesmen to-day regarding the alleged misconduct of certain buyers such as has characterized the meetings of the Board during the past month. However, buyer Cook thinks that there should be an improvement in the methods of doing business on the Board. His suspicion is aroused by the fact that Warminster, Oakdale, North Dummer and Maple Leaf refused to him at 9 5-8 and sold immediately afterwards to Mr. Rollins at 9 9-16. He considers that there is no protection on the Board.

The bidding was decidedly erratic, 9 5-8 being the highest price and at this figure quite a few of the factories sold. There were 4,558 boxes boarded and the board was cleaned pletely off.

FACTORIES BOARDED.

The factories boarded as follows:—

Keene	185
Warminster	113
Shearer	100

Norwood	105
Fleetwood	210
Oak Leaf	46
Buckhorn	168
South Burleigh	35

Shamrock	90
	4558

Bidding was opened by Mr. Rollins at 9 cents, Mr. Bailey went 9 1-8, Mr. Fitzgerald 9 1-4, Mr. Cook 9 3-8 and the first bidding closed at 9 9-16 by Mr. Bailey. In taking his selections he called Ormond, Bensfort, Otonabee Union and Mount Pleasant. They all accepted. Mr. Bailey offered 9 1-2 for further selections but Mr. Fitzgerald brought the bid back to 9 9-16. He took Fraserville, Buckhorn, Central Smith, Myrtle, and offered 9 1-2 for further. Mr. Whitton called 9 9-16, but Mr. Kerr surprised a few by going 9 5-8. At this figure Westwood refused, but Norwood, Melrose Abby and Keene accepted. He wanted further selections at 9 9-16, but Mr. Whitton at 9 5-8 took Shearer, Westwood and Lang. Mr. Bailey, too, went 9 5-8 on the next bid. Fleetwood, Lakefeld and Cavanville sold. At 9 9-16 Shamrock, Indian River, Missing Link sold to the same gentleman, but Oak Leaf refused. Mr. Kerr and Mr. Cook then had a "tiff" as to who had the next call. Both shouted 9 5-8 at about the same instant. President Drummond gave it to Mr. Kerr, who called East Emily, Treewern, Pine Grove, Oak Leaf, Brickley, (for September and 9 1-4 for August), Peterborough, Warsaw, Ballyduff, (Montreal inspection), Warsaw and North Smith.

Warminister refused at 9 5-8 to Mr. Cook, as did Oakdale, North Dummer and Maple Leaf, and that gentleman quit calling.

Maple Leaf then sold to Mr. Rollins at 9 9-16 along with Stony Lake, Cedardale, South Burleigh, North Dummer, Young's Point, Daisy D., Oakdale and Warminster.

A DEATH "DODGER"

Chronicle all the escapes from death and put them in letters that all the world can see, and you'll find if history were written faithfully, Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will hold the record for having "baulked death's rampage."

It goes to the very brink and snatches from the death Angel's grip. Gives relief in thirty minutes. It is a heart specific. A few doses relieve the most stubborn of cases, and a few bottles will turn the scale of health. It never fails to cure. 78

Miss Gertie McLaughlin, who has been visiting relatives in Bracebridge for the past week or two, is home again.

The pulpit of the Presbyterian church was occupied on Sunday last by Mr. Howard of Toronto, who delivered very able addresses. In the morning he took as his subject "Faith", and in the evening "Prayer." Mr. Howard will take charge of the services next Sunday also.

The dinner given by the Baptists at the Ninth Line School House, on Wednesday evening last, was a decided success in every way, the proceeds amounting to $32.00.

The Rev. Mr. Torrie will preach his farewell sermon in the Baptist church here on Sunday evening. Mr. Torrie is leaving to continue his studies at McMaster University, Toronto, and we wish him every success.

LIKE A CHILD.

Old Lady of Strathroy Feels as Spry as a Damsel a Fraction of Her Age.

A noteworthy result of the use of that splendid remedy, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, is the feeling of youth and buoyancy experienced as soon as the pepsin and diastase contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets begin to act on the food.

The blood is very soon improved in quality on using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because instead of being fed by the product of a weak, sour, enfeebled stomach, the full nourishment of perfectly digested food goes to make it up.

The whole body soon feels the influence of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because this rich, new blood is immediately carried to every muscle and nerve, building up the wasted places and toning up the entire system.

The mind and mental condition soon become fresh and wholesome because the mind takes its tone from the body. If the body is healthy we are happy in spite of trouble. If we are happy in spite of trouble and our bodies are healthy we feel young, for children are the happiest and healthiest of mankind, as a general rule.

This is what Mrs. Susan Coome of Strathroy means when she says she feels like a child again owing to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. She writes:

"I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach for fifteen years. After every hearty meal I would suffer so that I grew almost afraid to eat. I would often have to lay down after meals, and as for pastry of any kind, I could not touch it. Nothing I ate would digest. I tried different remedies but got no relief. I heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and got some to try. They cured me. I can eat anything now without the least fear. I feel like a child again. You are welcome to publish this letter that others may learn of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and find health again, as I did."

PETERBORO' CENTRAL FAIR.

A Few Facts Concerning the Coming Exhibition.

The Special Attractions Promise to be a Big Drawing Card—What the Directors are Doing.

The secretary of the Peterborough Central Fair in an interview with the Examiner furnished the following interesting information concerning the Exhibition:—

The formal opening of the Fair will take place at 1.30 p.m. on Wednesday 25th. Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, who had signified his intention of being present, cannot, for reasons as explained in another paragraph be here. This is to be regretted, but cannot possibly be helped. Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, Jas. Kendry, Esq., M. P., Geo. Fitzgerald, Esq., Warden, and Mayor Denne will officiate. The latter, if he arrives home from his European trip in time.

An event of interest to all young men, and in fact to all interested in athletics, will be the championship 100 yards foot race, on the afternoon of Wednesday, 25th, on the grounds at 3.30 p.m. Mr. F. Schneider, jeweller, has donated a handsome silver cup as a prize. It will be run off on the turf, which will be carefully rolled and made ready. This race is open to all residents of the county and town. The conditions of the contest will be set by the committee named to take charge of the race, and will be announced in good time. In the meantime any information can be had from Mr. P. Campbell, manager of the Bank of Toronto, town, who is chairman of the committee. Eighteen entries have been received so far in this event.

Two good events are set out in the speeding-in-the-ring. A purse is made up for trotting, free for all. This should bring to the front several good horses and result in an interesting contest. The second event is a green race, for horses that have never started before July 1st. This will afford a chance for the untried horse to show himself, and several entries are at hand from those who think they have speedy animals. The green race will be brought on at 4 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon, 25th, and will, it is thought be run off in alternate heats, with the free for all. There should be an interesting couple of hours sport in these events. The conditions governing these contests are set out in the programme.

It is admitted on all hands that the recent census was a disappointment, in that it did not show that the population of Canada had increased to as large an extent as was anticipated. Whatever the reasons for slow progress, the census did not explain, and further it did not throw any light on the quality of such increase as we have had. In order that those interested may see just the kind of work being done for posterity—in defiance of the generally admitted fact that posterity has done nothing for us—it would be well to view the remarkably fine exhibits as shown in the baby show. This will take place at 1.45 p.m. on Wednesday. The judges have a difficult task, and much sympathy in their embarassing position.

The drawing contest will attract attention. It is a veritable trial of strength. Stone boats are loaded with material of a given weight and the teams pull. It is a fine sight to see the magnificent horses in action. The entries promised should make this contest one of the best on the grounds. It is a chance for the heavy draught horse to get in his work in fine shape. This contest takes place at 4 p.m. on Thursday, 26th.

The parade of live stock in the ring is a good feature. It affords the visitor a chance to see, at one view, the animals shown and their comparative merits, just as the show of carriage and driving horses is an attractive feature.

A list is given below of the several committees having charge of departments of the Fair, and to whom application may be made for any information, or to the secretary, Mr. W. J. Green, Peterborough.

The ticket selling facilities at the Fair Grounds are being over-hauled and put in such shape that patrons will be enabled to buy tickets without crowding. Four ticket sellers will be on hand at the wickets.

There will not be a night performance at the grounds, the expenses connected with the lighting and care of the evening entertainment when given at the grounds, being too large in proportion to the returns. Instead, the Market Hall has been engaged and a capital evening's entertainment will be given. The entire talent as given in the afternoon's attractions will be put on the stage at the Market Hall, and with good music, a capital evening may be expected. Full announcements with regard to the night show will be made in a day or two.

Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, who had consented to be present and open the Fair formally on the 25th Sept., will not be able to be present. His official duties in connection with the reception to the Duke and Duchess of York at Montreal and Ottawa, precludes him taking the time to visit Peterborough. Mr. J. H. McClellan was advised by letter of the fact on Tuesday, accompanied with expressions of regret that the visit would have to be postponed until a later date.

The G.T.R. has announced that single fare will be the rule for all who come to Peterborough to visit the Fair. This rate will be good for tickets coming to Peterborough on Sept. 23, 24, 25, and 26, and good returning up to the night of Sept. 27th.

It is expected that an attractive exhibit and one that will be of interest to parents will be that of the Kindergarten work shown by the assistants in the Kindergarten departments of the public schools. This work is prepared in books, and to those who have not seen the work as completed the exhibit should be of very considerable interest.

Last year the directors had the Wild West as an attraction. This year they have engaged a very fine set of attractions and the presentation of these will add interest to the Fair. While there exists a great diversity of opinion as to whether attractions are a legitimate means of enhancing the attendance at an agricultural fair, it seems that to afford a variety of interest attractions should be provided. Without going into the merits of the case the directors have provided at very large expenditure, a liberal programme, and one that will be sure to please. The various specialties are refined and thoroughly good, and include very accomplished people in their several lines. Following is a list of the several representations, which will be given on a large platform in full view of everyone, commencing at 2 p.m., and continuing to 4 p.m.:

Lily Bletso, the Canadian Premier Cornet Player, and the youngest of her sex in Canada who plays that difficult instrument. She will give a selection of national and popular airs.

Nellie Franklin, the clever English dancer and singer in a pretty and picturesque song and dance sketch.

Areno, the contortionist, who performs feats which have mystified the medical profession in Canada and the United States.

The Bletso children, National Dancers, winners of numerous prizes, and the cleverest young dancers in Canada.

Harry Ritch, Canada's Foremost Comedian, in a series of very funny and amusing songs and sketches.

Franklyn and Hiatt, the marvellous English Lightning Change Impersonators in realistic sketches of English characters, including the seaside resort, lady and gent, the race course swells, the English costers, and London society swells.

Varnin & Turenne, the celebrated Roman Axe Jugglers, in wonderful feats of daring and strength, handling a perfect shower of axes.

Walton and Jones, in the funniest and prettiest comedy sketch ever put on any stage, introducing a wonderful cornet player and the prettiest dancing by a lady ever seen in Canada.

MOURNING IN CANADA

The Dominion Will Honor Memory of President McKinley.

FROM WASHINGTON TO CANTON

Throngs of Mourning Citizens Lined the Route—Universal Grief Expressed All Along the Line—The Crowds at Canton, President's Old Home—Lying in State—Mrs. McKinley.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The following proclamation was issued yesterday by command of His Excellency the Governor-General:

"Whereas a terrible bereavement has befallen the people of the United States by the death, at the hands of an assassin, of their Chief Magistrate; and, whereas, it is eminently fitting and proper that the people of our Dominion of Canada should be afforded an opportunity of evincing, in a solemn and collective manner, their sorrow for the untimely death of the late President, and their deep sympathy with the people of the United States in the national calamity which has suddenly fallen upon them;

"Now, therefore, we do proclaim that Thursday Sept. 19, being the day appointed for the obsequies of the late President, shall be observed as a day for a general fast and for public mourning throout our Dominion of Canada. And we do enjoin and exhort that, on that day, throout our said Dominion, all flags and ensigns shall be and remain at half-mast, and that signs and emblems of mourning shall be displayed, and that our said people do abstain from any public recreation or amusement, and that they do assemble in their respective places of worship for the purpose of holding memorial services.

"Given under my hand and seal-at-arms, at Ottawa, this 18th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and in the first year of His Majesty's reign. By command,

"(Signed) R.W.Scott,
"Secretary of State."

MR. PATTULLO'S ELOQUENCE.

Addressing Good Roads Convention at Buffalo—British Sympathy.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Yesterday's meeting of the International Good Roads Congress was partly turned into a memorial meeting, many tributes being made by the delegates to the memory of President McKinley. Permanent organization was effected at the morning session. Hon. W. S. Jennings, Governor of ANDREW PATTULLO, M.P.P.

Florida, was elected chairman, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, President of the Ontario Good Roads Association, was introduced. He advocated the beautifying of roadways in the country districts. Mr. Pattullo, in closing, expressed with a fervid eloquence the sympathy of all Canadians with the American people in their hour of bereavement. So touching and beautiful were the references to the man who died, so earnest and sincere were his declarations that the British Empire mourned the loss, that the whole Congress was soon in tears.

WASHINGTON TO CANTON.

Throngs of Mourning Citizens Lined the Route—Scenes on the Arrival at President McKinley's Old Home.

Canton, Sept. 19.—The last stage of the journey of all that is mortal of the martyred President was accomplished yesterday, when the long funeral train, which left Washington Tuesday night, arrived at Canton, steaming through many thousands of bared heads of sorrowing citizens, stretched along the route. Daylight was dawning when the train arrived at Altoona, Pa., and through semi-darkness the forms of many people could be seen strung along the tracks. Extra engines were coupled on, and the ascent of the Alleghanies was begun. At Johnstown half the population was on the track, and a company of militia stood at attention.

Entering Pittsburg the sight was impressive. Along both sides of the track for miles was solid walls of humanity. In some places the people stood 20 deep, while the embankments were black with them. The overhanging bridges bent beneath their burden. On the top of every freight car was a human hedge. The roofs of houses were lined. All stood with uncovered heads, while the bells of all the churches were tolling.

The climax of the great demonstration of sorrow began at Alliance, 18 miles from Canton. There the half-masted flags were bordered heavily with black, and it seemed as if every man, woman and child was at the station. A big white streamer ten feet wide was across the main streets, lettered heavily in black: "We mourn our nation's dead." The church bells were tolling dolorously.

Then came the last half hour's run into Canton. Mile by mile the approach was marked by growing evidences of deep personal affliction. Farmers and country folk generally seemed to have suspended work altogether; the schools were dismissed and the entire population was ranged along the track in sorrowful silence. The straining faces showed that the people took this mournful home-coming as a personal bereavement.

The sight was profoundly impressive, as the funeral train drew into the little station here at noon yesterday. All about the station, and banked deep in the surrounding streets, were the friends and neighbors of the martyred President, while, drawn up back of the station, were large lines of militiamen at present arms.

Canton had suddenly become a city of 100,000, and the entire population was in the streets. Opposite the station, over the heads of acres of people, on the wall of a big manufacturing establishment, was an enormous shield, 30 feet high, with McKinley's black-bordered picture in the centre.

The approach of the train was unheralded. No whistle was blown, no bell was rung. In absolute silence it rolled into the station. Even the black-hooded locomotive gave no sound. There was no panting of the pumps. The energy that brought it seemed to have been absolutely expended. At the mere sight of the train, the people who had been waiting there for hours were greatly affected. Women sobbed and men wept. For full a minute after it had been stopped no one appeared.

Suddenly Abner McKinley, in deep black, his face tense and drawn, appeared in the vestibule of the car next to the one conveying the remains, and, a moment later, Dr. Rixey appeared, half-carrying a frail and broken form. It was Mrs. McKinley, arrayed in the deepest mourning. Beneath the heavy black veil she held her handkerchief to her eyes, and her slight figure shook convulsively. Gently she was lifted from the car, and, supported by Dr. Rixey and Abner McKinley, was practically carried to a carriage in waiting at the east end of the station. The door of the carriage was closed and Mrs. McKinley was driven hurriedly to her empty home on North Market street.

Col. Bingham, the President's aide, then gave directions for the removal of the casket from the car. When all was ready, the soldiers and sailors who had accompanied the remains all the way from Buffalo, emerged from the car and took up their places. The soldiers trailed their arms, and the sailors held their drawn cutlasses at their sides. Only the body-bearers were bare-headed and unarmed.

Meantime President Roosevelt, with his brother-in-law, Capt. Cowles of the navy, in full uniform, at his side, had descended from the car ahead of that occupied by Mrs. McKinley. The members of the Cabinet, Secretary Cortelyou, Governor Nash, Lieut.-Governor Caldwell and Judge Marshall J. Williams of the Supreme Court, representing the three branches of the State Government of Ohio, followed. The President was met by Judge Grant of the Reception Committee, and the official party then moved to the west of the station, where they formed in line, with the President at the head. All were uncovered. The casket was then lifted through the window, and taken upon the shoulders of the body-bearers. Only the flag was on it now. The body was borne to the Court House.

Sad as was the procession which had borne the body to the Court House, where it lay in state yesterday afternoon, it would not compare with the infinite sadness of that endless double line of broken-hearted people who streamed steadily through the dimly lighted corridors of the building from the time the coffin was opened until it was taken home to the sorrowing widow at nightfall. They stepped softly lest their footfalls wake their friend from his last long sleep. Tears came unhidden to wet the bier.

When the body was taken away thousands were still in line, and the committee in charge of the arrangements was appealed to to allow a further opportunity to view the remains this morning, before they were taken to the church. But this had to be denied them, and the casket may never be opened again.

The funeral services will take place to-day at 1.30 p. m. at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of which the martyred President was a communicant and trustee. They will be brief by the expressed wish of the family. Rev. O. B. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in which President and Mrs. McKinley were married thirty years ago, will make the opening prayer. Dr. C. E. Manchester, pastor of the late President's church, will deliver the only address. An imposing procession will follow the remains to the West Lawn Cemetery, where they will be placed in a receiving vault awaiting the time when they will be laid in the grave beside the two children who were buried years ago.

CARE-LINED FACES

Are not always the sign of mental worry, for many a person goes silently along day in and day out, suffering almost beyond telling from bodily pain, and the only sign that betrays it is the care-lined face.

Stomach out of order? Indigestion with its cutting acids making every breath you draw a dagger pain? Dyspepsia gnawing to almost the point of distraction? Can't sleep? Nervous? You needn't suffer—South American Nervine puts "all things to rights," chases the seams from the brow, and instead of the care lines there'll be the glow of health. First bottle helps; a few bottles cure. 13

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

CANADA'S LABOR CONGRESS.

Passes Resolutions Favoring Government Ownership and Against Military Service.

Brantford, Sept. 19.—At yesterday morning's session of the Trades and Labor Congress several important resolutions were dealt with. The Congress expressed itself in favor of Government ownership.

Another resolution was passed instructing the Executive to wait on the Government and petition them to establish a Printing Bureau for printing school books, and other necessary work for the several Provinces.

The Congress carried a resolution by 37 to 27 that all union men abstain from joining any military organization except in case of the country being invaded, owing to the militia having been called out to aid the monopolist against the labor classes at Vancouver, London and Valleyfield.

Another resolution declares for compulsory arbitration.

Belcourt Election Case.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Chief Justice Falconbridge and Chancellor Boyd will leave to-day for Ottawa to attend the election case against N. Belcourt on Friday.

Six People Killed.

Brooklin, Mass., Sept. 19.—A switch not properly set brought a passenger express and a heavy freight train together, with the resultant death of six passengers on the express train and injuries to 25 others, yesterday afternoon, on the main line of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, at Avon.

His Life Crushed Out.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

ROBERT NEILL

His View of It.

"Here's a queer story," she said as she looked up from the paper. "A prospective bridegroom was delayed by a train wreck, and the girl, not understanding the circumstances, became so angry that she called everything off, and the marriage didn't take place."

"What wonderful luck some men have!" was his only comment.—Chicago Post.

Not His Strong Point.

"I met Hargus in the street yesterday morning, and he flicked his cigar ashes in my face. I'm writing to him now to tell him what I think about it."

"Why didn't you tell him what you thought about it then?"

"Because I never can express myself with any satisfaction extemporaneously."—Chicago Tribune.

The Pain of Sore Feet.

Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief bathe the feet in warm water and then rub them with Polson's Nerviline. It penetrates the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nerviline is a protection and safeguard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures: rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, etc. 25c.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

Costly Barber Shop Fittings.

This week, the most enterprising proprietor of the most up-to-date tonsorial quarters in town, Alive C. LeGros, has put the finishing touches on his swell equipment, by the addition of three elegant new barber chairs. It is claimed that they are more stylish and more modern than anything of the kind to be found in the city of Toronto. They are called the "Pedestal" hydraulic chair, a new design, made by Koken of Cincinnati. It enables the barber to stand closer to the customer and to move around with greater freedom. They are raised, lowered, revolved or reclined by the action of one lever; made of quarter cut golden oak; beautifully nickle plated, and upholstered in green plush, costing the snug sum of $85.00 each without the duty. Charley intends to keep things revolving.

The Port Hope Knitting Works are showing this week a remarkably heavy double thread ribbed stocking for boys for 25c in the biggest size. Our Scotch fingering hose are record breakers. Call and look them hrough.

THE LATE MR. GEO. MUNRO.

His Death Occurred Very Suddenly Last Evening—Heart Trouble the Cause.

The sudden demise of Mr. George Munro, vice-president of the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., which occurred at about 7.30 o'clock last night, came as a great shock to his family and to the community at large. Whilst the deceased may not have been in the most robust health for some time, still it was never imagined that his end was so near.

Mr. Munro had attended to his office duties, as usual, during the day, leaving at six o'clock for supper, which he had at the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Wm. Hamilton, Sr. At about 7.15 o'clock he left to go for a walk, it is thought to his own residence, which is only a short distance away from that of Mr. Hamilton. He had gone only a few yards, however, when he was suddenly overcome with faintness. The Misses Hamilton were soon at his side and he was assisted back to the house which he had only a minute or so previously left. Medical aid was at once summoned, but Mr. Munro breathed his last in less that 15 minutes from the time he was first stricken down. Drs. Boucher, and Halliday, who were in attendance, pronounced that death was due to heart disease.

The late Mr. Munro was sixty-one years of age, and was a thorough Scotchman. He came to Canada from Glasgow, about 35 years ago, and for the past 33 years has been connected with the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company. He was a practical man in his business, and during the past number of years his duties have principally been that of outside representative of the firm. He was at the time of his demise First Vice-President of the company.

He never identified himself with public matters, but was known and respected as a shrewd and upright business man.

Mr. Munro was a member of the Masonic Order, having joined Peterborough Lodge in 1871. He was also a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

About twenty years ago Mr. Munro married Miss Euphemia, the eldest daughter of Mr. William Hamilton, who still survives him. He also leaves a family of four children, three sons and a daughter, to mourn his demise. The sons are Mr. Hamilton Munro, who is attending the School of Practical Science, Toronto; and Masters Reid and Allan. The daughter is Miss Effie.

Mr. William Hamilton, Jr., President of the Company, and brother-in-law of the deceased, left on Saturday on a business trip to the Pacific Coast. He was reached by wire this morning, but of course will not be here in time to attend the funeral, which takes place, with Masonic honours, on Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from his late residence, Brock street.

Auction Sale of Bicycles.

Mr. F. McPherson will dispose of his entire stock of bicycles by auction at his warerooms, No. 432 George street, formerly occupied by F. Davidson, on Saturday next, 21st of September, commencing at 2 o'clock.

WILL BE RECOGNIZED.

The Bravery of Young Laplante on Saturday Last.

Mr. J. H. Roper this morning received a letter from Mr. Adam Brown, Postmaster of Hamilton, and President of the Royal Canadian Humane Association, stating that he had noticed in the Examiner an account of the rescue of the two Spillsbury boys from drowning in the Little Lake on Saturday last by Mr. Z. Laplante, of town. He asked that Mr. Roper represent the society in the matter of obtaining the necessary information preparatory to having the deed recognized by the Society. He enclosed blank forms of affidavits to be made out and sworn to by those who witnessed the affair. As there is no doubt as to LePlante's bravery in the matter, he will likely receive his just reward.

HAVE NOT UNITED.

The Two Congregations of Christian Science Still Apart.

It appears that the two Churches of Christ Scientist in Peterborough, are not one, as recently reported, as an agreement has not yet been reached concerning the financial side of the proposed union.

The members of the First Church are willing to take over the building owned by the members of the Second Church, and pay the interest on the mortgage. They, however, do not consent to sharing the responsibility of carrying the mortgage, and until this is done the members of the Second Church are unwilling to unite.

Up to the present time Mr. W. H. Bradburn only knows the members of the Second Church in the matter.

WALL PAPER TRANSACTION.

A. H. Stratton & Co. Purchase the Turnbull Stock of Wall Papers.

The announcement of the purchase of the Turnbull stock of artistic wall paper, window blinds, etc., by Messrs. A. H. Stratton & Co., of the Peterborough Bookstore, is heralded by the news of a startling reduction sale at one-half price. The outlet which the Peterborough Bookstore has for wall papers seems capable of absorbing all the stocks that can come to town. Such enterprise, while it is specially creditable to Messrs. A. H. Stratton & Co., affords unlooked for advantages to housekeepers at this house-decorating season of the year. Prices will start as low as 2c., 3c., 5c., and gold papers at 7c., 9c., and 11c. Sale begins Monday morning, Sept. 23rd, simultaneously at Turnbull's store and at the Peterborough Bookstore.

A TORONTO WEDDING

of Interest to Peterborough People—It Took Place on Tuesday.

The Mail and Empire contains the following account of the wedding of Miss Edith Perry, a cousin of Mr. Frank Perry and Miss Perry, of town. The latter attended the wedding in Toronto:

"At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the Church of the Redeemer, the marriage took place of Miss Edith Perry, eldest daughter of Mr. Robert D. Perry, and Mr. Geoffrey Teighmouth Clarkson, son of Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were bidden to the wedding, owing to recent bereavements in both families. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Baldwin, assisted by Rev. Septimus Jones. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a rich gown of white Duchesse satin, made in a simple fashion. The transparent yoke and sleeves were of white chiffon, while the only decoration was a fichu of real lace which had adorned the wedding dress of the bride's mother. Her veil of tulle was caught in place with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of white roses, with showers of lily of the valley. The maid of honour was Miss Gertrude Perry, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary and Miss Olive Clarkson. The two little flower girls were Miss Kathleen Perry and Miss Aldyth Clarkson. Mr. Fred Clarkson was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Frank Perry and Mr. Harry Lambe. A reception was held at the home of the bride's father, 11 Walmer Road, after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson left by the evening boat for the Lower Provinces, and will spend their honeymoon on the Saguenay. On their return they will take up their residence in their new house at 44 Walmer Road."

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The first meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Rugby Club, was held in the Y.M.C.A. building last night, there being present, Hon. President, H. R. H. Kenner, President R. F. McWilliams, 1st Vice-President William Crowley, 2nd Vice-President Dr. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer E. S. Clarry, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer Harry Rush, Captain Hal Burnham, and Messrs. A. J. McClellan, Chris. Graham and Victor McWilliams.

The matter of the form of tickets was discussed and a selection made. They will be somewhat in the form of a badge that may be worn at any time and will be supplied to ladies as well as gentlemen at the regular fee.

The secretary was instructed to write to Norwood, Port Hope and Lindsay for a game with the second team here on Saturday, Oct. 5th. This is the date the Seniors will be playing in Toronto against St. Mary's.

Other matters were discussed, and the programme for the next few weeks mapped out.

The locals had an excellent practice yesterday afternoon. They went into the game with great energy. There will be a practice tomorrow evening and on Saturday afternoon.

It is said of London's football team that it will be composed absolutely of townsmen, and that there are no outsiders. This will certainly be a new experience for London.

Norman Bell will in all probability play quarter for the Peterboroughs this year. The chances are that Harold Armstrong will be at full back and Scott, Burnham and McPherson will be the halves.

Hurtubise, Dainard and Sturgeon should do well in the scrimmage.

There were about a score of men out at practice yesterday and it was fully seven o'clock before the players left the field.

The secretary of the local club has received a communication from the T.C.S. team, asking for a game with the Peterborough II team. The game will be arranged, of course.

TENNIS.

The Y.M.C.A. Fall Tournament is now in progress. The Courts have been put in splendid condition.

Only two entries have been received, and as the secretary intimated that more entries would be forthcoming if the time were extended a short while longer, it was decided to keep the entire list open until noon on Wednesday of next week. The two entries so far received are Taylor of town, and Rutherford, of Norwood.

Entries are not coming in any too fast for the Schneider Cup Competition, although it is expected that several more entries will be made in the course of a few days. The cup is on exhibition in Mr. Schneider's window and is a beautiful trophy indeed.

SOMETHING ABOUT PEAS.

What the Houdry Firm is now Doing.

A Visit to the Old Bridge Works—A New Pea Cleaner.

A visit to the store and cleaning house of Mr. G. L. Houdrey's son, dealer in fancy peas, is quite interesting. This is a French firm that has been doing business in and around Peterborough for some years, but to such proportions has their business grown of late that they have been compelled to seek new quarters. This they have done quite recently in the purchasing of the old bridge works building, and the concern is now being more systematically organized, and an up-to-date pea cleaning plant has just been installed.

At the present time there are only about a dozen men employed by Houdrey's son, as is the rather peculiar name of the firm, but when the business is thoroughly launched, between 25 and 30 men will be engaged in the work. The local representative of the firm is Mr. F. H. Houdrey, who fully understands his business and speaks enthusiastically of the prospects for opening out of a large business in the fancy pea trade.

The old bridge works building, of course, has to undergo some alterations to suit the requirements. A "bug house" as the men call it has been erected. This is a sort of brick oven in which the peas are placed for a time, when all the bugs are killed.

The most striking feature in connection with the establishment is the cleaner. This is a marvellous piece of machinery, and is being installed by the Handley Mfg. Co., of Silver Creek, N. Y. The work of superintending the installing of the machine is being done by Mr. J. W. Carnochan. He has been in town for the past two weeks in connection with this contract. The cleaner is driven by a 15 horse-power electric motor, and has a capacity of cleaning 100 to 200 bushels of peas per hour. It not only cleans the peas, but separates the large, small and medium from one another as well as the "splits" in addition to this it also bugs the peas, and leaves them ready for shipment. The cars of the C.P.R. run clear into the building, affording excellent means of shipment.

Houdrey's son promises to become one of Peterborough's leading industries.

PASTORS AND DEACONS

Of the Peterborough District Meet in the Local Baptist Churches.

The Ministers' and Deacons' Conference of the Peterborough Baptist Association met at the Murray street Baptist church yesterday, holding services morning, afternoon and evening. The topics in the morning were "The Aim of the Sunday School," "How to get Men to Attend the Prayer Meeting," and "Teaching and Evangelization," treated respectively by Rev. Messrs. W. A. Gunton, J. Bastow, and R. Kelly. The topics were clearly presented, earnestly discussed and kindled much interest.

The afternoon topics were "How to Strengthen Home Mission Work," an Exegesis — "Helps to Devotional Life," and "The Neglected Parts of the Church Work," presented by Rev. Messrs. W. A. Gunton, Prof. Farmer, Thos. Watson and O. C. Elliott. The Exegesis by Prof Farmer on John xvi, 8-11, was one of very marked ability. It indicated broad scholarship, clear insight and a beautiful recognition of the practical value of scriptural truth.

The evening session was in the audience room of the church. After the devotional exercises, with an anthem by the choir, which was finely rendered, "the Mission of the Church" was earnestly presented by Rev. O. C. Elliott.

The mission of the church with respect to the country and the world was presented by Rev. E. J. Bridgeman, and the mission of the church in respect to itself by Rev. R. Kelly.

The value and need of proper church equipment was presented by Rev. W. A. Gunton, humourously and yet practically. The final address was made by Rev. T. J. Marshall, of Cobourg on "Every member a helper." Resolutions of warm thanks to the Murray street and Park street churches for their hospitality were read by Mr. Marshall, having been passed at the afternoon session.

The Great Kidney Specialist.

The Famous Physician Who Has Made Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases a Life Long Study.

DR. ZINA PITCHER.

For many years in the hospitals of Detroit and Professor of Genito Urinary diseases in Michigan College of Medicine, Dr. Zina Pitcher devoted his time to the scientific study of diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary System.

By this exclusive devotion to one branch of medical investigation Dr. Pitcher was enabled to perfect a treatment for Kidney troubles that far surpasses any other remedy.

After testing it extensively in private and hospital practice and demonstrating its incomparable superiority to all other forms of treatment, Dr. Pitcher decided to give this great boon to suffering humanity at large and not confine it exclusively to the circles of his private and hospital patients.

He has placed his remedy before the public under the name of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and so confident is he of the positive curative qualities of these Tablets for backache, lame or weak back, drowsiness, headaches, pain in the loins, brick dust deposits in the urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, scalding, irritation, frequent rising at night, dribbling, inflammation or ulceration of the bladder, gravel, Rheumatism, Bright's Disease and Diabetes (except in the last stages), bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, constipation, puffy and pasty appearance of the face, dropsy, backache and weakness of women, urinary weakness of children and old people or any symptomatic indications of Kidney disease that to anyone suffering from any of the above troubles, who uses the Tablets faithfully, according to directions, and derives no benefit therefrom, their money will be cheerfully refunded.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists or sent by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

WEAKNESS

OF MEN AND WOMEN

Could we read the hearts of every man we meet, what a load of sorrow and despair would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental wrecks than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vital forces; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disrupt the family circle, but they may even extend their poisonous fangs into the next generation. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you and you need never fear any return of the disease. We will give you a guarantee bond to that effect. We would warn you sincerely against the promiscuous use of mercury, which does not cure blood poison but simply suppresses the symptoms.

WE CURE OR NO PAY.

Don't Let your Life be Drained Away, which weakens the intellect as well as the body. There is no room in this world for mental, physical or sexual dwarfs. Our New Method Treatment will Stop all Unnatural Losses, Purify the Blood, Strengthen the Nerves, Restore Vitality, and make a man of you. If you are in trouble, call and consult us. Consultation is Free. We treat and cure Drains, Blood Diseases, Varicocele, Stricture, Unnatural Discharges, Chest, Kidney and Bladder Diseases. No cutting or operations. No detention from business. Everything confidential. Consultation Free, Books Free. Question Blank Free for Home Treatment.

THE CZAR IN FRANCE

Dunkirk's Citizen's Saw Nothing of Him, However.

UNAPPROACHABLE FOR TROOPS.

Emperor of All the Russians Get a Great Reception in Both Dunkirk and Compiegne—Gay Bunting and Brilliant Illuminations—A Quiet Evening at the Castle After a Busy Day.

Dunkirk, France, Sept. 19.— At 12.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Russian Imperial yacht Standart, with the Czar on board, entered the dock, and shortly afterwards the royal visitor set foot in France. The streets were crowded before 5 a. m. with troops marching to take up their positions. Everywhere bunting fluttered in welcome to the Emperor of all the Russias, and though the inhabitants were to see nothing of him, as the ceremonies were to take place behind an impenetrable wall of soldiery, the enthusiasm of the public was unbounded.

President Loubet proceeded in the torpedo gunboat Cassini to the three-mile limit, and, meeting the Standart, escorted her into French waters. The two vessels returned to the roadstead at 10 o'clock. Enormous crowds occupied the seashore of St. Malo-les-Bains, where was obtained a magnificent view of the fleet riding at anchor. The flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers patrolled the lines of warships, and kept the excursion steamers from encroaching on the prohibited area. The entire squadron was dressed in bunting.

President Loubet embarked on the Standart instead of the Czar and Czarina boarding the Cassini, which is a bad sea boat.

The Czar and Czarina landed at 2.02 p.m. President Loubet had disembarked an hour earlier, and gone aboard the Cassini. There was a brilliant spectacle at the landing place as the Standart approached. The Czarina appeared to be not altogether at ease when she stepped ashore. Probably she suffered from seasickness. The Czar, on the contrary, was in his happiest mood, his good-natured face beaming with smiles.

President Loubet, after giving the Czarina his arm, and with the Czar on the other side of Her Majesty, passed through the covered passage, which was lined with French officers, to the Chamber of Commerce amid deafening applause.

FIRST DAY WITHOUT ACCIDENT.

Compiegne, Sept. 19.—The Czar's first day on French soil passed without untoward accident, except the delay of a couple of hours in docking the Standart, the Russian Imperial yacht, at Dunkirk. The Presidential train, conveying M. Loubet and the Czar and Czarina with their suites, arrived at Compiegne last evening.

The utmost vigilence was exercised along the railroad track. The train dashed through a double row of bayonets and drawn sabres as the infantry were reinforced by regiments of Dragoons and Hussars. In some cases a double line of troops on each side of the track, the first line being foot soldiers and the second line cavalry. Any outrage along the track was utterly impossible, as no one was allowed to approach it.

The town of Compiegne was brilliantly illuminated, the whole route from the station to the Chateau being decorated with festoons and colored lights. The streets were entirely clear of the public, and the sidewalks were occupied by soldiers. Every window, however, was filled with spectators, who greeted Emperor Nicholas with an incessant roar of cheers.

A four-horse landau, with the Czarina and her ladies of honor, headed the procession, Emperor Nicholas and President Loubet following together. At the back of their landaus sat a Presidential footman and a scarlet-coated Cossack. Cannon salutes were fired, and the band played a "Marseillaise" and Russian hymns, until the Chateau was reached. This beautiful structure was illuminated with lines of electric lamps. Mme. Loubet was waiting there to receive the Imperial guests The evening was spent quietly at the castle, M. and Mme. Loubet and the Czar and Czarina dining in their respective apartments.

They are not Violent in Action.

Some persons when they wish to cleanse the stomach, resort to Epsom and other purgative salts. These are speedy in their action, but serve no permanent good. Their use produces incipient chills and if persisted in they injure the stomach. Nor do they act upon the intestines in a beneficial way. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills answer all purposes in this respect and have no superior.

BILE POISON IN THE SYSTEM

The Result of Deranged Liver—How the Other Organs are Affected—Dr. Chase's Treatment for the Liver.

No organ in the human body has a greater influence on the general health than the liver.

A torpid, sluggish liver leaves poisonous, morbid bile in the blood, which upsets the action of the whole sytem.

There is indigestion, fullness, fermentation, flatulency and oppression in the stomach.

The tongue is coated, the head aches and there is loss of sleep, depression of spirits, and spells of dizziness and weakness.

The bowels are constipated and loose by turns, and griping pains are frequent.

The skin tells of the poisonous state of the blood, by pimples, blotches and liver spots.

In sympathy with the liver the kidneys become clogged and inactive, the urine highly coloured, and there are pains in the back and under the left shoulder blade.

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart and derangements of the menstrual functions are among the symptoms of liver complaint.

You should not expect to find all these symptoms in any one case, but if any of them are present, it is time to take prompt action to relieve the system of these morbid poisons.

The liver must have assistance.

The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened.

Both these filtering systems are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is deranged.

Many a suffering man, many a despondent woman, has been cured of the above distressing ailments by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only remedy that has a combined action on both liver and kidneys.

The wisdom of Dr. Chase in preparing this wonderful remedy has been proven in scores of thousands of cases of complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys, which could be reached by no other remedy.

You do not require faith to be cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose will help you, and a few boxes at most will positively cure the most severe case of liver complaint or kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or postpaid by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

CZOLGOSZ SHAMS INSANITY.

Refuses to Speak in Court, Even at Bidding of His Counsel.

Buffalo, Sept. 18.—Leon T. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Edward K. Emery in the County Court at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, on the indictment for murder in the first degree, in fatally shooting President McKinley, in the Temple of Music, at the Pan-American Exposition, on Sept. 6. Again the stubborn prisoner refused to plead or even to utter a word or sound, and the Hon. Loran L. Lewis, ex-Supreme Court Justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The accused will be tried in the Supreme Court next Monday morning. The most notable incident of the day was the hissing of the prisoner by the crowds who surged around him as he was being escorted down the stairs. His appearance throughout was that of a man shaming insanity.

THE SMASHER IN OTTAWA.

Mrs. Carrie Nation Visited Two Saloons There on Tuesday.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Carrie A. Nation went on a smashing expedition in Ottawa yesterday and did a little damage in two saloons, interviewed the Chief of Police and the Mayor, lectured in Oram's Hall, and caused quite a furore in the city. The saloon smasher from Kansas smashed a looking glass in the Globe hotel, and several bottles in the Hub Hotel. She used her famous hatchet to accomplish her ends.

Timber Berths Bring $832,000.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—The Legislative Chamber at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon looked as if the House was in session. There was a sale of timber berths in progress, and lumbermen from all over the Province were in attendance. Mr. Peter Ryan wielded the auctioneer's hammer from Mr. Speaker's chair. There were thirty parcels offered for sale, and the prices realized were somewhat above the expectations of the Crown Lands Department. Of those offered were the forfeited townships of Digby, Sherbourne and Lutterworth. The prices received averaged $2,090 per square mile, and the total amount was $832,750.

If the heart of a man is depressed with cares, the mist is dispelled when a woman appears.

Taking Sunday Collections.

An old and not yet obsolete mode of taking a collection in a Scotch church is by means of a ladle—a small wooden box at the end of a straight wooden shaft about four and a half feet long, the top of the box being sufficiently open to receive contributions of money. For all special collections this was the usual mode in the chief churches of Edinburgh when I was a boy at school there 50 years ago, but it has gradually gone out of fashion and is not often to be seen nowadays.

For ordinary Sunday collections the general custom has been to have a metal plate or basin on a small table at the church entrance superintended by an elder—a mode which was often called the brod. When ladies are used, they are handed round the congregation by elders after the sermon or after the last psalm, and the common Scotch phrase to "lift" the collection may have come from this custom.

FOURNIER, THE HERO

VICTOR IN AUTOMOBILE RACE TO BERLIN PARISIAN IDOL.

Will Contest in America—Noted French Chauffeur and His Sixty-Horse Power Racer to Be One of the Competitors in the Great Race Between Buffalo and Erie.

The latest Parisian hero, Henri Fournier, winner of the great international automobile race from Paris to Berlin, is on his way to take part in the race from Buffalo to Erie. If he does not win that event Yankee chauffeurs will have to travel faster than they ever did before.

Fournier is a wonder. When he won the race from Paris to Bordeaux he became a marked man. But when he came in first best in the great international drive from the capital of France to the metropolis of Germany, against a field of more than 100 competitors, he became the idol of Paris.

M. HENRI FOURNIER.

He is to-day the best known man along the boulevard. Let us suppose you are sitting in front of one of the cafes, sipping your beer—everyone drinks beer in Paris nowadays, for Paris is slowly becoming German—a roar is heard out on the boulevard, something red and white is seen dashing by at a speed far beyond the legal limitations; suddenly all the people jump up from their little chairs and cry out, with the Parisian hero-enthusiasm: "Voila Fournier! Vive Fournier!"

If in driving through the Bois de Boulogne you see a red and white streak going around a turn like a mountain train taking a sharp curve on the down grade, your cocher will for once in his life rouse himself from his lethargy and inform you:

"C'est Fournier—the great Fournier — le plus grand chauffeur!"

When Fournier, with roar and flourish, approaches the Pavillon Armenouville, the swellest roadhouse in Paris — the place where they unblushingly charge you 2 francs 50 centimes for one blushing peach—the guests rush from their tables to greet him and to ask him to have a drink.

When Fournier makes his appearance on the Avenue de la Grand Armee, the automobile centre of Paris, the people rush out and surround him and shake his hand tumultuously.

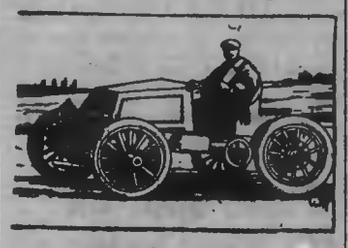
Why shouldn't M. Fournier be the hero of the hour in Paris? Automobilism is the enthusiasm of the day throughout Europe. All the world loves a race and is ready to apotheosize the winner of it. And Mr. Fournier has just won the greatest race in the world.

He sailed for New York on the Deutschland, accompanied by Charron, another crack chauffeur, and by his chum and business partner, little Tod Sloan, the jockey. More important still is his big ton-and-a-half, sixty-horse-power racer, the famous machine which was first in Berlin. He and Charron will enter the Buffalo-Erie race, and they will show their United States friends what fast traveling is.

Fournier does not care about the long-distance race from New York to Buffalo, and does not intend taking part in it.

"Why should I?" he asked me. "It is not a race at all, only a tourists' jaunt. As I understand it, the speed is limited to fifteen miles an hour. That is nothing at all. Any old motor car can go that pace. When I race I want to race."

The man who won Paris-Berlin can well afford to shrug his shoulders at a limit of fifteen miles an hour. In that tournament he covered 1,198 kilometers in 17 hours and 3 minutes. Deducting about fifty kilometers for the neutralized ground, and we find the total distance covered was 715 miles. In other words, Fournier's average speed was forty-two miles an hour. It takes a very good express train to do that for so long a distance. In fact, the fastest train from Paris to Berlin, the Nord express, composed of nothing but sleeping and dining cars, uses more than eighteen hours in the journey. Therefore, Fournier, driving over the country roads, beat the flyer of the iron rails with more than an hour to spare. A great achievement, surely. No other form of statement could so well set forth the wonderful development given the high power road racer in these days of fast and furious sport.



FOURNIER'S AUTOMOBILE.

In order to make an average speed of forty-two miles an hour Fournier had to travel much of the time at a rate of sixty to sixty-five miles.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Belle Seider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells; was nervous and weak. Had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Strikes in England.

In England builders strike more often than any other workmen. Next come colliers and then cotton and wool spinners.

The Oldest Bagpipe.

The oldest authentic specimen of the bagpipe now in existence is believed to be that now in possession of a man in Edinburgh, which bears the date 1409. It is very much the same as the highland bagpipe of the present day except that it wants the large drone.

Famines.

Since the year 1000 England has suffered from 57 famines, Ireland from 34, Scotland has had 12, France 10 and Italy 36.

Much Cork.

The bottled beer of England requires nearly 70,000 tons of cork yearly.

First Up Mont Blanc.

The first men to ascend Mount Blanc were Balmat and Paccard in 1786. They gained the prize offered 26 years before by Saussure for so doing.

Owls.

Take them all in all, the owls must be considered friends to man. They are emphatically mice eaters, and they supplement the work of the hawks by day by waging incessant warfare against man's enemies at a time when both hawks and men are resting.

Old Horseshoes.

An immense trade is done in China in old English horseshoes, which are considered the best iron in the world for making small household articles, such as bracelets, hooks and bolts.

A Stupid Bellboy.

Colonel Corktight—The blamed bellboy in this hotel is enough to give a man a spasm. Guess what he did when I told him to bring me a "horn" before I dressed.

WORKING IN PUBLIC.

Show Window Artisans Can Command Good Remuneration.

A Broadway shoe manufacturer was asked what method of advertising he found most profitable.

"Placing my men near the window," he said, "so they can work in view of the public. I don't know of anything that catches the attention of the passer-by more quickly than the sight of a demonstrator sitting close to the window running a machine for dear life.

"Manufacturers of all kinds of goods have adopted this plan. Waistmakers put their most skilled workers on exhibition to show how the finest garments are cut and sewed. Cigar manufacturers take the public into their confidence and let them see the process of rolling as performed by the cleverest hands. Men who deal in mechanical contrivances have found that it pays to have at least one machine set up near a window so the crowd outside may observe the intricacy of its parts and the rapidity of its action. Jewelers have stationed their most expert lapidaries within view of the street that possible customers may see how precious stones are cut and polished and set.

"It isn't everybody who can work in public. It takes a person with good strong nerves and concentration of thought to do difficult work in a show window. I have men in my employ who are excellent workers, but they get flustered when subjected to unusual surveillance and ruin everything they put their hands to. I have tried some of them as window operators, but they can't get used to it.

"A man who can run a machine at full tilt or paint a picture or fry pancakes or iron a shirt in the full gaze of the public eye and not lose his head is an artist and worth several dollars more a week to his employer than the more modest individual. And he gets it too."

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

The First Elevator.

The first elevator was made, it is said, for the Schoenbrun royal palace in Vienna in 1700.

Oxygen.

The inspiration of oxygen has permitted aeronauts to ascend to heights where their lives would have been unsafe had they depended alone on the thin air of those high regions. The oxygen is breathed in through a tube held to the mouth.

Grecian Noses.

The handkerchief should be applied to the Greek nose alternately with either hand, as the use of one hand constantly tends to its deformity.

Cut Flowers.

Cut flowers may be preserved some time if camphor is put into the water.

The Chinese Laugh.

The Chinese laugh is not as hearty or as expressive as the European or American. It is oftener a titter than a genuine outburst of merriment. There is little character or force in it.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS ARE.

The Kidneys, two in number, are composed of a network of blood vessels and delicate tissues surrounded by a muscular coating. They are about four inches long and two inches wide. Their peculiar function is to abstract from the blood, fluid impurities. They act very much like a filter, the heavy portion of blood passing on through the veins and the watery portion draining out and down through the uretha into the bladder. Diseases of the kidneys consist of a lack of tone of the muscles surrounding the arteries and a lack of sensitiveness to the delicate nerves found in these organs, caused either by inflamation or general debility. Kidney diseases manifest themselves in the urine and also by a pain in the small of the back. Merrill's System Tonic exhibits the best form of treatment for any disease of the kidneys. It contains the healing and soothing properties of Buchu combined with the muscle and nerve toning properties of the hypophosphites. Besides it is a blood purifier and will remove from the system uric acid poisoning caused by kidney weakness and resulting in various forms of rheumatism. We don't weary you with testimonials, but we have more of them than most medicines. The use of one bottle will convince you that Merrill's System Tonic is an extremely valuable medicine of extra ordinary merit.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY

Met at Campbellford on Tuesday — Resignation of Mr. Hyde.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held yesterday at Campbellford. Rev. Mr. Reeves was appointed Moderator for the next six months. Fourteen ministers were present and four elders as follows:—

Revs. Potter and Bennett, Peterborough; McQuaig, Port Hope; Lord, Grafton, Johnston, Millbrook; Kannawin, Omemee; Craw, Warkworth; Hyde, Warsaw; Hamilton, Havelock; Reeves, Campbellford; Thompson, Hastings; Dr. Andrews, Keene; and Campbell, Lakefield.

Elders Present. — Messrs. T. J. Cullen, Lakefield; Rev. Mr. McNaughton, Port Hope; Donald McIntosh, Warsaw, and James Craick, Port Hope.

The resignation of Rev. Mr. Hyde, of Warsaw congregation, was accepted, to take effect at the end of the month. Rev. Mr. Bennett, clerk, will declare the pulpit vacant on the first Sabbath in October.

Rev. Mr. Campbell, of Lakefield, was appointed Moderator of session during the vacancy.

A call from Merrickville to the Rev. Mr. McMullen, of Springville, was reported in the hands of the clerk. The Presbytery ordered the congregation of Springville to appear at an adjourned Presbytery meeting to be held in St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, on Tuesday, October 1st, at nine o'clock a.m.

A commission was appointed to visit Mill street church, Port Hope, to enquire into all matters affecting the interests of the congregation.

The spiritual aspect of the Century Fund was considered, and it was decided to request the Session of each congregation to take what steps it might see fit to promote the spiritual side of the movement. The suggestion in the matter was that at the beginning of the year the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper be observed in all the congregations of the Presbytery, and that a series of special services be held in connection therewith.

Interesting reports were received from delegates who had been appointed to visit the augmented congregations and the several mission fields.

The Home Mission Committee were authorized to deal with these latter reports as they may deem best.

A resolution of sympathy with Rev. Mr. Sinclair, of Port Hope, whose wife had recently died and who is himself ill from typhoid fever, was adopted.

Sabbath School work was considered by the Presbytery.

The next regular meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held in Walton street hall, Port Hope, on the second Tuesday of December, at two o'clock.

HANDSOMELY REMEMBERED.

Mrs. (Rev.) R. Hyde was Presented With a Well Filled Purse.

A large number of the members of Warsaw and Cottesloe Presbyterian churches, and a few friends, called at the Manse, Warsaw, on the evening of September 5th. They presented Mrs. Hyde with an address, accompanied by a well-filled purse. Mr. R. Dean read the address and Mrs. Thomas Campbell presented the purse. The address was as follows:

Warsaw, Sept. 5th.

Mrs. (Rev.) R. Hyde,

Dear Friend, — We the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Congregations of Dummer and Warsaw, and also the members and adherents who are resident in the Township of Douro and other friends, do now take the liberty without your knowledge, to invite ourselves to your hospitality for a while this evening. We cannot with pen and paper express the high regard and esteem which we have felt towards you since your advent among us as the partner in life of our much respected pastor.

You will now please to accept this purse as a token of the friendly feeling we extend towards you and hoping that you, your husband and family, may long be spared to enjoy the comforts this can give.

Signed on behalf of the above representation.

MRS. B. DEEN,
MRS. T. H. SMITH.

Rev. Mr. Hyde thanked them in a suitable manner for their kindness and generosity, requesting them to make themselves at home. He said that he hoped that they would have a pleasant evening.

Shortly after the address was read refreshments were served and the company after spending a pleasant evening, dispersed.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY'S LAST WORDS.

The foremost ruler of the land,
Shot down by an assassin's hand,
Was held in death's embrace;
And messages of kindness came
From those who loved his honoured name,
Or longed to see his face.

While friends stood round his dying bed,
"Nearer my God, to Thee," he said,
"Nearer my God, to Thee."
Of those who grieved for him, he thought,
To comfort her he bravely sought—
Whose loss so great must be.

Though slain in manhood's noble prime,
A victim of the basest crime,
He did not once complain;
Because he saw that home most fair,
And knew his name was written there,
He triumphed over pain.

He said, "Good-bye to all, good-bye,
It is God's will that I should die,
And what He wills is best;
To me He has His love revealed,
And to His perfect will I yield,
And in His goodness rest."

By thought and deed, by voice and pen,
He lived to serve his fellowmen,
And in their labours share.
When called of God from work to cease,
He passed away in perfect peace,
To dwell with Him up there.

For those who this bereavement feel,
For her whose wound will never heal,
In this life's lonely way;
For those on whom dark shadows fall,
For those who heed their country's call
In faith sincere, we pray.

"If 'twere done, when 'tis done, then 'twere well it were done quickly." The remark fits many acts; especially newspaper illustration. The Illustrated Buffalo Express, experienced and reliable in this field, "knocked the spots" off all its would-be competitors in picturing the McKinley tragedy. The President was shot on Friday, September 6th. On the following Sunday the Express had three pages of photographic illustrations bearing on the subject; and though done quickly, no better views have yet appeared, except in the Express of the following week, which broke its own record of enterprise and excellence with its remarkable McKinley Souvenir number. When the Express goes at a thing it not only does it quickly, but does it so well that the other fellows look like 30 cents.

AN AMERICAN'S TRIP TO STONY LAKE.

He Describes Its Beauties With Fluent Pen.

Much Surprised by the Picturesque Scenery and Numberless Pretty Islands.

Mr. John Q. Adams, of Canandaigua, N. Y., who is one of Rice Lake's summer visitors, writes thus interestingly to the Ontario County, N. Y., Times, concerning a trip to Stony Lake last summer:—

Editor Times,—When we entered Stony Lake and were told that it was 16 miles long, from one to five miles wide, and contained 800 islands, we mentally said, "another fish story." When, after a sail of six hours, we left it behind on our homeward way, if the captain had said it was 50 miles miles long and contained 3,000 islands we would not have raised our eyebrows. It is certainly worth the journey to see these beautiful lakes in the "Highlands of Canada," and perhaps it is worth while to tell how we went and saw, and came away believing.

The Trent river, which enters the Bay of Quinte at Trenton, is the outlet for all this remarkable chain of lakes. We only saw it from a distance, but longed to make closer acquaintance. When the time came for us to leave Lilac Lodge, the staunch steamer North Star took us across Rice lake and up the Otonabee or "Wide Mouthed" river to the attractive little city of Peterborough, a ride of 25 miles. It is only 13 miles in a direct line, but the river winds in and out in a picturesque way and lengthens the journey to the delight of the tourist. Some ten miles up the river we passed "the Cranery," where thousands of cranes, the great blue heron, nest and hatch their young. Many of the trees are loaded with the nests, and in the early spring it must be a strange sight to see the tall birds upon them. Just before reaching Peterborough we passed through one of the many government locks which are making the upper waters of the Otonabee navigable.

From Peterborough a short railroad ride of 9 miles alongside of the now rapidly flowing stream brought us to the pretty village of Lakefield, where we were soon aboard of the "Majestic," bound for Stony Lake by way of the "Wide Mouthed" river and Clear Lake. It was a beautiful day, the air was bracing, and a courteous captain who had plied these waters for 18 years, and the companionship of Rochester friends, accidentally met, added much to its pleasures.

After a few miles in the winding stream we were lifted by another lock to the level of Clear Lake, and for five miles ploughed its deep blue waters. Then began the cruise in the lake of 800 islands. Nothing betokened the passing from one lake to another save the presence of these islands. Varying in size from a barren granite rock to a goodly number of acres, most of them have trees and other vegetable life upon them, and very many have one or more charming cottages founded upon the rocks and half hidden by the trees. One of the most delightful features, too, is in the fact that whether it be a rude cabin or a costly and well furnished cottage, the owners have not tried to improve upon nature by blasting out the rocks, and cutting down the trees, and building straight walks and planting square flower beds. Very few of the owners have had to build docks either. Our steamer, 80 feet in length, would bump her nose on the granite rock, a plank would be put out, and the exchange of passengers and goods easily made. We were told that 3,000 people were summering in and around the lake. Here and there we stopped at hotels and boarding houses, but by far the larger number were living in cottages. Neither board nor rents are high for a summer resort; hay fever is unknown, and 600 feet above Lake Ontario the air is clear and bracing. No wonder that a large proportion of the denizens in this little wonderland are from the States—the East, the West, and the South, each furnishing its quota.

It would be useless to attempt to describe further the scenery. And there are many more miles of it which we did not see. By the use of several locks, one can pass from Stony to lakes Lovesick, Deer, Buckhorn, Chemong, Pigeon, Sturgeon, and Balsam, more than 70 miles, while by short portages the canoeist can visit many others, some of which are hardly explored as yet.

In the Indian speech they are the Kawartha Lakes, or "Bright Waters and Happy Lands." Surely they deserve their musical name.

There is much more of interest in this immediate region. Just north of these lakes a short distance are some of the most famous mica and corundum mines in the world. It is also a historic region. Parkman has told the story. In September, 1615, Samuel de Champlain decided to lead the Hurons on a warlike expedition against their foes, the Iroquois. There were 200 canoes and 500 Indian warriors, with a few white men. "The Huron fleet pursued its course along Lake Simcoe, across the portage to Balsam or Sturgeon Lake, and down the chain of lakes which form the sources of the river Trent. As the long line of canoes moved on its way no human life was seen, no sign of friend or foe; yet, at times, to the fancy of Champlain, the borders of the stream seemed decked with groves and shrubbery by the hands of man, and the walnut trees, laced with grape vines, seemed decorations of a pleasure ground." (The Pioneers of France, page 400). The story of that disastrous expedition is a thrilling one, but this letter is already too long. JOHN Q. ADAMS.

HONORS FROM M'GILL

Loyal Addresses and Degrees Presented at Montreal.

DUKE AND DUCHESS NOW LL.D.'S.

H.R.H. the Duke Spoke Feliciteously in Response to Address on the Personal Equation—Duke Made a Short Impromptu Speech at Laval and a Well-Considered One to Anglican Clergy.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Yesterday was a greater day, as far as official functions were concerned.

The conferring of the honorary degree of LL.D. upon Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York yesterday morning by McGill University was one of the prettiest, best ordered and most cultured functions which have taken place since the arrival of the distinguished visitors.

The address of the chancellor and principal, to which the Duke made an appropriate reply, concluded as follows:

"May you long be spared to fill the high place to which you have been called, continuing to be the mainstay and support of your august parents. And may all your future career give the fullest fruition to the hopes and expectations which have been formed of you by a grateful, and appreciative and a loyal people, in the name and by the authority of the governors, principal and fellows of McGill University.

"(Signed) Strathcona, Chancellor,
Wm. Peterson, Principal."

Over on St. Denis street great preparations had been made to receive the royal party at Laval, and the hundreds of French students sang, "God Save the King" as Their Royal Highnesses entered the building. At the entrance to the University, which was gaily decorated and carpeted down to the street, the Archbishop, Canon Racicot; the vice-rector of Laval, Canon, Archambault, and the members of all the faculties, met Their Royal Highnesses. The Archbishop escorted His Royal Highness, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier conducted the Duchess to the raised dais which had been erected at the further side of the hall of public conferences. His Grace welcomed the royal pair, and the Duke made a short impromptu speech in reply, when the forenoon program was completed, with the exception of a visit to the Provincial Synod.

The Duke there spoke as follows: "My Lord Bishop and the members of the Provincial Synod of Canada, the Duchess and I greatly appreciate the kind words of your address, and we heartily thank you for the loyal welcome to which they give expression. It will, I know, be gratifying to the King to receive from you, as representing in this part of the Dominion the national Church of England, a renewal of your assurance of devotion to the Throne, and to know that by your zealous, patient, self-sacrificing labors is maintained in Canada that great tradition which is the noble tradition of the Anglican Church."

In the afternoon they visited Ville Marie Convent, at the historic Monklands, where the ladies of the congregation and 200 pupils welcomed royalty to those halls which had already been visited by the Princess Louise and Prince Arthur years ago.

The royal party will leave for Ottawa this morning.

DROWNED IN LAKE SUPERIOR.

Western Transit Steamer Hudson Fails to Weather the Storm on Lake Superior.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 20.—News of the probable loss of the Western Transit steamer Hudson, with a crew of 25 men, on Lake Superior last Monday, was brought down by the steamer Nicol, which arrived here from Duluth yesterday. There does not seem one chance in a hundred that the boat and crew are safe. The Hudson was bound from Duluth to Buffalo with a full cargo of flour, grain and general merchandise. The story of Capt. McLean, in command of the Nicol, solved the mystery of the reports from Eagle River, that a ship was seen to founder off the Keweenaw Peninsula early Monday, and that the crew was apparently taken off by another steamer not far away. That steamer was the Nicol, but Capt. McLean had all he could do to keep his ship afloat in the frightful gale, and he was unable to do anything to save the men, then clinging to the rail of the sinking Hudson.

So confident was Capt. McLean that the crew of the Hudson had been taken off by the Gilchrist that he was greatly moved when he learned here yesterday that the Gilchrist, which arrived here Tuesday morning, had not seen the doomed boat at all. It is not deemed possible that the crew have been taken off by some other ship not yet heard from. Nearly all the fleet on Lake Superior Monday has now reached destinations.

Suffocated by Gas.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—George Box, originally of Renfrew, Ont., but recently of St. Thomas, North Dakota, was suffocated by gas at the Manor House this morning. On Tuesday his two sisters arrived from the west and were met by their brother and a friend, and after seeing them off for the east, the brother returned to his room never to awake again. His family home was at White Lake, Ont., near Renfrew, where the farmer is a highly respected farmer.

BIG CROWD IN CANTON

Pays Last Tributes of Respect to Mr. McKinley's Memory.

DAY'S MOST PATHETIC FEATURE

Mrs. McKinley Unable to Be Present at the Funeral—Wonderful Floral Tributes Impressive Decorations in the Church—Sorrowing Neighbors Gather Around the McKinley Cottage.

Canton, Sept. 20.—With majestic solemnity, surrounded by his countrymen and his townspeople, in the presence of the President of the United States, the Cabinet, the justices of the United States Supreme Court, Senators and Representatives in Congress, the heads of military and naval establishments, the Governors of States, and a great concourse of people who had known and loved him, all that is mortal of the third President to fall by an assassin's bullet, was yesterday committed to the grave. It was a spectacle of mournful grandeur. Canton ceased to be a town and swelled to the proportions of a great city. From every town and hamlet in Ohio, from the remote corners of the State, and from the east and west the human tide flowed into the town until 100,000 people were within its gates, here to pay their last tribute to the fallen chief.

The final scenes at the First Methodist Church, where the funeral services were held, and at the beautiful West Lawn Cemetery, where the body was consigned to a vault, were simple and impressive.

The service at the church consisted of a brief oration prayers, by the ministers of three denominations, and singing by a quartette. The body was then taken to West Lawn Cemetery and placed in a receiving vault, pending the time when it will be finally laid to rest beside the dead children, who were buried years ago. The funeral procession was very imposing and included not only the representatives of the army and navy of the United States, but the entire military strength of the State of Ohio and hundreds of civic, fraternal and other organizations. It was two miles long.

One of the most pathetic features of the day was the absence of Mrs. McKinley from the funeral services at the church and from the cemetery when the body of her husband was laid to rest. Since the first shock of the shooting, then of death, then of through the ordeal of State ceremonies, she had borne up braveimm monies, she had borne up bravely. But there was a limit to human endurance, and when yesterday came it found her too weak to pass through the trials of the final ceremonies. Through the open door of her room she heard the prayer of the minister as the body was borne out of the house. After that Dr. Rixey remained close by her side, and, although the full force of the calamity had come upon her, it was believed by those about her that there was a providential mercy in her tears, as they gave some relief to the anguish of the heart within.

At 7 o'clock last night President Roosevelt and the members of the Cabinet started back to Washington.

100,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 20.— The streets of the little city of Canton this morning were filled with waving plumes, prancing horses and densely packed bodies of moving men, assembling here for the procession which was to escort the remains of the late President from the church to West Lawn Cemetery during the afternoon.

The biggest crowd in the history of Canton, which was here during the campaign of 1896, estimated at over 60,000, was exceeded yesterday.

At 1.20 the funeral procession started from the McKinley residence for the church. The body of the President was taken into the church at 1.40 p.m.

The collection of flowers was probably the most beautiful ever seen in the United States. The conservatories of the country had been denuded to supply them. By the direction of the monarchs of Europe, the South American rulers, the Governors of the British colonies in Australia and Canada, the Emperor of Japan — from the four quarters of the earth in fact — came directions to adorn the bier of McKinley with flowers whose fragrance might be symbolical of the sweetness and purity of the ended life. But these tributes from foreign countries were buried beneath the floral tributes of McKinley's countrymen. There were tons and tons of them, and a list of those who sent them would be almost a complete roster of those prominent in the official, commercial and social life of the United States.

Towards noon the crowds in the vicinity of the McKinley cottage had increased to tens of thousands. The vast throng was contented, however, to gaze at the curtained windows. Within the chamber of death all was intensely silent.

Just at 1 o'clock the black chargers of the Cleveland troops swept down the streets, their riders four abreast in their brilliant Hussar uniform, with flags bound in crepe and every sabre hilt bearing its fluttering emblem of mourning. Their coming was the signal for the approach of President Roosevelt and the mem-

THY WILL BE DONE.

A nation mourning, refusing to be comforted, walking through the Valley of the Shadow, grieving over her distinguished dead. A nation of crepe, with flags half-masted, waving to a wailing wind, of drums muffled, of arms reversed.

A nation with a father gone—the hands across the breast, the eyes sightless, the ears stopped. They call—there is no answer; but he is not dead, just graduated. Before he was but a mere President. In his graduation he was glorious, and the world listened as he said "Thy will be done." Kings stood still; great men looked from across the sea; the nations rose and bared their heads while God and he were made better acquainted.

Dead? No, not dead; just had added greatness thrust upon him by a bullet. Is Lincoln dead? or Garfield?

Not a mere President now, but a martyr. Martyr means much; that little bullet added a name to the immortals.

Great in life, but truly great in passing.

Dead!

Is Lincoln dead? or Garfield?

Those mute lips burn with the added eloquence of Heaven. Before his words were drowned by the plaudits of a few hands; now they run in limpid fire across the horizon of all the nations.

The King stops and sees written among the imagery of his palace:

"Thy will be done."

The rich man stops from counting his gold and sees across the face of his dollars:

"Thy will be done."

The poor man stops in his weary chase for the dime and pauses as he reads across it:

"Thy will be done."

The man with the giant mind sees nothing more gigantic, and leaves his learned tomes to ponder on these words:

"Thy will be done."

The man with the brain of a mite can grasp the full glory of those words:

"Thy will be done."

That whisper speaks louder than proclamations. It sounds clear and distinct, over the roar of the world. Orations pale beside it. Just a whisper that floated out from that sick room, limitless, boundless, in its influence. The world is better to-day because he said: "Thy will be done."
—Charlie Churner, in the Toronto Star.

A Provincial general election campaign is in full blast in Nova Scotia, but outside the province it excites only languid interest. This is probably owing to the fact that the country is generally prosperous, while the absence of important issues reduces the contest in many constituencies to a mere choice of persons on their local merits. The principal charge against the Liberal Government is that it has been too long in power—over nineteen years. The Conservatives are making a strenuous fight all along the line, and have issued a platform containing a long and alluring list of proposed reforms. This has been met by the Liberals with a record of performances. Whatever may be the result of the polling, which takes place on the second day of October, the Opposition can hardly be worse off than it was in the late assembly, when it did not even amount to a respectable minority.

PINE TIMBER IS VALUABLE.

Good Prices in Yesterday's Big Sale.

Four Hundred Square Miles Bring Nearly Three-quarters of a Million—Government Well Satisfied With the Results—Details of Buying.

The largest timber sale in Ontario since 1892 took place on Tuesday at the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, when limits of an area of 399 1-4 sq. miles were sold by auction for $732,787.50, an average of $1,835 per square mile. The result of the sale was regarded with a good deal of satisfaction by the Department of Crown Lands, as the limits offered were not of the choicest character, being scattered, and their sale rendered necessary by danger from fire and by the opening of Algoma north of Sault Ste Marie by the construction of the Algoma Central Railway. The pine in the townships of Graham, Cartier and Levack, had in fact, been damaged by fire. The terms of the sale require that the pine be removed from the limits within ten years. The Government receive, in addition to the bonus, a ground rent of $3 a square mile, and a stumpage tax of not less than $1.25 per thousand feet, board measure, or $25 per thousand feet cubic measure. The last large sale was in 1899, when 360 square miles were sold for $723,550, or $2,010 a mile. Previous to that, in 1897, 214 miles were sold for $275,000 or $1,285 per mile; and in 1892, when 633 miles were sold for $2,315,000, or $3,657 per square mile. The last named sale was largely in the Ottawa valley, in Old Ontario, and included especially fine berths.

The sale was held in the Legislative Chamber, which was crowded with prominent lumber operators from both Canada and the United States. It was noticeable that while many Americans were present, few of of them made any purchases. This was ascribed by an official to the active part taken by Canadian operators interested in the square timber business, the berths offered being especially suited for them by reason of their large trees. Some forfeited berths, amounting to 28 1-4 square miles in the Township of Digby, Sherbourne and Lutterworth, in the County of Victoria and the District of Haliburton, were again offered for sale, but withdrawn, the reserve bid not being reached.

LIKE A CHILD.

Old Lady of Strathroy Feels as Spry as a Damsel a Fraction of Her Age.

A noteworthy result of the use of that splendid remedy, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, is the feeling of youth and buoyancy experienced as soon as the pepsin and diastase contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets begin to act on the food.

The blood is very soon improved in quality on using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because instead of being fed by the product of a weak, sour, enfeebled stomach, the full nourishment of perfectly digested food goes to make it up.

The whole body soon feels the influence of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because this rich, new blood is immediately carried to every muscle and nerve, building up the wasted places and toning up the entire system.

The mind and mental condition soon become fresh and wholesome because the mind takes its tone from the body. If the body is healthy we are happy in spite of trouble. If we are happy in spite of trouble and our bodies are healthy we feel young, for children are the happiest and healthiest of mankind, as a general rule.

This is what Mrs. Susan Coome of Strathroy means when she says she feels like a child again owing to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. She writes:

"I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach for fifteen years. After every hearty meal I would suffer so that I grew almost afraid to eat. I would often have to lay down after meals, and as for pastry of any kind, I could not touch it. Nothing I ate would digest. I tried different remedies but got no relief. I heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and got some to try. They cured me. I can eat anything now without the least fear. I feel like a child again. You are welcome to publish this letter that others may learn of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and find health again, as I did."

A Ghostly Satellite.

Under certain conditions there may be seen in the night sky, exactly opposite to the place where the sun may then be, a faint light, rounded in outline, to which the name "gegenschien" has been given. It has always been a mystery to astronomers, but Professor Pickering suggested that it may be a cemetery or meteoric satellite of the earth. He thinks it may be composed of a cloud of meteors 1,000,000 miles from the earth and revolving around it in a period of just one solar year, so that the sun and the ghostly satellite are always on opposite sides of the earth.

FIERY DOOM OF THE WORLD.

Teachings of the Bible on This Interesting Subject.

Touching on the dogmatic teachings contained in the Bible, Rev. Francis E. Gigot, D. D., in his book, "The Bible as a Literature," says:

"While the Bible contains so many valuable teachings concerning God and his attributes, it is comparatively silent about the vast universe of which we form a part. It has little or nothing to do with the wonderful phenomena of nature beyond the description of their outward appearances simply because it never was the object of the sacred writers to add to man's knowledge of the laws of the visible universe.

"On the other hand and in pursuance of its own doctrinal purpose, it frequently speaks of the beginning and the end of the world. Its teachings concerning these two great questions, the solution of which lies beyond the range of reason and experience, may be briefly stated as follows:

"There was a time when nothing of all that we see existed. The universe was not yet; but God was, and his infinite power accounts for its production. This is the plain teaching of the opening words of the first book of the Old Testament.

"Besides inculcating repeatedly the same doctrine (see, for instance, Acts xvii, 24; Ephesians iii, 9) the New Testament states explicitly that the act of creation extended to 'all things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers,' so that the spirit world must also be included among the creatures of the Almighty.

"It is likewise from the New Testament alone that we learn something concerning the end of the world. 'Heaven and earth,' that is the visible universe as we know it, 'shall pass.' It shall come to end through a conflict of the various powers of nature which will entail a universal conflagration.

"'The heavens and earth which are now * * * are reserved unto fire against the day of judgment * * * in which the heavens shall pass away with great violence and the elements shall be melted with heat, and the earth and the works which are in it shall be burned up.'

"Such a tremendous calamity, however, will not result in the total and eternal destruction of the world, but rather in a renewed and improved condition of all things. 'But we look for new heavens and a new earth, according to his (Christ's) promises, in which justice dwelleth.'"

BIG CROWD IN CANTON

bers of the Cabinet. The Presidential party moved up the walk to the entrance of the house and formed a group to the left.

Now the peal of the church bells began, and every steeple in Canton gave its dolorous plaint. It was 1.15 o'clock, and the time had come for taking up the body. A brief private service had been held within the darkened chamber, Dr. Manchester saying a prayer, while the relatives gathered around and Mrs. McKinley listened from the half-open door of her adjoining room.

The double file of body-bearers now stepped into the room, and, raising the flag-wrapped casket to their shoulders, bore it through the open entrance. A solemn hush fell upon the multitude, as the bearers advanced with measured tread. Tenderly the coffin was committed to the hearse, and the silence was broken as the order to march passed from officer to officer.

The great procession now took up its mournful journey, passing under the sweep of giant arches, robed in black, between two living tides of humanity, along the streets, covering housetops and filling the windows. The church bells still were tolling, mingling their dismal tones with the cadence of the funeral dirges.

At either side of the hearse marched the guard of military and naval honor, the generals on the right, led by General Miles, and the admirals on the left, led by Adjutant Farquhar. Then came the long line of carriages for the relatives and friends, and, after them, the innumerable militia and civil organizations that had assembled to pay their last honor to the fallen chief. In the line were division after division of Knights Templar, Knights of Pythias, Masons, Oddfellows and representatives of benevolent orders, Chambers of Commerce, as well as delegations of citizens of cities and towns throughout the State and country.

It was 1.50 when the procession passed the Court House and turned into Tuscarawas street to the stately stone edifice where the funeral services were to be held. At the church entrance were drawn up deep files of soldiers, with bayonets advanced, keeping a clear area for the advancing casket and large train of mourners. The hearse halted while President Roosevelt and members of the Cabinet alighted. Again they grouped themselves at either side of the entrance, and, with uncovered heads, awaited the passing casket. Then the flower-covered coffin was brought from the hearse, and, as it passed within the black-draped entrance, the President and his Cabinet followed within the edifice. The mourners, too, passed inside, but the stricken widow was not among them.

She had remained behind in the old home, alone with her grief.

The scene in the church when the casket was carried in on the brawny shoulders of the soldiers and sailors was profoundly impressive. The decorations in black were very rich, but it was the floral display at the front of the church which filled the whole edifice with glory. The centre of it all was a great wreath of American beauties, framing a black border in the portrait of President McKinley. From it, extending outwards and upward, was a perfect wealth of gorgeous blossoms. The effect was as if a great rushing wave of color had broken into flowers at the foot of the bier.

Almost directly above the support for the coffin, a sunburst of lights glittered like brilliant stars in a dark sky. The light without came dimly through the stained glass windows.

The Congressional party filled up the entire east section of the pews and the rear half of the two central sections. The local clergymen occupied the seats below the organ usually occupied by the choir. All had risen as the coffin was borne in. The mourning relatives occupied the tier of pews in the left of the centre aisle. Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley led the way, followed by the other immediate relatives.

The fourth pew from the front, that was always occupied by President McKinley, was draped in black and remained vacant. After all had been seated, the door leading into the Sabbath school was opened and the seats arranged below, as well as those in the balcony, were soon filled with the representatives of various organizations and the fellow townsmen of the martyred President. Conspicuous among these were the survivors of the 2nd Ohio, President McKinley's old regiment, who brought into the church the tattered battle flags the regiment had carried throughout the civil war.

It was after 2 o'clock when the quartette arose and lifted up their voices with the touching words of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." When the sound of the last line had died away Rev. O. R. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in which President and Mrs. McKinley were married 30 years ago, offered a fervent prayer.

Dr. John A. Hull, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, then read from the Bible the beautiful 19th psalm, and Rev. E. P. Herbruck verses 41 and 58 of the 28th chapter of I. Corinthians.

With great feeling he read the inspiring words, telling of the mystery that all would not sleep, but all would be changed.

Dr. E. C. Manchester then delivered an address, which lasted 24 minutes, on the life of the late President, and the lessons taught by his noble character and death.

Bishop I. W. Joyce of Minneapolis, followed with a brief prayer, and the services were concluded with the singing of the hymn which President McKinley repeated on his deathbed, "Nearer My God to Thee." The entire congregation arose and joined in the last stanza. Father Valtman of Chicago, chaplain of the 29th Infantry, pronounced the benediction. Then the notes of the organ again arose. The coffin was taken up and borne from the church. The relatives and those in official life went out in the order they had entered.

It was after 3 o'clock when the silent and anxious throng outside the church saw the solemn pageant reappear through the church doors. First came the guard of military and naval honor, the generals and admirals forming in double line leading from the entrance to the waiting hearse. Again the flag-draped casket, with wealth of flowers, appeared and was committed to the hearse. The President and members of the Cabinet followed, arm in arm, and stepped into the waiting carriages. The relatives entered carriages next. Then the squadron of troopers broke from their battalion front, and, wheeling into platoons, took up the march to the grave.

The line of the funeral march from the church to the cemetery was about one and a half miles in length. The route was north to Tuscarawas street from the church to Lincoln street, west on Lincoln street to West Third street, and north one square to the gates of the cemetery.

For hours before the time set for the commencement of the funeral services at the McKinley home the streets along the entire length of the line of march was crowded with spectators.

There was not a window that commanded a view of the march that was not filled with faces, the numerous stands were crowded to their utmost capacity, and on the roofs were hundreds of people. From 9 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon, by which time the last of the parade had passed the church on its way to the cemetery, this condition prevailed. No greater reverence has ever been shown to any man, living or dead, than was exhibited toward the dead President yesterday. As the funeral car passed through the streets the men and women sobbed convulsively.

It was exactly four minutes after four when the funeral car bore the remains of the dead President through the gateway of his last resting place. Twenty minutes after that time the brief services at the vault were over, the members of the family, and the distinguished men of the nation, who had come so far to do him honor, had passed through the gates on their homeward way. One hour and forty minutes after the hearse had entered the cemetery the place was clear, and the dead President was resting alone under the watchful care of men of the regular army.

A sentry's measured tread resounded from the cement walk before the vault, another kept vigil on the grassy slope above, and at the head and at the foot of the casket stood armed men. Before the door, which was not closed last night, was pitched the tent of the guards, and there it will remain until the doors are closed to-day. Sentries will then guard the vault every hour of the day and night until the body has been borne to its final resting place.

FAITH NO FACTOR

IN THIS MAN'S CURE.

Persuaded to try South American Rheumatic Cure it proved its potency. Seven years pains dispelled forever in twelve hours.

I was Rheumatism's victim for seven years, being confined to my bed for months at a time. WASHINGTON IN MOURNING.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Yesterday the voices of the people were uplifted in prayer for the soul of William McKinley, while his mortal remains were being committed to the grave in his Ohio home.

Everywhere were to be seen badges of mourning, and on every flagstaff, the national ensign was at half-mast. Private and public business was absolutely suspended, and every face showed signs of sadness. At exactly 2.30 o'clock (1.30 in Canton), the city ceased from labor, practically from locomotion for five minutes.

As if by common consent, men, women and children, white and black, came to a sudden halt in whatsoever they were engaged, and sat, or stood as still as statues wheresoever they chanced to be. Men on foot and on bicycles, the drivers of carriages and draught wagons, chauffeurs and trainmen stood in mute supplication for the dead.

the dead. The Metropolitan M. E. Church, where Mr. McKinley worshipped, was the centre of interest, and here the services were more impressive than elsewhere.

In every city and town in the United States memorial services were held and during the funeral hours business was entirely suspended.

Out of respect for the memory of President McKinley all sporting events in the United States yesterday were suspended.

MOURNING ABROAD.

Throughout Canada the day of the late President McKinley's funeral was observed as a day of mourning and fasting. All Government departments were closed and in the churches memorial services were held.

At Pekin, at Bombay, at Berlin, at Paris, and throughout Great Britain and Ireland were memorial services held. By command of King Edward, a memorial service in honor of the late President McKinley was held in Westminster Abbey, and was attended by many Americans and Englishmen of distinction. The service was choral and grandly solemn.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

Costly Barber Shop Fittings.

This week, the most enterprising proprietor of the most up-to-date tonsorial quarters in town, Alive C. LeGros, has put the finishing touches on his swell equipment, by the addition of three elegant new barber chairs. It is claimed that they are more stylish and more modern than anything of the kind to be found in the city of Toronto. They are called the "Pedestal" hydraulic chair, a new design, made by Koken of Cincinnati. It enables the barber to stand closer to the customer and to move around with greater freedom. They are raised, lowered, revolved or reclined by the action of one lever; made of quarter cut golden oak; beautifully nickle plated, and upholstered in green plush, costing the snug sum of $85.00 each without the duty. Charley intends to keep things revolving.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

A Lindsay Event That is of Local Interest Took Place Yesterday.

(Lindsay Post.)

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the residece of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Skitch, 57 William street, north, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Celia E. Granger, of Sutton-West, Ont., was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Herbert W. Skitch, of Lindsay.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Harsh, rector of St. Paul's church, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Manning, Cambridge street Methodist church. The bride looked beautiful in a costume of dimity and chiffon, with sequin trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, Miss Mabel Williams, of Lindsay, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a dress of white organdie trimmed with white lace and insertion; she also carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. W. F. Skitch, of Peterborough.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, amid the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Winters. The home had been artistically arranged with palms, ferns and other plants, and presented a very pretty appearance.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was served. Many beautiful and costly presents were received. Friends were in attendance from Gravenhurst, Sutton-West, Rochester, Millbrook, Omemee, and Dunsford. The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock express for Trenton and points east, amid showers of rice, taking with them the good wishes of many friends.

THE BAND CONCERT.

A Big Attraction in the Skating Rink To-night.

The band concert in the skating rink this evening promises to be one of the best attractions of the season, and will most likely be attended by an exceptionally large assemblage. There is every reason why this should be. Every citizen should take an interest in the 57th Regimental Band. More than this, every citizen has reason to be proud of this organization. Why, therefore, when the band management gives an opportunity to the public to show their appreciation of their efforts, should they not turn out on an occasion of this kind?

The programme this evening will be one of rare excellence: it will be a programme such as perhaps the Peterborough public has seldom had an opportunity of hearing, and therefore any one who attends can reckon on getting the worth of his money. The style of concert, too, is rather novel, and the ticket drawing contest is making much interest.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT ALL SAINTS'.

Interior of Church Beautified for the Occasion.

SPECIAL MUSIC PREPARED.

Rev. A. J. Fidler of Colborne, Spoke Most Impressively to the Congregation—An Appropriate Sermon.

The interior of that beautiful little chapel in the South End known as All Saints' Church, was transformed last evening into a veritable bower of harvest trophies, the occasion marking the annual Thanksgiving service held by the congregation. The general plan of the decorations was most skilfully conceived, and the disposition of the flowers, fruits, vegetables and grains, was such as to show their beauty to the greatest possible advantage. Charmingly wrought festoons of grain were gracefully draped on the walls, and brought out to the gasaliers in the centre of the church, forming pretty canopies over the worshippers. The altar, pulpit and reading desk were profusely laden with spoils of the harvest, and the window sills were also smothered in the products of the field.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. L. Armitage, and the special sermon was delivered by Rev. A. J. Fidler, of Colborne, who is a warm favourite with the congregation. Last evening he excelled himself in the clearness and lucidity of the application of his address, and the sincere earnestness with which he deliverad the discourse made a deep impression upon his hearers, whose undivided attention he held until his closing words.

The text selected for the avening was taken from Ruth 2nd chapter, 4th verse, "And behold Boaz came from Bethlehem, and said unto the reapers, The Lord be with you; and they answered him, The Lord bless thee."

In opening the speaker paid fitting tribute to the beauty of the decorations, and spoke of the feeling of thanksgiving to God for the bountiful harvest, which he felt sure inspired the work. The chapter, he stated, from which he had chosen his text, was one in which the scenes descriptive of the harvest were very realistic. It was a typical harvest scene — the workers were described, the overseer, and Boaz, the wealthy proprietor — he who showed his kindly spirit in his salutation, "The Lord be with you." He was a man full of honours, rich and accustomed to associate with men of influence, but more than that he was generous, and a God-fearing man. In every age as to-day, all have an interest in a plentiful harvest, and in some men it has a tendency to make them self-satisfied. It was not so with Boaz. He gives an example which all should strive to emulate. How many are there who think they have no cause to thank God. The thought of thanksgiving comes to them as an annoyance, and they forget the rendering of the old law whereby those of scanty means could partake of the rich man's abundance.

It is a duty and necessity, continued the speaker, that religion should come into our lives at all time. Some think that it should only enter our lives at certain intervals. Some are too busy to think of it, and consider it is inappropriate to allow God to come into their thoughts except under certain conditions. Others think that the church has a secular and a religious side. Boaz did not. He was not afraid to mention the name of Deity in the harvest field. He was glad to show that he recognized that the abundant harvest was a gift from the Creator. How many will argue that God has no part in the yielding of nature, holding that if the sowing is defective, and the conditions untoward, the crop will be poor. They make the mistake of confounding the terms "means" and "causes." It is true that there must be rain and sunshine and good ground, but the fact of the creation and increase of the grain does not say or assert that the crop springs from these conditions. It is said that it is the result of certain laws of nature. Yes! but who is the great Lawgiver? From whence comes the sunshine and the rain to give strength to the crop if not from the Lawgiver? Must we not go back to Boaz and ask for a rich increase, and then thank God for it?

Another lesson to be learned from the text is the personal effort necessary in every life. This personal effort does not necessarily mean success, but is it not also true that without effort there can be no success?

God has no use for idlers. Every revelation of the Creator shows Him as ever-working, not one angel in Heaven but has his appointed task. In the world to come each individual will have his alloted work and so it is in this world. No one can depute another to do his work for him or the blessing will be withheld. We have got to do our own work. Yet there are many indolent Christians—who think they can escape the work by donating of their riches. It should be understood that there is no distinction between the rich and the poor—all have to work alike.

Still another lesson to be derived from the text was a boundless gratitude. Boaz praises God and blesses his men, and that lesson stands before us picturing a man, who though rich, was great in soul, noble-hearted and God-fearing. There is nothing so terrible in Christian life as ingratitude. All nature praises God, concluded Rev. Mr. Fidler, then how can man be still.

The music which had been specially prepared for the occasion consisted of Ebden's difficult "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis," and the following Harvest Hymns: "Come, ye thankful people, come," "Praise, O praise our God and King," "We plough the fields and scatter," and "Now thank we all our God." The anthem "While the earth remaineth" was also sung during the evening, Mr. James Browne taking the solo in exceptionally good voice.

The work of decorating was undertaken by the Ladies' Auxiliary, the Chancel Guild and the Senior Girls' Guild. Material assistance was given by the men of the congregation

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt now Located in in Ashburnham.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and Mrs. Langfeldt have arrived in Peterborough to permanently reside here, and he will assume his new duties as rector of St. Luke's church on Sunday next. Concerning Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, the Omemee Mirror speaks as follows:

"Rev. E. A. and Mrs. Langfeldt leave Omemee to-morrow for Ashburnham. The above notice will be received with regret by their many friends in Omemee and Emily, to whom they have endeared themselves by their sociable and amicable disposition. Mr. Langfeldt, is an earnest expounder of the Gospel, and in the capacity of rector, he will be greatly missed by the congregations of Christ Church, Omemee, St. John's and St. James churches, Emily, to whom he has faithfully and earnestly preached during the past two years. The congregation of St. Luke's church Ashburnham, can well afford to congratulate themselves on securing Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., as their rector, and the citizens of that town may also feel pleased on having such a highly esteemed family come to reside with them. The Mirror joins with their many friends here in wishing them continued success and happiness."

What Mr. Smiff Thinks.

The Bobcaygeon Independent in speaking of the action of Lord Minto and Major Maude in ordering that the address from the Mayor of Ottawa should be handed to the Duke instead of being read to him says:—"If the object of the visit is to impress the people with the divinity humbug of royalty, and cultivate snobbery, and high toned distinctions between women who have done their own washing and those who have resigned the washing to hired help, then this democratic country of independent workers, wants money of it. Minto and Maude are really to be thanked for having so thoroughly demonstrated to the people of Canada that of all tomfoolery this royal tomfoolery to the son of his father, is the poppy-eockist of poppy-cock."

A MINISTER SUSPENDED.

Rev. Mr. Sanderson's Case to go Before Conference.

A Further Step in the Sensational Charges Against Two Methodist Ministers—Rev. Mr. McAmmond Reproved by the Committee.

Smith's Falls, September 19.—The Committee of trial in the celebrated McAmmond-Sanderson case finished its labours to-night and made a report. The committee recommended that the Rev. D. C. Sanderson be suspended until conference, and that Rev. Foster McAmmond be reproved by the Chairman. The suspension of the Rev. M. Sanderson was the limit of the committee's power, and now it remains for conference to deal with him. The whole evidence will be submitted to the Montreal conference of the Methodist Church this June, when Mr. Sanderson's case will be finally dealt with. Meantime, he is relieved of all ministerial work. The unhappy experience of the two men in Syracuse will be well remembered and need not be referred to at length now. They denied the truthfulness of the sensational reports published, and demanded an investigation by the church court, and this was granted. The committee consisted of the Rev. J. Tallman Pitcher, Chairman; the Rev. Dr. Antliff, Kingston, the Rev. Hugh Cairns, Morrisburg, the Rev. J. T. Mansell, Brockville, the Rev. Dr. Larmour, Easton's Corners, and the Rev. D. Cummings, Pakenham.

INVESTIGATION AT SYRACUSE.

When the committee met here first, on the 27th of August, the statements of the two clergymen were taken down, and then an adjournment was made. The Chairman delegated Mr. J. R. Lavell, M. P., a lawyer of this town, as commissioner to go to Syracuse and collect all the evidence bearing on the case that he could get. This he did, and when the committee met again yesterday he made his report. While a verbatim copy of it could not be obtained, your correspondent understands that it was largely corroborative of the ministers' statements made before the committee. A great many of the sensational reports published at the time were proven to be false, and many of the principal witnesses examined bore out Mr. McAmmond and Mr. Sanderson's version of the affair. In Mr. Sanderson's case, however, there was no evidence obtainable as to how he came to be in the condition he acknowledged himself to have been in. On this statement he rests his case, and disclaims any conscious conduct unbecoming his position as a minister of a Christian church. Expert evidence was taken to-day by the committee as to the probable effect of any drug that could be administered in candy drops, but it is understood that it did not tend to clear matters to any extent. The statements of the woman, Pearl Ashley, were shown to be unworthy of credence, as she offered for a consideration to sign any statement that was written out for her, either for or against the men. Regarding the registering at the Mansion House on the Monday night, it is understood that the evidence was conclusive that Mr. McAmmond and Mr. Sanderson stayed there that night. Mr. Sanderson claims to have paid one dollar for the room, and the landlord says he registered their names himself as McAmmond and friend, Ottawa. He says he got the word McAmmond from overhearing Sanderson say, "Come on, McAmmond," after he got the key of the room, but it is not clear how he came to put them down as being from Ottawa. The entry in his register is "McAmmond and friend, Ottawa."

The exact finding of the Trial Committee is as follows:

"We find that the charge against him, Mr. McAmmond, of associating with an immoral person, is not sustained, and inasmuch as he pleaded guilty to the charge of registering at the Mansion House at Syracuse, under an assumed name, and having expressed extreme regret for having done so, while we believe the act was not done with any evil intention, yet it indicated a serious lack of becoming gravity, and has been a source of great reproach to the church, we think the ends of justice will be met by the chairman administering a severe rebuke, which we hereby direct him to do."

This was signed by all the members of the committee and was presented to the chairman as their unanimous decision. It must be said that the committee have hardly done themselves justice in the wording of the verdict, but the meaning of it is understood to be that, while Mr. McAmmond had been foolish and indiscreet he had not been guilty of any grievous wrong, and a reproof from the chairman was deemed sufficient punishment. The reproof was administered on the spot, and on Sunday Mr. Pitcher will go before Mr. McAmmond's congregation in Perth and repeat it.

The tea at the links yesterday was given by Mrs. A. H. Stratton and Mrs. H. D. Burnett. The afternoon was a most delightful one for playing golf, and the course was crowded with shirt-waisted girls and scarlet-coated men. The tea proved a most pleasant affair, a great many staying to enjoy the bountiful hospitality of Mrs. Stratton and Mrs. Burnett.

RUGBY.

The team committee of the Rugby Club met last night and selected the following men for a practice game to-morrow afternoon:

Cyclones — Ben Simpson, Vic McWilliams, Harold Armstrong, F. McDonough, Corp. Sturgeon, Frank Burnham, Hurtubise, Dillon, Crowley, Collier, Moore, Cameron, McClennan, Parnell, Lee and Walker.

Gentle Lambs — Andy Scott, Hal. Burnham, Claud Rogers, Chris Graham Bill Dennaird, Rolly McWilliams, Noble, Revell, Meagher, Rickey, Paterson, Morden, G. Burnham, Wood, Dunsford, Burton and Derocher.

The above named players have signified their intention of being out, but all players of the town are invited to be on hand. The ball will be kicked off at 4.30 sharp and the practice takes place on the Nicholls Park oval.

It will be universally regretted that Hurtubise has decided to leave town. He will reside for the present at Kirkfield. "Jimmy's" place will be hard to fill.

LACROSSE.

The Port Hope Guide in its account of the return home of the Ontarios after winning in Beaverton says:—"Frenzied shouts of Ontarios! Ontarios! accompanied by the band's "See the conquering heroes come," and the dancing lights from many flickering torches was the welcome accorded last night's train as it pulled into the town station from the north. A stranger, unknown to the ways of Port Hope's citizens might have been led to ask, "Has this town another contingent of South African heroes returning home to-night, or has the "Dook" taken a special run up from Quebec to Port Hope?" and about all the satisfaction he would have received would have been "Ontarios," "Ontarios." It was not a case of more war-scarred veterans, or of Royalty coming to town, but it was the triumphant return of our own Ontario Lacrosse Team, with only one rung higher to climb on the championship ladder, and with another great victory added to their already long list. The citizens of Port Hope were justly proud of their representatives in "Canada's National Game," and the welcome accorded them last night, was enough to amply repay the boys for their hard, persistent work, and to inspire the determination to never let up till that Intermediate Championship is safely stored away in town.

BASEBALL.

Mr. P. Beatty, of Toronto, in writing to the Star says:—"In your editorial to-night re sharp practice in sport, you say something that is true, something that is false, and neglect something that is very important. As a Rugby player I can tell you that off-side play is extolled chiefly by raw sporting editors like the one quoted by the Star. Off-side play, any football authority like Walter Dick, Ed. Bayley, Ripley, or Bush Thompson, will tell you, is sure to hurt a team more than it helps it, if persisted in. Authorities—and raw sporting writers who never played the game are not authorities—will tell you that the persistant off-side player is a nuisance on a team. No good captain ever did anything but frown it down.

There is little trickery in football; there is none in lacrosse. In lacrosse there is rough play, but it is a decent sort of unfairness, for the assaulted can hit back.

I observe that you do not include baseball in the category of undesirable games. The baseball club advertises, but baseball is the meanest game of the lot. "Win by any means" is the rule of that game. Boys are taught that it is good to win by cutting second or third if the umpire's eye is not on them. Thus you endorse implicit lying, for the "cutter" virtually says, "I touched that base." Then what about the baseball players and home mob trying to "rattle" a player? They say, for instance. "That's a good pitcher, but nervous. Let's howl at him and we'll win." And they do both.

Baseball has the contemptible eminence of being the only game in which players are expected to cheat; to worry nervous opponents by shouting, and to try to scare the umpire. And the blackguards who follow it say, "Its part of the game!" What would be thought of a football team that hooted and tried to rattle the man of the opposing team who was trying to kick a placed goal? They would likely be thrown out of the union, after a warning. Or what of a cricket team trying to rattle a nervous batsman? You never heard of it. No, there is no cheating or blackguardism in football or lacrosse, although there is often too much roughness—a more venial fault. But I do say right here, and lots more with me, that baseball teaches chicanery, sharp practice, and thievery. It is a good game gone rotten by the Yankee rule of "anything is commendable if you are able to carry it off."

ABOUT FROST'S.

A Handsome New Jewelry Store That is now Open.

One of the latest additions to Peterborough's business houses is the jewellery establishment of Mr. R. J. Frost, in the old Grand Central property, No. 349 George street. The store, which will be known as "Frost's Diamond Hall," is certainly one of the neatest and most attractive looking business houses in Peterborough. Mr. Frost has evidently an eye for beauty and he is to be congratulated upon the style of his store and the manner in which his wares are arranged. The interior is finished in golden oak, and presents a luxuriant appearance, together with the handsome mirrors, the elegant chandeliers and the costly show cases. The business will include all branches of repairing, and Mr. Frost will also keep on hand a complete stock of silverware, cut glass, etc. He is open for business now and will be pleased to have people call and inspect his new store.

FRESH OYSTERS.

GIVEN A "SEND-OFF."

An American Gentleman who has Been in Town a Short While.

Mr. J. W. Carnochan, of Silver Creek, New York, who has been in town for the past two or three weeks superintending the installation of a fancy pea cleaner in Houdrey's establishment at the old bridge works, was highly honoured last night.

Mr. Carnochan, during his short stay in Peterborough, has become exceedingly well acquainted with a number of Peterborough citizens, and a few of them, consisting chiefly of the employees of the Houdrey firm here, assembled at the Crown Hotel to give him a send off and to express to him the esteem in which he is held.

The chair was occupied by Mr. T. D. M. Crowley, and among those present were Messrs. A. Allison, J. H. Greer, Joseph Murphy, Wm. Cook, D. Davis, Joe Halpany, J. H. Houdrey, E. O. Bradburn, and E. S. Clarry.

After an excellent supper had been disposed of, an informal toast list was run off.

The toast of "The King" was duly honoured, after which the chairman proposed the health of the guest of the evening, Mr. Carnochan. In doing so he said many kind things concerning Mr. Carnochan, whom he was pleased to know was a Canadian by birth.

Mr. Carnochan, in his reply, thanked the gathering most sincerely for the kind manner in which they had treated him. He did not pretend to be a speaker, but he knew something about his own line of business, at least. He appreciated very much, he said, the honour they had done him.

Mr. Halpany's singing was a feature of the evening, and amongst the other toasts honoured were the Manufacturing Industries, the Army and Navy, Merchantile Institutions, the Ladies, the Press and the Chairman.

Mr. Houdrey, in his remarks, expressed the pleasure it gave him at being present, and in reference to his own business he said that he expected that it would reach immense proportions before long.

The affair closed by all present singing "God Save the King."

Mr. Jackson, proprietor of the Crown, came in for considerable praise for the excellent manner in which the table was provided for.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I notice in your issue of last evening an article headed, "Have not united."

What authority there is for such a publication I do not know, but I am convinced that the motive is the opposite of good.

I think, Mr. Editor, if our business must be made public, the public should have the facts and the author of such, sign his or her name, that there be no shooting in the dark, even the assassin of the late Prsident McKinley had courage enough to shoot in day light.

As to unity, as president of First Church of Christ Scientist, Peterborough, I wish to say that more than one of the leading members of Second Church have informed me that they had dismissed their Readers, closed their contribution book, and locked up their church.

At the present the roll book of First Church contains the names of the majority of those who were members of Second Church, they have also worshiped with us for some weeks, also helped yesterday with the renovating of the church which will be opened for divine service Sunday, giving their assistance as freely and lovingly as other members of the church.

Regarding the financial part of the matter, we have no dealings with Mr. Bradburn, but with the two trustees of the Second Church, on whom has fallen the burden of the mortgage referred to.

We have, as a church, assumed the responsibility of the interest to Mr. Bradburn for the present, and if we should take on us the responsibility of the principle, I trust it will be when God has given us level headed wisdom enough to see where the means, wherewith to carry out our obligations, are coming from, and not load a few people with a burden unbearable.

Mr. Bradburn, yesterday, remarked to me, "Mr. Brundrette is out of it." That is true. Mr. Brundrette is not with us, but it is not necessary to give reasons.

In conclusion, we extend a cordial invitation to the press and public to attend our opening services; notices of which we expect to have published to-morrow. As there is nothing gained for any one by strife and contentions, I sincerely hope the good people of Peterborough may become more closely united in harmony and love. Thanking you for space, I remain, Yours respectfully,

R. J. TODD, C. S.,
President of First Church of Christ Scientist, Peterborough.

COBRA STRUCK A ROCK

British Torpedo Boat Destroyer Lost with Sixty-Five Men.

BOAT BLOWN UP AFTER STRIKING

Only Twelve Survivors Left to Tell the Tale—Fastest Vessel in the World—Sister Boat to the Ill-Fated Viper—The Cool Bravery of Lieut. Smith, the Cobra's Commander.

London, Sept. 20.—The torpedo boat destroyer Cobra has foundered in the North Sea as the result of an explosion. The vessel was en route from the yard of her builders, the Armstrongs of Newcastle, to Portsmouth, and carried a navigating crew of from fifty to sixty men. It is reported that all were lost with the exception of about a dozen persons.

The first intimation of the disaster was the arrival of a fishing boat at Yarmouth, with six bodies, which she had picked up in the vicinity of the spot where the Cobra was last seen. According to the fishermen, the Cobra was last sighted by the lightship off Dowsing Sands Wednesday morning enveloped in steam, and soon afterwards she disappeared. The men on the lightship supposed the Cobra had sailed away, until the evening, when they observed bodies floating in the water, and signalled the fishing boat to investigate the disaster.

A despatch from Middleboro says 12 survivors of the crew of the Cobra were landed there yesterday morning and confirms the first report that all the others were drowned. The British Admiralty has received information that the explosion occurred after the Cobra had struck a rock, and that she sank immediately.

The Cobra, like her sister boat, the Viper, was a turbine-engined vessel. She had just left the yard of her contractors, and was undergoing a boiler test.

About one year ago the torpedo boat destroyer Cobra beat the record of the Viper, and won the title of the fastest vessel in the world, making 37.7 knots, or 43.5 miles, an hour.

The Cobra had on board 42 naval men and about 35 men in the employ of the contractors. So far as known, the 12 men previously referred to are the only survivors. Five boats were launched after the Cobra struck, but some of them were swamped in the heavy sea.

Lieut. Bosworth Smith, the Cobra's commander, stood upon the bridge with his arms folded as impressive as if on parade and went down with the vessel.

CAPTURED 200 TROOPS.

General Botha and His Boers Give Unpleasant Evidence That They Are Alive and Fighting Yet.

London, Sept. 20.—The Boers have captured two hundred British troops and three guns at Scheeper's Nek.

A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Sept. 18, announces that the Boers, on Sept. 17, ambushed three companies of mounted infantry with three guns, commanded by Major Gough, in the vicinity of Scheeper's Nek. After severe fighting the British were overpowered and lost their guns, the sights and breech locks of which were first destroyed. Two officers and fourteen men were killed, and five officers and twenty-five men were wounded. Five officers and one hundred and fifty men were made prisoners. Major Gough, who escaped during the night, reports that the Boers numbered a thousand men and that they were commanded by General Botha.

General French reports that Commandant Smuts, in order to break through a cordon, rushed on a squadron of the 17th Lancers at Elands River Poort, killing three officers and twenty men, and wounding one officer and thirty men. The Boers, who were dressed in khaki, and were mistaken for British troops, lost heavily.

Botha Threatens Natal.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Sept. 19.—In view of the imminence of the reinvasion of Natal by General Louis Botha, with a force of 1,500 men, a special issue of The Gazette has called out a number of men of the Natal corps, to muster here to-day.

Will Teddy Intervene.

London, Sept. 20.—Mr. Kruger, according to a despatch to The Daily Mail from Brussels, is preparing a memorial to President Roosevelt, soliciting the intervention of the United States in South Africa.

They are not Violent in Action.

Some persons when they wish to cleanse the stomach, resort to Epsom and other purgative salts. These are speedy in their action, but serve no permanent good. Their use produces incipient chills and if persisted in they injure the stomach. Nor do they act upon the intestines in a beneficial way. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills answer all purposes in this respect and have no superior.

Fire at Port Perry.

Port Perry, Sept. 20.—Fire broke out in Sproule's bake shop yesterday morning, and, owing to the high wind, was not under control until one of the leading business blocks was entirely consumed. The loss was in the neighborhood of $50,000, nearly covered by insurance. Those who suffered were: A. Ross & Sons, The Standard Printing & Sons, The Standard Printing Office, C. H. Allison, E. H. Purdy, J. Murray and the Western Bank.

Second Death Results.

St. Catharines, Sept. 20.—Mrs. McMillan died at the hospital yesterday afternoon, the second death as the result of Wednesday's accident at the Niagara Street crossing, where one of the Niagara Central Railway electric trolley cars struck a carriage, injuring four women.

STRUCK BY A TROLLEY CAR.

Probably Fatal Accident on Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway.

St. Catharines, Sept. 19.—A bad accident occurred on the Niagara street crossing of the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway Co. yesterday afternoon about 2.30. A democrat wagon, containing four women, Mrs. Thomas and her two daughters and Mrs. McMillan, all of Allanburg, was crashed into by one of the big electric cars coming from Niagara Falls en route to this city. The gong was sounded, but the horses became frightened and dashed forward. The car struck one of the horses on the shoulder, knocking both animals off the track. The force swung the wagon closer to the car, and it upset and the four were thrown out. The elder Miss Thomas fell close to the rails, and was caught by the truck, her left arm was taken off and one leg badly mangled, besides being otherwise cut up. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs McMillan received painful wounds, and it is feared they are also internally injured, while the younger Miss Thomas escaped with slight injuries.

Up to 8 o'clock last night Miss Thomas was still alive, but she cannot recover. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. McMillan were then unconscious, but their recovery is hoped for.

New Vital Force for Cells and Tissues.

Chronic Disease Overthrown and the Whole System Revitalised and Reconstructed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away, and destroying of the tissues of the body, and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. This wasting process may attack the lungs, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, or, as is most frequently the case, result in collapse of the nervous system, prostration, paralysis, or insanity.

You may rest assured that disease will search out your weak spot and gradually gain the upper hand. Nature alone cannot end this wasting process. External assistance is absolutely necessary, as you know too well, if you have been observant of what is going on around you. As a result of centuries of investigation and research, science now offers certain restoratives and revitalizers which have a wonderfully beneficial effect on a weakened and run-down system. These are combined in the most successful proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is by far the most thoroughly effective tissue builder and nerve restorative that is known to the medical profession today.

Mr. Joseph Geroux, 22 Metcalf street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:—

"I was nervous, had headache and brain fag. I was restless at night and could not sleep. My appetite was poor, and I suffered from nervous dyspepsia. Little business cares worried and irritated me. After having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two months, I can frankly say that I feel like a new man. My appetite is good, I rest and sleep well, and this treatment has strengthened me wonderfully. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine I ever used, and I say so because I want to give full credit where it is due."

At least nine-tenths of the ailments from which people are suffering and dying to-day are the result of thin, watery blood, exhausted nerve force, and general debility of the body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stops this wasting process, puts new life and energy into the wasted nerve cells, fills the shrivelled arteries with rich life-sustaining blood, and overcomes disease. It will be interesting to note the gradual increase in weight while using the famous food cure.

He saw Him.

A bailiff having long tried in vain to arrest a Quaker at last resolved to adopt the disguise of being a Quaker himself and so get access to the interior of the house. He knocked accordingly at the door, inquired if Friend Aminadab was at home and if he could see him.

The housekeeper said, "Walk in, friend, and he shall see thee."

The bailiff, delighted to have got this success, was directed to wait. But after waiting an hour he became impatient, rang the bell and said to the servant, "Thou promised me I should see Friend Aminadab."

"No, friend," answered she; "I promised he should see thee. He hath seen thee, but he doth not like thee."

THE CZAR IN FRANCE.

Russian Emperor Watches the Manoeuvres in Which 140,000 French Soldiers Under War Conditions Took Part.

Compiegne, Sept. 20.—Emperor Nicholas passed a day full of interest. Yesterday morning was spent in witnessing the final operations of the grand western manoeuvres, at which the Czar for the first time came into contact with the French army operating under war conditions and not merely in parade uniform.

The troops were concentrated on the plain around Fort Vitery in the early morning. Operations began at 10 on the arrival of the Czar, who, surrounded by French and Russian staff officers, followed most of the movements on horseback.

The closing phase of the operations, when the entire force of 140,000 men were in action, was viewed from an eminence near Fort Vitery. The operations concluded at two o'clock.

Compiegne was reached on return at 7.30, and the Czar spent the evening quietly in the Chateau.

ONTARIO'S SWEEP IN FRUIT.

Won All the Medals in a Pan-American Competition.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—Later advices from Buffalo show that the victory of Ontario in the first competition for medals offered by the American Pomological Society was even better than at first reported. Forty entries were received in all, the competition being open to all America. The Ontario Fruit Experiment Stations' exhibit won the silver medal for the best exhibit by any society or organization. Mr. Albert Pay of St. Catharines and Mr. Murray Pettit of Winona won silver medals for the best collection by any individual, and Mr. W. M. Orr of Fruitland, a bronze medal for his collection. This exhausted the medals awarded, Ontario getting them all, while the exhibits from the various States received only "honorable mention."

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

A City of Boiling Springs.

Carlsbad has been humorously described as being built on the lid of a boiling kettle, which is almost literally true, as it stands on a crust of comparative thinness through which rise several mineral springs. The most abundant and most used of these springs is the Sprudel, which discharges 130,000 gallons a day of various temperatures. The water of the hot springs has been famous for more than a century as a "cure" for various complaints, and the town can nearly always boast of its royal visitors during the season from May 1 to Sept. 20.

The Difference.

Pater—You are very forword, sir. In my day the young man waited until he was asked to call.

Young Man—Yes, and now he waits until he's asked not to call.

ATE SHELLS AND ALL

AN AMERICAN'S ORDER OF OYSTERS IN A LONDON RESTAURANT.

A Joke That Was Taken In Solemn Earnest and a Subsequent Explanation That Would Not Be Accepted as the Truth.

"The English people, or at least as many of them as we meet about London, are beginning to know us," said the returned traveler. "Stories of wild red Indians on Manhattan Island and buffalo hunts in the adjacent territory don't go any more. A quarter of a century ago you could stuff 'em with any kind of a yarn if the scene was laid in the United States and the actors were Americans. Now you are apt to get laughed at if you spring any dime novel stories on the average man in the street.

"Once when I was in London on a business trip I was seized with a great longing for oysters. Visions of them broiled, steamed and on the half shell, such as I used to eat in New York, Baltimore and Washington, haunted me every time I sat down to a meal, but none of them ever appeared on the table. English friends assured me that I could get them if I only went to the right place, but I never succeeded in getting any of these men to give me the address. One day I started out to find an oyster house on my own hook.

"In the Strand I found what I was looking for. It was a typical London eating house, but the sign, 'Oysters In Every Style,' reminded me of home. I entered and as a feeler ordered a dozen on the half shell. The waiter who served me was as solemn as a bishop. The oysters he brought me were the smallest and meanest looking bivalves I ever saw. They had a shriveled up, forlorn look about them that was not at all tempting and there was nothing in the taste of them to remind me of the delicious Blue Point or the more robust Rockaway.

"When I had finished eating them, I thought it would be a good idea to carry away the shells to show my friends at home. They would serve as a warning to any one intending to cross the ocean against oysters as they are served in England's capital. So I wiped the shells dry with my napkin and slipped them into my pocket.

"When the solemn looking waiter returned to take the rest of my order, he looked first at my plate and then at me. Then he glanced about the floor on both sides of my chair and finally stooped and looked under the table.

"'What's the trouble?' I asked languidly.

"'Beg pardon, sir,' he said, 'but what's become of the shells?'

"'Do you mean the oyster shells?' I asked, without any particular show of interest.

"'Most certainly,' he returned, again poking his head under the table. 'Hit's most strange, whatever has become of them.'

"'Nothing strange about it,' I said calmly. 'I ate them.'

"'Hate them!' he cried, his eyes bulging. 'You must be joking, sir!'

"'Not at all,' I went on. 'Everybody in America, where I live, eats the shell as well as the oyster. In fact, in some of the states they throw the oysters away and eat the shells alone. In Georgia they eat them with clay.'

"The waiter's jaw dropped and his eyes continued to bulge. He was so flustered that he got his orders mixed and brought me the food intended for somebody else. He got things straightened out after awhile, but the loof of dumb amazement never left his face.

"After I had eaten the meal I glanced leisurely around and saw with surprise that nearly every eye in the place was fastened on me. The waiter who served me was talking to the man at the desk, who, I afterward learned, was the proprietor, and he was craning his neck to get a look at me.

"'It's the shells that's bothering them,' I said to myself. 'Well, I'll keep them guessing as a reward for the measly oysters they gave me.'

"When I started to go out, the proprietor was standing at the door.

"'A word with you, sir,' he said politely.

"'What is it?' I inquired innocently. 'The money I gave you was good, I trust?'

"'Indeed it was,' he replied. 'It wasn't about the money I wished to speak, but about the oysters.'

"'Oh, about the shells, I suppose,' I said carelessly. 'Your waiter seemed surprised when I told him I had eaten them.'

"'I confess it surprised me also,' said the eating house man. 'I never heard of it before.'

"'It's a very common thing in America,' I said and went my way.

"Nearly every day for three months I went to that eating house for a bite at noon, and there was always a gathering there to see the American who ate oysters, shells and all. Of course, I never ordered any more on the half shell because I was watched too closely to slip the shells into my pocket. I told the proprietor that the English oysters weren't big enough to suit me. He offered to try to get me some of a larger size, but I wouldn't hear of his going to the trouble.

"Every time he talked to me, and that was nearly every day, he managed to bring the conversation around to America in general and the devouring of oyster shells in particular. I found him to be a man of more than ordinary intelligence. Moreover, he possessed a fine fund of common sense. But there was no yarn about America and Americans he wouldn't swallow without question.

"The day before I was to sail for home I went around to the eating house for my last visit, and when I was going out I bid goodby to the proprietor. Then I put my hand in my pocket and, pulling out the 12 identical shells I had taken three months before, laid them on the desk before his eyes.

"'I couldn't go away without making a confession,' I said. 'Here are the shells. I didn't eat them at all, but carried them away in my pocket.'

"Well, what do you think? He simply wouldn't believe me. Neither would the waiters. They had all got it fastened in their minds that it was the custom in America to eat oyster shells, and the evidence produced was not sufficient to make them believe otherwise. But that was a long time ago. I don't think you could make any one in London believe such a tale now."—New York Sun.

A Child's Cry

Pierces the mother's heart like a sword. Often the mother who would do everything for the little one she loves, is utterly impotent to help and finds no help in physicians. That was the case with Mrs. Duncan, whose little one was almost blind with scrofula. But fortunately she was led to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so cured the child without resorting to a painful operation.

The great blood-purifying properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have been proved over and over again in cases of scrofula, eczema, eruptions and other diseases which are caused by an impure condition of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which feed disease, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

"My little daughter became afflicted with scrofula, which affected her eyes," writes Mrs. Agnes L. Duncan, of Mansfield, Sebastian Co., Ark. "She could not bear the light for over a year. We tried to cure her eyes, but nothing did any good. We had our home physician and he advised us to take her to an oculist, as her eyelids would have to be 'scraped.' They had become so thick he thought she would never recover her sight. As there was no one else to whom we could apply my heart sank within me. I went to your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' read your treatment on scrofula, getting the properties of medicines there advised. With five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have entirely cured my child.

"Hoping this will be of some use to you and a blessing to other sufferers, with heartfelt thanks, I remain."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative for children. They are easy to take and thorough in action.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

It is claimed that oil of sassafras will keep little red ants out of sugar and cake boxes, iceboxes, safes, cupboards and other places where food is kept.

If your room seems damp, distribute salt in shallow bowls about in places where it will not be conspicuous, and an improvement will be shortly noticed.

When the floors are to be mopped, add to each pail of warm water two tablespoonfuls of carbolic acid. It leaves the wood in a sweet and healthy condition.

If a flannel cloth dipped in kerosene, then wrung dry, be used in rubbing off dirty finger marks from paint, the grateful housekeeper will repeat the experiment often.

A cupful of vinegar placed in an open basin on the stove while cabbage, cauliflower, onions or fish are cooking will permeate the kitchen with its aroma and do away with unpleasant odors.

One of the reasons why mirrors spot and blur is that they are placed where a strong light falls upon them. They should be arranged so as to have the light come to them from the sides.

Ferns used on the dining table should not be kept there except during mealtime. They require more light than it is possible for them to get in most dining rooms to keep the soil from souring.

The Mayor and the Man.

A number of years ago Castle Rising, in the eastern part of England, was a flourishing borough, returning two members to parliament and possessing a mayor, one Wakefield, "a character" who might have stepped out of a novelist's gallery.

On one occasion the bearer of some election dispatches arrived in hot haste at Rising and asked for the mayor.

Wakefield was engaged in the exercise of his high calling, which happened to be that of a thatcher. He was thatching a barn. On hearing that his presence was required he sent a message to the dispatch bearer to this effect:

"If it's John Wakefield that he wants to see, I'll come down at once. If it's the mayor of Rising he has business with, he must come up here to me."

And on the roof of that barn in Arcady the mayor received the dispatches with dignity befitting his position, official and otherwise.

For Rising, Not Passing.

A teacher in a New York public school discovered that some of her pupils were deficient in the little amenities of polite life and took it upon herself to instruct them in the graces of courtesy.

She observed that whenever one of the boys passed in front of the visitors at the school a strange, puzzled expression came into their faces.

The secret came out a few days later when, happening to stand near the visitors, she heard this boy jerk out as he shambled awkwardly by, "Baking powder."

She hastened to explain that the differences between "Beg your pardon," which she had told him to say, and "Baking powder," which he had understood her to say, was wide enough to justify further instructions.

The Lining of His Hat.

Cardinal Gibbons was at one time a frequent visitor to Cape May and usually took long walks morning and afternoon by the seashore. He always wore his cardinal's skullcap of scarlet silk, of which an inch or so showed below the rim of the silk hat.

One afternoon while he was on the board walk an old lady stopped him and said, "Excuse me, sir, but the lining of your hat has slipped down the back." The cardinal thanked her gravely, but as soon as she left he laughed heartily at her mistake.

Key West Turtles.

Besides fishes, the different varieties of turtles form a large part of the marine industry of Key West. The aggregate weight of turtles taken in one year was 337,000 pounds, valued at $16,870. The value of tortoise shell from the hawkbill turtle taken during the same year was $1,674. About 4,021,704 turtle eggs were taken.

Nothing makes a man madder than to say to him, "I'm not as old as you are, but my advice is," etc.

Almost anything may be proved by statistics, chemical analysis and expert testimony.—Washington Star.

HOW COLD IS ICE?

Frozen Water Is Much Warmer In Summer Than In Winter.

Is ice any colder in winter than in summer? Most people suppose not. They understand that ice is ice and cannot be any colder or warmer.

If a thermometer is buried in ice in summer, it will indicate 32 degrees. If you throw a piece of ice into boiling water and leave it there till it is almost gone, what is left will still be at 32 degrees. Ice can never be got above that temperature.

But while ice can never be warmed above 32 degrees, it will go as much below that as the weather does. An iceman delivering ice one zero day in January was asked whether his ice was any colder than in July. He thought not; but, as a matter of fact, a piece of summer ice, if he had had it, would have been something of a foot warmer for him, as it would have been 30 degrees warmer than the air of the bottom of his wagon.

Mixing salt with ice makes it much cooler. The ice in an ice cream freezer goes down to about zero. This is why the point zero on our common thermometers was fixed where it is. It was supposed to be the lowest point which could be reached by artificial means. Since then we have reached about 383 degrees below zero by chemical processes.

Ice will cool down with everything else on a cold night to zero or below. What should prevent it? On a day when it is just freezing a block of iron and a block of ice outdoors will stand at 32 degrees. If the weather grows warmer, the iron will warm up with the weather, but the ice will stay at 32 degrees and melt away. But if the weather grows colder the iron and ice will cool off, too, and one just as much as the other.

As the ice grows colder it gets harder and more brittle. There can be no "hickory bend" on the skating pond on a zero day, for ice is then too brittle. Slivers of ice dipped in liquid air become so hard that they will cut glass. Water thrown on ice in the arctic regions will shiver it like pouring boiling water upon cold glass. This is because the ice is so much colder than the water.

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

Some Queer Verdicts.

What is "a reasonable state of intoxication" apparently just missed precise definition by a coroner's jury in Mississippi which stated in its verdict that "we, the jury, find that deceased came to his death by a stroke of an east bound train, No. 204, on L. C. Railroad, at Fentress, Miss., in Choctaw county, he being in a reasonable state of intoxication."

A somewhat similar indefiniteness of legal conclusion mars a verdict of a neighboring Georgia jury to the effect that "we, the jury, find the defendant almost guilty."

Equally as uncertain and ambiguous as these statements by laymen is the opinion in an early Maryland case which "acknowledges the corn" by saying that an occurrence referred to took place "at a former sitting when the court was full."

Too Liberal.

Wife—Here's an advertisement in the paper that you'd better look into. It says a man is wanted, and he won't be worked to death, and he'll get paid enough to live on.

Husband—Says he won't be worked to death, eh?

Wife—Yes; and they promise pay enough to live on.

Husband—Some catch about that!

Mary's Fractious Sister.

"I suppose your baby sister cries some?" asked one of the neighbors. "Cries!" said Mary. "Why, she just seems to look on the dark side of things all the time!"

A VERY STRONG ORGANIZATION.

What Our Young Women's Christian Association is Doing.

NEED FOR THE WORK.

Girls Should Have Gymnasium Exercise—A Safe Home for Strangers—Social Department—Educational Work.

The value of the Young Women's Christian Association to the community is set forth in a pamphlet which has recently been issued by the management, as appended:

The question, "What is a Young Women's Christian Association?" is no longer asked by the majority of people, for it stands to-day — throughout the world — as the strongest organization for young women, and it has gained its power because it is an organization of high Christian standard, yet meeting the need, and making for itself a place in the lives of all young women. It takes its place with its brother organization, the Young Men's Christian Association, as part of the whole to make complete the success of the city in which it exists; and the city is small and unprogressive which has failed to recognize its non-completeness in public institutions and buildings, if it has not a Young Men's and a Young Women's Christian Association.

Peterborough is not failing in this respect, not only has it a building meeting all needs for young men, but it is now giving to the young women a larger building and better equipment than have ever before been possible, all suited to the growing needs of a growing work.

Our Young Women's Christian Association will have in its new quarters, a Lunch and Rest Room for business women and girls, where they may bring their lunch and be served with hot tea or coffee, and also have the use and privacy of a couch and easy chairs, magazines and papers. We will have, in addition, a fully equipped Gymnasium, where young women may be helped to become physically strong, for what young woman does not need such training If she be nervous and overworked, or doing one kind of work, or not doing any work, she needs what a Gymnasium can give her.

We have a Boarding Home where young women away from home can find a safe, pure place to live, and where they will have safe companionship. These are days when not only the young man is obliged to leave home for business purposes, but our young woman also — she stands side by side with her brother in the business life of to-day, and must meet the duties of life as he does, though in many cases not so strong physically.

We will be able through our Lunch Room and Boarding House Department to meet the needs of the Young Woman travelling alone, who cannot, as independently as her brother, go to any hotel just for one night, even though she may have the money to do so; and she looks for safety and care to the Young Women's Christian Association at such a time of need.

We will have a splendid Social Department. The Young Women's Christian Association of to-day has become a social exchange, where many a young woman, because of her own social advantages, helps her sister over a hard, lonely place in life; for who has not learned that it is difficult to do things alone—so we aim to make this department as strong as possible.

Our Educational Department will open the first week in October. Young women, with the young men of to-day, have found that specialists are needed in every line of business, and the broader education one has, the better position one can secure. Thus the organization becomes the evening college for our busy women, and to meet their needs in this city, classes will be opened in Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Stenography, English and English Literature.

Then this organization tends to add to, and build up, the home life, and to help meet the need for the home-making to which almost every young woman looks forward to. So there will be the added evening classes in Sewing, Dressmaking, Embroidery, and Domestic Science. Also opportunities for the study of Vocal Music, Painting, Drawing and Wood Carving.

Last, but greatest, through the heart to heart Bible Classes and Gospel Meetings, where Christian and Non-Christian young women meet, and learn from each other, and through the leaders, the secret of true Character through our Lord Jesus Christ: many a young woman learns the way to a church home, through first learning to know a personal friend in these close times of one young woman's life touching another's. All young women, whether members of the Association or not, will be most cordially welcomed at any or all of the weekly Bible Classes and Gospel Meetings, all of which will be bright, practical and helpful.

Through its Noon-Rest, its Bible Clubs, Gospel meetings, Educational classes and Social Evenings, the Peterborough Association will, as far as possible in its new quarters, develop these various departments.

The rooms will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. All information regarding membership, terms and work programme of classes may be had by applying to the secretary, Y. W. C. A. Rooms, George street, Peterborough.

The Peterborough Y.W.C.A. is supported on the same principle as all other organizations of its kind, and as all our Colleges are, viz., A woman goes to college and pays the fees asked for tuition. That goes into a general fund. Added to that is the money given by the State, City or individual, for the support of the building and the work of the College. Her fee helps; for each dollar she has put in she receives two dollars worth, but she has paid all she was asked to. The members of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christain Associations do the same.

A man or woman looks upon money given to a school or college as a good investment, because it is helping toward the best development, through education helping to make our young men and women better fitted to take up the burden of life, with its problems and responsibilities. How could money be better invested than in an organization which is an evening college, a social centre and a home-maker for all the young women of our town.

BORN IN CAVAN.

Death of Mr. John Magwood in Lindsay on Sunday Evening.

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder says:—"We regret exceedingly to have to announce the very sudden death, from appendicitis, of one of the most prominent citizens of this town, Mr. John Magwood, in his 53rd year. The sad event occurred last evening.

Mr. Magwood was born in the township of Cavan, where he spent his early years. When about 21 years of age he settled on a bush farm in the township of Eldon, and soon became a prosperous farmer. Upon the building of the Toronto & Nipissing Railway he entered into mercantile business at Victoria Road, where he carried on an extensive trade with marked success for a number of years. He was afterwards engaged for some time in manufacturing at Orillia, and then in hardware trade in this town.

About six years ago he accepted the position of managing director of the Victoria Loan & Savings Company, which he held until his death.

Mr. Magwood was married to Mary J., daughter of the late Samuel Staples, of Eldon, who with five children survives him. He has had in a marked degree the respect and confidence of his friends and the public generally.

He had been for about 40 years a constant member of the Methodist church, and for many years an office-holder. In politics Mr. Magwood was conservative. He was a Justice of the Peace for the county of Victoria, and was for many years a member of Lindsay town council.

His widow and family have the sincere sympathy of the people of the town and county.

Express Elevators.

To the man who is accustomed to buildings where staircases are still useful as well as ornamental the speed of the "express" elevators in New York skyscrapers is disturbing. Recently an "up state" man, who was being shown about the city by a friend, was taken at last up to the sixteenth story of one of the high buildings. He went up in a "local" elevator, at moderate speed, but even that caused him to suffer many qualms before he stepped out on the firm landing. In coming down to street level again they took an "express." With one switch of the handle and a few sparks from the controlling apparatus they were deposited on the ground floor. The city man asked the other if "that was quick enough" for him. "Quick enough!" he exclaimed. "Why, I might just as well have jumped."

Medical Science Advances.

It is not more than half a century ago that physicians considered a surgical operation with its risk, expense and pain, as the only cure for piles. To-day it is only the out of date doctors that think of such treatment. It is cruel and extravagant to operate for a disease which is far more certainly cured by the application of Dr. Chase-s Ointment. You may be sceptical but for proof you are referred to tens of thousands of people that have been cured by this famous preparation.

Accorded Royal Party Most Enthusiastic Welcome.

THE DUCHESS IS VERY POPULAR

Her Grace and Beauty Win the People—The Duke's Wish to See a Good Lacrosse Match Fully Gratified—A Souvenir of the Game—Ottawa's Decorations—Addresses and Replys.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—When the Duke of Cornwall and York was consulted as to what entertainment he would prefer during his Canadian tour, he replied: "I want a day's duck shooting, and I want also to see a lacrosse match." For the rest it was understood His Royal Highness would conform to the conventional program provided by the officials in charge.

The lacrosse match His Royal Highness saw yesterday afternoon on Varsity oval; the duck hunt is a joy in store for him, when as the guest of Senator Kirckhoffer he visits Brandon, Manitoba.

It was a clean, fast game, the Duke and his royal consort witnessed between the Capitals of Ottawa and the Cornwalls, and there was no more interested spectator of the match than the heir apparent. It was not the first time he had witnessed a contest in Canada's national sport, for, as Prince George, he attended two matches in Montreal some years ago, and apparently he has not forgotten the fine points of the game.

When the match was over he was presented, formally, with a lacrosse stick and ball.

An amusing incident marked the event.

Broderick of the Cornwalls handed His Royal Highness the stick, J. P. Dunne of the Capitals, executive, presented a nice new lacrosse ball.

"Is this the ball that was used during the match?" asked the Duke, examining the brand new sphere critically.

"Well, no, Your Royal Highness," Dunne was obliged to reply, "but we will get it."

With that there was a skirmish, and a shame-faced player in garnet and grey, Ralph by name, stepped forward and handed the Duke the real ball.

The incident showed how closely His Royal Highness had watched the game, for just as the whistle blew and the teams were leaving the field, a tussle between a Capital and a Cornwall man took place at centre. It was Ralph scrapping with his opponent for the possession of the ball as a souvenir. Ralph secured it, and the Duke saw the whole performance.

The match, which was for the Minto cup, resulted in a victory for the Capitals by 3 goals to 2.

The formal reception of the royal pair in the capital of the Dominion differed little from the functions in Montreal and Quebec, except, perhaps, in the precision with which the arrangements were carried out and the entire absence of confusion or crushing on Parliament Hill. Indeed, so ample was the space for sightseers on the grounds about the royal pavilion that those who had expected to reap a harvest by erecting stands on Wellington street facing the Parliament Hill and along the route of the procession were sadly disappointed.

There was no demand for the seats at all. Even at the reduced prices of 10 to 25 cents the $2 reserve benches and the best points of view were conspicuously ignored.

The royal train was late in reaching the Elgin street station, but at 11.30 an escort of troopers from the Royal Canadian Dragoons rounded the corner, and an instant later the booming of the 12-pounders of the Second Field Battery situated near the canal, heralded the arrival of His Excellency. Still the crowd halted. The people pressed forward and jolted one another in their efforts to secure place of vantage.

As the Duke and Duchess alighted from the royal carriage the multitude on the hill broke out in a prolonged cheer, the welcome of Ottawa to the heir-apparent was voiced in unmistakable heartiness.

It was a brave scene that met the gaze of royalty — for a back ground was the stately pile of the Parliament Buildings, gaily decked with festoons of flags, stretched from central tower to turret on either side. In the centre of the royal pavilion a mass of many-colored bunting flanked with graceful palms, and crowded the dignitaries of church and state, fair women and brave men, shone effulgent in the noonday sun.

The surrounding grounds were occupied by a mass of cheering humanity. In the centre, flanking the crimson-carpeted walk to the pavilion, were 3,000 school children waving their thousands of flags in welcome, beyond, interspersed with helmeted officers of police, the people stood in a derby array, rank on rank, right up to the grey stone walls of the departmental buildings, which, peopled in every window and even crowded on the roof, framed in the picture on the east and west.

It was precisely 12.30 when the shout went up "They come." The note was taken up by the people on the grounds. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mayor Morris, the latter resplendent in scarlet robe and cocked hat, walked down the arch to meet the royal party. A great cheer went up, and the Duke's royal standard was hoisted on the main tower.

As Their Royal Highnesses alighted from the carriage His Worship was duly presented and the procession to the pavilion started. The guard of honor gave the royal salute and 3,000 children sang the National Anthem.

Leading the royal procession was the Duchess of Cornwall and York, attired in black and sweetly smiling her acknowledgments to the multitude. On Her Royal Highness' right walked the Premier of the Dominion, on her left the Mayor of the Capital City. Next came His Royal Highness the Duke, looking frank and manly in his admiral's uniform, with Lady Laurier, Prince Alexander of Teck, Lord Roxburghe, Viscount Crichton, and the other uniformed members of the royal entourage.

The persons who thronged the hill must have felt a new thrill of loyalty when they gazed on the sweet face of the Duchess as she stood by the side of His Royal Highness on the pavilion, tall as he, fair, gracious and stately. His Royal Highness was resplendent in uniform and cocked hat, his breast covered with decorations and stars. Lady Mary Lygon was in black voile, with jacket of tucked black taffeta, black turban and ruff. On the platform were assembled Ottawa's four hundred, all relatives of the Ministers, Miss Fielding, Miss Blair, Miss O'Grady-Haly, Mrs. Gwynne, Mrs. Rivers, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Mrs. T. C. Bate, Mrs. Cotton, Miss Nellson, Mrs. Sedgwick, Canon Pollard, Sir James Grant and Mgr. Falconio being among those nearest the front of the pavilion, where a magnificent basket of roses awaited presentation to Her Royal Highness.

On reaching the platform of the pavilion Their Royal Highnesses stood for a moment in conversation with the Premier, and then Mayor Morris stepped forward and read the civic address. Nineteen other addresses, including one from the Ojibway Indians, were also formally presented.

The Duke's Reply.

His Royal Highness, in a clear, resonant voice, read his reply, in which occurred this passage:

"The federation of Canada stands permanent among the political events of the century just closed, for its fruitful and beneficent results on the life of the people concerned. As in ancient times by the union of Norman and Saxon the English nation was produced, so by federation of Canada the two great nations which form its populations have been welded into a harmonious people and afforded free play and opportunity to contribute each its best service to the public well-being. Creditable as this achievement is to the practical wisdom and patriotism of the statesmen who founded the union and who have since guided its destinies, it is no less honorable to the people upon whose support they had to rely, and who have in a spirit of mutual toleration and sympathy maintained them in the great work of union.

"This spirit is no less necessary than it was in the past, and I am confident that the two races will continue, each according to its special genius and opportunity, to aid and co-operate in building up the great edifice, of which the foundations have been so well and truly laid. Of the material progress that has been made since Federation was accomplished, the proofs are apparent on every side, and I rejoice to know that the unexampled prosperity of this, the first year of the century, has crowned the abundant years you have recently enjoyed.

"May we not believe that this feeling is shared by your fellow-subjects throughout the Empire, more united than it ever was before, and becoming more conscious and appreciative of those ties for common sympathy and interest which bind it together, more than ever determined to hold fast and maintain the proud privileges of British citizenship."

The reply finished, Sir Wilfrid Laurier called for three cheers for Their Royal Highnesses, which were heartily given. Then, after a few minutes' conversation, the Duke and Duchess took their departure from the pavilion, and later on the Varsity oval saw the Minto Cup lacrosse match.

Last night the city was gay with illuminations in honor of the royal visit; chief of them being the electric lighting of the Parliament Buildings.

Winnipegers Are Disappointed.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 21.—Lieutenant-Governor McMillan yesterday received a message from Major Maude, on behalf of the Governor-General, stating that the Duke of Cornwall and York expressed great regret at his inability to officiate at the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the provincial memorial monument to the late Queen Victoria. Orders were at once given to the workmen to pull down the platform and canopy erected for the ceremony, together with arches leading into and out of the Parliament grounds.

57TH BAND AT THE RINK.

Last Night's Splendid High Class Programme.

There was a Large Attendance—The The Rink Presented the old Time Appearance—The Drawing.

The Charlotte street Curling and Skating Rink presented an old-time appearance last night, not that the atmosphere was such as to make ice, nor that there was the clash of the hockey stick, the roar of the curling stone, and the merry shout of the skaters. No, there was none of this, but there was a something that caused one to imagine as he went in the front door that there was a hockey match on — that the Colts were up against something. It was all different, however, even if Mr. Angus McIntosh did stand at about his customary place, as if he were collecting tickets. The girls came and took their old-time seats, the men came and lined around the gallery, and looked down into the arena, as they had often done before, whilst the small boy indulged in his favourite gaiety, with the exception perhaps of slamming the hockey sticks against the side walls.

It was the promenade band concert under the auspices of the 57th Regt. Band. There wasn't much of a promenade about it, however, as everybody was apparently too tired to start the promenade on the skating portion of the rink, as had been intended. The band occupied a platform in the centre of the rink, and the music was heard to advantage throughout the entire building.

There was a large attendance, and the programme rendered proved to be very acceptable. The euphonium solo by Edward Cronk was perhaps the treat of the evening, and produced great applause from the audience. He was compelled to respond. Joe Halpenny, too, was a favourite. His vocal selection, "My Blushing Rosy," proved to be a most popular number, and he attempted to satisfy the wishes of those present by singing one verse over again. The Anvil Chorus was excellently rendered, as was also the selection, "My Old Kentucky Home," with variations. In fact, the programme was a treat, seldom heard, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

There was another feature about the affair. The drawing contest for prizes donated by merchants of the town, was rather amusing, to say the least. Major Miller announced the numbers, which were as follows:

392, 1997, 637, 180, 179, 46, 1993, 484, 230, 47, 361, 649, 983, 1990, 586, 8, 955, 387, 1998, 72, 294, 273, 150, 221, 50.

Mr. Herbert Morphet, who was to have sung a solo, last night, was unavoidably absent, being out of town.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 21, 1901.

A WARNING TO ONTARIO.

Certain consequences of the change of Government in Manitoba are not without interest in Ontario. Before the defeat of the Greenway Government the speakers and newspapers of the Local Opposition solemnly warned the electors that the Province was fast drifting towards direct taxation, and that if they wished to avoid this unpleasant state of affairs they should support the Opposition candidates. Well, they did so, but instead of avoiding direct taxation they have rushed straight on it. The Manitoba Free Press publishes a detailed table of the municipal levies for the last year of the Greenway Government, and for 1900 and 1901, the two years of Conservative administration. The result of the comparison is to show that while the total sums collected from municipalities in the Province in 1899 was $65,933, it rose to $82,524 in 1900, and to $115,156 in 1901. In the City of Winnipeg alone the increase has been from $12,597 to $26,729. The defence offered for this startling increase of almost 80 per cent., or as in the case of Winnipeg, of over 100 per cent., is similar to that of the landlord who charged a dollar for a dish of pork and beans, namely, that he needed the money. They blame their predecessors for the state of affairs.

The significance it has for the people of Ontario may readily be seen. For many years Mr. Whitney and his friends have been warning the people of Ontario that the finances were steadily drifting towards direct taxation. The various Treasurers of Ontario have show conclusively that this was a bugbear, but the Opposition iterate and reiterate their gloomy prophecy. The only imposts in Ontario that have the slightest resemblance to direct taxation can be classed under three heads — the revenue obtained from liquor licenses, the succession duties and the taxes imposed on corporations. None of these are paid by the average citizen. The license fees are levied on the large profits of the liquor traffic, and if they were remitted to-morrow it is very unlikely that license-holders' customers would benefit in any degree. The succession duties apply only to very large estates or to estates inherited by distant relatives. This is an easily defensible tax, and any proposition to abandon it would be highly unpopular. In fact it is thought to be just that the inheritors of great wealth should forego a small percentage of it for the benefit of the State where it has been amassed. It would be difficult to show that the tax on corporations is a direct tax in which the great bulk of the people have the faintest interest. Take a street railway company. Its fares are strictly defined by law or by agreement, so that it cannot transfer the tax which the Government imposes on the shoulders of its patrons. The tax is laid on the principle that such companies have large earnings and enjoy many public privileges, and should contribute their quota to the support of public objects, such as ordinary and agricultural education, public institutions and homes for the afflicted and impoverished.

These taxes were not enforced because the Government had got itself in a financial hole, but because it was deemed that funds should be obtained from such sources in order to keep up and increase the munificent contributions which the Government annually makes for the purposes named. Direct taxation in the shape of a general tax on all classes of the community the Ontario Government has never imposed, and is not likely to impose. Is there the same assurance with regard to its opponents? What is the meaning of this iterated statement that the Provincial finances are in such shape that direct taxation will have to be resorted to? It is not in accord with facts. Is it a preparation for such a policy if Mr. Whitney gets a chance? Will he adopt direct taxation and justify it by a reference to his warnings that it could not be avoided — loading all the blame for it on his predecessors? That is what has been done in Manitoba. Will Mr. Whitney do it? Direct taxation has never been in sight under Liberal administration, and so far as human discernment goes, never will.—Globe.

A correspondent writes a Toronto paper as follows: "The tragedy at Buffalo, which has shaken the American nation to its foundation and which is scarcely less felt in Canada, has set all thinking how the repetition of such a disaster could be averted. Maniacs, fools and light-headed egotists we have always with us; they cannot be suppressed. Booths, Guiteaus and their ilk are constantly being born, but without the revolver they would be much more harmless. Had the revolver not been known Garfield and McKinley would in all human probability have been still hale and hearty; even Lincoln at a ripe old age might now be revered by all nations as one of nature's greatest noblemen. The remedy seems simple. Prohibit absolutely the manufacture or sale of any firearm with a barrel less than say, two feet long. Make it a penal offence to make, carry, own or harbor such a weapon. Require all owners of such weapons under pain of penalties and imprisonment to deliver up such weapons, to be destroyed. Police records justify the assertion that the revolver is a constant source of danger for its owner. For every atom of good they may accomplish they are responsible for a universe of suffering. This is at least a step towards avoiding future tragedies and has the advantage of being feasible."

HEALTHY BABIES.

Watchful Mothers can Keep Their Babies Healthy, Rosy-cheeked and Happy.

Nothing in the world is such a comfort and joy as a healthy, hearty rosy-cheeked happy baby.

Babies can be kept in perfect health only by having at hand and administering when needed some purely vegetable, harmless remedy and of all this class of medicines Baby's Own Tablets are conceded to be the best.

For constipation, colic, diarrhoea, simple fevers, sour stomachs, teething babies, indigestion and sleeplessness, these tablets are a really wonderful cure. You can give them to the smallest baby without the slightest fear. Dissolved in water they will be taken readily. They contain absolutely not a particle of opiate or other injurious drugs. They are small, sweet lozenges that any baby will take without objection, and their action is prompt and pleasant. They will tone up the whole system and make the little one as hearty and free from infantile disorders as any mother could wish.

Mrs. Walter Brown, Milby, Que., says, "I have never used any medicine for baby that did him so much good as Baby's Own Tablets. I would not be without them." This is the verdict of all mothers who have used these tablets.

They cost 25c a box. All druggists sell them or they may be secured by sending the price direct and the tablets will be forwarded prepaid. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. T., Brockville, Ont.

The reception will take place in the park, where the special train will stop. Notwithstanding the change of weather there will undoubtedly be a very large delegation present from Toronto and vicinity.

WORK AT THE STEEL MILLS.

The Workers Are Still Disgruntled, But Are Expected to Go to Work

Pittsburg, Sept. 21.—With few exceptions work was resumed, at least in a measure, at the combine steel mills yesterday, and, if the disgruntled tinworkers can be conciliated, by next Monday, all the plants will be in full operation. The Pennsylvania and Continental Tube Mills and the Elba Iron Works in this city started up Thursday night, and were running in full yesterday morning. Preparations were made yesterday for the starting on Monday of the Newcastle plant of the National Steel Company, employing 2,000 men. It is also expected that the Riverside Iron Works at Wheeling will start Monday, and that the Wood Sheet plant at McKeesport will receive its 1,000 workmen on that morning.

The Amalgamated Journal, commenting upon the New York settlement, says: The causes that led up to this unsatisfactory settlement were the overwhelming odds that the Association had to battle against—the daily press, public opinion, the advice of prominent labor leaders, and the withdrawal of credit by merchants.

ALMOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF MR. THOS. WARREN,
By
Paine's Celery Compound

A POPULAR DRUGGIST INDORSES THE LETTER.

The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited.

Dear Sirs,—Ten years ago I was laid up with a bad cold contracted at the time of the big flood here. The cold developed into inflammatory rheumatism, and I was laid aside for nearly six months. I recovered, and was able to work for a time, when I was again seized with the terrible disease. I kept getting worse, and sufered the most intense agony. My elbows were partially drawn out of place, and my knees were swollen to nearly double their natural size.

Words fail to express what I suffered, and for days at a time I could not get out of bed nor move myself. During all this time I was under the care and treatment of one of our best physicians, but he did not seem to be able to relieve me, and I kept getting worse.

Believing that the doctor's medicine was not producing any good, I decided to give it up and allow the disease to take its course. I grew weaker and weaker every day from the pain, and felt that there was little hope for me.

Having read about Paine's Celery Compound I decided to give it a trial. After the second week I began to improve, and on the 20th May I was able to resume work. I have been working every day since, and am quite well at the present time. I continued the medicine until the middle of August, when I had used in all six bottles. Its effect was magical and permanent, and I consider it a wonderful medicine. I would advise any person who is afflicted with rheumatism to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial.

Yours respectfully,
THOS. WARREN,
Connwall, Ont.

This is to certify that I have known Mr. Thos. Warren for about thirteen years, and that he has been a great sufferer from rheumatism. In fact on two occasions, when suffering intensely from pain and being so reduced in strength, it hardly seemed possible that he could recover. It is true he began to recover with the first bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and continued until he seemed perfectly well.

CALLS IT A FAKE.

Christian Science So Characterized by Toronto's Police Magistrate.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—Magistrate Denison and Crown Attorney Curry used strong language yesterday and attacked Christian Science during the progress of the preliminary investigation into the charge against James H. Lewis, a Christian Science street railway conductor, that he had contributed to the death of his 6-year-old son by omitting to send for a regularly qualified medical practitioner when the child was suffering from diphtheria. It was the liveliest case that police court habitues have heard in years, and Richard Perry, the demonstrator, who has already figured so conspicuously at the inquest, spent an uncomfortable hour in the witness box.

W. W. Vickers, who defended the accused, made a strong effort to limit the scope of the inquiry, but Col. Denison would not have it so.

"I think fakes of this sort ought to be exposed," said His Worship. "I have no objection to any grown up person trying it on himself, but to use such tom-foolery on a little innocent, helpless child, who has no say whatever in the matter, is an outrage."

Mrs. Eddy and her book got a hot roast, and long extracts therefrom were read to the court. "I have no hesitation," said Mr. Curry, "in saying that this Christian Science, as set out in Mrs. Eddy's book, is the most damnable blasphemy I ever heard or read."

Lewis was committed for trial

THIS VETERAN'S FIGHT

In the days of the Revolution he was on the side of victory, in later years surrendered to disease, but South American Kidney Cure gave him his liberty.

Mr. A. Williamson, of Kincardine, Ont., a veteran in the American war, and now customs officer, town clerk and a prominent citizen, says of South American Kidney Cure:—"I have found it a wonderful specific in my case. Many valleys described in guidebooks as "whispering valleys" are favorite resorts for tourists in all parts of the world. Few, however, exceed in wonder a valley at Stansfield in Essex, England. The rector of this parish in giving a careful account of his own experiences states that his house stands on a hill 288 feet above sea level, rising in rear to 300 feet, while in front the ground slopes away to a stream 100 feet below and again rises 180 feet on the opposite side. From the rectory the bells of 14 or 15 villages may be distinguished, while across the valley footsteps and voices in conversational tone may be heard at half a mile.

STATUE TO KING ALFRED.

Vast Concourse of Anglo-Saxons at Winchester, Eng., on Friday Witness the Unveiling of the Monument.

Winchester, England, Sept. 21.—In the presence of a vast concourse of Anglo-Saxon delegates and officials Lord Rosebery yesterday unveiled the great statue of King Alfred. During the course of his eulogy of the Saxon King, the former Premier said:

"King Alfred wrought immortal work for us and for our sister nation over the sea, which in supreme moments of stress and sorrow is irresistibly joined to us across the centuries and across the sea."

The donation consists of $10,000 to the library of the University, and is to be applied for the purposes of such of the departments as the trustees may from time to time determine. In his letter accompanying the gift, Prof. Smith refers to the celebration of the millenary of King Alfred, which is now in progress in England, and to the fact that King Alfred is the patron hero and legendary founder of his old college in Oxford. It is the wish of the donors that the gift should serve the double purpose of paying tribute to the memory of the restorer of English learning, and of manifesting their interest in the University of Toronto. The gift is a timely one in view of the straitened financial circumstances of the University, and will be all the more appreciated by friends of the University on account of the distinguished course from which it comes.

GROWING GIRLS

Occasionly Require a Tonic Medicine.

It Will Keep the Blood Rich, Red and Pure, Strengthen the Nerves and Prevent Decline.

Mrs. Hiram Binkler, the wife of a respected farmer in South Pelham township, Welland county, Ontario, says:—"It is with great pleasure that I give this tribute to the health restoring virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When my daughter, Lena, (now thirteen years of age) began the use of your medicine, a little over a year ago, she was in a most wretched condition. In fact we were seriously alarmed lest she might not recover. The first symptoms were a feeling of langour and weakness, gradually growing worse. She became pale, lost flesh, had little or no appetitite and was apparently going into a decline. Finally the trouble became complicated with a persistent sore throat, which gave her great difficulty in swallowing. I gave her several advertised medicines, but they did not benefit her. Then she was placed under the care of a doctor, who said her blood was poor and watery, and her whole system badly run down. The doctor's treatment did not help her any, and then acting on the advice of a neighbour, I began to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The confidence with which this medicine was urged upon us was not misplaced, as I soon noticed a distinct improvement in my daughter's condition. The use of the pills for a few weeks longer seemed to completely restore her, and from that time she has been a cheerful, light-hearted girl, the very picture of health. I will always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other sufferers, feeling sure they will prove quite as efficacious as they did in my daughter's case.

Mothers with growing daughters will make no mistake if they insist upon the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; they will help them to develop properly; will make their blood rich and pure, and thus ward off disease and decline. The genuine pills are sold only in boxes bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. None other is genuine, no matter what some self-interested dealer may say. If in doubt send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

LIKE A CHILD.

Old Lady of Strathroy Feels as Spry as a Damsel a Fraction of Her Age.

A noteworthy result of the use of that splendid remedy, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, is the feeling of youth and buoyancy experienced as soon as the pepsin and diastase contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets begin to act on the food.

The blood is very soon improved in quality on using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because instead of being fed by the product of a weak, sour, enfeebled stomach, the full nourishment of perfectly digested food goes to make it up.

The whole body soon feels the influence of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets because this rich, new blood is immediately carried to every muscle and nerve, building up the wasted places and toning up the entire system.

The mind and mental condition soon become fresh and wholesome because the mind takes its tone from the body. If the body is healthy we are happy in spite of trouble. If we are happy in spite of trouble and our bodies are healthy we feel young, for children are the happiest and healthiest of mankind, as a general rule.

This is what Mrs. Susan Cosme of Strathroy means when she says she feels like a child again owing to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. She writes:

"I have been troubled with Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach for fifteen years. After every hearty meal I would suffer so that I grew almost afraid to eat. I would often have to lay down after meals, and as for pastry of any kind, I could not touch it. Nothing I ate would digest. I tried different remedies but got no relief. I heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and got some to try. They cured me. I can eat anything now without the least fear. I feel like a child again. You are welcome to publish this letter that others may learn of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and find health again, as I did."

KIDNEY DISEASE

Powley's Liquified Ozone acts quickly to relieve kidney disease. It clears out the delicate tracts, soothes the inflammation of the mucus linings and restores these most important organs to health. If you have kidney disorder and experience the dreadful bearing-down pains in the back, miserable headache and all the agonies usually suffered, take Ozone and you will experience very quick relief. We present herewith a very remarkable cure. Mrs. Harvey's daughter had an extremely bad case; the mother's way of telling the story may interest you.

THE OZONE CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.

Gentlemen: For the past year my daughter has suffered from kidney disease. This sickness came by degrees, until she was bloated to a great size. She appeared to be growing very fleshy and every joint was full of rheumatism. We tried a good many of the patent medicines called blood purifiers, but received no benefit. We also had a good doctor, but he failed to do any good. At last we were advised by a neighbor to try "Ozone," which we did. The "Ozone" seemed to go right through the whole system and she felt worse, but we were told this was a good sign. We continued the use of it, and soon we noticed the swelling reduced in her hands and feet, and it seemed to reduce the swelling in her whole body.

My daughter also had female weakness. The organs were weak and did not work regularly. The "Ozone" regulated these organs perfectly. She now enjoys perfect health, which I entirely attribute to "Ozone."

Wishing you every success, I am,

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) MRS. C. HARVEY, 689 Dufferin St., Toronto.

"Powley's Liquified Ozone" is the greatest discovery known to medical science. It is making use of oxygen in stable liquid form—something that has never before been done.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. LECH.

One of the Town's Oldest Residents Succumbs to Heart Failure.

During the past year a large number of Peterborough's older residents have passed away, but the death of none will be more generally regretted than that of Rosina Henrietta Kornke, wife of Mr. William Lech, which occurred after a brief illness, yesterday afternoon at about four o'clock.

Mrs. Lech never fully recovered from the severe illness through which she passed last spring, and her decease is due to heart failure brought on by the above mentioned siege of sickness.

The deceased was born in Finsterwalde, Germany, on August 28, 1828, and was married in the same place to Mr. William Lech, on Feb. 12th, 1852. Mr. and Mrs. Lech shortly afterwards came to America, and after living in New York for a brief period, moved to Montreal. After residing in the latter place for seven years, they moved to Peterborough in 1861, and have since resided here, becoming closely identified with the early history and the progress of the town. A husband and eight children survive, the latter being Mrs. F. Zachau, Syracuse, N. Y.; Mrs. R. Graham, Mr. K. G., Mr. Albert E., and Mr. William E., of town; Mrs. Gnaedinger, of Montreal; Mrs. Paul Stoeving, of London, Eng., and Mrs. E. F. Walter, of Montreal.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at three o'clock, from the family residence, Hunter street, interment being in the Little Lake Cemetery.

THE LATE MRS. COUGHLIN.

Her Demise Took Place Yesterday—Eighty Years of Age.

Mrs. Coughlin, relict of the late John Coughlin, of Belleville, died yesterday at the advanced age of 80 years. Owing to ill health, deceased and her late husband, left their home in Belleville and came to the House of Providence, here, where everything possible was done to make their declining days happy. Her husband predeceased her ten months. Deceased leaves a family of four sons. They are Messrs. Dennis and Timothy, of Belleville, and John and Michael of town. The remains were conveyed to Belleville where the funeral will take place.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

That Took Place in Smith on Wednesday Evening Last.

A quiet, but very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs Wesley Northcott in Smith, Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Ruby, was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Wm. George Brumwell, of Lakefield.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Nickle, of the Methodist church. The bride looked beautiful in a costume of silver-grey poplin, trimmed with white silk chiffon, and pearl trimming, and wore orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pink and white asters. Miss Fannie Kempt, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a dress similar, and carried a bouquet of pink asters. The bride's little sister, Miss Pearl, was maid of honour, and looked charming in a dress of cream cashmere trimmed with lace and silk, and carried a bouquet of flowers. The groom was assisted by Mr. Jack Blewett, of Lakefield. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father amid the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Estella Davies, of Peterborough. The home was nicely arranged with flowers. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was served. Many beautiful and costly presents were received. Friends were in attendance from Peterborough, Lakefield and different parts. FROM PETERBORO' TO MAURITIUS.

Miss Alice H. Roger Writes to the Examiner.

INCIDENTS OF THE VOYAGE.

Many Places of Interest That Were Visited on the way — Another Letter Soon to Follow.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir.—In reply to a request from your editorial staff, that I should write an account of our trip and impressions of Mauritius, I am doing so, though I shall utterly fail to give any idea of what our trip was like as I foolishly did not take any notes as we travelled, and so can only write from memory.

We left Marseilles on the French steamer "Djemmah" on April 25th, and our course lay between Corsica and Sardinia. We saw both of these islands quite well and also Stromboli. The latter was a most desolate looking spot, and it was hard to imagine any human beings choosing it as a place of abode. It was quite evident that there were inhabitants, however, as there were many small houses at the foot of the volcano.

Passing through the Straits of Messina, and out into the Mediterranean, we had a most delightful voyage, and our first stop was at Port Said, where we arrived about five days after leaving Marseilles.

From a distance the town looked very strange. Having no trees near them, and being surrounded on all sides by the monotoneous desert, the houses seem to stare at one who approaches the harbour. Before we got into the harbour at all, myriads of little boats came out to meet us, and such a noise as the men made with their curious calls and shouts. It was most interesting as they approached to watch the different boats, each with its strange occupants, clad in Oriental costumes of different descriptions. Many of the men seemed to row in time to a song, and one boat, (this was when we were in the harbour and just about to anchor), especially attracted my attention. It was a sort of scow and carried about one hundred of the most filthy looking creatures imginable. At first sight it was hard to believe that they were human beings, but upon nearer view such they proved to be. Their skin was naturally dark, and added to this was an accumulation of dirt, which had the effect of making them look quite black. Their clothes consisted of a few dirty black rags, and some in addition to these had a long black piece of cloth wound into a sort of turban with a streaming end behind. They were rowing their huge craft along, and as they did so, they sang a monotonous sing-song tune to which they kept time. It was most weird and dismal. They were the men engaged to put the coal on our vessel, and they brought it on in small quantities in baskets.

As soon as we were anchored the small boats came close to the ship and got passengers to take to shore, a very short distance away. We got into one of these boats and on arriving at the wharf, we got a patriarchal old guide who took us to see the town, where of course there were many curious things to be seen. Coming from the strictly business and uniform continent of America, I noticed at once the utter indifference to time which was exhibited by these dwellers of the East. There seemed to be no hurry for them, and groups of natives could be seen here and there apparently enjoying life to the utmost quite oblivious to the flight of time. The small shops, and the narrow streets from our Western towns, and the Oriental costumes were quite a study in themselves. Many people were walking down the middle of the streets, while others drove, and some rode on mules or camels.

WERE SO DIFFFERENT

After walking some distance through the busy thoroughfares we came to a more quiet part of the town, where the road had houses on one side only, and on the other side was bordered by the desert. Here we saw camels bearing large loads of various descriptions. Walking along the road a short distance, we came to a Mahometan Mosque, a very plain but substantial looking building. At the door we were obliged to put on sandals of straw before being allowed to enter the sacred place. The first room we entered was a large one with tiled floor, where the Mahometans worship, but there was positively nothing to seen. Adjoining this was a smaller room, where there were many relics, among them a sword of Mahomet's, which we examined, and about which the guide gave us a long description in unintelligible English (?). Looking through a window from the smaller room we saw a huge bath, and this is where the Mahometans before entering the holy Mosque.

After leaving the Mosque we were taken to see the Arab quarter of the town, which was notable chiefly for its artistic Oriental costumes and for its dirt—especially the latter, and we were glad to get back to the steamer, where we really got the best view of everything. One of the main streets goes along the water front, and there was a never ceasing flow of people on shore, and boats were continually plying between the wharf and our vessel. The evening we spent at Port Said was one of the most beautiful I ever remember. The moon and stars were shining brightly and were reflective in the water, as were also the lights on the wharves. The lights in the buildings facing the water threw their rays on the street, along which odd figures could be seen passing to and fro. In the distance was heard a sound of music, and added to this was the hum of voices on shore, the singing of the boatmen, and the splish splash of the oars in the water, combining to make a most romantic and entrancing scene. We were delayed longer than usual as the mail clerk on our vessel had committed suicide two days after we left Marseilles, so there was a good deal of telegraphing to do. On the morning of May 1st the vessel was crowded with natives displaying their wares—feathers, feather boas, fruits, sweets, etc., etc. That day about 4 p.m., we began to pass through the canal. On each side was a pathway, along which trees, which had been planted to keep the banks from giving way, and at regular intervals were the station houses of the canal guards. Far beyond, on either side, stretches the vast and boundless desert. Occasionally we saw men riding camels or leading them, and these were the only signs of life, and soon night came on. After dinner we went up on the higher deck and watched our progress, as in front of the vessel there was a very powerful searchlight, and, besides, it was a bright moonlight night.

IN PORT SAID,

When we awoke next morning we were at Suez. On our left were bold, bare rocks, and on the right hand was the town. Scores of little darkies came to the vessel to dive for coppers. As they received the coins, they put them in their mouths and then called for more. We stayed there only a part of a day, and then commenced to pass through the Red Sea—and what a hot place it is! We were simply limp with the heat. The only place of interest was Mount Sinai in the distance. It looked quite near, but we were told it was thirty miles away.

On May 6th we arrived at Djibonti, where we remained for seven hours. We took on a good deal of cargo and also 210 Arab steerage passengers, some of them fearful looking specimens. What with the noise of these creatures, the loading and unloading of cargo, the yells of the boatmen, and the jabbering of the jugglers and pedlars, it was like Bedlam let loose. There were numbers of divers, also, and little boys swarmed the deck, singing, turning somersaults, in fact doing almost anything for money. Some of them declared they were English, and when we appeared to doubt them they immediately began to sing, "Daisy, Daisy, give me your answer, true," and "Ta-ra-ra boom de ay." It was awfully funny.

At Aden we spent a most terribly hot day, and there was very little excitement on board as compared with Djibonti. There were even no divers, as a few weeks previous to our arrival a little boy while diving had been bitten in two by a shark

They are called the "Pedestal" hydraulic chair, a new design, made by Koken of Cincinnati. It enables the barber to stand closer to the customer and to move around with greater freedom. They are raised, lowered, revolved or reclined by the action of one lever; made of quarter cut golden oak; beautifully nickle plated, and upholstered in green plush, costing the snug sum of $85.00 each without the duty. WHY SOME WOMEN FELL IN LOVE WITH THEIR HUSBANDS.

Peculiar Reasons That at Times Influence the Fair Sex In Matters of the Heart—The Woman Who Won and Wedded a Woman Hater.

If there is one question more than another to which it is difficult to get or give a satisfactory answer it is surely this: "Why did you fall in love with your husband?" In 19 cases out of 20 woman would probably confess candidly that she did not know or else she would declare conclusively that she did because she did, and that ought to end the matter.

In the rare cases where the lady condescends to declare her reason the answers are both interesting and instructive.

"Whatever made you marry the prisoner?" a London magistrate asked a woman whose face bore "striking" evidence of her husband's affection. "Because he punched all the other fellows' heads," she answered, "and nobody else dared make love to me."

Another good lady confessed that she fell in love with her husband because he was the "only man who ever dared to snub her." While other men were stumbling over each other to pay her court and attention, he always treated her with absolute indifference and even rudeness.

The consequence was that she determined to bring him to her feet and his knees. She succeeded, but lost her heart in the attempt.

"I fell in love with my husband," one lady recently declared, "because he was the only man about whom no one was ever heard to say an unkind word. Even the women, although he paid them no special attention, were agreed that he was 'a darling;' and, although he was plain, almost to ugliness, and old enough almost to be my father, I loved him and determined to marry him long before he had any such thought of me."

Not long ago a Yorkshire lady of wealth and beauty shocked her friends by marrying a poor cripple. It had come to her ears that he had long loved her in silence and had counted each day happy if he only caught a distant glimpse of her. She discovered that he was a devoted son and brother and a man of unusual gifts and culture for his humble position, and, moved by one of those sudden, generous impulses to which some women are liable, she sought an interview with him, told him that she had learned his secret and offered him her hand and fortune. This may appear a strange and improbable thing, but thousands know that it is literally true.

Another lady whose marriage resulted from a similar impulse gives this explanation of it. Among the friends of her family was an old bachelor with a reputation for crustiness who had known her from a child and had often nursed her in early days. To her he had always been gentle and kind, and she had loved him "in a way" as long as she could remember.

One day she said, "Why have you never married, Mr. ——?"

"Marry, my dear? Why, no one would ever marry a grumpy old man like me!"

"Of course they would!" she answered indignantly. "Why, I would marry you myself!"

"Thank you, my dear!" came the unexpected answer. "Then we'll consider the matter ended."

In spite of her surprise and misgivings the girl loyally kept her promise, and she has never had reason to regret her "moment's indiscretion."

A lady friend of the writer married her husband for the very illogical reason that he was an avowed woman hater. He made no secret of his aversion to the fair sex and declared it so constantly that, as she says, "I vowed I would convert him and make him change his mind, at least so far as one of my sex was concerned." He was not difficult to convert, for within 12 months he had forsworn his creed so far as to conduct one of the "hated sex" to the altar, and now he declares that he "loves them all."

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal incurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

PRAIRIE DOGS AND RATTLESNAKES.

They May Live Together, but They Are Not the Best of Friends.

"Of course you have heard it said," remarked the man back from the west, "that rattlesnakes and prairie dogs are close friends, rent the same house and make a happy family.

"It certainly is a fact that the reptile is generally found in the prairie dog village. But I was once witness of a little scene which went far to prove to me, at least, that a prairie dog loves a rattler somewhat less than is commonly supposed. I was riding after cattle in Wyoming not far from the Colorado line when it came off.

"Prairie dogs form the principal crop in those parts, and their quaint antics never failed to amuse me. On this particular occasion I had managed to get close to a colony and waited for developments. Considerably apart from the others, two dogs were sitting with their noses close together. They appeared to be very much concerned over the movements of a big rattler which was lazily crawling about near them. When the snake moved a length or two, the dogs became excited and danced like little lunatics, but if the rattler ceased his motion there were the cute little cusses, with their noses together, managing somehow to keep abreast of his majesty without seeming to follow him.

"Once the snake coiled, and then the dogs had business elsewhere, but when he straightened out they were on deck again. The rattler in the course of his wrigglings came to a hole and stopped there, as though undetermined as to whether it would be worth while to enter or not. Now the prairie dogs began to act in the most unaccountable manner, as though they had been feeding on loco weed and had suddenly felt the effects. They danced on one hind foot and rolled over. They dashed up behind the snake as though they were aching to push him into the hole, and ever and anon they would come to attention, with noses together—talking, I suppose.

"But they didn't have much time for these goings on, for the snake soon began to slip into the hole. The dogs, though very intent upon his movements, remained perfectly quiet until the last of him had disappeared. Then they got to work in earnest, and the way they kicked the dirt into that hole was a caution.

"They worked in a systematic manner. When the entrance was well filled with loose dirt, they tramped it, and then threw in more dirt and tramped that. They were not satisfied until the entrance to that hole was blocked and packed down with dirt until it was as solid as the original sod.

"Then the little rascals seemed to be tickled half to death and rubbed noses times innumerable before they skipped off to look for another lazy snake. All of which makes me think that, although the rattler lives with the prairie dog, perhaps he comes, like your wife's relations, without any invitation and without paying any board."

Chafing and Itching Skin

Annoying Rashes, Inflammations and Irritations Are Soothed, Healed and Cured by the Great Skin Food.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

There is always mystery and doubt about the action of internal remedies. Time is required for the medicine to take effect. It is different with Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it is applied externally and you are sure to be surprised at the remarkable change it brings about in a few hours. Its cleansing, soothing, healing action allays inflammation and irritation, removes redness and roughness of the skin, and leaves the skin delightfully smooth, soft and velvety.

Notwithstanding its powerful action in the severest cases of skin disease, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with perfect safety on the most tender skin, and is especially suited for the chafings, itchings and irritations which are so troublesome during the hot summer weather. Ladies keep it constantly in their toilet, and mothers who have used it in place of powders for their babies, would not think of changing. It does not clog the pores of the skin, as do powders, does not stain the linen, and is pleasant to use.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when it was scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left. My little girl two years old has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard ointment the world over. It promptly and thoroughly relieves and cures eczema, salt rheum, and the most turturing forms of itching skin disease. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 9

A CRIMSON KISS.

He was a bold carnation
And she a sweet, shy rose;
He was as red as warm, red wine,
She, white as winter snows.
He lived beside the window,
His home a jardiniere;
Here, just above his ardent reach,
A vase of Sevres ware.

He grew till close beside her
He bent his regal head;
She trembled just a little,
But listened while he said,
"I've dreamed, while climbing upward,
Of this one moment's bliss,"
Then pressed upon her petals pure
One long, sweet, crimson kiss.

The winsome rose blushed deeply
And whispered sweet and low:
"I've waited all my lifetime, dear,
For this one hour, I know.
My bold carnation lover,
King of all flowers thou art;
I'll keep the kiss thou gavest me
Forever in my heart!"

That evening in the twilight
My Lady Leonore
Swept, smiling, through her parlor
A silken gown she wore.
She bent above the blossom
Her queenly, golden head,
Then called, "Why, Jack, my white, white rose,
Has changed to burning red!"

A Chalk and a Ginger Diet.

I have known many instances of girls, in their foolish desire for a "genteel" paleness, eating dry rice and chalk and refusing as much as possible a flesh diet. Chalk certainly and probably rice eaten in excess in this way would tend indirectly to induce pallor by deranging the digestive organs and obstructing the natural secretions of the body. Habitual constipation alone is a frequent cause of anæmia.

Half a century ago the plump and rosy cheeked damsels of a Buckinghamshire village found that they, with their robust charms, were neglected by local swains, who favored pale and languishing maidens from the metropolis. To counteract this deplorable tendency some of the girls endeavored to modify their rotundity and make themselves pale or fair by eating ginger. Others indulged in chalk and scraped slate pencil, and a few tried all three. They succeeded more or less in producing pallor and sickliness of appearance, but the young men were not attracted, and after one of the "ginger chewers," as they were called, died the practice happily declined.

Only Wanted Time.

One night a group of members were talking in the smoking room of the house of commons about a measure which it was proposed to recommend to the consideration of the government and on which we were all understood to be in complete agreement. Suddenly a member who had up to this time offered no objection and had, indeed, sat in absolute silence—though he was well known for an extraordinary aptitude in spinning out talk on the most trivial subject—broke in with the words, "I suppose there is something to be said on the other side." "I dare say there is," Thomas Sexton observed, "and if we had a couple of months to spare you are just the very man to say it; but, then, you see, the matter is coming on the day after tomorrow, and there really is no time." So the little group broke up.

"We" " said he, "I once entered a restaurant where they weigh you before eating and then after eating and then charge you by weight. I had a good feed and was charged 10 shillings. The next time I went in I took in my pockets bricks, weights, old iron and suchlike. I was weighed and then went up stairs and had a banquet three times as big as the last. I went down and was weighed again, but they couldn't make it out."

He paused.

"Couldn't make what out?" asked the club members.

"Why," answered the quiet man "they owed me four and tuppence."

THE GIRL IN GRAY

How She Surrendered to a Yankee From Illinois.

It was during an encampment of Confederate Veterans that Howard Pearce first saw her. She wore a gray riding habit with a double row of small brass buttons leading up to two black stars on the collar. On her sunny locks a small gray slouch hat rested, tilted just the least bit over one eye. She rode well.

Pearce leaned so far from the window to catch a glimpse of the girl that he almost fell. It was a warm day toward the end of July, and he was not sorry that he had no business on hand that must be rushed.

Evidently the girl in gray had gone to the camp ground, and with Saunders. But Saunders was married—happily married, Pearce hoped. Anyhow, he was glad that Saunders was married.

That evening he sat before Captain Saunders' tent, with the captain, his wife and Miss Moore—the girl in gray. To the east of the camp ground the ridge rose in a gentle slope. To the southwest, seemingly towering just over them, was the mountain.

Pearce's heart beat faster as the thought came to him that 30 years before white tents had marked the foot of the ridge as they did that day. But then they had stretched for miles north and south.

"Captain," he said, turning to Saunders, "it is easier to get up the ridge than it was once. There are no men in blue there tonight."

"No," the captain replied, "but the sons of some of those men are there," pointing to the company street, in which blue clad figures lounged. "Loyal? Without doubt. Listen!"

The bands, which had united for the evening concert, had just struck up "The Star Spangled Banner." When the air was recognized, a cheer arose from the tented wood.

"Hear that?" said the captain.

"Wait," said the girl in gray.

"For what?" Pearce asked.

"They will play 'Dixie' after awhile."

"What then?"

"Then they will yell," she said, looking at him with a bright smile and nodding a confident "You'll see or hear."

And he did. When the national air was finished, there was a brief wait. Then the quick, stirring notes of "Dixie" started the woods into life with sharp echoes, which were drowned by one long, loud yell.

Pearce looked at the girl to receive an expected "I told you so." But she was not looking at him. Her cheeks were dark with color and her eyes, brightened by excitement, were fixed upon the young men tossing their caps high above the tents and shouting with all their sturdy lung power.

"I wonder," he mused, "if she hates the north as she loves the south."

When the tumult had ceased, he turned to Saunders.

"Well, captain," he said, "what do you say to that?"

"Of course, they love 'Dixie,'" said the captain earnestly. "So do I. But there is no deeper meaning in that cheer than the love of a memory. They are loyal."

Miss Moore said that she must go back to town.

"As it is late, I shall have to leave my horse with you, captain. I shall send for him tomorrow. I reckon I can walk to the train in this rig."

She looked down somewhat doubtfully at her riding skirt. Pearce said that he would be glad to go with her, and though it was not apparent in just what way he could overcome the disadvantage of the long dress, she seemed to be grateful for his escort.

Well, that was the beginning of it, and the end is not yet. An incident that occurred under a large tree in the old Confederate fort on the mountain may give a hint of the trend of events.

Pearce and Miss Moore were under the tree because it was the shelter nearest when rain suddenly began to fall, and it rained probably because a number of young folks of the city had come up on the mountain to spend a September day that promised in the morning to be pleasant.

Mr. Pearce was not in good humor. He and Miss Moore had separated themselves from the others. One topic of conversation had led to another, which in this instance was a declaration by Mr. Pearce that he was irretrievably in love with Miss Moore and that if she refused to make him happy he should be forever miserable. At a critical stage of this declaration a raindrop kissed the girl's cheek.

"Oh, it's going to rain!" she cried.

The next instant the downpour began, and both rushed through a breach in the earthen wall of the fort to the tree, whose branches, to which the leaves yet clung, offered protection. There they stood in silence for several minutes, she busily brushing raindrops from her hat, which she had taken off, and he watching her moodily.

The silence became oppressive, and she glanced at him curiously and apprehensively from under her lashes. He caught the glance and, moving toward her, said:

"Well?"

"Oh, don't!" she exclaimed, starting away, her eyes still fixed upon a ribbon with which she was working.

"Why, Katherine—er—Miss Moore"—

"Oh, you mustn't!"

He walked to the edge of the circle protected by the leaves and looked out over the clay wall of the fort, down which tiny rivers ran. She, having dried her hat, placed it again on her head and began brushing her skirt where, here and there, rain had spotted it. She glanced several times at his back, stubbornly turned toward her. He evinced no intention of moving nor of speaking again, and she became nervous. The situation was unbearable, and she exclaimed:

"We must get back to the others!"

"We can't very well go through this rain," he said, without turning round.

Another prolonged silence, broken only by the monotonous fall of the rain. Finally, when she had almost made up her mind to gather up her skirts and run to the hotel, a quarter of a mile away, he turned and came quickly toward her.

He put out his hand as though to take hers, but she quickly put her hands behind her and stepped back. He folded his arms and stood before her, looking earnestly into the eyes that she raised to his almost appealingly.

"Katherine," he said, "I love you. Will you be my wife?"

A beautiful color stole slowly from the ribbon at her throat up, up, until it tinted the edges of her small, perfectly formed ears. His gaze held hers for a moment, then her eyelids fell and their long lashes swept her cheeks.

"Mr. Pearce," she said slowly and hesitatingly, "I am so sorry, but I—I can't."

"Because you do not love me?"

She looked up quickly into his face; then down again, but she did not reply.

"Katherine, tell me," he said. "Why is it that you cannot marry me?"

"Because"—she was very busy dislodging a half buried stone with the toe of her shoe—"because you are a Yankee!"

Another swift glance met his steady look. Then she moved a little farther away and stood half turned from him. His first impulse was to laugh. But that passed almost as it came. The gray, brass buttoned riding habit, the flushed cheeks and bright eyes with which she had listened to "Dixie," flashed across his mental vision. The "Yankee" might be an obstacle not to be laughed away.

"But I am not a Yankee," he said with emphasis. "I am from Illinois."

It seemed a long time to both that they stood in silence. Again she was the first to speak.

"This is an awful rain," she said.

"Yes, a very wet rain," he replied.

"Oh, you are going to jest about it"—

"But I am not jesting," he answered, walking rapidly to where she stood. "What I mean is that you will get wet. The water is beginning to drip from the leaves. Here," stripping off his coat, "let me put this around you."

"Oh, no," she said, stepping back.

"But you must. The air is chill, and if you get wet you will catch cold."

"But you—you"—

"It won't hurt me a bit. Come."

He assumed a commanding tone, and that or something else accomplished his end, for she made no effort to free herself when he placed the coat about her shoulders. It took a long time to get it fixed just right, and his arm was still around her when he looked into her face and saw that she was looking up into his. Something in her eyes prompted him to draw her close to him and to say very tenderly:

"Sweetheart, I come from the north, but I love a southern girl. Don't you think that she can love a northern man just a little—if he is not a Yankee?"

She studied the arrangement of his necktie closely, and then transferred her scrutiny to his watch chain. But evidently she was not thinking of either, for when she spoke she asked:

"Illinois people aren't Yankees?"

"Certainly not!" he replied, with conviction. "They are a long way from Yankeedom—more than 1,000 miles."

She examined the necktie again, looked into his eyes for a moment, then over his shoulder, off into the rain.

"Katherine," he said softly, "do you love me?"

She turned her head slowly until their eyes met. A wave of color rushed into her cheeks, and she murmured faintly, "Yes."

"And you will be my wife?"

With perhaps a sudden thought of her surroundings and of a stormy day 40 years before, she replied, "I—I surrender."

The rain, as if to hide the scene from any possible observer, fell more heavily for a moment. Then it ceased altogether, and soon the sun shone through from a blue sky where the gray clouds had parted.

His Early Home Coming.

"Does your husband carry a latchkey, Mrs. Homebody?"

"No; I never knew him to."

"Oh, then he comes in early! That must be due to your training?"

"Not in the least. There is always some one up when he gets home in the morning."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Disinfecting.

In disinfecting a room it is desirable to seal it as tight as possible. This may be done by pasting together newspaper strips cut two inches wide, with a preparation made by soaking two teaspoonfuls of powdered gum tragacanth in one pint of cold water for an hour and then placing the bowl containing it in a pan of boiling water and stirring until the gum is all dissolved. Six of the strips should be pasted together, and then pasted over all cracks of doors and windows, leaving the exit door to be sealed after the fumigator has been started. Gum tragacanth is easily washed off and does not discolor paint or woodwork.

So Does She.

"Oh, papa," cried Marie, "do you know the meanings of Christian names? 'William' means good. I wonder what—what 'Arthur' means?" And the girl blushed—oh, so prettily!

Papa put on his severest aspect.

"I hope Arthur means business," was the reply.

"I wrote Dr. Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free."

"I endured nearly four years of suffering," writes Mrs. J. L. Myers, of Washington, W. Va., "caused principally from improper medical attention after the birth of a child, and female weakness, resulting in a complication of diseases. Had a terrible cough and an incessant pain and soreness in lungs. Was reduced in flesh from 184 pounds to about 100 pounds in eighteen months. I had no appetite, and became so weak and nervous I could scarcely sit up. I doctored with our home physicians for two years with no benefit, I was finally induced to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I wrote to Doctor Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free, advising the proper medicines for my case. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three doses each day, also taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and some of his 'Pellets,' I ceased coughing, and am now enjoying splendid health and have gained thirty-five pounds in weight. I again feel like my former self, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his great medicines."

RHEUMATISM

KINDS, CAUSE AND CURE.

Rheumatism of any kind is always attended with pain. There are in reality but two causes, although they manifest themselves in five or six different forms of rheumatism. Muscular rheumatism, in which the muscles in different parts of the body are inflamed, swollen and painful; joint rheumatism, heart rheumatism and lumbago all have their origin in the blood. This indicates a kidney weakness, and demands a kidney treatment. Then sciatica, neuralgia and shooting pain rheumatism has its origin in a vitiated condition of the nerves, from a general run-down condition of the blood. In each of the above forms and for all manifested symptoms of rheumatism there is no medicine which offers such a chance for cure as Merrill's System Tonic. It is not only a kidney medicine, but its blood purifying properties rid the system of all accumulated uric acid. Then, too, System Tonic is the greatest tonic, blood, bone and tissue maker known, and will enrich the blood, feed and revive the starved nerves, thus making a cure for your rheumatism from whatever cause. Several hundred hopeless cases have already been cured, and more are being cured every day. Will you try it?

CHAPTER II.

None of us harboured any gloomy forebodings of the future. We all knew there was a great risk incurred, but nevertheless none for a moment thought he would be the unlucky one, if any should perchance meet with a fatal disaster. How wise is Heaven's ordinance that veils the future! Otherwise these boys would have been melancholy, sad and depressed, whereas they were actually as light-hearted and buoyant in spirit as any of us at the outset of our long, eventful trip. For hours the boys chatted merrily among themselves or with their near neighbors, till, growing weary with the pall of sleep beginning to weigh heavily upon them, they repaired to the sleeping berths conveniently at their disposal. Of course, there was neither mattress nor pillow, and the soft side of a plank being anything but conducive to sleep, we slumbered little. For once in my life I rose early, before the first rays of the morning sun, the heralds of approaching day, illumined the eastern horizon, and having tastefully performed my toilet, (?) casually dropped into a seat in which was a solitary gentleman, deeply absorbed in the perusal of a daily paper. My unceremonious intrusion took him so by surprise that his actions proved conclusively he was of a nervous disposition, possibly directly attributable to excessive drinking of strong tea. He was so scared, and made such a sudden "start," that I couldn't venture an apology for laughing. He laughed quite heartily himself, and this proved the prelude to an interesting conversation. My genial friend was a Government Contractor, and gave me a brief history of his professional career. He said he had lived for several years in Lower Canada, and was quite familiar with the French-speaking people, and their curious customs. Frequently a pleasant smile would illuminate his happy countenance, when I would ask some strange, if not ridiculous question. He seemed to view me in somewhat the same light as a fond parent would a child just learning to talk, for he good-naturedly answered all my queries, and they were legion, without a moment's hesitation. The first thing that attracted my attention was the peculiar way in which the land was surveyed. It seems when the Province was first settled, the thrifty pioneer took the river or some other body of water as his front, and slowly but surely pushed his way back, the mighty giants of the forest falling by his sturdy stroke, as he cleared a narrow strip, which might be a mile in length, and not more than one hundred and fifty or two hundred yards in width. The same custom prevailed among the North-west Indians prior to the rebellion of 1885. Lower Canada, in the matter of matrimony, would seem to resemble Persia, where the family for generations marry and bring their spouses to live in the home of their parents, only in Quebec, when the boys become united in the so-called happy bonds of matrimony, they receive a portion of their father's estate on which to build a home for themselves and their wives. This is repeated from one generation to another, till now many of the farms are more market gardens or town lots. Some are extremely narrow, and of necessity must be ploughed usually in five or ten yard lands or ridges, in the same way year after year, thus giving the land a very rolling and uneven appearance. In the rural districts the churches, usually massive stone structures, are the most attractive pieces of architecture, the homes generally being modest one-storey log or frame buildings, with the ever present significant green doors and window casings. The diminutive farms and unprepossessing dwellings would not, I may reasonably presume, meet with the approval of the ambitious young granger from Ontario, nor induce him to cast in his lot with his French-speaking countrymen.

The remainder of the trip to Montreal was merely a repetition of the panorama which at present lay before us.

At 8.30 a.m. we pulled into Windsor street station, and my friend and I bade each other a fond adieu, after which I joined the other boys and forced my way through the crowd to the street beyond. We had at last safely reached our destination. Capt. Greenwood, an amiable and exemplary officer, took command of the party and at once took us by electric car to the armouries, which were to be our home during our short sojourn in the city. They are situated on Craig street, directly opposite Champ de Mars and the City Hall, within easy access to Bonaventure station. This commodious stone building occupies a small block and, I should suppose without having recourse to actual measurement, would be three hundred feet long and two hundred and fifty feet wide. It can easily accommodate ten thousand persons on the extensive floor, and the spacious gallery which girdles its three sides. When we reached our temporary barracks we found everything possible had been done by the authorities to make them comfortable and home-like. Their exertions were not in vain, for our mess-room in particular, would favourably compare with the best hotel in the city. Our sleeping quarters were in the armouries of the 65th Batt., a rural corps, and were bright, cheery apartments, heated by steam, day and night, and brilliantly lighted by gas. Each man was allowed four blankets, two of which had previously been sewed together on three sides and filled with straw, thus making a comfortable mattress. The beds were lined around the room, side by side, with the head toward the wall, and when not in use were doubled up by turning the foot or bottom part over the upper, and the remaining blankets neatly folded were placed on top. In the centre of the room, directly under the gas lights, was a large table on which was always an abundance of wholesome literature and daily papers gratuitously presented by the kind hearted citizens and generous publishing houses of the city. We greatly appreciated these acts of kindness and good will, and although they may never have been formally acknowledged, they made such a deep impression upon the hearts and minds of the boys, that time alone will hardly erase it, at least not until it merges into eternity. The 65th armouries had been converted into a temporary dining room, or, as soldiers say, a mess room, and a cheery, cosy one it made. The various arms and accoutrements of the regiment were artistically hung around the walls in every manner of description, or tastefully and neatly arranged in racks on the floor. To say the least it was the most neat, tidy and orderly institution of the kind I ever saw. It really redounded to the credit of the corps. The tables were arranged in the shape of the letter T, covered with linen of the purest white, and thoroughly equipped with a liberal supply of silverware and other accessories. The menu was of the very best, and plenty of it too, with cheerful and obliging waiters to cater to our individual wants and requirements. Every man was given a mess ticket with a certain number corresponding to that in the mess book, and when he entered the room he presented this ticket and had his number checked off. Our first meal in these elegant quarters was breakfast, shortly after our arrival in the city, and after we had done ample justice to the sumptuous spread, sight seeing became the order of the day. What marvellous transformations have been effected by the centuries of the past since Jacques Cartier on the 3rd of October, 1535, surrounded by his suite and kinsmen, followed three native guides to a little Indian village situated in the midst of a luxuriant crop of Indian corn, and then known as Hochelaga. Jacques Cartier has long since abandoned his explorations; his mortal remains have crumbled to dust, but his name is indelibly written on the pages of history. Hochelaga is no more a thriving Huron village, environed with fields of golden maize, but like the mighty empires of Rome and Carthage, has long since been buried in deep oblivion, and upon its very ruins to-day is founded the rich and flourishing city of Montreal, the metropolis of Canada, and commercial rival of New York. This city has a population of over 300,000 and if its streets were combined in one, its length would reach the no mean distance of one hundred and seventy miles. In all parts at convenient places are beautiful parks, in which the idler may leisurely loiter and let his mind fully revel in the beatitudes of nature. Everywhere are to be seen indications of thrift, energy and industry. Where the dusky Indians have tilled the soil with their rude implements of agriculture, has arisen the counting house, and where the industrious squaw plied her needle and thread, and rocked her papoose, has been reared the flourishing factory. The stranger in the city unless he were familiar with the French language, would many times feel as though he had, while he peacefully slumbered, been transported in some mysterious way across the billowy sea, and placed on the Parisian streets of sunny France.

"77" BREAKS UP COLDS

A Cold taken at this time of the year, unless "broken up," may "hang on" all winter, and is apt to run into Grip, Catarrh or Bronchitis, and possibly break down the health of a lifetime. Nothing can be more important than the cure of a fall Cold, it means so much. "77" is the remedy and the cure; taken at the beginning, the Cold never reaches the second stage, while its TONICITY sustains the system during the attack.

FROM PETERBORO' TO MAURITIUS.

so a law forbidding diving had been made. Aden is a splendid place as regards scenery. Huge mountains of rugged rock stand out boldly against the sky, and on either side of the harbour are the fortifications. It may appropriately be called "the key to India," for the guns of the fort can fire a distance of ten miles, so that no vessel can enter the harbour without being liable to be fired upon. On account of we did not land, (although some of the passengers did), but from the vessel we could see camels drawing loads on the most curious looking carts. The town of Aden is about two miles inland. The most interesting things there are some old reservoirs. Along the harbour shores are countless little huts, the homes of the Arabs, and very hot they must be, for they are quite unsheltered, and in fact there was not a vestige of a tree to be seen at all. After leaving Aden the days on board were all much the same. The French and English passengers did not mix at all, and there were very few amusements on board. In the evening there was sometimes dancing, and sometimes we had an Arab juggler from the steerage come on deck and perform his tricks. He was wonderful, and seemed to enjoy his own cleverness quite as much as we liked to watch him.

The day we crossed "the line" there was a little excitement, for in the morning we noticed a sign placed in the companionway, and on reading it we found it to be a command from Neptune to all the passengers to appear on deck at 2 p.m.; no excuse would be taken for not being there, and any who absented themselves were to pay the penalty of at least three days' seasickness. Accordingly everyone was on deck even before the time named, and in a little while a wonderful procession came from the rear part of the ship. Here were Arab dancers and musicians, then came a palaquin with Neptune. Afterwards two other palanquins followed, bearing the "Queen of the Foam," and a "Sea Maiden," both arrayed in most wonderful costumes. After this the procession was composed of comic characters, some of which were very amusing.

Two men who were dressed up to represent camels were simply splendid. Then there were four men as ducks, who were also very good, and the Irish policeman was one of the funiest things I ever saw. In front of the whole procession, Napoleon marched boldly, giving orders to his army. When, after due ceremony, Neptune was seated on his throne, he delivered a long speech. Then calling on the passengers by name, each one when named was obliged to walk up to the throne, and touching him or her as the case might be, Neptune made them lords and ladies of the sea. Then the herald kissed the passenger and pinned on a gold badge. No English passengers were called, and of the French only those who had never crossed the Equator before. After another tour of the deck the procession broke up and that excitement was over. In a long voyage everything is of interest and this seemed quite a break in the monotony.

Of course a great many things were quite new to us, and we used to watch with interest the flying fish, and the porpoises were very funny as they tumbled about. They seemed such jolly fellows, and always seem to be enjoying life. On the 14th of May we arrived in the early morning at Diego Suarez, but were not allowed to land as there was small pox on the island.

I was most agreeably surprised in the scenery, as I had always imagined Madagascar would be bare and uninteresting. Instead of that there were most beautiful hilly cliffs covered with verdure from their summits down to the water's edge. There was practically no harbour at all, and we were at anchor a good way out from shore. A good many of our fellow passengers left us and took another vessel for Africa. On the evening of May 16th we arrived at St. Marie, a small island off the coast of Madagascar. It was very wet and stormy all the time we remained there, so that no one could go ashore, much to the disgust of everyone, as it is a very pretty island and well worth seeing.

Our next stop was at Lamatave, and it was here that we really got our first view of tropical vegetation. We got a good view from the ship, as we were at anchor about half a mile out, and the scene was most picturesque. There were houses all along the shore, and numbers of palm trees waved their graceful branches to the breeze. Later on when we were near shore we saw that there were tropical plants growing all along the edge of the water.

As a number of the passengers wished to go on shore we were told in the afternoon that a boat was ready. We had the greatest difficulty in getting down to it by means of planks and a ladder, and when we did get there we found it was the most awful old scow used for taking cargo off the vessels. The water was pouring in through holes in the bottom of the boat, and altogether the prospect was not at all pleasant, as the sea was very rough. However, the old boatmen told us he "thought" it would take us to shore all right so we had to be content, and as there were ten of us we managed to get a good deal of fun out of the experience.

We arrived at the town at a rather bad hour; people were evidently having their siesta, and everything seemed very quiet. Occasionally we saw groups of natives sitting on the ground in front of their little shops. The sidewalks were of cement, so they gave the place a civilized appearance, but there were no cars, trains, or vehicles, such as we see at home, but all wishing to travel must do so on foot, or via palanquin, carried by four black boys. The costumes of many of the natives were of a primitive order, some wearing only common sacks with holes through which they poked their arms.

Our next stop was at Point des Galles, in the Island of Reunion. Here there was a wonderful harbour, entirely artificial, and so constructed that when we were in it, we could not tell where there was any opening by which we could get out. There was nothing to be seen at the Port, but a good many of the passengers took the train to St. Denis, the capital of the island, where the most noteworthy thing is a very fine palm garden. Reunion was once joined to Mauritius, it is said, but was separated from it by a volcanic eruption. The morning after leaving Reunion I awoke at 6 o'clock, and knew that we were at our journey's end, as the vessel had ceased moving, so I hurried to our cabin window to get the first look at our new home. I could not have seen it to better advantage than in the first glory of the morning. We were still some distance out of the harbour, the sea was perfectly calm, the many lofty mountain peaks stood out boldly against the sky, and over a less elevated portion of the island, the sun was rising.

Soon after this we went up to the harbour, and were anchored, and everyone was quite ready to get off the boat at 9 a.m., but what was our disgust to find that we were in quarantine on account of the plague; it was not until nearly 4 p.m., that the steam yachts were allowed to take the passengers ashore.

I have written so much that I think I will have to leave my account of Mauritius itself, and the life here, for a future letter.

I am, Yours, etc.,
ALICE H. ROGER.

KRITZ RUSHED CAMP

But Lovatt's Scouts Prevented Him From Crossing Orange.

CAPTURE OF BOER COMMANDOES

British Gun Lost and Retaken—British Recently Captured Released—189 Boers Captured With Large Supplies—Details of One Defeat—Major Gough Surrounded by Eight Hundred Boers.

London, Sept. 23.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Sept. 22:

"Kritzinger, while endeavoring to force a passage of the Orange River, near Herscholix, at 1 o'clock Friday morning, rushed the camp of a party of Lovatt's scouts. He failed to cross the river, but the scouts lost heavily. Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Andrew Murray and Captain Murray, his adjutant, were killed. Deeply regret the loss of Col. Murray, who throughout the war had led Lovatt's scouts with great gallantry.

"Under cover of darkness the Boers managed to carry off a gun. They were promptly followed up, and the gun was recovered in a smart engagement, in which Kritzinger lost two killed and 20 taken prisoners."

Lord Kitchener also reports that the British captured by the Boers in the ambush near Scheeper's Nek, Sept. 17, have been released, and that the British casualties in the recent Vlakfontein engagement when the Boers captured a company of mounted infantry and two guns, were one officer and five men killed, twenty-three men wounded, and six officers and 109 men taken prisoners. He announces that these prisoners have since been released.

He further reports the capture of two commandoes — one consisting of 55 men, under Commandant Kochs, who were taken, together with their entire transport, west of Adenburg, and the other consisting of 54 men, including P. J. Botha, who were taken with 48 wagons and their belongings, 45 miles southeast of Carolina.

Boers Overrun the Colony.

London, Sept. 23.—A most alarming letter from Cape Town is published to-day by The Daily Express. The writer says:

"The Boers are overrunning Cape Colony. They are on both the coast lines and within 40 miles of Cape Town. Even the Intelligence Department does not know how many colonial rebels have taken up arms in the last fortnight.

"The town guard of Cape Town has been handing in the magazine rifles and ammunition, ostensibly because these are wanted at the front. Martini-Henris have been served out instead."

In conclusion the writer declares: "The Dutch element in the colony is in revolt, and it is useless to disguise the fact."

At Pretoria the strength of the Boers in the field is now estimated at 11,000. If these figures be correct the Boers must be constantly getting recruits. Their supply of arms and ammunition seems to be inexhaustible.

In Boer circles in Holland it is asserted that everything is prepared for a Dutch rising in both Cape Colony and Natal.

Details of British Defeat.

Pretoria, Sept. 22.—Details have been received here of the fight between Major Gough and the Boers, in which the British were ambushed and encompassed the capture of the force with three guns. Twenty-five of the British escaped. Major Gough and Captain Craycraft effected their escape later in the darkness. It is reported that Commander-in-Chief Botha and Commandant Chris Botha were present. The sights and breech blocks of the captured guns were destroyed.

It is believed here that about 2,000 Boers have concentrated for operations in Natal. It is not certain at what point of the Natal border they are aiming. If they attempt to go through Zululand they will probably get into a fight with the natives, who are friendly to the British. Gen. Lyttleton is planning counter operations.

It is believed by the British military authorities that owing to the diminished numbers of the Boers in the field it will be comparatively easy for the English to concentrate an overwhelming force at any point on the shortest notice.

Eighteen Boers Killed.

Cape Town, Sept. 22.—Col. Munro's column engaged Gen. Fouch's commando, estimated at 400, at Penhock, 12 miles east of Sterkstroom, on Sept. 14. Previous to this Col. Munro had driven Gen. Fouch from the vicinity of Jamestown. The fight resulted in the Boers retreating in an easterly direction. They left 18 dead on the field.

CZAR NOT TO INTERVENE.

Pro-Boer Newspaper Says He Promised to Keep Hands Off.

Cologne, Sept. 23.—A newspaper here, which is often the mouthpiece of the Transvaal directorate in Europe, speaking of the report of probable intervention in favor of the Boers, says: "They (the Boers) cannot look to the Czar for intervention, since at the meeting with King Edward at Fredensborg the Russian ruler renewed his promise not to intervene."

JUDGES APPOINTED.

Sir Louis Davies Goes to the Supreme Court—Mr. B. M. Britton, M.P., to the High Court of Ontario.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—It is understood that at a Cabinet Council held on Saturday evening Sir Louis Davies took a formal farewell of his colleagues. He will administer the duties of his department for one day more, and his appointment to the bench of the Supreme Court will be officially announced on Tuesday or Wednesday. Sir Louis' retirement from the Government will be felt as a distinct loss. In his position as Minister of Marine and Fisheries he has rendered the country splendid service, and he has been closely identified with the discussion and settlement of several questions of great international importance. His judicial mind, his mastery of law and facility of expression will enable him to achieve a decided success upon the Supreme Court bench. Sir Louis' retirement leaves the portfolio of Marine and Fisheries vacant, and it would not be surprising if Hon. James Sutherland was appointed to administer that department. Mr. Sutherland is a good practical business man, and while temporarily in charge of various important departments has displayed great administrative skill.

Mr. B. M. Britton, M. P. for Kingston, has been appointed a Judge of the High Court of Ontario, while Mr. Fortin, M. P. for Laval, has been given the position on the Superior Court bench of Montreal, made vacant by the death of the late Judge Gill. Both gentlemen possess high legal attainments, and will reflect credit upon the judiciary to whose ranks they have been elevated.

The Government has fixed November 21 for Thanksgiving Day.

The Schley Enquiry.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Only one new witness was introduced yesterday to the Naval Court, which is investigating the conduct of Admiral Schley during the Spanish war. This witness was Commander Seton Schroeder, who is now Governor of the island of Cuba. His testimony dealt with the cruise of the "flying squadron" from Cienfuegos to Santiago. The commander said that the cruise was not as expeditious as it should have been.

Failed to Turn Gas Off.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—John J. Irwin, a St. Catharines farmer, was found dead at the Daly House, Front and Simcoe streets, on Saturday morning. A combination gas jet was turned on full. It is not believed that the dead man had any intention of committing suicide. He was perfectly sober when he went to bed. The supposition is that, being unused to gas, he was unable to tell when he had turned it off.

About $13,000 a Year.

FALL AND WINTER SEASON

MINISTERS AT THE "SOO."

Public Meeting Held After the Liberal Convention.

THE WANTS OF ONTARIO.

Speeches Made by Messrs. Gibson and Stratton—A Progressive Policy—Wisdom of Government's Course in Developing New Ontario.

(From the Globe.)

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 14.—The visit of Hon. Attorney-General Gibson and Hon. J. R. Stratton to the "Soo," one of the chief points of interest in their Greater Ontario tour, has more than met any expectations formed of the great progress of development associated with the policy of the Ross Government. They found the "Soo," not long since a moribund town, a busy hive of industry, with great industrial operations in existence and industrial expansion, one might say, rampant. General building operations are brisk, the town is installing a system of sewerage, the price of real estate is firm, one property within the last day or two having changed hands at the urban figure of $130 per foot frontage, and properties that were not long ago in the market at $3 are now held at $50 to $70. While it is pleasant to note the existing prosperity of the "Soo," the chief interest in its present lies in the promise of the great future it affords. This future is closely associated with the tremendous development operations of the Clergue Syndicate, whose extent and importance are particularly indicated by the fact that in the various operations now going on the monthly payroll amounts to the large figure of $250,000. This figure is made more significant by recalling the fact that it means the enormous expenditure of $3,000,000 per year, closely approximating the expenditure necessary in the administration of the affairs of this province, with its two and a half million of people, and when the steel works, now nearly completed, are in operation the amount of annual expenditure will be increased to four millions.

THE CLERGUE WORKS.

The Ministers during their stay here made a pretty careful and thorough inspection of the works in operation and in process of construction, and were more than delighted with not only the absolute evidences presented of tremendous industrial progress, but also with the evidence of the completeness with which the terms attached to the concessions made by the Government have been and are being carried out and in many respects exceeded. In the conditions they saw and the future they foreshadowed are found ample vindication of the policy of the Ross Government in promoting and encouraging development of our immense and long dormant resources by assisting the establishment of an enterprise whose magnitude and influence in promoting a great industrial future for Canada and Ontario, the most optimistic can hardly overestimate. The Ministers were not only delighted but fairly amazed at the extent and character of the complex and many sided industries in operation revealed by a run through and over the works. A "run" is the right word, for several immense buildings, covering acres, and crowded with interesting industrial processes, and other acres covered with the magnificent confusion of building operations, involve so many footsteps, that a day or so affords opportunity for only a cursory inspection. Indeed so much is to be seen that an estimate of opinion can be perhaps summarized by saying that "it is a big thing." A glance at the works as a whole begets as much admiration for Mr. Clergue's genius for administration as the details of the several industrial operations beget for his inventive genius and his wonderful capacity for the adaptation and means to ends. From the simple process of producing pulp has sprung half a dozen branches of industrial production. One want met created another till a railway was required as an auxiliary to even unsurpassed winter transportation in economically assembling the varied raw material required. To illustrate the extent to which the self-development characteristic of the company's operations obtains, the very railway is made to build itself. Immense buildings over half a mile in length for steel works are under way and are expected to be in operation by January 1st next, making steel rails for laying the unfinished portion of the Algoma Central Railway — all made from Ontario ore smelted in Ontario furnaces, thus through the assistance represented by the land grant to this line making the northern country develop itself.

A PUBLIC MEETING.

Following the successful convention held in the afternoon was an evening public meeting, addressed by the Ministers. There was a large attendance, many ladies being present, as well as most of the convention delegates, who will carry to every part of the riding the stimulus and encouragement derived from the capital addresses given by Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton, and the assurance that the Ross Government had as much at heart the interests of the development and advancement of New Ontario as they had in promoting those of old Ontario. OTONABEE COUNCIL MEETING.

All members present except Councillor Deyell.

Councillor Deyell and the clerk, who were appointed at a special meeting held in the town of Peterborough, to compare the petition for the construction of a drain from the 11 con. to the Otonabee river, with the assessment roll to see if a majority of the persons interested had signed the petition, reported that a majority had not signed it. A petition was also received requesting the council not to take any action nor incur any expense in connection with the above drain.

Councillor Weir was empowered to purchase a pair of boots and cap for J. Kain.

The following communications were received:—

From the Attorney General, enclosing a copy of a bill to amend the Assessment Act. Under the old Act real and personal property was to be assessed at its actual cash value, as it would be apprised in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor. It is proposed to make it the actual cash value omitting the debtor clause, it is also proposed to assess real estate and buildings separately.

An expression of opinion by the council on the above was requested. The clerk was directed to reply as follows:—

That this council approve of the first change. With regard to the second, assessing farm buildings separate from the real estate, do not approve of it, as they consider them inseparable.

From the county clerk, that a special meeting of the county council would be held this fall to consider the expenditure of the county's share of the Legislative Grant for the improvement of public highways The notice was sent to give the council an opportunity of sending a representative to discuss the best mode of spending the grant.

The reeve was appointed to represent this council.

Robert Carey was present requesting that the road allowance through the east half of lot 16, con. 9, be opened for public travel.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Jas. Miller Estate and J. A. Drummond, the owners of the lots through which the road runs, that it would be considered at next meeting of council. The clerk was instructed to bill Mr. Davis, of Dummer, $2.50, for the use of the two wheeled scraper.

A petition was received from T. Slattery's road beat to have their statute labour commuted.—Granted.

A bylaw was passed to levy the following rates: 2 7-10 mills county rate to raise $5,234.70; 1 9-10 township rate; 1 2-10 township general school rate for the schools; No. 1, 1 4-101 4-10 to raise $220; No. 2, 2 3-10, $300; No. 3, 1 8-10, $200; No. 4, 2 8-10, $500; No. 5, 1 5-10, $225; No. 6, 8-10, $85; No. 7, 1 6-10, $325; No. 8, 1 mill, $125; No. 9, 1 6-10, $134; No. 10, 8-10, $120; No. 11, 2 3-10, $104; No. 12, 2 mills, $115; No. 13, 1 2-10, $200; No. 13, 1 2-10, $200; No. 14, 1 9-10, $185; No. 15, 1 4-10, $46.90; No. 16, 2 5-10, $300; No. 17, 9-10, $50; No. 18, 1 710, $7.36; Peterborough S. MR. ROSS IN TRIUMPH

Great Demonstration to Welcome Home Ontario's Premier.

GREETED AS A LEADER OF MEN.

The Premier, in His Address, Advocates the Broadening of Our Ideas—The Trade Possibilities Within the Empire Discussed—Hope Yet for British Preference to the Colonies.

Niagara, Ont., Sept. 23.—Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, was welcomed back Saturday from the old land with an unexampled demonstration of personal and political devotion. A thousand people, men from every walk of life, and many women, crossed the lake from Toronto to Niagara to escort him from the frontier to his home. These were joined by half their number from the Niagara district, and from the combined assemblage the Premier received a greeting that must have warmed his heart. When he alighted from the Michigan Central train opposite the park, which is one of the many beauties of Niagara-on-the-Lake, the strains of "The Conquering Hero" were almost drowned by the cheers of his friends. His colleagues were the first to greet him, but the crowd pressed closely around them, and a hundred hands were thrust forward to grasp his. The procession which had marched from the landing stage to the park quickly reformed and escorted Mr. Ross to the large pavilion, where a formal welcome was extended by Mr. H. M. Mowat, K. C., President of the Toronto Reform Association. Most men, if called upon the moment they concluded an exhausting ocean and land journey to address an open-air meeting of welcome, would acknowledge the compliment in a very general way and plead fatigue. That is a word that has no place in the Premier's vocabulary, and in a voice vibrant and full of power he delivered an address eloquent, broad-minded, Imperialistic and practical, that will stir the loyalty and stimulate the thought of every Canadian. It was the speech of a leader of men, a leader in thought and in action.

Address of Welcome.

H. M. Mowat, in welcoming the Premier, said that there were present old Liberals, new Liberals, Imperialists and clean Grits, men who love a leader who leads. The Liberals had always admired Mr. Ross' leadership, which was characterized by a set and honest purpose. He said, in the coming campaign, Liberals would fall in behind the leader, in whom they had such confidence.

The Premier's Reply.

Replying, Mr. Ross said he would be strangely constituted indeed if he did not appreciate the welcome that had been accorded him. He left Ontario for two purposes. He wanted to look over the British ground for himself and he needed a holiday. He had conversed with many prominent people in England, and he felt that he was now better equipped for his duties than he ever was before. He was returning in good health and spirits, quite satisfied that Canada is prosperous.

It was gratifying that public opinion had changed in England with regard to Canada, but it would not hurt if they were better informed with regard to Canada than they are. While the speaker was in England he tested the feeling of Englishmen on several matters affecting Canada. The policy of England with regard to preferential trade was touched upon, and Mr. Ross said the English regard the preference as a tangible gift which Canada has laid at the feet of the Empire, and they express approval of what Canada has done. The attitude of Canada towards the Empire in the South African war has struck a chord in the hearts of the English people which nothing else could have done.

The Premier said he had remonstrated with public men with regard to the feeling of indifference that exists in some quarters to the colonies, but he believed that we ourselves have not done our full duty in bringing Canada before the notice of the Empire. It was very difficult to get Englishmen to sit down and consider specially the affairs of one colony alone. In a conversation with Mr. Chamberlain he had asked why it was that England had not given more attention to the affairs of Canada, and the Colonial Secretary answered that Canada was not the only colony, and, while England has done as much as she could, she was not able to deal with Canada as generously as Canadians think she ought to have done.

We must broaden our ideas, said Mr. Ross. We have a world-wide Empire, and it may take some time to work out the possibilities of trade within the Empire.

He had investigated the possibilities of the British market for Canadian products. He had come through the Liverpool and Manchester markets, and had found that nine-tenths of the products exhibited in those markets we were able to supply as well as they can buy elsewhere, and yet Canada does not supply more than 10 per cent.

Is there any hope that Britain will give a preference to Canadian goods in her markets? He had pressed it on Englishmen that they are doing as much for their enemies as they are for their friends. There is a strong undercurrent of feeling in favor of a preference. They have got settled down to accept the doctrine of free trade, so that anyone who advocates any other policy is looked upon as a heretic. Public men hesitate to express themselves on this question. Public opinion cannot be moulded in a day; but the Premier felt sure that England was coming more into touch with the outlying portions of the Empire.

We share in the protection of every dollar expended on the British navy. he continued; and, speaking with many public men, he suggested that the trade of the Empire should be taxed 5 per cent. for the protection of the commerce, and he also thought that, since the public are overburdened by taxation through the war, the burden must be shifted in a way to create a war defence fund. We have room here for 50,000,000 or 60,000,000, he said, discussing Canada's prospects for growth.

The attention he received, as the representative of Ontario, exceeded his expectations. He had been asked the feeling of Canada towards the war, and he told them that the war must go on to a satisfactory conclusion.

He had heard of the prosperity of Canada while he was away, and of the great success of the harvesting operations.

The Premier, adverting to the terms of the address, said of the Opposition and its leader: "I am glad that peace and quiteness reigns in political circles. (Cheers.) I learn that Mr. Whitney made a speech while I was away; that was to be expected, he can't help making a speech. (Laughter.) I received the paper with a portion of his speech as I was embarking at Liverpool and I read that speech, and learned that he thought the policy of the Liberal party is so good that he must imitate it in every particular. (Laughter and cheers.) Imitation is the highest form of flattery. The President in speaking told you that you are all here a happy family of Liberals. The whole people of Ontario is Liberal to-day. Mr. Whitney confesses he is of that opinion when he accepts holus bolus the Liberal Government's policy. (Cheers.) There could be no opposition against it, otherwise the Conservatives could not have had the pleasure of adopting it. The Conservatives are, I believe, loyal to Ontario. I believe that every plank in the Liberal platform is a good plank for Ontario, and that every step we have taken toward the development of New Ontario is a step in the right direction. I am glad to believe so, and I have the utmost confidence when we go to the electors that will be the verdict of the people of the Province of Ontario. It cannot be otherwise, or we would have entirely forgotten and overlooked that which is to our best interests."

Concluding, he said: "I thank you for the kind references to Mrs. Ross. She is a tower of strength to the Ontario Government. (Cheers.) She is the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. I was almost going to say she is a pool of Siloam, where you can get healing for some of your troubles. (Laughter and cheers.) I thank you for your kind references to her. The part which a good woman can play in the government of a country cannot easily be defined nor very easily be expressed. (Applause.) You seem to know it. I know it and feel it, and I am sure she knows and feels it, too, and I hope this cordial reception which you have given me to-day will have the effect of giving me more earnestness and zeal in the service of my native country than I ever possessed before. (Cheers.)

"I am nothing if I am not a Canadian. It is enough to be a Canadian; it is enough for all of us to feel that we have all that we need here to call forth our greatest energies, and whether we win or lose—in the electoral lists, I mean, and we are going to win the next—(cheers)—we must always feel that the great struggle of politics involves something more than party success; it involves the perpetuation of British institutions, modelled to suit the Canadian mind, the perpetuation of freedom, the perpetuation of civil and religious liberty, of justice to minorities, of respect for the law, and the manly recognition of the rights of the weaker party, if there be a weaker party. (Cheers.) I thank you for the reception you have given me."

The conclusion of Mr. Ross' address was the signal for an outburst of great cheering, which was only cut short by the announcement that it was time to leave for the boat.

Met at the Wharf.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—The Chippewa arrived in Toronto about 8.30, and a number of friends of the Premier, who were not able to cross the lake, met him at the wharf. Carriages were taken and Mr. and Mrs. Ross were driven to their home, accompanied by about a score of prominent Liberals.

The Two Archers.

Love and Death are both depicted as archers. When Love sets his arrrow in a woman's heart and she turns and follows, seeking healing of her hurt, could there be aught sadder than that she should be led by very Love into the ambush where Death, arrow on string, waits to plant his deadly shaft in her breast? Yet so it is. Time and again Love proves to be Death's decoy. And often when the grim archer fails to inflict mortal hurt, he leaves the suffering woman to creep through life like a broken-winged bird.

Why does love lead to suffering? Many a woman has asked that question piteously and passionately. She has forsaken father and mother to cleave unto her husband in the belief that so she was achieving woman's highest happiness. But instead of happiness she has found misery, struggled with it until struggle seemed useless, and at last has come to accept her misery as the "cross" laid upon women who love and marry.

There is no real reason why almost every wife and mother should not enjoy sound health. The causes of her misery lie in diseases which affect the delicate, womanly organism. Disagreeable drains are carrying away the vital force. Inflammation has lighted its fire for slow torment. Ulceration is eating into the tender tissues. Female weakness is making life a daily martyrdom. Is it any wonder that the nerves are racked, that appetite fails, and night, which should bring rest, brings only restless and troubled dreams?

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It dries the drains, puts out the fire of inflammation, heals the ulcerated tissues and cures female weakness. In a word, it makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" is a true temperance medicine. It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or other narcotic.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free of charge. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. In a little more than thirty years Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured over half a million women. Write, without fear or fee, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

HAD GIVEN UP HOPE.

"It is with feelings of sincere gratitude that I again write to you," says Mrs. Harry A. Brown, of Orono, Penobscot County, Maine. "I wrote to you concerning my health last Spring (I think it was in June), and you advised me to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did according to directions, and continued taking them for five months. I took nine bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' six of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. My disease was displacement and ulceration of the uterus, and I was in a terrible condition with pain and weakness, and had given up all hopes of ever being well again. Had doctored with four different doctors within four months, and instead of getting better was growing weaker all the time. I decided to try your medicines, as I had heard of the many cures resulting from their use. I bought five bottles and felt so much better after using them that I kept on until I am as well as ever in my life, and to Dr. Pierce all the praise is due.

"Before I began taking your medicine I only weighed 112 pounds. I now weigh 160 pounds. I gained forty pounds in six months. I shall doctor no more with doctors, as it is only a waste of money. No matter what my trouble is, I shall write to Dr. Pierce every time. I am now in perfect health, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or for cloth binding send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PRINCIPAL GRANT VERY ILL.

Received a Severe Chill on His Way Up the St. Lawrence From England.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 23.—Principal Grant of Queen's University, a passenger on the steamer Lake Megantic, arrived in Montreal on Friday night from London. On his way up the St. Lawrence he received a severe chill, and, on disembarking, found himself so seriously ill as to prevent his going to Ottawa, as previously arranged. On arrival in Kingston his condition was found to be so serious that he was removed to the hospital. During the afternoon and night grave anxiety was felt by his physician, Dr. Garrett, as to his recovery. His condition yesterday morning was slightly improved, and a still further improvement was noticed last evening, but he is still most critically ill. He has a complication of diseases.

His illness was the cause of his non-attendance at the investiture at Ottawa on Saturday.

The Very Rev. George Monro Grant, C.M.G., is 66 years of age, and, although a Nova Scotian by birth and therefore hardy, cannot be called altogether robust at his time of life.

Too Great a Risk.

It is dangerous to neglect a simple case of itching piles, as the trouble is likely to become chronic, and develop into fatal insurable fistula or cancer of the rectum. A single application of Dr. Chase's Ointment will quickly relieve the itching and burning sensation and a few boxes will cure any case of piles. This standard ointment has probably relieved more suffering than any preparation you can mention.

When Turtles Were Big.

Of the turtles it may be said that they represent the most ancient type of all vertebrates, resembling closely as they do the reptiles of their kind which existed so far back as the mesozoic era. There were sea tortoises during that epoch which measured 20 feet in spread of flippers, while some tertiary tortoises were not less big in body, measuring 12 feet from head to tail.

London Bridges.

Here is the history of London's bridges in brief: Westminster bridge was begun in 1738 and finished in 1746, Blackfriars bridge in 1760 and finished in 1770, Waterloo bridge in 1811 and opened on June 18, 1817; Southwark iron bridge in 1814 and finished in 1819 and the present London bridge in 1824, being opened on Aug. 1, 1831.

The Penalty.

"Did Mrs. Highlife's traveling gown fit well?"

"Yes, but it cost so much she had to give up her trip and stay at home."—Tit-Bits.

STRETCH OUT.

Many a man is unable to stretch his arms or legs because of rheumatism. There is no excuse for this state of affairs. Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure will remove the disease in short order. In the case of Henry Hosier, Flinton, Ont., two bottles made him as sound as ever. He had suffered from muscular rheumatism in his arms and legs for two months and was perfectly helpless. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

Cultivate Good Health

Feed the Nerves Enrich the Blood, Revitalize the Whole Body by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Whenever there is an ache or pain, when the appetite fails, when there are sleepless nights, and momentary spells of weakness, look for the cause and see that it is removed at once.

Cultivate good health while yet there is something to build on, instead of waiting until the nerve force is depleted and vitality completely exhausted.

To persons suffering the results of thin blood and wasted nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies all the needs of the system and brings perfect health.

Mrs. E. McLaughlin, 95 Parliament street, Toronto, states:—"My daughter was pale, weak, languid and very nervous, her appetite was poor and changeable, she could scarcely drag herself about the house, and her nerves were completely unstrung, she could not sleep for more than half an hour at a time without starting up and crying out in excitement.

"As she was growing weaker and weaker I became alarmed, and got a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. She used this treatment for some weeks, and from the first we noticed a decided improvement. Her appetite became better, she gained in weight, the colour returned to her face, and she gradually became strong and well. I cannot say too much in favour of this wonderful treatment, since it has proven such a blessing to my daughter."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food occupies a field by itself, and is unique in the respect, that it cures by forming new, rich blood and nerve force, building up the system and increasing the weight.

It is a reconstructant, restorative and revitalizer of most unusual merit, which sends new life and new vigor to every part of the body, and gradually and permanently cures all nervous troubles and diseases, resulting from weak blood and low vitality. 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

LAST AND FIRST DAYS

Doings of Royal Party at Ottawa on Saturday and Sunday.

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS.

Saturday Was a Busy Day—The Duke Invested the Recipients of Imperial Honors, Presented the Medals Including Lieut. Holland's V.C., and Unveiled the New Victoria Statue.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Saturday the ceremony of the investiture of the several Canadian gentlemen honored in connection with the royal visit took place in the ballroom at Rideau Hall. Sir John Anderson read the King's warrant, and the several recipients were presented by Viscount Creighton. The latter carried the coveted ensignia on a silk cushion, from which it was received by the Duke, who pinned it on the breast of the chosen one. The Governor-General and Countess of Minto were present. Her Royal Highness was not present.

Mr. Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., bowed three times before the Duke, who touched him on both shoulders with his sword. Mr. Shaughnessy arose Sir Edward Shaughnessy.

Amongst those who were honored was Mr. Oliver A. Howland, Mayor of Toronto.

At 11.30 the royal party began a drive through Hull, visiting the Eddy Works. After the drive His Royal Highness unveiled the new Victoria statue immediately west of the west block of the Parliament Buildings, and presented South African war medals to a long list of officers, non-commissioned officers and men, including Col. Otter. The coveted Victoria Cross was pinned on the breast of Lieut. E. J. Holland for gallantry in action.

In presenting the medals the procedure adopted on the Plains of Abraham was followed, those entitled to the decorations passing one by one before the Duke, who handed them their medals.

The unveiling of the statue and presentation of the war medals was witnessed by thousands of sightseers, and was the occasion for a display of enthusiasm unequalled since the Duke landed at Quebec.

The Duke lunched at the Rideau Club, and in the afternoon the royal visitors attended a garden party at Government House.

SUNDAY AT OTTAWA.

Their Royal Highnesses Attended Service at Christ Church Cathedral.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Yesterday was a day of welcome rest for the royal visitors. Their Royal Highnesses attended divine service in the morning at Christ Church Cathedral. They were escorted to and from the sacred edifice by a detachment of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, and were cheered frequently en route. Both were plainly attired. There were no special decorations in the church, Their Royal Highnesses having expressed a desire that everything should be of the plainest character, as they were attending service not as Prince and Princess, but as members of the Church of England.

As the royal pair, accompanied by Lord and Lady Minto and Prince Alexander of Teck, and attended by their entourage, entered the church they were met by Church Wardens Orr and Moore and escorted to a front pew, the congregation standing till Their Royal Highnesses were seated. Both entered most heartily into the service, their voices being heard throughout the singing. Prince Alexander of Teck also possesses a good voice and sang in all the musical parts of the service.

The surpliced choir led in the procession from the vestry, the Bishop of Ottawa, resplendent in gorgeous vestments, followed, wearing the mitre and carrying the crozier in his hand. The sermon was preached by the cathedral rector, Rev. H. Kittson, from the first verse of St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians, "And they glorified God in one." The clergymen who assisted at the service were: Rev. Mr. Loucks, Rev. E. W. Richards, and Rev. J. Pitt Lewis of Toronto. The benediction was pronounced by Bishop Hamilton, and at the conclusion of the service the National Anthem was sung.

The Duke and Duchess each placed a sovereign upon the collection plate. Both pieces went into the possession of Church Wardens Moore and Orr as souvenirs, who replaced them with United States gold coins.

Will See Illuminations.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—News was received last night that the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall will prolong their stay in the city on Thursday until 10 p. m., instead of 5 in the afternoon. It is gratifying information and citizens are now hustling to arrange for big illuminations.

The Pain of Sore Feet.

Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief bathe the feet in warm water and then rub them with Polson's Nerviline. It penetrates the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nerviline is a protection and safeguard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures :rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, etc. 25c

Suicide in Etobicoke.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—A sad case of suicide occurred on Saturday morning at the residence of Mr. Keilam, Etobicoke. Mr. Thomas Dobson, a farmer of Clairville, had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Keilam, and was rather morose as a result of having his horse and buggy stolen out of his stable a few weeks ago. He picked up a big knife and cut his throat from ear to ear. He leaves a widow and grown-up family.

SHOE SELLING
FOR FAIR WEEK.

Just breaking into the Fall and winter season comes a week of Shoe Selling during Fair week. For fair week buyers we point to the merits of the stock we have on view. Each line the best for its purpose. Each Shoe perfect in make, material, style and finish. To wear our shoes is to be convinced of their merits.

A list of prices is sometimes esteemed dry reading. It may be to some, but should not be to the buyer. It shows comparative values, it tells the kind of Shoe at a stated price. Our lists are interesting, for the Shoe, at the price, will be found of very superior value, our facilities enabling us to offer the equal of the largest departmental stores. Our necessity, our whole trade, is Shoes. We share in the great advantage that arises from buying wholesale for Seven Stores. Hence lower prices, hence lower to customers. Scan this Fair Week List—fall and winter shoes are now seasonable. Let the list help you to decide.

GAVE LIFE FOR COMPANION.

Ezra Pixley Rescues Friend From Burning Silo, But Perishes Himself.

Napanee, Sept. 23.—By the burning of a barn on the farm of William Rutledge, two miles from Sydenham, Ezra Pixley Saturday morning lost his life. About 7 o'clock some men were engaged in filling a silo with corn, when suddenly from some unknown cause flames burst from the barn. In the first excitement the other men forgot about their two comrades, A. Dunn and Ezra Pixley, who were in the silo. Left to their own resources, Pixley gallantly assisted Dunn out of the silo and laid down his own life. Dunn threw him a ladder, but he was unable to reach it in time. Finally a hole was cut in the silo, but Pixley was not there. It is supposed that he succeeded in getting out and escaped into the cow stable, where he was cut off by the flames and perished. Mr. Pixley was about 45 years of age, and leaves a wife and family. Mr. Rutledge, owner of the barn, is reported seriously injured as a result of his attempts to subdue the flames.

ELEVEN YEARS A CLOSE PRISONER.

Story of a Quebec Man's Trial and His Long Unearned Punishment.

His Recent Marvelous Escape by the Aid of Dodd's Kidney Pills—His Gratitude to the Help That Saved Him—Six Boxes Completely Restored Him to Health.

St. Patrice, Lotbiniere, Que., Sept. 22nd.—(Special.) — A sad story of unjust imprisonment is that told by Phillippe Boissonbealt of this place. His case was worse than that of the ordinary prisoner for his bonds were those of pain and disease. For eleven years they held him, a hopeless victim, chained, tortured, a slave to Kidney Disease.

Who is there in the world that thinks man was intended to suffer, that he merits his fate, that he deserves the afflictions disease put on him? Surely no one thinks that. We were put here to be happy, to be healthy and free from disease. Nobody will say that Phillippe Boissonneault of St. Patrice, deserves his long punishment, and nobody but will rejoice to learn that through the aid of a wonderful medicine — Dodd's Kidney Pills — he has escaped.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, the remedy that proved such a boon, have made a reputation all over the world in curing of diseases of and arising from the kidneys. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Backache, Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Woman's Disorders, Dropsy, Nervousness and Blood Impurities all come within the scope of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Dodd's Kidney Pills have testimonials for the cure of all of them. Phillippe Boissonneault's case was the common form of Kidney Disease.

"For eleven years I have suffered untold agony with Backache, which crippled me as though I was barred and shackled. I have taken all sorts of remedies, nothing doing me any good. I read in Dodd's Almanac what was recommended for the Kidneys. I decided to try them, and sent for six boxes, though without confidence, but to-day I am completely cured and thank Dodd's Kidney Pills alone for it."

The Imperial Life's

Double Settlement Policy has been Termed "The Ideal Form of Insurance Investment." Have you examined it?

W. G. Morrow,
AGENT, PETERBOROUGH.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355.92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

THE LATE COLONEL LOUCKS.

His Demise Occurred at About Midnight on Saturday.

The announcement of the death of Colonel Loucks on Saturday night last, will be received with the most profound regret by his many friends. His pleasant smile and courteous manner will live long in the memory of all who ever came in contact with him.

The deceased had been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever at the Nicholls Hospital for the past four weeks and was thought to be on the fair road to recovery, when complications set in a few days ago, which were of too insiduous a nature to be successfully combatted.

Mr. Loucks had been a resident of Peterborough for over 15 years. He was a native of Marmora, being a son of the late Geo. Loucks, Esq., of that place. Six years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Kennedy, of town, who survives him with one son, Donald. Mrs. W. H. Meredith, of town, is a sister of the deceased.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of Mr. W. H. Meredith, No. 576 Aylmer street.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Thomas Mann, of Bridgenorth, From Heart Disease.

An awfully sudden death occurred last night to Mrs. Thomas Mann, of Bridgenorth. She was in her apparent usual good health yesterday, and attended church at Bridgenorth in the evening. This morning, however, she was found cold in death in her bed, death being due to heart disease.

The late Mrs. Mann's maiden name was Hannah Nicholls, and she was 58 years of age. Her husband predeceased her a number of years.

She leaves a family of two — Mr. Charles Henry Mann of Hamilton, and Miss Margaret Mann of Peterborough. Mr. A. R. Nicholls, of the Peter Hamilton Co., and Mr. Thos. R. Nicholls of Lakefield, are brothers of deceased, and Mrs. R. Northey, of Clare, Mich., is a sister of deceased.

The funeral will leave her late residence, Bridgenorth, at ten a.m., on Wednesday morning and proceed to the Lakefield cemetery.

AT THE LIFT LOCK.

Many Visitors to the Work Yesterday—Great Progress.

The lift lock yesterday was visited by several hundred people. The day was fine and many therefore took advantage of the occasion to pay a visit to this wonderful piece of work. It is fast assuming a finished state and a year from now visitors to the lock should see it completed. About the only concreting to do now is in building the towers and this is being rapidly pushed forward. Considerable grading has already been done and the entrance on either side to the Cox driveway through the centre of the big concrete structure is in condition to use.

No one is allowed up on top of the lock these days, and yesterday a man in charge saw that these orders were strictly adhered to. Great satisfaction was expressed at the progress of the work by all those who were over to the scene of operations.

Keep in mind the variety entertainment, comprising the full programme of attractions for the Central Fair, to be given in the Market Hall Wednesday evening, 25th. Admission to all parts of hall, 25 cents. 1d

MAYOR DENNE IS HOME.

He Had a Very Pleasant Visit to the Old Country.

He Visited the Glasgow Exhibition and Many Other Places of Interest—An Interview.

His Worship Mayor T. H. G. Denne, and Mrs. Denne, arrived home this morning after a most delightful seven weeks' visit to the Old Country. His Worship is looking in splendid health, and speaks most enthusiastically of what he saw while away. However, Mayor Denne perhaps speaks more enthusiastically of the Glasgow exhibition than anything else, and he thinks that the money spent by Canada in her exhibit is expended to good advantage. No colony in the British Empire has the splendid exhibit that Canada has, and considering the fact that there have been seven million people pass through the exposition gates already, Mayor Denne would like to know what better advertising medium one would want. He saw ex-Alderman Oke, who is always pleased to see his Peterborough friends. He and Mrs. Oke are enjoying the very best of health, and wish to be kindly remembered to their friends here.

The exhibits of the Peterborough and English Canoe Companies were something of which his worship felt proud, and he thinks should prove to be of great benefit to the exhibitors. The Canadian manufacturers are holding their own against all competitors.

Mayor Denne met many people whom he had laid out especially to see, and amongst these was Miss Sophia Cameron, of Aberdeen, daughter of Mr. Charles Cameron, of town. He also met Lt.-Colonel O'Brien, and Commissioner Scott.

The Mayor tells a very amusing story, which illustrates the ignorance many of the people are in as to the extent and conditions existing in Canada. He was travelling on a railway train between London and Dover. The train was crowded, and a woman and a little girl were wanting a seat very badly. In making the best possible accommodation for the two, Mayor Denne suggested that he take the little one on his knee, which suggestion was readily agreed to by the fond parent and the little one. The Mayor is naturally fond of children, and soon a conversation began with his new acquaintance. He asked her a number of questions, which she readily answered, and then she turned to the man on whose knee she was, and asked him a few questions. In reply to the first, Mayor Denne said he was from Canada. "Canada," said the little one; "Oh, mamma, this gentleman comes from the place where we send missionaries!" From what the little girl expressed in her subsequent conversation, she thought Canada was a vast wilderness, where the school children were devoured by the hungry bears on their way to school, and many other such vague ideas seemed to be implanted in her little brain.

Mr. and Mrs. Denne in fact had a trip that they enjoyed very much. Mr. Denne cannot speak too highly of the attention that was paid them by Mr. and Mrs. Oke. The former did everything in his power to assist Peterborough's Mayor in obtaining knowledge of municipal affairs, and introduced him to the Lord Provost of the city.

A SIXTY DAY TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yelland Arrived Home This Morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yelland arrived home this morning after a 60 days' visit to friends and relatives in Manitoba. Mr. Yelland to the Examiner spoke most enthusiastically of what he saw in the country he travelled. The Winnipeg exhibition was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Yelland on their way out. They then went up the line about 25 miles beyond Brandon. At Souris they met many old Peterborough people, amongst them being a couple of sons of Joseph Scott. They also ran across Mr. Waller, of town, who has a magnificent crop this season. A brother of Mr. Frank Smith, of town, is located here. At Glenbury, Mr. Yelland met a cousin of his, Mr. Wm. Down, whom he had not seen in 45 years, and who came to Canada just one year before Mr. Yelland did. Griswold, where they made their head quarters, is in the centre of a rich wheat country and an elevator at this place took in 30 loads of grain in the morning that Mr. Yelland was leaving.

THE 57TH REGIMENT.

The Weekly Parade Will be Held To-morrow Night.

Only a few more night's drill of the 57th Regiment before they go up to the Queen City to see the "Dook." To-morrow night the weekly drill of the Regiment will be held and it is important that there should be a good turn out. No one who intends going up with the Regiment should absent himself from drill from this out. Last Tuesday night the men learned a thing or two, but there is always room for improvement. The officers of the various companies and the section commanders are becoming extremely enthusiastic and are bringing in a lot of new blood. No. 4 will be greatly augmented to-morrow night by the addition of a number of recruits. The band will be on hand and a good smart march out may be expected.

COUNTY COURT.

A Case That was up Before His Honour Judge Weller.

A special sitting of the County Court of the County of Peterborough was held on Saturday last before His Honour Judge Weller. The case that was up for hearing was that of Messrs. Poussette & McWilliams vs. Mrs. T. G. Haslett.

The action arises out of the sale of Mrs. Haslett's residence, corner of London and Water streets to Mr. Scott, of the American Cereal Co., and on which the plaintiffs claim to be entitled to a commission of $140. The hearing of the evidence was continued most of the day, and judgment was then reserved.

He was Shot in the Leg on Saturday—Now in the Hospital.

Johnny Fraser, a boy of about 16 years of age, who is employed by William Lech & Sons, met with a rather serious accident on Saturday. He was out shooting with a number of comrades, and the firearm which he was using was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his leg, about the knee. He was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, and although an effort was made to locate the bullet the physicians have failed to recover it yet. The accident is looked upon as quite serious.

REV. E. A. LANGFELDT IN ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The New Rector Conducted the Services Yesterday.

Large Congregations Were in Attendance—The Sermons Commanded the Closest Attention.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt occupied the pulpit of St. Luke's church at both services, yesterday, having now fully entered upon his duties as rector. Large congregations were in attendance both morning and evening and the addresses of the new incumbent were listened to with the closest attention. Mr. Langfeldt is an impressive speaker with a strong personal magnetism. His words are well chosen and are delivered with fluency and ease. The mantle of Rev. Dr. Symonds, as a pulpit orator, has evidently decended upon worthy shoulders.

In his evening discourse Mr. Langfeldt spoke from I. Corinthians, V. Chapter, 7th and 8th Verses—

"Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us.

Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

A clear and lucid explanation of the characteristics of the feast of the Jewish Passover was given by the speaker and used as an illustration in connection with the needs in the life of a Christian of the present day. The Almighty commanded that the month of the Passover, which was the seventh month of the year, should be known as the first month and to this day the Jewish year begins on that month. The Spiritual significance of this circumstance is found in the fact that a man's life in reality begins when the Light reaches his soul. He has a second birth when the trust of God is in his heart. A man may enjoy the respect of the community and the admiration and esteem of his fellowmen, but he will have no life unless he can claim the Lord Jesus Christ as his own.

At the beginning of the Passover there was no life for Israel, but once the blood was on the lintel and on the door posts the Isrealites were new men. From slaves they rose to be warriors and free men. They were freed from Pharoah's yoke. It is a glorious gospel, this Gospel of Jesus Christ, which is preached to down trodden slaves. The Lord Jesus Christ can give you joy and liberty. There is freedom from sin if you take God's way for he that abides sinneth not.

The twelfth chapter of Exodus, continued the speaker, is full of references to the Passover. What is the spiritual significance of the command that there shall be no leaven in the bread? St. Paul says:

"Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

This leaven is the craving in you which makes you long to sin. It must be cast out.

"Purge ye out therefore the old leaven."

They were not only to purge out the old leaven but to eat of the flesh of the lamb. This latter is one thing needful for Christians to learn to do — to eat the flesh. It is to receive the words of God in your heart by the power of the Holy Ghost. Apply it by faith. Then it is that your Bible becomes of interest to you.

Eat not of the flesh raw.

Many men in the church are able to discourse fluently on doctrine and have studied well the historical references to God's life and the Bible, which latter they style a record of the traditions of the epoch — they have eaten of the flesh raw.

The speaker considered that there was no time in the history of the Christian church when the outlook was so dark as this respect as it is in the present day.

The flesh must be eaten roasted, and with flame.

If the Bible is not interesting to you then, be sure that you have not life in Christ Jesus.

It is not enough for the Lamb to die, but the blood must be sprinkled. The argument is often heard that as God died for sin, the world should be saved. It is true that God died for sin, but as the killing of the lamb was not sufficient to save from the Angel of Death, so the death of Christ is not sufficient. The command was that the blood must be sprinkled, and God can only show mercy in the case of the blood of the Lamb being applied to the hearts in faith of Christ Jesus.

And there is a sad ending, concludad the Rector, in the case where the warning sent out has been neglected. The Angel of Death visited the home where the blood was not sprinkled on the lintel and the doorposts, and so will it be with many of your dear ones who have also neglected the warning to take Christ into their hearts.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Lizzie H. Robb and Mr. Lewis J Hatherly.

A very quiet wedding was celebrated on the lawn at "Sunny Side Farm," Garden Hill, on Wednesday, September 18th, at two o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. J. Robb, when Mr. Lewis J. Hatherly, of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Lizzie Evelyn, second daughter of Mrs. Robb.

Rev. J. McIntosh of Centreville, performed the ceremony, and only immediate relatives were present.

The bride was attired in her travelling gown of brown ladies' cloth, with cream satin and velvet trimmings, and carried an unusually handsome bouquet of white asters.

Miss Gracie Robb, of Toronto, a nice of the bride, acted as flower girl. She looked charming, dressed in white organdie, trimmed with lace, and carrying a beautiful basket of pink flowers.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room, where they sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner.

The happy couple left for their future home in Peterborough by the 5 o'clock train.

The house was most tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers. The bride was the recipient of many appropriate wedding gifts from friends in Toronto, Peterborough and other places. All unite in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

GOING BACKWARDS.

The Street Tracks are Being Torn up on George Street.

Is Peterborough going backwards, or are the people of the town too fond of exercise to use street cars as a means of transportation? This question might arise in the mind of a stranger should he pay a visit to the corner of Smith and George streets, or from Smith street down some distance on George street.

A large gang of men are at present engaged in tearing up the ties and rails of the once flourishing street railway. The men were not, of course, put on for the purpose alone of tearing up the track, but the sewer construction which is proceeding south on George street renders it necessary to take up the track and it is not at all likely that it will be replaced. The ties and rails are lying at the side of the road, and the track that not many years ago was laid with so much care, and expense, is being torn up and cast aside with no more jar of the conscience on the part of the labourers than if it were a reed by the roadside.

Costly Barber Shop Fittings.

This week, the most enterprising proprietor of the most up-to-date tonsorial quarters in town, Alive C. LeGros, has put the finishing touches on his swell equipment, by the addition of three elegant new barber chairs. It is claimed that they are more stylish and more modern than anything of the kind to be found in the city of Toronto. They are called the "Pedestal" hydraulic chair, a new design, made by Koken of Cincinnati. It enables the barber to stand closer to the customer and to move around with greater freedom. They are raised, lowered, revolved or reclined by the action of one lever; made of quarter cut golden oak; beautifully nickle plated, and upholstered in green plush, costing the snug sum of $85.00 each without the duty. Charley intends to keep things revolving.

SHOULD BE A HOLIDAY.

On the Occasion of the Duke of York's Visitation in Toronto.

A great many of the citizens are anxious to see Thursday, Oct. 10th, set apart as a Civic Holiday in order that those who wish to do so, may have an opportunity of witnessing the reception to be extended to the vice-Royal party in Toronto.

It has been pointed out that on that day business will be demoralized to a greater or less extent in any case by reason of the fact that the presence of the 57th Regiment in Toronto will necessitate the absence from town of several hundred men and over a hundred more will be also going up to Toronto to sing in the Royal chorus. It must be taken into consideration, also, that all citizens who can possibly get away on that day to see the sights will doubtless do so, and thus business, as stated, will be at a stand still anyway and the proclamation of a general holiday would be received with a feeling of satisfaction by all classes.

His Worship Mayor Danne is now at home and will doubtless take the matter into consideration at once in order that those wishing to go to Toronto can begin to make their arrangements at once.

GOLF.

Members of out of town clubs who will participate in the tournament of the Royal Canadian Gold Association, Toronto, which commences on the grounds of the Toronto Golf Club on 25th Sept., are beginning to arrive in Toronto, the earliest being Mr. Pattison of Hamilton. Other members of the Hamilton Club will arrive on Monday or Tuesday, and on these days will arrive the contingents from London, Quebec, Montreal and Peterborough. The weather has been everything that could be desired for the getting of the grounds in order and it is confidently expected that the meet will be one of the most successful, both in point of numbers and class of the golf, that the association has yet held. The entries for the championship close at six o'clock on Tuesday, the 24th inst., but those for the handicap are open till the same hour on Friday, the 27th inst. During the tournament no private dinner parties can be accommodated at the club house. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun will represent the Peterborough Club.

LACROSSE.

The citizens of Port Hope are worked up to a high pitch of excitement over the coming match between Port Hope and the winners of Owen Sound-Stratford game, for the Intermediate championship of the C.L.A. It is understood that Port Hope will send a delegation up to see the Owen Sound game in order to get an idea of the style of play these two teams put up.

RUGBY.

The Nicholls oval presented a very pretty appearance on Saturday afternoon. The day was superb football weather and the boys were out in full force. A number of new men were on hand and a fairly good practice was held. Captain Burnham gave his men a splendid work out but the scrimmage needs strengthening up before the first game, which takes place on Saturday, Oct. 5th.

TENNIS.

The Lindsay tennis players won from Port Perry on Friday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Mr. Editor,—Religious controversy is seldom, if ever, productive of good. To publicly make use of another's name without the permission or consent of the other is said to be a violation of individual rights. Personal effort for betterment is praiseworthy, but struggles against adversity are common to all. Perfection is far in the distance, and it is foolish to boast. Suffice it is to confront the universal foe of man—evil.

WAS KEPT BUSY.

Rev. Elmore Harris D. D., in Town Yesterday—At St. Paul's.

Rev. Dr. Elmore Harris, of Toronto, was in town over Sunday, and was a very busy man while here. Rev. Dr. Harris is not a stranger to the Peterborough public, and he is a speaker that when one hears him once he is anxious to hear him again. Consequently there is always a big demand for the reverend doctor's services when he is in town, and there are also very large congregations to greet him. Yesterday morning he preached in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, in the afternoon he addressed the young men at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, and in the evening he delivered another powerful sermon in Murray street Baptist Church. His remarks on all three occasions were interesting, and delivered in that free and easy manner which always characterizes his preaching.

In the morning at St. Paul's Rev. Dr. Harris took as his text the first verse of the second chapter of Philippians, "If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the spirit, etc." The theme of the reverend gentleman's discourse was the relationship of the Holy Spirit to the Father and the Son. In the course of his deep thought remarks he went on to shew that when we pray for the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, etc., and when we have that fellowship, it is really communion with Christ. We share in the Spirit itself, and are made partakers of the Holy Spirit. Every spiritual blessing that comes to us must necessarily come through the Spirit of the loving God. In speaking of the presence of the Holy Spirit he endeavoured to show that while Christ said that He is in the midst of us always, He did not mean that He was there in person, but that He was there in Spirit—in the person of the Holy Ghost. In explaining how communion with the Father is brought about, the speaker said that as the atmosphere is essential in transmitting heat from the sun, so is the Holy Spirit essential in its relationship between the Father and Son. Rev. Dr. Harris' concluding remarks were on—"Life and Lightness."

BIBLE STUDY RALLY DAY

At the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday—Rev. Elmore Harris D. D.

Yesterday was Bible Study Rally Day at the Y. M. C. A., it being the third annual event of its kind. Rev. Elmore Harris, D. D., of the Toronto Bible Training School, was the speaker of the day. The meeting of workers at 9.30 a.m., was well attended, when Mr. Harris spoke of equipment for service. In the afternoon a large attendance of men listened with wrapt attention for an hour to a masterly portrayel of the Life of Christ as pictured by the four evangelists, pointing out the value of the four accounts as well as the necessity for the same.

Mr. J. Manning, Chairman of the Bible Study Department, presided over the meeting and gave a brief outline of the plan of work and the classes for Bible study for the approaching season. These are outlined in a folder,—"The Source of Life," a copy of which can be had from any active member of the Association, or at the office. Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang the "Harbour Bell" at the afternoon service.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

ST. JOHN'S.

Last night at St. John's Rev. J. C. Davidson took as his subject "The Worship of the Body," dealing with several popular misconceptions. Some people failed to understand the services of the Church because they involved a little bodily effort in kneeling or standing,— as if the Church ought to be made a place for an easy lounge or an exciting entertainment. But surely the centre to which our thoughts should turn in church was not self, but God, and the truest type of service was that through which God could be best glorified by all the best faculties of man. Of these the Spirit was far the most important, but not the only one. As created, redeemed and sustained by God, the body had a distinct duty to Him. Again, the worship of the Spirit found a natural and fitting expression through the acts of the body. This principle was generally recognized by the value every one put on acts of courtesy—it was no excuse for the man who refused to do a courteous act to say that he had polite feelings in spite of it. Men said, "If he really has those feelings let him give proper expression to them." Another reason for bodily postures was that the Church was a training school and the bodily actions have a reflex effect—our characters and spirits are imperceptibly moulded by what we do. Pride was one of the sins of the day, and we might all by "neck and knee exercise" take a profitable course in humility. The bodily postures adopted in Divine Worship were really most simple and natural, and were taken directly from the Bible, e.g., standing in praise or prayer; kneeling in contrition and prayer, and bowing in adoration. But it must always be remembered that these outward acts were of secondary importance. They were of no value if mechanically performed, and were intended to foster inward devotion, not as poor substitutes for St. John's Harvest Festival will be held on Thursday next. The sermon will be preached by Rev. R. Seaborn, of Bowmanville. The evening service this year promises to be a musical event of high order. Choir Master Gliddon will be supported not only by his splendid choir, but also by an orchestra, which has kindly offered its services. The offertory will be devoted to a missionary object.

THROAT TROUBLE CURED

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT FROM PARENTS

Read Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's description of the manner in which Powley's Liquified Ozone cured their child:—

THE OZONE COMPANY,

Gentlemen: In view of the very satisfactory results obtained in our family by the use of Ozone, "The New System of Curing Disease," we take great pleasure in sending you for publication a short statement of the same.

Our little girl, now 14 years of age, has been troubled from babyhood with a peculiar throat w[illegible]. Her throat would swell up every little while and seem all to be very distressing. Every known remedy was applied and medical skill appealed to in vain.

Each year the trouble grew worse until it became apparent that the swellings were ulcers on the inside of the throat, from which mucous matter would ooze out on the pillow through the night. Twice they broke outright and discharged a quantity of mucous, mingled with blood and it was at this juncture, when at a loss to know how to cope with the disease, that we heard of Ozone.

Our child has used one small bottle of the remedy, and half a large one, and the ulcerous condition has quite disappeared, while she seems better and stronger in every way.

We cannot recommend Ozone too highly to all sufferers, as we understand it applies alike to all germ disease, and we feel very grateful to the over-ruling Providence that brought it to our notice.

Wishing you much success in London and elsewhere, we are,

Very truly yours,

(Signed) MR. and MRS. CHARLES COOPER, 74 Byron Ave., London, Ont.

Confident and Enthusiastic East York Liberals Nominated Sitting Member.

Markham, Sept. 21.—One of the largest and most enthusiastic mass meetings in the history of the historic riding of East York was held here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Legislature in the Liberal interest. Every part of the riding was well represented, and although a keen contest ensued for the coveted honor of carrying the standard of the Ross Government to victory, there was the same unanimity and harmony which has kept East York from Confederation down to the present time within the Liberal ranks. That Mr. John Richardson, M. P. P., received a clear majority upon the first ballot was most gratifying to him, and speaks volumes for the popularity he has so long retained among the Liberals of East York. And while the friendly struggle furnished a gratifying proof of the solidarity of the Liberal party in the constituency, which presages another addition to the long roll of victories, the incident was useful in demonstrating the splendid array of able and staunch men which the party is able to place in the front whenever the occasion for doing so arises. In response to loud calls from the audience, Hon. Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education, addressed the meeting, his rising being the signal for hearty cheers, which were frequently renewed during the two hours which his address occupied.

A FLOATING PALACE.

LIFE ON SIR THOMAS LIPTON'S STEAM YACHT, THE ERIN.

The Owner of Shamrock II. Has an Ocean Home of Splendid Apartments and Furnishings and Much to Feast Both Mind and Body—The Yacht Also Provides Good Cheer for Its Guests.

Every one is fully aware that Sir Thomas Lipton does not do things by halves, and every one also knows that this is especially true regarding yachting, which is a princely luxury as he conducts it. His outlay on both Shamrocks has been something enormous, and he has not stinted expenditure on the steam yacht Erin, the name of which is already familiar from the fact that in the races in which Shamrock I. sailed for the America's cup two years ago the Erin was very much in evidence as the vessel on which Sir Thomas Lipton entertained his guests.

Well, it is Shamrock II. now, but it is the same Erin, the same flouting hotel, the same miniature sailing palace, and while experts have dilated on the grace and beauty of both Shamrocks the Erin has come in for a share of attention altogether insignificant when one thinks of the role it plays as the ocean home of the popular Sir Thomas.

The Erin was formerly the Aegusa and became Sir Thomas Lipton's property shortly before Shamrock I. sailed for the United States. He purchased it to do double duty—to make a sea home for himself and his friends and to tow the first Shamrock across the Atlantic. It has just performed the same duty for the new Shamrock and now floats gracefully in New York waters. The Erin is 260 feet long, with about 30 feet beam, and carries a complement of 40 men. Most of the crew are English to the core, but there are aboard the yacht three Cingalese, who act as assistant stewards, and a Greek boy, who was picked up by Sir Thomas on the Isle of Crete and who rejoices in the ability to speak eight languages.

The Cingalese servants are a queer looking trio, and their headgear is marvelous, exciting much comment when they landed on United States soil. Indeed, they are followed about by the Staten Island small boy, who marvels much at the picturesque manner in which their jet black tresses are dressed. With their hair combs and queer costumes they might easily masquerade as girls were it not for their mustaches, which, albeit by no means luxuriant, are sufficiently in evidence to show masculinity. If one goes aboard the Erin properly sponsored, he is sure of a hearty welcome and cannot fail to be properly impressed by the splendor of the yacht. Without doubt the most beautiful apartment of the Erin is the central salon. Its walls are hung with paintings in both water colors and oils and are further adorned with photographs of crowned heads, princes and princesses, signed in autograph. There are some remarkable cabinets in this salon, notably two of the Louis XVI. style, the doors being painted with exquisite pastoral scenes. Among the many objects of art and value inclosed in the these cabinets is a specimen of real Irish pottery which Sir Thomas Lipton prizes above all the continental masterpieces he possesses. It is adorned with the typical Irish flower and was presented by the maker to the Shamrock's owner.

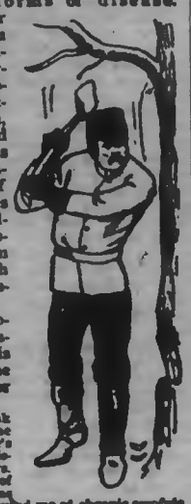
On the main deck of the Erin is the music room, where many a jolly evening is spent. The chief attraction here is an automatic piano which cost nearly $1,000. Sir Thomas is very fond of this instrument and often plays upon it, managing the stops for loud and soft with considerable finesse.

Naturally one would expect to find such a yacht well supplied in the way of eatables and drinkables, and one would not be disappointed, for the resources of the Erin in the way of good cheer are ever plentiful, of a nature to delight a gourmet, but to affright a temperance advocate. There is a complete wine cellar aboard stocked with 5,000 bottles of wine. Then there is whiskey in plenty, the Scotch carried on the ship amounting to 1,200 dozen, partly of Lipton's own making. A tobacconist would be well furnished with the stock of cigars to be found on the Erin. Of food there is more than enough, and all of the best.

The dining room is enriched with valuable plate as well as some large ornamental pieces either won by the two Shamrocks or given to Sir Thomas by admiring fellow citizens. The host's cabin and the guestrooms on the yacht are models of taste and comfort. Silk upholstering conceals the walls, and laces and silks are used in the bed coverings. The beds themselves are very spacious, unlike those generally found aboard ordinary steamers.

Woodsmen

Know that in spite of hard work in the clear forest air the blood often becomes impure. The heavy food served in the lumber camps is to a great extent responsible for this condition of the blood, which renders the body an easy prey to many forms of disease. There is no better blood purifier than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures eruptions, pimples, eczema, scrofula, rheumatism, and other diseases caused by an impure condition of the blood. It cures absolutely and altogether by cleansing the blood from the poisons which breed and feed disease.



Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is no other medicine "just as good" for the blood.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. James Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper cover, or 50 cents for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Depew and Platt.

Chauncey M. Depew used to have in his collection of curiosities a certain telegraphic dispatch which never failed to interest the politicians to whom he showed it. The telegram was sent to Mr. Depew, then president of the New York Central railroad, by Mr. Platt shortly before the latter's election to a second term in the senate. It is dated a few stations above Poughkeepsie and reads:

Please stop the noon express here to take on Mrs. Platt and Mr. Platt Too.

"I stopped the train gladly," Mr. Depew would say when he exhibited it. "I am always willing to do a favor for a man who turns a joke on himself."

The Marriage Cure.

One remedy against indigestion is matrimony. At least The Lancet tells us that it is the celibate young barrister, the lonely curate in lodgings, the struggling bachelor journalist or business man or clerk who suffers most from premature dyspepsia because he eats alone. He generally reads during his meals, which is bad, or he reads directly he has bolted his food, which is likewise bad. Obviously, therefore, matrimony is a bar to indigestion.

Tastes Differ.

Dealer—Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend—sound, kind—

Old Lady—Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high.

Dealer—Eh?

Old Lady—I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground, so he can see where he's going.

Which Was It?

"Are we slaves or are we free men?" thundered the orator. "I pause for a reply."

"Some of us are married," came the answer from the last row of seats.—New York Sun.

Rugs In Vegetables.

People who have an objection to bugs in their food need to take much pains with the cleansing of vegetables, especially succulent plants, such as asparagus, greens, lettuce, etc., before cooking or serving up raw. If left for awhile, tips downward, in well salted water, the plants will drop an interesting assortment of discouraged living creatures on the bottom of the vessel, and more may be gathered by carefully brushing and rinsing the crevices and hollows of the plants. When cooked, this animal food may be harmless to those who like it, but in uncooked salads it is possible to swallow dangerous germs unless they are knocked out by the help of antiseptic salt. The same precautions are commended to prudence and refinement with respect to fruits.

Ruined by His Stomach.

The first Napoleon's fondness for mutton and garlic is generally known, and it has been contended, and possibly with some reason, that had he been more abstemious at the time of the battle of Leipsic that tremendous conflict might have ended differently. The Emperor certainly had to quit the battlefield, an ugly rumor says, from a severe attack of colic brought on by over-indulgence in one of his favorite but indigestible dishes. More merciful critics see in his illness that day the commencement of the cancer of the stomach which seven years later brought his life to a close, but cancer of the stomach usually runs a far more rapid course, so that the disease could hardly have begun in 1813.

THE INTESTINES AND THEIR USE

Few people understand that it is in the intestines, which are about 25 feet long, that food is transformed into chyle, which being absorbed into the general circulation, is formed into blood. The intestines are composed of a spiral coil of muscles rrounded by a coating resembling celluloid and filled with millions of glands. The muscular walls serve to keep in motion the food which has been previously dissolved in the stomach, until the glands have absorbed all the chyle to sustain the human body, and finally force into the rectum all the waste or valueless material. The chief disease of the intestines is constipation through lack of muscular power. Then again many people are thin and emaciated, because the glands of the intestines are insufficiently active to abstract the food matter, hence much valuable nutriment goes to waste. In both these cases Merrill's System Tonic is a most valuable remedy. The alterative properties strengthen the glands and thin people find themselves taking on flesh without any apparent cause and the valuable tonics contained in System Tonic permanently cure constipation by strengthening the muscles of the intestinal walls. This is vastly a superior method to taking irritating pills or physic of which the use of one dose creates a greater necessity for another. If you are unreasonably thin or pale and troubled with irregularity of the bowels, Merrill's System Tonic is the only remedy that guarantees you a perfect cure in a reasonable time.

was occupied by Mr. B. W. Harris, President of the local Liberal Association, and on the platform were, besides the visiting Ministers, Messrs. A. E. Dyment, M. P., J. Loughrin, M. P. P., C. McCrae, M. P. P., C. F. Farwell, M. P. P., Mr. J. McKay, the Liberal candidate, and Mr. Geo. M. Reid, of London.

Mr. McKay, the first speaker, after acknowledging the honour of a nomination, referred to the unique character of the "Soo" as the centre of an unique industry, and urged its claims to a continuance in the future of the attention to the interests of the northern country which the Liberal Government had shown in the past, which would tend to make Algoma and its people prosperous. Mr. McKay pointed out that the Conservative Opposition in the past had shown an obstructive attitude in respect to the development of the newer portions of the Province, especially in regard to minerals. In this matter the Liberals had been in advance of public sentiment. The only Conservative member Algoma had ever sent to the Legislature had shown himself indifferent to the interests of the riding. Attention was directed to Mr. Whitney's Victoria Hall address, and any Conservative was invited to say what there was in that address that appealed to Algoma or considered its interests. Railways were the need of this district, said Mr. Whitney advocated that Government aid given to railways should be guaranteed by bonds. He was forgetful of the fact that the six or seven millions given to aid railways in older Ontario came from revenue derived largely from the forest wealth of Algoma and northern Ontario. The Liberal Government had developed the Algoma district beyond all expectation, and was deserving of the support of every elector.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, who was most cordially received, was in splendid form, and although he spoke briefly, made an excellent address, which was frequently applauded. He spoke of the object of the visit of two members of the Cabinet to familiarise themselves by personal observation with the condition and needs of the northern country, which would permit of taking action more effectively. After a tribute to the ability and energy of Mr. McKay, the candidate chosen, he expressed the hope that the man nominated by the convention would be elected by this constituency. It gave him great pleasure to observe the evidences of progress at the "Soo." He had the most implicit confidence in the future of northern Ontario. He knew of no town more happily situated than Sault Ste. Marie to benefit from the progress of the surrounding country. Of the 200,000 square miles of Ontario, 60,000 were south of the Mattawa, another 60,000 between that and the height of land, and north of that was 80,000; and the mineral wealth of the middle belt was particularly pointed out, while north of it was considerable good agricultural land. But the the timber, and especially the mineral, resources, were the great feature of this mineral belt. In the western part of New Ontario gold and silver were the chief elements in the mining industry. But all the world wanted iron, and the country with abundance of iron had a great future, as Ontario had. The great semi-circle that might be described from Temiskaming to Minnesota was full of iron. We now had three smelters — at Hamilton, Midland and Deseronto — and they would soon have another, and the largest, at the "Soo." We had steel-making at Hamilton, and there was in course of erection at the "Soo" a big steel plant. With iron and steel industries, the "Soo" had the elements of a great city. He never felt more justified in making a prediction than in forecasting a great future for the "Soo" and the surrounding country. Then we had great nickel deposits, the best in the world, so much so that we almost had a monopoly of this important mineral. But the lack of a cheap and practicable refining process was a drawback. If Mr. Clergue could overcome this difficulty, as he believed he could with a cheaper process than the Oxford one — and the Nickel-Copper Company of Hamilton were aiming at the same object — then the nickel mining interests would greatly improve.

The Government as well as the people of older Ontario wanted the same principle applied to nickel as applied to timber, and have the refining done in this province. When a feasible process was discovered there would follow the nickel-steel industry, one that would insure the great future of this country. The world was clamouring for nickel-steel, and he believed the time was not far distant when nickel-steel production would be a great industry, and the centre of it would not be far from the "Soo." (Applause.) Referring to the 80,000 square miles of Ontario north of the height of land, Mr. Gibson said it contained enough pulp wood — 280 million cords at 40c a cord — to stave off Mr. Mr. Whitney's policy of direct taxation for many years to come. It was full of rivers and streams and great water powers. This northern belt has also very great agricultural possibilities, capable of supporting a very large population. What a great field for development was here. The first work of Mr. Ross when he became Premier was to develop new Ontario. (Applause.) "And he will do it." The development of the new country was not a sectional question. It interested the whole Province, and if one wants to attract attention in old Ontario he has but to mention new Ontario. After referring to the Government's proposal to tap the rich agricultural lands of the Temiskaming district by a Government railway, Hon. Mr. Gibson spoke strongly of the importance of the Algoma Central Railway, and asserted his conviction that it would well repay Mr. Clergue to extend it to Hudson Bay. He might count on the Government to assist him, as it was as anxious as he was to develop the wealth of this northern region, believing that the material and industrial interests of the whole Province would thereby be promoted. (Loud applause.)

Mr. George M. Reid, of London, President of the Ontario Federation of Liberal Clubs, spoke of the visit of his party to the "Soo" and the Helen iron mines, where there was a modern railway, complete and thorough in every equipment, operating in connection with the great works at the "Soo." They had been much impressed with what they had seen, and Mr. Clergue was deserving of great credit for what he had done, and the Ross Government was also entitled to very great credit for the assistance they had given in promoting his enterprises, which were doing so much to improve the condition of Ontario. It was a great country for young men, and he believed it had a great future.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, in rising to address the meeting, was received with warm applause. This was not his first visit, as he had been here on several occasions. He had faith in Algoma and its resources.

A voice—"We are the people."

Mr. Stratton was willing to admit "they were the people," and the policy of the Ross Government was to assist in the development and progress of their district, and, indeed of the whole northern portion of the Province. The Attorney-General and himself were making, in their official capacity, he might say, the first visit made by members of the Ross Government. They were here on behalf of the Government to see the needs of the district, and be able to give their colleagues a report that would enable them to more effectively apply the policy which they were unchangeably committed, of assisting development in every way legitimately possible to a Government. The Conservative Opposition claimed that there was no money available, but Mr. Stratton asserted that we have enough to carry out a vigorous policy of development. (Applause.) From the beginning the policy of the Ross Government was a progressive one, and it would be carried out in such a way and with an energy that would yield marvellous results within the next ten years, and we should see the "Soo" develop into an important city. Mr. Stratton expressed himself very emphatically upon the wisdom and necessity of the home-manufacture of all our natural products — timber, pulp-wood and minerals. This would develop industries that would give profitable employment to the people of the Province and increase its population. The keynote of the policy of the Liberal party was progress, and upon a policy representing that the Government would appeal to the country, and he was confident that the people, sympathizing with a progressive attitude and energetic programme of action, would handsomely sustain the Government. The people knew a good thing when they saw it. The people desired to see utilized the limitless resources of our country, that had laid dormant for centuries, and would continue in that condition but for the application of some such live policy as the Ross Government had carried out to such a successful extent, and would continue to carry out. The attitude of Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Conservative Opposition, in regard to the Algoma Central Railway was cited, and his reference to the assistance given by the Government to this enterprise as a "phenomenal steal" on the part of Mr. Clergue was commented upon. If Mr. Whitney could see the results of that "phenomenal steal" in the form of the "phenomenal steel" rails now laid upon the finished portion of one of the best constructed, most substantially built and excellently-equipped railroads built anywhere, he would realize the irony of fate in thus discrediting his violent denunciation. And his discomfiture would be completed when it was added that before the next session of the Legislature the "phenomenal steel" rails for laying the remaining portion of the Algoma Central and the entire route of the Manitoulin & North Shore Railway would be manufactured from Ontario iron, smelted in Ontario smelters and rolled into steel rails in an Ontario establishment—the great steel works now nearing completion at the "Soo." (Applause.) And not only steel rails for these lines, but for the Government railway from North Bay or Mattawa to the Temiskaming, for all the railways in Canada, and before long in competition with the steel rail industries of the outside world.

WISDOM OF GOVERNMENT'S POLICY

No more complete vindication of the wisdom of the action of the Ontario Government in assisting New Ontario in the manner it had done could be had. The Ross Government had been in advance of legislative sentiment in proposing legislation for the development of New Ontario while the policy of the Opposition had been opposed to such a course. The Opposition had opposed surveys of the new country, something not in the interests of the country, for we should know what we have in order that we might take steps to realize upon it. Mr. Stratton invited his hearers to read carefully Mr. Whitney's declaration of "policy" and to say after doing so whether they could find in it one line of advance policy that could appeal to the young and ambitious men of the province. After briefly dealing with the strong financial position of the province, as developed after thirty years of Liberal rule, and with the splendid record of administration made at the same time, Mr. Stratton concluded his address by again expressing the pleasure it gave himself and his colleague to visit Sault Ste. Marie and see for themselves the conditions that exist. They would never be able to repeat their visit under the same conditions for at the rate of progress now existing the changes in advancement would make the "Soo" unrecognizable in a very short time.

The very successful meeting was brought to a close by hearty cheers for the King, the Ross Government, the visiting Ministers, Mr. Farwell and Mr. McKay, the Liberal candidate.

Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton had every reason to be pleased with the extremely hearty reception they received at the hands of all classes at the "Soo." The people seemed to appreciate greatly their visit as an evidence of the interest of themselves and the Government they represented in the present and prospective progress of the district.

A RUN ON THE ALGOMA CENTRAL.

The Ministers on their part could not fail to be well pleased with what they saw of real and palpable progress and solidly rapid development. After their visit and inspection of the varied industries at the "Soo," Mr. Clergue placed an Algoma Central train at their disposal and, accompanied by several of the New York directors of the company, who were making their annual visit, they took a run as far north as time permitted—about thirty miles. The entire party was surprised at the excellent character of the road. The road bed is first class, laid with 85 pound steel rails, connected by the most modern improved fishplates, and in fact every feature of the line, the solid culverts, the immense bridges, shows it to be built to last. The rolling stock consisting of 16 high-class locomotives, and 500 cars, is of the very best, and it is safe to say that no railway in Canada surpasses in either excellence of construction or equipment or in promise of a prosperous or busy future the Algoma Central Railway, of which forty miles is now in running order, and about forty more miles ready for tracklaying. The first trainload of pulpwood cut from the company's lands and carried by their line arrived during the visit of the Ministers. The supply for the immense daily consumption of the mills had previously been got from other sources. It needs no prophetic faculty to foresee an immediately great development at the "Soo" and vicinity. The pessimist has no business here if he would avoid a rude awakening from his unfaith and dreams of doubt.

A GIFT OF 500 ACRES

Would be no temptation to Mr. Beemer in exchange for Dr. Agnew's Ointment. Itching Piles of seven years standing took to themselves wings after a few applications.

Mr. M. Beemer, of Knotsmal, Mich., says in a letter of recent date:—"I have had Itching Piles for seven years. I have tried most everything that was ever recommended as a cure but never got the least bit of relief until I used Dr. Agnew's Ointment, and I haven't words to express the thankfulness I feel for the great cure. I would rather have the wonderful cure than 500 acres of land. 35 cents. 83

TRIP ON TIMBER RAFT

The Royal Party Go Through the Chaudiere Rapids.

ILLUSTRATION OF SHANTY LIFE.

An Elaborate and Unique Program Which Showed the Duke of Cornwall and Party the Characteristics of the Lumber Industry for Which the Ottawa Valley Is World-Famed —Ladies' Presentation.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Yesterday was the last and greatest day of the royal visit, for Their Royal Highnesses were the guests of Ottawa's lumber kings, who furnished for the royal delectation a program of entertainment at once elaborate, unique and characteristic of the industry for which the Ottawa Valley is world-famed. The features of the fete were a trip upon a timber crib, or raft, through the Chaudiere slides, as run by King Edward in 1860, a voyage down the Ottawa River to Rockcliffe Park in canoes, accompanied by a flotilla of gaily decked river crafts, a war canoe race, and a visit to a lumber shanty in full operation among the pine woods on the height overlooking the park.

In the afternoon the ladies of Ottawa waited upon the Duchess of Cornwall and York at Government House and presented Her Royal Highness with a beautiful mink cape, having a massive clasp of Canadian gold, designed to represent maple leaves. About 200 ladies were at the function. The presentation was made by Lady Laurier, and in reply Her Royal Highness declared she would value the present highly.

At the Rideau Hall gate the car which has been specially constructed for the purpose, was in waiting at 10.30 yesterday morning. It is a handsome carriage, elaborately furnished on the outside and richly furnished and decorated on the interior. At both end the royal coat of arms in bronze showed forth with pleasing effect.

As the royal car, the Duchess of Cornwall and York, rolled majestically through the richly festooned and decorated streets, the crowds gave vent to their loyal enthusiasm in sturdy cheers. The Electric Railway Company had specially laid several hundred feet of rails down Oregon street, so that the royal party had to walk but a few feet to embark on the cribs.

Their Royal Highnesses and party were received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Messrs. J. R. Booth, Alex. Barnett, C. J. Booth and George H. Perley. The Duchess of York was escorted down the landing by Mr. Perley, followed by the Duke and Her Excellency, the Countess of Minto. Then came His Excellency and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the rest of the party, which included Prince Alexander of Teck, Lady Mary Lygon, the Duke of Roxburghe, Viscount Crichton, Hon. Mrs. Derek Keppel, Lord Wenlock, Sir Arthur Bigge, Sir Charles Cust, Hon. Derek Keppel, Commander Winsloe, Commander Godfrey Faussett, Major Bor, Capt. Graham, Capt. Bell, A. D. C.'s; Lady Ruby Eliot, Lady Aileen Eliot, Mr. Sladen, private secretary to the Governor-General; Major Maude, Lt.-Col. Sherwood and Chief Powell.

SIR CHARLES CUST, R.N.

Besides the royal party and the newspaper men, who numbered about 30, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier were the only guests.

The raft on which the royal party embarked did not differ materially from the ordinary raft, if one, except that it was more strongly constructed. It was built of medium sized timber, neatly hewed, and was divided into five sections. From the crib, where Their Royal Highnesses were seated, a large royal standrad floated to the breeze, and the seats were covered with dainty rugs. Otherwise the raft contained an adequate idea of this part of the great lumber industry.

A party of rivermen with slouch hats, red flannel shirts, blue jean overalls and flowing sashes were scattered over the raft, and appeared to enjoy heartily the honor of piloting its precious freight of royalty.

Several hundred people lined the slide docks below the bridges.

Each section of the raft was preceded by an advance party of voyageurs in bonnes to see that the course was free from obstruction.

The first crib to pass down was freighted with newspaper men, including the representatives of English and American papers, and to these it was as novel an experience as it was to the royal party. The journalists, who usually display sang froid, looked for all the world as if they were wondering what would happen next. When the rapids were reached, and this, followed by a steep dip, the thrills and sensations set in and pulsations increased proportionately.

The second bonne, manned by stalwart rivermen, heralded the approach of another crib, and in two or three minutes the section bearing the Governor-General's children and members of the entourage of the royal party hove in sight and was greeted with a hearty cheer by the spectators. There was another wait for a few minutes, and presently the familiar bonne appeared and everybody said, "The Duke will come now." The expectations were realized for soon the royal standard was seen fluttering in the breeze as the crib pushed its way from under the bridges, and the people caught a glimpse of the popular visitors the fact was announced by a lusty hurrah.

Following the royal crib came two others, the fourth bearing Sir Wilfrid Laurier and a party of lumbermen, and Rideau Hall guests, and the fifth a number of reporters.

At the foot of the slides the cribs were left and the party proceeded to Rockcliffe in canoes. The sight was most enchanting. A flotilla of canoes by Indians in command of Colin Rankin, a former Hudson Bay factor, adding to the romantic character of the water procession.

The war canoe race, which followed, was won by the Grand Trunk crew, Brittanias of Ottawa second and Ottawas third. The exciting finish was applauded by Their Royal Highnesses from the stand at the Ottawa Canoe Clubhouse.

Their Royal Highnesses were received at the clubhouse by Hon. Peter White, ex-Speaker of the Commons, and W. C. Edwards, M.P. From the clubhouse up through Rockcliffe Park the royal party passed between lines of soldiers and policemen standing at the salute, while all along the routes crowds of people cheered.

When the little eminence was reached, in the centre stood a typical lumber shanty, constructed of neatly trimmed round pine, covered with regulation "scoops," and in every detail an exact reproduction of a lumber shanty. Around stood the red-shirted shantymen, standing at "attention," with pike poles in hand and headed by sturdy Foreman Whishell. Near by a dozen or more freshly cut pine logs were piled on a rollway well and truly laid after true shanty fashion. A team of horses with driver arrayed in the holiday costume of his calling, stood ready to draw the next lot of logs into position. Pike poles, cant dogs, polished axes and shining saws lay around as if for everyday use, and over all the solemn pines, cathedral-like in the sturdy regularity of their trunks, waved soft branches in the September wind, and sent forth the unrivalled balsam odor of nature's incense.

Nothing could have been conceived more entertainingly representative of the industry for which the Ottawa Valley is famous the world over. It appealed to the royal visitors as probably no other form of loyal entertainment which the Capital of Canada affords could have done, and Their Royal Highnesses so expressed themselves to the Reception Committee who met them at the shanty grounds. They were Messrs. W. H. Fraser, A. Lumsden, M.P.P., John R. Booth and J. C. Browne.

The operations of felling a stalwart pine, cutting it up into saw logs and skidding the logs, all performed to the accompaniment of shanty songs, were then gone through, and the luncheon in the sweet-smelling log cabin concluded this portion of the day's entertainment.

The most brilliant gathering the Senate ever held met last night at the reception given by the Duke and Duchess of York. About one thousand came to meet the royal party and everyone was given a handshake. The reception was to begin at 9 o'clock, but it was forty-five minutes after that before the Duke and Duchess were in position on the dais. With them were Lord and Lady Minto, Prince Alexander of Teck, and the suite. All wore brilliant uniforms.

The Bishop of Ottawa was the first to be presented, and then came Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lady Laurier and Sir Louis Davies. A continuous procession of people passed the dais for an hour, and afterwards the royal party visited the Parliamentary Library.

The buildings were illuminated for the last time and the scene was very beautiful.

M'KINLEY'S ASSASSIN

On Formal Trial at Buffalo for Shooting the Executive.

THE PRISONER PLEADED GUILTY

The Court, However, Changed the Plea to One of "Not Guilty," and Then Called Witnesses to Prove That He Committed the Crime—President Died From Effects of Gunshot Wound.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The first day of the trial of Leon F. Czolgosz, charged with the murder of President McKinley, resulted in much that was of interest, and it closely showed that great progress in the presentation of the people's case had been made. The jury was completed during the afternoon, and before adjournment the testimony of the doctors, who had charge of the case, had been introduced. Of these Dr. Gaylord, who performed the autopsy; Dr. Herman Mynter and Dr. Matthew D. Mann, who attended the President during his illness, gave evidence.

For the first time since his appearance before the court Czolgosz today opened his lips to speak. He said only one word and that was "Guilty."

District Attorney Penny addressed the prisoner at the opening of the case of the prosecution and read the charge against him.

"Guilty," replied the prisoner in a low tone, scarcely audible to the jury.

District Attorney Penny pointed out, however, that under the statues this plea could not be entered, and asked the court to enter a plea of not guilty.

Of the medical men examined, the testimony of Dr. Herman Mynter was important, inasmuch as it brought out the fact that the reason why the fatal bullet was not located at the autopsy was because of the unwillingness of the President's family to have the body further mutilated by their instruments. Both Dr. Mynter and Dr. Mann agreed that the primal cause of death was the gunshot wound in the stomach.

The people's case will undoubtedly be concluded at the morning session to-day, and it is improbable that any defence will be put in.

The Chicago Anarchists Freed.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The nine Anarchists, who have been under arrest here, charged with conspiracy to murder President McKinley, were given their freedom yesterday, Judge Chetlain so ordering after the prosecution had admitted that there was no legal evidence against them. Emma Goldman was not a party to the proceedings. Her case is set for hearing to-day before Magistrate Prindiville, but the latter has agreed to take such action in her case as the upper court took in the cases of the men.

Anthrax in the Northwest.

Swift Current, N.W.T., Sept. 24.—This district of the Northwest Territories is infested with anthrax, a deadly and malignant disease, found chiefly among sheep.

Over 4,000 sheep belonging to one company have already died from its effects, and other ranchers are suffering great loss of cattle and horses. Ranchers are becoming greatly alarmed over the appearance of the disease among their stock, and it is feared that its extermination will be attended with the greatest hardship.

It is thought to have been brought to this district by an Australian who was engaged in shearing sheep with shears that carried the disease. Active measures to stamp out the plague are being taken.

Drowned in the Otter.

Tilsonburg, Sept. 24.—Fred Eaton, son of George Eaton, was drowned Sunday in the Otter Creek, near Tillson's water tower. He had been playing with his younger brother, on the platform which juts over the water, and fell in. The body was recovered in half an hour, but life was extinct.

Gored by a Bull.

Woodstock, Sept. 24.—H. Riddle, who manages the farm of Malcolm Schell, East Oxford, was badly gored by a bull Sunday afternoon.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. A. Campbell of Garden Hill, was here over Sunday. He was here last winter as helper to Mr. S. Casey in the butter department. We hope that there will be sufficient milk brought into the factory this winter to employ a good staff of experts in the line of butter making.

Mr. Joseph Fee and his wife have returned from an extended visit to the Queen City and other places. He speaks highly of the growth of Ontario cities and towns. The increase of over five million dollars in our foreign trade during the past year will surely cause the electors of the Dominion to keep in power the present Government which has done so much to increase the trade of this great Dominion.

Mr. J. J. Sadler was in town last week viewing his premises there. He has been a visitor for a long time at the Pan-American Exhibition, in Buffalo, attending to business of importance.

Mrs. John Best of Peterborough is recuperating with her relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Record of Peterborough, were visiting at Mr. Joe Lowes, who lives near the town.

We hope that Hon. J. R. Stratton while on his visit to New Ontario, will be able to convince the electors of the necessity of retaining in office the present Government, which has done and will do much more to open that country for settlement.

Mrs. Telford and two children of Rochester, are spending a few days in Ontario with relatives. Mrs. Telford's health has improved very much during her stay in her native land. She has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lowe of this town.

The parable of the Sower was the subject of Rev. Mr. Kannawin's discourse on Sunday last. On the same day Rev. Mr. Mounteer's text was taken from the first chap. of Romans, vs. 16 — "The Gospel of Christ, the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Oct. 13th, and a fowl supper on the following day, of which further notice will be given.

A DECISIVE VICTORY FOR
Paine's Celery Compound

MRS. THOS. McMASTER, Cumberland Street, Toronto, After Long Years of Suffering is Perfectly Cured.

SHE SAYS: "MY HEALTH AND HAPPINESS ARE DUE TO PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

A Letter That Will Cheer the Suffering and Despondent.

The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited.
Gentlemen, — Ten years ago I was attacked with neuralgia, and though treated by six doctors, the disease grew worse and nearly drove me insane. I was for one summer an outdoor patient at the hospital here but only got temporary relief. I was sleepless for nights, my digestion was bad and I would feel a pain in my stomach every time I ate anything. Day after day I suffered the most intense agony and I often wondered I didn't grow crazy. I took endless medicines given to me by medical men and getting worse I became utterly disheartened.

One day my deliverance came. A lady who had suffered just as I had told me that Paine's Celery Compound had cured her. I used the compound as a last resort, and it simply made a new woman of me. The pain vanished, my eyesight, which had been impaired, returned, and I found myself growing well and never felt happier in my life. I am now well and strong, and all my health and happiness are due to Paine's Celery Compound.

Yours gratefully,
Mrs. Thos. McMaster.

THANKSGIVING NOV. 28.

Assembly of Parliament Will Take Place in February.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—The following special has been received by The Globe:

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—It is thought that the fact of Sir Wilfrid Laurier accompanying the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York to the west and back, involving an absence of about a month, will delay the calling of Parliament. The impression is that while the Government would like to summon Parliament early in January, they will not be able to do so until some time in February. The session seemingly will be a short one, and is likely to be concluded in sufficient time to permit the Premier to attend the coronation of the King in June. While the official invitation to Sir Wilfrid Laurier does not appear to have been yet received, everybody here expects to see him represent Canada in London when King Edward is crowned.

It seems to be doubtful if there will be any re-distribution bill next session. There is no great urgency for such a measure immediately and nothing would be lost by deferring its submission until another session of the House.

The Department of Labor has sent Fair Wages Officer Williams out to look into the circumstances under which the managers of Le Roi Mine are importing hired labor from the United States. If the facts are as claimed by the local labor union the Government will likely take steps to deport the aliens brought in. The Rossland Miners' Union has already obtained two convictions against the mine managers for infraction of the alien labor law.

November 28 has been definitely fixed by the Government as Thanksgiving Day. Earlier dates sent out previously were due to a misapprehension.

NORTHERN ONTARIO TOUR.

Messrs. Gibson and Stratton at Fort William and Port Arthur.

Fort William, Sept. 24.—Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton concluded their two weeks' tour of Northern Ontario last night by addressing two largely attended and successful meetings here and at Port Arthur, Hon. Mr. Gibson speaking the first part of the evening at Port Arthur and the second at Fort William, and Hon. Mr. Stratton following the Fort William address by one at Port Arthur. Mr. Conmee spoke during the evening in both towns. The Ministers have had a most successful tour, enjoyed it very greatly, and are in excellent health. From Fort Frances they passed through Rainy River, Rainy Lake, Scene Bay and Scene River to Sturgeon Falls, where they took the train on the Ontario & Rainy River Railway to Stanley Junction, near Port Arthur, driving to Oliver Township, where an afternoon meeting was addressed. They left for Toronto this morning.

WORK RESUMED.

Steel Strike's End Sees Nearly All Mills Working Again.

Pittsburg, Sept. 24.—There was a general resumption at all the mills here and at McKeesport yesterday, except at the tin plate mills, which were working with the same force as late last week.

The Duwees Wood Plant of the American Sheet Steel Company at McKeesport, which was to be dismantled, partly resumed operations yesterday morning, after three months' idleness. Very few employes were turned away when they applied for work.

Why He Settled.

Pittsburg, Sept. 24.—President Shaffer has issued a circular stating that the reason he called the strike off was that he saw he could not hope for support from the American Federation of Labor, and, besides, money was lacking to aid the strikers. Hence, he agreed to sign for the scale of last year.

Hunt Club Races.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Yesterday, the second day of the Toronto Hunt Club races, had fine weather and fast track. The record:

First race, 5½ furlongs, $300, 3-year-olds and over. The Boer 1, Myrtle Van 2, Euclaire 3. 8 to 5. Time, 1.09¼.

Second race, 1 mile, $300, 3-year-olds and up. Col. Baltine 1, Choirmaster 2, Beguile 3. 8 to 5. Time, 1.44¼.

Third race, 1¼ furlongs, $300, 2-year-olds. Orla 1, Jack McGuiness 2, Meditation 3. 6 to 1. Time, .57¼.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles, $400, 3-year-olds and up. Topmast 1, Advocator 2, Gray Daily 3. 3 to 5. Time, 1.53.

Fifth race, about 1¼ miles, $300, green hunters' steeplechase. Barley Sugar 1, Galahad 2, Happy Hermit 3. 6 to 1. Time, 3.46¼.

Sixth race, 6½ furlongs, $300 added, 3-year-olds. St. David 1, Flaneur 2, Tempt 3. 2 to 1. Time, 1.-24.

Found Dead in Bed.

Windsor, Sept. 24.—William H. Polk was found dead in his room in the Maple Leaf Hotel yesterday morning. The coroner decided to hold no inquest, as it was evidently a case of alcoholism. It was learned that he had drawn $3,000 from the bank within a month. His bank book shows that he has still $150 to his credit. He had said that his father, now dead, was a wealthy brewer in England.

Turn About in Order.

"There is an unusual amount of safe cracking at present," remarked the observant boarder.

"There is," replied the cross eyed boarder. "Safe cracking should be made unsafe."

Real Versus Ideal.

Rural Visitor—Doesn't it cost an awful lot to live in the city?

Native—No, it doesn't cost much to live; trying to keep up appearances is what paralyzes a man's bank account.—Chicago News.

CAPTURING A PASSENGER.

The Hackman Tried Many Plans, the Last a Funny One.

"I like perseverance in a man, even in a hackman," began Peterson, "and there is one particular jehu doing business in Washington who possesses that quality in the superlative degree.

"When I visited the Capital City, I had my mind fully made up to have nothing to do with the hackmen, so when I stepped off the train and a crowd of these gentry began shouting at me I simply shook my head and passed on. One of them, however, was not to be thus easily disposed of. Dancing around in front of me so as to block my progress, he vociferated:

"'Hack, mister? Take you to the Washington monument or the capitol? Only half a dollar?'

"Again I shook my head.

"'Smithsonian institution or treasury building? Take you to both of 'em for 75 cents?'

"Still I shook my head.

"'Arlington and Fort Myer? Drive you over and back for $2?'

"As before I responded with a shake of the head.

"'Navy yard or Soldiers' home? Either place for a dollar.'

"Another shake of the head.

"'Want to go to the White House and see the president? Drive you right there for 50 cents?'

"More head shaking.

"'Patent office or state department? Same price as the White House?'

"Another shake. Mind you, all this time I hadn't opened my mouth or uttered a word, and from the puzzled look on the hackman's face I thought I had him about discouraged. But as I shoved past him, thinking to make my escape, his countenance suddenly brightened up and I heard him mutter:

"'By George, I've hit it now! I'll try him just once more!' And then, running in front of me again, he spelled out on his fingers in the deaf and dumb alphabet, with which I chanced to be familiar, 'Deaf and Dumb asylum? Take you right to the door for a quarter!'"—Woman's Home Companion.

ELEVEN YEARS A CLOSE PRISONER.

Story of a Quebec Man's Trial and His Long Unearned Punishment.

His Recent Marvelous Escape by the Aid of Dodd's Kidney Pills—His Gratitude to the Help That Saved Him—Six Boxes Completely Restored Him to Health.

St. Patrice, Lotbienere, Que., Sept. 22nd.—(Special.) — A sad story of unjust imprisonment is that told by Phillippe Boissonnealt of this place. His case was worse than that of the ordinary prisoner for his bonds were those of pain and disease. For eleven years they held him, a hopeless victim, chained, tortured, a slave to Kidney Disease.

Who is there in the world that thinks man was intended to suffer, that he merits his fate, that he deserves the afflictions disease put on him? Surely no one thinks that. We were put here to be happy, to be healthy and free from disease. Nobody will say that Phillippe Boissonneault of St. Patrice, deserves his long punishment, and nobody but will rejoice to learn that through the aid of a wonderful medicine — Dodd's Kidney Pills — he has escaped.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, the remedy that proved such a boon, have made a reputation all over the world in curing of diseases of and arising from the kidneys. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Backache, Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Women's Disorders, Dropsy, Nervousness and Blood Impurities all come within the scope of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Dodd's Kidney Pills have testimonials for the cure of all of them. Phillippe Boissonneault's case was the common form of Kidney Disease.

"For eleven years I have suffered untold agony with Backache, which crippled me as though I was barred and shackled. I have taken all sorts of remedies, nothing doing me any good. I read in Dodd's Almanac what was recommended for the Kidneys. I decided to try them, and sent for six boxes, though without confidence, but to-day I am completely cured and thank Dodd's Kidney Pills alone for it."

Texas Was in Great Danger.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The part played by the battleship Texas in the naval battle off Santiago, July 3, 1898, in which the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera was sunk, was the basis of the great part of yesterday's proceedings in the Schley Naval Court of Inquiry. Of the four witnesses examined during the day three had been officers on board the Texas during the battle, and two of them were new witnesses. Commander Hoilner said that he considered that the Texas was in greater danger when the Brooklyn crossed her bow than at any other time during the battle.

Col. Ponton Retires.

Belleville, Sept. 24.—Lieut.-Col. William N. Ponton, who for the past six years was in command of the 15th Argyle Light Infantry, has resigned that position, and has been placed on the reserved list of officers. Lieut.-Col. Ponton's successor will be Lieut.-Col. Halliwell, who has also been long connected with the Argyles.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful disease as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

The Irish Patriots Coming.

London, Sept. 24.—The plans of the Irish delegation, which is to sail for the United States, have been completed. John Redmond, the Irish Parliamentary leader, will be accompanied by Messrs. McHugh and Thomas O'Donnell, members of Parliament. They will sail on the White Star liner, Majestic, from Queenstown, Oct. 24. Michael Davitt will join them in New York. Mr. McHugh is at present undergoing six months' imprisonment in Kilmainham jail. He will be released Oct. 21. Mr. O'Donnell will make addresses in Celtic.

The British Objected.

Tien Tsin, Sept. 23.—A railroad dispute similar to the Anglo-Russian misunderstanding here has arisen at Tonku, where, on Saturday last, the German military authorities flagged out a portion of the railroad property and placed it under a guard of troops. The British objected to this and marched a British guard to the disputed territory. The matter has been referred to German and British generals.

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

DR. GRANT IS BETTER

Latest Report Monday Says His Case is More Hopeful.

IMPROVEMENT AFTER BAD NIGHT

The Principal of Queen's Is Making a Noble Fight, Although, According to His Physician He Needs His Strong Will to Supplement Medical Science in Its Endeavor to Save His Life.

Kingston, Sept. 24.—The latest report from Principal Grant last night was that his case is more hopeful. The physicians in attendance held another conference yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and announced a marked improvement in both general and local conditions. Though the principal passed a bad night and unsatisfactory morning, he picked up in the afternoon, when his temperature and pulse showed satisfactory symptoms. He is not considered out of danger.

STORY OF HIS ILLNESS.

A Sufferer for Years He Had Chills on Board Ship.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 24.—On board ship the evening before the first chill came Principal Grant had been playing a game called shuffleboard, of which he was fond. Cold developed from over-heated condition and then followed the serious results which caused Dr. Garrett yesterday to say: "The case is a desperate one. The Principal is making a gallant fight for life."

The patient had a restless night, and heavy chills in the forenoon, but since has rested well, and when the consultation came at 4.45 o'clock it was found that his general and local conditions were improved. The doctor was delirious several times during the past few days, but is now bright and expectant.

His physician said he hoped to have him around by Oct. 15, the day royalty visits here, but the Principal said, "No, by the 1st," meaning the opening day of the university. He is being carefully nursed, and is comforted by the presence of his son, who had been with him to England.

His physician still recognizes his grave condition and will not give any opinion as to the outcome.

The Principal has been a sufferer for years, and has been operated on. Early in the beginning of his complaint he took a voyage around the world. While it greatly strengthened and invigorated him, it did not eradicate the affection. In recent years he has had a recurrence of the complaint, culminating this time seriously. The system has been enfeebled but the serious stage of toxaemia, it is hoped, has not yet been reached. And it is to intercept this that the physicians are actively engaged.

Sir Sandford Fleming, Chancellor of Queen's, the Principal's chief friend, is at present on the ocean, having sailed from England for Canada on the 19th.

Malt Breakfast Food

A Triumph in the Science of Dietetics.

Heller, the noted German food expert, declared years ago that perfect health cereal (grain) foods should, in some scientific manner, be combined with pure malt. In delicious Malt Breakfast Food, now so popular in Canada, this happy combination has been successfully accomplished. Predigested Malt Breakfast Food agrees with the weakest stomach, and gives more true nourishment to the body than any other food now sold. Its use banishes dyspepsia and general stomach troubles. Your grocer will recommend Malt Breakfast Food.

The Sifton Trial.

London, Sept. 24.—The fall assizes opened yesterday afternoon, Mr. Justice MacMahon presiding. There were 15 civil suits and three criminal cases on the docket, the chief interest being centred in the trial of Gerald Sifton, the alleged patericide. The Sifton case will be called at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

SHOE SELLING
FOR FAIR WEEK.

Just breaking into the Fall and winter season comes a week of Shoe Selling during Fair week. For fair week buyers we point to the merits of the stock we have on view. Each line the best for its purpose. Each Shoe perfect in make, material, style and finish. To wear our shoes is to be convinced of their merits.

A list of prices is sometimes esteemed dry reading. It may be to some, but should not be to the buyer. It shows comparative values, it tells the kind of Shoe at a stated price. Our lists are interesting, for the Shoe, at the price, will be found of very superior value, our facilities enabling us to offer the equal of the largest departmental store. Our necessity, our whole trade, is Shoes. We share in the great advantage that arises from buying wholesale for Seven Stores. Hence lower prices, hence lower to customers. Scan this Fair Week List—fall and winter shoes are now seasonable. Let the list help you to decide.

PINCHED AND PUNY

South American Nervine is the Antidote for the ills which are induced by humanity's "mad rush" for an existence. The "eat and run" way of living is accountable for more of the pinched and puny faces than any other cause under the sun.

Dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, sick-headache are the prime causes for broken-up nerves. Nature foretold the strain that we would be compelled to live under and has revealed to medical science the favorite formula—South American Nervine—and its daily joy is to put back the bloom of perfect health in the faces of millions who do honest toil. a6

CONSTIPATION

The Greatest Factor in the Death Rate

This trouble has been well named the foe of mankind. More unpleasant symptons, disease and deaths can be indirectly traced to constipation than to all other causes combined. But strange to say, as true and alarming as the above statement is, the majority of people afflicted give themselves but little concern. And just here is wherein the great danger lies. People do take physic, it's true, and relieve the present symptoms, but they do not press on diligently in search of a cure. By cure we mean restoring the natural healthy movement of the bowels day in and day out the year round without the aid of physic. Now this result is positively and absolutely guaranteed if you take Merrill's System Tonic. The alterative effects of Sarsaparilla, Red Clover and Burdock contained in it restore the glands, and more fluids are secreted in the stomach and bowels. Then the muscular toning effects of Hypophosphites therin restore natural muscular power to the muscles of the bowels which control evacuation. This is the scientific and correct way and differs altogether from the pill or physic idea, in which some irritating principle causes a movement is such a way as to make more necessary a repeated dose. Clear skin, buoyant health, active brain and vivacity follow the permanent cures of this trouble made by Merrill's System Tonic.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

AT ALL DRUG STORES.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

PERHAPS NO LIGHT.

There is a Probability That Peterborough Will be in Darkness To-night.

Peterborough may be in darkness to-night. The raceway that leads to the Peterborough Light and Power Co's station sprang a leak to-day, and the stop logs are being put in at London street, so that the water may be let out of the raceway and the damage repaired. This may not be accomplished by to-night, and if not, there will be no electric light of any kind until the raceway is put in shape again.

WIRE STEALERS AGAIN.

The Case is on To-day Before His Honour Judge Weller.

The wire stealing case which a week ago was heard in the local police court, before Police Magistrate Dumble, was resurrected this morning. It will be remembered that Chas. Stevenson was charged with having purchased a quantity of copper wire from a lad named Smith, knowing the same to have been stolen. After hearing the evidence, he was committed for trial, and accordingly came up for hearing before His Honour Judge Weller this morning, in the County Judge's Criminal Court.

The procedure was similar to that which was gone through with last week in the police court. The case was tried, of course, in the Court House, but the same counsels were on hand as took part in the case a week ago. The same bundles of copper wire were in evidence as exhibits, and the same witnesses sat throughout the proceedings in an unconcerned manner waiting for their turn to go into the box.

Stevenson, the one-armed prisoner, occupied the prisoner's box and listened to the evidence that was being submitted and which was to either ostracise him from his friends for some time or give him his liberty. The first witness was young Smith, the precocious juvenile criminal, who at the preliminary hearing startled every one by his statements concerning how the wire was stolen and who confessed to having carried away about four tons of the same. He, too, has been confined on the hill for the past week, but when he went into the witness box this morning he looked in his usual form. The atmosphere of "Castle Nesbitt" has not disagreed with him to all appearances, and he told his story with much the same grin on his face as he wore on Tuesday last and made very few deviations from his former testimony.

County Crown Attorney Wood conducted the case for the Crown and Mr. E. B. Stone appeared on behalf of the prisoner, Stevenson.

The examination in chief and the cross-examination of young Smith occupied nearly all morning, after which Mr. Robert Leary, the liveryman, whom Smith hired a number of rigs from, was put on the stand.

The case is still in progress.

RECEPTION FOR MEN.

Grand Opening to Take Place on Thursday.

The Social Committee of the Y. M. C. A. have made all arrangements for the grand opening reception to be held next Thursday evening from 7.30 to 10.

It promises to offer many new attractions among others a basket ball game will be played at 7.30 between two teams led by Mr. R. E. Harding and W. S. Robinson respectively. Men on the teams must not have played basket ball before, and the referee must be as familiar with the game. It will be a time for fun.

Besides there will be refreshments, games, popular music, and a general free and easy good time.

All the men of the town are invited. This event will give many an opportunity of inspecting the building. Men are asked to mark this date off for this reception.

HANDSOME QUARTERS.

Extensive Improvements to Messrs Ormond & Walsh's Drug Store.

A visit to the old established drug firm of Messrs. Ormond & Walsh, corner of George and Simcoe streets, will show that during the past week or two some very extensive changes have been made to the interior of the store. To-day Mr. Dickson Davidson, the proprietor of this well-known drug establishment, can pride himself on having as pretty quarters as any chemist in the country.

The renovations that have been going on in the interior of Ormond & Walsh's store, are now complete, and for an equally bright, handsome and up-to-date store one would have to travel far to see. The old shelving that has for years served to good advantage, but which was dismal-looking, has been thrown aside, and beautiful new fixtures of quartered oak takes its place. The walls have been very artistically papered in a pretty shade of green, the ceiling has been decorated to match, whilst the neat litth electric fixtures combine to present a most luxuriant appearance.

Of course the chief improvement is in the shelving, the counters and the show cases. As before stated, they are of quartered oak, but the finish and style is a fine specimen of the cabinet makers' art. Instead of the old style heavy counters, neat little oak tables take their place, whilst the show cases that adorn them now are made in a style and of material that produces a very harmonizing effect.

Altogether Mr. Davidson has a business house that is in keeping with his enterprising spirit, and is a credit to the town..

The fixtures were made by the Peterborough Canoe Co., under Mr. William Long's guiding eye; the show cases are the work of the Dominion Show Case Co. The painting was done by Mr. John Watson.

THE MARCH OUT.

The 57th Regiment will have a march out this evening headed by the Regimental Band. The men of all ranks are requested to be on hand in good time.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

To-day was the First Day of the Annual Affair.

To-day is the opening day of the Central Exhibition. The weather is superb and should the remaining two days continue as fine the attendance at the annual exhibition should be a record breaker.

The first day is, of course, taken up in placing the exhibits and all day long the work has been in progress. The inside exhibits are much ahead of last year and the entry list is much larger in every respect.

To-morrow will be the first day for spectators and a large attendance is anticipated.

Boston Wilkes' Splendid Record at the Ottawa Central Fair.

Mr. Frank Burke returned last evening from the Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, having swept the boards in the Carriage Stallion Class with his well known and handsome horse, Boston Wilkes, securing first prize and diploma for best stallion of any age at the Exhibition. Mr. Burke deserves great credit for making the long and expensive trip, and if some more of our enterprising citizens would have Mr. Burke's energy it would be a grand advertisement for our town.

In Boston Wilkes' class there was a large field of the best stallions in Eastern Canada. It is understood Mr. Burke refused a handsome offer for his horse.

THE RE-OPENING SERVICES.

First Church of Christ Scientist Have New Quarters

Which Were Formally Opened on Sunday Last—The Address Which was Delivered.

The church edifice on Aylmer street erected many years ago by the members of the Baptist church, and for some time occupied by the Second Church of Christ Scientist, is now occupied by the members of the First Church of Christ Scientist, and the opening services were held on Sunday last.

After the opening exercises, consisting of prayer and the singing of hymns, the following address was delivered by the Reader:

Beloved co-workers, friends, and strangers who may be with us on this occasion, it affords me great pleasure on behalf of this church, to bid you all a hearty welcome to our first service in this building.

To the dear co-workers I would say, it should be, and I trust it is, a time of rejoicing, mingled with gratitude to our Father Mother God, for the free gift of His Son, the true Idea of Love, and to our revered leader, Rev. Mary B. G. Eddy, the discoverer of Christian Science, for giving us Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, which has unlocked the sacred volume, and taught us what the Christ, the Son of God, is, and how to apply and make this Idea of Divine Love, practical in the overcoming of sin, as well as of sickness, and in this great battle has crowned our feeble efforts with this great victory.

For truly it is a victory of the right kind. When we look back about six months and see the army of false beliefs of envy, malice, jealousy, pride, selfishness, etc., etc., all of which belong to the flesh, but claimed so much place and seemed so real, which had to be overcome in order to make this meeting possible; through this research we realize that a great victory has been won on the side of Truth and Love.

Solomon says, "Greater is he that overcometh his spirit (false sense) than he that taketh a city." But brethren, while our hearts go out in humble gratitude to God, Christ, and to our Mother Mary B. G. Eddy for the grace and wisdom bestowed upon us, enabling us to accomplish what we have in the past through Christ (Truth) let us not forget that a great battle, and in a variety of ways, has yet to be fought; this mortal self will still want to rule, and must be kept under control, for our own good as well as for our fellow-man. Then let us daily become more loving, kind, honest, humble and pure—in a word more like the great exemplar and way-shower, Christ Jesus.

To the dear, loving Scientists who have come from a distance to mingle your joy and love with ours, we trust you may receive such a baptism of love that you may go home to your fields of labour, "strong in the Lord and in the power of His might," thus better fitted to reflect that Love which heals the sick and reforms the sinner.

Now, just a word to the dear ones who have left their own folds to meet and worship with us, perhaps for the first time. Allow me to assure you that you are always welcome in a Christian Science service. We are taught to "love all mankind, and especially those of the household of faith." To be kind and charitable to all forms of religion and medicine and to obey the Golden Rule.

Most of us have been members of some orthodox church, and we are not unmindful of the good we received in them, because we were taught to love and obey God, Who forgiveth all thine iniquities and healeth all thy diseases. But brethren many of us failed to find the healing touch of Christ, and put in many weary years in suffering, until we found it in Christian Science, there we found that Christ did come to us and pitied us, healed and set us free.

Here we have been taught a knowledge of God, that is to us Eternal Life. Here we have found a Christ, a knowledge of God, that not only enables us to overcome sin and disease in ourselves, but also help others out of sin and suffering, and by so doing obey the command of the Master, to preach the gospel and heal the sick. This is why we left the old, the religion of our fathers.

Now I am sure as Christian men and women, you do not blame us for following this Truth, and loving this woman our leader in the flesh, Rev. Mary B. G. Eddy, who has kept so humble at the Master's feet as to be able to unfold the glorious truth to us as it is taught by our text book, Science and Health. While we thus love and obey, our hearts are more and more drawn to our dear faithful ones in the different churches who are striving to uplift their fellow man.

To all such we say. Come in with us when you can, investigate our thought thoroughly and I am sure when you see it in its true light, you will love it as we do. Then you too shall put on the seamless robe of Christ (the Saviour you are now looking for) which will enable you to work out your own salvation from sickness as well as sin. Jesus says in John 14 chapter, 12th verse, "The works that I do ye shall do." May the God of love and peace so illumine each consciousness that we may see more of the reality to-day than ever before, and be able truly to say it was good to be here. And in due time be able to say with Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith." In as much as we have overcome the flesh, the carnal mind, which is at enmity with God, all that is good.

"He that overcometh shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be My son."—Rev. 21, 7.

Through this overcoming we shall be able to sing those verses in the Christian Science Hymnal, No. 85.

One holy church of God appears
Through every age and race,
Unwasted by the lapse of years,
Unchanged by changing place.

Her priests are all God's faithful sons
To serve the world raised up:
The pure in heart her baptised ones,
Love her communion cup.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.

The Bugle Band of the 57th had a March out Last Night.

Owing to the illness of Sergt.-Major Brittan, the bugle band, un-Major Brittin, the bugle band, unregular practice outside of the armouries, and paraded up George and Water streets to the mile post. This being their first appearance on the street they created quite a stir amongst the northern residents with their lively marches and drum solos.

The bugle band has been doing some very hard practicing of late and is now in excellent shape. They will be a credit to the 57th when they march past the "Dook."

ANNUAL FALL OPENING.

Unrivalled Display Made by Richard Hall & Son.

Exquisite Goods Which Were Personally Selected Last Month in the European Markets for the Peterborough Trade.

It is seldom that an opportunity is afforded of seeing two more artistically decorated windows, outside of the large cities, than is presented this week by the firm of Richard Hall & Sons. One of the windows is devoted to carpets, and of the three designs shown in Crossley's Wilton and Brussels for bedroom, dining room and parlour respectively, it would be hard to conceive of anything more tasteful or richer in colouring. The other window is reserved for costumes, mantles and suits together with a display of millinery, and the great attraction which this window possesses for the ladies is ample evidence of the care which has been taken in its arrangement.

Inside the store the display of goods in connection with the annual fall opening is something bewildering and a sight in which the ladies of the town are revelling, as the stock is one which has never been equalled in town in point of variety and general excellence. As is well known the firm does almost all its buying in the big manufacturing centres of Europe, and the purchases now on view as the result of Mr. Dickson Hall's recent trip abroad, speaks volumns for the discrimination and taste which he exercised in making his selections for the fall trade. The advantages which accrue to a firm through being able to pick up the very latest novelties in the different lines and to have the entire output of a mill to pick from are so great as to justify Messrs. Richard Hall & Sons in their statement that they have far outstripped their rivals this season in their fall display.

On the ground floor the goods in the various departments are shown in the most artistic manner possible, and the colourings in the dress goods are indeed superb as are those in the silk and satins. The novelties shown in the sequin, plain, coloured and black laces and nets are endless in their variety and the display of gloves and hosiery is also most attractive.

On the floor above the millinery also shows the advantage of a personal selection in an unlimited market. The Parisian and New York pattern hats are entrancing in their beauty. Birds and feathers are used far more extensively in the trimmings than for some years, and the combinations are endless that are effected with vari-coloured shades of velvet. An unusually large selection of black hats is also shown.

A corner to which ladies are magnetically drawn on this floor is that which is fitted up as a bedroom. It is a marvel of the decorator's art, and the draping of the curtains on the walls and in connection with a cunningly designed "cosy corner," would be hard indeed to surpass. The materials used are exquisite. A Battenberg bedspread and pillow shams on Nile green over pink, is greatly admired, as are the old-rose and green curtains, and the delicate pink carpet, which harmonize so beautifully in colouring.

In mantles, capes and ladies' suits there is a great variety to choose from, and as the majority of the stock is imported directly from the German and New York markets, the styles are most modish and up-to date. The ladies' long coats, and the black goods command particular attention.

The store will be open this evening as well as to-morrow.

Precocious Pullets.

Mr. Thomas Lane, south of the river, says that he has two black Minorca pullets, nearly or quite thoroughbred, that commenced laying when they were barely three months old. The eggs from which they were hatched were put under a hen on the third of May last, and a record kept of the date, and the chickens came out on the 24th, or a day or so later. Each of the pullets laid her first egg during the last week of August. Mr. Lane says that they were seen on nests, came off cackling, and that their eggs were much smaller than those laid by the old hens, and of a different shape. He declares positively that he has not made a mistake in any particular; and, if so, his pullets beat the record by a month at the very least. — Fenelon Falls Gazette.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

JOHANNESBURG NOW VASTLY DIFFERENT FROM FORMER TIMES.

A Sullen Silent City, Whose Streets Teem With Wearers of the Everlasting Khaki—"The Kickers," as the "Mine Division of the Rand Rifles" is Known—Aspect is Changing Daily.

The Johannesburg of to-day is a vastly different city from the Johannesburg of ante bellum days. Then it was a lively, bustling centre, the active metropolis of South Africa. Now it is a sullen, silent town under martial law. The streets teem with the wearers of the everlasting khaki, and civilian suits are few and far between. True, more civilians are to be seen on the streets than was the case even a month ago, but it is a difficult matter for them to get up to Johannesburg, as few are allowed to come up each week.

Probably the most familiar sight in the city to-day is the regiment known to the military authorities as the "Mine Division of the Rand Rifles" and to others as "The Kickers." This regiment came into being for the good and sufficient reason that the Boers had got into a very unpleasant habit of raiding mines in the outlying districts, destroying gold mills, electric plants and so forth before a sufficient force could be got together to drive them away. Almost every race has a representative in the mine guard, and the regiment has been said by an irreverent member of it to bear a close and striking resemblance to the motley force collected for the immortal Falstaff to do battle under the banner of Prince Henry.

Some work is now being done on the gold mines despite the fact that martial law reigns. Most of the rich mines are in the immediate neighborhood of Johannesburg, and these are the ones that suffered most from the Boer occupation. Out of these the burghers extracted thousands of gold just after the war began, and this gold has, of course, proved of the highest service to them. These mines are receiving special consideration from the authorities just now, and a good deal of work besides the mere pumping out of water is allowed on them. At some of the mines the extraction of the gold itself has been resumed.

More of a businesslike air now prevails in the city itself than was the case when martial law was first declared. One by one the storekeepers have removed the barricades protecting their propesty. To soldiers the price of food, clothing, etc., is reasonable enough, but from civilians the storekeepers demand and get a pretty high price for their goods. Martial law, as the civilians well know, has its drawbacks and restrictions in plenty, and the question of provender is undoubtedly one.

Only one newspaper is now published in Johannesburg, and that is a military organ, The Gazette, so that news of the outside world does not get into the city as readily as one would like, and the news that does get in is not always the most interesting possible. The publishing of books and magazines may be said to be at a complete standstill.

Amusements are a negative quantity here at present, and the man who has to be entertained to endure existence must find himself pretty nearly bored to death. Occasionally a military concert is held, but not of the liveliest nature and generally pretty commonplace. Every now and then races are run at the Turf Club, and, with the absence of every other form of amusement, they draw big crowds.

The Turf Club, however, is used for a vastly different purpose from that intended by its members. It is a great city of tents now, holding within its confines one of the largest camps in the country, made up entirely of Boer refugee women and children. Of course the poor people have many uncomfortable things to endure, but it is the best that can be done for them under the circumstances. Clubmen would find Johannesburg a terrible strain on their nerves. No 2 o'clock home comings, no midnight strolls, no nighthawks here. Every one has to be indoors at a certain hour, and mighty unpleasant it is for those found outdoors after this hour unless armed with a special permit.

Compare these conditions with those of your own village, town or city, and none will attempt to gainsay the fact that a place under martial law is not the happiest place in the world.

The Dutch budget for 1902 shows an expenditure of 167,000,000 guilders, and a deficit of 13,000,000 guilders.

A BIG WEDDING FEE.

The Generous Sum to Which Henry Ward Beecher Put It.

In his "Eccentricities of Genius" Major Pond says that often while traveling Henry Ward Beecher improved his time by having what he called "a general housecleaning" of his pockets, which would get loaded up with letters and papers until they could hold no more, when he would clear them out and destroy such papers as were worthless.

On one occasion Beecher happened to put his hand in the watch pocket of his pantaloons and found there a little envelope which he opened. When he saw its contents, he called Major Pond to sit beside him and remarked: "You remember the evening I married C. P. Huntington. I was so much interested in the subject that I forgot he handed me a little envelope as he went out of the door. I put it in the watch pocket of my pantaloons and never thought of it again until just now, and here it is, four $1,000 bills. Now," he said, "don't tell any one about it, and we will have a good time and make some happiness with this money. We will just consider that we found it."

And so in a day or two Mr. Beecher went with Major Pond to look at a cargo of fine oriental rugs, many of which he purchased and sent to different friends, and afterward he spent what remained of the money for coin silver lamps, unmounted gems and various pieces of bric-a-brac, all of which he gave away until he had used up the entire $4,000 "in making happiness among those whom he loved."

After Mr. Beecher's death the major related to Mr. Huntington the incident of this discovery of the four $1,000 bills, and the railway magnate observed: "I should never have given them to him. It was all wrong. I made a mistake. Money never did him any good."

Diseased Kidneys

Results From Exposure to Cold and Dampness or Injury of the Back—A Wonderfully Successful Home Treatment is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Though among the most painful and fatal of diseases, derangements of the kidneys are indicated by such marked symptoms that it is not necessary for anyone to be in doubt as to their ailment. Increasing weakness, debility and loss of weight; dull, heavy pains in the back, over the kidneys; frequent and pressing desire to urinate; scanty, highly-coloured urine; quick pulse; dry, harsh skin; constipation and diarrhoea alternating; nausea and stomach troubles and dropsical swellings, are the indications of kidney disease.

As the most frequent cause of kidney disease is exposure to cold and dampness or straining of the back and kidneys, it is especially common among workingmen, teamsters, railroaders and farmers. Kidney disease is also the result of constipation, and is found to prevail among men and women of sedentary habits and those accustomed to irregular hours, highly-seasoned foods and alcoholic liquors.

Mr. James Dellihunt, a most respected resident of Consecon, Ont., states: — "I was a sufferer from Bright's Disease for several years, and at times the tortures of mind and body were almost beyond endurance. The pains were in my head, between the shoulders and down the whole spine, concentrating across the kidneys, where I was never entirely free from pain. When I got up in the morning I went about bent over nearly double. It gave me great pain to urinate, and at times the water was very scanty. Medicines seemed to have little or no effect in my case, until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose relieved me, and five boxes entirely cured me. I have no pains in my kidneys, and can do as good a day's work as I ever could."

Mr. J. J. Ward, J. P., of Consecon, certifies that he knows Mr. Dellihunt's statement of his cure to be correct and true and without exaggeration. It seems Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills owe much of their success to the fact that they have a direct and combined action on both the kidneys and liver, and so thoroughly rid the system of complicated diseases of these filtering organs. There is no longer any doubt as to the remarkable virtue of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In Canada alone last year there were sold over one hundred and ninety thousand boxes of this great kidney medicine; one pill a dose; 25c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Questions of Clarence.

"Well, Clarence, what is it?" asked the boy's papa.

"I didn't say anything, papa," replied Clarence.

"I know you didn't, but it is fully five minutes since you asked a question, and I know from experience that another is due about this time."

"Well, papa, what are all those big United States flags made of?" asked the boy.

"Some of them are made of silk, Clarence, but by far the greater number are made of bunting."

"And, papa?"

"Well, Clarence?"

"Are the little flags made of baby bunting?"

An Ideal Ready-made Food.

Prof. Naumann, a most eminent authority on chemical and medical questions, says that cod liver oil is almost an ideal ready-made food. He says it is easy to digest, easily makes fat, and is also a medicine. Scott's Emulsion contains this oil so prepared that it is not at all unpleasant.

Crushed the Diamond.

Among historic diamonds one, the "Piggott," has gone out of existence. The story of its destruction is a tragical one. It was said to be worth $200,000. The diamond came into the possession of Ali Pasha, who always wore it in a green silk purse attached to his girdle.

He was wearing it when he was wounded by Rashid Pasha. Knowing that his wound was mortal, he immediately retired to his divan, gave orders that his favorite wife should be poisoned and then delivered the diamond to Captain D'Angins with the order that it should be crushed to powder in his presence. His command was obeyed, and the beautiful gem was utterly destroyed.

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is sometimes difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would try Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as syrup.

CITY OF HONG KONG.

INTERESTING LETTER BY A YOUNG CANADIAN AUTHOR.

Mr. J. S. Thomson Finds It a Fertile Field for Story and Song—All the Nations There, Motley and Strange of Tongue—Undeniably Dirty and in Need of a Good Bath, Too.

In an interesting letter to a friend in Toronto, Mr. J. S. Thomson, a young Canadian author, who has given both promise and performance, and is now in Hong Kong, gives a picture of life in that city, from which we quote the following:

"This is a very fertile field for story and song, and I will not neglect the myriad inspirations in midst of other busy days. I am glad to be beneath the banner of England once more. She has planted at the gates of the ancient world, here at the edge of the earth, an imperial military city, the prettiest in the world, built on the slopes of several hills (almost mountains), and at her feet lies her watchful navy, and over her head stalks the sentry and looms out her protecting cannon. All the nations are here, motley, strange of tongue, and over the stubborn heathen the Chinee, gathered up like a snake in his silence and his filth. Water for their washing, the lash for their discipline, and some of scripture for their saving, is what the whole horrible lot need—the bad, yellow heathen, and of them all the Chinee coolie is the muck of the festering pool. But it is interesting; and in contrast is the immovably proud Britisher or Englishman and his wife, alone in their castle on the hill, and satisfied to be alone forever. Such is the commercial gentleman, the soldier is more talkative, and is a great fellow; the foreigner (German and American—natural enemies) is too loud, too sporty. But a great joy is, this is England, the law and thanket, the pride, the honor of England. It is not China's heathen dragon over us, or Japan's sun-and-rays flag; it is the flag of Britain which is the literature, the society, the law of Britain, and that we thank God for being under, even if the heat is tropic and the plague a curse that strikes like a thief at night. I am glad to be here. General Gascoigne, who used to be head in Canada, is head of the military forces here; there are excellent churches, good choirs, fine bands; everybody reads. The walks are panoramas of mountain, valley, cloud and lake beauty. All houses are of stone and perched on a thousand crags and terraces, and 2,000 feet below us glitter and gleam at night the city of a thousand ships, masthead to bow and stern a festoon of fireflies. And over the satrapy of the colony, the hills of ceded China (350 square miles) mainland opposite, flouts the night and the clouds, and we are shut in from the earth, and our only appeal is the alien's to his God. Sometimes we eat our heart out, as we strive to keep our light burning. If it ever goes out, it is death—Russia, Japan, China, India—all equally obnoxious to our souls."

J. STUART THOMSON.

To Relieve Baldness.

"No man or woman under 50 should be bald, for up to that time the roots are good, and where there are roots there can also be hair," said a specialist in the care of the hair.

"Hats make men's hair come out. They wear their hats so heavy. The scalp gets dry, then the circulation is gone and the hair falls out.

"To relieve baldness the blood must be brought to the scalp. This is done by opening the pores by applying hot towels at an even temperature until the head is as red as a tomato. Then the head should be massaged with the following preparation:

"Best olive oil, three ounces; almond oil, one ounce; glycerine, one-half ounce; rosewater, one ounce.

"Massage thoroughly with this and then wash the head with a good shampoo and warm water, but no soap. Then close the pores by applying cool towels to the head.

"This treatment, if carefully and conscientiously followed, will make hair grow on the most obstinate heads if the person is not over 50 years old."

"But only men are bald, madam. Women are never bald, are they?"

"Women? Seldom entirely bald, but their hair comes out in spots. This treatment will relieve even spotted baldness.

"Men cut their hair too often. Cutting hair robs it of its strength and causes it to fall out."

Post Office in Barrel.

The smallest, simplest and best protected postoffice in the world, an English newspaper says, is in the Straits of Magellan, and has been there for many years. It consists of a small painted keg, or cask, and is chained to the rocks of the extreme cape in a manner so that it floats free opposite Tierra del Fuego. Each passing ship sends a boat to take letters out and put others in. This curious postoffice is unprovided with a postmaster, and is, therefore, under the protection of all the navies of the world. Never in the history of the unique "office" has its privilege been abused.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Set a small box of lime in the pantry, and it will help to keep it dry and the air pure.

Soda should never be used for flannels, and if they are kept in good condition they should be neither mangled nor ironed.

Mud stains can usually be removed from silk by rubbing with a piece of flannel. If the stain proves obdurate, rub with a piece of linen saturated with alcohol.

If your window glass is lacking in brilliancy, clean it with a liquid paste made of alcohol and whiting. A little of this mixture will remove specks and impart a high luster to the glass.

To render feathers white immerse them for a short time in naphtha or benzine. Rinse in a second dish of the same and dry in the open air. Then bleach by exposing in a box to the vapor of burning sulphur in a moist atmosphere.

Good clear starch is easily made. Wet the lump starch with cold water, stir till smooth, pour on boiling water and cook till clear. It takes a quart of boiling water to "clear" two tablespoonfuls of lump starch. If too thick, thin with bleed water.

Including the Frame.

His indulgent friends had praised his attempts at painting and drawing to such an extent that the youth really imagined himself to be an artist. His wealthy friends even bought his pictures for considerable sums of money "to encourage him," as they said.

Recently in walking along the Strand in London he was much delighted at seeing one of his pictures, finely framed, in a dealer's window, especially as he was walking with a pretty lady before whom he wished to appear in the best possible light.

Calling the attention of the lady to the picture, he said:

"Pardon me, but I have some curiosity to know how my pictures stand commercially."

And the two entered the shop.

"My good man," said he to the keeper of it, "what is the price of that picture in the window here?"

"Three shillings."

"Great Scott!" cried the artist recoiling.

The shopman, thinking the exclamation to be one of surprise at the high price, added:

"Well, it includes the frame!"—Exchange.

The Successful Doctor.

The king of purgatory sent his lictors to earth to bring back some skillful Chinese physician. "You must look for one," said the king, "at whose door there are no aggrieved spirits of disembodied patients." The lictor went off, but at the house of every doctor they visited there were crowds of wailing ghosts hanging about. At last they found a doctor at whose door there was only a single shade and cried out, "This man is evidently the skillful one we are in search of." On inquiry, however, they discovered that he had only started practice the day before.—Giles' "History of Chinese Literature."

Give Everybody a Chance.

Emerson's dictum that we should treat every one as if he were all he ought to be is an excellent rule to practice in daily life. It is human nature to rise to the level that is expected of it. It is not necessary to waste time upon meaningless people unless you are forced to them by strong family ties, but it is important that all with whom you come in contact be studied, with the desire on your part to give credit for all that is good in them and that nothing in their outward circumstances or appearance be allowed to prejudice you against them.—Ada C. Sweet in Woman's Home Companion.

HOW THE LEGS GROW.

The Shocks of Exercise Lengthen Them and Keep Them Even.

As a fact, says the author, our lower limbs are not usually both of exactly the same length, though they are so for all practical purposes. The left is usually the longer, though the gait is not notably influenced by this fact. At birth the lower limbs are shorter than the upper, and their movements are rather of the prehensile type. "We are not born leggy like the foal or kangaroo, but we gradually achieve legginess." The bones increase in length, not so much by interstitial deposit as by addition to their ends—that is, by progressive ossification of the layer of cartilage which intervenes between the end of the shaft and the epiphysis. Ossification goes on till the component parts of the bone are all united by bony matter, and thus the stature of the individual is determined.

If from inflammation or injury an epiphysis be damaged, one limb may be shorter than the other, or inflammatory stimulation may even induce an increased length in the bone affected. The skeletons of tortoises, not being subjected to sudden jars, have no epiphyses at the ends of the long bones, whereas in the leaping frog the extremities of the humerus and femur long remain as separate epiphyses. The continuous concussions to which the ends of the bones of the lower limbs are exposed when a vigorous child is excited by its own natural spirit to run about are doubtless of great value in assisting the growth in length of the lower limbs, which soon lose their infantile character and become adapted for running and walking. By exposing the lower limbs to the same influences and resistances during their entire growth we manage to maintain them of the same length, and gentle jars upon the epiphyses at the joints may be considered favorable to growth.

To Have Beautiful Skin.

Every one who would have a clear, soft, velvety skin free from pimples, blackheads, redness and disfiguring eruptions must use Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is a true food for the skin, does not clog the pores as do powders, and insures permanent benefit. There is not a single itching, burning skin disease of men, women or children that Dr. Chase's Ointment will not cure. Mothers find it invaluable for Baby Eczema, scald head and chafing on the little ones.

Told Him.

An old Scottish farmer, being elected a member of the local school board, visited the school and tested the intelligence of the class by his questions. The first inquiry was:

"Noo, boys, can ony o' you tell me what naething is?"

After a moment's silence a small boy in a back seat arose and replied:

"It's what ye gi'e me t'other day for haudin yer bourse!"

Above Suspicion.

On being informed that a member of his race had been sentenced to the penitentiary for forgery, Brother Dickey exclaimed: "Dat's what comes er dis yer eddication. Thank de good Lawd I never could read or write, an, what's mo,' I never will!"

TO DRAIN THE LAKE.

Mr. Blackwell Makes Another Proposition to the Douro Council.

It is understood that Mr. E. Blackwell has made a second report to the Douro Council, concerning the draining of Buckley's Lake. He proposes to cut out the bar of the creek from the mouth to station 45 on its first profile which would cut out the natural dam on the creek and thus drain the lake, although not quite so early in the season. This can be done for $2500. There cannot be any doubt as to the reliability of the estimate, as Mr. Blackwell offers himself to accomplish the work for this amount. It seems an exceedingly favourable proposition as it would reduce the cost of the drainage to a trifle over $1 an acre for each owner's lands.

MAMMOTH DRAWING MACHINE.

Wonderful Press Installed in the McClary Works at London.

The McClary Manufacturing Company, of London, Ont., has installed a wonderful piece of machinery in their plant for the making of enameled ware. It was manufactured at Goppenger, in Germany, the birthplace of this much-used product. The freight and duty alone amounted to more than $2,500. Its exact weight is 90,000 pounds, nearly 30 tons, and because of its great bulk and weight the New York wharf authorities added a considerable extra charge for handling it. One single piece weighed more than fifteen tons, and great mechanical skill was required to set it up, and it took practically one month to have it in such condition that it is ready for use. It was necessary first of all to tear a large opening in the rear wall so as to admit the bulkier pieces, and to build a concrete foundation 21 feet square and eight feet deep. The whole foundation is 13 feet below the surface and the top of the press rises through the ceiling into the apartment above.

It is a drawing press, a machine in which the flat metal blanks are transformed into the shapes required before receiving the enamel coating. By its importation the McClary Company possesses the largest machine of its kind in America. It will make everything that is used in the enamel trade, from a small mug 2 1-2 inches in diameter to a tub two feet across, and will draw sheet steel ranging from the light 25-guage to the very heavy 16-guage, such as is required for sinks and other extremely heavy articles.

A larger and more powerful engine and boiler had to be procured before it could be worked satisfactorily, and one of the finest that are manufactured was installed about a month ago. A new spinning lathe was also required. The one lately installed is of a pattern never before used in Canada, and has an attachment for oval work besides the round. The manufacture of enameled ware in Canada is comparatively a young industry, of an age that does not exceed seven or eight years, yet it has assumed enormous proportions, and is growing yearly. The McClary Company handled the output of some German firms for many years, until finally the demand for the ware having become very great, they determined to enter the field themselves. This was a momentous step to take against a patronage that extended immediately from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but instead of the business proving the failure that pessimists predicted, it has grown tremendously, warranting the large outlay the firm has made upon this department. The improved machinery that has just been installed will further assure their position as the foremost and most enterprising producers of Canadian enameled ware.

AN ASSOCIATION

To be Formed of the Mining Companies Near Peterborough.

In reference to the matter of organizing a Mining Association for North Hastings, it has been decided to proceed at once to lay the matter before the mining men o fthe district. A meeting will be held, likely in Madoc, about the first of next month. The question of a Government [illegible] will be [illegible] important matter under discussion. Other matters of interest will be dealt with. It is greatly to be desired that such an undertaking meet with the hearty support of everyone interested in mining, which should include every ratepayer in North Hastings. Do not leave this important matter for others to attend to, but help it along yourself. The organization will be strictly non-political. — Marmora Herald.

LABOURERS ARE WANTED.

Employment Agents are Unable to Fill Orders for men Wanted for Railway Construction Work and on Farms.

Prominent employment agents in the city complain of a dearth of labourers. Men are wanted for nearly all kinds of work, and many harvesters who came out here from the east, intending to stay but for a short while, are shipping on railroad construction gangs. The building season is a good one, and a great deal of railroad construction is in progress, and every day the demand for men increases. The threshing absorbs a great deal of the available labour, but it is the opiniuon of contractors and employment agents that even when threshing operations are over throughout the country there will be no reason for men being out of work in the province.

Owing to the successful crop many farmers contemplate an extension to their properties, and as a prepartory move are adding to their permanent help by one or two hands. The immigration department here is in receipt of many applications for farm hands, and the agents are daily sending men to good berths on Manitoba farms. In their letters the farmers mention wages which run from $18.00 to $30.00 per month including board. Some applicants do not state definite wages, but mention $.0.00 for the first month, when future wages will be mutually agreed upon. Experienced farm hands of British origin are most in demand. — Winnipeg Telegram.

BOWLING.

The third draw in the Bowling Competition has been made as follows:—

W J English vs. M Green.

This draw should be played off this week.

GOLF.

The first team of the Peterborough Ladies Golf Club is in Port Hope today playing the ladies of the club of that place.

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Hamilton had a remarkably close game in the semi-finals for the club championship the other day. The former won out by one hole.

The links were never in finer condition for play than at the present time, a fact that is fully appreciated by the members, as large numbers of players are out every day.

RUGBY.

The Rugby team had another practice yesterday afternoon and will practice again to-morrow afternoon. On Saturday another match practice will take place on the Nicholls oval. The management will likely make arrangements for having night practices on the parade grounds of the 57th Regiment, on Central Park. The electric light will be used.

Burton, of the Bank of Montreal, and Nicholls, of the C.G.E., are the latest arrivals on the Rugby field.

Ben Simpson intends going back to Queen's in the course of a few days.

HOCKEY.

Mr. W. A. Buchanan, of the Toronto Telegram, who is a member of the O.H.A. Executive, was in town yesterday. Asked as to the probability of the Peterborough club being ruled out of the O.H.A. on account of the size of its rink, Mr. Buchanan said that such would certainly be the case. Small rinks are a thing of the past in O.H.A. circles. The Trent Valley League will have to come to the rescue.

Mr. Bert Bellegrhem, who has been in town for a few weeks visiting his parents, left to-day to resume his duties with the Ontario Bank at Cornwall. Bert says that he has not played the game since he left Peterborough, but he will go into training this winter.

LACROSSE.

Toronto Telegram.—It will be a great lacrosse match when Port Hope and Owen Sound come together, and if you want to win a little money get down on the Hopefuls for they're going to win. They have a beautifully balanced team that play good clean lacrosse. The only outside men on the team are McCabe and Glover, (Peterborough) and Nattress, (Millbrook). Mike Young, the Port Hope goal keeper, has a bad habit of catching the ball with his hands and instead of simply batting it out throws it away down the field.

BASEBALL.

Sullivan has not signed with Toronto for next year, although manager Barrow desired him to do so. "Sully" is wanted by the Cleveland club, of the American league, and has been asked to name his own figure. He will make no engagement until next spring.

LOTS OF WORK.

A Contradiction of the Statement That There are Plenty of Labourers in the Northwest.

Mr. D. M. Dodds of Bensfort, has received the appended letter from his brother, W. H. Dodds, dated at Sheppardville, in reference to the labour question in Manitoba and the Northwest:

Sheppardville, Sept. 3rd.

Dear Brother, — Yours received on August 31st; hoped it would read, "All right, I intend coming," but no, and it is too bad, as your Manitoba experiences would stand you as good as gold these days, for I could place six separator men now on new outfits at any wages. You would be worth $80 per month or more here now.

Got wheat all cut last week; we had grand harvest weather; cutting oats to-day. We are going to break all previous records in threshing—new belting, new shafting, and everything that money will buy to make her go. Randolph went to Winnipeg to hurry up an engine, as there is such a demand for outfits they cant half supply them. Welsh is nearly through with his wheat, and Peter has two men and a team tearing it down. He has to pay $6 per day for the privilege. Wilse has a man till Wednesday, then he will leave to get $45 per month. I wish I had some of those men you speak of; I would warm their shirts, they never came where there was work for fear they would have to do something. We are all well, and will be very busy till it freezes up. Ever yours,

W. H. Dodds.

Died at Age of 103.

Hamilton, Sept. 24.—Uncle Adam Misener, the oldest resident of this section of Ontario, passed away at his home in Troy, in Beverley Township. Adam was 103 years and 7 months old, being born at Crowland, in Welland County, on Feb. 20, 1798. He commenced farming in the vicinity of Troy over 80 years ago, and has lived in that section ever since. He was twice married, his second wife dying a few years ago at the age of 96. Seven children survive him. His grandfather, also named Adam, was a Hollander, and came to America in 1720, settling in New Jersey. One of his sons, Adam, was a boy when the battle of Lundy's Lane was fought.

Wet Wedding Days Preferred.

The adage "Happy is the bride that the sun shines on" is one that is unknown in many lands. A Breton bride takes it unhappily when the day of her wedding dawns bright and sunny. Rain on her marriage morn is held to signify that all her tears are shed and that she will therefore have a happy married life.

It is said that the Erzs of Simbriak call the day before the wedding the weeping day, and the bride and her girl friends weep as much as possible with the idea of getting the mourning of life over, so that only what is joyful may remain. In some countries this result is attained by sousing the bride with water. The Greeks think that a thorough drenching of the bride will bring her lasting good fortune.

A PAIR OF FISHERS.

In the dawy morn they strayed down the silver river glade;
He was an artful fisherman, and she an artless maid;
And he, this angler up to date, was loaded to the brim
With the latest fads in rods and bait, chosen with care by him;
While she, the artless maiden, in a fetching sailor rig,
Had brought as her only outfit a luncheon basket big!

So across his line he watched her with a quiet complacent smile,
As she trailed her pretty fingers in the sparkling stream the while;
Posing with grace unstudied, chattering of this and that,
With flying glances from beneath her saucy sailor hat;
And he thought, as his rod he handled with a neat and knowing touch—
Seeming to feel the wily fish already in his clutch —
How very narrow in her range a woman really is,
Unfit to grasp the angler's art with all its mysteries!

Yes, the simple maid he pitied, that she could not know the thrill
Of joy and pride that follows the inborn fisher's skill!
Yet for all his smile complacent, in her aptness at the game,
She proved herself his equal when the test of trial came;
For the work begun in the morning by her fetching sailor rig,
At noon she neatly finished with the luncheon basket big!
And, ah, when they drifted homeward, as the slanting shades begun,
Though the man had caught the wily fish, the maid had caught the man!

ABOUT CHICKENS.

The Canadian Produce Co., of Toronto, has received a definite contract from London, Eng., for 100,000 lbs. of Canadian chickens. This is the largest order for this kind of produce ever given to a Canadian firm. It only remains with the farmers of Ontario to raise enough chickens to supply the demand. The Canadian Produce Co. is prepared to buy every chicken that can be raised in the Province of Ontario.

JUST WHY

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablet has a Record of Cures Unparalleled.

Because it is not an experiment, not a "cure-all," but a modern, up-to-date formula, thoroughly tried and tested on many hundreds of cases in private practice, hospital and outdoor clinics.

A medicine that has kept pace with the times and the advancement of medical science. A medicine confined to a practical range. One that that does not promise more than it can do.

A backache, kidney, bladder tablet, pure and simple, the same yesterday, to-day and to-morrow. This great kidney medicine is a boon alike to the young, the middle-aged and the aged.

It was the people who successfully used Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that applied to it the term: "The Great Kidney Medicine," because it removed symptoms like the following that were staring them in the face every day, all the result of disordered kidneys—

Backache.
Pain in the back.
Weak, sluggish circulation.
Puffy or dark circles under the eyes.
Urine cloudy, milk-like or stringy dark in colour, or offensive.
Painful, scalding sensation in passing it.
Dull, heavy headache, tired, dizzy feeling, faint spells, irregular heart beats.
Urinary weakness, compelling frequent attention during the day, and to get up many times during the night.
Restless, sleepless nights. Fagged out, run down and irritable.

These are some of the danger signals nature sets to show the track of health is not clear, but kidneys clogged and Bright's disease stealing in.

If you are convinced Pitcher's Tablets are what you want, you can purchase them at your druggist's for 50 cents a bottle. If not obtainable at druggists, mailed free of postage on receipt of price.

OTTAWA'S FAREWELL

Their Royal Highnesses on the Way to Winnipeg.

CROWDS BID THEM GOD-SPEED

At the Station in the Capital an Immense Throng Witnessed Their Departure—Lady Minto, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier and a Lot of Correspondents Accompany the Party.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York said farewell to the Capital yesterday morning. They were gratified beyond measure at the enthusiasm displayed by the people of Ottawa and at the beauty of the decorations, and made no secret of their pleasure.

To the Premier and a number of members of the Government they frequently during their stay spoke of the gratification they had experienced from their visit, and a similar expression was conveyed to Mayor Morris of Ottawa just before the royal departure.

The weather is largely responsible for the success of the Ottawa demonstration. During the whole of the royal visit, blue skies, radiant sunshine, and an atmosphere of almost summer heat have been the invariable rule. In fact, as the Governor-General was heard to say this morning to the Mayor of Ottawa: "The clerk of the weather ought to be congratulated."

Yesterday morning the weather was beautiful, as usual, with just a trifle of winter freshness in the air. It was superb weather for outdoor functions, and the royal departure was as brilliant a ceremony as any that have preceded it. The royal train went out from the Elgin Street Station of the Canada Atlantic Railway in two sections. The first section, which rolled out at 12.05 p.m., had on board the Countess of Minto and Major and Mrs. Maude, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the corps of newspaper reporters accompanying the royal party. The second section, in which Their Royal Highnesses traveled, moved out at 12.30. Lady Minto is going to the coast and back, but His Excellency remains in Ottawa.

RT. HON. SIR WILFRID LAURIER, Who Goes With Royal Party.

The newspaper section of the train will keep 30 minutes ahead of the royal train throughout the trip.

Fired by Pembroke.

Pembroke, Ont., Sept. 25.—Pembroke's Mayor proclaimed yesterday a half-holiday to honor the passing of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall. As early as 2 o'clock the crowds gathered at the C.P.R. Station to await the arrival of the different trains, and fully 2,000 people spent the afternoon in joyous expectation of a glimpse of the Duke and Duchess, but the train fled by at 4.30 p.m. without even slowing up.

Received at Renfrew.

Renfrew, Ont., Sept. 25.—As this is one of the chief stopping places of the C.P.R., the townspeople expected to get a good look at the royal party, and they were not disappointed.

The day was declared a part holiday, and between 2,000 and 3,000 people were massed about the station; the school children carrying flags. An enthusiastic welcome was accorded the royal couple as the train drew in almost on time. The Duke and Duchess graciously acknowledged the enthusiasm. After about 10 minutes' stay, the train drew out amid hearty cheers, the local volunteer company, under Lieut. H. J. Airth, were proud of having received a command from the Duke.

Again at Arnprior.

Arnprior, Ont., Sept. 25.—The special train conveying the Duke and Duchess of York stopped a few minutes here on the way to the Coast. The station was lavishly decorated; over 3,000 people were at the station, among them 600 school children, carrying flags.

North Day, Sept. 25.—The royal train passed here, westbound, at 9.15 p.m.

Sudbury, Sept. 25. — The royal train passed here, westbound, at 12.25 a.m.

Winnipeg Waiting.

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—Winnipeg was soaked with rain last night, and the flags and bunting, already up for the Duke's visit on Thursday are somewhat bedraggled looking. General Superintendent Leonard has gone to Fort William, where he will meet Their Royal Highnesses and accompany them over his division.

Program at Winnipeg.

Sept. 26, 11.30 a.m.—Arrival royal train; royal procession to the City Hall.

Noon—Presentation of addresses.

12.30 p.m.—Presentation of decorations and medals.

1.30 p.m.—Luncheon at Government House.

PRINCIPAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

Had a Comfortable Day—Slight Chill Shortly After Six.

Kingston, Sept. 25.—Principal Grant had a comfortable day with no change in the favorable conditions yesterday. He is very weak, consequent on the severe illness.

Among the many callers at the hospital to enquire as to his condition were Archbishop Gauthrie, Bishop Mills and Chief Justice Meredith.

Telegrams from all over Canada have been constantly received, expressing deep regret. Among the telegrams received was one from Lord Strathcona, who also sent a message of congratulation to the Principal on the royal honor he had received.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Principal Grant had a slight chill, which, however, speedily disappeared. Dr. Garrett at 8.30 o'clock last night reported that no serious effects had so far followed the unfavorable symptoms. The patient was resting nicely.

The Congress of Socialists.

Berlin, Sept. 25.—Herr Bebel, who was one of the principal speakers at yesterday's session of the German Socialist Congress in Lubeck, exhorted the delegates to moderation and self-control during the debates, which, he said, would develop sharp diversities of opinion.

In South Ontario.

Port Perry, Sept, 25.—Hon. G. E. Foster, ex-Minister of Finance, and Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, are announced to speak at Prince Albert, Ontario County, this evening at the re-opening of the public hall.

Nominations in Nova Scotia.

Halifax, Sept. 25.—John J. McCabe and John A. Macdonald, ex-M. P., were nominated by the Conservatives of Victoria County yesterday, to run against Premier Murray and John Morrison at the local elections.

The Islander Enquiry.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 25.—The enquiry into the loss of the steamer Islander in Lynn Canal will be resumed to-day. The Dominion Government will be represented by counsel.

SIFTON MURDER CASE

Walter Herbert's Startling Story of the Crime.

WANTED AS WITNESS OF CRIME.

But Afterwards Turns To and Assists in Its Perpetration—Jury Visits the Scene of the Fatality at St. John's—The Counsel Engaged on the Case—The Proceedings on Tuesday.

London, Ont., Sept. 25. — The court room was crowded yesterday morning when Mr. Justice MacMahon entered and opened the court, the first case on the docket being the charge against Gerald Sifton of murdering his father.

Gerald Sifton was alone in the prisoner's dock. He appeared to be somewhat nervous, but was by no means jaded by his summer in jail.

The legal counsel are Mr. W. R. Riddell, K.C., Crown Attorney McGee, J. B. McKillop, for the Crown; Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. L. F. Heilmuth, T. W. Scandrett and J. McEvoy for the defence. On the suggestion of Mr. Riddell, before proceeding with the case, the jurors were taken to the scene of the tragedy. They were cautioned by the judge to speak to no one while away, and constables in charge were given extraordinary precautions to that effect. They left at 11.30 and returned at 2 p.m., when the case was resumed.

Walter Herbert's Evidence.

London, Sept. 25.—Walter Herbert went into the witness box at the trial of Gerald Sifton for the murder of his father in the afternoon and told a very straight story of the crime. He admitted having struck the first blow, but said he then threw away the murderous ax. Gerald Sifton picked up the ax and struck his father repeatedly on three different occasions.

The elder Sifton was coming through a trap door in the barn on his place, when Herbert struck him a glancing blow on the side of the head. The blow dazed Sifton, but he did not fall from the ladder. Gerald Sifton then seized the ax and rained three or four blows on top of the head. The now unconscious man was pulled up through the opening and thrown on some hay. Here Gerald struck him twice, and again he did so before the body was let fall through an opening in the end of the barn—a fall that the defence claim was the cause of death.

Herbert was then sent around to where the body lay, and placed it as Gerald directed, together with the ax and some stones, putting blood on the latter. The injured man's head was covered with blood. Herbert said Gerald told him to hit the old man again, as there would be "Hell to pay" if he came to. He struck the prostrate man twice on the head.

The witness said that he knew nothing of Sifton's intention to kill his father until the morning of the tragedy. He was milking as usual when Sifton called him and said he was going over to his father's to do away with the old man, and if he would go along as a witness and say there was no foul play should the question be raised, he would give him $1,000. He consented, not until the deceased was about to come through the trap door was Herbert asked to assist. He then struck one blow, but evidently disheartened, threw the ax away. The younger Sifton then grabbed the ax and while belaboring his father with it said, "You old —— you won't fool me any more."

Herbert made no display of bravado. Many times he seemed on the point of breaking down. Upon not a few points in the boy's story the Crown will bring forward strong corroborative evidence, and the defence recognize that they have an uphill fight ahead.

CHINA TO JAPAN.

Apology for Murder Couched in Terms of the Deepest Regret.

London, Sept. 25.—The Toledo correspondent of The Times gives the text of the apology of Emperor Kwang Su to Emperor Mutsuhito, for the murder of Sugiyama Akira, Chancellor of the Japanese Legation in Pekin at the beginning of the "Boxer" outrage.

The apology is couched in terms of the deepest regret and deference, testifying that the benevolent humane attitude of Japan has happily preserved the general situation in the Orient intact and asking the Mikado to be graciously disposed to draw closer the bonds of friendship uniting the two empires.

The Mikado, in a gracious reply to the Chinese envoy, expressed a belief that the relations between the two countries would be closer in the future.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES.

One of the most prominent and ablest members of the Liberal party, one who for long years did yeomen service in opposition and has since proved an able minister and a pillar of strength in the government, retires from the political arena and takes his place on the bench of the Supreme Court. His going is a distinct loss to political interests and it is as great a gain to the bench which he will adorn. Sir Louis Davies has been one of Canada's most prominent statesmen. In his own province he has played an equally important part, having been Premier for some time and inaugurating very important legislation. Since 1882 Sir Louis Davies has been a leading member of the Liberal party in the House of Commons. As a debater he was very brilliant and was not inaptly termed on one occasion the "Rupert of debate" in the Canadian Parliament. It was evident when the Conservatives went out and the Liberals went into power that no government would be possible without the presence of Sir Louis Davies, so he was assigned the portfolio of Marine and Fisheries, a departmental office that he has administered in a most admirable manner. The government loses one of its ablest members by his translation to a higher sphere. Sir Louis has taken part in more than one matter of national importance outside of parliamentary life. He acted as one of the British counsel before the International Fisheries Commission appointed under the treaty of Washington, which held its meetings in Halifax in 1877, and in 1897 went to Washington for the purpose of taking part in the negotiations for the settlement of outstanding disputes between Canada and the U.S.A. and the improvement of trade relations. On this occasion he signed the protocols of the preliminary negotiations for the appointment of the Joint High Commission, which is now in existence and is likely to resume its work. It may be assumed that his withdrawal from the government will not necessitate his vacating his post as a member of the Commission. Sir Louis has also been called on to argue important points in connection with the German and Belgian treaties before the law officers in the interests of Canada. As already said, his ascent to the bench of the Supreme Court will add strength to that body. A gap will be made in the Cabinet and the House of Commons not easily filled, and the retirement of the Minister of Marine will be attended with great and general regret. — Ottawa Free Press.

Depressed and Discouraged.

It is remarkable how thoroughly the whole system is thrown out of order when the nerves become weak and exhausted. All energy and ambition seems to disappear, the mind wanders, memory fails and despondency reigns supreme. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food puts new vim and energy into the brain, nerves and body, and builds up the system and prevents paralysis, prostration and insanity.

TELEGRAPH OPEN TO DAWSON.

Governor Ross Sent the First Message Through Tuesday Night.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 25.— The Dawson Dominion Government telegraph line was opened through to Dawson for first time last night, Governor Ross of Yukon sending first message through before he left on the steamer Hating at 9 p.m. on his return north.

Held for a Ransom.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Bulgarian brigands, instead of Turks, kidnapped Miss Ellen H. Stone, the American missionary in Turkey, according to the last advices to the State Department. The brigands demand a ransom for the release of the prisoner, and Consul-General Dickinson asks the State Department whether the American Board of Foreign Missions is willing to pay this ransom. The request has been transmitted to the Mission Board.

On a Serious Charge.

Rossland, B.C., Sept. 25.—Edwin H. Leads, a well-known resident of Trail, is under arrest, charged with a serious offence. It is alleged that he stole from a mail bag in the Trail postoffice the sum of $660 in cash and two cheques for $40 each. The defendant is a real estate and insurance broker. He has resided for six years at Trail, and has an untarnished record.

British Trust to Fight.

Birmingham, Eng., Sept. 25.— British manufacturers have resolved to "form a combination to defend their interests and the interests of British commerce in view of the entrance into the country of the American Tobacco Company." For this end a retaliatory measure will shortly be announced.

SIR LOUIS H. DAVIES

Lord Minto Signs His Appointment to Supreme Court Bench.

HIS DISTINGUISHED SERVICES.

The Ex-Minister of Marine Will Introduce Hon. James Sutherland to His Staff in Taking Leave of Them, and He Will Temporarily Administer the Department—Regret at Retirement.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Sir Louis Davies is no longer a member of the Cabinet. Yesterday afternoon the Governor-General signed the order in Council appointing him to the Supreme Court Bench. It is expected that Sir Louis will be sworn in a Judge by Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice, when the court opens for the fall term, on Tuesday, October 1. The ex-Minister spent the afternoon at the Marine Department, his Secretary, Mr. Gordon, going over his private letters and papers and arranging for their removal to his residence. This morning, at 10 o'clock he will take leave of the staff and introduce Hon. James Sutherland, who is to act temporarily as head of the department. Genuine regret is felt at the retirement of Sir Louis from political life. His genial disposition and pleasing manners rendered him a favorite, and those who approached him in matters of public business always received a courteous hearing. During his long public career Sir Louis has maintained an unsullied reputation, and he has administered his department for six years in a most creditable manner.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES.

His Distinguished Services.

After a successful career in the Local Assembly and Government of Prince Edward Island, Sir Louis entered the Dominion House in 1882, and immediately took a prominent position in the ranks of the Liberal party. He became one of the foremost debaters in the Commons, where his keen, incisive speeches admittedly exercised a strong influence. Before his appearance in the broader field of Dominion politics he had achieved distinction as one of the British counsel before the international fisheries commission, which held its sittings in Halifax in 1877. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was called upon to form a Government in 1896 the assignment of a portfolio to him was regarded as a foregone conclusion, and he has presided over the Department of Marine and Fisheries since July of that year. During the years which have since intervened the lighthouse service on the coasts and inland lakes of Canada has been completely revolutionized and modernized, and several fine vessels have been added to or are in course of construction, for the Government service. Despite the great increase of business in the department the work has been efficiently and economically performed. In the administration of the fisheries of Canada numberless questions arise which might easily provoke friction between this country and the republic to the south, but while firmly maintaining the rights of Canada, Sir Louis during his regime provoked no vexatious international differences. Sir Louis has been actively identified with negotiations on several questions of great international concern. He accompanied Sir Richard Cartwright to Washington to discuss tariff issues, and also went with the Premier to the United States capital in connection with the settlement of the Behring Sea rules and regulations. He paid a third official visit to Washington as a member of the Joint High Commission, and it seems not unlikely that he will retain his place on that important court if it ever reassembles. Sir Louis had much to do with the settlement of the Behring Sea claims, which gave nearly half a million dollars to Canadian sealers. The money was awarded in a lump sum, and was distributed by Sir Louis without causing the slightest friction or leaving any claim outstanding. In the negotiations upon the Alaska boundary claim Sir Louis likewise had no little to do, and one of his most recent acts in that connection was the preparation for the British Government of an important State paper, setting forth Canada's position in a convincing and comprehensive form. Although, as has been said on a previous occasion, the country loses by Sir Louis' retirement from the Government, the bench gains a most distinguished ornament, and his friends hope that he will long live to adorn the ranks of the judiciary.

ELEVEN YEARS A CLOSE PRISONER.

Story of a Quebec Man's Trial and His Long Unearned Punishment.

His Recent Marvelous Escape by the Aid of Dodd's Kidney Pills—His Gratitude to the Help That Saved Him—Six Boxes Completely Restored Him to Health.

St. Patrice, Lotbienere, Que., Sept. 22nd.—(Special.) — A sad story of unjust imprisonment is that told by Phillippe Boissonnealt of this place. His case was worse than that of the ordinary prisoner for his bonds were those of pain and disease. For eleven years they held him, a hopeless victim, chained, tortured, a slave to Kidney Disease.

Who is there in the world that thinks man was intended to suffer, that he merits his fate, that he deserves the afflictions disease put on him? Surely no one thinks that. We were put here to be happy, to be healthy and free from disease. Nobody will say that Phillippe Boissonneault of St. Patrice, deserves his long punishment, and nobody but will rejoice to learn that through the aid of a wonderful medicine — Dodd's Kidney Pills — he has escaped.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, the remedy that proved such a boon, have made a reputation all over the world in curing of diseases of and arising from the kidneys. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Backache, Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Women's Disorders, Dropsy, Nervousness and Blood Impurities all come within the scope of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Dodd's Kidney Pills have testimonials for the cure of all of them. Phillippe Boissonneault's case was the common form of Kidney Disease.

"For eleven years I have sufferad untold agony with Backache, which crippled me as though I was barred and shackled. I have taken all sorts of remedies, nothing doing me any good. I read in Dodd's Almanac what was recommended for the Kidneys. I decided to try them, and sent for six boxes, though without confidence, but to-day I am completely cured and thank Dodd's Kidney Pills alone for it."

Brains and Hands.

The brain of a great man remains in fine working order long after his hands, directed by that brain, have lost their deftness. That is one of the curious things of life. There are plenty of instances of men who have reached the allotted age of life continuing in the activities of the world as long as those activities are of the brain and not of the hand.

But the mechanic's highest skill is shown when he is between the ages of 30 and 40. After the latter age his hand loses its cunning, but if his brain has been taught to work he can continue to labor and may even surpass the earning power of his hand. After 40 the muscles do not respond nearly as certainly and readily to the orders and the willingness of the brain, and a man's handwork begins to fall off in its earning capacity.

Yet in the case of the brain it is only after 40 that it really begins its best work—the work that endures and is called famous long after the man has ceased to be.

KRUGER SEEKS ROOSEVELT.

Special Mission Will Not Be Sent for Boer Funds Are Low.

The Hague, Sept. 25.—The Associated Press representative here learns that the announcement made in the Soir of Brussels that Mr. Kruger has decided to send a special mission to President Roosevelt is not correct. The expenses incurred since Mr. Kruger came to Europe has reduced the Transvaal funds to a small sum. In fact some of the Boers here are even destitute, and all of them agree that Mr. Kruger has scarcely enough for himself. The course probably to be adopted will be that Montagu White will be instructed to approach the United States government.

Brussels, Sept. 25.—The Soir yesterday printed a despatch from The Hague, saying that Mr. Kruger has decided to send soon a special mission to President Roosevelt.

CZOLGOSZ CONVICTED.

President McKinley's Slayer Found Guilty of Murder in First Degree—To Be Sentenced Thursday.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 25.—Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Fred Nieman, was yesterday found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in part III. of the Supreme Court, in having on the sixth day of September shot President William McKinley, the wounds inflicted by such gunshots afterwards resulting in the death of the President.

The wheels of justice moved swiftly. The trial of the assassin consumed eight hours and twenty-six minutes, and covered a period of only two days. Practically, all of this time was occupied by the prosecution in presenting a case so clear, so conclusive, that even had the prisoner entered the plea of insanity, it is doubtful if the jury would have returned a verdict different from the one rendered yesterday.

The announcement made this afternoon by the attorneys for Czolgosz that the eminent alienists summoned by the Erie County Bar Association and by the District Attorney to examine Czolgosz and to determine his exact mental condition had declared him to be perfectly sane, destroyed the only vestige of a defence that Judges Lewis and Titus could have put together.

Before adjournment Justice White announced that he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Czolgosz was immediately taken through the tunnel under Delaware avenue back to the jail. To all appearances he was in no way affected by the result of the trial.

The crowd, which gathered at City Hall yesterday, was the largest which has seen him since his arrest. People were lined up on both sides of the rotunda on the second floor, where court convened, and fringed the stairs leading from the floor above. There was no demonstration, except that of curiosity. A large number of women witnessed yesterday's proceedings.

Several witnesses were examined at the morning session of the court, and gave details of the shooting and the confession of the assassin, which have already appeared in the press. Important evidence was given by Dr. Mann as to the wounds from which the President died.

The case was given to the jury at 2.51, and a verdict of murder in the first degree was returned at 4.26.

Before adjourning Judge White announced that he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This was at the suggestion of the District Attorney. Czolgosz was immediately taken back to his cell, and to all appearances had been in no way affected by the result of the trial.

An Anarchist Accomplice.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 25. — The Post Despatch yesterday says:

Edward Saftig, arrested Monday afternoon suspected of petty larceny, told Chief of Detectives Desmond yesterday that he was one of three men who conspired to assassinate President McKinley at Buffalo on Sept. 6, and that he, Saftig, tied around Czolgosz's hand the handkerchief that concealed the weapon with which he shot the President.

Chief of Detectives Desmond will hold Saftig subject to the federal authorities.

Goldman Released.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Emma Goldman has been released by Justice Prindiville. She was afterwards found at the home of the Isaaks, where the Anarchists were holding a jollification meeting on account of their release from custody. She sent out word that she did not know any such man as Saftig.

The Explanation.

The gray bearded patriarch was lying on the pavement, while an angry crowd gathered around and menaced him, but he was too far gone to need any further attention.

"What's the matter with the aged gentleman?" asked a newcomer.

"He's the oldest citizen," replied one of the mob. "He had just remembered something about warm weather in the sixties when somebody started the inquest."—Denver Times.

BUTTON OR BUTTONHOLE

A Question Similar to That of Precedence of Hen or Egg.

Once upon a time a case was brought before a learned judge in which the question at issue was as to whether the button was made for the buttonhole or the buttonhole for the button.

Counsel for the button held that it was so plain as to render argument superfluous that the buttonhole was made for the use and behoof of the button; still, for form's sake, he would give a few reasons why his contention was the correct one. It was apparent, he said, that without the buttonhole the button would be unable to perform its function, and hence it was plain that the button preceded the buttonhole and that the latter was invented in order that the button might be of service to mankind. It should be clear to everybody that had it not been for the button the buttonhole never would have been thought of. Its existence necessarily presupposed the existence of the button.

The lawyer for the other side was equally positive in the stand he had been employed to take. He averred that the buttonhole preceded the button; that, in fact, the button was merely an afterthought. He said that, as every one knew, the buttonhole can be employed without the button, as witness Farmer Jones, who invariably uses a nail or sliver of wood instead of the conventional button, whereas it was impossible to make an effective use of the button without the aid and assistance of the buttonhole. Hence it was shown beyond peradventure that the buttonhole was of greater importance than the button, and it was natural to infer that the buttonhole was first invented and that the button came later simply as an ornament or at best as an improvement upon the nail, sliver or other instrumentality wherewith the buttonhole was made to perform its duty. To show the relative value of the buttonhole and the button, he said, take this simple example: When a button comes off, the buttonhole can still be made serviceable, but if the buttonhole is slit open the button is of no use whatever. With this the learned counsel rested his case, although he claimed that he had not exhausted the subject.

When the court came in after recess, the learned judge promptly decided the case in favor of the buttonhole, clearly a just decision, although it was whispered about the courthouse that the decision might have been different but for the fact that while changing his linen between adjournment and reassembling of the court his honor had dropped his collar button and hunted for it without success for half an hour and perhaps might never have found it had he not stepped upon it. But of course this suggestion came from the partisans of the button and may fairly be imputed to their disappointment and chagrin.

Long Life is Inherited.

This statement you can prove by investigation. When a person whose ancestors had long lives dies in middle age you can in nine cases out of ten trace the cause to disordered kidneys and consequent suffering from Bright's disease, rheumatism, fatty heart or dropsy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure these fatal and painful disease as no other preparation was ever known to do. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

"THE PAIN WAS KILLING"

Rheumatism revels in the writhings of its victims until shorn of its pangs by South American Rheumatic Cure—it relieves in six hours and cures in one to three days.

Mrs. Geo. Smith, of 6a Charron St., Point St. Charles, suffered terribly from Rheumatism in her joints. The pain was killing. Doctors' medicines temporarily deadened the pain, but effected no permanent relief. She began taking South American Rheumatic Cure and when she had used four bottles was absolutely cured. s8

In spite of the fact that a few months ago the barrel was full of delicious sweet cider, you can't by adding a little soda now since it has become vinegar, transform it back to cider. Neither can you cure dyspepsia by taking a little pepsin, or baking soda, or a few doses of Cathartic medicine. You must take Merrill's System Tonic for the whole system has undergone a change from the effects of undigested and unfermented food. The condition of the blood and of the digestive ferments, and the action of the bowels and kidneys are as unlike what they should be, as vinegar is unlike cider. Merrill's System Tonic strengthens the stomach and nerves, purifies the blood, restores healthy kidney action and cures constipation. This is just what you want. No other remedy known does it so quickly or so well or makes such a permanent cure. If you have dyspepsia, liver trouble, or headache give Merrill's System Tonic a chance to cure you.

A PRESENTATION

To Rev. E. A. Langfeldt by the Congregation of St. James Church.

At the conclusion of the services in St. James' church, Emily, last evening, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was presented with a purse and the following address by the members as an evidence of the esteem in which he has been held by the congregation: Rev. E. A. Langfeldt,—

Reverend and Dear Sir, — We, the members of St. James' church, Emily, desire to take this means of expressing our grateful appreciation of your earnest and faithful ministrations to us.

Your pastorate will ever be remembered in our congregation as that in which our new and beautiful church was built. This, we consider, was largely the result of your enthusiastic inspiration and skilful leadership, which have also been directed towards building up the congregation as a spiritual temple.

The Sunday School, too, owes much to your careful teaching. We warmly thank you for all these efforts on our behalf, and for your general personal interest in us individually.

Congratulating you on the promotion which has come to you, and trusting that, while it breaks parochial relations all too soon, it may not sever personal ties.

We remain on behalf of the congregation,

WM. J. CLARK,
JOHN GILLIS,
Churchwardens.

INCREASING INTEREST.

Dr. Morrison's Talk to Charlotte Street Epworth League.

Dr. Morrison delighted the Charlotte street League Monday evening with a practical talk on "Singleness of Aim." The speaker pointed out that the true aim of life was to glorify God. Man accomplishes this when he takes council with God, when he does honestly and in the sight of his Maker the work of life and when he cultivates within himself the Christ heart. Many instances of successful lives locked at from this standpoint were given, and the Doctor closed by showing that it was we, ourselves, who wrote "success" or "failure" in our lives.

During the evening Miss Stephens and Mr. A. Frowde sang delightfully "No Room in the Inn." Next Monday evening is business meeting and every member is requested to be present.

AN INTERESTING EVENT.

Mr. Chas. A. Stuart, of Calgary, Married to Miss Beatrice Roxburgh of Norwood.

A quiet and very pretty wedding was celebrated at "Cessnock," the residence of Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood, yesterday at one o'clock, when his daughter, Beatrice J., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Chas. A. Stuart, of Calgary, Alta.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Somerville, assisted by Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, brother of the bride, in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

The house was artistically decorated with ferns and autumn flowers, and at one o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which was played by Mr. Wilson Cameron, the bride entered the drawing room, attended by Miss Thressa Fowlds, Hastings, as bride's maid, and her two little nieces, Madge and Helen Cameron of Peterborough, as flower girls.

The bride looked charming in a dainty gown of grey silk with lace and pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was also attired in grey silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. A. T. De Lury, M.A., of Toronto University.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart received the congratulations of those present, after which all repaired to the dining room, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Many very handsome presents testified to the popularity and esteem of the bride.

The happy couple left on the 4.45 train, amid showers of flowers and confetti, for their future home in Calgary.

A few of the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, and Miss Moss, of Paris; Mr. Alex. Stuart, K. C., London; Mr. A. T. De Lury, M. A., Mrs. Wm. Houston and Mr. L. W. Cameron, Toronto; Rev. F. D. Roxburgh, of Smithville; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cameron, Misses Madge and Helen Cameron, Miss A. Cameron Peterborough; Dr. and Miss Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowlds, Misses Elizabeth and Thressa Fowlds, of Hastings.

The bride is well and popularly known in Peterborough amongst a wide circle of friends, all of whom will join in wishing her much happiness and prosperity.

PERSONALS.

Miss May Hatley of Orillia, is visiting Mrs. Langfeldt, at St. Luke's Rectory.

Mr. G. M. Hamilton and Miss M. Hamilton, have gone to Buffalo for a few days.

Mr. E. A. Powers, Inspector of Licenses for East Durham, is in town for a day or two.

Mrs. James Woodward of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Brittain, Murray street.

Mr. H. W. Britton, of the Merchants Bank, Gananoque, is in town, the guest of Mr. C. M. Paterson, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Mr. Hugh O'Leary, K.C., of Lindsay, passed through town yesterday on his way to Perth, where he will conduct the Crown business at the Assizes.

The Lindsay Post says: Mr. John Kylie, of Peterborough, spent Sunday and Monday in town, the guest of his brother Richard. Mr. Kylie was a resident of Lindsay some fifteen years ago, and some ten years have sped since he last visited the town. He was kept busy exchanging greetings with his many old friends, but found time to look about the town, and was surprised and delighted to observe so many evidences of solid progress and prosperity. Of course, he was loyal to his own town, and when informed that the assessors had not found one empty house in all three wards he remarked, "the same state of affairs prevails in Peterborough. I honestly believe the same cannot be said of any other two towns in Canada."

Varin and Turenne, in the Roman Axe Juggling, are alone worth the admission fee. See the entire programme of attractions at the Market Hall to-night. Admission, 25c; children, 10c.

HORSES KILLED

On the C. P. R. Tracks, on Sunday Last.

Messrs. Jas. Baptie and John Wilson of Springville, met with rather heavy losses on Sunday last. A horse and foal belonging to the former, and a horse belonging to the latter, strayed out of their respective yards, and over the cattle guards of the C.P.R. A passing train came in contact with the three animals, and they were instantly killed.

TOWN IN DARKNESS.

There was no Electric Light in Peterborough Last Night.

Peterborough was in darkness last night, as far as artificial light was concerned, but fortunately the sky was clear, and there being almost a full moon, the people did not suffer a great deal.

When it was announced in the evening papers that there would not be any electric light last night, the merchants and others who were not fortunate enough to have gas fixtures, began to look about themselves. All the old coal oil lamps that had been laid away for years back, were resurrected, and the coal oil merchants did a temporary rushing business. The streets presented a rather odd appearance, and it was a common thing to see a wax candle endeavouring to light up a house or a store, as the case might be.

The millinery establishments that had advertised their openings, were about as disappointed as any one, and the ceremonies attached therato were postponed till to-night. The parade of the 57th Regt. was not seen to very good advantage as the men, headed by the Regimental Band, marched down George street.

All this state of affairs was due to a leak that had occurred in the raceway to the power station, and it was necessary to shut off the water at London street in order to repair the damage.

Yours Truly, George Ball.

Formal Opening This Afternoon—The Addresses Which Were Made.

FINE WEATHER AND A BIG ATTENDANCE.

Large Numbers of Exhibits—Fine Specimens of Live Stock Being Shown in the Different Classes—Special Attractions—In the Market Hall This Evening.

The second day of the annual Fall Show of the Peterborough Central Agricultural Society was favoured with fine weather and gave the directors reason to feel hopeful, for it has frequently been the case that the 2nd and 3rd days of the annual exhibition have been to a large extent spoiled by the inclemency of the weather, which of course has in the past had a disastrous effect on the finances. The day was superb and when the grounds were thrown open to the public this morning, nearly everything was in readiness. Yesterday, of course, was devoted to the placing of the exhibits, etc., and the work was carried out under the careful supervision of the directorate with the utmost satisfaction to all concerned. The arrangements necessary for the carrying out of a successful exhibition never were better, and the president, Mr. F. H. Dobbin, and the heard working secretary, Mr. W. J. Green, along with their able assistants may rest assured that their efforts have not proved abortive. The entries, which generally indicate the interest that is being taken in the show, are just about 1,000 more than last year's, and from present indications the attendance should be correspondingly large. Everything is passing off without a hitch and as a director of long standing remarked this afternoon, the show is assuming its old time appearance. The attendance up until 2 o'clock was quite satisfactory, although there were not a very large representation from town.

OPENING CEREMONIES.

There was a slight disappointment as to the formal opening proceedings. It had been expected that Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, and Mr. Jas. Kendry, M. P., would be present to formally declare the show open, but owing to circumstances of an uncontrollable nature such arrangements could not be carried out. Hon. Mr. Borden is indisposed, Hon. Mr. Stratton, who has been in New Ontario, for the past few weeks, missed his train connections, whilst Mr. Kendry, who is in Montreal, telegraphed the President that he could not possibly get to Peterborough before to-morrow morning. However, there was an opening of a formal nature, nevertheless, the speakers being Mr. Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., East Peterborough, Warden Fitzgerald, His Worship Mayor Denne, and Dr. Willoughby, ex-M.P.P., of Colborne. A platform for the opening ceremonies had been erected to the south of the main building, and at 1.30 o'clock the ball was set rolling.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin announced the various speakers, after having apologized to the visitors for the absence of Hon. Mr. Borden, Hon. Mr. Stratton and Mr. Kendry. The addresses were characterized by extreme brevity, and that of Mr. Blezard by its humour, as is usually the case.

MAYOR DENNE.

Mayor Denne said it was a pleasure to him, and it must be to the directors as well, to see so many at the opening of this, the 17th annual exhibition of the Peterborough Central Agricultural Society. Proceeding with his remarks, Mayor Denne spoke of his visit to Glasgow exhibition, and the prominent place that Canadian products occupied at that show. The Canadian exhibit, he said, was one that any Canadian might be proud of, for outside of England herself, no country made a finer display than did Canada. He heartily endorsed the expenditure of money for such a purpose, for no better means of advertising the exports of a country can be devised. The Mayor went on to speak of the advantages of the cold storage system, and he advocated the advisability of even more care in the selection of the quality of our exports. Canada is better known at the present time than ever before, but still there must be more energy put forth in bringing the immense capabilities Canada possesses to the knowledge of European countries.

DR. WILLOUGHBY.

Dr. Willoughby, upon being introduced, said that he did not come to the exhibition to speak, but to take part in another manner. However, the Hon. Mr. Borden and Hon. Mr. Stratton had cleared out and left the Tories to do the talking to-day. (Laughter.) He spoke of the great pleasure he felt at being present, and he had always felt it a great pleasure to assist in any way he could the Peterborough Central Fair. He thanked the directors for having done him the honour of asking him to speak on such an important occasion.

MR. BLEZARD, M. P. P.

Mr. Thomas Blezard was received with applause. He would give his friend, Dr. Willoughby to understand, he said, that there was one Grit here. The agricultural societies were the educationists of the country, the speaker thought, for no one but the wealthy can afford to go to the Pan-American, the Toronto Industrial, and other exhibitions. Mr. Blezard amid much laughter and applause, said that if Hon. Mr. Borden and Hon. J. R. Stratton were not present, they had just as good men, for Dr. Willoughby and he could tell them more about agriculture than a dozen honourables.

Warden Fitzgerald, said that he would not take up their time in making a speech. He had laboured for many years for the success of the exhibition and was pleased to see such a large attendance. He formally declared the exhibition open for sight seeing.

The opening ceremonies having concluded, the crowd at once proceeded to take in the sights and enjoy the various amusements. The 57th Regimental Band was promptly on hand in rendering selections at intervals throughout the day. The baby show which took place from the speakers' stand near the main building drew forth quite a list of entries, and the competition was decidedly keen. The results will be announced to-morrow. The usual number of side shows, fakirs, and special exhibits all combine to make up a show that should eclipse that of former years in every particular.

INSIDE EXHIBITS.

The doors of the main building were thrown open to the public this morning, the judging having been completed last night. It rapidly commenced to fill with visitors to the grounds, and the various exhibits were at once admired or criticized, as the case might be. Under Superintendent Capt. Geo. Bennett, the exhibits that go to make up a most attractive indoor display, have been arranged with great forethought as to accommodation, and with a taste seldom seen at an exhibition of this kind, which combine to make the display on the whole one of the best on record.

Just inside the main entrance to the left is the Art Gallery, which is the pride of the directors. The exhibits in this class number twice as many as last year, and the pleasing feature about the affair is that the competitors are nearly all amateurs. There are, in fact, very few of the professional class. The marine and figure paintings are splendid, and the portrait paintings are in keeping with the rest of the exhibits. Several superb landscapes are conspicuous in the Art Gallery, and the crayons are quite well represented. An excellent group of amateur photographs exist in pictures that were taken in connection with the Hull tragedy last winter. Among the photos that go to make up the group is a picture of the house in which Hull was shot, the house in which the inquest and preliminary hearing was held and a picture of old man Davis, who figured in the trial as a witness, as well as a number of others. The work was finished off by Miss Winnifred Dobbin. The entries in the Art Gallery in fact may be said to be excellent, and the space is well filled.

Across the hallway from the Art Gallery is the display of grains and dairy products. The exhibit of grain is quite satisfactory.

There is a fair exhibit of cheese, but there are few entries in butter, a fact which is credited to the warm weather of the first day, many not having cared to bring in this commodity.

In the flower class the exhibit is not very extensive, not as large, in fact, as in former years, although what plants that are shown are of a splendid sample.

The vegetables, however, are to the front and some exceedingly fine specimens of melons, beets and tomatoes are to be seen.

The exhibit of home-made bread is ahead of that of former years, but the exhibit of honey just along side of the latter article is rather small for some unexplainable reason.

The directors this year put on the prize list a new class which has been keenly entered into by the various exhibitors, and is attracting more than ordinary interest by visitors to the second floor of the main building. This is the exhibit of kindergarten work. Amongst those who competed in this class are nearly all of Peterboro's volunteer kindergarten teachers, including Miss Bell, Miss Donel, Miss Harding, Miss Allan, Miss Sawers, Miss Hopkins, Miss Owen, Miss Sullivan, Miss Gillespie and Miss Smith. The work is superb to say the least and the exhibit is such a large one that it is certainly a special attraction. The exhibits consist of sewing, cutting, weaving and drawing work, and whilst the work has been done by the teachers it gives one an idea of what the little ones are taught. On the second floor too, is a neat little display of painting on china, pottery and fabrics. The work is supposed to be that of amateurs and amongst the exhibitors, besides local artists, are entries from Kingston, Toronto and other places.

The Domestic Manufactures occupying its usual place in the centre of the main building up stairs, is to the fore as usual. Many very pretty designs are in evidence here, and a piece of work worth special mention is some gold point lace by Miss Goodfellow. The entry list in this class, too, is much larger this year, and the lady in charge informed the Examiner that the class of exhibits is excellent.

The fruit exhibit is very fine and of an A1 quality.

Besides the departments already enumerated, there are in the down stairs of the building the usual number of special exhibits including attractive displays by Messrs. Gough Bros., C. B. Routley, J. C. Turnbull, A Parker, of town, and the Biby Company, of Toronto, all of which are referred more extensively to elsewhere. On the whole the display made is creditable indeed, and is well worth seeing by the town people and those who visit Peterborough during the Fair.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

The whole of the interior of the show building was monopolized with special displays of an interesting character. They were mainly representative of the merchandise of local business firms, and as such reflected creditably on the enterprise of the respective exhibitors. The reader will find a detailed description of the most worthy of these exhibits entitled to a perusal:

THE BEST SIX BOOKS.

WHICH ARE THE WORKS THAT WOULD FILL THIS PRESCRIPTION?

Professor Harry Thurston Peck's Solution of This Interesting Limited Library Problem From Five Different Points of View.

I have been requested to answer the following inquiry, which comes from a clergyman in Fayetteville, N. C., wrote Professor Harry Thurston Peck, editor of The Bookman, in the New York Journal:

"What are the best six books, supposing that an intelligent and fairly educated person could have but six books?"

This limitation in the number of books makes the selection difficult because the list is not intended for some particular individual whose tastes and interests one is supposed to be familiar with, but a list which one could confidently recommend to any person whatever who is "intelligent and fairly educated." What, then, are the best six books?

If we take very high ground in this matter and select the six books which have in all probability done the most to influence human thought and, therefore, human action throughout the centuries and of which the power seems destined to endure, the task of selection, perhaps, is not so very difficult.

In choosing them, however, one must obviously restrict himself to those books which have had the greatest effect upon western civilization, excluding those which belong altogether, or nearly so, to the east. Thus, the sayings of Confucius and the sacred books of India, while they are of immense interest and importance, lie outside the concern of an occidental reader.

So, too, the Koran, in spite of all that it means to the millions who still follow the teachings of the prophet, has no appropriate place here. The following are, I think, the books which, in one way or another, have most profoundly affected the development of western civilization in its different phases:

1. The Bible. 2. Homer's "Odyssey." 3. Aristotle's "Ethics and Politics." 4. Bacon's "Novum Organum." 5. Rousseau's "Social and Political Treatises." 6. Darwin's "Origin of Species."

In the foregoing list I fancy that nothing requires explanation, except, perhaps, Homer's "Odyssey." Many persons would say at once that the "Odyssey" hardly deserves inclusion in such a list, since from the point of literature alone it is supposed to be inferior to the "Iliad," while from any other point of view it would seem to be altogether out of place.

These assertions, however, would be incorrect. In the first place, the "Odyssey" is in reality a finer piece of literature than the "Iliad," and, in the second place, from it rather than from the "Iliad" comes the great stream of literary and semiphilosophical tradition which is traceable in Virgil and the later Latin poets, in Dante, in Spenser and in Milton.

The six books named above, however, represent a sort of council of perfection. They are the most remarkable six books that can be gathered together. Yet I doubt whether any person, if he were restricted to six books for the rest of his life, would wish the six just named. I know, for one, that I should not.

To make any other list, however, is like firing a gun in the dark or like prescribing for a patient whom you have never seen. You may possibly hit the target with the gun, and you may possibly cure the patient with the prescription, but the chances in either case are very much against you.

So, if you recommend six books as representing supreme excellence, each after its own kind, very likely half the persons who happen to read the list will admit the excellence, but will say that they want excellence of a different sort.

For even the casual person has generally some sort of mental bias or other. One has a taste for history, another for science, another for religious reading, another for fiction. Here is the sort of list that wise and good men usually make up when they are recommending books to other people:

1. The Bible. 2. Dante's "Divine Comedy." 3. Shakespeare's plays. 4. Milton's "Paradise Lost." 5. Plutarch's "Lives." 6. "Pilgrim's Progress."

This is, of course, a perfectly preposterous list, and if a man had only these six books there would be at least three of them whose covers he would never open, except, perhaps, in pressing wild flowers. Suppose, however, we attempt to make a selection of six books all of which would be well worth any man's reading, no matter what his individual tastes might be. Here they are:

1. The Bible. 2. Shakespeare's plays. 3. Buckle's "History of Civilization." 4. J. R. Green's "History of the English People." 5. Matthew Arnold's Essays. 6. Taine's "English Literature."

That, I think, is a pretty good list. Yet, after all, the personal equation comes in so strongly as to make one very cautious and the reverse of dogmatical in his selection. One thing, perhaps, is well worth noting.

I doubt whether any work of fiction should properly be included among the six books that might be chosen to last one all his life, for, while many works of fiction can be read and reread with interest perhaps a score of times, they would almost certainly be exhausted sooner than books that are either religious, historical or philosophical.

Nevertheless, assuming that a person cared for nothing except fiction and wished to take into exile six volumes only, I should recommend the following:

1. Scott's "Ivanhoe." 2. Balzac's "Women of Thirty." 3. Thackeray's "Pendennis." 4. Flaubert's "Madame Bovary." 5. Dickens' "Martin Chuzzlewit." 6. Kipling's "Plain Tales From the Hills."

Personally, if I were myself to be imprisoned and to be required to select six books which would have to be my only reading for the rest of my life, I should select the following:

1. The Bible. 2. Bacon's Essays. 3. J. R. Green's "History of the English People." 4. Tennyson's Poems. 5. Buckle's "History of Civilization." 6. George Moore's "Confessions of a Young Man."

His Favorite Dish.

"What is your favorite dish?" inquired Mrs. Frontpew of the Rev. Longface, the new pastor. She felt sure it was chicken, but it proved not.

"It—the contribution plate," answered the Rev. Longface absently.—

MISS EMILY HOBHOUSE.

The Woman Who Opposed British Concentration Camps in South Africa

Miss Emily Hobhouse, the young English woman who has come into prominence on account of her assertions concerning the British concentration camps in South Africa, is the youngest daughter of the late Archdeacon Hobhouse. Her childhood was spent in an ordinary parsonage house, and she continued to reside there after the marriages and departures from it of her brothers and sisters, until the death of her father in 1895, busying herself in parish work under his surveillance. When he died she went to the United States, going to Minnesota, whither many Cornish miners, with whom at St. Ives she had been closely acquainted in earlier days, had emigrated, and there looked after their spiritual and temporal welfare in the village of Virginia.

After her return to England Miss Hobhouse busied herself in unpaid work under the Women's Industrial council. She wrote an article on the conditions of the women who work in the great dustyards of London, and also one on the housing of single women. The war in South Africa interested her greatly, and she found herself in sympathy with the "Friends," who made it one of their duties to alleviate the horrors of every war. Her unofficial report, which has caused so much comment, was originally written in the form of letters to her nearest relatives.

Few People Escape Piles

And Dr. Chase's Ointment is the Only Positive and Guaranteed Cure for This Torturing Disease.

There is usually very little satisfaction in consulting a physician regarding a case of piles. In nine cases out of ten he will recommend a surgical operation, forgetting, it may be, the risk, suffering and physical as well as financial expense which this treatment entails. For this reason very many people are going about in misery with piles, believing that they cannot be cured except by means of the surgeon's knife.

It is to such persons that this advertisement will bring good news of great value. Dr. Chase's Ointment has grown in popularity until to-day it is recognized the world over as the standard ointment for the cure of itching, burning skin diseases, and as absolutely the only preparation that can be relied upon to cure every form of piles.

It seems strange that anyone should suffer the wretched uneasiness and acute torture of burning, itching piles when it is so easy to procure Dr. Chase's Ointment. Nearly every dealer in medicine keeps Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can apply it at home without any inconvenience. The first application is usually sufficient to put an end to the itching, and it is rarely that more than one box is required to make a thorough cure.

Mr. F. Stokes, 116 Dunlop street, Barrie, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with blind, itching piles for years, and could get nothing to stop the constant itching. I was always in pain until a friend of mine told me of the wonderful cures Dr. Chase's Ointment had made among his acquaintances.

"I only used one box, and am entirely cured. In gratitude for this marvellous cure, and for the benefit of others suffering as I did, I send you this record of my case."

Mr. Geo. A. Booth, of Trenton, Ont., writes:—"This is to certify that Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely cured me of itching piles from which I suffered for two years inspite of all the remedies I used and which failed to cure me."

Hosts of cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has actually cured serious and long-standing cases of piles have been reported in the Canadian press. Should you want to know more about it ask your druggist or your neighbour. There are few people in Canada who are not familiar with the record of this famous preparation. If your dealer does not have Dr. Chase's Ointment in stock it will be sent post-paid on receipt of price, 60 cts. a box, by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

An Elder Brother.

Mr. Belleaden Ker was wont to say that it was astonishing how far back two long lives set end to end could take you, and, as a case in point, used to relate the following incident which had occurred in a will case in which he had been engaged: A witness, a very old man, was asked if he had any brother or sisters. He gave the amazing reply that he had had one brother who had died "a hundred and fifty years ago." A murmur of incredulity traversed the whole court, from the bench downward, which was changed to something like stupefaction when documentary evidence was brought in proof of the old man's words. His father had married at the age of 19 and had had a son, who died the same year. He married again at the age of 75 and had another son, the witness, who was 94 when he gave his evidence.—Cornhill.

A NOISY BURGLAR.

He Disturbs the Man of the House and Receives Severe Treatment.

The noise made by the burglar in the Ferguson pantry, slight as it was, disturbed the light sleeper in the bedroom not far away, and the midnight marauder was surprised a moment later to find himself covered with a big revolver in the hands of determined looking man in a long white robe.

"I hain't done nothin but eat a few cold victuals, mister," stammered the burglar.

"I see," sternly replied George Ferguson, "you have been eating the remains of a cake my wife made for dinner last night. Do you know what I'm going to do with you?"

"Turn me over to the police, I s'pose," gasped the helpless thief.

"Worse that that," said Ferguson, with a ferocious grin. "I'm going to make you eat a quart of health food. It's a new kind my wife heard of and fixed up for us yesterday, and it's pretty dry eating, but you'll eat every particle of it or I'll bore six holes through you. There it is in that big bowl. Turn yourself loose on it!"

With grim determination the indignant householder stood over him till it was finished, after which he picked up the luckless scoundrel, who had fallen exhausted to the floor, and threw him out of the open pantry window.

"It may kill him," soliloquised Mr. Ferguson somewhat remorsefully as he crawled back into bed without disturbing the rest of the family, "but a man who breaks into another man's house takes his life in his hand anyway."—Chicago Tribune.

Bronchitic Asthma

is now easily cured, not by pouring nauseous destructive drugs into the stomach, but by inhaling Catarrhozone. Drugs do more harm than good, but the soothing, healing, medicated air that Catarrhozone supplies to the lungs and bronchial tubes cannot fail to benefit. Catarrhozone prevents these smothering spasms and headaches, cures the cough, and makes breathing easy. Universally used; doctors recommend it; druggists sell it; 25c and $1.
